

University of Illinois

ILLIO
Building a Legend
1990 nois

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS LIBRARY
AT URBANA-CHAMPAIGN

Urbana, Ill. 61801

*Building
a Legend*

2	Opening
6	Academics
54	Student Life
122	Sports
202	Organizations
340	Graduates
414	Index
446	Closing

Legends are usually thought of as being out-of-date and unrealistic. This is not true of The University of Illinois. Since 1867, the university has been at the forefront of education. Today, the university has expanded to become one of the nation's top schools for academics, research and athletics. The University of Illinois is continuing to build a legend.

I l l i n o i s

photo by Ron Foley

Building a Legend

The University of Illinois
1990

Fireworks conclude the 1989 Homecoming Pep Rally. For the first time the pep rally was held in Assembly Hall.

photo by Scott Jacobson

nois

The Other Guys, one of U of I's most popular singing groups, provide entertainment at the Homecoming Pep Rally.

photo by Nora Hipolito

The Illini's infamous "Blues Brothers" perform during a home basketball game.

The Valentine's Day ice storm left 90 percent of C-U without power, yet the university did not cancel classes.

Illini

When school started in August it seemed just like any other year at the big U. But soon we realized this was going to be a year like no other. The campus legends we have come to take for granted were challenged in controversy after controversy.

Perhaps the most notable of these controversies was the debate over our legendary symbol, Chief Illiniwek. While some students and Native Americans demanded the abolishment of the Indian symbol, other students and alumni cried "Save the Chief."

Underage drinking, taken for granted as part of college life, came under attack as the university and C-U officials called for alcohol reforms. The crackdown resulted in empty bars and the formation of the Campus Bar Association. The social scene moved to private parties – the next casualties on the alcohol hit list. Both apartment and fraternity parties were raided, resulting in the banning of the purchase of alcohol by fraternities. But social life did not come to a halt.

photo by Annie Pergande

On the way to classes, students had to walk around fallen branches and power lines for weeks after the ice storm on February 14.

nois

The 1989 football season became a legend. After the Illini burned up the field against Utah State during the day, vandals literally burned the field with matches and lighter fluid at night. The fire continued to burn throughout the season as the Illini ended their 99th year of competition with a 10-2 record and a Florida Citrus Bowl victory.

Although students were not motivated in SGA and Student Senate elections, they fiercely debated the abortion rights issue. Everyone seemed to have a strong opinion one way or the other.

During the spring another issue gained national attention when the university released the results of the Sexually Stressful Events survey and task force recommendations. Although it found a high incidence of sexually assault on campus, fraternities, alcohol and the Illinettes

Rugby is one of the many different club sports that allows interested students to participate competitively at the collegiate level.

photo by Scott Jacobson

received the most publicity.

The Illini basketball team was hit with an NCAA investigation of its recruiting tactics and the possibility of the death penalty.

Students from across the state and around the world attended the university this year. Each bringing his or her own set of ideas and standards to share with others while attending the school.

The diversity, school spirit and controversies on campus reflected the dedication of students, alumni and educators to the university and the continuing process of building a legend at the University of Illinois.

The Florida Citrus Bowl, played on New Year's Day, ended a century of Illini football with a 31-21 victory over the Virginia Cavaliers.

Illini

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Lloyd Young

Michigan's Loy Vaught guards Marcus Liberty as he drives for the basket. High hopes for another trip to the Final Four were dissolved as fans watched the Dayton Flyers defeat the Illini 88-86 in the first round of the tournament.

*Building
a Legend*

Editor
Paula Widholm

Academics

Changes, controversy and variety add spice to life and nothing embodies variety better than the University of Illinois. Through the attentiveness of faculty and students to issues involving variety and change, the university maintains its highly regarded tradition of excellence.

No year passes without a certain amount of public awareness of change. To recap the year, the Academics section is devoted not only to recounting the visible campus deviations over the course of the year, but also to revealing those college endeavors that go unnoticed to students in a walkman-induced trance.

Every senior knows the campus differs from a few years back. Gone are the lines to O'Malleys that curved around the corner on Monday nights. Gone are the stumbling walks at 3 a.m. to abundant after-hour parties.

Some may be mourning the loss of drinking privileges.

Yet, there remain many aspects of university life to be acknowledged and appreciated. Every student memorizes his individual schedule filled with exams, papers, meetings and work.

While passing the hundreds of towering red brick buildings that surround our lives at the university, most of us pass several buildings and never venture into them. Except for fulfilling general requirements, most of each student's class time is spent in the same buildings. Thus, within our four years at the university, we often don't get the chance to involve ourselves with the activities of other majors.

The university has a distinction for providing in each area of specialization one of the best educations in the nation. Business, engineering, science, communications and a long list of other degrees are ranked among the best.

Research – that word is so often associated with the reputation of the university. Upon entering the university many people envision that during the course of their stay the university will discover the AIDS cure or devise new exotic consumer products. The AIDS cure may not be credited to the U of I, but many new developments around us come straight from this university.

Branching into new areas, pushing the mind to the limit and exploring the techniques of each specialty encompass the goals of the university. These goals have been brought together and built upon for over a century. The state and the public rely on the information developed and the graduates placed from the University of Illinois. This weight of carrying on the ILLINI tradition of excellence is put on our shoulders as U of I graduates. The U of I has been established as a valued legend.

Champaign-Urbana and the university have seen changes in the past year. In addition to discussing the obvious changes, space must also be devoted the day-to-day living of the people who make up a large portion of the populace – the students. The variety and complexity of their lives form a melting pot at this university. This section seeks to explain how so many people from all areas of the nation can bring new ideas and ambitions here and leave the university with not only their new found knowledge, but also with a greater understanding about life gleaned by learning from the lives of others.

photo by Reggie Natividad

The Illinettes became surrounded in controversy after a task force studying on campus recommended their elimination.

Students participate in the biannual ritual of on-campus registration – better known as “hell in the Armory.”

photo by Reggie Natividad

Building
a
Legend

ROTC prepares students for success

"Army! Navy! Air force! Marines! What a great place ... it's a great place to start!"

Most of us have heard this catchy jingle a few times before, but how many of us really know what it's like to be a member of the R.O.T.C. program here at the University of Illinois? Unless you know someone who is in the program, you are probably bewildered on Thursday mornings when the campus fills with R.O.T.C. students wearing their official uniforms.

To uncover some of the mystery, I spoke to Jeannine Wilmes, sophomore in engineering and a member of the navy reserve.

Wilmes explained that she is on a 3 year scholarship program. During this time, the navy is paying for her tuition and textbooks, leaving her responsible for room and board. Upon graduation, she will serve in the navy for a minimum of 4 years. According to Wilmes, "Most students receive some sort of scholarship within their 4 years at the university."

On the other hand, some students are enrolled in the college program, in which students pay for their own expenses, but need not serve any time in the military after graduation.

While pursuing a degree in engineering, Wilmes is required to take one R.O.T.C. class each semester. In addition, she wears her uniform and attends a two hour drill every Thursday in the Armory. "During a drill, we either practice formation, have an inspection, or listen to a briefing from a visiting officer."

Upon graduation, each member must pass a physical fitness test and be qualified in both swimming and sailing.

As part of the scholarship program, Wilmes also participates in summer training, which consists of three cruises. Last summer, she took what is called her "third-class cruise" to Mexico and Panama. "During the cruise, we went through an orientation, trained with enlisted personnel, and the last week, became junior officers." Over the next two summers, she will go on her second and first-class cruises.

Students in the college program also go on the first-class cruise, but not on the second or third-class cruises.

The battalion, which consists of about 140 members of the navy and marine corps, is divided into four companies which are responsible for organizing philanthropies, picnics and a naval ball. These companies are further divided into platoons and squads.

Each division has a set of leadership positions, or billets, such as company commanders and squad leaders. "I hope to get a billet next semester," said Wilmes. "The positions provide valuable experience in leadership and in evaluating others."

Upon graduation, Wilmes has a number of options available to her. "Although women cannot work on combat ships or in high-risk areas, I may have the opportunity to work on an oiler or a tender," she says. She may also choose to work in different areas of the United States as well as overseas.

Wilmes represents only one of the four components of the R.O.T.C. program. Although many members will have somewhat different requirements and experiences, they will also obtain valuable knowledge and training.

"The best part," said Wilmes, "is that I'll have a job waiting for me when I graduate."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Julie Triggs

"R.O.T.C. has really given me direction in life. It's also fun. I've made many new friends."

-Lynette Dover

photo by Jeff Miller

A COMPANY LEADER inspects his men from head to toe before they compete in a drill competition.

R.O.T.C. members must stand with eyes "all forward" while awaiting an afternoon inspection in the Armory.

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

R.O.T.C. COLOR GUARDS present an array of flags before a formal inter-company drill competitions.

R.O.T.C. MEMBERS RESPOND with percision and quickness to the commands shouted out by their company leader during a competition.

Bronzed bodies stroll campus

As fall approaches and we unpack our wool sweaters in preparation for the long winter ahead, most of us bid a sad farewell to hot summer days under the sun. Bikinis and beach balls become distant memories as we focus our attention on papers and exams.

While the autumn leaves are falling, we begin to notice our once deep, rich skin tones fading into a few unimpressive tan lines. Many of us become quite disconcerted at this discovery. After checking her reflection in a mirror, one student screeched in horror, "I'm so white and pasty, I can't show my face in public!"

To solve this problem, many students maintain their tans yearlong through the use of campus tanning salons such as Acapulco Sun, Copacabana Ltd. and Illini Tan Inc.

A visit to one of these salons generally includes the use of a tanning bed, which emits ultraviolet light similar to the sun, protective eyewear and a radio to pass the time.

At first, the process may seem a bit overwhelming. "The first time I used a tanning bed, I was kind of nervous," said Amy Hynous, freshman in FAA. "I sat down on the bed, and it made this really horrible noise. I thought it was going to toast me like a Pop Tart!"

After a number of visits, however, most students find the beds very relaxing. "I always fall asleep a minute or so after I start tanning," said Becky Russell, sophomore in LAS.

To prevent burning under such circumstances, the beds are usually programmed to turn off after a pre-determined amount of time.

According to Carol Sauro, manager of Illini Tan Inc. located in Johnstowne Center, "In order to maintain a tan, it is necessary to visit the salon at least once a week. Visits cost about $5, but each month, we offer special packages as an alternative to this rate."

Of course, tanning salons aren't always used in order to maintain a constant tan. Sometimes, on special occasions, students visit a salon once or twice to give their skin a healthy glow.

"The only time I ever used a tanning bed was my senior year of high school," said Jennifer A. Anderson, freshman in FAA. "I went a few times because I wanted to look good for prom."

Some students begin visiting salons before going on vacation. "Right before spring break is one of our busiest times," said Sauro. "Students traveling to Florida and South Padre Island use the beds to obtain a base-tan, which will protect them from burning in these warm weather climates."

Many students feel that tanning improves their psychological well-being. Dennis Sauro, who often stops by Illini Tan, Inc. to visit his wife, said, "In the winter when it gets really dark and dreary, students say that tanning revives them and brightens up their whole outlook."

Some doctors even recommend tanning beds to their patients. "I've talked to a couple of customers who are suffering from arthritis," said Dennis Sauro. "Their doctors suggested that tanning might relieve some of their symptoms."

Although there has been evidence linking exposure to ultraviolet rays with skin cancer, the tanning industry has not been hurt.

"If people really want to tan, they're going to do so no matter what," said Sauro. "I think tanning is safer in the salon because much of the ultraviolet light has been filtered out. Also, exposure is minimized because one tans faster at a salon than in the sun."

Because tanning salons have become so popular, it is common to see students walking around campus in the dead of winter looking like they just returned from the Bahamas. However, before asking them about the natives, you might consider inquiring as to which tanning salons they prefer.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Kimberly Kossof

"For special occasions I sometimes like to use tanning beds."

-Randi Smolen

MEMBERS OF Delta Delta Delta sit in front of their sorority house in a last ditch attempt to keep their tans during Indian Summer.

SHELIA SASSO, senior in ALS, cleans the capsule after each use at Sun Capsule tanning salon.

SOUTH PADRE ISLAND, Texas, is a popular vacation spot for people, like these members of Alpha Gamma Rho, who like to tan and have fun.

THE FLOW of tanning appointments rise for Lisa Shafer, Parkland student, as spring break approaches, then falls when summer arrives.

THE QUAD is one of the most popular tanning spots for U of I students, like John Keane, junior in LAS.

New laws curb drinking

Alcohol is a drug, but a legal one – if you're 21 or older. The alcohol-related death on Sept. 1 of a 19-year-old student and the publicizing of an alcohol use study accelerated efforts to reduce underage drinking on campus.

University administrator Dale Tampke's 1987 study found that out of a sample of 500 university undergraduates aged 18-25, non-Greek men consumed an average of 34 drinks in a 30 day period; Greek men, 80; non-Greek women, 22; and Greek women, 38.

Both events received considerable media coverage and brought changes to campus bars and fraternity parties.

Police began to sweep the bars and restaurants in efforts to catch underage drinkers. Although the bar entrance age remained 19, bar owners adopted stricter measures for enforcing the legal drinking age.

The situation seems similar to the one in 1980, when the drinking age was raised. A 1980 Illio story said, "Twenty-one-year-olds find their hands being marked at all bars ... to distinguish legal drinkers from underage socializers."

The Interfraternity Council passed a rule forbidding fraternities to purchase alcohol. In addition, those attending fraternity parties must present a ticket along with a university ID or proof of 19 years-of-age.

Some advocate the raising of the bar entrance age to coincide with the state's legal drinking age. Those who hold this view claim it would cut down on underage drinking and the problems that go along with it, such as date rape, injuries and vandalism.

Those who oppose raising the entrance age claim that it would not curb underage drinking but would lead to an increase in house and apartment parties.

"There's no way it will prevent underage drinking, it will just move it out of a controlled environment – no bouncers to break up fights, no closing time," said Merita Boyce, senior in LAS.

Some fear a situation similar to the one at Michigan State University. Restrictions on underage drinking there contributed to an Oct. 14 alcohol-related riot at an off-campus apartment complex.

"Look what happened at Michigan (State) – it's scary," said Denise King, senior in LAS.

Both the Champaign and Urbana city councils discussed raising the bar entrance age, but decided to let the matter lie – for the time being.

Many students don't understand why so much attention has recently been focused on the issue of undergraduate drinking.

"I don't know if they (the administration and local officials) have just been playing dumb ... I don't think it's any more of a problem now than in the past," said Traci Hart, senior in education.

College drinking is nothing new. An article in the July 1959 issue of the Journal of Higher Education cited an instance of student drinking in the middle of the seventeenth century, "... about 50 students then attending Harvard managed to consume 270 barrels of beer in one year."

In 1920, four university students were expelled for making beer in the bathtub of their fraternity house. During Prohibition, secret drinking societies were formed, such as Kappa Beta Phi (Phi Beta Kappa reversed). Fraternities rented clubrooms above stores in downtown Champaign for drinking activities.

In his 1953 book, Drinking in College, Robert Straus wrote that 79 percent of men and 65 percent of women drank before entering college.

Straus, in his book, said, "It is usually assumed that students drink, that most of these drink frequently and to excess and that the result is often intoxication."

In a 1979 Illio story, David Bordua, professor of sociology was quoted as saying, "Students have drunk beer ... literally forever."

Why does drinking persist on college campuses? Students drink to relieve stress, to celebrate the ending of a tough week, the completion of an exam or paper and to relax socially.

As George L. Maddox said in The Domesticated Drug: Drinking and Collegians, "Whether one approves or not, drinking is a culturally defined and institutionalized part of the strategy through which many adults relate to their social environment."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Nora Hipolito

"People should be able to control their alcohol intake. The bars should not allow excessively drunk people to buy drinks."

—Ben Neiburger

RICK ADEN, SOPHOMORE . IN AG., buys a cup from bartender Kim Jones, senior in ALS, at R & R's sports grill.

photo by Nora Hipolito

DRINKING IS NOT THE ONLY activity that goes on in campus bars. Many students use it as a chance to get away from studying and others use it to improve their pool game.

LINES FREQUENTLY FORM outside of campustown bars on Friday and Saturday nights.

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

DARTS IS A POPULAR GAME at R&R's Sports Grill. Mike Canfield, a student at Millikin, tries to throw another double.

BOUNCERS TRY TO KEEP OUT underage drinkers. Mike Kang, senior in LAS, is a bouncer for Gully's.

Parental discretion advised?

What would your parents say if they knew you had been assigned to write a research paper about the kinds and uses of sex toys?

It could happen—if you were taking Health and Safety Studies 206, better known as Human Sexuality.

The course debuted in 1965 with 25 students enrolled for one academic year. Now approximately 900 students take the course each year, according to Lurna Robinson, professor of health education and graduate studies director for Health and Safety Studies.

The two-hour course is taught in an informal setting to foster communication. Many sections are offered in the residence halls.

On the first day of class, the typical student looks around anxiously, wondering what everyone else is doing there.

Mark Zator, senior in LAS, said, "It was a pretty embarrassing class and a hard one to take seriously. My friends and I looked through the book before class and we couldn't believe we were really going to talk about some of those things."

"Some of those things" include sexual positions, sexually transmitted diseases, AIDS, homosexuality, sexual arousal and masturbation.

Class activities allowed students to confront their embarrassment early. On the second day of class, students were broken up into small groups, given a pen and transparency paper and were instructed to work together to draw male and female internal and external genitalia.

Another group activity involved coming up with slang terms for masturbation. Some of the more unusual included "shining your saber" and "barfing the dog."

Embarrassment aside, students say the course is "really informative."

"You learn about things you never thought about before. It was an interesting class," said Mary Ann Kim, senior in LAS.

Beyond simple course matter, you learn to explore your own feelings and to consider those of others.

Men in the class learn that the last stage in the sexual response cycle is not the "cigarette stage," and women learn why men aren't always demonstrative of affection.

Karen Tims, sophomore in FAA, said, "It was interesting to find out what the opposite sex was thinking, outside of a high pressure situation like the bars."

Many students take the course to fulfill a health education requirement. There are two exams and a research paper, as well as class assignments.

In order to protect privacy and encourage openness, students choose code names at the beginning of the semester. These names are placed in a sealed envelope, which remains sealed until the course instructor opens it at the semester's end for grading purposes.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Joe Durica

photo by Jeff Miller

HUMAN SEXUALITY STUDENTS look on as they enjoy their class from the "comfort of their own dorm."

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

"It gives you an opportunity to get answers to questions you were never able to ask. It breaks down communication barriers."

-Katie Landers

NUMEROUS BIRTH CONTROL devices are shown to increase student awareness of safe sex practices.

KRISTINE FERGUSON, graduate in Social Work, displays a condom, showing that all practical knowledge doesn't come from textbooks.

PHIL NATIVIDAD, senior in ENG., and Greg Linke, junior in LAS, ponder over the available bargains in the "Coke aisle."

MALCOM DAVIS and Schrumph's owner Joe Tompson ring up customer Craig Linke.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

TODD HOERNER, senior in ENG., digs savagely for ice cream.

Family store serves campus

Need a quart of milk? Dying for a box of Hostess Twinkies? How about some Cool Ranch Doritos? No problem. Just hop in the car and drive to the nearest grocery store. You'll find yourself surrounded by an abundance of goodies: freshly baked breads, pasta salads, cookies, cakes, ice cream What's that you're saying? You've got to shop somewhere on campus-within walking distance? You don't own a car?

For many students, grocery shopping at the university can be extremely inconvenient. Major grocery stores, such as Diana Foods, Jerry's I.G.A. and Jewel Food Store are beyond the average student's walking distance. Consequently, those without cars must rely on their roommates and friends to provide weekly transportation to the grocery store.

Unfortunately, on "grocery day" it is not always possible to anticipate the emergency situations that arise during the week. Boyfriend problems and late papers just may require an additional pint of ice cream, bag of pretzels or six-pack of Coke.

But wait ... there's actually a simple solution to your dilemma. Remember when you were coming back from the bars last night and you saw that big red and white sign that read "Schrumpf's?" At the time, you probably thought it sounded pretty funny. But right about now, when your stomach is growling and your palms are sweating and you can almost taste those M&M's melting in your mouth, this store could be your salvation.

Schrumpf's grocery store, located at 516 E. John St., Champaign, has been family owned and operated for over 60 years. Since Benjamin Schrumpf opened the store in 1926, it has been handed down through two generations. According to current owner Joe Thompson, grandson-in-law to Benjamin Schrumpf, "When the store was built, there was no such thing as the supermarket. That concept didn't develop until the 1950's," he said.

Despite competition from modern supermarkets, Schrumpf's continues to thrive on campus. This is due mainly to its prime location, but also because it stocks a wide variety of groceries at relatively inexpensive prices.

According to Patricia Vargas, sophomore in Business, "I shop at Schrumpf's because it's so close. I like to go there on my way back from class since it's right next to the Quad."

"When I'm really busy and I don't have the time to go shopping, I stop in at Schrumpf's and pick up a loaf of bread and some peanut butter and jelly," said Kris McElligott, sophomore in Business. "It's rather inexpensive and I can always find what I'm craving there."

Thompson explained, "Since we run the business ourselves and most of the expenses were paid for years ago, our bills are lower. This allows us to charge lower prices to our customers."

When I asked if he thought Schrumpf's would survive much longer, Thompson replied, "We like working with the students on campus. The way things are now, there's no reason why we won't stay in the business."

On behalf of many students who enjoy the convenience and charm of this little store, which has become somewhat of a historical landmark at the university, we certainly hope so!

story by Janet Scott

layout by Debbie Siegel

"It's unfortunate that the little stores can't compete with the big stores."

-Dave Johnston

SCHRUMPF'S GROCERY, on the corner of Sixth and John, has been serving U of I students and staff since 1926.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Future vets save animal lives

The Large Animal Clinic on the Veterinary Medicine campus is barn-like in two respects: the horses, cows, sheep and goats in straw-blanketed stalls and the thick, sweetly dank smell that hangs in the air.

But the similarity ends there. No barn has huge gleaming operating tables, bright lights, anesthesia tubes and a padded recovery room.

Upperclassmen in the college spend their time here and in the Small Animal Clinic next door.

They work horses (equine), feed animals, make "farm calls" (ambulatory), perform small animal surgeries, practice small animal medicine, ophthalmology, anesthesiology, radiology and diagnostics/pathology (autopsies) in three-week rotations. This enables them to get experience with a variety of species and disciplines.

This variety is crucial to future veterinarians. Unlike medical doctors, vets must fulfill a whole gamut of roles. The vet is dentist, surgeon, ophthalmologist and anesthesiologist all in one.

The first and second years are spent at the Basic Sciences Building. This massive building covers over six acres of floor space and contains labs, classrooms, computer centers and libraries.

Students learn their basic sciences (histology, embryology, anatomy, pathology) at this aptly named building.

"The first years are rough," said Rhonda Feinmehl, a senior who received a biology degree at the university. "It's a total readjustment, you can't just blow things off."

She said it was not uncommon for classes to have two or three difficult exams a week—for two months straight.

Students are eager for hands-on experience and that is exactly what they get their fourth year. Their days are long, with little room for relaxation, but comradery and laughter carry them along.

Feinmehl is working equine this rotation. She comes in at 6:30 a.m. to soap down patients, perform physical exams and give medical treatments—all of this must be done before 8 a.m. From 8 until 9 a.m. (11 on lab days), she is in class. After class she makes rounds, going over all cases, noting changes and discussing them with a clinician.

After an hour lunch, appointments begin. Clients (animal owners) can bring their animals in between 1 and 5 p.m. If she is on the team of students who work receiving, she talks to owners and tries to get a history of the animal and a description of the problem.

"Sometimes it's tough," Feinmehl said. "They come in and say, 'he (the horse) isn't racing right.' Well, that could mean a viral disease, lameness or a respiratory problem. We have to try to get a handle on it."

She spends the afternoon treating horses. She leaves between 6 and 8 p.m. unless she has emergency duty or is working intensive care. Students on emergency duty work 5 to 10 p.m., answering phones and determining whether or not a situation warrants emergency attention. There are also students who live in apartments in the small animal clinic who are responsible for emergency duty after 10 p.m.. Intensive care duty is assigned in six-hour shifts around-the-clock. Emergency and intensive care unit shifts are chosen by students or assigned by computer.

After all that, Feinmehl must still allow study time in order to prepare for the National Board Exams, which cover all species and disciplines.

Like the other seniors, she has very little free time, but said, "No one minds; we all really like what we're doing."

"It's difficult and time consuming — you pretty much put your life on hold," said senior Chris Matkovich.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Julie Triggs

"I don't agree with labs in which past documented experiments, which are cruel to animals, are repeated for the students' benefit."

-Krista Watson

SURGERY IS BEING PERFORMED on a local dog to relocate his hip. He had been accidentally hit by a car.

FUTURE VETERINARIANS GAIN EXPERIENCE by performing animal surgery on area pets at the vet med facilities in Urbana.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

KAREN ANGELE, senior in vet med, preps a dog for heart surgery.

ANESTHESIA IS ADMINISTERED to the accident victim, preparing the dog for surgery.

M. L. SPENCE, professor of history, lectures to her class on the history of the American Indians.

photo by Scott Jacobson

U of I Professor Salaries

Law	$86,303
Nuclear Engineering	$78,758
Accounting	$73,526
Electrical Engineering	$70,110
Computer Science	$67,360
Economics	$61,043
Psychology	$59,339
Chemistry	$58,233
Agronomy	$51,780
English	$48,338
Theatre	$43,642
Education and Administration	$42,661

Average salaries for rank of professor reported on nine month basis for fall 1988 at the Urbana-Champaign campus.*

Quality professors demand top figures

The university has a reputation for excellence, one which rests primarily on the performance of its faculty. As students, we go to classes, pull out notebooks and write things down without thinking about what influences our professors.

In July the Illinois legislature passed a tax increase that increased the Urbana-Champaign campus' appropriation by $32 million over last year. The university spent nearly half of that to raise faculty and staff salaries by 8 percent. While other Big Ten universities averaged 7 percent salary increases in 1987-88, the university gave zero.

This much-needed increase may help to stem faculty flight. During 1988-89 many faculty members left for greener pastures. Students suffered because sections were smaller and course offerings slimmer.

It is important to retain the faculty we have now and to increase recruiting efforts in light of expected shortages in the United States in the next five years. According to the American Council on Education, computer science will have 49 percent fewer available faculty, business will have 38 percent fewer and health professions will have 36 percent fewer. Figures for other departments are considerably lower—foreign languages will have 16 percent fewer, art and humanities 11 percent fewer and education 10 percent fewer.

These disparities are there because the first three are fields which are highly subject to market pressures. Professors in engineering, business and computer science often receive job offers from industry and government. Student demand for courses in these areas also drives up demand for professors. Because of these pressures, faculty in higher salaries than their counterparts in the humanities.

For example, the University's 1988 faculty salary study shows the average salaries for accounting, electrical engineering, history and English professors to be $61,251, $58,482, $41,166 and $37,810, respectively.

Donald Bitzer, professor of electrical engineering, said that although business and engineering faculty don't work any harder than humanities faculty, the pay disparity is necessary in order to retain "the cream of the crop."

"It's unfair, but it's necessary," he said. "However, if you are truly outstanding in your field, no matter what the field, you will succeed financially."

Negative effects of this system include sagging morale in lower paid departments and difficulty for those areas to attract outstanding students.

Beyond salary, tenure is an important benefit conferred upon professors. Tenure was originally created to maintain and encourage academic freedom (the freedom to express differing ideas and to take risks in research and publication without fear of reprisal from the institution).

At the university, faculty members are often given tenure after a probationary employment of seven years. At the end of his sixth year, the faculty member is reviewed by a board composed of his peers and administrators. The member is granted tenure or given a termination contract based on examination of three areas: research, teaching and service. Once a faculty member is granted tenure, he cannot be fired for any reason, except criminal behavior or financial emergency of the institution.

Bitzer said that tenure is an idea whose time has passed. He says that academic freedom is not in danger of being abridged because our country's political climate has become more accepting of the role of adverse opinion. He worries that tenure is abused by some who see it "as an excuse not to perform."

Both Bitzer and M.L. Spence, professor of history, see a problem with the university's tenure evaluation, in that it places too much emphasis on research achievements.

This is an institution of higher learning, and professors are the conduits through which knowledge is passed on to students.

M. L. Spence, professor of history, said, "I think that research is necessary for every faculty member, but the emphasis on it is leading too much to the exclusion of the students."

She said that a faculty member has a responsibility to "teach and stimulate students; to convey a love of learning," and that its importance should equal that of research.

Bitzer said that students should realize that research takes up a lot of time and that it is important, especially in the sciences, because the material must always be on the cutting edge. But he believes it is "not viable" to separate teaching and research because the two blend together. If a professor focuses on teaching without keeping up with research, his ideas will become outdated.

Bitzer noted that some professors are better teachers than researchers and vice versa, but there are many who succeed at both. It is with these professors that the university will remain "a great place to be, for students and faculty alike."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Julie Fanella

PROFESSOR OF ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING, Donald Bitzer, confers with a colleague over the phone.

photo by Scott Jacobson

CATHERINE NOTH, junior in educ., finds some time to study between her duties as an RA.

NOTH STOPS to wish a resident happy birthday.

photo by Kristy Phariss

LOURDES ALONSO, sophomore in LAS, and Noth swap notes for a class they share

photo by Kristy Phariss

NOTH CALLS a floor resident to remind her of a floor meeting. Each floor elects a president to help the RA guide the floor activities.

THE UNIVERSITY PROVIDES Roth with Macintosh computers to ease their work load.

photo by Kristy Phariss

R.A.'s enhance college life

Imagine this: you are not allowed to leave campus for more than 72 hours a month; you are never guaranteed uninterrupted study time; your every move is tracked by 50-60 undergraduates—all in exchange for a free room and all the dorm food you can eat.

This is the life of a resident advisor, better known to most people as an R.A.

Last year 277 students applied for 154 R.A. positions. People actually want the job.

Annie Gile, senior in CBA and second-year R.A. on Busey Three, wanted to be an R.A. since her freshman year.

"The position appealed to me—the leadership and counseling aspects and being able to decorate bulletin boards and make door decs. I like to help people and it's a fun way to do it," she said.

For Wendell Westbrook, senior in ALS and first-year R.A. on Hopkins One, it was his relationship with his R.A. as a freshman that got him interested.

"He was like an older brother to me," said Westbrook, adding that he wanted to use his leadership skills to help his residents, especially freshmen, adjust to campus life.

Holly Orcut, senior in LAS and first-year R.A. on Allen One, said her interest in becoming an R.A. was sparked by her experience living in Allen Hall during her freshman and sophomore years.

"I have always thought Allen had a lot to offer residents and I wanted to contribute," she said.

R.A.s are selected through a series of interviews that take place in the early spring. After being selected they take part in "spring training," which consists of sessions once a week for eight weeks.

During these sessions they learn the organizational dynamics of residential life, student and community development, programming and publicity techniques, interpersonal skills and confrontation and conflict mediation.

Their training continues during mid-August when they return for a week-long orientation. According to the R.A.s, the spring sessions just skim the surface in preparing them for the job. It is the morning to night intensity of the fall orientation that gives them a sense of the responsibilities of their position.

Gary Miller, junior in LAS and first-year R.A. on Saunders Four, said, "The training was very intense. We were in sessions from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Between that and working on events planning, door decorations and room condition reports, I only got about three hour's sleep a night."

Westbrook thought the training was beneficial, especially a session that dealt with confrontations. The session, called "Behind Closed Doors," involved returning R.A.'s enacting trouble situations that R.A.s have to deal with, such as alcohol violations or fights.

R.A.s have many roles. They are administrators when planning hall programs and floor events, checking residents in and out and organizing floor government. They are authority figures when disciplining residents and confronting problems. They are role models and must follow rules accordingly.

A job this complex has many difficulties. R.A.'s don't always like their job.

Said Miller, "It's strange having responsibility over people your own age. It's hard to confront them sometimes."

Gile said it is hard for her to document residents she considers friends, but she considers herself fortunate because she hasn't had to deal with any major problems.

"The fact that it is an all-women hall and a lot of upper-classmen may have something to do with it," she said.

R.A.'s also complain that they really have no time to themselves.

"You're always an R.A.," said Gile.

Despite the drawbacks, the R.A.'s like their jobs.

Miller said he enjoys "an opportunity to run programs that I think are worthwhile."

Gile said that one of the greatest rewards is "when people come to you with a question or a problem and you really help them out."

story by Lisa Bower

layout by Mike Krupicka

"They teach us how to listen to people. I feel that is a very important skill."

—Jimmy Rosenberg

photo by Kristy Phariss

photo by Kristy Phariss

Internships offer opportunity

Years down the road, when Melissa Credi's employer needs someone to organize the corporate Christmas party, she will feel qualified enough to volunteer.

Credi, senior in CBA, is an intern for Pat Justice, assistant chancellor. Justice, formerly with the university's Office of Public Affairs, is responsible for the orchestration of special events including ground-breakings, building dedications, conferences and special visitors.

In administrative offices across campus, students like Credi are acquiring practical work experience through the Undergraduate Administrative Internship Program.

The program, co-sponsored by the Department of Administration, Higher and Continuing Education and the Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, has provided students with the opportunity to learn job skills and gain insight into the operations of a major university since 1972.

Each year, 20 to 25 students are selected based on applications, cumulative grade point averages, letters of reference and interviews.

Those selected interview with at least three administrators and, through a process of mutual selection, each intern is matched with a sponsor.

This year, 20 students are participating in the program, working at such offices as the Police Training Institute, The Campaign-Urbana Mass Transit District, the Office of the Dean of Students, the Office of Corporate Relations and Community Development, the College of Applied Life Studies and the Office of Minority Student Affairs.

During the fall semester, student interns are required to take AHCE 267, "The American College," taught by Walt Tousey, associate vice-chancellor for Academic Affairs. This course acquaints students with the issues facing higher education today, such as academic freedom, curriculum choice, budget cuts and tenure.

Also during this semester, the intern spends at least four hours a week at his office. This time is used for getting to know the office, personnel and responsibilities. The intern and the sponsor also decide on a project for the intern to undertake during the spring semester.

The projects selected vary in size and scope. Past interns for Tom Costello, assistant managing director of MTD, worked on the campaign for the acceptance of the campus transportation program, which is currently in place. Costello says the student interns were instrumental in securing the passage of the program.

Jennifer Zerbe, current intern for the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Affairs, will continue the project begun by last year's intern. The project involves assisting fraternities and sororities in applying for historic preservation status for their houses.

During the spring semester, the intern spends anywhere from eight to 16 hours at the office. Interns are not paid, but do receive one credit hour for every four hours of work.

Sponsors treat interns like professionals with real responsibilities and not as mere gofers. "They want us to jump in and get our hands dirty, to identify with the rest of the office staff," says Credi.

Justice, Credi's sponsor, says she wants to offer her interns a "broad based experience that will help them throughout life."

Both interns and sponsors express enthusiasm for the program. Costello says, "I'm a big, big fan of the program. It gives students a great opportunity to be able to do things that are not part of your typical college education."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Debbie Siegel

"School teaches you how to solve problems in a pressure situation, but you hardly apply any of the knowledge learned in class."

- Jeff Scroll

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

IN ORDER FOR STUDENTS to qualify for the internship program, they are required to take "The American College," AHCE 267, in order to be better acquainted with the issues facing higher education.

AFTER ENROLLING IN THE PROGRAM, each student is paired with a sponsor, who treats the intern as a professional. Interns spend approximately eight hours per week at the office.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

MELISSA CREDI, senior in CBA, plans for an upcoming conference of visiting professors.

ASSISTANT CHANCELLOR PAT JUSTICE emphasises the need for experience when entering the job market.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Architecture builds a future

"Sleep is optional." That is the credo of most of the university's architecture students. Once the semester gets rolling, the lights are on 24 hours a day in the studios in Flagg and Noble Halls.

Architecture is not a major for those who are lazy. Many hours go into each project.

"No matter what the weather is like, the sky is always pink after an all-nighter," said Sheila Sapinski, senior.

Contrary to popular belief, they don't stay up all night, every night—usually only the night before a project is due, when stress levels are sky high.

"You have a weird feeling, like you're stripped of all oxygen, and when it's over you just melt," said Sapinski.

"You think you're never going to finish," said Simon Paca, senior, "and even when you think you're finished, you're not because there's always something you can improve."

"It's the scare factor that keeps you up all night," said Mark Trost, senior.

They are not up all night because they are procrastinators. "When you look at a project, you think it will take a day or two, then you have to multiply that estimate by four," said Paca.

Why did they decide to go into this major?

Trost said he decided to be an architect in fourth grade, but is not sure why. "Maybe it was because I watched 'Brady Bunch' all the time, and I subconsciously wanted to be Mike Brady."

But the students say that it is not the "glamorous" profession portrayed on the small screen.

At graduation they will receive a bachelor of science in architectural studies. This degree does not qualify them for a job. First, they must take the National Council of Architect Registration Board's licensing exam. The exam cannot be taken right out of undergraduate—a master's degree and one year of work experience under a licensed architect are needed first.

Even after all that is done, the vast majority of graduates will work as draftsmen for their first ten years, students say. Few have a shot at work as a designer right out of school.

Design work can bring fame, but it takes many years to build up a name for yourself.

"So, you might have money and fame at age 65," said Trost, "that is, if the stress doesn't kill you first."

What does it take to survive?

Devotion, enthusiasm for the work and high tolerance to stress are all necessary characteristics.

But, when talking about a group project that had to be redone at the last minute because of an incorrect paper thickness, he said, "People just stayed up and did it over, I don't know why. I guess we have just set our standard and can't go below it."

"Sophomore year is the weed-out year," said Sapinski, referring to the first taste students have of the workload.

But once they get past that they will stick with it.

"It's like an addiction," said Trost. "Most architects work into their old age—they don't retire until five minutes before their death."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Joe Durica

VALARIE BOROWSKI, graduate in ARCH, puts the finishing touches on a project.

JAMES MILLER explains the finer points of building a model to Kristy Picton, graduate in ARCH.

Photo by Lisa Shapiro

Photo by Lisa Shapiro

SYLVIE BONNIEU, an exchange student from France, concentrates on sketching the plans for her Architecture project.

REMI ROUYER, an exchange student from France, sketches plans for his latest project at the Architecture studios.

Photo by Lisa Shapiro

Photo by Lisa Shapiro

"The architecture program is a good base for wherever you want to go (with your degree). Anything you do (extra) will be icing on the cake."

-Jeanne Bloomberg

THE STUDY ABROAD OFFICE, located in Coble Hall, provides information on every exchange program offered by the U of I.

KIM REED, junior in CBA, enters the study abroad office, seeking information on foreign study programs.

photo by Kristy Phariss

"I liked becoming involved with the local scene: going to the same cafe with the same people."

-Daniel Creinin

photo by Kristy Phariss

STUDENTS ARE ENCOURAGED to speak with someone who has studied abroad in the desired country in order to answer any questions and be prepared for new experiences.

THE STUDY ABROAD OFFICE has books filled with questionnaires describing the experiences of students who completed the respective program.

The foreign experience

photo by Daniel Creinin

photo by Kristy Phariss

When I asked a number of classmates whether or not they would be interested in studying abroad, the majority responded with an energetic "yes!"

Students gave a variety of reasons for their interest. Some wished to become more independent. Others wanted to experience a different culture. Many times, students wished to obtain a different perspective on their majors. Many wished to be fluent in a foreign language and thought that studying abroad would give them the needed practice.

Despite their enthusiasm, most students will bury their dreams of seeing Buckingham Palace in the moonlight or waking up to freshly baked croissants in Paris. Numerous excuses will block their paths, such as "I couldn't afford the extra expenses," "I would miss my boyfriend too much," or "I couldn't speak a word of Spanish to save my life." These falsehoods stem from misinformation about the Study Abroad program.

The Study Abroad Office provides valuable resources and many different programs to meet students' needs. During the first appointment, a general adviser talks to a student about his or her personal and academic goals, as well as financial situation. Generally, the advisor can come up with a solution to the student's conflicts.

For example, many students fear that lack of funds will confine them to Campaign. However, there are a number of less expensive trips, as well as the Work Abroad program, which allows students to obtain employment while abroad. Joanne Reszka, associate director of the Study Abroad program, said, "Because of these opportunities, there is no reason why money should prevent students from going abroad!"

Students also worry about the language barrier. If this is the case, students can study in English speaking regions such as England. However, for those students who do have background in a foreign language (usually four or five semesters) there are programs designed to increase fluency in the language.

Jacque Berger, junior in LAS, spent the summer at L'Universite Lavall in Quebec City, Canada. "I became fluent so fast because if I wanted anything at all, whether it be at the school cafeteria, the drug-store or the bars, I had to speak French," she said.

Regardless of where you would like to go, there is a specific adviser to describe the particular countries and programs you're interested in.

"The advisers were excellent in helping me choose the right program," Patty Mathes, senior in LAS, said. "They really checked me out to see what kind of a person I was and where I would be happiest." Mathes went to Aberdeen, Scotland.

The Study Abroad Office also guides students through their overseas experience. For example, once a student is accepted into the program, he goes through an orientation which involves talking with prior exchange students and counselors. This ensures that students will be fully prepared for their experience.

Once the student is abroad, they are encouraged to write the Study Abroad Office. The office often sends letters as well as the latest issue of The Daily Illini, keeping the student in touch with the university.

Upon returning to the states, students are encouraged to join the Study Abroad Office's Former Foreigners program. Its purpose is to keep them involved in international affairs. Some of the activities it sponsors include parties with foreign exchange students, a Study Abroad Fair, and a newsletter. The office stresses that the Study Abroad program should be viewed as a lifelong asset.

"The Study Abroad program shouldn't be an isolated experience. It should be integrated into the rest of the students' lives. Hopefully, the new attitudes and ideas which they acquire abroad will continue to influence them far into the future," Reszka said.

If a student cannot find what he or she looking for through the Study Abroad program, another option is through a departmental program. Students wishing to gain a foreign perspective on their majors may find this program the most beneficial. Terry Turro, junior in architecture, is planning to study abroad with his classmates in Versailles, France, next year.

"This program is unique," he said, "because it will allow me to incorporate European architecture into my academic experience." Other departments which offer such programs include the Department of Education and the Department of Engineering.

Considering the variety of options available to students wishing to study abroad, there should be no excuses. Instead, students should say, "I'm going to..."

story by Janet Scott

layout by Kimberly Kossof

Degradable plastic use rises

AMERICANS use 2.5 million plastic bottles every hour. Most of these bottles, like 90 percent of all solid waste, are buried in landfills. But landfill space is running out, and soon we'll have no place to put our garbage.

Plastic poses a special problem because it is virtually invulnerable to deterioration. In the words of Charlie Smyth, Urbana city council member, "It just simply lasts forever."

In addition to taking up precious landfill space, plastic also poses a danger to wildlife. Marine animals have died from being strangled by plastic six pack rings and after ingesting plastic debris mistaken for fish eggs.

Richard Wool, university professor of materials science and engineering, wants this to change. Wool is at work developing biodegradable plastics.

He has already helped the Decatur-based company Archer Daniels Midland to develop biodegradable plastic bags which are sold to consumers for the collection of yard waste.

As of July 1, 1990, the yard waste in Illinois must be separated from other waste, and it must be disposed of in a biodegradable bag, whether it be paper or plastic.

Bags currently on the market contain 5 to 6 percent cornstarch, which aids the chemical degradation of the plastic. According to Wool, these bags should take about one to two years to break down, depending on the environment in which they are placed.

Wool is at work on plastic that is a blend containing 40 to 80 percent cornstarch. This plastic is expected to degrade in less than a year.

There are four ways to degrade plastic: microbial degradation, macro-organism degradation, photodegradation and chemical degradation.

Microbial degradation involves fungi and bacteria which attack the plastic under aerobic or anaerobic conditions. The degradation rate depends on moisture, temperature, oxygen and the number of bacteria in the environment.

Macro-organism degradation involves invertebrates and small insects such as crickets, snails and slugs consuming the plastic as food.

Photodegradation involves the absorption of radiation from sunlight which degrades the plastic molecules.

Chemical degradation involves chemical additives which deteriorate the plastic's molecular structure.

Wool hopes to see the development of plastic food containers which are macro-organism degradable. "Restaurant litter would be eaten by all the creepy-crawly things of the countryside. Insects are voracious eaters — their enormous jaws would rip the plastic to shreds," he said.

Although the current uses of biodegradable plastic are mainly plastic bags and six pack rings, Wool believes that future applications are numerous.

Depending on the shelf life of a product and the nature of its contents, biodegradable plastics could be used for a number of convenience goods, he said.

"In many cases, take bread, for instance, the food would spoil before the plastic would degrade."

Producers of frozen foods would also be able to use biodegradable plastic because no microbial activity takes place in temperatures below freezing.

A line of disposable diapers that have a biodegradable shell were introduced in September. Nondegradable diapers can take up to 500 years to decompose in a landfill. With 18 billion disposable diapers buried in landfills each year, biodegradable diapers may help to reduce the problem.

Other applications for biodegradable plastics include landfill covers, time release capsules for seeds and a mulch film for crops.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Joe Durica

photo by Reggie Natividad

IF THESE PLASTIC SEEDLING containers were biodegradable, the containers could be placed in the ground where the plastic will degrade and blend with the soil.

PLASTIC JUGS and styrofoam cups will not break-down, but simply sit on the banks of the Boneyard Creek for years to come.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

"We should care enough for the environment to pay for this in research."

—Charla Hauser

THE ILLINI UNION BOOKSTORE and Hefty demonstrate their concern for the environment by using biodegradable bags.

C-U offers shoppers several options

ONE brisk afternoon in autumn as I was walking back from class, I noticed a student selling beautiful wool sweaters on the quad. When I inquired about them, he told me they were 100 percent wool, handmade sweaters from Ecuador.

"I'll be selling them for most of the day," he said. "But hurry back if you want one because they're going fast."

Indeed, as I stood there admiring the selection of sweaters, swarms of girls were running up in excitement at the prospect of purchasing a sweater of such quality. Many of them were becoming unusually aggressive, snatching sweaters from one another while exchanging dirty glances.

"Why such hostility?" I asked myself in amazement. These girls were acting as if they hadn't been shopping for months. Suddenly, it struck me. Many of them hadn't. Although there are several shopping centers outside of Champaign as well as numerous clothing stores on campus, students are not always satisfied with their merchandise.

"I like to dress sort of 'artsy,'" said Jennifer Miller, sophomore in LAS. "I buy clothes that are a little bit different to show my individuality. The stores on campus never have what I want."

"I agree," said Elizabeth Rutha, freshman in LAS. "I enjoy clothes that are timeless—fashionable, but not faddish. Sometimes I'll shop at Benetton or The Closet, but I usually don't find the styles I'm looking for in stores on campus."

Sometimes, Rutha makes special trips home just to visit her favorite stores. "Since I live near Chicago, I save most of my shopping for Michigan Avenue, where I splurge at Bloomingdale's, Neiman Marcus and Marshall Fields."

Other students try to make the best of the shopping situation on campus.

"When I want to look sexy for the bars, I dress mod—all in black," said Gia Dec, junior in LAS. "Although I'd rather shop at home, I have found a few stores near campus that I like."

One of the stores she mentioned was called The Gallery, located in downtown Champaign. "It's actually an old bank converted into a store," said Dec. "The old vault is really neat to look at, and they have cool silk scarves and handmade jewelry."

On the other hand, there are a handful of students who are perfectly content with the shopping situation on campus. "I'm from Peru, Illinois, a little town without many places to shop," said Vonda Vaughn, senior in LAS. "I'd much rather shop at Marketplace or Lincoln Square, which offer a wide variety of clothes, than anywhere at home."

"I just roll out of bed and throw on a pair of sweats, which I can buy anywhere on campus," said Chris Perkins, junior in LAS. "If I want the kind that say Illini, I go to I.U.B., but otherwise, I buy them at K-mart or Venture."

Keeping in mind most students views about shopping on campus, I ran home to get my checkbook. When I returned to pick up the sweater that was being held for me, I noticed a new group of fiesty girls swarming around the table, each one struggling to get her hands on the sweater that would suit her style.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Joe Durica

STUDENTS SHOP AT Schumachers for a wide variety of novelty Illini wear, including jackets, sweatshirts, and the favorite dad's day gift, the Illini tie.

SCULLY AND SCULLY is known for their classic and conservative clothing line.

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

TINA HILL, and John Hill, Jr. browse through the wide selection of ties at Redwood and Ross.

IMPRESSIONS OFFERS a wide variety of greek wear in addition to plain sweat shirts and pants.

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

"If you want real clothes, the mall is the place the place to find them, but for Illini wear, campustown is the best!"

—Aimee Davy

Donations aid research

As a "gift," a corporation can donate a piece of equipment or cash to be used for a designated purpose with virtually "no strings attached." One example is a recent Sony donation.

The Sony Corporation gave the university $3 million to create the new position of research chair, the John Bardeen Professor of Electrical and Computer Engineering and Physics, Orville Redenbacher Popcorn Co., in the hopes of discovering what causes unpopped popcorn, gave the College of Agriculture at the university $45,000 last spring.

These are just two examples of the many negotiations which occur between private corporations and the U of I each year. How do corporations establish these relationships with the university?

In addition to gifts, "unrestricted grants" may be given to an individual researcher to be used at the faculty member's sole discretion in a broadly defined area of research.

The university accepts gifts and unrestricted grants with no obligation to provide the donor with anything in return.

Unlike the above, a contract can be used by a corporation to formalize a specific project of mutual interest that will be pursued as university research. The Redenbacher project illustrates the use of such a contract.

Large corporations certainly have the resources to conduct independent research. Why, then, do they choose to interact with the U of I?

According to William A. Dick, Director of Corporate Programs of the Engineering Experiment Station, many corporations are motivated by the desire to support higher education.

"Corporate fathers look around and see where their best employees came from. It is in their best interest to support these institutions. In fact, among the universities that a corporation supports, there is usually a strong relationship between the employees of the corporation and the university," he said.

More important, however, is the quality of research provided by the university. "Corporations have the opportunity to draw from a large pool of qualified scientists to work on their problems. Actually, some of the finest research scientists in the world are found at the University of Illinois."

Likewise, why does the university choose to participate in corporate research?

One reason is that funds allocated to research also help to support academic programs. Dick noted that professors spend about half of their time teaching and the other half conducting research. However, state funds which support teaching services only amount to about one-third of the university's total budget. The funding which supports research (10 percent comes from corporate sources) makes up for this discrepancy.

For example, much of the equipment that is purchased for research is also used for academics. "Without research, the university could not afford to have high quality labs available to students," said Dick.

Of course, students also benefit personally from corporate research. "Students interested in working for corporations find the interaction with corporate research scientists very valuable," said Janet H. Glaser, associate director of the Biotechnology Center, while discussing collaborative corporate research programs.

"Students go for their Ph.D.'s because they are going to be in a high level position which requires additional training," said Dick. "For scientists, this training is in the research field."

The most important reason for corporate research is that it keeps the university in touch with the outside world. "The University of Illinois strives to provide students with a real world education," said Dick. "Unless we remain involved in corporate research, we run the risk of getting away from this goal."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Debbie Siegel

"The grants give the students (in research) a chance to get a taste of what they might do after college."

-Kathy Kendall

photo by Jadon Evans

THIS ROBOT IN THE MECHANICAL Engineering Building is one piece of equipment purchased under a grant from the General Motors Foundation.

photo by Jadon Evans

IN THE AGRICULTURE ENGINEERING SCIENCES BUILDING, Jennifer McKinstry, senior in Agriculture, prepares to sift out the unpopped kernels of corn.

THIS TYPICAL POPCORN POPPER is used to research unpopped popcorn for the Orville Redenbacher Popcorn Co.

University enrollment drops

A thousand less people, could you tell?

Mobs of sweaty students are bumping into one another at Kam's. Moviegoers are waiting in a never-ending line to see the midnight showing of "When Harry Met Sally." La Bamba is packed with burrito lovers ready to set their mouths on fire. The campus has never seemed so alive. Yet surprisingly enough, enrollment at the University of Illinois has declined significantly this year.

According to Patricia Askew, director of admissions and records at the university, total enrollment this year has decreased by at least 1,000 students, from 36,036 last fall to 35,032 at present.

This decrease is due mainly to the smaller number of freshman choosing to attend the university. A campus press release revealed that the number of accepted students who actually enroll at the university dropped from 57 percent in 1988 to 53 percent this year. For example, in 1985, freshman enrollment was at 6,393; this fall, the figure has fallen to 5,159.

This data reflects a nationwide decrease in the number of high school graduates. Officials predict that this trend will continue, with 26,000 less high school graduates in Illinois in 1993 than in 1988. Because less students are currently applying to universities, competition among schools is becoming more intense.

Although U of I maintains high academic standards and offers its student valuable resources, it is competing with many prestigious schools, such as Northwestern University in Evanston, the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor and the Ivy League schools. Because the number of qualified high school graduates has decreased, these applicants have a much better chance of being accepted at more schools.

Some high school graduates decide not to attend the university because of its size, which many view as a disadvantage. Indeed, students frequently complain that the university is inefficient and impersonal because of its large size.

Claire Monical, sophomore in LAS, complained of bureaucratic red tape. "I applied for my financial aid in March of my senior year of high school. I didn't receive it until May of my freshman year at the U of I," she said. "When my brother went to Parkland Community College, he got his within two weeks."

She also felt that her learning was hindered by the frequent use of teaching assistants. "I've had a number of apathetic T.A.'s who didn't keep in touch with their professors and were not familiar with their policies. One T.A. even refused to schedule office hours."

Laura Bercier, sophomore in CBA, said that she didn't like having to consult with advisors. "Most of them aren't very knowledgeable about classes. I think it's easier to plan my schedule on my own."

Kathleen Emerson, junior in LAS, said that the large student body makes adjustment difficult for many students. "A lot of people come from small schools and are used to being 'big man on campus.' They come to U of I and get lost in the crowd."

Regardless of the reasons for reduced enrollment, university faculty and staff are not upset. According to William Fierke, associate director of admissions and records, limited resources and overcrowding have spurred the university to consider decreasing enrollment on its own.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Julie Triggs

"Higher entrance requirements are good because they assure that the students are qualified."

-Angie Comstock

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

CLASS ATTENDANCE isn't always this poor (and classes don't always get canceled). However, the decline in enrollment this year would be like half of a packed Foellinger audience just disappearing.

NEWLY ARRIVING FRESHMEN quickly realize how big the university really is. While some try finding unknown buildings by hit-or-miss, others find that the best bet is by memorizing a campus map.

DUE TO THE SIZE and number of classes available at the university, determining what courses to take is not always easy. Jennifer Therien, junior in CBA, seeks the advice of an advisor before turning in her spring registration form.

photo by Jeff Miller

EMERGENCY PHONES are placed all over the campus which are connected directly to the police department.

DUE TO FEARS of the unsafe campus, girls who walk alone at night feel they must pick up their pace.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

"I feel that I can walk at night because there are enough people around. If something happened, people would help me."

—Jennifer Bjerke

NITERIDES PROVIDES RIDES to men and women who do not wish to walk alone at night. Volunteers drive the van from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. on weekdays and until 3 a.m. on weekends.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Illinois steps up campus safety

Campus safety has been an issue of great concern not only for students, but the parents of students at the university. An October meeting of the Mothers and Dads Association focused on the issue of safety.

Mary Ellen O'Shaughnessey, assistant dean of students, was at the meeting in the Illini Union to discuss safety with the members of the association and answer any questions regarding safety.

The university has several safety features that have evolved over the years to aid in keeping the campus safe. Among these safety features are emergency telephones, Niterides, student patrol, Whistlestop and new bus routes offered through the Mass Transit District.

Last year new emergency phones were installed at various locations around campus. Pamphlets were distributed with the locations of the phones marked out on a map of the university. The Student Government Association set up a booth in the Union with an actual emergency phone to educate students about their presence on campus.

Niterides is another safety feature sponsored by the university. It provides nighttime transportation to students anywhere on campus. Two vans run nightly from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. weekdays and to 3 a.m. on weekends.

"The former Women's Wheels was changed to Niterides to include men because it is funded by SORF money," O'Shaughnessey said. "It would be discriminatory not to allow men (to ride)."

Student patrol works closely with Niterides by dispatching the vans when students call for a ride and driving the vans on weekends. Student patrol also walks the campus at night in pairs for the safety of other students.

The Whistlestop program distributes whistle keychains to residence halls and other students organizations to be distributed to women. If a student encounters trouble, she can blow the whistle to let others in the area know she needs assistance. The loud noise may also scare off an attacker.

The new bus routes provided by the MTD are another key safety feature. A majority of students who voted in the 1989 spring referendum voted in favor of a $10 fee per semester for unlimited use of MTD buses. A valid university I.D. can now be used as an MTD pass. The campus area bus operates until 2 a.m.

Even with all of these safety features there are still areas of concern. One of Mary Ellen O'Shaughnessey's main concerns is lighting on campus. A particularly dangerous area is the south end of the Quad, near the university observatory. The area must remain dark so that stars and other astronomical bodies can be seen through telescopes. O'Shaughnessey said one or two women are raped near there every year. Extra lighting is not a possibility, but increased student patrol could help make that area safer.

The senior class had a safer Quad in mind when they chose their traditional gift to the university this year. Increased lighting in the area between the Foreign Language Building and Davenport Hall is one part of the gift, along with landscaping for the same area.

Twenty-four hour automatic tellers also pose a possible danger. Students can go to these machines at any time to get cash and anyone on the street knows exactly what he's doing. They become an instant target as soon as he steps away from the machine.

No matter what safety measures the university takes, however, there is no substitute for the individual precautions taken by students as they go about their daily routines.

These precautions include carrying a whistle or mace, taking advantage of the MTD and Niterides, never walking alone in the dark and letting friends know your whereabouts.

story by Patti Ottenstein
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Lisa Shapiro

IN AN EFFORT TO LOWER the campus crime rate, Student Police patrol the campus at night.

Peers provide relief

It's 9:30 on a Saturday morning. You've got a fever of 100 degrees and could really use an aspirin and a bottle of cough syrup. Unfortunately, the snow outside is falling and your head is throbbing and you just can't make the voyage over to McKinley in this condition. What can you do? If you're lucky, there is a health advocate on your dormitory floor who dispenses cold packs to students in your situation.

You may be wondering, what exactly is a health advocate? According to Joanne Chopak, Paraprofessional Education Coordinator at McKinley Health Center, "The health advocate functions as a residential health resource."

Health advocates are trained in a variety of different health-related areas. Typical subject matter may include nutrition, weight loss, drug and alcohol abuse, birth control, stress management and crime awareness. They also learn about the various counseling centers, hospitals, and other health-related programs available to students.

The health advocate program started through McKinley Health Center 13 years ago. Originally, the program was designed so that in their first semester, participating students completed all of the academic training. Then, during their second semester, students formed a club with elected officers which raised money for various philanthropies including The American Red Cross.

Since that time, the program has evolved into a two-semester course, Health and Safety Studies 140 and Health and Safety Studies 141, offered through the University. There is no prerequisite for the program and all students are eligible to enroll. Students spend the entire year completing their academic training. At the end of this time, they receive four hours of University credit. Although the program is a registered student organization, it is no longer considered a club and does not receive SORF funds.

Denise Schultz, senior in LAS, participated in the program last year. "I found the class very beneficial. We did things that I'd always wanted to do on my own but probably never would have. For example, we were required to utilize all of the student services offered at McKinley, such as a personal fitness test and a cholesterol screening. Also, we were certified to perform first aid and CPR by the American Red Cross," she said.

Once students have acquired this general training, they put it to practical use on campus and in the community. They share their knowledge with students living in the University Residence Halls, Greek houses, and private housing. Health advocates are also required to hold a personal enrichment program dealing with a health-related issue in their place of dwelling. They are informed of health-related activities and given posters and pamphlets to pass on to their peers. They can dispense cold packs containing over the counter medication and are equipped with a small first aid kit in case of minor emergencies.

According to Schultz, a member of Delta Delta Delta Sorority, "It was great for my house because we are so far away from McKinley. Girls often asked me for cold packs and they really appreciated my help."

Sometimes, the health advocates work together to promote a common cause. For example, last year the program participated in a campus-wide safety campaign for safety-belt awareness and helmet safety.

The health advocate program is beneficial for students interested in the health profession as well as any other field. In addition to gaining valuable knowledge, students have the opportunity to demonstrate their leadership qualities and improve their speaking skills.

"I had a really good experience being a health advocate," Schultz said. "It was fun for me and it was good experience talking to people when they came to me for advice."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Joan Wilson

"McKinley is a good service. Maybe they should promote it more because many students don't know about the full range of services they offer."

-Alf Sanford

Session III

Ex-Smoker's Panel
Discussion of past Physical Effects of Smoking

Session IV

Videotape
Changing old habits

photo by Reggie Natividad

THE ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES of contraceptives are just two of the topics discussed by students in the health advocate program.

photo by Reggie Natividad

SCOTT GARRETT, senior in LAS, and Stacey Karzen, senior in LAS, scribble notes on how to effectively communicate health strategies to peers.

JOANNE CHOPAK, Paraprofessional Educational Coordinator from McKinley Health Center, explains the technique of the contraceptive sponge.

photo by Reggie Natividad

Giving mother nature a hand

Virtually every science department on campus is using living organisms (or their parts) to make or modify a product, to improve plants or animals, or to devise microorganisms for specific uses.

This process, called biotechnology, often involves the mutation of genes or extraction of enzymes to improve a product.

"It shouldn't be used to alter human genetic attributes."

—Ron Matten

"The current revolution of biotechnology stems from the development of techniques so broad that they can be applied to a variety of problems," said Janet H. Glaser, associate director of the university's Biotechnology Center.

The field of genetic engineering, sometimes called recombinant DNA technology, is no exception.

Jack M. Widholm, a professor in the Department of Agronomy, has applied biotechnology to his research on crop improvement.

In order to improve the farmer's corn crop, scientists generally employ the traditional method of cross-breeding by combining the genes of two breeds of corn. In this way, the desired gene, which may cause an increase in disease resistance or nutritional value, is obtained in the new breed.

Unfortunately, cross-breeding results in the acquisition of many undesirable genes as well. Since further back-crossing is often necessary in order to create the desired breed of corn, this technique may take a lifetime.

Through the use of plant tissue culture, Widholm has devised a solution to this problem. By isolating the specific gene that is desired in one breed, it can be inserted into the tissue of the second. "Because it involves the manipulation of only one gene, this technique produces the necessary hybrid variety within one generation," said Glaser.

Theodore Hymowitz, also a professor in the Department of Agronomy, has developed a breeding program to improve soybean crops. Soybeans contain a protein which inhibits the action of trypsin, a chemical in the stomach that aids in digestion. Therefore, soybeans normally cannot be eaten raw. This is an inconvenience to farmers, who must feed their cattle cooked soybeans.

Hymowitz has successfully isolated and removed the gene involved in trypsin inhibition. Consequently, farmers are now able to feed their cattle raw soybeans.

In addition to recombining existing genes, genetic researchers can also use the techniques of biotechnology to engineer new genes. This involves isolating a specific gene and altering its makeup with desirable mutations. This has already been done to improve the effectiveness of certain products.

For example, laundry detergents contain enzymes which were once ineffective if used in hot water. To solve this problem, researchers engineered a protein which made the enzymes more heat stable. The new detergents can now be used in hot water.

These are just a few examples of the ways that researchers in genetic engineering as well as other areas of science can apply the techniques of biotechnology. Future research possibilities are endless.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Kimberly Kossof

photo by Reggie Natividad

LAB TECHNICIANS grind soybean samples in preparation for genetic experimentations.

SOME VARIETIES of weeds are actually grown in one of the greenhouses south of Turner Hall.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

BUFFER SOLUTIONS and other "interesting" chemicals, can be found in almost every lab.

PLANT EMBRYOS are grown in test tubes to provide genetic material for experiments.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo courtesy of Professor Widholm

GENETIC MANIPULATION is practiced on corn kernels in an effort to ensure that more kernels are popped. This project is funded by a grant from Orville Redenbacher.

HELENA SMITH, sophomore in LAS, assists Professor Hymowitz by combining the buffer with the soybeans, which will later be placed in the centrifuge

China cries for democracy

JUNE 4, 1989. The world looked on in horror as seven weeks of nonviolent protest ended in a bloodbath at Tiananmen Square in Beijing. The images will forever be etched on the minds of those who watched the events unfold. Marches, fasting, impassioned speeches, a lone citizen bringing a column of tanks to a halt and the creation of a 33-foot tall goddess—all in the name of democracy.

The Chinese Democracy Movement was the largest mass movement in Chinese history.

Chinese students organized the movement, and in a massive expression of passive resistance, occupied Tiananmen Square from April 15 to June 4.

They called for political and ideological reforms in response to political corruption and the success of the economic reforms introduced by Chinese Premier Deng Xiaoping.

Professor Su Shaozi, director of the Institute of Democratic Values at Marquette University in Milwaukee, said, "Progress in China followed a tortuous road and the demand for democracy soon followed irresistibly."

The movement spread to other large cities across China and involved nonstudents as well as students.

In answer to their requests for freedom of speech, open communication and a free press, the government imposed martial law on May 20 and eventually began the military crackdown.

The shooting began Saturday, June 3 at 10 p.m.. Thousands were shot, bayoneted or crushed by tanks.

The protesters responded by pelting soldiers with chunks of concrete and setting army vehicles afire.

After the massacre, many who were involved in the movement fled to the West, in response to the wave of arrests and executions that followed.

Across the United States,

Chinese students and sympathizers responded to the massacre. In Chicago, 5,000 to 7,000 gathered for a mock funeral procession on June 5.

At the university, Chinese students organized rallies and marches in support of the movement.

The movement for democracy continues. Chinese students who are studying in the U.S. have received extensions on their visas and are organizing here.

As Su Shaozi said, "The government cannot win the people's hearts with violence. The crisis of confidence will deepen. The future belongs to the people."

Although the blood has been washed from the streets of Beijing, the Chinese government, like Lady Macbeth, will never be free of the stain.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Joe Durica

U OF I STUDENTS reacted to the Tiananmen Square massacre by demonstrating on the Quad to show disapproval of the Chinese government's actions.

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by S. Hung

CHINESE STUDENTS MARCH down Green Street to honor those who died in the Tiananmen Square massacre and protest the Communist governments actions.

IN FRONT OF THE ILLINI UNION students sign petitions and write letters to be sent to their representatives demanding sanctions against the Chinese government.

photo by Ray Greninger

"The government is really in charge, and the people are manipulated in every aspect of their lives (by the government)."

— Beth Ann Herschbach

Peers provide guidance

Fourteen years ago the university's Career Development and Placement Center faced a dilemma. While the demand for on-campus pre-employment services was steadily increasing, the center's budget was not.

Bill Kenzler, in response to this problem, created the Paraprofessional Career Consultant program. Through the use of undergraduate paraprofessionals, the center began to acquire valuable staff without additional costs.

Kenzler explained that students wishing to become paraprofessionals must attend a year-long training program, which is divided into two unique semesters.

During the first semester, students meet once a week for a two-hour class. They earn two hours of university credit through the educational psychology department.

In the early weeks, students learn basic counseling and communication skills.

"The counseling phase of the training program is very important," said Martha Scully, associate director of paraprofessional and outreach programs at the center. "Part of being an effective consultant is knowing how to make other students feel comfortable so that they can trust the center and openly discuss their problems."

After gaining this foundation, students are exposed to career development theories, career resource materials and job search strategies. Discussions include the roles of values clarification, skills identification and goal setting in career development.

"This information will help students as consultants, as well as on a more personal level," said Scully. "When it comes time for them to start their own job-searching, they will have the inside scoop."

During the second semester students put their knowledge to practical use at the resource center, contracting with the director the number of hours they will work and the amount of university credit they will receive, usually between 1 and 3 hours.

For example, many students plan and initiate career-related projects, such as workshops on interviewing skills and resume writing. They also assist other students in using the centers' resources.

"Working at the center is really a great opportunity," said Scully. "It gives students a chance to refine their leadership and communication skills."

In 1977, the program attracted a mere 12 students. Today, however, approximately 60 students apply for the program each semester, while only 30 are accepted. "The program is extremely competitive," said Scully. "Diversity is our theme. We look for students with many different backgrounds and beliefs who can relate well to other students."

Faculty who participate in the program are pleased with the results. "The program consists of a really neat group of students," said Scully. "They form a strong bond which is not typically found in academic classes."

"The group approach encourages an appreciation of individual and group abilities and fosters a powerful sense of community," said Kenzler. "Cohesiveness, motivation, and dedication are the by-products of this group identity."

Student response has also been very positive. According to Jorge A. Bermudez, student in LAS, "PCC is that rare opportunity where many diverse people become friends and work together to advise peers of important career-related information, and collectively realize that pride can be gained from teamwork, growth, laughter and some seriousness."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Mike Krupicka

"I became more familiar with the interview process, including how to anticipate question types and how to relate my experiences and skills to the specific job."
-Colleen Young

STUDENTS INQUIRE ABOUT the programs offered at the Career Development and Placement Center.

photo by Nora Hipolito

COUNSELING CENTER

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

A BULLETIN BOARD at the Career Development and Placement Center displays varieties of self-help literature.

GREG MILLER, senior in CBA, checks out the the career literature while waiting for an interview.

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

JEFF BECKER, senior in FAA, sits in at a Career Development and Placement Center seminar.

STUDENTS IN THE, Paraprofessional Career Consultant program discuss job search strategies in a seminar.

Cure that mid-semester apathy

Open your I-Book to the next seven week of classes. It may read something like this: Monday – Spanish quiz. Wednesday – history and accounting midterms, LAS Council meeting. Friday – six page English paper. How could you possibly make time for a group meeting Wednesday night?

The meeting begins at 7:10 and to your surprise, only about half of the students are present. Apparently, some of the members just didn't have the energy to climb down from their top bunks.

Mid-semester apathy is a common problem facing the leaders of many student organizations, not just LAS Council. How can student leaders keep their peers interested and involved in student organizations?

"Take the Lead," a new leadership development series sponsored by the university, provides solutions to this problem as well as many other problems facing student leaders.

According to Willard Broom, co-director of the series, "Take the Lead" was created to replace the annual leadership conference, which lasted only a few days each year. The conference was available to leaders of registered student organizations, while leaders of non-registered organizations and those in the Greek system were excluded.

"The annual conference was very well-received by those who attended, but it was ineffective because it reached such a small number of students. There were thousands of students involved in leadership roles who did not qualify for the conference. 'Take the Lead' is an attempt to make leadership training more widely available," Broom said.

The series is available to all undergraduate, graduate and professional students. "Students currently enrolled in the program range from freshmen, who are not yet involved in student organizations, to graduate students who are interested in leadership," he said.

The sessions are presented by qualified staff, faculty and business leaders. "I tried to find the person with the most expertise in each area," Broom said. "When I started doing this, I began to realize how many incredible people there are at this university."

Some of the most popular sessions include those that are skill-oriented, such as "How to Run a Meeting," "Goal Setting to Improve Organizational Effectiveness," and "Team Building and Group Dynamics."

After attending the presentation "How to Run a Meeting," Janette Schroeder, sophomore in CBA, said, "The skills I learned will be applicable here on campus as well as in the business world."

There are also many value-oriented sessions, such as "Values Clarification," "Leadership and Cross Cultural Awareness," and "Prejudice Reduction." According to Broom, these sessions should be encouraged. "At 19-years-old, students may not find these issues very applicable, but at 35 or 40-years-old, they become an important part of life."

"Take the Lead" stresses an active role in learning. For example, in his presentation on "Time Management," Professor John D. Powell had students write down everything they had to do within the next two weeks – laundry, grocery shopping, homework and more. Next, he helped them devise a plan in order to accomplish all of these tasks through the good use of time.

Due to the high quality of the sessions, student response has been excellent. "From the beginning, I thought 'Take the Lead' was a good idea," Broom said. "The positive response proves it. People are talking about it."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Joan Wilson

"The series has really helped me to organize myself and accomplish my goals."

—Nancy Velloff

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

GENDER DIFFERENCES AND management styles is the topic of discussion between Judy Ellickson, Ph.D., clinical counselor, Larry McArdle, junior in LAS, and Elizabeth Reed, junior in CBA.

STUDENTS RAISE THEIR hands to answer questions about their backgrounds in a session which Richard Justice, associate dean of students, and Mary Ellen O'Shaughnessey, assistant dean of students, lead.

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

LEADERSHIP CHARACTERIS- TICS are the topic of lecturer in Agriculture Communication Roger Barnard's presentation.

"GOAL SETING TO Improve Or- ganizational Effectiveness," which Tom Schenck management consultant at McKinley Health Center presents, aims to help students' efficiency within groups.

Officers train for police work

"Police work is not as glamorous as it looks. It is not 'Kojak,' 'Starsky and Hutch' or 'Miami Vice.' It's a series of peaks and valleys. For every exciting moment, there's a lot of bored time—sitting around waiting for something to happen," said Cliff Van Meter, director of the Police Training Institute (PTI), which is located on campus.

Every year, the PTI trains about 4,000 Illinois police officers. The PTI offices are located in Illini Tower and the classrooms in the Armory, but the 35-year-old institute is preparing for a move into a new building that will have room for both classrooms and offices as well as practical labs.

At the PTI, officers are trained after they are hired by the individual departments. Unlike some of the other institutes in Illinois, there is no open enrollment. "You can't just walk in and say 'I want to be a cop' and sign up," said

Lois Welling, secretary to the director.

Officers are hired after a lengthy process. Under Illinois law, municipalities with a population over 5,000 are required to advertise openings in the newspaper.

Applicants take a written test, which begins the weed-out process. Those that pass take a physical agility test because, as Van Meter said, "A guy with a bad back just won't make a very effective police officer."

The next steps are polygraph and psychological tests followed by an interview, for those who make it that far. It is common for only two or three people to be hired out of 200 applicants.

There are six other places in the state that provide training: two in Cook County, one in Springfield, one in Belleville and one at Lincolnland College. All of the facilities teach the same state-mandated program of 400 hours of basic training.

Van Meter said that mandated training protects departments from "failure to train" liability suits.

There are usually 36 to 40 recruits in each 10-week training session. Three to four sessions are conducted simultaneously on a staggered schedule. Recruits come from all over the state, from Albion to Zion.

The first five weeks are spent in the classroom, learning subjects such as police law, basic patrol procedures, breath instrument techniques and behavioral psychology.

Van Meter said, "People might be surprised to know that we spend more time teaching human behavior than firearms. We don't spend all our time shooting guns."

The second five weeks are spent on things such as firearm instruction, first aid, tactical training and defense training.

Recruits also receive training on how to drive patrol cars.

"That may sound silly, but it's very different from driving a regular car. You wouldn't believe the things people do when they see a patrol car. They slow down, pull over and some even stop in the middle of the road," he said.

After the training is completed, the recruits are given a test administered by state officials. They are given three attempts to pass the test. The recruits that pass (and 99 percent do), graduate as certified police officers. If a member of a recruit's family is a police officer, that person is allowed to present the recruit's graduation certificate.

The profession is very popular these days, according to Van Meter. He cites job security, having family members who are also in police work, good pay and the chance to get out from behind a desk, as factors contributing to the rise in applicants.

In Illinois, recruits are receiving between $18,000 and $24,000 for starting salaries.

Van Meter said that about 20 percent of recruits coming into the institute are college graduates, something that was unheard of 20 or 30 years ago.

Although most want to be detectives, 99 out of 100 start on patrol. Van Meter said that only two of every 10 will end up as an investigator.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Debbie Siegel

"You must adjust your body to training and long days, sometimes twelve hours."

-Jason Eversole

photo by Reggie Natividad

THE RANGEMASTER OVERSEES proper use, maintenance, techniques, etc. of firearms on the target range (located south of Memorial Stadium).

TWO TRAINING RECRUITS participating in a role playing exercise in Practical Vehicle Stops. John Hinton, holding the clipboard, is the primary instructor and Ron Henson, sitting in the stopped vehicle, is assisting. Betty Henson, assistant instructor, watches Jim Auten, assistant instructor, peek into car.

RENOVATION BEGINS ON the new PTI building. They will be moving from the current offices in Illini Tower, background, to the building facing west on 4th and Chalmers.

photo by Reggie Natividad

courtesy of P.T.I.

Copy shop reliance grows

As I shift my weight, I feel the strap of my backpack digging into my shoulder, reminding me of the pile of books I'll be carrying home and the long hours of studying ahead of me. Somewhere behind me, I hear an angry stomach growling, signaling that the dinner hour must be close at hand.

Finally, after what seems like an eternity, I reach the counter where I am greeted by one of the crabbiest human beings I've ever encountered in my 18 years. He reminds me a little of Godzilla.

"May I help you?" he snarls in a sarcastic tone.

"Yes, I need to pick up a packet for Philosophy 102 section E."

"It's not ready yet."

"Next!" he growls, gesturing toward the exit. As I step out onto the sidewalk, I can't help wondering if he brushes his fangs.

Many students tell of similar copy shop horror stories. Liane Smith, sophomore in LAS, said, "I needed a packet from Kinko's for one of my classes. When I went to pick it up, I was told to come back in 24 hours. They were really nice and polite about it, but it's just very frustrating because they didn't have what I needed for class."

Sometimes, students will purchase a packet only to find that it is missing some of the required material. Amy Vance, sophomore in LAS, explained her situation. "I picked up a packet for one of my English classes, and the story I was supposed to read for the following day was missing."

Although students complain, an increasing number of professors are requiring copy shop material for their classes. Stores such as Dup-it, Kinko's, Notes 'n Quotes, and Up Close (formerly Quik Kopy) are having trouble keeping up with student demand.

Why has the use of copy shop material become so popular? Some professors are concerned about the high cost of textbooks.

Instead of requiring students to purchase an entire book, a professor will put together a packet containing all of the necessary reading material. The copy shop then prints up a certain number of packets based on the size of the class and sells them to students at a discount rate. This greatly reduces the amount of money students spend on their textbooks each semester.

Unfortunately for students, the nature of the copy shop business does create certain inconveniences. For example, many times professors don't bring in the materials they want printed until two days before the class starts. Since many shops hire new staff at the beginning of the school year, workers may not have the proper training, thus slowing the process down even further.

In the beginning of the year, enduring the copy shop nightmare may seem like a lot to go through. However, in a couple of months when my wallet starts to shrink, I'm sure I'll be thankful that I conquered the copy shop monster and saved a few dollars.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Julie Fanella

"There is material that has been required ... that I've kept for future classes. For me, it's been cheaper to get it from Kinko's instead of a sixty dollar book."

-Kathy Russel

KINKO'S offers more than just class materials. Along with other copy shops, they take photos for resumes and passports, print resumes, enlarge color photos and offer fax machine services.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Navidad

STUDENTS WAIT in lines to pay for the copy packets that their professors placed on required reading lists.

MIKE DUVALL, senior in engineering, Xeroxes notes for an often missed class.

photo by Reggie Navidad

photo by Reggie Navidad

WHEN ALLOWING time to pick up class materials from a copy shop, you have to remember that the lines are just as long as in the book stores during the first two weeks of class.

Editor
Tanja
Powers

Student Life

The year 1990 was like no other for U of I students. As the world around us changed, so did our lives. We strove to keep abreast of the world's new developments, ushered in a new decade and continued to build our own tradition ... the ILLINI tradition.

In the Illio's Student Life section we've tried to encompass the changes in U of I life, as well as demonstrate the consistency. We hope we've accurately depicted what it was like to be a student in 1990.

Some students chose to fight for changes in our own nation's system as the walls of communism were cracking in Eastern Europe. National issues such as abortion and the plight of the homeless earned support from students on campus. Students also took a stance politically, supporting their choice of gubernatorial candidates in an effort to gear up early for next year's race.

The campus saw changes itself. A new MTD system made public transportation a much more attractive option for students. With a flash of an ID the journey from FAR to the quad was a snap — and FREE, too. The latest ploy from the local tourist bureau brought the trolley to town in the fall. With free transportation from campustown to downtown Urbana, students were left wondering if C-U was trying to create the image of a Midwestern night spot.

And there were controversies, too.

The local police started cracking down on campus bars and the often ignored 21 drinking age. The bars got tougher and the under-age drinkers got nervous.

Students rent refrigerators between PAR and FAR.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Even campus parties were different. In an effort to protect themselves and party-goers the Interfraternity Council (IFC) instituted a BYOB policy for fraternity parties.

The topic that hit the front page with the most gusto however, was Chief Illiniwek. American Indians called it a racist misrepresentation, and die-hard Illini fans went up in arms. Despite Vice Chancellor Morton Weir's decision to keep the Chief as the university's symbol, protest continued.

Even though the world, Champaign-Urbana and the university itself were changing, there were things that weren't. Like any other year, students remained involved, whether on campus or in the community. There were over a hundred student organizations, including volunteer programs like Volunteer Illini Projects (VIP) for the community and Campus Acquaintance Rape Education program (CARE) for a safer campus. Organizations like the Tenant Union gave students a voice when faced with housing problems.

And who could forget SPIRIT! From the alumni to the orange and blue blooded student who was ever present at a football or basketball game, U of I students showed their true colors as they cheered Illini teams on to victory.

1990, like no other year, showed that despite the changes many things stay the same. No matter what aspect you look at of student life in 1990, it was all part of building the ILLINOIS legend.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Mike Capelle, senior in ENG, and Scott French, senior in LAS, pour a "beer bong" for John Edwards, senior in LAS.

Building
a Legend

What's talent?

What does it take to try out for an IUB production?

Mathew Wall, musical productions coordinator for "Cabaret," said this cast came to the show with varying backgrounds. Some had only experience in high school while others had credits from several college productions.

It was difficult at times getting everyone to the same level, but in the end there was no problem.

For Susan Spanier and Karen Kroll, both chorus members, this was their first college show. It was musical director Kim Baum's sixth.

"You have to love the theater," said Baum. You also need lots of time—three to four hours a night, five nights a week and even more the week before the performance.

—Tanja Powers

Ernest Ludwig, played by Mike Flanigan, talks on the phone at the Kit Kat Club.

Kevin Thurber ties the show together as MC of the Kit Kat Club.

photo by Margaret Humay

photo by Margaret Humay

photo by Margaret Humay

"Life is a Cabaret" for Sally Bowles, played by Hope Reyes, star singer at the club.

—Escape to the cabaret—

The lights dim, the curtain rises and in Foellinger Hall the audience is quiet....

It's Homecoming weekend, but the football game is out of mind as all eyes turn to the stage and the Illini Union Board's fall production of Cabaret.

This is the story of the author's (Cliff) relationship with a can-can dancer (Sally) in the cabaret, set against the backdrop of pre-World War II Berlin and the growing Nazi movement.

The musical is based on the play "I am a Camera," by John Van Druten. The play is based on "Berlin Stories," by Christopher Isherwood, said Mathew Wall, junior in LAS and the show's musical production coordinator.

The show was put on by a 28 member cast. The production crew included Wall and six other paid staff as well as 15 volunteers.

"The cast was excellent," said Wall. And their ability to work together made the show a success.

Kim Baum, senior in LAS and musical director for the production, agreed. After working on six IUB productions, she said the show was "very successful ... probably one of the best casts."

But what looked like a smooth production to the audience was the result of two things — hard work and long hours.

Baum laughed when she tried to estimate the amount of time she put into the show. For six weeks she practiced 15 to 20 hours a week with the cast, plus two to four additional hours with the orchestra.

It was tedious work, putting the show together, said Susan Spanier, freshman in LAS and member of the chorus. They did not start practicing on the auditorium's stage until the week before the performance.

"You put so much time into it ... it takes a while to see everything coming together, and then finally it does," she explained.

Time was definitely of the essence, said Jim Carpenter, a sophomore in FAA, who played Cliff.

"We had six weeks to pull it together and in the last week we were having six to seven hours of rehearsal each day," he said. "I think I speak for everyone when I say we missed a lot of classes."

Wall admitted the show was not an easy production. It was difficult "to be true to the play without offending anyone."

Karen Kroll, a freshman in LAS and member of the chorus, thought it was difficult for cast members to play the part of characters with religious biases (Nazis).

Carpenter, however, did not have a problem. "He (Cliff) didn't want to deal with (the Nazis) until he had to. But when he did, he felt basically how I do. Cliff was the all-American boy."

It was necessary to make sure the audience, as well as the cast, realized that this was simply a story be told, Wall said.

Baum agreed, "It's hard to portray something that's dark."

This show is not a comedy where the audience walks away happy. Instead they come away saying, "that was pretty wild," she said.

Another problem the cast had to overcome, said Baum, was comparison of the show to the movie "Cabaret." The movie altered the score while IUB stuck with the original.

But in the end it all came together... "I think we were almost surprised at how well it turned out," said Kroll.

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Margaret Humay

The MC and his "two ladies," Laura Corcoran (right) and Karen Kroll.

Returning to the routine

Everybody goes through the same motions at the beginning of the year:

unpacking those boxes and suitcases, settling into the dorms or an apartment, standing in line for hours to pay $300 for books (worth pennies a few months later), dealing with scheduling problems at the Armory steam-bath and squeezing a month's worth of going out into the few days before classes start.

The older you get, the less trauma and excitement and the more exasperation and routine there is to these back-to-school rituals. Upper-classmen often roll their eyes at the hoopla of "New Student Week." The loud all-campus parties, the flaky lil' sis rush events, the carnival-like atmosphere of Quad Day, "Be A Part From the Start" and the hyper packs of freshman running around at 4:00 a.m. simply because they can, is cheesy stuff after you've seen it a few years in a row.

While freshman are looking both ways down one-way streets, touring the library and checking out video games at Spaceport, older students have already put the pieces of campus life together and are essentially on autopilot for a few days.

"The fourth time around I will go through this in my sleep," said Sharon Parillo, junior in LAS.

"A lot of people just get really smashed and start the year off with a giant hang-over," said Cyndi Cleckner, junior in LAS.

"I go off-roading through the cornfields in my Jeep," said Forest Linton, junior in Commerce.

Laying out at IMPE, staying out late, sleeping even later and making fun of clueless freshman are all popular pastimes for students who get the Armory and IUB out of the way early. Sorority rush, marching band practice and other extracurricular activities also take up the first few days of the year.

Once you're into your golden year (senior year, that is), resumes, interviews and real life become more important than cruising campus-town. Doing anything at 3 a.m. is no longer as much fun.

"It's really depressing when you realize that most of the guys out there are younger than you," said Theresa DeSalvo, senior in Engineering.

Whether you spent New Student Week memorizing the layout of the Quad or pointing confused freshmen in the wrong direction, chances are it was a much better experience than the last week of school.

Finals, anyone?

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

No one walks into the residence halls empty handed on move in day.

The more belongings a student brings, the more a dorm room can seem like home.

photo by Reggie Natividad

Incoming freshmen visit campus

Nervous parents, campus issues, academic and social life, class registration and QUESTIONS ... Will my son need a phone? Are there really instructors that don't speak English? Why is the library underground?

What is this? Who are all these people walking around in orange shirts?

This is student orientation and the orange clad, all-knowing students are Orientation Student Leaders, or OSL's. From the end of May to early July, 35 OSLs led new students and parents around campus and answered questions about all aspects of student life.

To prepare for this onslaught of every question possible, Joy Pitelka, sophomore in LAS and 1989 OSL, said she went through two hours a week of training spring semester and a training week prior to orientation. "We were all literally fountains of information."

This year marked the first year that new students came down for two days instead of one. Pitelka thinks it was a much needed change. Not only did they become more acquainted with the campus but with each other.

—Tanja Powers

photo by Reggie Natividad

Illini Guides are ready to "carry on the tradition" of helping students move in.

Signing in on check-in day marks the beginning of the "college experience."

High-speed transportation rolls on campus

The next time you hear something loud and obnoxious approaching from behind, don't panic. That thundering noise might only be a dude on a skateboard heading to class.

Also spotted on campus this year were rollerskates and, even more trendy, rollerblades. Now you can literally roll out of bed and into class.

As we have seen this year, bicycles, scooters and feet are no longer the only ways to get to class on time.

So pedestrians beware. There are more high-speed travelers on that path to class.

—Adriana Brad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Rollerblades are an efficient means of transportation as well as an excellent type of exercise.

photo by Jeff Miller

All it takes to ride a bus now is a student ID. Harold Cezar, sophomore in LAS, boards the Illini route #22 on a Sunday afternoon.

—You've got a ticket to ride—

It's a proven fact: daydreamers who pay no attention when crossing the street were in more danger of being hit this year than in previous ones. This unfortunate news comes in the wake of increased sightings of large creatures, belching and crawling—and occasionally stopping for rest—along the streets of our campus.

In fact, these strange new visitors were spotted menacingly circling the quad as often as every five minutes, on weekdays.

But assistant managing director for the MTD Tom Costello, one of the culprits behind this sudden invasion, thinks the creatures may be here to stay. "Students are taking a liking to them. In fact, freshmen have said that they can't imagine what the campus was like without them."

This is no emergency. We're just talking about buses.

Besides creating more hazards for sleepwalking zombies on their way to class, the new MTD campus and community transportation system zapped travel times, making the lives of frazzled students easier.

The idea of a campus-wide bus service has been around for a couple years, originating first from the classic student gripe—not enough parking. The Student Government Association appointed an ad hoc committee a few years ago to discuss ways to improve student mobility. They focused on alternatives to driving and hence, the idea of a campus shuttle service came up.

The first time it was up for student vote, however, 53% of the voting students said no.

"The vote came at a bad time," said Costello. "Tuition and other fees were going up. Students had no choice about so many things, and perhaps saying no to this extra fee was a way of expressing their frustration."

The second time around, the system was proposed on a one-year trial basis. Students were asked to exchange their personal vehicles (be that cars, bicycles and feet) for a panoramic view of our scenic campus, room to stretch out and a top speed of, oh, maybe 30 mph ... they were asked to take the bus.

The implementation of a free campus bus service was approved by a referendum vote last April and must be re-approved this spring for next year. In contrast to the hoopla and hot air of the previous, almost identical referendum, the referendum of April '89 came and went quietly: no massive ad campaign; no full page editorial spreads in the DI; no treating the decision as if it were the issue of the decade.

The system offered three main benefits: new, campus-wide bus routes, late night service until 2:00 a.m. on weekends and access to regular MTD routes. All this in exchange for a non-refundable fee of $10 per semester. Of those who voted, 74% wanted free student bus service for a one-year trial period. And so it was.

Students are obviously getting a return on their investments; they're filling the seats.

"We've had as much as 20 percent of the student body riding in one day," said Costello. "Of course that was a rainy day and some of those are repeat riders, but the point is that people are using the service."

"It's so convenient. I don't see why they didn't do this a long time ago. I think it's worth the money," said Kim Lundin, freshman in LAS.

Emily Reyes, sophomore in LAS, uses the bus to get to work at Market Place Mall every week. "Now I can pick it up just a block from my door. It's a lot easier and cheaper to work off-campus with this service."

But some students who do not use the system would rather not have to pay the fee. "I would take the bus a lot more if it weren't so slow. By the time I get to Lincoln Square Mall on the bus, I could have walked there," said Sharon Parillo, junior in LAS.

Whether or not you want to trade in your convertible or bicycle for the bus, one thing is for sure — if you are a university student, you've got a ticket to ride.

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

Knowing they have the right-of-way, university students often test to see if the bus driver, or any driver, will yield.

An early-morning bus rider may decide to keep circling the Quad on a continuous shuttle route rather than going to class.

South Farms cover just some of the 3,994 acres of land the university devotes to research, extension and teaching for the College of Agriculture.

Morrow Plots, the oldest experimental agriculture field in the state of Illinois, is located next to the graduate and undergraduate libraries. The university constructed the undergraduate library underground so that the building would not block the sun.

photo by Reggie Natividad

What's so special about the Morrow Plots?

Does the name Morrow Plots ring a bell? It should. It is the oldest experimental agriculture field in the state of Illinois. This piece of land is so precious the university constructed the undergraduate library in the ground to allow the plots to still get sunlight.

Established in 1876, the Morrow Plots contain the longest-term continuous corn plot in the world. In 1968, the Morrow Plots became a National Historic Landmark.

The Morrow Plots were named for George E. Morrow, the first dean of the College of Agriculture. He and Manley Miles professor of agriculture, planned to conduct experiments that would yield results "suggestive to the practical farmer." Morrow became convinced that experiments should be maintained on the plots in Urbana for as long as possible.

Originally there were 10 half-acre plots, but eventually the Observatory and Mumford hall were built on part of the Morrow Plots land.

Ever wonder exactly what is planted in there? The north plot has been reserved for corn every year since 1876. The middle plot is now on a two-year rotation of corn and soybeans and the south plot is on a three-year rotation of corn, oats and alfalfa.

—Julie Gosnell

photo by Reggie Natividad

Students in Floricultural Crops Production, taught by Professor Marvin Carbonneau, plant bulbs for next semester..

Seal of approval

At times many university students would like to forget that they're attending college "smack dab in the middle of the corn fields." However, the fact is that we're about as corny as they come.

Agriculture, after all, is one of the principles our institution was founded on. (Just check out the U of I seal.)

The College of Agriculture celebrated its 100th anniversary, commemorating the 1888 university Board of Trustees' authorization of the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station (IAES) and the College of Agriculture as part of a nationwide program of land-grant universities called the State Agricultural Experiment Station System. The IAES is an administrative body today. Originally, it was a place, right here.

Dr. Don Holt, the director of IAES and the associate dean of the College of Agriculture, said calling agriculture the backbone of the university is "fine with him" even though he admits the other colleges might not agree. Holt pointed out that historically, however, the university was built around the college of agriculture with everything else coming later.

Currently, the university owns

3,994 acres of land which is devoted to research, extension and teaching for the College of Agriculture. It also has 4,500 acres of U.S. Forest Service lands for use at the Dixon Springs Agricultural Center and leases 65 acres in other parts of the state.

Research is being conducted by more than 300 scientists at this university along with cooperative programs with other scientists, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and federal and private agencies.

"The college has four main purposes," Holt said. "Teaching, research, extension (outreach programs to the farmers of Illinois) and international programs." Teaching covers every possible area: agronomy, interior design and, as Holt explained, "the breeding and genetics that leads to seeds, to the marketing and consumption of the products the seeds produce."

The college also has a behavioral research facility for children. The program concentrates on their relationship to foods and nutrition, tying the project to agriculture.

These experiments are designed to provide information for farmers, helping them preserve their environment and rural institutions.

"Farmers and consumers are our major clients," Holt said.

Money for all the research conducted comes through the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station, which administers funds provided by both the state and federal governments through appropriations. Money is also received from the private sector through gifts, grants and contracts. The budget for the college is $80 million.

As far as the future of agriculture, Holt cited a poll of Chicago school children in which they were asked to pick what seemed like an exciting career. Unfortunately, not many chose agriculture.

However, many did pick biotechnology and computer science. Holt pointed out that agriculture is an interesting and challenging facet of each of these fields.

So, maybe ... there is more to those cornfields than meets the eye.

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Julie Fanella

by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Scott Jacobson

The College of Agriculture conducts experiments involving many different farm animals, such as this with this fisticulated cow, in order to develop more efficient ways to breed the animals and advance technology.

The University of Illinois was founded as an agriculture college, however, not even the South Farms can escape change. As crowds gather north of the farms to attend basketball games, researchers conduct studies to help the advancement of the field of agriculture.

Unique study spots

During the course of a normal day at the U of I one can see many strange and unique events, from preaching on the quad to unicyclists cruising down Green Street and even... (gulp!) studying.

Students seem to have many personal preferences when it comes to favorite places to hit the books, and some are a bit off the beaten path. Bypassing such common and overcrowded sites as the undergraduate library or the places designed for concentrating, like the study carrels in residence halls, these die-hard, exotic, locale fans flock to more scenic or isolated spots.

Doug Duker, junior in LAS, laughed, "I sometimes study in my dorm room, which I think is kind of unusual these days."

When he has a desire for a change of scene he heads for the education library, which he said is quieter than the undergrad.

Unoccupied sports fields seem to rank pretty high on the elite list of isolated places. Although she's never sat down on the turf of Memorial Stadium with a good book, Marci Uihlein, sophomore in LAS, has studied on the frisbee golf field.

Erich Smith, junior in LAS, and Ted Liu, sophomore in ENGR, said respectively that the fraternity's fireplace and boiler room are about the only places to distance themselves from the constant activity in their house, and the locations offered a "nice change of pace."

Other suggestions from students: eating establishments like Treno's or Espresso Royale in Urbana and The Daily Grind in Champaign, the outdoor amphitheatre at Krannert Center for the Performing Arts, the president's room in the Union and atop the cars in FAR parking lot (this also allows tanning).

Another fan of studying in fraternities is Lynn Bower, a sophomore majoring in harp performance. She cited her boyfriend's house as a worthwhile studying option. Bower said that she takes whatever she can carry over to his house, including reading and even composing materials.

While most of the time she has no problems getting the work done, she does remember one incident. "I was trying to compose a song in the dining room one night, and some of the guys came by and noticed what I was working on. They promptly decided that the notes I was drawing were part of a dot-to-dot game, and I ended up chasing them all over to prevent them from connecting the dots on my music."

She later named the piece after the fraternity, calling it "Dot-to-Dot" which led to some necessary explaining to one of her music TA's.

Story by Julie Gosnell
Layout by Joe Durica

photo by Kristy Phariss

Jeff Miller sets on the Armory bleachers to catch up on a few chapters of reading.

photo by Kristy Phariss

Many students find studying in the courtyard at the union reiaxing as well as educational.

photo by Kristy Phariss

Mandy Butler, senior, combines reading and tanning on the quad.

Dave Rutter, sophomore in Urban Planning, studies on the steps of his fraternity house.

Don't count out the stacks

Another high-potency study location is found in the graduate library—the stacks. Sadly, this isn't accessible to most students, since the library restricts this portion of its resources to undergraduate students in the honors program, graduate students and university faculty. However, a university librarian says students should check with the library before counting the stacks out.

Doug Duker adds that the stacks aren't a studying utopia. One of his friends apparently "buried himself in deep someplace in the stacks and never came out." Having lost track of time, he was locked in the library and had to call the police to get out.

—Julie Gosnell

photo by Kristy Phariss

The great escape

Paris, New York, San Francisco... Champaign-Urbana? Although students may not think of the Twin Cities as a vacation paradise (in fact, many students would be thrilled to escape from Campustown forever), the folks at C-U Convention & Visitors Bureau beg to differ. They present C-U as "The Great Escape" and a versatile "regional hub" with lots to see and do.

The Convention & Visitor's Center publishes several brochures, one of which tempts tourists to "walk the tree-lined campus, where libraries and museums hold treasures of music, history and culture," and to "relax with a weekend of peaceful daylights and glorious sunsets."

Okay, so this makes you groan. But don't forget the brave individuals whose unfortunate job it is to make C-U stand out as less generic amidst other mid-sized midwestern cities.

Kim Pillischafske, communications associate for the C-U Convention & Visitors Bureau, is in charge of turning a place where 35,000 college kids create a lot of noise and trouble into a picturesque, scholarly and culture-rich environment while at the same time making it seem that C-U has more to offer than a university.

It's not an easy job. And it's getting harder. In the past, Champaign-Urbana has advertised in Midwest Living, Tour Illinois and The Chicago Tribune, but not this year.

"They cut our advertising budget completely, so there's not much we can do in the way of expanding," she said.

According to Pillischafske, the center is currently revising its promotional material to combine restaurants, seasonal attractions and events scheduled for the entire year into a single brochure.

In the current promotional literature, there's a dual emphasis on "midwestern warmth and charm," as well as the prestige of our alma mater.

While there may be a disparity between the old-fashioned-friendliness-of-the-country approach and the distinguished-scholarly-culture approach, both sides of the coin are valid. C-U offers the music, drama and culture of Krannert, as well as community-sponsored events like the Annual Sweet Corn Festival, craft shows, Apple Harvest Day and a host of others listed in the brightly decorated brochure.

In fact, after reading through the tourism packet, Champaign-Urbana didn't seem like such a bad place to spend some free time. Who knows, maybe I'll put off Europe next summer and check out Historic Farm Days and the Champaign County Fair instead. Then again....

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Ron Foley

The quad depicts a world class university with natural surroundings.

The Beckman Institute attracts scientists from around the world.

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Ron Foley

Krannert Center for the Performing Arts attracts people for cultural entertainment.

Top of the Inn restaurant is one of the many fine dining establishments in Champaign-Urbana.

Trolly folly

That quaint-looking, slow-moving vehicle that brought a blast from the past to campustown this year was the brainchild of the Downtown Urbana Promotion Corp., a group of public and private organizations which, as the name implies, promotes Urbana's, uh, overly-tranquil, downtown scene.

The group leased the trolley to draw attention to the fact that downtown Urbana actually exists, (which it did before they let the trolley loose,) and to increase business (here we're not so sure). So while the trolley might have stirred up feelings of yesteryear, rest assured it was around for purely modern reasons.

—Adriana Brad

Packing in the students

Advertising 281 is a very popular class. Just look at the hundreds of students who fill the lecture hall each semester! One man - Professor James Haefner - is the reason.

His unusual teaching style combines humor and real world experience.

"In a sense I'm being greedy - I want to have as much fun as the students do, I want to learn as much as the students do in a class," Haefner said.

To be an effective teacher, a professor must make his students understand that he is working with them instead of against them, he said.

"I decided a long time ago that there are two options in teaching. One is to be boring, and one is to try to make the material come alive," said Haefner.

He accomplishes this with humor and by relating his lecture material to students' experiences.

Haefner attended DePaul University in Chicago for his undergraduate degree in marketing and economics and went on to the University of Minnesota for an MBA and a Ph. D. in marketing and psychology. In 1972 he came to the University of Illinois.

He has two sons, a 12-year-old and a 17-year-old who will attend the U of I next year.

When asked what he thinks of the student body that his son will join next year, Haefner said, "I think the students here have been isolated to a great extent. I view them as people oftentimes lacking direction."

Haefner said he worries because students are not used to an open thinking class. For this reason, Haefner designs exams that make students think.

"They're (the students) adults now and they have their own points of view," said Haefner.

Haefner said he also wishes that grade mania would not be such an integral part of every student's life. This takes away the fun of education. Reading and learning should be something you enjoy, not something you have to do.

Encouraging and receiving feedback from students aids Haefner in the consulting work that he does with advertising firms in the "outside world".

In turn, he said he thinks his work outside the university helps his class to be not only theoretical but also practical. It provides realistic examples for the students along with giving credibility to the instructor.

Teaching is his main objective here at the university, according to Haefner. Even though the U of I is a research institution, his research will only make him a better teacher. It is the method of presentation of class material that should be the professor's primary concern.

"I know I've sat in classes where I've been so bored I have just literally fallen asleep. I honestly believe that a large class which is well taught can be just as stimulating and exciting and knowledge building as a class with 25 people. When I start lecturing you have my body and my mind for an hour and 15 minutes," said Haefner.

Haefner's favorite part of teaching? Getting the students involved and thinking about their personal lives, their discipline, and seeing a few get excited about their stay at the university. One of the things that he says he's taken the most pleasure in is the great advancements that women have made in his field.

His teaching philosophy seems to be making a positive impression on students.

Beth DuPuis, junior in LAS, took Advertising 281 because she heard it was a good class.

"The way he teaches makes it special," she said. "He walks around, has examples and jokes with us."

Jennifer Grant, sophomore in Communications, needed the class as a requirement but liked it just the same.

"I like it a lot. I think he's a good professor, but I wouldn't watch T.V. with him - he'd comment on every commercial," she laughs.

His final advice for students-READ.

The creative thinking process relies upon a storehouse of material upstairs, said Haefner.

"Be a renaissance person," he said, "If you want to read some dime store novels, read some dime store novels, go to grade B movies, go to Krannert. Do your professional reading, but add to that."

"People don't get excited over people who can memorize. Your personal skills are very important," he said. "I want you to leave here educated, creative - a good salesperson."

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Kimberly Kossof

Professor Haefner wakes up his morning class by beginning class with a joke.

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Reggie Natividad

INTERNSHIPS— They're hard to find but worth it

For those advertising students interested in more experience, the advertising placement office in room 22 of the basement of Gregory Hall can probably help.

Professor Emeritus Gordon White and a student assistant staff the office. They can provide advice, names of contacts within ad agencies, information on formal internship positions available, names of agencies that have hired or taken U of I students in the past, sample cover letters and sample resumes.

However, White says finding a position still can be very difficult.

"They're not easy to find," he says. "Most advertise in newspapers, some are available for minorities, but for the most part, students are on their own."

Keith Wiegold, who worked for the Leo Burnett agency for three years and is now a T.A. for Haefner's 281 class, agrees. "People have to look by themselves," he said. "It's up to them. But always check with the placement office first. They helped me get my job."

-by Julie Gosnell

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Haefner said, "It's a fact of life that sex sells."

Large print is very helpful during early morning classes and makes note taking more organized.

Haefner often brings his lectures to the aisles to keep students attentive and involved.

'Band, ten hut!'

Although commands like this sound as if they're straight out a military institution, they can be heard nearly every day on our very own campus - at a rehearsal for the Marching Illini.

Well known in the Big Ten and all around the country, the Marching Illini (or MI) is considered to be one of the premier college marching bands in the United States, according to its director, Gary Smith.

The band was started in 1872 and provided an impressive list of "firsts" for the university including: the first homecoming celebration and the first time a band formed words on the gridiron (1910); the first time members of a marching band sang on the football field (1920); and the first time a marching band was broadcast over the radio during a halftime show (1935).

Illinettes, flag corps, drum majors, staff and instrumentalists make up the more than 300-member organization.

Marc Rohde, 23, is a second-year graduate student in Architecture and has been with the band since his sophomore year. He is a member of the "infamous" MI drumline and explained a little of what life within the Marching Illini is like.

"I put in approximately 18 to 20 hours a week," he said.

Rohde added that the time can vary depending on the instrument played or in what part of the band you play. Each week basically consists of Monday through Friday rehearsals, ranging anywhere from one and one-half to two hours long, with occasional night practices. Rehearsals can last as long as eight hours on Saturdays.

"The drumline often stays after everyone else has gone home, too, just to get that one little tricky part right," Rohde said. "That's a drag."

However, satisfaction in being a member of the MI drumline has its own rewards, and he enjoys the appreciation that he encounters in friends, classmates and fans.

"What else am I going to do? If I weren't in it I'd probably go to practice anyway, just to watch," laughed Rohde.

Weeks that precede a game are generally the most strenuous and include early Saturday morning rehearsals as well as the actual pre-game and halftime shows and a march back to Harding Band Building after the game and another short concert for the people that return there with the band.

Even though the hours are long, the rewards are worth it, Rohde said. The annual performance during halftime at a Chicago Bears game and a three-day band roadtrip are two of the more obvious ones, but Rohde lists people coming up to him and saying, "You looked great at the game" as a more subtle reward.

"Marching Illini is a lot of time and a lot of work, but there's a lot of cool stuff, too," Rohde said. "If you're willing to put in the time, it's definitely worth it."

story by Julie Gosnell layout by Laura McDougald

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Band member stands in line waiting for the director to call out signals for the formation.

Band member gets the beat as he plays with the drum as a warm-up before practice.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Formations take much preparation and practice to perfect.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Birthday Celebration

The leader of the band, Gary Smith, appears to command great respect from his MI members.

"He doesn't need to pull high school stunts like yelling or screaming or whining to get our attention," Marc Rohde, second-year graduate student in Architecture, said. "He tells us when we've screwed up in a way that not only makes it impossible to make fun of him, it makes us feel terrible at the same time. It's great."

This respect extends to Smith's birthday celebration as well. Every year around September 24th, the group does something special for the director, MI style.

Last year members marched down the streets of his subdivision, and ended up playing a concert in front of his house before going in to join the party. This year, rumor has it that members spelled 'Gary' on the field during the post game show of the September 23 game against Utah State, since his birthday was the following Sunday.

- Julie Gosnell

photo by Lisa Shapiro

—Octet parodies campus life—

Since 1969, one of most widely recognized student organizations on the university's campus has been, of all things, an off-the-wall group of eight men that sing and act silly.

Known as The Other Guys, this offshoot of the Varsity Men's Glee Club is famous for such classic tunes as "The Morrow Plots Song" and the ever-popular "Dorm Food", which includes lines such as 'Chewin', chewin', chewin, what's that liver doin', the meat loaf keeps on movin', dorm food...."

Charter member Bruce Johnson composed "The Morrow Plots Song," while the original idea for The Other Guys is credited to Chris Parker. The songs used by the group are usually rearranged, wacky-worded versions of popular songs. For example, The Other Guys' theme song is sung to the tune of the theme from "Underdog," and the parody "Dorm Food" faintly resembles its original form of the theme song from "Rawhide."

Beginning with the freshmen orientation event "Be a Part From the Start," the musical/comedy octet performs throughout the year for both university and non-university events.

Annual appearances for The Other Guys include "Dad's Night Out" and the "Glee Club's Dad's Day Concert," Mom's Day concerts at sorority houses, a Mom's Day show and trips throughout the United States to perform for alumni. The Other Guys have their annual concert every spring with a different theme each year. Last spring's show marked the 20th anniversary of the group, and their concert featured Other Guys alumni.

Also included on last school year's calendar were impromptu events in Paris and Venice during the Varsity Men's Glee Club's trip to Europe. One member recalls the staff of a dining establishment in Venice becoming angry and calling the local police when The Other Guys began a performance near the restaurant's outdoor seating, inadvertently drawing patrons away to hear them sing. The police, however, could not stop The Other Guys, and the concert continued uninterrupted.

So far this year, visits to Kansas City, Dallas, Houston, and perhaps even South Padre Island are tentatively planned for the group. Approximately 50 to 60 shows are performed by The Other Guys each year.

New members are chosen each fall to replace the seniors that graduated, and prospects are always selected from the ranks of the Varsity Men's Glee Club.

David Winnett, sophomore in LAS, is one of the three additions this year and is "thrilled" to be a part of the group.

Winnett says when he was a senior in high school he came to visit the campus and saw The Other Guys performance. He was very impressed, and when he returned in the fall he tried out for Men's Glee and then The Other Guys. He didn't make the group as a freshman but worked hard on his voice over the summer and tried again.

"I was very nervous at the audition," Winnett said. Later that same night, around 11:30 p.m., "when I practically had my P.J.'s on," he was called back for another audition. About one half-hour after that he was called again, and this time it was good news.

"There was a party in my (dorm) room," he said. "It was cool."

Current members also include Steve "Dusty" Rhoades, treasurer for the group and senior in LAS; Drew Triefer, junior in LAS; Andrew Sprague, senior in AGR; Jason Krigas, business manager and sophomore in FAA; Jason Sirvatka, sophomore in FAA; Mike "Pledge" Dikelsky, music director and senior in LAS, and Tim Gannon, senior in LAS, alumni liason.

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Reggie Natividad

Songs about campus life entertain guests at Atius-Sachem's "Dad's Night Out," Sept. 22.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Concentration shows on the faces of Jason Krigas, Andrew Sprague, and Steve Rhoades, members of The Other Guys, as they rehearse in the Music Bldg.

Ride Big Wheels

Every year during the spring semester, The Other Guys hold their annual concert, where fans get more than just a 10 or 15 minute glimpse of them. Two hours of skits and songs are prepared, and a sellout crowd is the norm.

Plans are already underway for this year's show, because The Other Guys prepare everything themselves, down to getting the programs printed and handling the advertising. A new theme is also picked every year. The 1989 concert, "The Other Guys Ride Big Wheels," featured alumni groups, adding a very special note to the performance.

—Julie Gosnell

Timothy Gannon polishes his performance during practice.

Notes of Harmony fill the air as The Other Guys practice for an upcoming concert.

It is a tradition on Dad's Weekend for the fathers of the Marching Illini and cheerleaders to dance with their children. The fathers steal the show by taking on the roles of their children.

Illini parents lend a helping hand to their cheerleading children by carrying the orange and blue Illini flag around the stadium.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Father knows best

The man of my dreams is a vision in orange and blue. He has gray hair, dentures and thinks Ronald Reagan was a good president. Aside from this last unfortunate detail, he's just about perfect. A future husband? No, my DAD!

What better way to show your first sweetheart, or childhood hero, that he's loved than to treat him (figuratively speaking) to a weekend of college life — complete with all the things we typically do. Well, maybe not typically. With the exception of the football game (this year the Illini slaughtered Utah State 41-2), Dad's weekend is a unique ritual we experience once a year.

Answer honestly: How many of us had to look on the map to find out where Levis Faculty Center (site of Atius-Sachem's Dad's Night Out) was? How often do we go to variety shows and choral performances, dine at Alexander's or Jumer's, and spend over $25 at one time in Campustown?

Maybe that's the point. The weekend is special because it's a change of pace for Dads as well as students. For once, not only do we see Illini sweats and orange face paint, but also orange and blue vests, ties, pants and cardigans. And never are there so many expensive sedans and vans around campustown — or parked on fraternity house lawns.

But along with all the fun and excitement come crowds and lines. Shelley Norris, junior in LAS, said her Dad does not enjoy the congestion. "He doesn't get into the whole thing. I think it's just too crowded to relax at times, so he prefers to come visit on a regular weekend." She has a point, but thousands of Illini beg to differ.

Whether your dad comes down or not, Dad's weekend is a good time to think about how he has influenced your life. Sure, he wanted you home by midnight ... forbade you to see Prince Charming with the spiked hair ... wouldn't give you the car keys, even to drive to the library. But if he treated you like you were 12 until you were 21, you know it was out of love (maybe a bit of fear, too).

Now that we're older, it's somehow easier to forget the rocky times. Of course, Dad, himself, is completely unforgettable. Especially in that stunning, bright orange Illini cardigan and matching tie!

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Robert "King Dad" Hance was nominated by his daughter, Mary, and chosen by an Illini Union Board committee. Applicants were chosen based on the student's essay and interview.

Illini crown dad

Okay, so he's not Mr. America, but he's still a swell guy. And for a year he's King Dad—that perfect symbol of Illini spirit, decked from head to toe in orange and blue, complete with glasses, receding hairline and big smile. Or so the stereotype goes.

At the very least, he's got a son or daughter that loves him, and can write and speak well. Applicants wrote essays about their dads, and 10 finalists were selected for interviews (without their dads). Judging the dads by their children, it turns out, does make sense. At least that's what Robert Hance thinks.

This year's King Dad, Robert Hance of Tuscola, was nominated by his daughter, Mary. "I'd wanted to do this for awhile, and since I'm a senior this year, it was my last chance," she said. "His contribution to my life made me the person I am today. His influence was so profound, especially since I am an only child."

She also stressed how her Dad saved up money for her to go to U of I because he had never gone to college himself. "He placed such an emphasis on education. He inspired me a lot."

Robert Hance said he wasn't surprised when his daughter told him she entered the contest. "She's pretty ambitious when she sets out to do something," he said.

His reaction to the title: "I was just excited all over."

—Adriana Brad

Male cheerleaders traditionally do as many push-ups as the number of Illini points scored as each goal. Their dads also counts out the score - but with air push-ups.

You're on the air...

College radio can be pretty strange. Unstructured, happen-what-will air time, underground-ish music and a very small audience stereotype the college radio scene, and at most schools these images are accurate. But turn the dial all the way to the right and listen to WPGU 107-FM, one of the most noted college stations in the country. It has formats, schedules, over 100 employees and the second largest audience in all of C-U. All this, and you still won't hear Debbie Gibson on the air.

WPGU is one of only eight commercially owned and operated college radio stations in the United States. It is owned by Illini Media Co., a non-profit company which also owns the Illio, The Daily Illini and The Technograph, and has been providing the U of I. with FM programming for the past 22 years. Because the university has no say in what goes on at the station, it's less like a student organization and more like a real radio station, providing students who want to get into broadcasting with the most realistic training possible—a full-time operating station.

Terry Dugan-Nolan, station manager, is one of the six full-time staff members. The rest of the staff is made up of students.

"Without the students, we'd fall apart," she said. "They make it what it is—laid back, real-life, quality music, no hype."

It is that mellow attitude, with a touch of humor, that so many students seem to like.

"It doesn't grate on your nerves or scream in your ear. It's easier to get along with in the morning," said Lana Risinger, junior in LAS. Melinda Meyers, senior in Communications and student DJ, has been working for WPGU for nearly three years. She plans to make broadcasting her career.

"I started working here by accident, really. A friend of mine worked here and thought I had a big mouth," she said.

After getting some experience on WPGU's training station, WDBS, which airs in the dorms, Meyers joined PGU as a disc jockey and is now also Assistant Program Director.

She characterized the station as filling a niche in C-U: "We're not all classic rock—people get tired of that—yet we're not obsessed with the latest stuff. It's a diverse mix."

She also agreed that people nationwide have taken notice of the station. "At a convention I was at this summer, people across the country had heard of us. We're student-run. We're successful. That's unique."

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Debbie Siegel

Paul Maloney and Tom Merritt put in another day's work at U of I's 'Home of Rock and Roll.'

Located in the basement of Weston Hall, WPGU broadcasts a forum consisting of music, news and talk shows.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Broadcasting from a remote, WPGU and Groggs often offer free pizza and soda pop to all who join them at their promotion for various community stores.

No pinhead radio

That way-cool little phrase you always hear on WPGU means a lot. It's a protest against the mentality of larger than life, overly-commercialized stations and their hyper, million-words-a-minute announcers.

"Those people aren't human," said Terry Dugan-Nolan, WPGU station manager.

It is also a promise that the station will never descend into the generic pit of bad taste — playing the same songs over and over, treating the charts like a Bible or getting fake and gimmicky with promotions.

There are "No Pinhead Radio" t-shirts and bumper sticker and a station-sponsored coupon book. WPGU did send someone to see the Rolling Stones on tour this year, but they won't be giving away Camaros or trips to Las Vegas.

— Adriana Brad

photo by Annie Pergande

Illini in July

"You've got to be crazy," she said, rolling her eyes, shaking a cropped, new-wavish head of hair and sipping cappuccino like she'd been doing it all her life.

"I would never stay ... there's less than squat to do here. It's bad enough I'm in a cornfield most of the year, do I have to be here when everybody but the cows goes home?"

However.

"It's not as bad as it seems," he bel-lowed above the blare of Tone Loc and a hundred other voices. "Gulley's is a good time, you know everybody, smaller parties - it's almost kind of cool," he said, gulping a beer and adjusting his baseball cap.

Summer in Champaign is like eating sushi - you either enjoy it whole-heartedly, or the thought of it makes you gag.

Most everybody has an opinion about C-U summers, but only about 8,000 students spent last summer here and can speak from experience. Many people condemn the idea on the premise that what's bad during the year will only get worse in the summer. Of those who decide to stay, many end up liking it without knowing exactly why. It seems the two opposing viewpoints on this issue may never meet.

Here's a little support for the idea. The size of this university sometimes drags us down in anonymity, bu-reaucracy and isolation; people complain that the social atmosphere is not as friendly as on other cam-puses. But summertime classes are smaller, the social scene is more re-laxed and the Quad is never crowded with a million strange faces.

"You feel like the school is yours," said Maria Quintana, junior in LAS, who took two summer courses last year. "There's less competition and more personal attention in class. You just feel bigger in the scheme of things."

Lynette Johnson, senior in Com-munications, who took three courses last summer in order to graduate this year, said, "The worst thing about it was that I took some very difficult courses. I felt rushed getting every-thing done in a summer instead of a semester. But I can't say anything bad about the experience in general. Apart from the work itself, it was a nice change of pace."

Johnson also noticed a difference in the social atmosphere. "You don't necessarily go out with people in your house, because they are not all there. It opens you up to other friend-ships."

During the summer the university loses many of its infamous (and an-noying) characteristics. At a school where scamming is the most popular game, the Greek system presents a firmly entrenched rating system and black turtle-necks are labelled "alter-native fashion," summertime offers a refreshing, less stressful change of pace.

Greek activity dies down, while impenetrable social bubbles burst into more accessible groups. Para-noia and pressure about the opposite sex fade and the environment is, as many students observe, closer and more friendly.

"It's just ... more mellow. You've got to look for things to do, but that makes it interesting. Plus you don't feel like you have to be doing some-thing all the time. You can kick back and stay home without missing 12 awesome parties," said Mike Garrett, junior in Business, another summer-time student.

On the other hand, some people won't entertain the notion of staying for the summer. "The older you get, the less time there is to be with your family," said Sharon Parrillo, junior in LAS.

"And there's no other time to be with friends from home except dur-ing the summer," said Parrillo. "Those things are so valuable to me, I'd rather take an extra semester to graduate if I needed to."

"Besides," she added, "I think it would be really boring."

"It was a little empty this summer," admits Johnson. "Sometimes you had to get away for the weekend."

There's not as much to do, sure. But there's also not as much to worry about doing. Whoever thought walk-ing along Green Street Friday night after a movie could be a painless (dare I say pleasantly calm?) experi-ence? Another good thing about summer session: If you run into someone you'd like to see again, chances are you will.

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Julie Triggs

At the Crystal Lake Park pool, lifeguard Ana Fradkin of Urbana watches over the swimmers during the 90 degree weather.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

photo by Joe Trojanowski

West of Memorial stadium, there's more room to fly a kite because there are fewer sunbathers to step on.

John Jozwaik, graduate student in Computer Science, soaks up some sun as he studies on the Quad.

photo by Lloyd Young

In a class by yourself (almost)

As fabulous as a summer in Campaign can be, most students are here because they have to be. The university's eight-week summer session offers undergraduate courses, enabling students to graduate on time, get ahead or put in extra effort for a difficult course.

The student body last summer was about one-third the size of the year-round population, with 8,541 enrolled, according to the Office of Admissions and Records.

"What is offered differs from year to year, depending on department budgets. Typically the classes are much smaller, with fewer sections. Also, not all departments make summer session a priority, as there's usually an increase in the number of independent study courses," said Maxine Kaler, supervisor of the timetable. Kaler also said that more basic 101 level courses are offered than higher level classes.

Summer classes generally meet everyday, for longer periods of time, since a semester's worth of material must be fit into a couple of months—a situation which makes some students nervous.

"At times, I felt like I was hopping around from test to test every week," said Lynette Johnson, senior in COM. "Plus you can't blow off reading when you have class every single day."

- Adriana Brad

photo by Steve Warmowski

At the university's South Farms, technician Norman Smith guides the harvester while Christy Brown, junior from Greenville College in southern Illinois, and Amy Laughnan, senior in Agriculture, collect grain in bags.

Older student population increases

Older students returning to college is not a phenomenon limited to the U of I. According to the Center for Education Statistics in Washington D.C. it's a growing trend.

In 1987 there were 2,023,000 students over the age of 35 enrolled in two or four-year colleges in the U.S., making up 16 percent of the student population.

While the number of students aged 18-24 is dropping the center estimates the older students will account for 21 percent of college enrollment by 1997.

—Tanja Powers

photo by Jeff Miller

Byron Ruskin, a U of I medical professor, follows along as another student reads aloud from the German textbook.

Mary VanEman takes her turn reading aloud in her German class.

photo by Jeff Miller

—Older students attend school—

Brightly colored back packs, new notebooks, Memorial Stadium filled with an orange and blue-clad crowd and the chimes of Altgeld Hall ringing....

It's fall and students are heading back to C-U. Mothers and fathers grumble about their station wagons filled with 18 years worth of junk. The freshmen have butterflies in their stomachs and the seniors are counting the days until graduation.

Something has changed though. It's not just those 18 to 22-year-olds trying to pick up classes at the Armory. There are 30, 40, 50, 60 and 70-year-olds AND even one 87-year old enrolled at the U of I.

Monday, 7:55 a.m., Mary Van Eman runs out the door of Alpha Phi where she is house mother.

"We're late again," she said, laughing with one sorority member and classmate.

The short, motherly, but still cute VanEman, who doesn't like to talk about her age or her unique college experience, will graduate from the U of I in May with a degree in Rhetoric.

"It's no big deal," she insisted. "I just want to do it quietly."

VanEman was first enrolled at the university right after she graduated from high school. She finished her freshman year but dropped out of school because of family difficulties. She later married, started raising a family and didn't have time to think about returning to school.

When she became a house mother she started taking courses on a part-time basis at Parkland College. With 170 hours she re-entered the university in the fall of 1989. She's taking 15 hours of English, history, German and creative writing.

According to the University Office of Admissions, there are more students over the age of 22 than one might think. In 1988 there were 29 students 55 years and older enrolled. There were 96 students born in 1947 and over twice that number in 1952.

VanEman said she's completely enjoying her college experience. And she admitted she caught a few strange looks on the first day of class, but it's been worth it.

"Face it, I stick out like a sore thumb," she said with a chuckle.

After getting to know her, the students and instructors treat her like any other student.

With so many different types of students walking around campus — different nationalities, sizes and shapes, VanEman said she's just another individual.

"I don't feel like I'm any different than any other student," she said.

She worries about grades, struggles to get all her studying done, pays the same bills and even had to get a measles shot.

Another student trying to complete her degree is Casey Diana, a 38-year-old mother of two. She's in her 17th year of working towards her bachelor's degree.

"And some people complain because it takes them five years!" she said laughing.

As the oldest of seven children, Diana says she was never given the opportunity to continue her education past high school. Now her life has changed.. She is self-supporting and said that she realized to increase her economic standing, she needed a degree. She hopes to graduate in August, 1990, and then begin work on her doctorate.

Diana, too has experienced surprise from fellow students about her age. "On the first day of class the automatic assumption is that I'm the instructor," she explained.

The students look suprised to see me take a seat in the front row, laughs Diana. But they soon realize she's a student just like them ... well, almost.

Diana says she's not as polished as the just-graduated high school senior who's spent months preparing for the ACT. And in history classes the age difference is very noticeable. The instructor tells about Woodstock and the students nod, yeah we've heard of that, but Casey replies, "I was invited to go."

It's tough when many of your classmates are only as old as your son, she says, but on the flip side, the older student has the real-life experience that augments the learning process.

Also, having had to wait so long to go back to school, Diana thinks she appreciates the education she's getting more than the average college-aged student.

And this may be the quality that makes both Diana and Van Eman so enthusiastic ... THEY LOVE SCHOOL.

As VanEman said, "I'd recommend it to anyone."

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Jeff Miller

VanEman jots down upcoming assignment deadlines. She will graduate with a degree in Rhetoric in May.

On campus registration welcomes students with its infamous lines that are especially long for 100 level courses.

Armory scheduling means filling in bubbles, rearranging conflicts, and shuffling stacks of papers.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Registration guidelines

1. Wear your running shoes to make the mad dash to the Econ 101 line (always one of the longest).
2. Bring your lunch (you may be there for awhile).
3. Don't forget to apply deodorant (the Armory becomes a sweat box, even in January).
4. Look good ... it's prime time for scoping (never again will you be so close to so many of your classmates at one time).
5. Bring your walkman to drown out the sounds of suicidal students.
6. Extra-Extra-Extra Strength Tylenol, Excedrin or whatever to cure your headache.
7. And finally, boxing gloves, to ward off would-be line jumpers.

Oh, and don't worry, you only have to go through this twice a year.

-Tanja Powers

photo by Reggie Natividad

Dial-a-class

Joy, anger, resignation, dread...we all react differently to those oversized envelopes that arrive in August bearing our fates for the fall semester. Some get the shorter end of the stick and must drag themselves over to the Armory for that overwhelming add/drop event known as on-campus registration—a grueling, humiliating process of begging for classes, presided over by tight-lipped veteran Armory workers who sadistically smile and whisper “closed” in your ear. You writhe in pain as you stumble home with only seven credit hours to your name.

But help is on the way. Several universities throughout the Midwest have started using a new method of telephones interfaced with computers to register students, a system that could be implemented at the university in as few as 3 to 5 years.

William Fierke, registrar, said, “Telephone is the cutting edge of registration technology. I’ve been pushing this idea for four years now. Hopefully next year’s freshman class will see it while they are still in school. However, due to expense and complexity, it is a slow process of getting approval and funding.”

Think about it: no more Armory, no more mail-in forms, no more filling in the little circles with a No.2 pencil. With the on-line computer-telephone system, all you need is a touch-tone telephone and you can call in your schedule from anywhere in the world.

Bradley University, University of Wisconsin at Madison, Ohio State University and Loyola University are among the schools in the area who have already invested in this new technology. Illinois State University has call-in registration for new and transfer students, and Northwestern University is planning on installing a system soon.

“We have had absolutely no problems with the system. I think it’s going to spread like wild fire,” said Gary Schultz, associate registrar for the Loyola-Lakeshore campus. Schultz also said there are about 150 universities throughout the country currently using the telephone-computer interface. But there are tasks that the system cannot yet handle, Schultz said, such as taking in updated student information, primarily because phones do not have screens.

“I think the best system would be a hybrid of the telephone and a computer screen. Perhaps one day we’ll see a system where students with a computer and modem can type in their information themselves,” said Fierke.

A step down from this technology, but still more ideal than our mail-in and on-campus add/drop, is using staffed computer terminals to register students. “It allows students to see where they stand immediately. They do not have to wait months to find out if a course has been closed or canceled,” said Philomena Wilson, manager of Student Records at Northwestern University.

University of Michigan at Ann Arbor and University of Iowa devote as much as an entire building to house the computers for registration. Needless to say, expense is a primary reason the university does not do likewise.

It is inevitable that we are on our way to a more computerized, streamlined registration process, but significant change is still several years away. “Even if it was approved tomorrow, it would take about two years to research, purchase and install,” said Fierke. “The main obstacle to giving the go-ahead right now is money. The interface device would cost about $250,000, but it would replace the Armory add/drop, which requires $40,000 every year for employees, phones, forms, etc. It would eventually pay for itself.”

But for now, students are the ones paying—with frustration. Next semester, if you are one of those unlucky many who must stand in line with pencils and forms coming out of your ears, soothe yourself with the knowledge that your children could be signing up for Econ 101 and Psych 250 from the beach in Hawaii, the car phone on the way to the mall

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Reggie Natividad

For the lucky few who've never been there, this is what IT looks like!

Amidst the confusion of the crowds, students struggle to find some space to straighten things out.

American ignorance creates humor

Alice Sachs, exchange student from England, was amazed at the apparent naivete of students in the U.S.

"I can tell people that I'm from France or Germany and they'll believe me," she says. "I had thought that the English accent is distinctive, but..."

Tom Punch, exchange student from Australia, has had many more silly encounters with American students than a simple origin mix-up.

"People's conception of Australia here is amazing. One student asked me if there were a lot of kangaroos hopping down the streets of Sydney, and I told him 'Yes, and there are plenty of koala bears hanging from the skyscrapers, too.'"

Another time he was explaining that when it's summer here, it's winter in Australia. The person he was talking to got a strange look on his face, and asked: "Well, then do you call the hot months summer or winter?"

Punch believes that our views of other countries stem from the fact that the U.S. itself is so big and diverse, but the kicker came when he was once asked, "So, where did you learn to speak English?"

—Julie Gosnell

Soin Suhl follows Korean events and news at the newspaper library in the graduate library basement.

Tom Punch, senior in business, finds school in the U.S. similar to school in Australia.

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

Tony Skitt and Leanne Redden advise students about foreign study in their home countries of England and Australia.

— Foreign students try the U of I —

Andrei Sokolik knows what it means to be a minority. Not only does he belong to a select group of foreign exchange students at the U of I, but he also has the distinction of being the first student from the U.S.S.R. to study abroad in the state of Illinois.

Sokolik, a theoretical mechanics and physics major, will only be here for one semester but is making the most of his academic time by taking seven classes. That may seem like a heavy load by American student's standards, but he says that's nothing compared to Moscow University, where he attends school in the Soviet Union.

"I had 34 hours last semester," he said with a smile.

The classes at Moscow University are restricted to areas of science or math, so students wishing to concentrate in music or other fine arts must attend a conservatory. His peers in the U.S.S.R. have "a lot of homework" for the first two years, and then begin to do research in one of the 19 departments available. Since he's used to those kinds of restrictions, the U of I seems very big and open to Sokolik.

The U.S. appealed to him because he thought it would be "interesting", and so far, he said it has been.

"It's a great opportunity to see the different system of education and of life," Sokolik said.

However, there are drawbacks. "I miss my family," he said.

Other than that, he likes the freedom, the weather, even residence hall food. "I lived in a dorm in Moscow, so I'm used to dorm food," he laughed.

Describing the campus as "very pretty", Sokolik added that one of the main differences here is that nearly everyone wears shorts. "In Moscow, professors would view that as strange," he said.

Alice Sachs from London holds the opposite view.

"I was surprised at how conservative the campus is — how bureaucratic and organized everything is," she said.

Sachs, 21, is a graduate student studying history. She's technically a non-degree student, and likes the fact that she can take whatever courses she chooses.

Meeting new people and experiencing the U.S. for the first time is something Sachs especially enjoys. She wanted to study abroad because her father was a student in the U.S. and her grandmother is American.

The main academic difference between this country and English universities is the way homework is assigned, Sachs said.

"For example, in London reading is assigned, but not specific pages to be completed by a certain day," she said. "There is a greater quantity of work to be done here, and it is more consistent for the classes. I hadn't expected that."

An Australian has also noticed the difference in classes here, compared to his native country. Tom Punch, 21, is completing a degree in business.

"Classes are harder here than in Australia. There, the beginning years are a continuation of high school," Punch said.

He also says that social life is better at the U of I. Everything mainly takes place off campus at his "uni" (university) in Sydney. He says he appreciates that events here are centralized around the university.

As far as different customs? He's noticed that Americans seem to be extremely image conscious. "Girls spend 5 1/2 hours on their makeup here before their 9 a.m. class," Punch said.

However, Punch also said that many students take college much more seriously in the U.S., and getting a higher education is by far a bigger deal here than in Australia.

Despite the differences between cultures and customs, Andrei Sokolik summed up the true state of affairs very well: "Students are basically the same everywhere - we all have the same desires and the same wishes — for ourselves and our countries."

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Dan Creinin

Foreign students can find news about their home countries in the newspaper library.

Sexual Confrontations

It is a chronic problem at the U of I, and one that many grow tired of hearing about. But no matter how stale advice like "don't walk home alone" can be, the numerous assaults on women around campus — by acquaintances as well as strangers — remind us that this issue is not yet old news.

Proof that people still care is CARE, Campus Acquaintance Rape Education program. CARE is a group that was formed three years ago as a committee to coordinate and centralize university sexual assault services, and now a group that trains students as peer facilitators.

CARE offers a two credit hour, 16-week course to train students to present sexual assault/aquaintance rape workshops. After completing the course, students are qualified to go out to Residence Halls, Greek houses or any other interested group of 10 or more students and conduct a CARE workshop.

Diane Berge, graduate assistant at Women's Resources and Services, teaches the course:

"The course is very personal, and I definitely saw changes in attitudes of the students," she said.

Dr. Barbara Gilbert, coordinator of the program said the workshops are designed in three formats — men only, women only and coed. The class features a videotape challenging men and women to question each others' feelings about the issue.

"Stereotypes and misinformation are things we work against," she said. "In the men's workshops, we challenge them to work up empathy for victims of assault by getting them to think about threatening situations they've been in themselves. Many men don't realize just how deep fear can run after an attack."

The women's workshop encourages women to be more supportive of each other and to resist impulses to hide the incident, Gilbert said. "Rape can be a subtle event, as well as the violent occurrence we stereotype it as. If you know the person, you might not think it was rape."

One in eight college women have been the victim of rape. Over 60 percent of reported rapes occur between acquainted parties, according to Women's Resources and Services. These unfortunate statistics are a reminder of the potential violence that can touch our lives at any moment, and a sad tribute to the many "friends" who got "a little carried away." CARE brings these realities closer to home.

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Joe Durica

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Students learn to combat stereotypes in the CARE classes.

Participants discuss the various issues that accompany the subject of rape. CARE was formed three years ago to coordinate and centralize the university sexual assault services.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Women's Wheels goes coed

One of the most well-known and well-respected groups on campus is Nite Rides, formerly known as Women's Wheels. The group, which provides late-night rides, free of charge, to students traveling alone, changed its name this year as it extended its service to both women and men.

Bravo for a move towards truer equality? Well, the change in policy was actually a cautionary move.

Nite Rides president, Chris Mazaika, explained, "We were using funds from both male and female students to provide a service exclusively for women. There have been lawsuits on other campuses for this type of 'unintentional discrimination' and we took them as a warning."

Mazaika also added that Nite Rides hasn't shaken its focus on women's safety. "They are the ones who need this most," she said.

- Adriana Brad

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

After completion of the CARE class, participants are able to present workshops on sexual assault and acquaintance rape. Over 60 percent of reported rapes occur between acquainted persons.

—Join university organizations—

What do square dancing, Monty Python, and hip-hop have in common? They are each the focus of a registered student organization.

If you think the Greek system is huge, you're in for a surprise. From the Abortion Rights Coalition to the Zoo, Exotic and Wildlife Medicine Club, there are over 500 student groups registered with the university, and the applications pour in throughout the year.

Starting a club is not an easy task. There are forms to fill out, regulations and procedures to learn. And you need at least two people to start — a president and a treasurer. (If you can't find a single other person who supports your idea, maybe you should think twice.)

Registering with the university gives your group official status — it is similar to incorporating yourself in the real world.

Along with status of Registered Student Organization (RSO) comes certain rights and privileges. A free organization bank account (with vouchers instead of checks), the right to use university space for fundraising activities and access to university supplies and equipment are a few of the benefits.

But read the fine print — for example, money from the university account cannot be used to pay for alcohol. And all money generated through fundraisers on university property must go into that account. Sorry, selling t-shirts on the Quad won't contribute to your annual happy hour fund.

Apart from the giants (like Star-course, Amnesty International and the Independant Student Organization), most groups are smaller, with around 20 to 50 members. And many are very specialized. For instance, not everyone would fit in the Rodeo Club, the Korean Tennis Club or the Nutritional Sciences Graduate Student Association.

If you can't find what you are looking for in our admittedly selective guide, check out the complete list of groups at the RSO office in the Illini Union. If there is not anything out there that suits your whim, do what the following three students did — start your own club.

Dan Clay, sophomore in Engineering, isn't sure why he started Entrepreneur Limited in the fall of 1989. "We could go in any number of directions. I just wanted to try this out and see if it would work," said Clay, president of the club.

In addition to selling "Top Ten Reasons I didn't Go to Indiana University" t-shirts, the club invests in and makes predictions about the stock market (just for fun, of course).

"We wanted a way to sell our t-shirts on the Quad and becoming an RSO did it," said Clay, adding that the project is for the club and not a personal business. "We're brand new and anything is possible. Who knows what we'll come up with?"

Starting a group is a good idea if you want to get people in a unique situation together. Second Chance is an awareness/support group for older female students who have returned to school to complete or continue their education. Casey Diana, senior in LAS and president of the club, founded the group this year because "the university environment can be intimidating for the older female student."

She said, "There aren't many of us out there. I want to help aspiring women reach their goals and not let age interfere with their progress and success as a student."

Sometimes people start new organizations to expand existing ones or take off in a different direction. That's what Dee-Dee Collins-Jones, sophomore in LAS and a member of Starcourse, had in mind when she started Urban Groove, a club with a focus on music.

Collins-Jones hopes to bring more contemporary urban music, like rap, house and hip-hop, to campus. She especially wants to see more black artists performing here within the academic year.

"I can count the number of major black performers who have been here in the past few years on one hand," said Collins-Jones. "I wanted to do something about it, and hopefully after some planning, we should be on our feet and ready to pull in some performers by spring."

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Joan Wilson

Members of the Hong Kong Student Association sell Sweetest Day gifts on the quad as their fundraiser.

Ballroom dance club members perfect their steps to prepare for their monthly dances.

Tau Beta Pi, an engineering honorary, has many functions, including tutoring students in beginning engineering classes.

photo by Dan Creinin

Starcourse members distribute concert lottery tickets in their office in the Union. Starcourse has attracted many bands to the U of I in the past year.

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

A guide to getting involved

With so many groups to choose from how do you know which one is for you? Peruse through this sample of clubs and maybe one will tickle your fancy.

Pick a Cause ... Amnesty International, American Students For Israel, C-U Coalition Against Apartheid, People's Alliance On Central America, Rainforest Action Group, Senior Friends/Adopt-a-Grandparent, Students Against Marijuana Legalization, Young Americans For Freedom, Stop The Draft!

Students for ... an AIDS-Free Environment, Animal Rights, Environmental Concerns, Ethics in Student Government, the Homeless, the Legalization of Marijuana, Mutual Arms Reduction Today.

Just Do It ... The Gymnastics Club at the U of I, Hockey Club at the U of I, Illini Riding Club, Illini Ski Club, Illini Ski Racing Team, Illini Synchronized Swim Club, Illini Triathletes, Illini Women's Soccer Club, Illinois Men's Rugby, Illinois Men's Volleyball, Illinois Women's Rugby, Women's Hockey Club.

Sounds Interesting, but what is it? ... Academic Buzzer Team, Apple Pie, Food Groups, Group of Five, Hawaii Club: Local Style-Geko Chapter, Illini Squares, Time Travelers Anonymous.

The final point is that you can find something to interest you and someone to share the interest with.

—Adriana Brad

—Sure, they'll take your money—

Quick, name something student run on this campus with assets of over

$1,000,000. Give up? ... The Student Credit Union (SCU) at 1001 Wright Street in Champaign.

As of September 1, 1989, the SCU had reached this impressive total for its holdings, and is "doing very well," said its president, Mike Katz, senior in CBA.

The non-profit organization began in August of 1988, and has enjoyed tremendous growth both in numbers and in clientele. Almost 1600 student accounts are held in the SCU, which offers a variety of benefits, from no minimum balance required for a checking account to money orders, Stafford Loans (formerly guaranteed student loans), personal loans up to $500, traveler's checks, cashier's checks and certificates of deposit.

In other words, they provide nearly everything that a bank does, but "we're here to help the student," said David Huber, a new loan officer. Huber, a senior in sociology, has worked in various capacities at the SCU since last year.

The most rewarding experience for him is showing students that the SCU is on their side. "I've seen people come in from other banks where they've been turned down and they're all discouraged," said Huber, "and when we say we can help them ... it's great."

Another outstanding aspect of the credit union is the fact that the clients not only bank at the SCU, they own it. Each member holds shares and can vote at shareholder's meetings and elect officers. Their accounts are permanent unless they decide to close them, and in that case their shares revert back to the SCU.

The organization was the first student-run credit union in the Big Ten and is the only one in Illinois. The SCU has approximately 50 volunteers, and "the workers are just like a family," said Katz. "The students seem to like it, and we receive a lot of support from them."

Katz said that he enjoys being president, and "even though I come home with a headache every night, it's worth it. I don't have any regrets. I'm glad to know that I make a difference."

Huber agrees. "Besides being great experience, the SCU is something that gives a lot of personal satisfaction. I have a lot of friends here, and I make friends with the clients. It's a neat place to work."

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Ellen Drucher, sophomore in accounting, checks some figures with the bank.

Sue Pinkowski, senior in accounting, uses the fully computerized accounts system at the Illini Credit Union.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Renee Whitefield, senior in economics, checks her files for an account number..

Jim Rentas, senior in accounting, looks up customer information at the Illini Credit Union.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

The Illini Credit Union offers practical teller experience to students like Ed Russel, junior in accounting, as well as a good bank to Matt Puzey, senior in engineering.

The check is in the mail

On the average, approximately 850-1000 checks come through the SCU every day. Just checks, mind you. Add money orders, traveler's checks, discount movie tickets and so on. And you're talking (on a good day) anywhere from $40,000 to $60,000 worth of business. During new student week— over $100,000 every day. Wow.

Sue Pinkowski, senior in CBA, has been with the SCU since its start, and said that it's everthing she'd hoped and more.

"I was actually a little surprised with the way things turned out," Pinkowski said. "A lot more members come in every day than I'd expected, and there are a lot more details involved than I'd expected. People come in a lot right before classes and during the lunch hour."

Pinkowski has noticed other SCU trends, as well. "Right before Thanksgiving and Christmas, we're incredibly busy," she said. "And deposits and student accounts are always much higher when they first come back to school."

—Julie Gosnell

-Taking the SORF board for a ride-

If your organization wants to go on a field trip or attend a convention or competition, the funds from the annual bake sale just won't stretch that far, there's a way to get the university to pay your way.

The Student Organization Resource Board, or SORF, as it is popularly known, gave away over $130,000 to Registered Student Organizations this year. Yes, gave away. Plus, over $30,000 went to Student Legal Services, which offers free legal aid for students. (Who said the university doesn't care about us?)

SORF money comes from a mandatory, but refundable student fee of $4 per semester. Because the SORF fee is refundable, some of the money is withheld every year for those students who request a refund.

About 92 percent of the money collected is then distributed to student organizations by the SORF committee. This committee, composed of six undergraduates, two graduate students and three faculty, choose the organizations who receive funds as they see fit.

The most amazing thing about SORF is that it has never been able to give away all of its money, according to Yuki Llewellyn, director of registered student organizations and assistant dean of students.

"I tell students to be aggressive, because the money is there. Just make sure you follow the rules for applying. And if you're turned down, challenge the decision. There's a good chance you'll come away with something if you have a legitimate case," said Llewellyn.

"We try to give all the money away, but groups often request more than they need, and thus do not spend all of it before the deadline," said Bill Fruit, SORF administrator. "Between 90 and 95 percent of those who apply get some money, so we do fund most everybody."

"The committee dispenses the money with two thoughts in mind: maintaining diversity in their allocations and benefiting the maximum number of students," said Fruit.

Does it seem too good to be true that you can drive, eat and stay in a hotel for free, under the guise of attending a "national convention?" There has been increasing concern that SORF should not fund as much travel, according to Fruit. Most requests for travel money are legitimate, but nevertheless "this year, they have tried to cut back on allocating money for travel, lodging, etc, and focused on keeping more money here on campus," he said.

SORF is not the only source of funding for student groups, but it is the largest. Beth Frasco of Figure Skating Illini, (a group that relies on SORF to help pay ice arena rental costs) puts it this way: "If they weren't in business, we would be out of business."

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Debbie Siegel

Bill Fruit, MBA student, and Ellen Zfaney, junior in CBA, discuss clubs up for consideration of funding.

Shawn Woesner, junior in Electrical Engineering, is president of the Illini Model Railroad Club, one of the smaller groups to receive SORF funding.

Bill Fruit, MBA student, said that between 90 and 95 percent of the organizations who apply for funds do receive some money. SORF tries to benefit the most number of students.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Distributing dollars

So who exactly gets all this money? SORF divides applicants into the following sub-categories: arts, athletics, government and service, cultural and ethnic, academics and rights and freedoms.

Academics and athletics top the list, receiving around $25,000 apiece. Government and service groups receive slightly less, followed by ethnic groups (about $22,000) and rights and freedoms groups (about $14,000). The arts category receives less than $5,000 from SORF.

But these figures are misleading, since not all categories have the same number of applicants. There are many sports groups, for instance, that usually ask for large amounts to rent/buy equipment or fund competitions and events.

On the other hand, "I think there were nine applications from art groups this year," said Bill Fruit, SORF administrator. "What can you do to equal it out—give each group in that category $7,000? If they don't apply, they don't apply."

—Adriana Brad

Alternatives in news

It's breakfast time and many people in the C-U area are having the Daily Illini, Sun Times or Tribune with their corn flakes.

But that's not all C-U news-stands have to offer. With the U of I right in the front yard there's an ideal atmosphere for smaller publications that survive and flourish as they meet the needs of a more specific audience.

So after you've dribbled orange juice all over the DI's front page, consider checking the following alternative reading material out ...

Illini Greek

Supported by the Panhellenic and Inter-Fraternity councils, this paper, which suffered a brief shut-down, is once again attracting a strong following since being "revived" in 1987, said Paula Kilman, editor-in-chief.

Kilman, junior in LAS, explained that the Illini Greek offers "a different light on the Greek system at the university. We don't show just the good side, but that there is a good side."

The newspaper is student written and produced by a staff of approximately 20 volunteers.

Published once a month, the paper provides articles that cover sports, news from different houses and other topics relating to the Greek system — all in a magazine format, said Kilman.

"I hope to make it more of a reactionary newspaper, more like a forum. We want people thinking about the issues that concern Greeks and the students as a whole," Kilman said.

The Illini Review

Meeting the needs of a different audience, "the journal of conservative opinion at the U of I" is the Illini Review newspaper. This monthly was started in 1984 and covers issues that have received "biased coverage or none at all from larger papers like the Daily Illini," said John Shepard, senior in urban planning and managing editor of the Illini Review.

Shepard also tries to include in each issue an interview with a nationally known political figure to give people a look at him or her with a local perspective.

Also, there's a section on cultural events, which don't receive the greater publicity, such as books and the theater.

The Illini Review is free, with subscription rates covering only the cost of postage. Around 11,000 copies are printed each month, which are distributed to each dorm mailbox, several local delivery routes and to alumni.

The newspaper keeps trying to innovate, Shepard said. It attempts to figure out what people want to see and providing it for them, even down to which comic strip they present.

"We're looking for maybe publishing more often, but it comes down to money," Shepard said. "Right now we're doing pretty good. We think we provide a needed service, and we're trying to do it better each time. And it's a lot of fun."

Agri-News

Meeting the needs of yet another audience at the university is Agri-News, rated the #1 college agriculture newspaper in the country by Agriculture Communications of Tomorrow last June.

Thelma Schoonmaker, senior in Agriculture, is the editor-in-chief of the newspaper for the fall semester. Along with an editorial staff of eight and about 20 photographers and reporters, she publishes the paper three times a semester.

Even with a top rating, Schoonmaker still works to improve the paper. She also wants the staff to learn from their work. Staff members receive one hour of credit for every six stories or six photos that they produce a semester.

"It's primarily for and by ag students," Schoonmaker said. However, alumni and prospective students also receive the paper.

"We provide information on things that people probably don't know about, and the alumni like to see where their money is going," she said.

... So, push aside that Tribune or DI and take a look at something a little different.

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Kimberly Kossof

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Co-editors Michael Shih, graduate student, and Charles Bjork, senior in LAS, take care of the Illini Review, a conservative campus journal.

College of Communications produces successful alums

The department of journalism at the University of Illinois is certainly a very distinguished one ... just look at some of its graduates. In fact, since 1917 there have been nine Pulitzer Prize winners who got their start as students in the department.

James B. Reston, class of 1932, is now a retired column executive of the New York Times. He received two Pulitzer Prizes.

Godfrey Spurling, class of 1937, served as the senior Washington, D.C., correspondent and Washington Bureau Chief for the Christian Science Monitor.

Monroe Karmin, a 1950 graduate, won a Pulitzer and became the senior editor for economic political coverage for U.S. News and World Report.

Harold R. Bruno, also class of 1950, became director of political coverage for ABC news. He was also former chief political correspondent for Newsweek magazine.

James Brady, class of 1962, served as press secretary for former President Reagan until he was shot in 1981.

Roger Ebert, class of 1964, has credits that include a Pulitzer Prize for criticism and his own syndicated movie review show with Gene Siskel.

Jill Wine-Banks, also a 1964 graduate, boasts accomplishments including the position of executive director and CEO of the American Bar Association, deputy attorney general of Illinois, partner in Jenner & Block & Associates in Chicago and a Watergate prosecutor.

Who knows where the 1990 grads will end up...?

—Julie Gosnell

Even the College of Agriculture publishes a trade newspaper.

Illini Agri-News editor in chief, Thelma Schoonmaker, reviews the latest issue.

Paula Kilman, junior in LAS, lays out The Illini Greek.

Who's the boss?

It is fair to say that most of us (who have a choice) would not want to work our way through school. Especially when work means flipping burgers, ringing up a cash register or pushing a pen.

But what if work meant owning your own clothing store, supervising people much older than yourself or generating thousands of dollars in a couple of months? How about going on spring break for free as a fringe benefit?

The spirit of capitalism hits some harder — and earlier — than others. It comes as no surprise that there are students on campus who have already accomplished a lot and are reaping the benefits mentioned above. They are striving for both financial and academic success with attitudes that are anything but nine to five.

Clothing the Student Body

Scott Goldstein is a senior in LAS, but he won't be leaving the Champaign-Urbana area for at least another three-to-five years. The reason? Goldstein plans to move his two-year-old silkscreening and apparel business, University Sportswear, into a 20,000 square foot headquarters, complete with manufacturing, wholesale and administration all under one roof.

Goldstein, who has two partners in the silkscreening business, made enough money to start another business. Early this school year he opened Spanky's, a retail store specializing in discount items, like Champion sweatshirts and Girbaud jeans.

"I was itching to do something productive, I didn't want to rely on my education alone," said Goldstein. "So I got involved with manufacturing and selling silkscreen items for the greek houses. Then I used some of the money I made from University Sportswear to open Spanky's. And if it's as successful as I expect, we'll move from our mall location [in Lando Place] to a street-front location."

Goldstein said his business ventures are not just fun and games anymore. "I'm doing well—much better than I expected. People have been coming in (to Spanky's) because of word-of-mouth, and we've advertised in the DI and on WPGU."

But even though the store is up-and-coming, he still considers University Sportswear the "meat" and Spanky's the "gravy."

Because he spends about 60 to 80 hours a week with both businesses, Goldstein has reduced his academic courseload to make time for his entrepreneurial pursuits.

The money is nice, but a sense of accomplishment is what Goldstein savors most. "It's great to know that you've done something like this on your own. After this, I can't ever see myself working a regular job."

Spring Break For Bucks

Ever wonder if those spring break promotions and deals actually deliver what they promise? Andy Berke, senior in Commerce, is here to convince you they do.

As regional representative for Campus Beach Club, one of the many companies which offers spring break packages, Berke makes a commission on every package he sells and then tags along for the ride to insure everything goes smoothly. This year he started doing ski trips to Copper Mountain, in Breckenridge, Colorado, as well as spring break deals.

"It's great. The trips are a side benefit, and the commission pays for everything while I'm in school," he said.

Berke is in charge of local promotion, advertising and sales, reporting directly to the company vice president. "This is good experience since I am basically in charge of myself," he said. "I can hire people to help me distribute flyers, decide on how much and what kind of advertising to buy and set my own schedule."

Berke said he gets about 10-15 calls a day when the advertising is out in the spring. After doing the pre-trip scheduling, travelling to Padre and getting everyone to their condos, he is free to do as he pleases until the trip is just about over.

"After the first couple of days down there, I'm done with getting everyone settled in. Then right before we leave, I put reminders on their doors. I'm basically free, they're satisfied with the trip, and everybody's happy."

Cleaning Up

If work and school don't mix for you, take Richard Ezgur's cue and capitalize on your summers. Ezgur has been running a summer car wash and auto detailing service in the north suburbs for the past three years. This year, he expanded to two locations and employed a staff of 10 to supervise, wash, wax and vacuum the cars.

"This was something I picked up from my brother, who did it casually. Then it took off in a big way. Every year for the past three years, we've expanded. We have flyers, but word-of-mouth is the main reason," said Ezgur, who makes enough money to cover summer as well as school year expenses.

"We offer the most complete care you can get, with packages as expensive as $100. We'll even pick up and drop off your vehicle for you," he said.

Although Ezgur doesn't wash cars himself, he does keep busy supervising both locations. He also picks up and drops off the cars himself. "That part always makes me a little nervous, especially when it's a brand new Jaguar."

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Mike Krupicka

Andy Berke's advertising comes from brochures and pamphlets pasted up in classrooms and university buildings.

photo by Jeff Miller

Working out of his apartment, Andy Berke, Campus Beach Club representative, arranges spring break trips for students.

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

Spanky's owner Scott Goldstein makes a sale to Howard Ankin, senior in communications.

Take advantage now!

Feeling inspired to get up and make your first million right now? If late night shifts at Burger King don't appeal to your bank account (or your stomach), you might find that an alternate path to financial success is for you.

"I think that the entrepenuering bug has bitten a lot of people recently," said Forest Linton, junior in Communications. "It seems that popular thing to do, especially if you have a good source of financial backing, like parents."

And the time may never be so ripe as it is now.

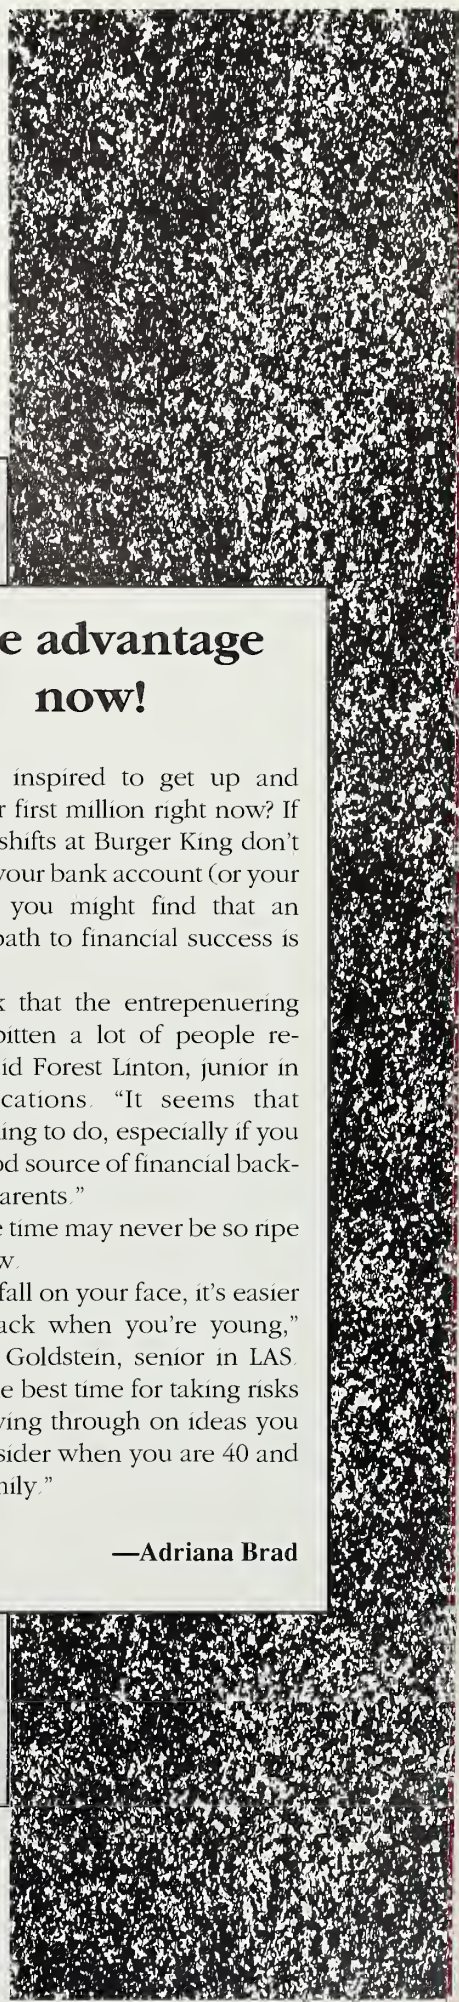

"If you fall on your face, it's easier bounce back when you're young," said Scott Goldstein, senior in LAS. "Now is the best time for taking risks and following through on ideas you won't consider when you are 40 and have a family."

—Adriana Brad

photo by Jeff Miller

Scott Goldstein shows off his discount clothing store.

Cheering on the Illini

Illini Pride, Block I, Orange Crush, Spikers, Student Alumni Association ... these names can be confusing and a bit overwhelming. What do they all mean? What do they have in common?

They're all organizations that promote pride and enthusiasm in our university, and these days that means much more than just knowing the words to "Illinois Loyalty" or wearing orange and blue to a football game.

In 1978 a proposal was made to the Athletic Association suggesting that a student group should work with them and provide not only crowd support at sporting events but help out coaches, run concession stands, give needed promotion to non-revenue sports and generally, accomplish jobs that the larger organization didn't. Thus, Illini Pride was born.

These days the students in the group still handle their own affairs, and the 700-member organization is furnishing many important services to revenue and non-revenue university sports from basketball and football to swimming and track.

"Decorating locker rooms and letting the athletes know we appreciate them, timing track events and even helping with non-revenue sports' recruiting are now part of our job," says Cathy Walker, Illini Pride president.

Orange Crush is a spin-off of the group, and its membership is restricted to the most dedicated members of Illini Pride. Members accumulate points by attending Illini Pride events, and those with enough spirit and points are allowed to occupy the 272 seats available on the floor at Assembly Hall for home basketball games. Orange Crush is responsible for keeping up crowd enthusiasm for the duration of the game and is a very popular part of Illini Pride.

Spikers is similar to Orange Crush as it is a smaller version of the crowd-priming group, which cheers for ... you guessed it, volleyball. Walker says so many people wanted to participate in Spikers this year that members have to rotate turns for different matches.

Another spirited part of campus life is the card-turning, zany group of incredibly psyched fans at football games - otherwise known as Block I. These people work with the Marching Illini to coordinate colored cards with songs. They also join the cheerleaders in rousing cheers for the Fighting Illini football team.

Approximately 1500 sit in the actual block of seats, while 25 Block I committee members ("Blockheads" as they're affectionately known) coordinate events from the field and keep the gang rowdy. "But not too rowdy," says Mike Jelen, chairperson of the Block I committee. They also create the card pictures or "stunts."

To be one of the card-turners, Block I tickets are requested when purchasing tickets to the games. Blockheads, however, must interview for the position, with qualifications including "being very reliable and extremely spirited," Jelen said. "In other words, not afraid to wear orange pants."

The Student Alumni Association (SAA) sponsors many spirit and pride events, especially around Homecoming time.

Jen Janovetz, president of SAA, listed the events: the Homecoming Pep Rally, held at Assembly Hall; the Homecoming parade; voting for Homecoming Queen and King; and Illini Comeback. (This is the annual selection of several prestigious alumni, who, over Homecoming weekend, attend the game and dine with President Stanley Ikenberry at hishome.)

So even if wearing orange and blue every day of the week isn't quite one's cup of tea, there are many of campus organizations to help build spirit — both personally and in support of our Illini..

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Kimberly Kossof

photo by Kristi Phariss

Even the dogs know when the Illini are playing as they wake up on game day and borrow Illini shirts from their owners.

Illini football fans gather on the fields surrounding the stadium before each game to tailgate, that is, to barbecue and socialize.

photo by Kristi Phariss

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Kristi Phariss

The Marching Illini excite the crowd with the traditional Block I formation.

Chief Illiniwek symbolizes spirit

Perhaps the most powerful and greatest expression of our school pride is our symbol of the Fighting Illini - Chief Illiniwek.

For 63 years the Chief has been appearing at University of Illinois sporting events to represent the indomitable spirit of the team, ever since the tradition's rather humble beginning as part of a Marching Illini halftime show.

Some of the more memorable moments in the history of the Chief include riding a horse onto the field and the year when "he" became a "she." Princess Illiniwek, played by Idelle Stith Brooks, had to be called into service in 1943 because of the World War II induced male student shortage.

Currently the 26th Chief is portrayed by Tom Livingston, a fifth year senior in Communications.

— Julie Gosnell

photo by Kristi Phariss

Campustown merchants show their Illini spirit by allowing the homecoming committee paint their windows.

Chief Illiniwek, the controversial university symbol, performs the traditional dance at the homecoming game against Wisconsin.

President George Bush has been traveling around the country to rally support for the Republican Senatorial candidates.

Pro-choice supporters convey their message through the use of clothes hangers and posters at a demonstration in Springfield.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

photo by Ray Greninger

Leaders explain their involvement

Laurel MacLaren, senior in LAS and vice-president of Abortion Rights Coalition, became an activist in the 6th grade. Her mother was a big supporter of equal rights. "It was the first thing that mobilized me ... I organized a bike-a-thon at my school to raise awareness."

Now in college she concentrates on other issues, like sexism and civil rights.

She worries about the general feeling of apathy in this country. "It's dismaying ... voting is such a right and people don't take action."

Monica Flerlage, senior in LAS and president of College Democrats, became involved with the organization as a result of her interest in state politics. She wanted to help with Sen. Paul Simon's campaign for president so she organized the Students for Paul Simon for President.

The road of political involvement doesn't end at graduation for Flerlage. She plans to go to law school and eventually run for a state office.

She said she follows Tip O'Neill's saying that politics are local. "I really enjoy Illinois State government. I like mobilizing people."

—Tanja Powers

Taking a stance

It's the "ME" decade, you know...Me, Me, Me... who cares about you? College students are selfish, lazy and just plain apathetic.

What?! Not so, says several student organizations on campus. Whether they're supporting a political candidate, helping a cause or aiding the needy, these students are taking a stance.

Even though the gubernatorial election is next fall, Monica Flerlage is ready, and John Shepard said he and his organization are "revving up."

Flerlage, senior in LAS, is president of College Democrats. Since January, 1989, she has been working to insure that all Democratic candidates for governor or other state offices make at least one appearance at the University of Illinois.

It's important for students to get involved, she said. "We (students) can decide a lot in this area (Champaign-Urbana)."

Shepard, senior in FAA and president of College Republicans agreed, "It's important to make ourselves heard ... the people in Washington and Springfield are setting the agenda for the next century ... our century."

Political involvement is crucial for college students, Flerlage said, because there are issues like minimum wage and financial aid that specifically affect them and they need to take a stance.

Also it won't be long before students are facing most of the issues in the 'real world,' said Shepard. "The decisions they're (legislators) making, we'll be paying for."

Students aren't a big voting block and that means they need to rally. "We get ignored," Flerlage stressed. If the state legislature is trying to decide between allocating its money to senior citizens or students, the senior citizens will win.

Politics aren't the only things that matter. Students are getting involved with social issues as well.

Laurel MacLaren, senior in LAS, has been involved with the Abortion Rights Coalition for four years. Currently, she serves as vice-president. The organization works to raise awareness among students through educational programs and to mobilize them to support pro-choice legislation.

"We've mobilized students to be aware of what could happen to them personally," she said.

MacLaren's reasons for involvement are personal as well as global. "I want welfare and health for women ... if you believe in something, you need to be active," she said.

MacLaren also stressed the necessity of getting involved early. "It's important for students to be knowledgeable and active in government. It's a right and a duty to be active in policy facing our nation's future."

Ron Niemark, junior in LAS, is supporting another cause. He has organized Students for the Homeless, part of the local coalition for the homeless. This organization also strives to educate as well as effect legislation.

According to Niemark, a study done by the 1989 Regional Planning Commission found that there were 1,800 homeless in the Champaign-Urbana area.

Volunteering is important, but Niemark said it's not getting to the root of the problem — lack of affordable housing. Only educating people will accomplish this, and he hopes his organization is making a difference.

Students must concern themselves with issues, he stressed. This is an ongoing problem and if nothing is done about it now, students may find themselves in similar situations sometime during their lifetimes.

"A college degree does not assure financial stability. That's the selfish reason (to get involved)," he said. "What is important is the responsibility people have toward each other."

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Joan Wilson

Bush endorses Representative Lynn Martin at a Chicago fundraiser for her senate race against Democrat Paul Simon.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

Students use the Quad to stage a demonstration against the Chinese government and in favor of freedom and democracy for the people of China.

—Not just another pow wow—

Pow WOW would definitely be the way to describe the University of Illinois' 1989

Homecoming. From the Kickoff Lunch on the Quad sponsored by the Student Alumni Association, to the crowning of the Queen and King and the wild victory over the Badgers of Wisconsin, the celebration was memorable for more than just ordinary reasons.

Homecoming 1989 celebrated the Illini tradition with the usual Homecoming customs as well as some new ones.

Clusters of alums could be overheard on campus from Thursday on, pointing out "where I used to live," "where your father and I met," "my favorite make-out ... I mean, study spot" and reminiscing about the great times they had at the university. Alumni seemed to be having a wonderful time and even got their two cents in concerning the current controversies surrounding the Chief and the drinking age.

"My sister is a freshman now," said Mike Rojowski, a 1987 college of engineering graduate. "I want her to have the same university I had, but I guess that's just not going to be."

He was talking about the new SRC rules that were governing the Homecoming party he was attending at Triangle Fraternity. "We had so much freedom back then ... no one would have thought of suing a (Greek) house. Things are changing," he said. "Liberties are being taken away one by one. Look at the Halloween party, look at the Chief... I don't want to be a 'Fighting Wombat' of Illinois! We're the Fighting Illini and that's the way it will always be, no matter what."

The schedule of events for the October weekend was jammed packed. Thursday evening featured a bonfire sponsored by SAA in Washington Park, complete with the Chief, the Marching Illini pep band and the Elvis Brothers. This was the first year a bonfire was held and according to Paula Lewis, SAA Homecoming chairperson, the event was such a success that this year won't be the last.

Lewis estimates that approximately 200 people attended the bonfire.

"It was a nice atmosphere," Lewis said. "I would have liked to have seen more people, but since this was the first year it will probably take time to build up."

Friday brought the homecoming parade, sponsored by IFC and the Panhellenic Council.

"I was very happy with the way things went," said Mark Pool, senior in Engineering and chairman of the sub-committee in charge of floats. Much of the success, he said, had to do with better floats.

The parade and its followers eventually made their way to the Assembly Hall for the Illini Union Board sponsored Pep Rally where float winners were announced and the Homecoming Court was introduced.

The festivities also included appearances by the Men's Glee Club and Marching Illini ... and finally the true guests of honor, head football coach John Mackovic and his Fighting Illini! When it was all over, all that was left was one cheering and psyched up audience. The Illini were ready for the game against Wisconsin—which ended in a 32-9 victory!

And what football game would be complete without an incredible half-time show, made even better with the return of alums — Marching Illini, Illinettes and Chiefs!

Sam Malten, a sophomore Illinette in LAS, explained that most of the alumni band members present were "the die-hard members" and had attended MI practice on Friday and early Saturday in preparation for the big game. Malten said that it was great fun to have the former members back again.

Overall, Homecoming was a great success to Lewis. "I thought it went really well," she said. "From Lunch on the Quad where we couldn't keep enough hamburgers and hot dogs on the grill, to the Illini Comeback guests' final dinner at President Ikenberry's house, everyone seemed to enjoy themselves."

Lewis even cited one alumna, a judge, who told her she needed a weekend "like this one" to make her feel good again, since she sees so much negativity in her work.

In the future, Lewis wants to see other groups get more involved with Homecoming as well. "I would enjoy having more organizations, more people working on the different aspects of Homecoming," she said. "Residence Halls, with their mostly freshman and sophomore population, could begin to build Illinois spirit early ... and naturally I would always like to have even more people attend our celebration."

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Mike Krupicka

Chief Illiniwek, in vanguard position, leads the band during the Homecoming Parade.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Ron Foley

Karen Holbrook and Andy Stroth are crowned Homecoming Queen and King. As a matter of coincidence, the two are from the same high school.

The Homecoming parade attracts people of all ages to see the band and different floats.

photo by Ron Foley

...And the 1989 Homecoming King and Queen...

"It's one of those things you never expect, and you can't believe it's true. When you're on stage and they announce it and your stomach's going crazy ... you can't believe it's you," said Karen Holbrook, Homecoming Queen for 1989.

Her King, Andy Stroth, echoed her sentiments. "I've never been recognized that way in my life ... it was the best thing."

This year's candidates submitted applications and 150 word essays on why they would like to be King or Queen. Out of those, fifteen were picked as semi-finalists and interviewed by various deans.

What made the selection a little crazy for Holbrook were high school classmates.

"Andy, Tom (Tom Livingston, who portrays Chief Illiniwek) and I are all from the same high school. It's the kind of thing you just laugh about," she said.

Stroth, modestly, was surprised by his selection, but his resume of activities, which includes Student Ambassadors, In-Roads and tutoring for athletes and minority students, tells it all.

"I really wanted to get a well-rounded experience at this school ... It just came naturally," he said.

—Tanja Powers

photo by Reggie Natividad

Assembly Hall gets a standing ovation during the pep rally for the spectacular display of fireworks indoors.

photo by Jeff Miller

Local band hits it big

How many bands can you name that have been around for over 20 years? O.K., now how many can you name that have been around for over 20 years and started out in good old Champaign-Urbana? Either you're thinking of REO Speedwagon right now or you're stumped.

Well, the group that brought you such hits as "I Can't Fight This Feeling," "Here With Me," "Take it on the Run," "Ridin' The Storm Out" and "In My Dreams" did indeed start out from C-U, under the name Rollicking Speedwagon (taken from a renowned fire engine truck), with the following original members: Gary Richrath on lead guitar, Terry Littrell on lead vocals, Alan Gratzer on drums, Neil Doughty on keyboards and Gregg Philbin on bass.

In 1971 the band made their first album for Epic Records, changing their name to REO Speedwagon. In 1973 the members split up briefly, and then reunited. In 1978 Gregg Philbin left the group, and was replaced with Bruce Hall, at which point the band's success really began.

So even though it's been awhile, it's possible that one day another success story will begin here in Champaign-Urbana and one of you might say, "I saw them live way back when ..."

—Julie Gosnell

photo by Jeff Miller

Jammin' with C-U bands

It's Friday afternoon, all your classes have been cancelled due to an act of God and you're bored out of your mind.. What will you do?

Not a very realistic scenario, I admit, but if it were to happen, there's always the live music option.

"What?" you cry with joy. "MTV is televising a live concert?!"

Not exactly. Remember all those funny-sounding names that you run across in any given issue of The Daily Illini? Groups such as Happy Campers, Last Straw, No Secret, The Mudhens, Clockwork Orange, Otis and the Elevators, Big Hello, Mango Zowies and Groovee Nipple?

Believe it or not, these are all bands, and they can be found playing at many hot spots around campus every night of the week.

Trito's and Mabel's are the biggest campustown hosts, while Nature's Table sees a lot of action on the Urbana side.

Michael Hinton, the general manager of Trito's, says that a local outside booking agent sets up all the concerts performed there for a percentage of the profits.

"We try to have live bands in Trito's three nights a week," Hinton says.

Although Hinton reports they all blur together after awhile because he sees so many shows, he lists Digits, Bowery Boys, Titanic Love Affair and Poster Children as giving the hottest performances in recent history.

"Bands pull in an alternative crowd," Hinton says. "The viable option of live music brings in a whole new bunch of people."

"Live music is more than just seeing the band, although it has something to do with the visual aspect — it's the energy. There's energy present that you can't capture. And it's loud too," says Pete Kuhns, senior in FAA.

"It's more than the music," claims Gary Walther, computer science graduate student. "It's watching people perform and create the music in front of you. There's a little bit of magic, more than something static."

One of the most popular groups in the area is Captain Rat and the Blind Rivets, whose performers have been together for 10 years.

Members include Roger Pirlaman on keyboards, trumpet, and vocals, (stage name of Todd Modern), Tim Vear on vocals and guitar, (stage name of Timmy Ray), Mark B. Rubel on bass and vocals, and Buster Dordaun on drums and vocals.

Three of the four are U of I graduates, and all four are professionals in "real life" — an attorney, an engineer, a professor, and a businessman, says Pirlaman.

The group only performs on weekends, and plays 50s and 60s music. Performances are known for the staging, costumes, zany antics and bad jokes.

However, they're not just in it for fun and games. The band has produced three records and held concerts in such places as our own Memorial Stadium and even the Rosebowl in Pasadena, Calif.

So why did they choose to make C-U their home base? "Here we have the best of both worlds," Pirlaman says. "We have no desire to become stars, and we couldn't make money on the coasts with the competition. Here we're close to Chicago, St. Louis, Indianapolis, other campuses ... It's a great location."

And where did the name come from?

Well, according to Pirlaman, before he joined the band ("Therefore I can't take responsibility- or credit," he jokes) they called themselves Rat's Back. Rats spelled star backwards, meaning that they were going about becoming stars all backwards. Captain Rat derived from that. The Blind Rivets stems from an incident where the band was repairing a school bus and were using sheet metal and a type of rivet called a "blind rivet." "The guys liked that," concludes Pirlaman.

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Jeff Miller

Captain Rat and the Blind Rivets, amid their mountain of stuffed animals, jam classic 50's and 60's tunes for a crowd by Memorial Stadium before the Ohio State game.

Newly-formed band Sticky Wicket plays before a packed Mabel's crowd Saturday Night. Sticky Wicket opened for Joker, a hard rock band from Chicago.

Drummer Trey Sims and bassist Brian Balbey back-up the driving sound of Sticky Wicket. Many local bands devote an almost infinite amount of time to their music.

U of I Students Care

Life as a college student isn't easy. In fact, it's downright time consuming. And just when you've finished two weeks of midterms and papers, somebody mentions the word "volunteer." Who has the time?

But here we are at the big U, and guess what? More and more students are joining student service organizations and making philanthropic involvement part of their calendar just because ... it's cool.

"I love it, it's really fun," said June Houston, junior in CBA and volunteer for Students Against Multiple Sclerosis (SAMS). "I didn't know what it was last year, but it's gotten bigger on campus."

Kristen Mickey, junior in LAS and a SAMS volunteer, said "Everything we do is fun — but people are really willing to do a lot of work."

The university chapter of SAMS was organized in 1985 to involve university students in the fight against the disease, multiple sclerosis, which is most common among college-aged men and women. Approximately 30 people comprise the current membership of SAMS. Most of the volunteers have relatives or know someone with the disease, according to Jackson.

To aid in the fight, SAMS has presented such fundraising events as Walk-A-Thon, Rock-Alike, The Dating Game, Trash-A-Frat-Rat and concerts. These are not only sponsored to raise money, but increase campus awareness and involvement with SAMS. (MTV and Pictionary have joined in the cause as national sponsors.) Since it's beginning, an estimated $50,000 has been collected for MS by the U of I SAMS organization, Jackson said. A university student even designed the national SAMS logo.

Most of us have heard the expression V.I.P. before and associate it with Very Important Person. Well, while it still stands for that in other places, around Champaign-Urbana it means Volunteer Illini Projects and help for many area residents.

Twenty-seven years ago eight people got together to serve as tutors for other students. Gradually they added other services and more student participants until they became V.I.P. — as of last year, the largest student-run student volunteer organization in the nation, said Lori Bajko, senior in LAS and vice-chairperson of V.I.P.

Today hundreds of U of I students give their time to the following projects: donating blood, providing support for day care centers, helping fulfill special needs of C-U handicapped children and adults, being Big Brothers or Big Sisters for local boys and girls, tutoring kids, counseling, writing inmates of minimum security prisons, coaching in youth sports leagues, adopt-a-grandparent, bringing puppies on visits to nursing homes in the Pet-a-Pet program and giving crime safety lectures as a Whistlestop volunteers.

In addition to these organizations, a big part of student service involvement at the university are the philanthropy projects sponsored by Greek houses. Each fraternity or sorority commonly sponsors fundraisers of some kind to support their chosen philanthropy. Such causes as the American Heart Fund, Cystic Fibrosis, and the Special Olympics benefit from the time and energy donated by the fraternity or sorority members.

Adlon Jorgensen, Greek Advisor and the assistant Dean of Students, said campus volunteerism is definitely growing.

"This trend fits in perfectly with the Greek system," Jorgensen said. "I've seen recently the national chapters giving more advice and ideas that are more people-oriented now. For instance, one fraternity adopted a school; one adopted an older couple."

For the elderly couple, the fraternity provided services such as painting the house, mowing the lawn, etc. "That's the type of thing we're trying to plug into," Jorgensen said. "Besides getting away from beer nights and monetary projects, people are having a lot of hands-on experience."

To aid university students even further in the quest for service projects, a partnership between the university and the United Way was created. Stacey Durley, a May 1989 graduate, is filling the position as head of the operation for a year.

"I recruit student groups to get them involved," she said. "Registered Student Organizations, dorm floors, Greek houses. It's a growing movement. I make it easy for these groups to volunteer by raising awareness on campus. All they have to do is call me. Then they come in, and we see what projects would be good for their group. Then, they decide."

One of the first projects sponsored occurred during the 1989 Homecoming weekend — collections were taken at the stadium for the victims of Hurricane Hugo and the October earthquake in San Francisco.

"The University of Illinois is really taking the ball and running with it," Durley proudly reported.

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Kimberly Kossof

The Illini Student Federal Credit Union allows students to volunteer and get experience in banking or finance.

By sitting at a booth inside the Illini Union, students are able to share their knowledge of the political party they support.

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

YMCA volunteers serve where needed

According to the Executive Director of the YMCA Bernie Heisner, a larger number of university students, perhaps "toward the end of their time here are recognizing there is more to the quality of life than how much money you make. They're making a strong moral and ethical commitment."

One of the programs that the "Y" offers to student volunteers is known as the Alternative Spring Break, where students can travel to various sites and work with people that need help during their vacation. Another possibility is adopting a "Senior Friend" to visit in a nursing home.

Ten years ago the Students For Environmental Concerns, which is run through the "Y," actually started the entire recycling movement in Champaign-Urbana.

"The 'Y' tries to deal with international areas as well as other problems here at home like sexism and racism," Heisner said.

Heisner estimates that there are 500-1,000 university students that volunteer through the campus YMCA.

—Julie Gosnell

photo by Dan Creinin

photo by Dan Creinin

Becky Gittles, sophomore in LAS, is the vice president in charge of events for SAMS.

Many students volunteer their time to helping a favorite politician get re-elected.

New initiates Matt Fradin and David Hechter, freshmen in CBA, take on Eric Genin and Andrew Eres, freshmen in LAS in an afternoon foosball game at Zeta Beta Tau fraternity.

Jake Frank, junior in engineering, makes props for ZBT's annual Thanksgiving carnival for the Champaign Boys' Club.

—Greek pledgeship shortened—

Fraternities have traveled a long way toward escaping the shadow of the days of swallowing goldfish and the stereotypical Greek image in the movie "Animal House." Hazing, a practice of mentally or physically harassing pledges to inspire them to greater class unity, is seemingly fading away as well—or is it?

"We have always been against hazing," said Joe Foster, a leadership consultant for Alpha Tau Omega Fraternities' national organization. "Every national chapter of a fraternity is against hazing. Unfortunately, there are still incidents here and there, but we're trying to put an end to them. We've been fighting this problem for 30 years."

Foster's job involves traveling all over the United States to different campuses. If there has been any type of incident, from alleged sexual harassment to pledge hazing, Foster investigates and attempts to put the chapter back on track.

Currently ATO has "help" week to initiate pledges instead of what is known by the more popular term of "Hell" week. "What we try to do is help associates (pledges) become integrated into the chapter, not by separateness, but by togetherness. We want to promote chapter unity more than pledge class unity. We want to remove any potential for hazing."

Foster also mentioned that last year's NIFC (National Inter-Fraternity Conference) asked all fraternities to examine and evaluate their current pledge programs. Apparently, the call is spreading.

At Zeta Beta Tau (ZBT) Fraternity, for instance, there is no longer any pledge program at all. "They're considered brothers from the day they walk in," said U of I ZBT President Marc Lapidès, senior in LAS.

Tau Kappa Epsilon will eventually be seeing some big changes in pledgeship as well, according to President Jon Rouske, senior in CBA.

"We don't practice hazing over here," Rouske affirms. "There are no second-class citizens."

For 1991, the pledge period that has already been cut to four weeks will be cut down to one week. Following that week the pledges will be considered actives and will begin to work their way up in seniority to offices or whatever in the usual fashion, said Rouske.

Stacey Heuls, senior in agriculture and President of the Inter-Fraternity Council (IFC) said IFC is, "very supportive of the houses taking the initiative, and we encourage other houses to do the same."

He adds that whenever incidents of hazing occur, the matter bypasses IFC and goes straight to the Board of Community Affairs. "The problem that occurred in the Sigma Alpha Mu Fraternity last year was handled by a strong stance on the part of the Board, and we hope that strength continues," Heuls said.

Lately IFC has been more concerned with the new alcohol measures taking effect than with any other matters, Heuls said, but "what has happened in the past has made everyone more aware and certainly more cautious."

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Julie Triggs

Sorority hazing

"Hazing is the single most glaring negative event that can ever happen to a Greek house or the Greek system," said Melissa Credi, senior in CBA and president of Panhellenic Council.

"If you want to get in a lot of trouble immediately, that's all you have to do. It doesn't serve any purpose, and it's the fastest way we could kill the Greek system completely," Credi adds.

The Panhellenic Council and Inter-Fraternity Council handle sorority and fraternity hazing incidents completely separately, Credi said, so all Panhel can do is sit back and watch the changes taking place recently.

"There doesn't seem to be the severity in sorority hazing incidents that there is in fraternities, but careless things like parading pledges around ... we consider that to be hazing," Credi said.

In the past year to year and a half, there haven't been any bad incidents, and Credi thinks that the students are leading the main push for no hazing because they simply don't want to deal with it.

"Especially with the caliber of people here, students don't want to put up with it," Credi said. "We're going to college for an education, and if someone does decide to join a fraternity or sorority, they won't take it."

—Julie Gosnell

—High fashion in high education—

Remember tie-dye outfits? Remember paisley? Remember shoulder pads?

These once popular items have gone from trendy to tired, right before our eyes. But an array of newcomers have taken their place in the sun, and no doubt the cycle will continue long after you and I are a safe distance from the C-U fashion scene.

The following are the highlights of what the boring and the brash wore this year ...

On the brink of popularity, (but not too visible) were passport bags, hair beads and ponchos, (especially on guys) in cold weather. Ankle bracelets were spotted during warmer days. Still going strong were those ethnic straw bags that seem to reproduce like rabbits (know any nice girl who doesn't have one?).

This was also the year of the vest. Flowery brocade, suede, studded, pin-striped, polka dotted, handmade or store bought, the vest was the ticket to a less mainstream look for both sexes; unfortunately, mainstream is just what it became in about two minutes. Another item tragically lost to the clutches of The Limited..

Still with us is the scarf worn as a belt/sash. A popular variation is the stretchy-fabric multiples belt that hides the waistline of any outfit. Because of their ability to camouflage and instantly dress-up any outfit, these items are the epitome of mass appeal.

As for the few and the brave, alternative-minded women were wearing velvet, (especially crushed), sheer chiffon tops with a little something thing underneath, svelte, oddly shaped dresses, exaggerated with higher waists, flared bottom or draping silhouette.

Mood rings, little black dresses, and softer, more romantic clothing were best sellers at Scully and Scully, according to Norka Rabinovich-Lindt, manager.

"Loose, flowing men's shirts, which we call pirate or poet shirts are selling well," said Rabinovich-Lindt. "Men's shorts are getting longer and narrower ... partly because of the influence of the cut-off jean shorts style."

"Men aren't as homophobic about clothes as they were a few years ago," she said. "They're more receptive to a wider variety of styles, silhouettes and colors."

"Low crotch, patterned pants, passport satchels and my wool sweaters are very popular, and this year I have some new beaded items," said Parvin Shah, owner of Marrakech Imports, clothing store. "But tie-dye is not selling as well."

"I'm selling more jewelry to men this year," said Shah. "Earrings, bracelet, and rings are becoming more unisex."

While brown leather jackets are a winter staple, more men are going back to overcoats. "They keep you much warmer," said Vladimir Radovanov, freshman in LAS, "Plus, they don't look as generic—there are more patterns and styles to choose from than basic brown or black."

"Men's overcoats sell incredibly fast," said Carrie Homann, owner of Carrie's Vintage Clothing store. "Also, men are buying more Victorian-ish clothing. They aren't afraid of patterns and details that used to be considered feminine."

Oversized, bulky wool sweaters, whether the thick fisherman type or patterned with bright Aztec colors were chic ways to keep warm. And mohair sweaters sold right off the shelves of Benneton, according to Elaine Wisnosky, salesperson.

Wisnosky also said shorts in newer fabrics — wool, suede, rayon sold well. Add a pair of tights or leggings underneath shorts or denim cut-offs, wear with black clunkers or penny loafers and a loose old shirt and presto—an easy way to look up-to-the minute.

According to several local stores, patterned and textured items predominated over solids this year—ponchos resembling nubby blankets, wild, bohemian, ethnic looking bags, shirts and sweaters were seen more often than last year's tranquil solids.

Traci Walker, assistant manager at Circles clothing store in Champaign, said, "The basics come back year after year, but this year we've really see an increase in ethnic clothing, bright colors and patterns."

Of course the timeless U of I outfit can always be seen on the way to class—a sweatshirt with ILLINOIS or Greek letters, faded Levis, Keds and sunglasses for girls, sneakers and a baseball cap for guys.

Such a get-up hardly takes the cake as eye-catching—but it says U of I in a nutshell. And while no one should leave here without at least one piece of school-spirit clothing, thank goodness not everyone gets into that collegiate look. Twenty-five thousand Illini sweatshirts would look great at the football games, but would turn the Quad into an assembly line of orange and blue robots.

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Joan Wilson

Jennifer Skolnik, junior in LAS, wears the ethnic look with a scarf, passport bag, and flowing printed skirt.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Ponchos resembling nubby blankets, such as the one which Jeff Grabowski, graduate, wears, were part of the rage of the textured look.

Natalie Kosson, junior in LAS, models the one-size-fits-all knits ensemble from Multiples.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Fashion victims pile up...

There's a silent war going on at the U of I. It's sort of a civil strife, pitting student against student over the issue of what to wear.

The main weapons in this war are attitude and taste—potential killers. Two fashion factions have gathered up their forces and are engaged in active battle. It appears for now that the more powerful, preppy/clean-cut "I paid full-price at Field's" mall majority is crushing the progressive, offbeat, European-ish minority whose weapons are sometimes second hand.

While they may not have strength in numbers, it appears the alternative faction is more determined, more loyal to their cause. Yet because of their minority status, they may never see every student get his own pair of big black shoes.

The traditionalists are faring better, mainly due to the accessibility of their clothing—khaki pants, drop waisted sun dresses and rugbys are available in malls across America.

The growing conflict has come to the attention of university officials who are hoping to get the two parties to talk face to face—if they can agree on a time and place. Espresso Royale and Kam's have been mentioned as possible sites, but neither establishment is willing to risk the bloodshed such a meeting would surely involve.

There's no end in sight to this heated turmoil so beware—don't let either faction brainwash you into wearing their weapons. Join the move for coexistence and equality of all fashion types.

—Adriana Brad

—Glamour...the college way—

Face it, there just aren't too many students here at the U of I who are extremely fashion conscious when cold weather sets in. Making a fashion statement is quickly replaced with "keeping warm enough in January to make it to my class." This means earmuffs, mittens and long underwear.

Usually as close as I get to trendy high fashion is thumbing through an occasional issue of Glamour magazine, and I always end up thinking to myself, "What kind of people actually wear a bright orange velvet dress with purple fringe on the waist and sequined cowboy boots out to a movie?" But I suppose that's just my midwestern naivete talking. Apparently there are some more casual trends that make their way to this campus.

Glamour claims hats, bell-bottoms, wide legs on pants, jackets with everything, white socks with every outfit, varsity jackets, tweeds, scarves, velvet, red, flannel, gold jewelry and clothes, fur, fringe, tights, bold colors, hip belts and leopard prints are big news in this year's fashion.

But what about university students? Not everyone considers Glamour to be the college student's fashion bible. Fashion can be everything, from what you wear on your head to the book bag or back pack you carry.

"Everyone and their brother has the line on the back of their head," says Drew Trieger, junior in computer science. "You know, the 'mushroom' haircut? It's really big for guys."

Mark Pool, senior in ENG, widens the definition of fashion to include things people are carrying—namely, squeeze bottles. "I had one over the summer, and I noticed that I was one of the few people who had one. When we got down to school, all of a sudden everyone had one."

He added, "I've also seen a lot of graduate backpacks—the one-shoulder strap thing that looks like a bag or a purse."

"I noticed that cardigans have made a big comeback. And string ties. I forget what they're called, though.

Oh, and they're starting to put leather on guy's sweaters all the time now, it seems. Everytime I go shopping and pull out a sweater to look at it, it has little patches of leather on it," said Steve Wick, sophomore in LAS.

"People seem to be dressing a lot more business-like in my classes," says Kathy Janci, junior in COM. "It's the yuppie look, with a blazer over a t-shirt and jeans."

"Yeah, jackets are totally in for women," agrees Molly Godfrey, sophomore in FAA. "And vests. Vests are big."

"I think it might just be the people that I hang around with, but scarves and handkerchiefs seem to be big—you know, accessories? And older things, things that were popular in high school," says Staci Saeger, junior in CBA. "And a lot more people seem to be rolling up their jeans."

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Joan Wilson

Oversized sweatshirts and leggings are part of Lisa Franklin's, sophomore in LAS, exercise attire.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Laura Berger, junior in LAS, models Bobby Brown pants. These low-crotched, baggy pants are frequently worn with loose cotton shirts.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Overcoats, such as the one which Michelle Webberman, sophomore in LAS, wears, remain a popular way to stay warm and in style.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Batfashion

"Holy commercializations, Batman! Look at this Batstuff!" Robin, Boy Wonder, could be saying this right now at practically every department store in the nation.

Ever since the incredible commercial success of the movie Batman starring Michael Keaton, Jack Nicholson and Kim Basinger in the summer of 1989, Batmania has swept the country. There are Bat-shoes, Bat-watches and everything in between, even Bat-undergarments, in local stores.

Last year, only the coolest, most hip people I knew had black t-shirts with the yellow Bat-signal emblazoned on the front. Now everyone seems to have one, and they even come with the signal in neon green or day glow orange on a white background! Is nothing sacred?

No one is quite sure just how long this Bat-trend will continue but if retailers were determined to rid themselves of their Bat-inventories, Americans could be ushering in the 1990's looking like they just stepped out of a comic book.

—Julie Gosnell

- Student renters have protection -

Your apartment roof just caved in, a cockroach is sitting on your toe and the leak under the sink has turned into a waterfall ... who ya gonna call?

Sound familiar? Out there in the land of student housing it can be a big, bad world. Just because you're a student, away from home and mummy, doesn't mean you have to be helpless. Thanks to two organizations, formed to protect you, the tenant, you don't have to fight that mean, nasty landlord alone.

Esther Patt, director of the Student Tenant Union said she and three part-time staff members work with students to find answers to their housing problems, from damage deposits to repairs never made.

"We are not lawyers," she emphasized. "Our expertise is in the knowledge of the types of problems students have."

Patt recommends a preventive course of action when renting an apartment or house. BEFORE you sign the contract, go in and look at the landlord's complaint history. The tenant union keeps all complaints made by former tenants on file.

"Many wrongs really have no effective remedy," said Patt. There are certain landlords that have such an extensive history of problems that the best thing the perspective tenant can do is walk away.

Once you get a lease, bring it to the tenant union and have them look at it.

If the problem is already a reality, Patt and the staff will talk to the landlords on behalf of the student. Their technique to get what they want? "We bug them," she laughed. "And if that doesn't work we send renters to Student Legal Services."

The 20 year old Student Legal Services organization is kept in business by landlord/tenant disputes says Susan Hesse, a lawyer with legal services. Last year she and the two other lawyers advised students in 1,143 of these cases, 766 of which were eventually taken to court.

"We want students to know they're not just at the mercy of the community," she said.

She tells students to use the tenant union's resources and be careful. Make sure you see the actual apartment you're getting. Remember, once you sign the lease, you are committed.

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Susan Hesse is an attorney for Student Legal Services. Lawyers advise students in over 1,000 tenant dispute cases. Over half of these cases ended up in court.

Laura Colbert, senior in Psychology, helps Steve Peter, junior in IAS, with a landlord problem.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Gwendolyn Jones, senior in journalism, goes over guidelines to signing a lease with Gail Stern, junior in LAS, and John Ehlert, senior in biology.

Thomas Betz, attorney for Student Legal Services, is able to aid students through legal aid and advise on everything from disputes with landlords to traffic violations.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Is this better than the residence halls?

And you thought you had it bad ... check out these "favorites."

Susan Hesse, lawyer with Student Legal Services, remembers a case involving tenants who stopped payment of rent on their apartment.

While investigating the case, the legal service found that the "apartment" was actually a crawlspace. "That was a creative landlord," she said.

Esther Patt, director of the Student Tenant Union, recalls a case involving shaking pipes.

A tenant repeatedly complained of moving pipes above her bed. The complaints went unheard until one night the shaking pipes shook a dead mouse onto the sleeping girl's head.

—Tanja Powers

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Esther Patt, Tenant Union director, confers with her two assistants, Laura Colber, senior in psychology, and Gwendolyn Jones, senior in journalism.

— Inside the Beckman Institute —

What comes to most students' minds when they hear the title ...

"Beckman Institute for Advanced Science and Technology"?

... The huge brick and glass building on the corner of Sixth and University Streets ... that big thing where the Einstein's of today live ... whatever it is, it would have made a great parking lot...

Yes, most of us as students will never walk through its doors, but a lot of people will ...

"We have about 500 researchers at the institute, with around 100 others working with the National Center for Supercomputing Applications (NCSA)," said Sarah Wasserman, the associate director of Beckman Institute.

Roughly 40 different research groups competed for space in Beckman, only 20 were granted a space. Only 80% of the building space was given out, though. According to Wasserman, extra room was saved for new programs that may develop from current research. On the other hand, if research in an area isn't working out, a two-year to five-year eviction notice may be given to groups to move their studies elsewhere.

Current projects being worked on include such topics as ultra-fast laser research and artificial intelligence (robotics), pursuing coordinated decision making, innovative principles of organization and design and analysis of computer based systems.

A large part of Beckman is the NCSA, which is one of five national centers funded by the National Science Foundation. These centers are devoted to providing advanced computing resources to research scientists throughout the nation.

Last October the Beckman NCSA received the first Cray 2 supercomputer to be installed in one of the national centers.

The NCSA Director's office is located in Beckman, as well as the scientific visitors center and offices for research scientists and other NCSA faculty. The NCSA brings to the institute a valuable core of computer professionals whose work may enhance many of the institute's research programs.

As well as professionals, there is a small group of undergraduate students that work for NCSA at Beckman. A computer engineering major named Bill Stamos is one of them.

Stamos, 18, began his job in April of 1988 after reading an ad for help that appeared in the Daily Illini. Describing his job as "system support," Stamos says he's at Beckman for approximately 15 hours each week.

"I sort of haven't figured out exactly what I'm supposed to be doing yet, but then neither has my boss," Stamos laughed. "His job is still evolving, so my job changes from day to day. I always manage to come up with stuff to do, though."

At the moment he's working behind the scenes, working to maintain the computer systems while research is being done to facilitate computer communication.

"For instance, if you had a picture that you wanted to show to someone, you would be able to punch a few buttons and it will be sitting on his or her desk. No more calling it up, printing it and jogging down to the other office," Stamos explained.

NCSA also works on developing products for computers, but unlike professional software companies, NCSA creates computer software and other tools for public use - absolutely free.

Stamos says the coolest thing about Beckman isn't any of the research - it's something he calls "synergy."

"What's great about Beckman is the interdisciplinary communications- everyone's department is working toward one or two main goals, but the researchers can mix for a mingling of the sciences. The walkways even have areas with chairs and tables to sit and talk in the middle of nowhere - they're trying to get the scientists together to share ideas," said Stamos.

Will he continue with the job? Sure, just because Beckman is "a neat place to work ... and it looks cool."

It's obvious that the Beckman Institute will bring many benefits to the university, drawing researchers, faculty and attention from all over the world. Perhaps Beckman Institute will, in addition to being one of the world's foremost scientific research facilities, be one of the world's most successful experiments in human cooperation and sharing.

story by Julie Gosnell
layout by Joe Durica

Arnold O. Beckman donated $40 million to establish a unique institute for research in which all scientists of all fields can confer.

photo by Kristy Phariss

photo by Kristy Phariss

photo by Kristy Phariss

Dr. Beckman was inducted into the National Inventors Hall of Fame in 1987.

The Arnold O. Beckman Institute, the university's largest building, is a staple of research.

Donations to the university increase

Although not many alumni donations come close to the $40 million given by Arnold Beckman, overall since 1988 they have increased by 23% in total dollars, reports the University of Illinois Foundation, the organization that handles monetary gifts donated to the university.

The gifts for 1989 so far were announced at a U of I Foundation dinner on October 6 by University President Stanley Ikenberry. All in all, $15.5 million dollars has been given to the university.

Donations include: $5 million from the Temple Hoyne Buell Foundation for new facilities for the School of Architecture and the departments of Landscape Architecture and of Urban and Regional Planning; over $5.5 million from the estate of E. William and Jane Marr Gutsell to support faculty development on the campuses at Chicago and Urbana-Champaign; $3 million from the Sony Corporation to endow the John Bardeen Chair in Electrical and Computer Engineering and Physics; $1 million from Professor Emeritus Reid Milner for permanent endowment from which earned income will be split between the University Library/colleges of LAS and Agriculture and the Department of Chemical Engineering; over $1 million from the estate of George and Edna Titus for the University Library at Urbana-Champaign.

—Julie Gosnell

photo by Kristy Phariss

In addition to 500 Beckman researchers and 100 researchers working for the National Center for Supercomputing Applications, a small group of undergraduates also work for the NCSA.

Re-examining a 17-year-old right

As we have grown up, issues relating to sexuality and reproduction have become more complex. The definition of sexual assault has expanded to include date and acquaintance rape; sexually transmitted diseases are suddenly life-threatening in the age of AIDS; adoption is not what it used to be, overshadowed by modern options such as surrogate parenting and in vitro-fertilization.

Despite the emergence of these relatively new phenomena, the "old" dilemma of abortion, often viewed as the backbone of reproductive and women's issues, has not faded away. Students have approached the issue with renewed vigor this year.

"It's not a dead issue," said Robert Chappell, president of Life Is For Everyone, a student group working to gradually restrict and eventually legalize abortion. "When it became clear last spring that the Supreme Court had not cemented its position on abortion, polarization of points of view emerged. People were forced to sit up and take action."

In 1988, the state of Missouri passed legislation that denied public funding to hospitals that perform abortions, refer women to abortion clinics or even mention abortion when counseling pregnant women; this law was upheld by the Supreme Court in July, stunning supporters on both sides.

Laurel MacLaren, vice president of the Abortion Rights Coalition, a nationally affiliated student group, agreed with Chappell that as a result, this year students are clearly articulating and identifying themselves as for or against abortion.

"The Supreme Court upheld legislation that severely restricted access to abortion. It's things like this that get people to stand up," said MacLaren. "When something you've taken for granted your whole life is being threatened — and students have grown up with legalized abortion — the tendency is to speak up loudly."

"It was clearly a victory for us," said Chappell. "It encouraged us to keep educating people about what abortion really is and how it is used."

The Supreme Court verdict

meant that any state can (though not all will) pass such legislation, which not only restricts abortion, but according to MacLaren, discriminates against the poor, a group that uses publicly funded hospitals the most.

"Any type of discrimination upsets me; and in the case of abortion it is blatant. Since Medicaid does not fund abortions, and now publicly funded hospitals are prohibited from even saying the word "abortion," poor women with no other alternatives are being shut out from a completely legal right."

Abortion Rights Coalition, affiliated with the National Abortion Rights Action League (NARAL), organizes educational programs, hosts speakers, shows films and on occasion holds rallies on the Quad and in Springfield. The group has seen student involvement triple this year alone, according to MacLaren.

"Our mailing list went up by 500 names and over 100 people signed up to volunteer for the cause," said MacLaren. "People have been hit in the face by the threat against this right."

As letter-writing campaigns, student lobbying in Springfield and ARC rallies on campus have demonstrated, the pro-choice movement is more vocal this year than in the past. But the pro-life movement has also seen an increase in student involvement.

"This year we have about 50 more members, for a total of about 210," said Chappell, who added that his group is educational, not protest-oriented.

"We do have peaceful picketing at the local abortion clinic on Saturdays, but what we try to do through speakers and films is educate the campus about abortion," he said. "We are against discrimination of the medically vulnerable — newborn, unborn, the elderly. Our purpose is gradual restriction of abortion, combined with increased awareness and education. We realize it would be a tragic mistake to outlaw abortion overnight."

Amidst the renewed activity surrounding this issue, the university has continued to include abortion coverage in the student health insurance program.

"There has been coverage (of termination of pregnancy) as long as I can remember. There was never a decision made not to carry it," said James Gallivan, director of Risk Management, a department that buys and sells insurance for the university. Abortion coverage is automatic and unavoidable, as there is only one student insurance policy. The department does not keep track of how many abortions are paid for out of insurance funds annually.

Some debate over abortion coverage did take place when a 1985-86 SGA referendum proposed a separate insurance plan for students who wished to omit coverage of termination of pregnancy. The referendum was soundly defeated, with one of the highest voter turnouts ever, according to SGA.

If legislation that passed in Missouri were adopted in Illinois, McKinley might no longer be allowed to make abortion referrals or discuss abortion, since it is a publicly funded health institution. Depending on your orientation, this example of how the issue filters down to students is good or bad news.

What's clear now is the increased coverage of this issue in the press, the increased student awareness and the narrowing margins of triumph and defeat are making an impression on students.

Restriction and regulation of abortion is now, more than ever, in the hands of the individual states. In Illinois, where there is well-known controversy over the availability of late abortions and clinic-setting abortions, student voices are often among the loudest.

story by Adrianna Brad
layout by Joe Durica

The abortion issue was constantly in the news nationally and locally. The July Supreme Court case and politicians' views occupied the debate.

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

"It's a decision that a woman should make on her own, and government should not interfere."

— Monica Flerlage

"Someone has to speak for the unborn."

— John Gurney

Abortion debates occurred across the nation as well as in C-U. Both pro-life and pro-choice groups on and off campus rallied their supporters in hopes of convincing government officials to their side.

Chief legitimacy debated

Just like Ol' Alma Mater and Chief Illiniwek himself, the controversy surrounding Chief has has many people's hands in the air. Students, fans, alumni and administrators joined the flap and voiced an opinion.

The 60-year-old tradition at the University of Illinois was protested by a group of students on grounds of racism. The group, Coalition Against Indian Racism, headed by then senior Robert Honig and graduate student Charlene Teters, claimed Chief is disrespectful of Indian tradition and culture, while asking the mascot be eliminated.

"Would you have a black man or a Jewish man be a mascot? Would we have someone smear shoe polish on his face and eat watermelon on the field to promote the stereotype of a black man," Honig asked.

This comment, and others like it, angered many fans for both the implication of a racist student majority and the mere idea of eliminating Chief. Instead of encouraging thought about what Chief symbolizes, people were closed to the subject.

The issue almost died the same semester it started when the university decided to keep the Chief. In addition to concerns raised by a SGA referendum, like further examining the symbol, raising the sensitivity of minority issues and discouraging misrepresentation, there were important university breakthroughs:

- Removal of the orange and blue "I" from Chief's chin;
- Prohibiting cheerleaders and fans from wearing "war paint" at athletic contests;
- Administering a new recruitment policy for Native American Indians;
- And reviewing the curriculum for Native American studies at the university.

Though Honig formed the coalition, it wasn't until Teters voiced her opinion that the issue was debated heavily. Teters is a Native American.

Teters has been performing authentic Indian dances for 37 years and claims that the Chief's dance is nothing more than a "gymnastics routine." The authenticity of the dance became another issue. Thomas Riley, head of the Anthropology department, said that the Chief encompasses many different Indian tribes — not simply the Illini tribe.

"I've felt all along that Chief Illiniwek is a manufactured Indian and an affront to the dignity of all Indians," said Joseph Smith, associated vice chancellor for affirmative action.

Some noted the irony of an "Illini Indian" wearing the costume of the Sioux, an enemy tribe of the Illini. Others considered the issue and felt that the Chief should remain, but be an authentic version of an Illini Indian.

"You would never catch an Illini wearing a war bonnet," said Riley.

The group's argument was placed on the high priority list on several agendas. SGA debated the Chief controversy with the same fervor as student government fee increases. The issue was argued publicly in forums that varied from lectures in the Illini Union, to discussions in dorm lounges, to media talk shows.

Letters to the editor appeared almost daily in local newspapers. The story made the front page of The Chicago Tribune and even reached The New York Times.

When Illinois Senator Paul Simon signed a petition at the 36th American Indian Pow-Wow at Navy Pier in Chicago, just days before he was to receive an award at Memorial Stadium during the Illinois-Michigan football game, Illini fans, students and alums, reacted with anger. University officials had to change plans for fear that fans shouting "Save the Chief, Dump Simon" would harass him. Simon received the award at the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts.

Alumni and fan support was the key to Chief remaining. Emotions rode high during football halftime performances and school spirit increased. Fans sang "Hail to the Orange" and held their prohibited bodas close to their heart as if it were the national anthem.

Illinois fans genuinely felt the "historic connection of Chief's dance," as referred to by Stanley Levy, vice chancellor for student affairs.

Fans echoed sentiments similar to those made by Campaign Mayor Dannel McCollum, who wrote, "To me, the portrayal of the Chief is stylized, idealized, even possibly a bit romanticized. He also represents dignity, grace and spirit of a great native people."

There are many fans who insist they get goose bumps and watery eyes.

"There's something inspirational to the crowd when Chief Illiniwek bursts out of the band. The pride they feel is spine chillin'," said Livingston during a speech in defense of the Chief.

But Teters' spine chills much differently.

"I felt nothing but sadness when I first saw the Chief perform," she said.

And it was seeing the 90 eagle feathers of the bonnet fly through the air while Chief Illiniwek danced that moved Teter's sadness into anger.

"Eagle feathers are the most sacred items in our tribe. They are worn only during religious dances and only by the most honored chief, who has earned those feathers," she said.

According to Teters, some genuine religious Indian ceremonies lack eagle feathers because they are from an endangered species and are expensive. The fact that the university was able to purchase the feathers for the purpose of a halftime performance angered Teters.

"It takes nothing for something as huge as the University of Illinois to make a purchase like that," she said.

Tom Livingston cited restrictions which would identify Chief as a sacred symbol. For example, the Chief is not allowed to talk, to make commercial appearances or to remain on the sidelines like all other mascots do. Livingston, not Chief Illiniwek, gives speeches to various organizations to educate his audiences on Indian history.

Though the issue subsided fall semester, the effects were felt spring semester. The Chief Illiniwek workshops were protested by the coalition and Native Americans.

More newspaper articles, discussions about Native American problems, such as bettering education and reviving language for Native Americans. Just recently, a move by Mike Haney, a representative of 26 Oklahoma tribes, to close the Dickson Burial Mounds in Fulton County proved successful.

If nothing else comes from the Chief controversy, at least Native American concerns have been raised and thoughts provoked. Closing one's mind to the beliefs of others is a much larger threat to our society than eliminating a university mascot.

The Native American people deserve the respect and dignity that Chief Illiniwek attempts to provide. The Indian voice has been born again by the slow demise of the Chief issue.

story by Stephanie Sprague, Matt Cantlin and Rob Siders

In spite of the Cheif controversy, Illini Fans still watched the traditional Chief dance at the stadium and Assembly Hall.

print by Reggie Natividad

Sports

As the University of Illinois begins a new decade of learning and labor, the forces of tradition have been shaken.

The U of I has changed from an agriculture university to a technological university, the radical 60s campus has become a conservative 80s campus and the learning and labor belongs to professors.

Changes at the university have not excluded athletics, either.

Over the past 10 years, we have seen a charismatic Mike White resign in the midst of football recruiting improprieties, Athletic Director Neale Stoner fired for using Athletic Association employees for personal use and, most recently, Chief Illiniwek considered by some to be a racist representation of the Native American. This doesn't include the infamous "Slush Fund" of 1966 that contributed to Illini athletic woes throughout the 70s.

However, the forces of tradition have also been working in favor of the U of I.

The football program rose to national prominence again with a win at the Citrus Bowl, despite four previous bowl game losses. Coach Lou Henson's basketball squad briefly landed a number one national ranking and eventually bounced their way to the NCAA Final Four.

Let's not forget that the volleyball team appeared in the Final Four twice, while taking the Big Ten crown three times. Nor should we forget the 1989 National Champion gymnastics team. And just weeks before Father Time welcomed Baby New Year 1990, Penn State became the eleventh conference member.

But the University of Illinois is much more than tradition – it's legend. A legend that builds. We all know the Galloping Ghost, Homecoming and that Final Four team, but we have to look to the years ahead while remembering the past.

We cannot know what will happen – it's just not possible. Chief may eventually be eliminated, troubled basketball player Deon Thomas may never play for the Orange and Blue and an Illini team may never win another Big Ten title. But we can continue the Illinois tradition and build upon the legend by repeating the glory and avoiding the mistakes of the past.

The important part of this is building. "To increase, grow or intensify," says Webster. But more fundamentally, to plan and construct. Who knows, bigger and greater legends are yet to come. They've yet to be built, others are under construction and still others are intensifying. But they are building – building the legend that is the University of Illinois.

photo by Annie Pergande

Dick Vital promised to stand on his head at halftime if the Illini went to the Final Four in '89. (side) Steve Bardo drives for the basket against the Wildcat defense.

photo by Scott Jacobson

*Building
a Legend*

Illini stun USC in Opener

LOS ANGELES—The Soviet Union missed a great game. The underdog Illini shocked the 5th ranked USC Trojans 14-13 in a defensive struggle originally scheduled for Moscow's Dynamo Stadium. But The Glasnost Bowl, due to logistic snafus, returned to the Trojans' home Colosseum — an unfriendly site for the Illini.

Down 13 points, with a quarter to go, Illinois had to fight hard. The defense picked up a notch and the offense finally got a break. With six minutes to play, Illinois receiver Shawn Wax caught a tipped pass, evaded his defender and ran 53 yards for a touchdown.

"Shawn just happened to be in the right place at the right time. It's just one of those fluke plays," said Illini quarterback Jeff George.

Following the kickoff, the Illini defense quickly shut down USC, forcing a punt. The offense, starting at their own 20-yard line, launched a 10-play, two-minute scoring drive. Illinois had its second touchdown, a 20-yard TD pass to Steven Williams.

"There was a sea of orange, Illini fans, over there (in the corner of the end zone) and my mom and dad were right in the middle. So I caught the ball and ran towards my mom and dad and all the Illini fans," said Williams.

USC sought to regain the lead, but defensive back Henry Jones ended their drive with an interception. This snuffed out the light of victory for Troy and ended their 50-year domination of the Illini.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Stephen Warmowski

Moe Gardner fights his way through an Ohio State double team. The All-American nose tackle is Illinois' all-time leader in tackles for loss with 43.

Gardner, 95, and Mel Agee chase down Ohio State quarterback Greg Frey. The junior defensive tackle tandem claimed First Team All-Big Ten honors.

photo by Stephen Warmowski

Buffaloes trample Illinois 38-7

BOULDER, Colo.—This game was important—a top ten confrontation in front of a national television audience. The Illini, after moving up twelve spots to number ten in the national polls, needed this game to show the Big Ten that they were a force to be reckoned with. The 8th ranked Colorado Buffaloes wanted to prove their strength in the Oklahoma-Nebraska dominated Big Eight.

Both teams looked ready to do battle. Colorado came out behind their mascot, Ralphie the Buffalo, exciting the home crowd of 47,000. Illinois was equally charged, determined to achieve victory. This was where the Illni charge ended.

On their first possession, Colorado quickly scored after reaching the Illini 5-yard line on a 73-yard pass. Taking over at the 20-yard line, Illinois looked for a tie. The Illini marched to the Colorado 6 with a mix of short passes and runs. A touchdown was in reach.

But the boisterous Colorado fans took over, producing an unbearable noise level too high for Illinois quarterback Jeff George to run the plays. Finally, after six complaints to the referees, the crowd quieted enough to resume play. Illinois fullback Howard Griffith ran two yards for a score, capping an 80-yard, 13-play drive. These first two possessions predicted a long, high scoring game: high scoring for Colorado — a long game for the Illini.

Following the Illinois kickoff, Colorado reached into its bag of tricks and burned the defense with a halfback pass for a 48-yard touchdown. That's all the Buffaloes needed. Illinois couldn't score the rest of the game, while the Buffaloes capitalized on every Orange and Blue mistake.

"Everything that could go right for (Colorado), did," said Tony Laster, Illinois offensive tackle. "Everything that could go wrong for us, did. They caught us on a bad day and we caught them on a good day."

story by Matt Cantlin

Dad's Day Massacre: Illinois 41, Utah State 2

The Fighting Illini wrapped up their pre-Big Ten season with a record of 2-1 by demolishing the Aggies of Utah State in front of 61,553 roaring Illinois fans. The Illini offense was out in full force, accumulating 516 total yards, while the defense held Utah State to just 82.

"We really wanted our defense to come out and play a solid game," said head coach John Mackovic. "I think they did that for us. They did not give Utah State a great opportunity to move the ball very much."

The defense was incredible in allowing only three first downs and intercepting three passes, including a first ever by linebacker Darick Brownlow.

Quarterback Jeff George led the offensive feast, completing 12 of 18 passes for 180 yards and two touchdowns. The running attackers showed their talent by gaining 331 yards on 56 carries. Senior Ken Thomas and freshman Wagner Lester were the leading rushers, contributing a touchdown each for the victory. For Lester, it was his first college experience.

"I wanted to jump up and down (after the score), but the defensive player grabbed me around my waist," said Lester. "So I just walked off the field. It was an exciting game."

Illinois' first home game provided sheer enjoyment for the countless dads in the stadium, making this a most memorable weekend. While the team did its part providing a sensational game, some dads got in the act, providing an entertaining halftime show. Fathers of band members, baton twirlers, and cheerleaders strutted their stuff on the field, receiving abundant applause from the crowd. Their "chorus line" finale displayed the age of some, the life of others, while still others tumbled over in exhaustion.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Jeff J. Barczewski

Tackle Moe Gardner stops an Aggie ball carrier. Gardner and the Illini defense rebounded to hold Utah State to 82 yards.

Backup QB Jason Verduzco takes the snap from center Curt Iovelle. The freshman stepped in for injured Jeff George against Ohio State.

photo by Ron Foley

Ohio State flanker Bobby Olive, at right, is tackled by a host of Illinois defenders. The Illini beat the Buckeyes 34-14 in the Big Ten opener.

Coach John Mackovic walks with his son after the Florida Citrus Bowl against Virginia. The Illini beat the Cavs 31-21.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Illinois opens Big Ten with a victory

The Illini offense exploded for 450 yards en route to a 34-14 drubbing of Ohio State in the Big Ten opener.

The win, in front of a sold out home crowd and split national ABC-TV audience, was a game of "firsts" for the 18th rated Illini.

- It was the first time they defeated the Buckeyes two consecutive years since 1966-67.

- It was the first game played on the new AstroTurf following a fire on the field two weeks earlier.

- Wide receiver Steve Williams threw his first-ever collegiate touchdown pass, to fellow receiver Mike Bellamy.

- Redshirt freshman quarterback Jason Verduzco played in his first college football game.

But the game had a rough beginning when quarterback Jeff George was forced to leave the game with a knee injury early in the first quarter. With second string quarterback Jeff Kinney out for the season with a blood clot in his throwing arm, Verduzco stepped into fill George's shoes, finishing the half. He completed 9 of 14 passes for 126 yards, and helped Illinois to a 10-7 halftime lead.

"Jason Verduzco has to be one of the real heroes today," said head coach John Mackovic. "He showed us he could handle the offense and put us in a position to win."

"Right when George went down, I had a feeling he was hurt," said Verduzco. "But I didn't know for how many plays. I got a little sensation and felt the adrenaline going."

George hobbled back on the field in the second half and led Illinois to 24 more points. Illini fullback Howard Griffith finished with 117 yards on 20 carries and two TD's. Bellamy also had a big day with 10 catches for 152 yards and one TD.

story by Matt Cantlin

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Ron Foley

Fullback Howard Griffith stiff arms before being pushed out-of-bounds. The senior rushed for 117 yards against OSU.

Illini defense pounds Boilermakers

WEST LAFAYETTE, Ind.-The charged Illini offense of the previous week couldn't find its scoring spark as the Orange and Blue nipped the Purdue Boilermakers 14-2.

The 16th ranked Illini (4-1) struggled to score in front of 41,000 quiet Purdue fans. The Illini defense, led by tackles Mel Agee and Moe Gardner, and linebacker Darrick Brownlow, stifled the Boilermaker offense throughout the first half and held Purdue to just 36 yards and two first downs.

Fullback Howard Griffith finds daylight, thanks to Curt Lovelace and the rest of the offensive line. Griffith was the top Illini rusher, with 765 yards on 164 carries for the season.

"Our defense was put in a situation where we had just one linebacker (Brownlow) up front," said Gardner. "We put a lot of pressure on him and the line to stop the run."

The Illini defense held the Purdue offense to 62 yards rushing for the game, 144 yards total and recorded four sacks.

While Illini scores were few, the offense was quite potent against Purdue. Quarterback Jeff George finished the day 24 of 42, passing for 254 yards. And the Illini ground game, behind fullback Howard Griffith's 94 yards and one TD, churned out 167 yards.

On Illinois' first possession, the offense marched to the Purdue 3-yard line before George dumped a short pass to tight end Frank Hartley. The Illini scoring was snuffed out by the Boiler defense, creating havoc on the Illini kicking game.

The Boilers blocked Chris Siambeckos' field goal attempt and a Brian Menkhause punt. The blocked punt gave Purdue its only score, as the ball flew out of the end zone for a safety.

The second Illini touchdown came after a 14-play, 80-yard drive. Griffith's leaping end zone dive, with 38 seconds to play, from the Purdue 1 capped the 6-minute and 57-second drive.

"We finally wore Purdue down on that last drive," said head coach John Mackovic. "It took all day, 54 minutes, but we did it."

story by Robert Siders
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Ron Foley

13th ranked Illini edge Spartans

EAST LANSING, Mich.—This has become a habit. The Fighting Illini silenced the sold out Spartan Stadium crowd by defeating Michigan State in the closing minutes of the game. MSU came into the contest a five-point favorite and left the field four points behind.

Illinois scored quickly on their first possession. Illini QB Jeff George hit receiver Mike Bellamy for a 53-yard pass play, taking them deep into State territory. Three plays later, Illinois scored on a 1-yard pass to tight end Dan Donovan.

However, the offense would end there — for both teams. Tight defense marked the half, and the Illini still led 7-0 after 30 minutes of play.

On the second half kickoff, Michigan State's Courtney Hawkins broke through the Illini tide for an 85-yard return setting up a Spartan touchdown.

The tie was finally broken late in the fourth quarter when the Spartans drove to the Illinois 4-yard line. But an aggressive goal line stand limited MSU to a field goal.

"Many teams would have faded and the opponents would have scored a touchdown. But we held them and that gave us a chance to win the game," said head coach John Mackovic.

After a failed Illini fourth-and-ten attempt, MSU took possession at their own 35—a sure loss for the Illini. But with 1:37 to go, the Illinois defense recovered an MSU fumble at the line of scrimmage, and the outcome again rested in George's hands.

"I wasn't really surprised. I knew our defense would come through. I wouldn't trade them for anybody in the country," said George.

George's 9-yard fade pass to Bellamy in the endzone capped the three-play drive.

"I think the mark of a good quarterback is if your team wins and, secondly, if he can lead your team to victory in the final two minutes. I think Jeff George showed he is one of those exceptional quarterbacks," said Mackovic.

story by Matt Cantlin

photo by Nora Hipolito

All-Big Ten cornerback Henry Jones, 18, steps in as Romero Brice and Michigan State's Blake Ezor crumble under Darrick Brownlow. The Illini defense ranked tenth in the country and first in the Big Ten.

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

Michigan's Leroy Hoard, 33, is stopped by a defensive wall. The Illini lost to the Wolverines, 24-10, for the Big Ten Championship and the Rose Bowl.

Griffith and MSU All-American linebacker Percy Snow square off. The Illini senior was an Honorable Mention All-Big Ten selection at fullback.

Top defense delivers again as offense cooks

The 8th ranked Illini gave the capacity crowd of students and alumni a 32-9 Homecoming victory over the Wisconsin Badgers, upping their conference record to 4-0 and 6-1 overall.

It was no easy brewing, though. Wisconsin immediately cooled the Illinois burners when Badger Fred Owens returned the opening kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

But Illinois defenseman Jerry Hamner quickly turned up the heat. He blocked the extra point attempt and teammate Quintin Parker ran the ball back 100 yards for a defensive extra point and two points.

"I've never seen such a strange beginning," said Wisconsin Head Coach Don Morton.

"Instead of (the score) being 7-0 and them feeling great, it was 6-2 and we were feeling good about things," said Illinois Head Coach John Mackovic. "And then we were going to get the ball again."

Quarterback Jeff George got the kettle boiling with a 45-yard touchdown pass to fullback Howard Griffith on the second play of the drive. With the score now 9-6 and only 54 seconds into the game, the sweet aroma of home cookin' was beginning to fill the air.

The Illinois special teams kept the lid shut on the Wisconsin offense, backing them up against their own end zone. Punter Brian Menkhausen, with the superior help of the punt coverage team, landed five punts within the 10-yard line and four within the five-yard line.

"They deserve more credit than anyone could give me. Those guys are fast; they get downfield pretty quick. I try to help them by putting the ball in the air," said Menkhausen.

The defense sealed the victory allowing just three points in the remainder of the game. During this game, Mo Gardner became the school's all time leader in tackles for losses with 38, surpassing Don Thorp's 37.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Scott Jacobson

Running back Steve Feagan takes the hole made by linemen Tony Laster, 72, Cam Pepper, 73, and Curt Lovelace. The freshman rushed for 372 yards this season.

Lovelace leads the way again for Feagan. The Illini beat the Wisconsin Badgers for a 32-9 Homecoming win.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Receiver Mike Bellamy, 2, heads for the goal line while Luke Petraitis looks for a block. Bellamy was a First Team All-Big Ten pick.

Scoring spree secures Illini victory

IOWA CITY, Iowa—The Fighting Illini traveled to Iowa City, Iowa, hoping to up their record to 5-0 in the Big Ten and 7-1 overall. The Hawkeyes, always tough competition for Illinois, tried to keep their chances for a bowl game alive. There was no such luck as the 8th ranked Illini whipped the Hawks 31-7.

The game remained scoreless until late in the second quarter, when Illinois drew blood first. Fullback Howard Griffith dove one yard into the end zone, capping the 96-yard touchdown drive. The fun was just beginning.

The Illinois "Dynamic Duo" of QB Jeff George and split end Mike Bellamy gave the Fighting Illini a 21-0 halftime lead, following interceptions by Henry Jones and Steve Glasson. George capitalized on Jones' interception with a 25-yard TD pass to Bellamy.

But before the game, Iowa tried to "psyche out" the Illini. Iowa's visiting team locker room is pink because the color is calm. Teams are psychologically "tricked" into playing passively. But the only pink fans saw was on the hats of the Marching Illini and on the faces of the Hawks after the embarrassing loss.

Bellamy came within a yard of another TD with a brilliant 24-yard reception. He leaped over the back of an Iowa defender, snatched the ball away and scrambled to the one-yard line. Running back Wagner Lester ran it in on the next play.

"The defensive back didn't know I was behind him. I guess I caught him off guard when I took it away from him," Bellamy said. "I was upset I didn't score. But sometimes it just happens that way."

Two unnecessary second half scores — a 38-yard Doug Higgins field goal and a 26-yard TD jaunt by Lester late in the game — gave the Illini victory insurance.

story by Matt Cantlin

photo by Claudio Gratton

photo by Scott Jacobson

The Chief was as controversial off the field as the team was exciting on the field. A student group showed their support of the university's symbol for one of Illinois' five appearances on ABC-TV.

Tackle Mel Agee leaps to block Michigan QB Michael Taylor's pass. Agee finished fourth in the Big Ten in sacks with eight.

Illinois looks for "roses" — finds defeat

The contest between the Fighting Illini and the Wolverines of Michigan was eagerly awaited by millions. A sold out Memorial Stadium accommodated 73,069 fans and ABC took care of the rest. Ticket scalpers took full advantage and charged $35 to $75 for their precious seats while T-shirt vendors painted the town yellow and blue with their "Muck Fichigan" and "Michigan Go Blow" apparel.

Unfortunately, the 24-10 loss proved that "Bo does know football," and made Illinois' Rose Bowl chances slimmer.

"Michigan certainly deserved the victory. They played extremely well," said head coach John Mackovic.

"We certainly felt that we missed some opportunities in the game," said Mackovic. "There were some set-ups that we felt, had we converted them, might have made the game a little different than it was. But, that's part of football."

The game began even, as both teams quickly put up 10 points inside 16 minutes. Michigan added another TD early in the second quarter which gave them a 17-10 lead at the half.

The biggest Illinois play came late in the third quarter. Mackovic elected to try for a touchdown on fourth down and one from the Michigan 4-yard line, instead of kicking a field goal. It was a decision between three points or a possible six.

Said Mackovic, "We knew a tie for us was not bad. We felt we were going to try to score a touchdown, and if we didn't get it, we had more than a quarter and a half to go."

"I don't think you can second-guess any call that's made," said quarterback Jeff George. "That was the call. They just came up with the big defensive play and stopped us."

The loss dropped Illinois to 5-1 in Big Ten play and 7-2 overall. Michigan retained the Big Ten lead at 6-0, and 8-1 overall.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Triggs

The final seconds. Illini QB Jeff George watches his team lose to Michigan for the Big Ten crown and the Rose Bowl.

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Nora Hipolito

Mel Agee gets after Michigan quarterback Michael Taylor. Agee collected nine sacks this season.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Tackle Craig Schneider keeps a Michigan defender away from QB George. Schneider anchored an Illini offensive line that gave up just fifteen sacks in 1989.

Receiver Shawn Wax Turns up field against Michigan's David Key. Wax finished the season with 26 catches for 465 yards.

Seniors star in final home victory

Memorial stadium looked like a huge slumber party as brave, die-hard Illinois fans huddled under blankets to escape the subfreezing temperatures. The only people left out in the cold were the members of the Indiana football team as the Fighting Illini defeated them 41-28.

The defensive seniors provided fireworks of a different kind this time. Defensive tackle Brian Williams led the way by intercepting a pass and returning it 92-yards for a touchdown late in the third quarter, putting the game out of Indiana's reach. Linebacker Romero Brice tipped Indiana quarterback Dave Schnell's pass into Williams' arms. Williams chugged and outran Indiana running back and Heisman Trophy candidate, Anthony Thompson, for the score.

"I kept thinking about all the things that could happen," said Williams. "What if I drop the ball when he hits me? Should I change hands? Then I thought, 'I hope I didn't run all this way for nothing.' I never knew it was Thompson behind me. I just saw burgundy, and I just kept running."

"That was probably the biggest play of the game," said head coach John Mackovic. "Indiana had some momentum and it looked like they were going to go right in and score. Before we realized it, we were up by even more than we had been."

The offensive senior members took full opportunity of their last home game and gave the crowd quite a show. Wide receiver Mike Bellamy caught three of five Illini

TD receptions and compiled 170 yards on four kickoff returns, including an 89-yard return to start the second half. Bellamy scored three plays later.

"I didn't see it at first, because (quarterback) Jeff George throws so fast. I had a feeling I was going to get the ball," said Bellamy. "I went down and it hit my hands, and it popped up and I grabbed it."

story by Matt Cantlin

Mike Bellamy grabs one of three TD receptions against Indiana. The senior led the Illini in receptions in 1989.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Despite the cold weather, some Illini fans were more than willing to undress in the heat of the 41-28 win over Indiana.

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Nora Hipolito

“Holiday” becomes “Hell Day” for Wildcats

Evanston, Ill.—Illinois wrapped up their regular season crushing the winless Wildcats 63-14. Both teams had cause for thanks during the holiday contest. Illinois was thankful for a 7-1 Big Ten second place finish and a 9-2 overall record. On the flipside, Northwestern was thankful that their season was finally over.

The crowd at Dyche stadium, dominated by Illinois fans, witnessed an awesome Illini offensive attack led by quarterback Jeff George. George passed 15 of 18 for 232 yards, including two TD passes.

“Everything was going our way today,” George said. “The guys were running great routes, and the line was protecting me. We thought we could throw the ball anywhere we wanted.”

And they did. Illinois’ top receivers, Mike Bellamy, Shawn Wax and Steven Williams, combined for 205 yards on 11 receptions.

“We wanted our offense to take control. We were able to do that in the first half,” said head coach John Mackovic.

The Fighting Illini scored six touchdowns — three each running and passing — within 23 minutes, and three were scored inside of two minutes.

The defense was also on mark. The secondary, holding the Wildcats to just 77 yards through the air, picked off four passes. The line contained one of the nation’s premier running backs, Bob Christian, holding him to just 88 yards on 38 carries.

With a commanding halftime lead of 42-7, most of the Illinois starters took a rest and let the second team finish up the game. Back up quarterback Jason Verduzco led the offensive charge, adding a TD pass of his own and setting up two one-yard TD rushes. The defense remained strong, allowing only one touchdown in the third quarter.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Kimberly Kossof

The ‘Cats offense was tripped all day long by the Illini. The Orange and Blue could do no wrong over the Thanksgiving holiday break.

QB Jeff George sets up to pass behind the Illini offensive line. Tim Simpson, 69, sets up for Northwestern linebacker Matt Witt, 33.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Firm but understanding

Illini volleyball coach keeps his cool

Calm down Bob Knight, it'll be okay. Just relax. That just might be what Illini head volleyball coach Mike Hebert would say to the volcanic Indiana basketball coach.

Hebert, known as one of the best volleyball coaches in the country, takes a much different approach than Knight, one of the best basketball coaches in the country. Just ask senior middle blocker Nancy Brookhart.

Brookhart decided to come to Illinois, after an impressive high school career at Glenbard West High School in Glen Ellyn, because of Hebert's hard work ethic, stringent training methods and his open and honest approach to coaching.

"He places trust in you as a player, and in return that makes the player want to do a good job for him," said Brookhart.

"Mike is everything," said junior setter Barb Winsett. "He gives everyone a chance to voice their opinion, but he has the final say. He's understanding if you desperately have to miss a practice."

"He taught me to grow up," said junior outside hitter Lisa Dillman.

—Stephanie Sprague

Middle blocker Laura Bush, 3, dinks one over the net as outside hitter Bridget Boyle, 15, and setter Barb Winsett look on. Bush and Winsett were First Team All-Big Ten picks in 1989.

Outside hitter Bridget Boyle and middle blocker Nancy Brookhart block an Ohio State volley. Senior Brookhart was a First Team All-Big Ten selection in 1989.

Boyle makes the save. The senior outside hitter was a 1988 Second Team All-Big Ten pick.

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Ron Foley

Net result

Women's volleyball falls short of Big Ten, NCAA

Until three years ago, women's collegiate volleyball champions hailed from the sunny West coast. For a midwestern team to be competitive in the sport was unheard of until 1987, when Illinois reached the NCAA Final Four.

Though Illinois paved the way in 1987, and were rated fourth nationally in 1988, they somehow got caught behind in 1989 when the Big Ten proved tougher competition than anticipated.

"We underestimated the Big Ten, that was our biggest problem," said junior outside hitter Lisa Dillman. "We got more and more frustrated as the season went on."

Ohio State captured the Big Ten title, ending a three year domination of Illinois in conference play. The Illini finished second.

"The Big Ten was dominating, and other teams were always psyched and ready to kill us," said junior setter and captain Barb Winsett.

After finishing the regular season with 25 wins against seven losses, the Illini entered the NCAA tournament opposite Penn State, the Big Ten's newest member. The Illini beat the Lions 3 games to none.

Illinois advanced to the regional semifinals against Big Ten champion Ohio State. The Buckeyes beat the Illini twice during the regular season and the Illini wanted revenge—the regionals

photo by Ron Foley

Outside hitter Lisa Dillman jumps for the block against the Soviet National Team. The Soviets beat the Illini 3-1 in an exhibition match last season.

were the perfect time to seek it.

The Buckeyes fell to the charged Orange and Blue 3-1. The victory set up a rematch against an electric Nebraska team.

The Illini beat the Huskers 3-2 in a tough battle at Lincoln, Neb. earlier in the season. Another win against Nebraska would have sent the Illini to Honolulu for a third consecutive Final Four appearance.

But the same fire that the Illini used against Ohio State raged greater in the Huskers. Illinois' season was ended 3-1 as the Huskers proved unstoppable.

"When we got back to the hotel that night, we were kind of crying," said Dillman. "But when we looked back at the films, we realized that nobody could have beaten Nebraska that night."

"They were just incredible," said Winsett. "They were jumping and blocking every shot we made."

But the season was not all for nought. Middle blockers Laura Bush and Nancy Brookhart, and setter Winsett landed First Team All-Big Ten selections, with outside hitter Petra Laverman receiving Honoarble Mention.

Bush replaced graduated middle hitter Mary Eggers. The junior led Illinois to the Illini Classic Championship and was named tournament Most Valuable Player.

Bush was not alone in recognition. She was just part of the powerful "Three B's" trio of Bush, and seniors Brookhart and Bridget Boyle.

Brookhart, who finished 17th nationally in hitting proficiency, was the leading Illini hitter with a .394 average for the Illini Classic. The trio combined for a .500 average for the Classic with just three service errors.

A bright spot in the Illini future hails from the north—Canada, that is. Freshman Lorna Henderson, who led Stratford Central High School to three All-Ontario Championships from 1986 to 1989, dynamically played her first season with the Illini.

How the Illini do next season depends on spring training. The team is starting from scratch, with only Winsett with Final Four experience.

"We have six excellent freshman signees to offset the two senior losses to our team," said Dillman. Brookhart and Boyle have completed their collegiate eligibility.

The young team will have to "work their butts off" this spring, accordind to Brookhart. But Winsett, Bush and Dillman have the right attitudes to help the younger players along. Let's hope it's a winning attitude.

story by Stephanie Sprague layout by Rob Siders

Flyin' Illini

Basketball rebounds from player losses and NCAA investigation

While last season passed away as fast as each individual game with a trail of spontaneous and uncontrollable victories, the mood this season is a bit more somber. Terrible defeats at away games, personal injuries and most recently the NCAA inquiry had fans worried about the short-term future of men's basketball, such as "will they make it to the NCAA tournament?" And the long-term future of the team, such as "will there be a team?"

The Illini woes are as heavy off the court as on the court. An ongoing NCAA investigation has talk of the "death penalty" on everyone's lips.

Last season's foray of dunks and snake-like post play have had fans wondering what happened to the Flyin' Illini. They're still airborne, but with a few changes.

Kenny Battle landed in Phoenix as a first round draft choice in the National Basketball Association. He was originally drafted by the defending world champion Detroit Pistons but was later traded to the Suns.

Let's not forget Nick Anderson. The Godsend forward skipped his senior season with the Illini and turned to the pro ranks. Anderson is playing admirably for the expansion Orlando Magic.

The graduation loss of Lowell Hamilton and the academic loss of Larry Smith has head coach Lou Henson flustered. Smith was ineligible to play this season, but hopes to return for the 1990-91 campaign. He was expected to challenge Bardo for the point.

But what about this year?

Senior Steven Bardo, the 1989 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year, resumes the point guard spot along side teammate Kendall Gill. Bardo shared the Ralph Woods Award for free-throw shots with Gill. Named to almost everyone's pre-season All-American team, Gill is arguably the best guard in the nation.

After a rough Illini road his first two seasons, Marcus Liberty has caught fire in his junior campaign. As the nation's premier high school player at Chicago Simeon, Liberty has finally lived up to his potential this season. He scored a career high 33 points against Minnesota — eclipsing a previous high of 21.

Senior Ervin Small moves into the Battle-Anderson-Hamilton limelight this season. During the 1989 NCAA tournament, when both Hamilton and Battle couldn't play due to injuries, Small provided crucial pivot help in toppling a much stronger Louisville squad. The 6-7 big man has picked up where he left off, splitting time at the post with junior college transfers Rodney Jones and Andy Kpedi.

Jones, a 6-7 junior, transferred at semester break last season from New Mexico Junior College. At NMJC, he led his team to a 53-10 record and two conference titles with an average of 24.5 points and 14.1 rebounds a game. Kpedi, a junior transfer from Kankakee Community College, shares this position and is regaining his strength after fracturing his leg earlier this season. These three big men gives Henson a bit of freedom in the paint — three bodies with 15 fouls between them.

Sophomore Andy Kaufman, an early season starter for the Illini, has picked up where he left off before a blood clot ended his inaugural season with the Illini. The guard from Jacksonville is expected to provide a scoring punch for the Orange and Blue. He led the state in scoring both his sophomore and junior seasons at Jacksonville High School, averaging over 30 points per game.

The leadership of Bardo, Gill and three point shot ace P.J. Bowman in the backcourt is undoubtedly helping freshman Brooks Taylor. The freshman guard has played regularly with tenacity on defense — the Henson trademark.

However, one other new player is noticeably absent. Redshirt freshman Deon Thomas has missed his first season in an Illini uniform due to alleged improprieties surrounding his recruitment to the University of Illinois. Thomas, who averaged 24 points, 12 rebounds and 6 blocked shots per game and was named Mr. Basketball for the state of Illinois as a senior in high school, was allegedly offered $80,000 and an automobile to attend the U of I.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Joan Wilson

Steve Bardo, 1989 Big Ten Defensive Player of the Year, comes to a halt after dribbling downcourt after grabbing an Ohio State rebound.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Bardo reaches for the rebound during the game against Minnesota.

photo by Annie Pergande

Andy Kpedi, transfer from Kankakee Community College, hangs on the hoop after a slam dunk against Northwestern.

Kendall Gill, voted to the first-team pre-season All-Big Ten squad by Big Ten area media, looks for an open teammate.

Brooks Taylor attempts to block a Purdue pass.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Nora Hipolito

Illinois guard Steve Bardo reaches to place the ball in the basket against Michigan.

Gill goes up for the lay-up against Ohio State. Gill won the 1990 Big Ten scoring title with 390 points.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Ervin Small attempts a hook shoot against Northwestern. Small led the Big Ten in field goal shooting percentage at .548.

Bardo dribbles the ball to the Ohio State basket, looking for an opening in their defense.

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Annie Pergande

Bardo breaks up court against Indiana. The Illini went on to defeat the Hoosiers 70-65 and extended their winning streak to four consecutive games.

Purdue's Ryan Berning outrebounds Kendall Gill. However, the Illini were able to defeat the then Big Ten leaders 90-78.

Ervin Small goes up for a shoot against Northwestern. Illinois defeated the Wildcats 88-75.

Lou Henson, head coach, applauds a good play. Henson is currently tied with Harry Combes as Illinois' most victorious coach.

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Annie Pergande

Andy Kaufman dribbles down court against Michigan. Kaufman led Illinois in free throw shooting at .798.

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Annie Pergande

Rodney Jones takes a shoot over an Ohio State player's head. Jones scored 18 points as the Illini cruised to a 92-81 victory.

Illini sweep the Big Ten

The boys of summer head east to the NCAA

When the Illinois men's baseball team captured the Big Ten title last spring, it marked the 25th title Illinois had won since 1896. But more importantly, they won the chance to compete in the Northeast Regional of the NCAA Tournament, held in Waterbury, Conn. The 1989 Illini entered the tournament 41-14, and full of high hopes to earn a spot in the College World Series in Omaha.

Their hopes were not far-fetched. This was a team that maintained a .318 team batting average and scored seven runs a game. During the regular season Illinois did not lose more than two consecutive games, won 16 consecutive games over non-league foes and finished 17-11 in the Big Ten Conference.

But the season reached a critical point when their last games of the regular season, against Wisconsin, proved essential to securing a play-off spot in the Big Ten tournament. Pitching ace Rich Capparelli took the mound against the Badgers, aided by an Illini offense that scored 27 runs on 30 hits in the two game series and snagged a second place tie with Iowa. This capped a 12 game-11 day stretch, including eight games on the road.

Because Michigan was in first place, the tournament was held in Ann Arbor. The Orange and Blue were not only in enemy territory, but were seeded third against the competitors — Michigan, Minnesota and Iowa. And because of weak defense and fielding (8th in Big Ten with .956 team fielding percentage), Illinois was not predicted to win.

However, Illinois won against Iowa in the first game of the tour-namment, 8-7. Initially, Illinois had a 3-run lead, but Iowa soon caught up, and in the 9th inning tied Illinois 7-7. Iowa's Tim Costo was at bat and smashed a line drive into right field. Illinois junior right fielder, Emmitt Cohick, caught the ball and carried the game into another inning and finally a win.

But it was the double-elimination games against Michigan which demonstrated a stronger fielding and pitching team. With Capparelli pitching in the first game, the Illini put the score at 6-1 in the fourth, allowing Michigan one run in the third, before winning the game 7-1.

In game two, freshman infielder/pitcher Jason Moler stifled the Michigan bats again and shut out the Wolverines 2-0 for the first Illinois Big Ten baseball title since 1963. The championship gained the Illini an automatic berth in the NCAA tournament.

After winning the Big Ten tournament, graduated senior and pitcher Capparelli was voted to the all-tournament team and named Most Valuable Player. Junior infielder Bob Christensen (12th in Big Ten with .360 batting average), junior outfielder Don Cuchran (15th-.344), junior infielder Will Parsons (33rd-.308), and freshman pitcher/first baseman Bubba Smith (3rd-.397) were also voted to the all-tournament team.

On Thursday, May 23, 1989, Illinois entered the NCAA Tournament Northeast Regional seeded third and hoping to defeat Pennsylvania in a first round double-elimination tournament.

But instead, Illinois was crushed 7-1 behind Penn freshman pitcher Craig Connolly. Connolly gave up six hits and a ninth inning run en route to a victory. Illinois' Smith took the loss, his third of the season.

In the second round, Capparelli threw a 7-0 shut out against LeMoyne, a school in only its second year of Division I baseball. The Illini were still alive.

However, Illinois found themselves facing a tough Arkansas team next. Having lost to LeMoyne, the Razorbacks were in the same position as the Illini — in need of a win to survive. After shutting out Michigan in the Big Ten tournament, Moler gave up nine runs and Illinois' strong bats couldn't hit against Arkansas freshman pitcher Doug Bennett. Illinois lost the game and the chance to compete in the College World Series.

The 1990 Illini hope to pick up where this team left off — a berth in the College World Series and the national championship. They can only get better!

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Mike Krupicka

Bob Christensen misses for a strike, but the shortstop will provide a good bat for the Illini.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Another run crosses the plate. With a strong set of hitters returning, the Illini should have little trouble scoring.

Rich Hyde throws from the stretch. Hyde is a top returner from last year's Big Ten Championship team.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Emmitt Cohick slips under the tag to get back to first base. Cohick's 9th inning catch, against Iowa in the league playoffs, saved the Illini from defeat.

Sean Mulligan and Rich Hyde confer on the mound. Mulligan returns as Illini catcher after an injury filled season.

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Bob Christensen and Andy Small make the force at second. Christensen finished 12th in the Big Ten with a .360 batting average.

From second base Brian Roberts awaits the pitch.

photo by Annie Pergande

Hitting the books

Crack staff demands the best

There is no doubt about it — the baseball team wouldn't have won without the coaching staff of Coach Garrido, Coach Meat and Coach Thomson, as well as the assistants and managers. The fact that Illinois had a winning season last year is a good indication of the compatibility of the coaching staff, who "work great together," according to current sophomore Bubba Smith

"He should have been coach of the year," said Smith of Garrido. "He keeps us in line and reminds us to get our act together."

Most team members would admit that Coach Garrido's disciplining techniques of sprints and daily baseball practice was aggravating, but it seems too easy for college athletes to forgo another rigorous aspect of college competition — academia. In the strenuous training, traveling, physical competition and the focused encouragement by sports trainers to participate, studying can fall by the wayside.

Coach Augie Garrido is carrying on a tradition he started at the University of California-Fullerton into his third season with Illinois - victory. And it is not just urging victory on the baseball field, but demanding victory in the classroom as well.

Sean Mulligan chugs his way to second base.

*story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Mike Krupicka*

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

Jason Moler plays heads-up ball against ISU. The Illini infielder also pitches.

Bubba Smith takes a pitch for a strike. Smith is the returning Big Ten Player of the Year.

It's reigning outside

Illini women sprint to outdoor title

The Illini womens' track team did it again by winning the Outdoor Big Ten Championship for the second consecutive year.

Illinois accumulated 169 points en route to winning 11 events. Leticia Beverly led the way by placing first in the long jump, triple jump, and 100m hurdles and running a leg of the winning 4x100m relay team. Beverly became the Female Athlete of the Championships and Co-Athlete of the Year for her incredible efforts.

Other top athletes included Celena Mondie, Cindy Lawrence and Debbie Smith, who all set Outdoor Big Ten Championship records in the 200m dash, the high jump and the shotput, respectively. Eight Illini athletes obtained All-Big Ten status and Head Coach Gary Winkler was once again named Outdoor Big Ten Coach of the Year.

At the NCAA championships, Illinois was looking for another fine performance. What they achieved was their best showing ever, placing seventh overall. Eight qualifiers in 10 events totaled 23 points, only two points away from placing in the top five. Although no athlete won her event, five achieved All-American status. Among them were the 4x100m relay team, finishing second. Mondie finished third in the 400m and Debbie Smith the same in the shotput.

"In the NCAA outdoors, we just performed extremely well," said women's coach Gary Winkler.

The season was over for the team, except for Mondie, McClatchey, and Beverly. These top competitors were on their way to The Athletic Congress (TAC) championships. Debbie Smith also qualified in the shotput but declined the invitation in order to pursue her master's degree in physical therapy. This meet selects athletes for international competition, including the World University Games and the U.S. Olympic Festival. Beverly and McClatchey competed well in the 100m hurdles and the long jump, and the 100m dash, respectively. Mondie placed third in the 400m run, earning her a spot in the U.S. National Team and capping off her own, as well as the Illinois womens' track team's, most impressive season.

"It's probably the best performance Illinois women ever had at an open national championship other than the NCAA's," Winkler said.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Steve Warmowski

photo by Steve Warmowski

Winkler hopes to place high in the conference this year despite the loss of several senior key performers.

photo by Steve Warmowski

Celena Mondie and Angela McClatchey participate in a sprint. Both were members of the 1989 NCAA Indoor Championships in Indianapolis, Ind.

In 1989 the women's outdoor team won the Big Ten championship and finished seventh in the NCAA.

photo by Steve Warmowski

Two take TAC

Mondie, Simmering head for nationals

Sprinter Celena Mondie was named to the 1989 U.S. National Team after placing third in the 400m at the TAC championships. This selection enabled her to compete in the U.S.-USSR-Great Britain-West Germany Four-way Meet, the U.S. Olympic Festival, the World University Games and the International Amateur Athletic Federation World Cup V.

"It was no surprise that she made the national team this year," said head coach Gary Winkler. "She had a real good summer, a summer that she needed in a sense to get to Europe and learn exactly what it is like to run over there with some of the best in the world, and she did very well."

Freshman Laura Simmering earned similar honors by being selected to the U.S. Junior National Team after placing second in the 1500m run at the TAC Junior meet. She competed in three international meets over the summer: the U.S.-Canada Dual meet and the Junior Summer Games I and II. It will be exciting to watch her in the future!

—Matt Cantlin

Senior Helen Mastoris participates in a relay at an Illinois home meet. Mastoris was a member of the school indoor record-holding 4x800m relay team in 1989.

Victorious from the inside

The indoor track and field teams dash through the Big Ten

The 1988 indoor track and field teams dominated the Big Ten throughout the season, capping with championships at their conference meets. Sprinter Celena Mondie, for the women, and pole vaulter Dean Starkey, for the men, excelled in their events, contributing to the teams' successes. The 1988 performance continues to show the Illini's overwhelming strength in indoor track and field.

In 1988, the Illinois women hosted the Big Ten Women's Indoor Track and Field Championships. For the first time in the history of Illini women's track, they found themselves atop the conference standings.

"Being at home was a definite help," said head coach Gary Winkler. "And the maturity of the individuals we had in the field events really gave a boost for us."

The team tallied 116 points to beat Indiana, the 1988 champion. Junior Celena Mondie, in the 100m and 200m, and senior Leticia Beverly, in the long jump, set Big Ten indoor records. Mondie and Beverly were also selected to the All-Big Ten team along with sprinters Rene Carr, Althea Thomas, Angela McClatchey, and high jumper Cindy Lawrence. Winkler was voted Big Ten Indoor Coach of the Year by his fellow Big Ten coaches.

After the exciting Big Ten finish, the team anxiously awaited the NCAA championships. Following 1988's placing of 14th with seven athletes, the team predicted a stronger finish by sending 11 competitors in 10 events. Mondie and Beverly headed the qualifiers.

Overall, the team finished 13th, but this drastically understates their performance. The 4x400m relay team of Mondie, McClatchey, Carr, and Shayla Baine broke the American record. These team members, in addition to Mondie finishing fourth in the 200m, received All-American status for their outstanding achievement.

The men's team did equally well winning their third consecutive indoor championship.

"Basically it was a fairly solid team effort," said head coach Gary Wienneke. "We entered the meet without one of our big point producers from the year before, so everybody just knew they had to dig down and be able to place higher and get a little tougher. It was really a great team effort there. It might have been the best team effort we had in our string of five Big Ten championships."

The team totaled 94 points surpassing its closest opponent, Purdue, with 73. Main contributors to the victory were Bannon Hayes, Dean Starkey, and the 4x400m relay team. Hayes set a track record in the triple jump and Starkey did the same in the pole vault, while racking up his second straight indoor title.

The relay team of Cully Welyer, Hamilton Brown, Rich Kolasa and Lee Bridges defended their title by finishing first in the finals. All-Big Ten status went to triple-jumper Bob Oleson and the 4x800m relay team for their fine showings.

The Illini trackmen then turned their sights on Indianapolis, hosts of the NCAA championships. The team sent eight qualifiers and placed 14th overall. Starkey topped the Illinois competitors by setting the NCAA meet record in the pole vault, becoming a two-time national indoor champion. The 4x800m relay team also performed well, placing fifth.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Craig Cotton

Illinois runners Sylvester White and Hamilton Brown attempt to pass an Indiana runner during a meet in the Armory.

photo by Craig Cotton

Bob Shank does his best to avoid touching the bar after his pole vault during an indoor track meet at the Armory.

Front running Laura Simmering leads the pack in the Illini Classic at the Armory. Simmering was a member of the U.S. Junior national team in 1989.

photo by Craig Cotton

Winkler's success

Women's track gets boost from coach

Do coaches really get all the credit they deserve? Oh, sure, the players do all the work and the team's ultimate success is based on their performance, but does the coaching talent get overlooked? Not for Gary Winkler.

Winkler joined Illinois in 1985 after leaving Florida State University. Since his arrival he has led the Illini women to two consecutive Big Ten Outdoor titles and their first indoor championship. His strong leadership has also guided Illinois to their best placement ever, seventh, in the NCAA's.

Because of these great accomplishments, Winkler justly deserves the numerous awards bestowed on him while at Illinois. His list includes: Big Ten Outdoor Coach of the Year, 1988, '89, and Indoor Coach of the Year, 1989. In 1989 he was also named NCAA Coach of the Year after leading his team through their finest season.

Probably the coach's greatest achievement was being selected to head the U.S. Women's World Championship team at the World Indoor Championships last March in Budapest, Hungary. A most impressive honor for a dedicated coach.

—Matt Cantlin

Aaron Moharak strains for distance in the long jump during an indoor track and field meet.

photo by Craig Cotton

Champs again

Big Ten domination continues...

For the Illini men's track team, winning has become a habit. Last year, by becoming Big Ten Outdoor Champions, they continued their tradition. Illinois earned 153 points, defeating its nearest competitor, Purdue, by 35 points.

"Historically, there has been a great track tradition at Illinois," said coach Gary Wieneke. "But Purdue put some pressure on us last year and we had to buckle down and get after them."

Rod Tolbert, Tim Clancy, and Lee Bridges contributed greatly to the team's success. Tolbert showed his speed by taking the 100m and 200m titles.

"I've waited for this win for so, so long. It feels good," said Tolbert following his 200m victory.

Clancy, a walk-on junior, surprised everyone by winning the 800m.

"Everybody else didn't expect me to win, but it was not unexpected of me," he said. "The race got set up perfectly. I held back until about 300 meters to go, then I set up. With 200 meters to go I kicked. Then I just sucked it up to the line. It's the race of my life so far, but there's more to come."

"I felt great," said Bridges after his 400m victory. "Being from Indiana (Columbus) and now with my parents living in Indianapolis, it was kind of like a home track. I ran high school and other meets here, so I'm familiar with (the track). I heard footsteps, the crowd and I just tried to accelerate to the line because I knew it was going to be close."

Bridges and Tolbert teamed up with Cully Welyer and Charlton Hamer to outrun the competitors in the 4x400m relay, wrapping up Illinois' first place finishes. Coach Wieneke was once again recognized for his efforts by sharing Big Ten Outdoor Coach of the Year with Purdue coach Mike Poehlein.

With the Big Ten title in their possession, Illinois pursued greater recognition in the NCAA finals. They sent six athletes in five events: Tolbert in the 100m, Bridges in the 400m, Hamer in the 800m, Dean Starkey in the pole vault, and Bob Oleson and Bannon Hayes in the triple jump.

Bridges placed the highest, taking sixth, while his other team members showed strong efforts. Five of the six gained All-American status. The men's team continued to display their supremacy with yet another exciting championship season.

Four Illinois men also achieved personal recognition in the TAC meet. Here, The Athletic Congress selects participants for summer international competition. Sprinters Lee Bridges and Rod Tolbert, triple jumper Bob Oleson, and pole vaulter Dean Starkey all qualified for this meet by meeting the required marks for the events during their season. Based on their great performances, all four were allowed to compete in the Summer Sports Festival which included athletes from all over the world.

The "tradition" continues....

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Greg Carney

photo by Steve Warmowski

High placing in field events, such as the high jump, are essential if the Illini hope to continue their string of Big Ten championships.

Triple jumper Bob Olson lands in the pit. He qualified for the NCAA meet last year.

photo by Steve Warmowski

Dean Starkley on a pole vault approach. The All-American vaulter competed in the 1989 TAC and Summer Sport Festival meets.

Runners will lead the way as the Illini attempt to capture their fourth straight Big Ten title in 1990.

y Steve Warmowski

photo by Steve Warmowski

By George, the Illini did it!

Mack's attack squeezes Virginia in Florida Citrus Bowl to end drought

ORLANDO, Fla.—Was it just another game? Maybe it was. The Fighting Illini scored on their first possession, played on national television and won the game 31-21. Yawn.

But, then again, maybe it wasn't. After all, this was the Florida Citrus Bowl and the Illini have had their troubles in bowl games. But there was no trouble this time as the Illini beat the Virginia Cavaliers 31-21.

The Cavs' troubles started early. On the opening kickoff Marcus Wilson fumbled on his own 36, giving the Illini an excellent scoring opportunity. Five plays later Illinois had its first score off a 15-yard Jeff George TD pass to wide receiver Steven Williams.

"That fumble wasn't a killer," said Virginia head coach George

Welsh. "But it certainly didn't help. Both the offense and defense (of Illinois) overpowered and outmuscled us."

But Illini Coach John Mackovic had a different opinion. "How about that opening kickoff? That was a pretty big play," he said. "We stole the ball back and started inside their 40. That was a great momentum play for us."

From there the Illini defense kicked in again, holding UVa in check. With UVa at third down and goal from the Illini 11, linebacker Darrick Brownlow picked off quarterback Shawn Moore's pass in the end zone, thwarting the Cavaliers scoring threat.

Brownlow's interception nearly turned sour. Faced with the prospect of four big Virginia offensive linemen crunching him, Brownlow elected to down the ball for touchback. At least that's what he said.

"Fortunately (Brownlow) fell down," said Mackovic. "He'll tell you he really knew where he was. But from where I was, his eyes were real big. I knew where he was headed."

"I was gonna take off and then I saw about four guys," said Brownlow. "I fell on my face because I knew that first down from the 20 was better than from the one."

Early in the second quarter, the Hoos' Shawn Moore hit receiver Tim Finkelston on a 30-yard TD pass for their only score in the half.

But don't be fooled. George and Co. were on the mark, too. The Illini answered with a 9-play, 80-yard touchdown strike. The touchdown pass from George to tight end Dan Donovan was the key element of the game.

Faced with fourth down and inches from the goal line, fullback

Howard Griffith plunged over the top for what was thought to be the score. Uh-uh. Griffith's fake had everyone fooled as George casually tossed the ball to Donovan alone in the end zone.

A similar play was attempted against Michigan earlier in the season to tie the game at 17-17. The pass was broken up and the Illini went on to lose to the Wolverines 24-10.

Alluding to the "Michigan play" Mackovic said, "You can't second guess calls like that. But it makes me look smarter this time."

"Howard (Griffith) is the key to that play working. I just stuck my arm out," said George. "He almost faked me out. If I hadn't had the ball, I would have thought he had it."

In addition to Griffith's extraordinary fake, the senior fullback finished with 93 yards on 18 car-

Senior QB Jeff George looks for a familiar target. George, the 1990 Florida Citrus Bowl MVP, completed 26 of 38 passes for a season high of 321 yards.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Tackle Mel Agee, 92, reaches to block UVa QB Shawn Moore's pass. Agee was a First Team All-Big Ten player in 1989.

ries. The Illini rushing attack netted 176 total yards.

George, the Florida Citrus Bowl MVP, passed for a season high 321 yards, completing 26 on 38 attempts. He threw one interception and three touchdown passes.

His yardage for the day placed him second in the Florida Citrus Bowl record book, behind Richmond's Buster O'Brien. O'Brien threw for 447 yards against Ohio in the 1968 game.

The Illini rounded out their first half with a drive to the UVa 17 yard-line. Kicker Doug Higgins poked a 34-yard field goal through the uprights with one second left in the half, giving the Illini a 17-7 lead.

Receiver Mike Bellamy was also an offensive force in the game. He caught eight passes for 166 yards, a career high. He and George connected on a 68-yard pass midway through the second quarter. It was the longest completion for the Illini this season.

"If my stock with the pro's went up, I'm happy," said Bellamy. "But my main concern was winning."

The sticky Illini defense turned out another strong showing. The Wahoos were limited to 212 yards passing and just 134 yards rushing. They held 1,000-yard rusher Wilson to just 10 yards for the game and otherwise stifled a strong running team.

"We just couldn't get on track, and our tailbacks didn't start playing well until the late in the third quarter," said Welsh of his team's running game. "(Terry) Kirby didn't become a factor until too late." The freshman running back was the Cavs' top gainer with 64 yards on eight carries.

"The Illini defense looked as good as Clemson's," said Welsh, referring to fellow ACC member. "And we haven't been able to beat them in the past, either."

The Cavaliers are winless in 30 games against the Tigers. Welsh is 0-for-8.

The Illini picked up two more TDs in the second half. The first came off a 3-yard sweep to the right from Griffith in the third quarter. The second was sandwiched between two UVa touchdowns that capped the Cavaliers' scoring. George found Bellamy for a 24-yard TD pass in the fourth quarter.

All-American nose tackle Moe Gardner finished with five tackles, including one tackle-for-loss. The TFL extended his streak to 13 straight games with a tackle for minus yardage.

"I think (Virginia's) offensive line had trouble executing against us," said Gardner. "That's our focus for the game — stop the run. They got frustrated because they didn't play like they wanted."

Brownlow was selected as Illinois' Most Valuable Defensive player. The junior linebacker came up with seven solo tackles and one interception.

The Florida Citrus Bowl was formerly called the Tangerine Bowl. The name was changed for the 1983 game when Tennessee beat Maryland, 30-23. The bowl has sold out ten straight years, including this year's record of 60,016 attendance.

story by Robert Siders
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Scott Jacobson

Receiver Mike Bellamy and George celebrate the 31-21 Florida Citrus Bowl triumph of Virginia. The tandem connected eight times for 166 yards, including a 68-yard TD.

Illini make amends

The "Oh-fer-80s" come to an end on New Year's Day

ORLANDO, Fla.—It finally happened! It's here! The Fighting Illini have broken their 24 year bowl game victory drought. The Illini captured the 1990 Florida Citrus Bowl Championship, overcoming the Atlantic Coast Conference Co-Champion Virginia Cavaliers 31-21.

"Satisfaction from this game? No—I had threats," said Illini head coach John Mackovic after the game. "There were little old ladies coming to me and asking, 'Hey coach, when are we gonna win a bowl game?'"

This was serious. After proclaiming the "80s Belong to the Illini," upon hiring former head coach Mike White, the football teams just couldn't win the bonus game.

•In 1982, the Illini lost to Bear Bryant's Alabama Crimson Tide, 21-15, in the Liberty Bowl. This was Bryant's final game.

•A return to the Rose Bowl in 1984 turned sour as the Illini were beaten 45-9 by UCLA.

•The 1985 Peach Bowl, against Army, found Illinois on the losing side of a 31-29 score.

•And in 1988, Mackovic's first season at Illinois, the Illini lost 14-10 to Florida in the All American Bowl.

"Two things motivated this team. The first is that Illinois was winless in four bowl games in the 80s. The second, and more importantly, was winning that 10th game," said Mackovic. "You look at all the great Illinois teams throughout history and only three have won ten games, including this team. Virginia won ten games this year, these are great teams."

But this is no longer the 80s. A new decade and a new century, of Illini football is now underway. The 1990 season celebrates 100 years of Illinois gridiron.

—Robert Siders

Fullback Howard Griffith runs around UVa defensive end Ray Savage. Griffith finished the day with 93 yards on 18 carries.

photo by Steve Warmowski

Mike Bellamy evades a Cavalier defender. The Illini wide receiver grabbed eight passes in the Florida Citrus Bowl.

Jamie Gravgaard, senior in ENG, and Gail Strassner, junior in LAS, two Illini fans at the Citrus Bowl, show their enthusiasm.

Hail to the orange

Illini in Clone Bowl again

ORLANDO, Fla.— M-I-C — Sea of orange and blue. K-E-Y — Why? Because it was the second time in as many football seasons that the Illini played in an all orange and blue bowl game.

The 1990 Florida Citrus Bowl, like the 1988 All-American Bowl, again featured two teams whose colors were orange and blue. The Illini played the Florida Gators in the All-American Bowl in a 14-10 loss.

But this year's Florida Citrus Bowl had a slightly different outcome for the 10th ranked Illini. The Orange and Blue — from Illinois, that is, defeated the Virginia Cavaliers 31-21. The win gave the Fighting Illini its first bowl victory since the 1964 Rose Bowl, led by linebacker Dick Butkus and running back Jim Grabowski led in a 17-7 win over Washington.

But because the Huskies' colors are black and gold, fans couldn't confuse the teams, as some did this time.

"Who are you for? It doesn't matter, I guess. As long as you root for the orange and blue team you can't go wrong," said Betty Stevens, a Florida Citrus Bowl spectator from Charlottesville, Va. "But I'm rooting for UVa."

"I found myself cheering for the wrong team a couple of times," said a Virginia fan. "The Illini have orange helmets, ours are white. I had to look at the helmets to make sure who was who."

—Robert Siders

photo by Steve Warmowski

photo by Scott Jacobson

Flanker Steven Williams jukes defensive back Jason Wallace. The Illini finished the day with 487 total yards against the Wahoos.

photo by Scott Jacobson

He ain't heavy, he's our Bubba

Smith lives to compete, but it all comes down to the team

Wearing a green baseball hat turned around on his head and carrying a burrito in his hand, Bubba Smith seems less intimidating than he is on the field.

"Once you become satisfied with what you're doing - it's over, and you'll never be the best," said Charles "Bubba" Smith, sophomore in LAS, who gained his nickname, not from teammates, but from his little sister who couldn't say "brother."

One would think being named Big Ten Conference Player of the Week for pitching a three-hit shut out against Michigan last April would be quite enough to satisfy Bubba's goals during his first year with the baseball team.

Okay, maybe it's not that great. Perhaps Big Ten Conference Player of the Year was more appropriate for the 1989 recruit from California. He was one of four Illini pitchers who won 10 games in a season and is the first freshman at Illinois to win at least 10 games. Not only did Bubba lead the 1989 team in strikeouts, he was also first baseman and set Illinois records with a .452 batting average and 16 multiple hit games last season.

Smith also led the league in home runs (nine), batting average (.407), RBI'S (29), and game-winning RBI's (six), which set a conference mark. On the mound, he started seven Big Ten games, and his ERA (4.74) ranked 17th in the nation. This added up to an All-Big Ten selection at first base.

Most of these numbers were piled up during an 11 day period when Illinois played 12 games, including eight away games. Illinois finished 7-5 and was automatically included in the Big Ten tournament after a pair of crucial wins against Wisconsin.

"It was endurance. We were underrated as a team and we wanted to make a name for ourselves," said Bubba. "We gained confidence by playing quality baseball teams, and we have the confidence this season to play any baseball club in the nation."

Challenges are what it's all about.

"You live to compete," Bubba said, regarding his hometown of Riverside, California, where the climate of competition in work and sports is as hot as the sun. He should know. He led the Riverside High School baseball team in RBI's and hits and was Riverside County Player of the Year when Coach Augie Garrido recruited him.

And now Bubba will begin another season of baseball as Player of the Year, except the title now encompasses the Big Ten arena. He was honored with the award after Illinois' sweep of Iowa during the Big Ten tournament. Illinois' final victories (7-1, 2-0) in the tournament, against first seeded Michigan, led the Illinois team to the Big Ten Championship and a spot in the NCAA Northeast Regional Championship in Waterbury, Connecticut.

But none of this gets his mind off fall try-outs, which currently involve pre-season games and practice.

"If my batting average is below a recruit's, I wouldn't make the team," Bubba said. (A slight knee injury is the only obstacle to keep him from playing baseball.) "It's a fresh start. We have a whole new pitching system this year. Coach Garrido doesn't want me to lay back, and it's a way to motivate new players."

But what is the number one thing that Bubba wants to improve his sophomore year?

"School work. I need more concentration and responsibility with school," said Bubba, a sociology major with hopes of becoming a probation officer.

The California sun has left its mark on Bubba, whether it's on his red cheeks or his spirit for competition. It's not just competition against himself and the trail of records he has broken, but competition as a team, particularly after Illinois lost the Regional title and the chance to be in the College World Series late last spring.

"I'd like to win the College World Series all three years and to have the NCAA Tournament played here, that's what I'd like," he said. "Everyone is a hard-working player, and we play together well. It takes every person to win. There is a new hero in every game, but it all comes down to the team."

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Annie Pergande

photo by Annie Pergande

After taking a healthy cut, Bubba watches the ball curve foul. He wants the Illini to take Big Ten and NCAA crowns, too.

photo by Annie Pergande

Throwing strikes is what Bubba does best, but making the play at first is still good for an out.

Bubba chases one in the dirt. The returning Big Ten Player of the Year will chase his title again.

Football's best kept secret

The Illini offensive line is the backbone of every play

If I asked 100 U of I students to name one of the starting offensive linemen, I highly doubt that I would get a response. Most could probably name the quarterback, a running back, a wide receiver, or even a defensive linebacker. Why? Because these positions are in the media spotlight. It seems that they get all the credit when the team wins, while other important players' performances are overlooked. This is the case for football's offensive linemen.

Just to refresh your memory, the offensive line is responsible for protecting the quarterback and cutting holes in the defense for their running backs. These tasks are harder than they sound. Imagine having five or six big, hungry, defensive animals charging at your quarterback or hunting down your ball carriers. And it's your job to stop them. Not many would be willing, or able, to withstand these attacks.

So what about these silent heroes, the men responsible for giving the necessary time to their passer or room for their runners, the "backbone" of the offensive structure? How do they feel about their understated position in the media?

"It is something you have to live with," said Tim Simpson, Illini offensive guard. "You just know you aren't going to get a lot of credit and when trouble does arise, you know you are going to be the finger. But, you take pride in a successful play because you are an intricate part of it."

Although their efforts go unnoticed by most sportscasters and sportswriters, they don't escape the eyes of their coaches or fellow team members. They recognize the offensive lineman's position as an integral part of the team's success by congratulating them when they execute well.

This is not confusion—it's a goal line plunge. The Illini offense thrashed Wisconsin for a 32-9 Homecoming win.

"When we watch films (of past games), we all compliment each other," said Craig Schneider, offensive tackle. "That's good enough."

"Every game you always hear the coach say, 'Well the game is dependent on whether the offensive line plays well nor not,'" said Curt Lovelace, Illini center. "That's a lot of pressure, but it's the kind I like."

This pressure only adds to the heavy load they already bear. The outcome of a game is directly related to the offensive line's contribution. Only hard work off the field keeps them from breaking down.

Practice is a key ingredient in a player's performance and attitude in a game. It builds strength, endurance, technique and confidence though improvement. The offensive line practices long and hard: three hours a day, excluding weekends, during the season. What's the worst thing about practice?

For some, like first year starting tackle Tony Laster, "It's just getting over there after class when you are tired and having about three hours ahead of you."

For others, it's "bags and boards" agreed Simpson and Schneider.

"We have 18 offensive linemen and we make nine groups of two," said Schneider. "One guy holds the bag while the other fires off toward it, driving into it. Then you switch positions. It just happens like lightning — you do it for about 25 minutes and it's the first thing you do at practice. It really gets your heart going." After this fun task, "we do a lot of a lot little tedious technique stuff with an incredible amount of repetition and no variety," added Lovelace.

These practices are topped off by visits to the weight room at least twice a week. From the practice field to the stadium, their determination remains constant.

"I think we, as an offensive line, have to work a little bit harder because we're not as athletic as a defensive back or someone like that," said Lovelace. "We have to work a little bit harder to make ourselves better."

"We have a job and we go out and do it," said Laster.

They also endure punishment — injuries to their legs, knees, and fingers, while doing their best to protect the quarterback or block for the ball carriers. Though the initial praises eludes them, these self-motivated individuals know they play a key role in the success of the team. Glory or not, they are always out there fighting. So next time when you are watching a football game, take a look at the offensive line every now and then and discover football's best kept secret.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Annie Pergande

Quarterback Jeff George and tackle Craig Schneider "slap fives." Schneider is this season's offensive captain.

photo by Ron Foley

Center Curt Lovelace and Kamen Bell push open a hole at Purdue. The Illini defeated the Boilermakers 14-2.

How the big stay big

A little gluttony and a ton of work

The offensive linemen are usually the biggest athletes on a team. This year is no exception for the Illini. The linemen average 6' 3" and 280 lbs. Their position requires it. No 150 lb. weakling is going to stop the rampage of a defensive monster. But since these men lose plenty of weight through practicing and playing, they must consume massive amounts of food to keep their giantlike figures intact.

Among their favorite indulgences are pizza, gyros, Big Mac's and, fitting enough, La Bamba's "bigger than your head" burritos. It's a tough digestion, but someone has to do it.

Besides sticking to their "normal" eating habits, these men work out regularly to add bulk and strength to their already huge bodies. They swarm the university weight room, in the northeast corner of Memorial Stadium, two or three times a week. They mainly concentrate on their legs, chest and arms. The "squat" is the premier exercise for leg strength, while the "bench press" is the best for chest development. "Supplements" are used to enhance the biceps and triceps.

For these athletes, adding strength is crucial to their performance. For this reason, it shouldn't surprise you that the bench press for the offensive line ranges from 350 to 450 lbs. That's a lot of weight. I wouldn't leave my Chevette just lying around somewhere for fear of these guys walking off with it.

The offensive line's size is a big plus for playing their positions. These men can never be too strong. They continue to eat heartily and work out extensively. This means added time in the weight room and, above all, revenues to the local food businesses.

Games are won and lost at the line of scrimmage. The Ohio State Buckeyes lost the "trench war," and the game 34-14.

—Matt Cantlin

Where is he from?

Illini basketball transfers come from the darndest places

There are junior college transfers and then there are transfers that really go out of their way to attend college and play sports. Some come from the area, like Illini senior guard P.J. Bowman who hails from Champaign and attended Parkland College.

And there are those transfers like junior Rodney Jones—the lanky 6-feet 7-inch forward came to Illinois from his native Philadelphia, via New Mexico Junior College (NMJC).

However, players such as junior Andy Kpedi travel much further. Kpedi is from Warri, in the Midwestern region of Nigeria. Nigeria is also home to Akeem Olajuwon, from the National Basketball Association's Houston Rockets.

But how did Kpedi wind up at Illinois? Kankakee Community College (KCC) coach Denny Lehnus spotted him playing basketball four years ago and brought him back to another midwest region — Kankakee.

In the two years that Kpedi spent at KCC, he helped them win 61 out of 73 games. He averaged 16 points a game and totaled 546 rebounds in two seasons.

In 1989, Kpedi, who began playing basketball when he was sixteen, helped the Cavaliers to a second place national finish and was named Most Valuable Player for NJCAA Region IV. In addition, he was also on Purdue's, Michigan's, Illinois' and Iowa's recruitment list at the end of his sophomore year.

"They all have excellent academic programs. All of them have the same basketball program. All of the them were the same except that Illinois is closest to Kankakee," said Kpedi.

Jones, or "Mr. Mean" as he is called, spent two seasons at NMJC before transferring to Illinois. He played in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference, considered one of the best in the country.

But that didn't slow him down. He led his team to a 53-10 record over two seasons and averaged 24.5 points and 14.1 rebounds per game during the 1987-88 season.

He didn't take long to make his presence known in Champaign, either. After sitting out the spring 1989 semester, Jones took charge at the Prairie State Games, last July, in Champaign.

He led his Blue-Gray region to the open men's division basketball championship, scoring 32 points in the title game. Also on the team was former Illini and current Phoenix Suns player Kenny Battle.

This season Jones has been a force in the lane, rotating with Kpedi and senior Ervin Small at the post.

But Kpedi's situation is more complex. When Kpedi is asked if his parents have seen him play basketball for Illinois, the 6-7 center asks, "which parents?"

His first set of parents are Jeremiah and Agness Kpedi, of Warri. And then there's his second set of parents—Marc and Laurie Gibson from Kankakee. While his biological parents in Nigeria haven't seen their son play, the Gibson's regularly attend home games.

Kpedi is the oldest of four brothers and three sisters. "Teenagers have more freedom here. You don't get paid money in Nigeria, you work for your parents and money goes into a pot, but you get everything from them," said Kpedi, noticing many differences in American society from the monetary system to family life.

"Our family includes everybody," said Kpedi, referring to his aunts, uncles, cousins, grandparents, "Here they don't give too much attention to the family - it only is the husband, wife and children."

His mother owns a "petit" grocery store.

"It is not like those big stores, here," he said. His father owns a hardware store that sells fishing items.

"I lived on the ocean, but I didn't catch anything," he said.

Kpedi's talent might not encompass finding things in a net, but it does include putting things through a net.

"I wasn't concerned with living 7,000 miles away from Nigeria, but I was concerned about leaving my friends in Kankakee," said Kpedi.

While away from his native country, the Gibson's not only gave Kpedi emotional support the last three years, but they were responsible for helping him adjust to the United States. He said his successful adjustment involved more than simply speaking English, which is an official language in Nigeria, but also included a personality adjustment.

"I would have been much quieter if it weren't for them," he said.

This season, Kpedi fractured his left leg after the Temple game. But his return has shown, against Minnesota and Purdue late in the season, he is an important factor in the front court.

"I've never been in a situation that I couldn't do something," he said.

"The crowd was really good, they sounded like a 747 jet taking off, and that makes us feel really good," he added in regard to the Assembly Hall crowd.

The crowds will most likely be louder in the future, as both Kpedi and Jones become fixtures for the Illini basketball team.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Joe Trojanowski

photo by Steve Warmowski

Looking down-court, Kpedi goes in for a shot.

With head and shoulders above the opponents, Jones goes up easily for a shot.

photo by Scott Vesecky

photo by Craig Cotton

Kpedi spots a teammate while getting pressured by an opponent.

Illini's Jones aims to get a shot in amidst pressure from the opponents.

Illini Spikers celebrate their first round NCAA tournament victory over Penn State by singing "Hail to the Orange." The Illini defeated Ohio State in the next round, but were defeated by Nebraska to end Final Four hopes.

photo by Lloyd Young

Junior Lisa Dillman and senior Nancy Brookhart block a hard hitting spike against Notre Dame.

Coach Mike Hebert and Nancy Brookhart watch the Northwest game. Hebert has led the Illini to three Big Ten titles and two Final Four appearances.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

Too tall is too good

Volleyball's Nancy Brookhart joins prestigious ranks

When Nancy Brookhart finished her Illini volleyball career last December, she joined the ranks of such Illini stars as Disa Johnson (1987) and Mary Eggers (1988).

Brookhart helped the Illini to three consecutive Big Ten titles and two NCAA Final Four appearances. But the Illini fell short in their 1989 quest — an unprecedented fourth straight Big Ten crown and the National Championship.

Brookhart began her volleyball career when she was in eighth grade. She tried out for almost every sport and was overlooked — except in volleyball.

But the only reason she made the volleyball team was her height. Her season consisted of one game for 30 seconds — she didn't even touch the ball, she said.

"I tried out for everything as a seventh grader, too. But I was too tall and uncoordinated," she said. "I wanted to prove myself. They only played me one game, but I thought 'I'll show them.' I stuck with it because I found I had talent and I had something to put my time to."

When she graduated from Glenbard West High School in Glen Ellyn, she was one of the nation's top volleyball players. Kudos like that give athletes freedom — freedom to attend any college they want.

"I liked Illinois because of the team oriented atmosphere," she said on her selection of Illinois. "Everyone went out together and they seemed concerned about me."

However, her career at Illinois did not flow as smoothly.

"The biggest challenge was balancing my life. All I wanted to do was play volleyball," she said. "I wanted an education, but only after I played as long as I could with no academic efforts."

Her effort was concentrated into winning and practicing, but this approach led her to a quagmire of eligibility woes — as a sophomore and junior, her grades caused a sticky problem. The G.P.A. standards increased and made it difficult to bring her average up to par.

Knee troubles also slowed Brookhart. Surgery on her right knee chronically limited her playing and practice time. Frustration and guilt set in.

"I wasn't doing everything at practices, like sprints and hard workouts. (The team) was sweating while I'd be sitting on the sidelines," she said. "I thought they would resent me, but they were very supportive."

The 1989 Big Ten race was also a grueling challenge. And that, according to Brookhart, was a good thing.

"I think that (Illinois) being good has only improved the Big Ten," she said. Brookhart was a four-time First Team All-Big Ten selection at middle blocker and a three-time Second Team All-American.

"I think it is great to see volleyball grow in the midwest," she added. The sport has been dominated by west coast teams and Hawaii, but in 1989 four Big Ten teams were selected to the NCAA tournament.

Iowa, Minnesota and Big Ten

Champion Ohio State were chosen along with Illinois. And if new conference member Penn State is included, the total comes to five teams.

Brookhart, who graduates in May with an English degree, is working this semester as an intern for the WCIA-TV sports desk in Champaign. She's also trying out for the U.S. National Volleyball Team in June.

The team will compete in the 1992 Olympics in Barcelona, Spain. Brookhart, who is already on the "B" team, feels that they have a foundation for her position and with hard work she can make the "A" team.

Eggers, who led the Illini to the NCAA Final Four in 1987 and 1988, ended her Illini career with 1,761 kills and a .420 hitting average. She joined the "A" squad last year and trains with the team in San Diego.

"Mary and I were always in competition with each other," said Brookhart. "Her being so good made me want to try harder. She was a standard to live up to."

While her former teammates are gearing for spring practices, Brookhart doesn't feel in an awkward transition between the collegiate and national levels. She almost revels in her post-eligibility free time.

"Are you kidding? It's great not being on a strict schedule," she said. "If I don't feel like doing something in the morning, I can always do it in the afternoon."

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

Lisa Dillman, sets the ball for a Nancy Brookhart spike. Brookhart will try out for the U.S. national team in June.

"Golden" girls continue to shine

Women's basketball team has high hopes for the 90s

Whoever said that women can't play basketball has never seen the Illinois women's basketball team. And whoever said that he never saw a girl over 5' 7" hasn't been to Assembly Hall lately. This talented group of women average 5' 10" with their height ranging from 5' 4" to 6' 4".

The Illinois women's basketball team returns in 1990 under sixth-year head coach Laura Golden. After a sixth place finish in the Big Ten last year, the team hopes for an improved season. Three returning starters and six upperclass women provide experience and leadership while four new additions provide depth.

Senior Kristen Haynes controls the offense from the point, while senior Doris Carie, junior Josie Todd and sophomore Arlena Roach help from the guard positions.

"Kris is a leader on the court and in the classroom," Golden said. "Her teammates elected her captain based on her leadership abilities. As a scorer, she worked very hard on shooting during the last two summers to establish herself as a scoring threat."

Newcomer freshman Jill Estey was one of the nation's top rated point guards coming out of high school. She was an Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) first-team All-American at the AAU national 18-and-under championships last June.

"Jill has great court awareness. She knows when somebody is open when people in the stands can't even see it. Jill could see plenty of playing time at the point guard position and could contend for conference Freshman of the Year honors," Golden commented.

The forward positions are filled by juniors Sarah Sharp and Stephanie Dial and sophomores Sharmella Walker and Sonya Waters. Dial, a junior college transfer, begins her first season at the U of I this year.

"Stephanie gives us the depth that we need over the course of a long season," Golden admitted. "At this level of competition, we need a solid group of players to keep the quality of play consistent.

Dial gives us that consistency. She is an excellent fundamental player and a solid shooter."

The most visible players on the court are the centers, senior Kerry VanHandel, sophomores Monica Cundiff and Kate Riley and freshman Connie Ruhoff.

"Connie runs the floor well and has a great touch around the bucket," Golden said.

With a strong, enthusiastic team and an enhanced schedule, chances for a rewarding season look good. The addition of four exceptional newcomers brings depth and versatility creating a well-rounded team.

"Our schedule is much better balanced than it was last year. It gives the athletes pre-conference competition that allows them to evaluate themselves against top teams."

Next time you're looking for something different to do, go to Assembly Hall and witness the magic of the "golden" girls. You'll be surprised by what you see.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Fanella

Coach Laura Golden signals instructions to her Illini. During her sixth season as coach, Golden hopes for an improved Big Ten finish.

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Joe Trojanowski

Senior Kerry VanHandel stretches for the rebound.

Senior Doris Carie takes a shot. The senior is expected to lend a hand at guard this season.

photo by Steve Warmowski

Jill Estey on the break. The freshman guard was a top rated player and All-American as a high school senior.

Sarah Sharp finds a lane for the easy two points. The junior forward has emerged as a bright spot for the Illini.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

photo by Steve Warmowski

Captain Kristen Haynes drives to the hole. "She worked very hard on shooting to establish herself as a scoring threat," said head coach Laura Golden of the senior.

Sophomore Sonya Waters pushes the shot.

photo by Steve Warmowski

Polk turns pro

Former Illini begins second season in Europe

Former Illini great Jonelle Polk begins her second professional basketball season in Europe this year. While at the U of I, Polk dominated both ends of the court. She is currently the all-time leader in both scoring and defense at Illinois. During her four years as an Illini, she led her team to consecutive NCAA bids in 1986 and 1987. She achieved conference and district recognition by receiving All-Big Ten Conference honors and Kodak All-District honors in '86 and '87, and the Big Ten Medal of Honor in '87. She gained national status as a member of the United States pre-Olympic team.

Women's basketball is taken seriously in Europe. The Italian league, which Polk played in last year, is ranked number one in the world with Spain and Switzerland right behind. Each team is allowed to carry only two foreign players and Polk was selected to play on the Ferrara, Italy, team. Besides a monetary salary, Polk received an apartment, a car, and a daily meal.

Despite Polk's fine performance, averaging 15 points and 12 rebounds a game, her team finished 14th. Because the Italian league drops its three lowest team members each year to admit others, Polk had to find a new team. She is currently playing professionally in Spain with hopes of returning to Italy.

—Matt Cantlin

Life after the NCAAs

The men's gymnastics team pulls through

Head gymnastics coach Yoshi Hayasaki chuckles while remembering the words he spoke at a press conference last spring.

Right after the Illinois' men's gymnastic team won the NCAA National Championship, Hayasaki waged that "our nine man team" would win the national title again in 1990.

Hayasaki's confidence was understandable.

After all, his "nine man team" went to Lincoln, Nebraska, in April 1989, ranked third behind Houston Baptist and UCLA, and left with the NCAA title. The title was the first that any Illinois team has won in 31 years and was the ninth gymnastics title.

Competing with the top 10 national teams, Illinois defeated Minnesota and Nebraska — the same teams they lost to just two days before during the preliminaries. Illinois scored 282.95 in the preliminaries and 283.40 points in the finals.

However, Hayasaki's prediction came back to haunt him this fall when two members of the team, Dominick Minicucci and Emilio Marrero, announced they would not return to Illinois for their junior year. Marrero placed 14th in the all-around, while Minicucci did not participate due to a shoulder injury.

"They didn't want to bother with school," said Hayasaki. "It's difficult for any athlete to keep up with school. They just did what had to be done in the scholarship program and left."

Minicucci, a member of the 1988 U. S. Olympic team and Marrero, a member of the 1988 U.S. National Team, are both concentrating on gymnastics full-time.

Dave Romero, captain of the 1989-90 team, also competed outside the college circuit. Romero trains in Mexico with the Mexican National Team and placed 89th out of 250 gymnasts from around the world in the World Gymnastics Championship in Stuttgart, West Germany, last October.

Romero, a fifth year senior who redshirted his junior year due to a knee injury, finished seventh at the NCAA Championships. Romero returns as the lone senior on the Illini squad.

Minicucci and Marrero weren't the only members of the team who didn't return to Illinois. Hayasaki lost seven seniors to graduation, three of whom had proven their individual talents in the all-around finals.

David Zeddies tied for fourth place in the all-around finals, taking a silver medal on the high bars and a bronze medal for the floor exercise. Named an All-American and All-Big Ten gymnast, Zeddies received the Nissan award as 1989's outstanding collegiate gymnast. Chris McKee was the Big Ten champion in both the floor exercises and the vaulting events and Mike Mingle was the Big Ten champion in the high bars event.

During the team competition, Zeddies scored a 9.8 on the rings and senior Joel Tucker scored a 9.0 on the high bar routine. But vaulting was the key to winning the competition when Illinois beat Minnesota by 1.25 points and Nebraska by 1.75, giving Illinois a score of 47.05.

This year, Hayasaki has two specialists on the pommel horse. Junior Lee Wolochuk and his twin brother Mark placed in the Illinois State High School finals. Lee took first and Mark took second in the event.

Sophomores David Pearlstein, John Redman and Steve Hutchings are top all-arounders while George Linhart is a rings specialist. Aside from Romero, however, no other team member has competition experience.

Scholarship freshmen Ricardo Cheriell, Nate Baker and Sean Henderson got their first taste of competition at the Windy City Invitationals in January.

Despite the adversities, Hayasaki remains confident that his team will respond.

"It will take about another year before we'll be national champions again," said Hayasaki. "They are quick learners."

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Alex Tziortzis

Ricardo Cheriell practices some tough moves on the parallel bars during practice.

With intense composition and poise, David Romero makes parallel bars look easy. Romero is also member of the

DI file photo

Swinging around

Illini finish eighth at Windy City meet

Gymnastics is one sport an Illinois team can come in ahead of Michigan. The men's gymnastics team scored 256.40 points finishing eighth in the 12-team field at the Windy City Invitational in Chicago. The Wolverines finished ninth. Minnesota placed first with 274.65 points.

But the competition also showed off David Romero, who finished first in the still rings with a score of 9.7. Romero also placed third in the all-around with a score of 107.25 and sixth in on the pommel horse with a 9.0 score.

Daniel Petritis scored a 9.4 in the floor exercises, which ranked him third in the event. David Pearlstein placed 14th in the all-around with 92.35 points.

—Stephanie Sprague

photo by Alex Tziortzis

Romero tests his muscle control and balance when practicing floor exercises. Romero was the lone senior on the 1990 squad.

"Love" and war and wins

Tennis teams look for improving seasons

Last year the men ended their season placing eighth in the conference, while the women earned seventh place. These finishes are deceiving, as both teams played well but came up short in the Big Ten Tournament.

Men's Tennis

"Considering the depth of the Big Ten and the players we had on the team, we could have finished higher; we did come on toward the very end of the season," said men's head coach Neil Adams. "We did play well when we needed to, we just lost a couple of close matches towards the end."

This year Adams begins his fourth season and expects a much improved showing.

"We have a very experienced and enthusiastic group of guys this year. We have ten solid team players, there is no weak link," he said.

Leading the team are four seniors: Brian Dillman, John Murray, Hector Ortiz and Gary Pearne, who was twice named most improved player. Ortiz upset Michigan All-American Dan Goldberg, the nation's third best player, at the conference tournament.

"We have lacked confidence and leadership in the past," said Adams, "but now we have it. Confidence is very tough to acquire when you are losing — so we expose ourselves to the best teams in the country. All we have to do is win a few of these matches to get that confidence. We have done it this fall and will continue to do it. As our confidence builds, the possibility of a Big Ten championship increases."

Rounding out the remainder of the squad are Neil Brown, David Nasser and Mark Krajewski, last year's most valuable player. Brown was the biggest surprise player last year — he started out playing in the seventh spot, but by spring, moved up to the first in the dual matches.

"Our best team effort last year came towards the end of the season," remembered Brown. "We played number one Michigan and took them to match points. We lost 5 - 4."

"Michigan has always been a big rivalry for all Illinois sport teams. Being atop the conference, they thought they could just roll over us for an easy victory. Well, we defeated Michigan State the day before and we were pumped for Michigan. We gave them a battle," Dillman said.

Three transfer students fill the remaining three spots. Mark Hoppenjans, from St. John's, was the Big East Conference number one singles player last year and a doubles finalist in the league. Terry Marcoline came from South Carolina, a team that finished in the nation's top ten. Saldri Gueche completes the trio, coming from California. In his native homeland of Algeria he was the No.1 junior player.

"Our goal is to finish in the top two or three in the Big Ten and end up in the nation's top 20," concluded Adams.

With a competitive schedule and an increased fitness program concentrating more on court work, this experienced and confident team is ready.

Women's Tennis

Jennifer Roberts-Rudd began her third year as the head coach of the women's tennis team. In her first year, the team finished 10th in the Big Ten. Last year they climbed three spots. This year she hopes to make it into the top five.

"The Big Ten is a crazy field," she said. "The 5-10 finishers are usually evenly matched. It comes down to a dogfight. Anything can happen."

A young but more experienced team returned this year. Its three veterans — senior Astrid Eichner and juniors Cynthia Chambers and Loren Smolensky — will bring leadership to the underclassmen majority.

"Last year's fall/winter competition consisted of teams ranked in the nation's top 20. It was a great learning experience; no one had anything to lose," commented Chambers.

"It's the strongest team I've been on in my three years," she said.

The "younger generation" of tennis players are lead by three talented sophomores: Linda Gates, last year's most valuable player, Sabine Ensslin, voted most improved player and Jodi Cathrall. Gates and Cathrall boasted better than 50 percent winning averages.

"Our young team is more developed this year. There is a lot more team spirit and we're getting stronger," Gates said.

Two new players also entered the squad. Freshman Marybeth Williams gained national recognition by ranking ninth in the United States Tennis Association (USTA) girl's 18-year-old category and by playing on the USTA satellite tour as one of the nation's top 100 junior players.

Junior Laurie Kane transfers from Jacksonville University bringing with her a 34-12 two-year varsity record.

Coach Roberts-Rudd combines a tough fall schedule, individual instruction and an updated strength and conditioning program to enhance the team's development.

"Last year we played probably 12 out of the top 25 teams in the country. I upgrade the schedule to have the best competition possible so that it will prepare us for the future," Roberts-Rudd said.

This year's biggest change comes in the form of a goal setting program run by a graduate student in sports psychology. It concentrates on personal goal achievement as well as team goals.

"This year I'm just looking for steady progress. If I keep seeing progress toward being better athletes, better team players and better students, then I know we are going in the right direction. This could be the year," Roberts-Rudd said. "But we will eventually break out the bottom half and find ourselves among the top five in our conference."

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo courtesy of The Daily Illini

Freshman Marybeth Williams keeps her eye on the ball during practice. Williams was ranked ninth among 18-year olds by the United States Tennis Association.

Cynthia Chambers, junior, watches the ball after she hits it with her backhand. Chambers, one of three veterans, will provide leadership for the younger players

photo courtesy of The Daily Illini

photo courtesy of The Daily Illini

photo courtesy of The Daily Illini

Mark Krajewski sizes up his opponent before his serve. Krajewski was named most valuable player last year.

Focusing all of her strength into her forehand, Astrid Eichner returns the ball to her teammate during practice.

Giving everyone a chance

Intramurals play a big role at the University of Illinois

Life at U of I is not just going to school. Most people find time to partake in other activities. As students realize from the countless flyers circulating around campus, there are numerous clubs and special events to satisfy most of their extracurricular needs.

For those people, like us, who need a release now and then from the daily pressures of university life, business organizations and Krannert plays won't do the job. We need something that will get our hearts pumping, our bodies sweating (or in the case of women, perspiring) and will clear our minds of intellectual confusion.

Well, it just so happens that the university has a program just for us—intramurals.

"They provide a great change of pace from the constant studying and class work. They give groups, such as residential floor members or fraternity brothers, a chance to get to know each other better. They can be a social thing more than an athletic thing," explains Dan Malmer, junior in Computer Science and coach of a flag football team.

Intramurals invite everyone to participate in individual and team sports. Novice athletes can enter the recreation divisions to play "just for the fun of it," while the more experienced can indulge themselves in the competitive divisions and strive for the playoffs.

The intramurals program brings different types of people together. Fraternities and sororities don their letters in the never-ending battle for supremacy in the Greek system. Residence halls can take their rivalries to the playing field to obtain bragging rights for the year. In the open leagues, teams of any mix-and-match can enter, giving everyone a chance to "strut their stuff."

Coed teams are the most fun. They are a great way to meet members of the opposite sex, while combining the physical strength of men with athletic finesse of women. It's interesting to watch who contributes more to the victory. Often female members end up having to control the mouths and tempers of intense male teammates, while the men try to compensate for their "handicapped" players.

Teamwork is important in many aspects of life. Except for the occasional internal team disputes, sports give people a friendly environment in which to work to form a successful team. Athletes learn that personal performance is a necessary contribution. Team members share in the victory, and learn not to blame anyone in particular for defeat.

So what kind of activities do intramurals offer? A wide range of non-contact sports, including the ever-popular flag football, Walleyball and broomball. All games are officiated to maintain a respectable level of play and encourage fairness.

Flag football is widely played at the U of I. All one has to do is go to the complex fields by FAR to see how many are involved in this sport. Flag football, unlike the traditional game, prohibits contact. Therefore, the game relies heavily upon the team members' skill. Small players don't have to be afraid of being run over or tackled by some 6-foot-four-inch, 250 pounder. Usually quick, agile athletes contribute the most, since they are able to elude defensive attempts at their flag.

"It's a sport that has a position for everyone. It offers versatile positions demanding speed, good hands and tight defensive play," said Malmer.

Women also enjoy this traditionally male-dominated sport. They can experience running for a touchdown, catching a game-winning pass or acting like Richard Dent by "sacking the quarterback." They prove to men that under their hairspray and perfume, lie aggressive and fierce competitors.

From the football fields to the racquetball courts, comes the exciting game of Walleyball. It is not one of your average high school gym games. Walleyball is like playing Volleyball in an enclosed area where the walls and

photo by Alex Tziortzis

Soccer is one of the more traditional intramural sports, and an exciting intramural soccer match allows students to take a break from their studies.

Broomball is IMPE's answer to the NHL. Dave Schmidt of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Linda Southard playing for Pi Kappa Alpha battle for the ball in a co-rec match-up.

ceiling are parts of the playing field. Imagine serving and spiking the ball against a wall and having it ricochet over to your opponents side.

"It's a fast-paced ballgame in which you must react quickly," said Jane Banaszak, freshman in LAS. "It's a great change from traditional high school sports."

This game is not for the weak at heart, as athletes often find themselves diving to the floor or crashing into the walls to keep the ball in play.

Broomball, another favorite on campus, is like one of those made up games you secretly played as a little kid. Mom would kill you if she saw you running around on ice hitting a ball with a broom. She could just picture you falling on your face and breaking your head open.

Well, that's essentially what you do. You put away your Wayne Gretzky autographed model hockey stick and pick up a broom. With your Reeboks strung tightly you head out on the ice. A hockey-style game follows, except a ball is used in place of a puck. It keeps the game rolling (no pun intended).

Well, if you think you could handle it now as a "big" college student, give it a try. A warning first—it's a lot easier to watch it than to play it. Just ask Sue Cantlin, junior in LAS.

"I think the hardest part of the game is staying on your feet. You spend the majority of the time picking yourself off the ice," she said.

"You need to dress warm because it gets cold in the arena and that extra clothing works great as padding for all the 'spills' you will take." Sounds like good advice to me.

This wild take-off of hockey, once considered as dangerous childhood play, is now enjoyed by many college students. Though I doubt many tell their parents about it.

Personally, I think this game is played to reduce some of the work of the Zambonist—you know, the guy who rides around on that big machine smoothing out the ice.

When you want a little free fun, need to vent your frustrations safely or just meet new people, intramurals could be the answer.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Joe Trojanowski

photo by Alex Paziotopoulos

photo by Alex Tziortzis

Kevin Holtzman of The Boys faces off an opponent. The Boys were the "non-check" league champions.

Scott Nelson of Delta Sigma Phi looks for a hole. Flag football, immensely popular on campus, isn't just for a six-foot-four-inch, 250 pounder.

photo by Scott Vesecky

Beta Theta Pi Jim Kerrigan reaches for Phi Kappa Tau Rick O'Neal's flag. Greek system bragging rights are often at stake in intramural play.

They may not be "Gretzkys" but intramurals give students a chance to score. Hockey is offered in both "checking" and "non-checking" leagues.

photo by Alex Paziopoulos

photo by Alex Tziortzis

INDIVIDUALISM ON RISE

The new generation of "health nuts" is affecting the participation in intramural programs. You have all seen umpteen-million workout center commercials where bronzed muscle men and shapely women like Heather Locklear and Sheena Easton "strut" their bodies in numerous positions to lure you into introductory membership offers. This movement towards personal fitness is causing a decrease in team sports and an increase in individual training.

As any U of I student can tell you, free time is a luxury here. Team intramurals are great if you can find enough people who are free at same time, but unfortunately it is not always possible. Individual workouts are the best if you have an erratic schedule. More people enjoy this fitness freedom of exercising when they want to and are not tied down to a specific game time.

A look at last year's intramural statistics supports this shift. Between the 1987 and 1988 season for men's, women's, open and co-rec divisions, total team numbers dropped by 70 and participation dropped by 1300 while individual recreation increased by over 300. Although these figures aren't drastic, the losses become more apparent when combined with records of the previous couple years.

This "athletic" shift can be seen in colleges and universities all over the country, especially in the Big Ten, where enrollments reach 35,000 plus. Intramural directors try to keep participation constant by adding new programs to attract the individual exercisers. More aerobic sessions are being offered to increase availability. More nautilus and free weight rooms are being built. And Lifecycles, rowing machines and Stairmasters are becoming ever more popular. Intramural directors at the U of I are not worried by this change in the physical tide as long as they keep students involved.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Julie Triggs

photo by Scott Vesecky

photo by Alex Tziortzis

The world's most popular and fastest growing sport hasn't excluded U of I. Huff Field is host to the intramural soccer teams.

Phi Kappa Tau quarterback Rick O'Neal rifles a pass over a slew of Beta Theta Pi defenders. Armchair quarterbacks can be real quarterbacks in intramurals.

Jerry Connors slashes by a would-be flag grabber. Agility and speed dominate this toned-down version of football.

On the road again

Cross country's running a new path

Beyond Memorial Stadium and Assembly Hall and past both Proano Stadium and the field where the horses graze along South Farms Road, you might see them. Wherever the Illinois men's and women's cross country teams run, the paved streets usually lead to graveled country roads and open skies. This is their stadium and their spectators are the soybean and corn fields.

Perhaps the hardest part about coaching a cross country team is confronting the easy slip of concentration in individual team members.

"A good team is always bonded by a fear of letting the other teammates down," said men's head coach Gary Wieneke, who is starting his twenty third season with the cross country team.

At the last minute, Wieneke added the Notre Dame Invitational to the Illini schedule to focus the 1989 team's concentration and encourage strategic thought. According to Wieneke, a "young team" needs to develop this ability to rise to championship caliber.

"We've got a lot of individual talent, but I'm still trying to put the pieces together," said Wieneke.

The team has much room to develop and improve last season's fourth place Big Ten finish. Consider that in 1988, sophomore Chris Inch placed sixth in the Illinois Invitational, third in the Midwest Collegiate and first in the 5,000 meter Alumni meet. And freshman Andy Homoly placed fourth in the Iowa Invitational, third in the Illini Strider Open and 18th in the Big Ten Championship.

For '89, Wieneke could afford to be optimistic when he said, "you could lose all of your meets, but still win the Big Ten Championship."

He was especially hopeful about returning seniors Neil Gassman, who competed in the inaugural World Junior Championships, John Powers and David Zimmer, as well as junior Len Sitko. Sitko placed second in the Illinois Invitational, hosted by the Illini, at the Lake of the Woods in Mahomet.

The men's team has finished in the upper-division in the Big Ten since 1967, and the 1988 season was no exception to the rule. Illinois finished fourth behind Wisconsin, Michigan State and Michigan at the Big Ten Championships, hosted by Iowa. The Illini men also placed first at both the Midwest Collegiate meet and at the Iowa Invitational, ahead of Iowa State, Northern Iowa and Iowa during the 1988 season.

Marybeth Spencer-Dyson, head coach for the women, was not so fortunate. Her team was not at the level of the men's team and tied for last place in the Big Ten in 1988. Unlike Wieneke, Spencer-Dyson lacked experienced runners to lead her freshman and sophomore dominated team.

And since sophomore Laura Simmering suffered from tendonitis, the team did not have a fron-trunner.

"There are three top runners, but none that are substantial forerunners," said Spencer-Dyson, whose strategy was to select a group of five or six runners who run close together.

Hopefully, as a pack, they could substitute for a forerunner. Judging from the 1989 Illinois Invitational, the top runners looked like junior Loretta Withrow, sophomores Danielle Harpell, Amy Carlisle and Michelle Donato, and senior Sharon Locasio.

The Wisconsin Invitational is what Spencer-Dyson called the "dress rehearsal" for both the men's and women's Big Ten Championships. With this in mind, she hopes to place her team in the upper-half of the Big Ten, while Wieneke is "building and pointing" his team into the championship phase.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

Illini harrier Loretta Withrow leads a Nebraska runner. Withrow is a top performer for coach Marybeth Spencer-Dyson

photo by Phil Messersmith

photo by Phil Messersmith

Junior Len Sitko (at right) leads a pack at the 1989 Illini Invitational. He finished second in the meet.

Former Illini champion Craig Virgin, 365, keeps pace with current Illini runners at the Illini Invitational. Next to Virgin are Chris Inch, 304, and Neil Gassman, 302.

photo by Phil Messersmith

Where they play

Illini harriers have their own arena

Both Illini cross country teams practice outdoors throughout fall and winter, taking advantage of the countryside and parks surrounding Champaign.

Lake of the Woods in Mahomet, the site of the Illinois Invitational, has a running course for both the men's and women's teams. The trail is 5,000 meters long, and after the 1,000 meter mark, the course is rolling with a long upgrade ending the final 1,000 meters.

Crystal Lake Park, in Urbana, and Allerton Park, in Monticello, are other practice grounds in addition to the endless country roads beyond the University of Illinois' campus.

—Stephanie Sprague

Splashing season

Illini water sports tread on opponents

On any given weekday the glass spectator windows on the first floor of IMPE give a clear view below to the Natatorium, the home of Illinois' men's and women's swimming and diving teams. While other varsity teams practice in the secret chambers of Assembly Hall or Memorial Stadium, the varsity swimming and diving teams' two hour afternoon workout session is in full view of Illinois students and faculty.

But in early November, the viewers along the glass corridor weren't straggling students taking a break from a workout, but family and friends enjoying a different viewing pleasure — the opening meet for the men's and women's swimming and diving team. Instead of divers jumping on the trampoline in the corner or coaches calmly talking to swimmers buoying along the edge of the pool during practice sessions, Illinois and their competitors, Kansas and Southern Illinois University, participated in relay after relay, and the coaches at poolside dominated as much of the action as the swimmers.

"We were way ahead of where we were last year," said 18-year head coach Don Sammons, in reference to last year's opener, in which the men lost to both Kansas and Southern Illinois University, and the women lost to Kansas.

The goals of the swim team are for each individual to record personal best times, move up as a team and to score in the NCAA, said Sammons. Captains of the women's team are seniors Jane Schofield and Kristin Oostendorp. Seniors Philip Andrew and John Nelson captain the men's team.

However, the meet proved to be rewarding for freshman Jenny Sadler and senior Andy McVey.

As a team, Illinois came in second with three first place finishes in the women's division. Sadler won the 50-yard freestyle. In the 400-yard freestyle relay, Sadler, Jane Schofield, Kelly Taylor and Pam Trena posted first in 3 minutes and 35.71 seconds.

For the men, McVey took first in the 50-yard freestyle by just .03 seconds, and by just .07 seconds in the 100-meter freestyle.

The competition has not slowed the Illini down. And neither have Sammons' workouts for the teams.

In fact, those training sessions brought the Illini to their third straight victory in 1990, against Indiana—the first time since 1957.

The timing for victory couldn't have been better. The momentum from this landmark victory carried the swimmers into the following weekend for the Illini Classic. Illinois hosted Iowa, Indiana, Northern Illinois, Illinois State and Wisconsin, only to exhibit 70 season-best performances.

The men scored 655 points to finish second behind Iowa's 815. Senior Jim Macklin won the 100-yard butterfly and Pete Gruben took the 100-yard backstroke.

But the team was led by McVey, who finished first in the 100-yard freestyle and second in the 50-yard freestyle, only .12 seconds behind Polish Olympian Artur Wojdott of Iowa.

The women's team also placed second with 864.5 points, behind Iowa's 870. Eileen Sampey and Katie Novotny both were strong performers to the last second in the 1600-yard freestyle.

Senior Anne-Marie Beavic and Sabine Taaffe dominated the 1-meter and 3-meter diving events. Beavic, in her pursuit to win the 3-meter, set a new school record with a score of 514.05 points.

Taaffe placed second in the 3-meter with 462.45 points, and she captured first in the 1-meter with 403.05. Beavic placed second in the 1-meter with 399.05 points.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Ray Greninger

Anne Bierzychudek, practices hard for her diving meets. She took first in the 1-meter springboard in a meet against Indiana, Purdue and Northwestern this season.

Senior Jim Macklin proves that upper arm strength is needed to win. Macklin took first place in this 200-yard butterfly race.

photo by Lloyd Young

Jenny Sadler gives all she's got in the 100-yard freestyle. The freshman has been a key swimmer for this year's squad.

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Annie Pergande

Chris Lubeck, Jr., swims his breast stroke leg in the 400-yard medley relay. The Illini swimmer also competes in the 200-yard breast stroke.

Swim roundup

In the wake of the Illini

If Illinois' victories against Indiana and Northwestern were any indication of how the swimming and diving team would perform for the Illini Classic, then the Illini had good reason to be psyched.

Seniors Andy McVey and Jim Macklin took firsts in their events. McVey touched first in the 50-yard freestyle while Macklin snatched the 200-yard butterfly against both teams.

Likewise, Chris Lubeck won in the 200-yard breast stroke against both teams as Pete Gruben took first in the 200-yard backstroke. Gruben, Lubeck, Macklin and McVey placed first in the 400-yard medley.

The hardest part was over – the Illini finally beat Indiana, 60-53, after 23 years.

The Illini men had no problem with Northwestern winning 11 out of the 13 events against the Wildcats.

In the midst of defeat against Indiana, Northwestern and Purdue, freshman Jenny Sadler placed first in 100-yard freestyle. Sophomore Kaili Salmon won 200-yard breast stroke, while Anne Bierzychudek, first in the 1-meter springboard, and Sabine Taaffe, first in the 3-meter springboard led the divers. Sophomore E Sampey swam to a season-best first place finish in 1000-yard freestyle.

—Stephanie Spr

No "putting" around

The Illini golf teams show their sporting ways

To the average person, golf isn't always considered a competitive sport. Some people use golf courses as places to vent their frustrations by whacking a little ball around — instead of a boss or family member.

Others find it a relaxing place to drink beer and discuss business. Still others see it as a betting ground—a place to make a few extra bucks as Rodney Dangerfield did in "Caddyshack."

The members of the men's and women's teams, fortunately, take golf more seriously. For them, every shot counts. Missed putts or bad drives can turn winners into losers. These players are under constant pressure, but in keeping with the Illinois tradition, they are ready to face the challenge.

One challenge remains off the course, however. Both teams are continually hampered by the lack of an indoor golf facility for winter practice. IMPE used to have one but it was replaced by an exercise room.

The teams are still in the process of producing an alternative training area. For now, running, weightlifting and aerobics will have to suffice.

From the ladies tee, head coach Paula Smith is looking forward to another improving season. After a fifth place conference finish last year and a sixth the year before, Smith hopes to break into the top three or four.

"Our fall season was a little discouraging," said Smith. "Towards the end we began to see more of what we wanted to see, though. I would like to see an average of 320, a round of 80 for each player."

An experienced team returns, headed by seniors Sue Winkelman, Shellie Wood and Liz Kelleher. Three juniors, Julie Grumish, Lia Biehl and Kristen Klein also add to the experience. Sophomore Diana Kuhl and freshmen Jenn Payne, Alexis Rogala and Renee Heiken contribute an element of youth. Heiken, a top notch golfer, finished high school early and started classes this spring. She is expected to be a strong contributor to the team. "Renee adds great depth to our experienced team. Her addition should help us earn a top three position in our conference," said Kelleher.

A shorter schedule and a spring tournament in Hawaii will aid the women's team along the way in conference play.

"Last year we had 13 tournaments; this year we have only nine," said Smith. "Being away five consecutive weekends isn't good for athletes or their studies."

"In Hawaii, top schools from around the country will participate. This will give us a chance to see where we stack up against them," she added.

How these changes affect their play is yet to be seen, but their academics are definitely up to "par." The team gained scholastic recognition by having the highest grade point average of all sports last semester.

Five out of the eight members had a G.P.A. of 4.5 or better including Biehl's 5.0. Two members also received national honor by being chosen Academic All-Americans by the National Golf Coaches Association: Sue Winkelman in 1988 and 1989 and Liz Kelleher also in 1989.

"I don't think anyone is willing to take second place," said Smith. "They have the desire and I feel they have the determination to do well."

"I feel that we are the most competitive team in quite awhile," added Winkelman. "I think we are going to play really well this spring, well enough at least for a finish in the top three."

After an impressive finish last year as Big Ten runner-up, the 1989-90 men's golf team hopes for continued success this season — despite the graduation loss of Steve Stricker, one of the nation's top players.

A veteran team returns headed by seniors Heath Crawford and Kevin Fairfield. Juniors Trevor Beard, Steve Cyboran, Tom Prince and Tony Russo add depth to the squad.

Sophomores Mike Allen, Ben Bruce and Chris Lynch, along with freshmen Aaron Shields and Rob Summers, round out the field of 11.

"Last year and the year before we had outstanding teams with a phenomenal player, Steve Stricker," said head coach Ed Beard.

continued on 183

photo by Alex Tziortzis

Putting

continued from 182

"Steve was our leader, a good captain," said Bruce. "He brought our team together. But we can play as well without him, if we keep united."

After a rough fall season, Beard still feels optimistic about the spring Big Ten season.

"Inconsistency plagued our team this fall," he said. "We played a couple good tournaments and a couple poor ones. We have players that are capable of playing well."

"It usually takes us an extra two or three weeks to get ourselves going," said Crawford. "Our February meet in Florida will be used as a building block for the missed winter training."

"If we can get them playing well at the same time, I think we will do very well this spring," Beard said. "Our play will determine if we go to the NCAA tournament."

Last year, after strong conference play, Illinois was selected by their district committee to compete in the Regionals. After placing fifth they earned a spot in the NCAA tournament and finished 23rd overall.

Hopes are high this spring for a repeat performance, but talented Big Ten rivals like Ohio State and Wisconsin pose potential barriers.

Setting aside the barriers, the team remains confident about their upcoming conference tournaments.

"We didn't play many Big Ten teams in the fall," said Crawford. "All teams look pretty equal going into the spring. We are capable of finishing in the top three."

story by Matt Cantlin layout by Robert Siders

photo by Mike Zimmerman

Senior Sue Winkleman, center, watches her tee shot. In the background are freshman Jennifer Payne, left, and junior Lia Biehl. Winkleman was an Academic All-American in 1988 and 1989.

Former Illini Steve Stricker has made a name for himself

What's in the name? Illini golfer Steve Stricker is one worth remembering Outstanding athletes in popular college sports like football and basketball are used to seeing their names plastered all over the media. Unfortunately, other elite participants of the "lesser" sports don't receive the same treatment.

But in a book like this, these champions get their shot at recognition.

Steve Stricker graduated in 1989 leaving behind a list of achievements that made him one of the top collegiate golfers in the nation. During his Illini career, he led his team to 11 first place finishes and 10 second places in 49 tournaments.

Individual statistics include 22 top three finishes, 34 top ten and 40 top twenty finishes in 51 tournaments. His college career average was 73.15 with 21 rounds in the 60's.

Numerous awards have been bestowed on him for his incredible performances on the course. He was selected to the All-Big Ten team all four years as an Illini and captured the Big Ten title in his last three.

He was a first team All-American pick in 1988 and 1989 and received honorable mention in 1987. He was named Big Ten Player of the Year in 1988 and 1989 and received the Les Bolstad Award in 1988, given to the Big Ten golfer with the lowest season stroke average.

As you can see from the above accomplishments, Steve Stricker was no ordinary athlete. He may not have scored the game winning touchdown or the three-point shot, but he did manage to leave a permanent mark of excellence at Illinois and on the Big Ten.

-Matt Cantlin

photo by Ray Greninger

Arnold Palmer would be proud of that swing. Senior Kevin Fairfield heads a veteran Illini golf squad in 1990.

New season, same goal

But Mackes wants better regional score

The first goal on head women's gymnastics coach Bev Mackes' list every season is to make the NCAA regionals. But this year she has a specific goal — bettering last year's final score of 185.88 points.

Mackes is not too worried about achieving this goal or about maintaining her team's status in the future because she lacks a problem common to many coaches. She is only losing four seniors to graduation instead of the majority of her team. In the spring of 1989, the Illini placed seventh in the NCAA regional competition in Alabama.

Senior Denise Lamborn will not be returning to Illinois next season along with seniors Heather Singalewitch, who placed 16th in the 1988 national competition, Laura Knutson, an Academic All-Big Ten performer and Tracy Knotur, who scored an Illinois varsity vault record. Mackes has a solid group of junior, sophomore and freshman performers and competitors.

Just when senior Denise Lamborn thought it was safe to return to the team last season after a back injury, teammate Laura Knutson contracted the measles and the women's and men's gymnastics teams were practically quarantined. Illinois was scheduled for a co-ed competition with Michigan and Michigan State. But due to the threat of the disease, they couldn't participate.

"When something like this arises, it's in the best interest for everyone to accept the rules," said Mackes, concerning the state law which prohibited Illinois from competing.

Mackes expects Nebraska to be the real challenge to the gymnastics team. Nebraska is ranked fourth in the nation.

In last spring's Big Ten all-around event, sophomore Jennifer Durdil, 1988's Most Outstanding Illini gymnast, placed second with 36.15 points and freshman Peggy Pullman placed third with 35.7 points.

Juniors Lynn Deavers and Shari Smith were named 1988 Academic All-Americans while co-captain Susan Adams scored first in the uneven bars with 9.55 points.

Considering the way the Illini opened the season against Illinois State, with a score of 182.95 to 173.5, it looks like chances are good for Illinois to at least achieve Mackes' usual goal of making it to the regionals.

Like their male counterparts, the women have proven they have a stronghold on the vaulting event. Illinois scored 45.65 points against ISU on vaulting. Lamborn won the event with 9.45 points and freshman Kara Corso trailed with a score of 9.35.

Lamborn finished third in the floor exercise with 9.45 points and second on the beam with 9.25 points following Pullman's first place score of 9.5. Pullman also won the floor competitions with 9.6 points, and Adams won the high bars with a 9.55 performance.

With determination, talent and the high scores that the women have been receiving, Mackes will have little difficulty reaching her goal.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

Kara Corso strives for height and grace in her floor routine. The Illini freshman was a key newcomer for Coach Mackes.

photo by Scott Vesecky

Senior Denise Lamborn prepares for a tumbling pass. Lamborn returned to competition after a back injury last season.

photo by Scott Vesecky

Jenny Durdil performs her floor routine with the strength and poise of a ballet dancer. Durdil was last season's Most Outstanding Gymnast for the Illini.

Heather Singalewitch concentrates on maintaining perfect composure for her Needle-sclae on the balance beam. The senior placed 16th at nationals in 1988.

Balance and muscle control are needed for a Straddle Piroette. Below, Academic All-American Shari Smith executes beautifully.

photo by Scott Vesecky

photo by Scott Vesecky

photo by Scott Vesecky

Singalewitch performs a Stag Split leap on the balance beam.

Building them up

Coach Ron Clinton keeps hopes high for his grapplers

The stereotype of the engineering geek becomes entirely discredited when reading the Illinois men's wrestling roster. Engineering majors make up the majority of the wrestling team, although other majors, such as accounting, pre-law, pre-med and aviation are also represented.

Nonetheless, head coach Ron Clinton insists that the wrestlers "didn't know anything until I trained them."

Don't mistake this seven-year coach's comment as arrogance. Clinton is not from the Vince Lombardi school of hard knocks where "no pain, no gain" is the motto. And the notion that "winning is everything" just doesn't stick. He'd rather concentrate on building up the athlete as an individual.

"He tries not to discourage you," said senior Jon Llewellyn about Clinton. "He believes you have to do it yourself."

Llewellyn, the nation's number one heavyweight according to Amateur Wrestling News, traveled to Portland, Oregon to compete in the NCAA All-Star Wrestling Classic.

The Classic is Llewellyn's first match this season since he sustained a hand injury earlier in the season, but he isn't too nervous.

"I beat Malachuk at the St. Louis Open last year," said Llewellyn. Llewellyn will wrestle second-rated Joe Malachuk from Nebraska.

Llewellyn, whose success began his sophomore year when he finished 33-7, won the Big Ten Conference heavyweight title, and placed third in the NCAA tournament. He has another year left to win the national title because he redshirted his freshman year.

The freestyle matches are similar to the matches in the Olympics — the action is less controlled and points are scored differently.

So far, the ten-man Illinois team record is 1-4, and 0-4 in the Big Ten.

"I feel confident. We're really competitive in the losses, whereas in the past we haven't been. Hopefully next year we'll be able to win those matches," Clinton said.

Out of the 20 bouts in the dual meets between Michigan and Michigan State, Illinois lost four by one-point decisions.

Sophomore Mike Novak won the only match at 177 lbs. against Michigan. Clinton cites Novak as a potential leader of the team.

Senior Derrick Crenshaw, "134 pounds of potatoes" and sophomore Matt Korfist, "158 pounds of flour," as Clinton refers to them, have also demonstrated leadership. Sophomore Danny O'Brien (142), who wrestled for the U. S. in the Pittsburgh Classic All-Star meet, also topped Clinton's list.

"There is a reason why I recruited each individual. Each has the ability and the potential or I wouldn't have recruited them," said Clinton, who admits that his team is young and immature.

"High school kids, unless they have a successful coach, get bad habits. The trouble is those bad habits seem to work for them while they are in high school."

But, according to Clinton, they don't work in college. The etiquette of wrestling requires correction in something as basic as standing. There is a correct stance and a correct way to approach the enemy, he said. Movement backward and forward, left and right, and execution and penetration requires a subtle precision and agility.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Scott Vesecky

Matt Korfist switches his Purdue opponent. The grapplers wrestled the Boiler-makers at Memorial Stadium under "the bubble."

"Ooh, my head." Illini wrestler Matt Bernstein and his Boilermaker opponent travel out of bounds as the crowd watches.

photo by Scott Vesecky

The '90s man

Character is king for Illini wrestlers

"I'm flexible," said Clinton about his coaching, "I'm a man of the '90s."

This touches just about every process in coaching. Clinton disregards the notion that wrestlers must build down their weight, he'd rather concentrate on building up their strength and their technical training.

"Wrestling is unique for just that reason—that there is a different weight class for each individual," Clinton said.

Clinton, a former wrestler himself from University of Oklahoma "where football and basketball players take a back seat to wrestlers," recruits wrestlers not simply on ability but also on character evaluation.

"Each wrestler at Illinois has admirable characteristics. It is a gut feeling. I like the way he competes. He might not have great skills, but he has a big heart. A big smile."

—Stephanie Sprague

photo by Scott Vesecky

Although senior Jon Llewellyn won the Big Ten Championship in his weight class, the Illini team finished last in the Big Ten. The '89-90 team only had four seniors returning this year.

Illini volleyball—the men?

The Illini Men's Volleyball Club emerges from the varsity women's shadow

You begin to realize the importance of team uniforms as soon as you enter Kenney Gym. Two volleyball games are being played on adjacent courts, freshly painted for the more notable Illini women's volleyball team. But the four Illini men's volleyball teams that played October 14, 1989, in Kenney Gym lacked uniforms that tied them to the university. In fact, the only thing that seemed to separate an Illinois volleyball player from the opposition was the net.

The Illinois men's volleyball team was still waiting for the season's new uniforms, but that didn't stop them from competing in their first "friendly" tournament of the year, hosting two teams each from Chicago, Peoria and Northern Illinois University.

Although the men's volleyball team is not a varsity team at Illinois, it is a strong sports club. It operates under the United States Volleyball Association (USVBA), a nationwide volleyball organization second in size only to the NCAA, which sponsors regional teams throughout the country. For a $25 registration fee and a team fee, anyone who likes to spike, jump, pass, crash, set, dive and smash on the court can play in the USVBA's regional tournaments.

However, not just anyone can play with Illinois men's team. Seventy-two men tried out for the 15 openings on the 1989-90 team, according to Karen Athny, the treasurer and organizer for the men's volleyball team.

The volleyball club originated in 1984 after students from the Volleyball II classes got together and formed a team. This year the Illinois men's team consists of 48 men divided into four separate teams—the Orange, the Blue, the A and the Alf teams within the club.

The Orange and Blue play in the USVBA's B division and the A and Alf teams play in the A division. Last year, the Alf team, consisting of older and more experienced players, placed second in the low A division of the tournament. The A team reached the quarterfinals.

At this year's first home tournament, the A team just missed a chance at the finals. They dropped the second game of a play-off match when they needed a sweep to make the cut.

"We played well, considering we hadn't played together as a team very long," said Bob Opsal, senior in agriculture, of the Illini A team. "I'm not dissatisfied at all."

Some Illinois team members wore last season's uniforms, white T-shirts with the "Mr. Bubble" insignia. Others on the team opted for fluorescent shorts and shirts.

But the club is not all fun and games. According to Opsal, the practice and tournament schedule is time consuming.

"This isn't just a one game thing," said Opsal. "When we travel to other tournaments, it becomes a whole weekend."

In addition to the practices on Monday and Wednesday nights from 8:30 to 10:30, voluntarily coached by Ken Deterding, the team usually finds themselves in Chicago every weekend, where the majority of regional teams are. Financial assistance from SORF is used to pay for their spot in regional tournaments, but doesn't cover individual traveling expenses.

There is a wide selection of tournaments from which Illinois can choose since each regional team hosts two home tournaments. Illinois' home tournaments are usually popular with other regional teams because they offer prizes like T-shirts and coffee mugs, have good facilities and host the Land of Lincoln Tournament on the first weekend of spring break.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Nora Hipolito

Bob Opsal, senior in marketing of textiles and apparels, spikes the ball to Tony Baranski, senior in mechanical engineering.

Rick Wesselhoff, sophomore in advertising, attempts to spike over Stuart Malles, sophomore in physics.

photo by Nora Hipolito

The men's volleyball club practice and host their home games in Kenny Gym.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Men spikers play hard

But it's not enough for varsity status

photo by Nora Hipolito

The men's volleyball teams are in the strange position of being neither varsity nor intramural. Each year, Karen Athny asks the university if there is the slightest chance a men's team will eventually become varsity, and the answer is always "no."

The university must pay at least $15,000 for every team accepted on the collegiate level – and that's just for the uniforms. In fact, the chance for a men's volleyball team to compete on the varsity level will come only after the soccer and rugby teams compete on the varsity level. The only men's team from the Big Ten at the varsity level is Ohio State.

Clause I-19 in the NCAA's rulings states that for every men's team that a university picks up, it must also pick up a women's team (excluding football and wrestling). So the chances remain slim that the University of Illinois will finance the upgrade of soccer and rugby teams.

The men's volleyball team may never reach the status of their sisters on the varsity volleyball team. They might not have the luxury of matching uniforms at the beginning of the season, and they will probably still play to the empty upper decks of Kenney Gym, but they won't forget their dedication.

—Stephanie Sprague

Bob Opsal, senior in AGR, goes up for a spike during practice in Kenny Gym.

No, no, no...

Fencing is more than a trusty sword

Have you ever seen "Zorro" or "Camelot?" You know, those movies just overflowing with sword fights and duals. If you have, you probably have developed a misconception of the sport of fencing.

No, our Illini fencers don't just hack away at their opponents hoping to draw blood first. They utilize their agility and quick hands and feet instead of strength to overtake their competition.

Fencing contains three different weapons categories: epee, saber and foil. Methods of scoring points vary with each weapon.

While using the epee or foil, only the weapon tip can touch the body. The epee may be used on any part of the person but the foil is limited to the torso, including the crotch and back.

Only the side of the saber can strike the opposition and the target area is confined to the waist and sides.

All you "Friday the 13th" fans out there, expect to be disappointed at a fencing meet. There is no blood spilled.

All weapons are blunted with safety tips and protective head and body gear is worn. Bruises are usually the only injuries but knee and ankle problems also plague participants because of the quick footwork required in advances and retreats.

So if you want to watch a real dual in action, turn off your television and go to one of the fencing team's matches. As the saying goes, "There ain't nothing like the real thing."

—Matt Cantlin

An intense match ensues as Scott Rush, left, practices some fancy moves on his opponent.

photo by Chris Burke

Brian Pianfetti, far left, and Janos Pilenyi take a break between matches, while Eric Jarkin and Terry Stevens discuss a match with Stevens' father.

photo by Chris Burke

Illini fencing is an obscure varsity sport that is making it big in the Big Ten. The Orange and Blue were conference champs in 1989.

Foil Dominance

Illini fencing slashes the Big Ten

"Fencing, a varsity sport?" That was my initial reaction.

I never considered fencing as a competitive team sport but rather as some kind of martial art that only the rich could enjoy. Average people do enjoy the sport, too, especially members of the Illinois fencing team. And why shouldn't they? Winning, to the Illini, is very enjoyable!

The 1988-'89 fencing team is looking for its sixth consecutive Big Ten championship — that's right, sixth. The team has consistently been ranked number one in the conference and has made strong showings in the NCAA tournament.

They placed sixth nationally in 1987, seventh in '88, and 11th last year. Strong coaching by head coach Arthur Schankin and assistant coach Mark Snow, combined with hard work and determination, has been the winning factor for this team.

A relatively young team returns this year, led by captain Hugo Silva. Though the team contains only three upperclassmen, chances still remain high for another first place conference finish. However, a lower ranking is expected at the national level.

"I don't think we will finish as well in the NCAA this year because of our youth. But, looking ahead a couple years, when our current underclassmen become juniors and seniors, we should have another very competitive team," Silva said.

NCAA tournament changes could also hamper the fencing team this year. The national team rankings will now be based on team scores, instead of individual scores.

This change will hardly affect the team's finish compared to the second change: the addition of women's team scores in the national ranking process. The U of I does not field a women's team. Schools with women's teams have the possibility of picking up additional victories that could seriously affect their team's national placement.

But don't count this young team out. Through serious conditioning involving calisthenics, running and weight lifting under the guidance of Snow, they have developed the stamina to win.

And with individual instruction give by Schankin, an ex-fencer, they can develop the skills and quickness needed to be champions. The outcomes of their past seasons are proof enough that hard work really does pay off.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Debbie Siegel

Rush, left, gets the upper hand against Ohio State's Bill White. The Buckeyes were the Big Ten runner-up in 1989.

photo by Chris Burke

In front of the puck

Hockey club dominates the league

When I was a child, grown-ups used to always say, "If you can roller skate, than you can ice skate." With that in mind, I thought I would be a good ice skater. I was wrong. And I was reminded every time I fell. I went out on the ice with a hockey stick—not to shoot a puck around but to maintain my balance.

But, for some people skating seems to come naturally. They can maneuver on the ice as easily as off the ice.

Fortunately, some of those people even attend the U of I. And even more fortunately, they play hockey.

The 1989-90 Illinois hockey club team, under head coach Mark Roszkowski, returns to the ice looking forward to another impressive season in the Central States Collegiate Hockey League (CSCHL).

The league was organized 21 years ago as a training ground for teams who sought entrance into the NCAA. This league, though, is no Kiddieland. NCCA hockey rules are enforced and competition is fierce.

However, these club teams are independently run and receive no varsity funding. Although this hampers the Illinois team's budget, the team doesn't have to comply with Athletic Association regulations or NCAA athletic guidelines.

Last year the team finished second in the league and placed fourth at the National tournament.

"We had a great team last year," captain Steve Winkiel said. "It was probably the best team I've been on here at Illinois. One of our biggest highlights of the year had to be our two victories over the national champions at their home rink following the tournament."

This year a stronger, older team is ready for action. Overall, the team is 70 percent seniors, including both starting goalies and most of their front two lines.

With this overabundance of upperclass experience, the Illinois icemen look to do battle with the league's powerhouse, Iowa State.

In the past seven years, the Iowa State Cyclones have won the league tournament five times. In the past, Illinois has been partially successful against them, capturing the league tournament two years ago and beating them just once last season.

Part of the reason for the Cyclone's domination lies in the fact that they have a huge budget and get players from "hockey emphasized" Canada and Minnesota. And this year's team is no different.

"Iowa State looks pretty unbeatable again in our league. They're huge and an excellent team," said Winkiel. "But in the CSCHL championship, there is only one game and anything can happen."

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Steve Wormowski

Chris Lynn takes a shot against Northwestern's goalie. The illini expect to challenge for the Central States Collegiate Hockey League title.

photo by Steve Wormowski

photo by Steve Wormowski

Goalie Mike Buchanan readies for another save against Indiana. The Illini beat the Hoosiers 10-0.

Behind the mask

Illini goalies take the shots

Have you ever wondered what it feels like to have a puck flying at you at speeds cars can't legally travel? Rich Henne and Mike Buchanan do. As the two starting goalies, these hockey players have the best view in the arena — the view of the puck, that is.

What is it that attracts players to the goalie position?

"I thought it was an intriguing and challenging position. I like the idea of developing quick reflexes to stop pucks. My size also favors the goalie position (because) big guys take up more net space," Buchanan said.

But are they afraid of getting hurt?

"With today's modern goalie equipment, every potential danger area is protected," said Buchanan. "The only time you might get directly hit is if a pad slides out of place and an area becomes exposed. With all the equipment on, it's probably the safest position on the ice."

If any injury is common among goalies, it is muscle cramps during the game. If the goalie remains idle too long in the cold arena, his muscles will tighten. The only thing they can do to defend against this is to try to stay loose.

Skating with 30 pounds of equipment on may be a little difficult, but special skates help remedy the situation. These highly protective skates are duller and flatter so you can maintain better balance on the ice. Strong leg strength also aids the goalie's mobility.

One of the most important skills a goalie has for goal saving is flexibility. No goalie can cover the whole net standing in one position, so he must be able to adjust within seconds to a wandering puck.

Their bodies stretch in all possible positions to cover all potential scoring areas. How far and wide they stretch can mean the difference between a great save or a great shot.

Because a goalie's position is so demanding, they have to be one of the best skaters on the team and have excellent balance. They also have to be among the most fearless. Hard black rubber disks are not easy to stop.

—Matt Cantlin

Jim Bresingham awaits the pass, despite high stick efforts by an Eastern Michigan defender.

ILL-INI!

Three Cheers for Cheerleading Champs

Creativity, sharpness and timing were the skills that the Illinois cheerleading squad mailed off on a video tape to the National Cheerleading Association last spring. The tape, which contained Illinois' sideline cheers and "music," (stunts and choreographed performances) won them an invitation to participate with 18 other college squads in the national competition broadcast on ESPN. However, not too many Illinois football or basketball fans realized that the Illinois varsity cheerleading squad came in fourth place after Louisiana State University, Kentucky and North Carolina University.

"We've progressed from a mediocre squad to one of the best, and we've been able to stay the best," said Coach Todd Carter, graduate student in Communications, referring to Illinois' second-year in competition.

Although this is Carter's first year coaching, he has been involved with the squad as a cheerleader for the past two years as an undergraduate and said he would "hate to be here and not be involved."

"Cheerleading, in general, has progressed as a sport in the last four years. It is more athletic with an emphasis on stunting and performance," said Carter.

Undoubtedly, the squad practices as rigorously as any sports team with practice from 7-10 on Tuesday and Thursday nights at Kenney Gym, 6-9 on Sunday nights and weight-lifting sessions every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The varsity squad consists of Jennifer Dedewaldt, Steve Marciniak (top), Mike Bailey and Kathy Szymanski perform a stunt called "Diamond Head."

Based on a routine and a crowd involvement video tape, the squad took fourth place in the national competition in April, 1989.

six men and six women, who perform at home and away games. The junior varsity squad consists of three men and three women, who play only at women's games and rotate at men's basketball games. The junior varsity is the "learning" squad to guarantee experienced cheerleaders.

Though there are only two people on the squad without any experience, Carter admits that an athletic background is necessary. For women, a dance or cheerleading background is essential, but "athletics" in the cheerleading world extends beyond tumbling. In fact, the cheerleading squad looks for large men. Out of the nine men on the squad, there is only one gymnast; the others played everything from football and basketball to tennis, soccer and track during high school.

Aside from the creativity, sharpness and timing that won them fourth place, there is a subtler victory that the squad wins with every football and basketball game — crowd appeal and motivation.

"I think that crowd motivation is underrated. It really does matter when you think of the importance of home-field advantage," said Carter. "It's tougher to appeal to the crowd when the playing team isn't doing well, but that's when the crowd needs to get the team up."

Signs, the overhead clap, the ILL-INI chant and running around Assembly Hall with the big "I" flag are the biggest boost to the squad and the crowd. In fact, running with the flag, an Illinois cheerleading innovation, has been picked up by a number of schools including the University of Iowa.

story by Stephanie Sprague
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Scott Jacobson

With the orange and blue Illini flag, the cheerleaders run around the sidelines of Memorial Stadium. "We do it after good plays or when the team needs the crowd to get involved," said Kathy Szymanski.

Tom Kinzler and Erin Cook finish their stunt with a cradle. The squad follows safety standards set by the Universtiy Cheerleading Association. "Some basic stunts from four years ago, like throwing a girl 10 to 15 feet, are now illegal," said Coach Todd Carter.

Illini Cheerleading Squad

Front Row: Erin Cook, Tracie Moore, Martha Pfister, Jamie McCoy, Karin Curtis, Laurie Johnson, Kathy Szymanski, Kristin Young, Jennifer Oedewaldt; Back Row: Derrick Goss, Lane Soelberg, Steve Marciniak, Chip Gates, David Streich, Paul Ruzicka, Mike Bailey, Tom Kinzler, Tony Ebbale; Not Pictured: Todd Carter(coach)

New and improved

We're not "lion" – Penn State joins the Big Ten

Is it true? Is it true? Yes, it's the truth – the Big Ten Conference got bigger.

Penn State University became the 11th member of the Big Ten on December 19, 1989. The university, located in University Park, Pa., fields a total of 28 athletic teams.

Spear-heading the addition of Penn State was Big Ten chairman and University of Illinois President Stanley O. Ikenberry.

"We are delighted," he said. "From an academic standpoint, Penn State is comparable in quality and character to our member universities."

There was speculation that one conference member, most likely Northwestern, would be dropped from the Big Ten. The addition of Penn State does not call for such a measure. The league has no plans to change to the "Big 11" because, according to Ikenberry, the name recognition of the conference is too great.

"Many academicians consider the (Big Ten institutions) to be the finest public universities in America and Northwestern as one of the finest private institutions," said Penn State President Bryce Jordan. "Penn State is ranked as one of the nation's leading research universities. It makes good sense to affiliate athletically, as well as academically, with institutions of similar academic mission and stature."

But the school is not just an academic university. They have a strong athletic program, with football leading the way. The Nittany Lions have consistently been a top 10 team on the gridiron, behind coach Joe Paterno, winning two national championships – in 1982 and 1986.

However, the addition did not meet entirely with happy faces. Former Michigan athletic director and head football coach Bo Schembechler and Minnesota athletic director Rick Bay expressed displeasure with Big Ten board members for not consulting them. The Big Ten governing body is comprised of league presidents – therefore, athletic directors do not have a vote in such matters.

Of the sports fielded at Penn State, only football is self-supporting. The program also provides a large portion of the money for the other sports. Penn State was a member of the Atlantic 10 Conference in all sports except football until they signed on with the Big Ten. The football team was a major independent.

Because the Big Ten requires teams to split the revenues from post season play, both the league and Penn State will benefit. The Big Ten consistently sends four to five teams to football bowl games – the addition of Penn State pads that total by one.

Not to overlook the efforts of other sports, the women's volleyball team finished 34-7 and lost to Illinois in the first round of the NCAA volleyball tournament in 1989. Penn State also took the 1989 Atlantic 10 men's basketball title, capping a 21-10 season.

The Lions will begin conference play in 1991 in most sports, with basketball and football joining in the mid-'90s.

story by Robert Siders
layout by Greg Carney

Susan Robinson takes a shoot from the paint. Robinson was the 1989 Atlantic 10 Freshman of the Year for the Lions.

photo by Dave Mengle

photo by Dave Mengle

photo by Dave Mengle

Freddie Barnes blocks a Temple opponent's shoot. Penn State was the 1989 Atlantic 10 Conference Basketball champion.

Penn State pitcher Al Swanson delivers one home, submarine style.

Quarterback Tony Secca takes a snap. The Nittany Lions have won two national championships in football during the 80s (1982 and 1986).

photo by Richard E. Ackley

A year in the Big Ten: The Illini fare well

FOOTBALL

1989 Season	Big Ten	Overall
	W L T	W L T
Michigan	8-0-0	10-1-0
ILLINOIS	7-1-0	9-2-0
Ohio State	6-2-0	8-3-0
Michigan State	6-2-0	7-4-0
Minnesota	4-4-0	6-5-0
Indiana	3-5-0	5-6-0
Iowa	3-5-0	5-6-0
Purdue	2-6-0	3-8-0
Wisconsin	1-7-0	2-9-0
Northwestern	0-8-0	0-11-0

VOLLEYBALL

1989 Season	Big Ten	Overall
	W L	W L
Ohio State	16-2	26-6
ILLINOIS	13-5	25-5
Minnesota	13-5	28-8
Iowa	12-6	22-10
Wisconsin	9-9	21-11
Indiana	9-9	19-12
Purdue	7-11	13-20
Northwestern	6-12	13-21
Michigan State	4-14	14-17
Michigan	1-17	6-20

MEN'S BASKETBALL

1988-89 Big Ten Standings
	W L	Pct.
Indiana	15-3	.833
ILLINOIS*	14-4	.778
Michigan	12-6	.667
Iowa	10-8	.556
Minnesota	9-9	.500
Purdue	8-10	.444
Wisconsin	8-10	.444
Michigan State	6-12	.333
Ohio State	6-12	.333
Northwestern	2-16	.111

*31-5 overall record and NCAA Final Four in Seattle

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

1988-89 Season	Big Ten	Overall
	W L	W L
Iowa	16-2	27-5
Ohio State	16-2	24-6
Purdue	14-4	24-6
Indiana	9-9	16-12
Michigan State	9-9	15-13
ILLINOIS	6-12	11-18
Northwestern	6-12	11-17
Wisconsin	5-13	13-14
Michigan	5-13	11-17
Minnesota	4-14	7-21

BASEBALL

1989 Big Ten Standings
	W L	Pct.
Michigan	21-6	.778
ILLINOIS*	17-11	.607
Iowa	17-11	.607
Ohio State	16-12	.571
Minnesota	15-12	.556
Northwestern	15-13	.536
Michigan St.	13-15	.464
Purdue	11-17	.393
Wisconsin	9-19	.321
Indiana	5-23	.179

*Big Ten Tournament Champion

TRACK AND FIELD

1989 Women's Outdoor Big Ten Meet

	Points
ILLINOIS	169
Wisconsin	111
Indiana	98
Michigan	88.5
Iowa	63
Ohio State	62
Minnesota	58.5
Purdue	50
Michigan State	41

1989 Women's Indoor Big Ten Meet

ILLINOIS	116
Indiana	90
Wisconsin	73.5
Ohio State	57
Iowa	49.5
Minnesota	40
Michigan	33
Michigan State	25
Purdue	11

1989 Men's Indoor Big Ten Meet

ILLINOIS	94
Purdue	73
Indiana	72
Michigan	68
Wisconsin	62
Ohio State	51
Iowa	34
Michigan State	27
Minnesota	15

1989 Men's Outdoor Big Ten Meet

ILLINOIS	155
Purdue	117
Wisconsin	105
Indiana	93
Ohio State	65
Michigan	57
Iowa	51
Michigan State	36
Minnesota	23

MEN'S GYMNASTICS

1989 NCAA Team Championship Results

	Points
ILLINOIS*	283.40
Nebraska	282.30
Minnesota	280.55

*National Champion

1989 Big Ten Meet Results

	Points
ILLINOIS	285.55
Minnesota	281.15
Ohio State	280.60
Iowa	275.50
Wisconsin	272.80
Michigan	268.80
Michigan State	263.95

TENNIS

1989 Women's Big Ten Standings

Indiana
Wisconsin
Northwestern
Minnesota
Michigan State

Purdue

ILLINOIS

Iowa

Ohio State

Michigan

1989 Men's Big Ten Standings

Minnesota
Michigan
Northwestern
Ohio State
Wisconsin
Indiana

Iowa

ILLINOIS

Purdue

Michigan State

FENCING

1989 Big Ten Tournament

	Points
ILLINOIS	110
Ohio State	90
Northwestern	90
Wisconsin	88
Michigan State	64
Purdue	63

MEN'S CROSS COUNTRY

1989 Big Ten Meet

	Points
Wisconsin	40
ILLINOIS	82
Minnesota	102
Ohio State	106
Iowa	108
Michigan State	150
Indiana	157
Michigan	186
Purdue	267

SWIMMING AND DIVING

1989 Women's Big Ten Meet

	Points
Michigan	740.5
Minnesota	538.5
Northwestern	522.5
Michigan State	365
Ohio State	353.5
Purdue	307
Iowa	272
Wisconsin	240
ILLINOIS	169
Indiana	143

1989 Men's Big Ten Meet

	Points
Michigan	679
Iowa	497.5
Minnesota	466.5
Indiana	366.5
Wisconsin	337
Michigan State	216
Ohio State	182.5
Purdue	147
ILLINOIS	136
Northwestern	54

WRESTLING

1989 Big Ten Tournament

	Points
Iowa	125.25
Minnesota	113.75
Michigan	109
Ohio State	70.75
Indiana	66.25
Northwestern	64.25
Wisconsin	53
Purdue	49.25
Michigan State	30.25
ILLINOIS	27.5

GOLF

1989 Women's Big Ten Tournament

	Strokes
Minnesota	1,253
Indiana	1,262
Iowa	1,274
Ohio State	1,281
ILLINOIS	1,317
Purdue	1,322
Wisconsin	1,348
Michigan State	1,361
Michigan	1,384

1989 Men's Big Ten Tournament

	Strokes
Ohio State	1,155
ILLINOIS	1,162
Iowa	1,181
Northwestern	1,182
Wisconsin	1,182
Purdue	1,187
Indiana	1,195
Michigan	1,203
Minnesota	1,211
Michigan State	1,222

source: Division of Intercollegiate Athletics
layout by Robert Siders

Big Ten carries on into the 90s

The Big Ten Conference is arguably the top athletic and academic conference in the country. With top rated schools – such as Northwestern University, the University of Michigan, The Ohio State University and our own University of Illinois – the Big Ten Conference can say it is committed to excellence in all university endeavors.

The Big Ten, as we know it now, was formed in 1949 when Michigan State University gained membership into the Big Nine. In 1953, their first year of competition, the Spartans had a conference championship, tying Illinois in football.

But the conference is much older than that. It dates to 1895 when Purdue University president James H. Smart called a meeting of the presidents of Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota, Lake Forest, Northwestern and Wisconsin to discuss the increasing violence of football. This organization, the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives (ICFR), established a toned down version of rules for football between the schools. The next year they began play as the Western Intercollegiate Conference, without Lake Forest and with new member Michigan.

In 1899, Indiana and Iowa joined, and in 1912 Ohio State became a member. The conference remained with this lineup until 1940 when the University of Chicago dropped out. The most recent development in the Big Ten is the addition of its eleventh member – The Pennsylvania State University. Added in December of 1989, the school is the conference's eastern most site, located in University Park, Pennsylvania.

A Big Ten historical publication says, "The idea of the Big Ten has been fixed in people's minds for the better part of a century, and that idea represents all that is best in college (athletics) and may be, as the great Illinois football coach Robert Zuppke once claimed, 'the anchor of amateur athletics in America.'"

When coach Mike White came to the U of I in 1980, to turn around an ailing football program, the university claimed "The 80's belong to the Illini." They were right, Illinois soon became dominant in several sports.

- Volleyball strung together three straight championships in 1986, 1987 and 1988, reaching the NCAA Final Four in '87 and '88.

- Football captured the Big Ten title in 1983.

- Baseball swept the league tournament in 1989 – the first title in 23 years – while reaching the NCAA.

- Men's basketball netted themselves a crown in 1984 and reached the NCAA Final Four in 1989.

- Both men's and women's track teams piled up numerous league championships, indoor and outdoor.

- Men's cross country won the league in 1984.

- Men's golf holed the championship in 1988.

- And the men's gymnastics team captured Big Ten titles in 1981, 1983 and 1988, and in 1989 the team took both league and national titles.

story by Robert Siders
layout by Kimberly Kossof

Indiana University
"Hoosiers"

University of Iowa
"Hawkeyes"

Michigan State University "Spartans"

University of Michigan
"Wolverines"

University of Wisconsin "Badgers"

University of Minnesota "Golden Gophers"

Northwestern University "Wildcats"

The Ohio State University "Buckeyes"

Purdue University
"Boilermakers"

Penn State University
"Nittany Lions"

Editor
Greg Carney

Organizations

One of the advantages of attending a large university is the variety of organizations available to its students. At the U of I over 500 organizations registered their groups with the Office of Registered Student Organizations.

One facet of the organizations represented are mainly social in nature. These include the 52 fraternities, 24 sororities and myriad other social organizations such as the Irish Illini and the Transfer Student Association. These organizations allow their members to mix and mingle with people of like interests and help make an often overwhelming campus seem smaller.

Through these organizations or other informal means such as roommates or friends you may hear of groups with a different slant. Providing services to the campus and the community is the primary function of many clubs students join. Volunteer Illini Projects (VIP) is probably the most widely recognized campus service organization. Vis a Vis provides free tutoring in C-U elementary and secondary schools, and the Student Credit Union is an easily accessible banking service that students can call their own.

Whether you're an athlete or a spectator, there's probably a sports club to meet your needs. There are the more traditional sports including the Illini Hockey Club, Men's Volleyball Club and the Soccer Clubs, that require tryouts and scheduled training sessions. For the more relaxed athlete, there are walk-on organizations such as the Illini Riding Club, Illini Ballroom Dancing and the Rugby Club, where the only requirement is an interest.

For the serious and career-minded student, a professional or academic club may provide just the atmosphere you are looking for. Almost every major at the university has an academic/professional club or honorary. Business students can join Alpha Kappa Psi or Phi Gamma Nu business fraternities. Psi Chi club serves psychology majors. Special opportunities for women exist through such organizations as the Society for Women Engineers and Women in Communications.

These organizations often bring in engaging speakers, advertise interviewing possibilities and give students a chance to network before beginning their job search (not to mention providing resume fillers).

This section is devoted to these organizations. This is their chance to advertise themselves through their own pictures and paragraphs about what they stand for in the hope that something will catch your interest. Being a part of the University of Illinois through one of its many Registered Student Organizations assists students in building their own legends as they prepare for the real world.

Liesel Krebs, senior in LAS, looks at her knee after diving for the ball in Alpha Chi Omega and Phi Kappa Theta's mud volleyball tournament.

photo by Scott Jacobson

The Afro-American Cultural Program, located at 708 S. Mattis, Urbana, offers many programs for minority students, such as the Big Bro/Sis program for freshmen.

Building
a Legend

Minority Commerce Association

Front Row: Karen McBain, Tracy McBain; Second Row: Felicia Fortenberry, La Tonya Washington, Marlissa Capps, Lynn Hayes; Third Row: Kimberly Adaway, Phyleccia Reed, Davida Fry, Daphne Kennedy, Dana White, Sara Moss; Back Row: Anthony E. Coleman, Kevin Greer, Craig H. Morton, James Cole Jr., Leonard T. Phillips

OFFICERS:

President-Anthony E. Coleman, Treasurer-Dana White, Corresponding Secretary-Marlissa Capps, Student Advisor-Karen McBain, External Vice-President-Craig H. Morton, Internal Vice-President-Kevin Greer

Heller Financial Executive offers a few tips of revision for Anthony Coleman's resume.

The Minority Commerce Association was founded in 1977 as the Minority Accounting Association. As a result of the need for a minority organization for all minority students interested in business professions, it was reorganized into the Minority Commerce Association in 1984. The organization assists minority students enrolled in business related curriculums by increasing awareness of opportunities in Corporate America and by establishing and maintaining contact with the business community. MCA also promotes the professional development of minority workshops and field trips and provides information about summer internships.

Inland Steel Representative, Jesse Rurez, talks to Guy Holman about the transition from college to Corporate America.

Baxter Healthcare Executive offers Kevin Greer advice on how to choose a company that matches his interests.

Heller Financial Representatives converse with Craig Morton and Sandra Monroy after a presentation.

Accounting Professor Dick Ziegler and a Northern Trust Bank Executive chat with Shirley Blunt about preparing for Corporate America.

A panel discussion with reps from Inland Steel Inc., General Electric-Lighting, Baxter Healthcare, and Northern Trust and Savings Bank.

Triangle

Triangle Fraternity, located at 112 E. Daniels, is the Alpha Chapter, founded on April 15, 1907. This year, Triangle participated in Greek Week, Homecoming Float Building and Atius Sachem Mom's Day Sing, placing first, second and third respectively. Annually, the fraternity hosts its Swampwater Founder's Day Bash and Bermuda Triangle Party, drawing hundreds of people. Homecoming with the ladies of Delta Gamma and exchanges with 4-H, Sigma Kappa, Alpha Delta Pi and Zeta Tau Alpha sororities were highlights this fall.

Triangle fields teams in many intramural sports and, this year won the soccer intramural championship in the Orange Division. In the spring, along with Phi Sigma Sigma Sorority, Triangle hosts the annual Breakaway Biathlon, raising thousands of dollars for the National Kidney Foundation.

Seniors

Front Row: Dale Mobley, Tom Moran, Lee Barnes, Dennis Kasner, Scott Smith, Joe Dohany; Second Row: Bill Weiss, Larry Weunsch, Scott VanMaldegiam, Paul Westphal, Mark Pool; Third Row: Dave Spalt, Rich Slobodnik, John Terlisner; Forth Row: Roy Crettol, Bert Strittmatter, Josh Crowder, Chad Richardson, Bill Buttmer; Fifth Row: Mike Zum Mallen

Front Row: John Terlisner, Bob Lennes, John Casserly, Mike Zummallen, Chad Richardson, Scott Smith, Jeff Byrkit, Tim Ellison, Bert Strittmatter, Ruben Mesa, Roy Crettol, Daniel Ellison, Matt Packheiser, Dale Mobley, Jeff Neul, Paul Westphal, Steve Meier, James Rudolph, Mark Dogadalski, Larry Wuench, Mark Pool; Second Row: Greg Tabor, Matt Goodman, Craig Mayer, Cary Rasmussen, Rich Slobodnik, Chris Wells, Pete Kuhns, Eric Larsen, Brad Elias, Scott Boeke, Bill Buttimer, Kevin Manley, Dennis Kasner, Andy Duttlinger; Third Row: Erik Johnson, Steve Wick, Todd Black, Erich Smith, Ken Chung, Steve Jurczyk, Greg Morgan, Lee Barnes, Damon Rolfs, Jim Borop, Jack Harper, Karl Hess Taylor Brown, Drew Triegeer, Jody Meils, Jeff Barnes, Bill Weiss, Bill Stamos, Mike Dakin, Aaron Heumman, Joe Hopfinger, Todd Briley, Ken Skodacek, Joe Dohany, Tom Moran

Pi Beta Phi

Pi Beta Phi, located at 1005 South Wright Street in Champaign, is credited as the first national women's fraternity. Founded on April 28, 1867, the Illinois Zeta chapter digs deep its roots in the Greek System at the U of I. Pi Phi's also lay claim to the establishment of the first national philanthropy. The first annual ARROWGAMES was held to raise money for "Arrowmont" - a craft trade school for the underprivileged in Gatlinberg, Tennessee. Pi Phi's consistently maintain their active national and campus involvement. The Illinois Zetas received the Stoolman Vase for second best national chapter and the "D.C. Alpha Award" for best Panhellenic involvement in '89. Phi Beta will continue to shine in 1990.

Front Row: Mary Milas Second Row: Antionette Field Third Row: Marietta LeSage, Andrea Frigo, Cathy Graham, Julie Holzhall, Missy Jurgovan Fourth Row: Susie Gearhart, Anna Airey, Kelly Shanahan, Liz Erdmann, Amy Surges, Teri Jansen, Amy Shields Fifth Row: Barb Monroe, Jodi Jensen, Meg Schendel, Monica Gerth, Christy Dzik, Cassie Vaughn, Heather Riker, Pam Gabbard

Front Row: Melissa Mouhelis, Michelle Mouhelis Second Row: Antoinette Field, Kim Gerner, Pam Gabbard, Mary Milas, Shar Dacanay Third Row: Sonya Hardin, Gina Tessmer, Eileen Hollowed, Kathy Raparelli, Julie Holzhall, Andrea Frigo, Becky Jensen, Beth Plattner, Monica Gerth Fourth Row: Jodi Jensen, Missy Jurgovan, Meg Schendel, Karen Smith, Kelly McGinnis, Cassie Vaughn, Tracy Randall, Anna Airey, Chris Anderson, Cathy Graham Fifth Row: Teri Jansen, Amy Holler, Laura Paarlberg, Heather Riker, Peggy Pendelton, Marietta LeSage, Kelly Shanahan, Kristin Keen, Katie Sullivan Sixth Row: Nancy Niemeier, Robin Baumgarten, Christy Dzik, JoEllen Kames, Lori Peterson, Sonja Winther Seventh Row: Lauri Welch, Brandy Kurth, Laura Lynch, Virginia Chang, Beth Holler, Robbin Bedard, Liz Erdmann, Alysia Balestri Eighth Row: Susan Cocco, Julie Konkel, Colleen Shannon, Mary Fran Ransik, Katina Secaras, Sue McCann, Judy Chang, Debbie Brandt Ninth Row: Sue Higgins, Sarah Feit, Jennifer Bishop, Anne O'Donnell, Melissa Gregoire, Heidi Blunk, Patty Marinakis, Monica Newport, Carrie Davis, Patty Olsen, Linda Chalupnik Tenth Row: Cindy Schairer, Dena Broughton, Laura Green, Sara Miller, Renata Cherny, Christine Campe, Evangeline Secaras Eleventh Row: Amy Patterson, Kim Marker, Angie Hawkinson, Liz Spencer, Jill Matheny, Laura Walsh, Tammie Beckwith, Sandra Carlson, Kim Long, Tara Swanson Twelfth Row: Julia Richardson, Melissa Schmidt, Tasha Benegoechea, Joann Pothoff, Beth Van Voorst Thirteenth Row: Lori Stanovich, Kathy Klug, Chris Stimer, Heather Rosing, Michelle Briggs, Hilde leuter Fourteenth Row: Liz Anderson, Jill Doll, Shannon Moore, Molly Godfrey, Jane Soltys, Sue Karbarz, Sheryl Jurgovan, Mara Havis, Kelly McNally, Kristin Nerstad, Jennifer Hibbard, Kristin Temple, Kawn Peterson, Meagan Charman, Stacey Deen, Hiedi Root, Sara Garman, Bianco Gallo Fifteenth Row: Mary Garippo, Bryn Green, Angelee Kryger, Jessica Harmon, Amy Huisinga, Lisa Ulrey, Kathy Heinkel, Liz Almer, Lesen Anderson, Karen Wally, Amanda Massucci, Sue Devlin, Rachel Spivey, Lisa Puryear, Kristin Dencs, Sue Quinlan, Jennifer Weiner, Maribeth Mehmehl, Cathy Loughman, Danielle De Campe, Suzy Lee, Melissa Breger, Becky Johns, Sally DeFina, Jenny Drozd, Lynelle Kendle, Sue Dunn Back Row: Auditi Chakravarty, Cindy Poland, Christy Hummel, Tiffany Nash, Kathy Lane

Delta Gamma

Delta Gamma is located at 1207 W. Nevada, Urbana. The Iota chapter here at U of I was founded in 1906. Delta Gamma was originally founded in 1873 at Lewis College in Oxford, Miss. Our national philanthropy is sight conservation-aid to the blind. Social activities this year include football block with Sigma Chi Fraternity, Lurk in the Woods, formals, pledge dance, Anchor Splash and exchanges with various fraternities. Delta Gamma participates in many school and community functions. We are very proud of our academic program and study-buddy system. Our colors are bronze, pink and blue, and our symbol is the anchor. What makes Delta Gamma special to us are the sisters and friends we have now, and the memories we will have for life.

Front Row: Chris Atkenson, Stephanie Dodge, Erin Cook, Julie Edgar, Brooke Kraml, Kristin Young, Cami Jo Beaver; Second Row: Nancy Mason, Katie Baxter, Sue Eithel, Janine Onorato, Beth Neal, Dawn Jenkinson, Lisa Fischer, Tara Wernsing; Third Row: Joelle Robertson, Laura Hermsmeyer, Lisa Schmidt, Krista Pederson, Cassie Giroux, Debbie Cook, LiLan Berry, Lisa Scavarda, Julie White, Kristin Massey, Kathy Brotko; Back Row: Brenda Toland, Sue Smith, Stacie Mayoras, Desiree Denoyer, Amy Schoettle, Lisa Mier, Krista Sebastian, Anny Deliyannis, Jen Janovetz, Sue Smylie, Liz Keller

Front Row: Liesel Torbeck, Tammy Dabbs, Val Young, Desiree Denoyer, Sue Smith, Cami Jo Beaver, Stephanie Dodge, Kim Zimmerman, Krista Sebastian; Second Row: Melissa Marciniak, Cindy Brunton, Brenda Toland, Stacie Mayoras, Chris Atkinson, Julie White, Jen Janovetz; Third Row: Maura Kendrigan, Debbie Ross, Cassie Vaughn, Michelle Delano, Jennifer Hogg, Chablis Tipton, Katie Baxter, Erin Cook, Anny Deliyannis, Anne Keller; Fourth Row: Sue Cook, Jennifer Perry, Lisa Aldrich, Stephanie Lo, Chi Tran, Meredith Bongean, Maureen Sak, Dawn Sheroky, Laura Hermsmeyer, Kara Lawence, Alisa Boksa, Kari Pederson, Julie Mirabella; Fifth Row: Amy LaHood, Mandy Keller, Julie Sullivan, Robin Sager, Cristine Jambrosek, Jennifer Glover; Sixth Row: Angie Carlson, Laura Brent, Kate Tutoky, Kay Asaki, Stephenie Shelley, Theresa Kleckauskas, Christel Migdal, Heidi Wanbach, Monica Ajwani, Janny Jaskowiak, Cassie Giroux, Anne Krause, Kathy Brotko; Seventh Row: Laura Howdle, Angie Hutson, Rhonda Reynolds, Lori Lee, Beth Lazarus, Brooke Kraml, Jennifer Kolar, Kendra Johnson, Katie Sheeler, Seka Prodanovic, Jennifer Failla, Rainy Giroux, Melissa Barhaug, Mindy Stern; Eighth Row: Colleen Umbdenstock, Dana Schulz, Kathy MacAlister, Jennifer MacAlister, Debbie Johns, Julie Wallace, Karen Hedeem, Jen Averback, Amy Paulson, Amy Gasparac, Gwen Drever, Sue Smylie, Cari Fink, Michelle Aitken; Ninth Row: Molly Bergin, Cathy Henrichs, Pam Stevens, Denise Durbin, Alison Boehme, Kelly Canning, Holly Appeldorn, Liz Keller, Lisa Scavarda, Cheryl Bolt, Mary Ann Lucchesi, Arah Slattery, Kathy Kajmowicz, Kelly O' Connor; Tenth Row: Keri Petrow, Tracey Kammeyer, Jen Ullrich, Becky Simmons, Liz Fisher, Kim Zymali, Lisa Fischer, Sue Eitel, Natalie Mayhugh, Katie McCarthy, Beth Neal, Sarah Kraai, Nancy Reid; Eleventh Row: Joanie Burgess, Ann Tutoky, Christy Brunton, Katie Borowski, Jodi Prystalski, Julie Miller, Paige Simms, Julie Edgar, Debbie Cook, Molly Nagel, Jennifer Alloco; Twelfth Row: Betsy East, Michele Jutting, Shanti Jani, Andrea Hebard, Katie Kane, Alison Kraai, Anne Barnshaw, Julie Brown, Sandy Hallman, Shelly Kammeyer, Sue Alfini; Thirteenth Row: Kelly Kopec, Tara Wernsing, Demi Tzortzis, Kelly Taylor, Dawn Jenkinson, Amy Hofner, Dee Frank; Back Row: Tricia Zapinski, Kim Marinaro, Sally Forutan, Kristi Kramer, Barbara Tolch, Jenny Hoobler, Laura Mazzone, Dena Bellinghausen, Karen Furstenau, Jennifer Piazza

Gamma Phi Beta

Omicron chapter has the distinction of being established by one of our sorority's founders, Frances E. Haven Moss. The University of Illinois chapter of Gamma Phi Beta, at 1110 W. Nevada, Urbana, was chartered on May 24, 1913. We enjoy the privilege of being able to call ourselves the only true "sorority," as the word was coined specifically for Gamma Phi Beta in 1882 by Professor Frank Smalley.

At our last National Convention, we were honored with the Mary A. Bingham Award, recognizing us as the most outstanding overall chapter of Gamma Phi Beta. We have also experienced the pleasures of being recognized for excellence in several categories at last year's Panhellenic Borelli Awards, as well as our great success as Greek Week champions, with the help of Phi Kappa Theta and Triangle Fraternities.

We started the Fall 1989 Semester out right with a phenomenal rush and Sisterhood Retreat. Our annual fall philanthropic event was once again a smashing success. We all had a blast "golfing our shorts off," with the tournament's proceeds going to our national philanthropy, Camp Sechelt for underprivileged girls. And the fun was just beginning...

Seniors

Front Row: Jill Blotevogel, Tricia Nebrita, Jennifer Neville, Jennifer Johnson, Ekika Amstadt, Judi Pierce, Claudia Saran, Joanne Manna, Karen Jurgovan, Audra Brown, Sara Honcharuk, Nina Waldherr, Beth Ann Herschbach, Robin Zucker, Patti McKnight, Patti Eltzkorn, Regina Doyle, Denise Maple, Second Row: Katrina Ross, Sonja Kosanovic, Meg Baker, Third Row: Jennifer Hanson, Kate Coughlin, Nancy Schuster, Jenny White, Shelley Issacs, Back Row: Janet Deptuch, Audra Manno, Sue Winkelman, Krista Watson, Elizabeth Weismehl, Kim Fitzgerald, Joan Johnson, Annie Gile

Front Row: Kate Coughlin, Jenny White, Beth Ann Herschbach, Janet Deptuch, Joanne Manna, Audra Manno, Sara Honcharuk, Audra Brown, Sue Winkelman, Nancy Schuster, Claudia Saran, Krista Watson, Jennifer Hanson; Second Row: Judi Pierce, Maria Arcila, Shelley Issacs, Elizabeth Weismehl, Joan Johnson, Nina Waldherr, Jennifer Johnson, Robin Zucker, Jennifer Neville, Katrina Ross, Karen Jurgovan; Third Row: Erika Amstadt, Karin Delius, Terry Zeller, Margie Lisnich, Kim Brittain, Jill Blotevogel, Annie Gile, Patti McKnight, Denise Maple, Tricia Nebrida, Regina Doyle, Patti Etzkorn, Kim Fitzgerald, Mala Byanna, Michelle McCurley, Sonja Kosanovic, Meg Baker; Fourth Row: Laurel Matis, Dana Guler, Susie Marquardt, Melissa Sporleder, Kim Hubert, Dawn Smith, Susan Milleker, Nancy Hesterberg, Sandy Sadkowski, Kathy McCormick, Glorinda Toledo, Missy Temple, Kathy Casper, Kim Sailor, Lori Luth, Kelly Elgas, Beth Dupuis, Turi Kalfahs, Lucia Malovany, Rhonda Keller; Fifth Row: Genevieve Rio, Jill Knipple, Christina Mueller, Genevieve Berdeaux, Jamie Lingane, Jill Brown, Deb Mikulina, Michelle Moore, Maureen McDonnell, Jennifer Grundke, Melanie Dufner, Kristy Tatooles, Christy Linden, Alpita Shah, Sussanna Ross, Heather O'Connor, May Soong, Beth Cieslak, Beth Hartman, Lisa Nowak; Back Row: Shannon Lind, Jennifer Saviski, Lori Lepp, Erin Spooner, Jennifer Grant, Anne Deuster, Kina Enselman, Gail Sokol, Krista Miner, Tracy Marks, Sue Gibson, Sherrie O'Brien, Kerry Graham, Lori Way, Caryn Balsewich, Julie Chang, Angie McClenahan, Georgina Sellis

Kappa Delta

Front Row: Julie Gauvreau, Jenni Laible, Leigh Kridakorn, Tasmyn Scarl, DeeDee Corbett, Justi Miller, Melissa McKee, Amy Diehl; Second Row: Laura Wallin, Jennifer Molitor, Diane Olendski, Lisa Coffey, Barb Siska, Ashlie Scott, Allison Newhouse, Kelly McNichols, Stacey Karzen, Sandi Buhr, Lindy Taylor; Third Row: Shellie Wood, Nancy Seidel, Michelle DeMars, Chris Svab, Sarah Fretag, House mom Julie Hoops, Debbie George, Debbie Fitzgerald, Meg Kuzma, Lisa Anderson, Gretchen Hagen, Susan Jung; Fourth Row: Jenny Churchill, Trish Mahoney, Tracy Swanson, Kristell Huber, Julie Rauch, Lisa Hunt, Barb Kirch, Sue Donahue, Elizabeth Rutherford, Heather Longworth, Lana Evans, Jennifer Shook, Page Lundsberg, Naomi Matsuki, Dana Levy, Debbie Schmalbach; Fifth Row: Leigh Huffington, Jill Eckert, Kristen Dagley, Kara Demirjian, Cara Runtz, Denise Arthur, Christine Isidoro, Andi Godfread, Karla Green, Lisa Groth, Wendy McKee, Keerstin Woods, Beth Sanders, Tracy LaLonde, Susanna Serfoss, Maureen McNichols, Koren Buckner, Krista Harris, Anne Rigby, Michelle Dooley, Melissa Grenda, Heather Gray, Shelly Stone, Erica Cicero, Amy Muranko, Missy Hodgett; Sixth Row: Lori Hinton, Genny Maher, Staci Wood, Eileen McAuley, Lyn Burgoyne, Leah Kiley, Courtney Henkel, Jane Randall, Sue Pilcher, Molly Breen, Minah Mun, Nina Feinartz, Cyndi Carpo, Cyndi Vallina, Kelly Otto, Laurie Huth, Coleen McAuley, Janet Pannaralla, Dee Ally; Back Row: Stacey Thorne, Nancy Kaluzny, Kerry Nelson, Rita Gentle, Kim Kochanowicz, Susanne Lanyi, Carla Carpenter, Katie Blossfield, Coleen McManamon, Aimee Henrikson, Rina Heinze, Raleigh Bennett

Kappa Delta, located at 1204 S. Lincoln in Urbana, was chartered at the University of Illinois on March 10, 1923. Each year before St. Patrick's Day, KDs can be found collecting funds for our largest philanthropic activity – Shamrock Project. The money collected from this project is donated to the Champaign Crisis Nursery and the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse.

Kappa Delta also organizes blood drives, donates money for hunger relief and supports other community and greek philanthropies. KD social functions include exchanges, football block, dances and formals. Amidst all this activity, Kappa Delta consistently ranks above the all-sorority average in scholarship.

Seniors

First Row: Grethchen Hagen, Leigh Kridakorn, Diane Olendski, Melissa McKee, Tasmyn Scarl, Chris Svab; Second Row: Jenni Laible, Lisa Anderson, Jennifer Molitor, Julie Gauvreau, Nancy Seidel, Stacy Karzen, DeeDee Corbett; Third Row: Michelle DeMars, Allison Newhouse, Ashlie Scott, Laura Wallin, Meg Kuzma, Debbie Fitzgerald; Back Row: Sandi Buhr, Shellie Wood, Justi Miller, Debbie George, Barb Siska, Lisa Coffey, Sarah Freitag

Phi Sigma Sigma

Front Row: Kathy Kendall, Debbie Cole, Maura Scott Second Row: Sheri Sheibani, Ripal Patel, Alicia Tyner, Melissa Migut, Christine Donohue, Therese Murphy, Allison Ellman, Katie Werner, Wendy Leong, Laura Baylor Third Row: Kim Whalen, Cathy Murphy, Maureen Kavanaugh, Terrie Dullum, Jennifer Juras, Suzanne Lee, Jenny Kwak, Kelli Etelbrick, Darlene Lutchka, Kristen Dolan, Julie Kaye, Kathy Hickey, Alicia Escamilla, Chris Timko, Kim Satterfield, Kim McAllister Fourth Row: Mia Fromknecht, Maria Carinato, Mary Matzinger, Deborah Spector, Amy Wasilewski, Alysia Stiles, Michelle Harrier, Steffanie Adams, Sujata De, Alyson Smith, Pam Spencer, Erica Deasy, Lisa Dillingham, Jennifer Klenske, Holly Wenger, Michele Bochantin, Jeanne Kandl, Kristin Williams Fifth Row: Sue Pawlowski, Michele Williams, Leslie Jordan, Kristina Radvils, Dana Larson, Kim Lonsway, Carol Todd, Shelly Hoffert, Julie Blomberg, Terri McGovern, Laura Smith, Becky Broeking, Heidi Meyer, Missy Moore, Laura Difiglio, Michele Newell Sixth Row: Kathy Christensen, Jill Runnion, Roshni Mehta, Laura Brand, Vicki Paul, Amy Richards, Julie Johnson, Diane Keller, Debbie Basak, Amy Young, Catherine Hughes, Davida Klaper, Kirsten Anderson, Karen Elder, Kristen Klein, Jan Gutshall, Heidi Krubert, Katie Laurin, Debbie Florini Seventh Row: Bonnie Glasscock, Kathy Harenza, Liz Snider, Stephanie Pytynia, Sue Lai, Kelly McCray, Linnea Herbst, Diane Tillis, Denise Bracken, Theresa Jones, Resmi Jacob, Kathie Sweitzer, Pam Beck, Tonya Rush, Theresa Jordan, Sun Min, Suzie Reichle, Lisa McCartney Eighth Row: Judy DeAcetis, Sandy Perry, Heidi Jensen, Mary Pederson, Heather Placek, Julie Walden, Sue Hahn, Jackie Tomczak, Denise O'Brien, Gina Salemi, Karen Fenske, Bethany Bare, Sue Segebarth, Angel Molina, Jenny Day, Jennifer Rivan, Pam Kielar, Terri Sams Last Row: Lorna Luedtke, Sheila Duermit, Jodie Bequette, Jennifer England, Jackie Morrison, Marnie Murphy, Vicki Hartwig, Anne Handler, Kathy Nagel, Laura Spindler, Patty Hickey, Stephanie Healy, Laura Alcock, Colleen Collins, Sue Bryniarski, Wendy Reynolds, Jennifer Cosco

Seniors

Front Row: Sheila Duermit, Colleen Collins, Kathie Sweitzer Second Row: Suzie Reichle, Angel Molina, Kathy Nagel, Kathy Kendall, Sue Fine, Sandy Perry, Terri Sams Third Row: Jennifer England, Kirsten Gentry, Sun Min, Kathy Harenza, Debbie Cole Fourth Row: Jodie Bequette, Jill Runnion, Denise Trainor Fifth Row: Theresa Jordan, Diane Tillis, Patty Hickey Sixth Row: Heidi Meyer, Pam Beck, Stephanie Pytynia Seventh Row: Sue Bryniarski, Missy Moore, Becky Broeking Eighth Row: Jenny Day, Stephanie Healy, Sue Segebarth, Vicki Hartwig Ninth Row: Wendy Reynolds, Anne Handler, Karen Fenske, Gina Salemi Tenth Row: Marnie Murphy, Jennifer Rivan, Lorna Luedtke Back Row: Judy DeAcetis, Heather Placek, Carolyn Spengler

Front Row: Jenny Riva, Melissa Stosor, Martha Manchester, Jennifer Clark, Laura Carnes, Kim Johnson, Ellie Allen, Chris Simpson, Veronica Lema, Jean Liu, Molly Curry, Padra Richter, Jean Bang, Joan Grabowski, Amy Johnson, Kristen Werries, Jacque Konnerth, Vicki Bauer, Jenny Van Winkle, Diane Staples, Lori Carlson, Lynda Simmons, Michelle Fitch, Sue Wingels, Carrie Yackee, June Rokita; Second Row: Leslie Schultz, Lori Richter, Eileen Sampey, Christine Schmidt, Carolyn Younger, Vanessa Dybala, Leanne Karns, Dristen Livesay, Suzy Neel, Katie Duston, Kim Garrett, Heather Wilken, Lisa Gruzlewski, Jennifer Klein, Becky Seabert, Debbie Parker, Madrid Bates, Maria Zildar; Third Row: Elaine Harvey, Kim Grandcolas, Tricia Gruber, Heidi Hesterman, Jill Erickson, Jennie Mulhern, Heather Oostendorp, Kathy Mason, Jill Samonte, Julie Scholvin, Jill Hycner, Amanda Pawl, Kim Gaston, Marnie Thompson, Kim Marzo, Monica Logani, Anamaria Spiteri, Julie Bussa, Jo Oedewaldt, Kathy Livingston, Ellen Pumo, Nina Leininger, Christina Ysursa, Lenee Fraley, Kelly Fehr, Shelli Curtis, Katie McGrath; Fourth Row: Sue Park, Traci Kubicek, Eileen Rodgers, Mary Zwick, Betty Jang, Debbie Richards, Donna Dutton, Cynthia Chambers, Stacy Oliver, Kris Zvinakis, Deb Delap, Lisa Yelmini, Kristen Willey, Leslie Claeson, Cindy Ethridge, Abby Salmon, Tammy Kroencke, Jana Keistler, Laura Keenan, Amy Luna, Gail Cesaroni, Juli Vyverberg, Julie Grumish, Tammy Groves, Angie Held, Carrie Watne, Kristi Purser, Jackie Kral, Amy Noll, Janice Chiu, Lisa Johnson; Fifth Row: Amy Slates, Karen Holbrook, Holly Simantel, Dina Babich, Kim Wolfe, Angie Santucci, Kim Noah, Nancy Eckhardt, Karol Rindal, Bess Tremonto, Debbie Roscich, Kristin Oostendorp, Maura Corcoran, Kris Nelson, Maria Kraimer, Sara Weddig, Merna Smith, Michelle Ring, Heidi Bonner, Anne Campbell, Michelle Ward, Suzanne Buti, Kim Trehy, Carolyn Elliott, Kim Engman, Missy Franck, Nancy Walsh, Katie Mizwicki, Sue Heyse, Tracey Konicek, Sharon Horiuchi, Leslie Lindren, Betsy Gaik, Paula Rigbins

Since its founding on April 5, 1895, by four young women at the University of Arkansas, Chi Omega has grown to be the largest Greek women's fraternity. Omicron chapter, located at 907 S. Wright in Champaign, was founded on April 5, 1900. Our philanthropies this year included a softball tournament to benefit the Champaign Children's Home and a day with Matthew House to support underprivileged children in Champaign.

We strongly contribute to campus organizations with representatives on Student Ambassadors, SAA, SGA, Shi-Ai and many more. ChiO's are proud of our sisters on the cheerleading, tennis and swim teams. We are especially proud of our 1989 Homecoming Queen, Karen Holbrook.

Chi Omega

Seniors

Front Row: Kim Noah, Paula Riggins, Carolyn Elliott, Debbie Grandcolas, Michelle Ring, Deanna Willey, Elaine Harvey; Second Row: Karen Holbrook, Lisa Johnson, Leslie Lindgren, Kelly Milliman, Suzanne Buti, Bess Tremonto, Merna Smith, Betsy Gaik; Third Row: Anne Campbell, Janice Chiu, Kim Engman, Maria Kraimer, Holly Simantel, Jolie Machota, Dina Babich; Fourth Row: Kristin Oostendorp, Nancy Eckhardt, Michelle Ward, Michelene Todd, Debbie Roscich, Fifth Row: Heidi Bonner, Jenni Widholdm, Maura Corcoran, Kim Trehy; Back Row: Christine Simmons, Laura Wonderlin, Holly Clingan, Sophie Bell, Sara Weddig

Farmhouse

Front Row: Paul Olson, Bob Koonce, Travis Smith, John Mayfield, Steve Hawkins, Barry Krumwiede, Brad Riskedal, Scott Stein; Second Row: Dough Schemmer, Chad Beeley, Randy Wolf, Dan Gill, Don Carlson, Bill Keegan, John Husemann, Kirk Hunter, John Schweitzer, Brian Johnson; Third Row: Brian Johnson, Rob Link, Darrin Boudreau, Bob Ryan, Tony White; Fourth Row: Kevin Wright, Scott Boston, Kurt Williams, John Wilken, Steve Bergschneider, Eric Suits, Bob Manns, Matt Waters, Matt Reichert, Brian Robinson; Fifth Row: Kurt Kaufmann, Bob Benson, Gary Huels, Alvie McCormick, Darren Cole, Ben Watson, Thad Kaylor, Chad Hertz, Mark Conner, Chad Braden, Chad Kindred; Back Row: Brad Hardesty, Ed Leigh, Marty Heyen, Jeff Brown, Darren Bodine, Bill Hollis, Nick Manns, Kurt Gruben, Court Sauder, John Caspary, Scott Schultz, Jeff Butler

The Illinois Chapter of FarmHouse Fraternity is located at 809 West Pennsylvania Avenue in Urbana and was chartered on October 15, 1914. For that reason, one of our most important events during the Fall semester was our 75th Anniversary celebration. Social events included exchanges with Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Omicron Pi and Gamma Phi Beta; football block with Phi Sigma Sigma; philanthropy blood drive with Zeta Tau Alpha; and of course, Dad's Day and Homecoming. We are excited about joining with our partners from Delta Zeta for the annual Atius-Sachem Mom's Day Sing and look forward to continuing our string of finals appearances with them. FarmHouse Fraternity is proud of its reputation for campus leadership. Most notably, Stacey Huels served as the 1989 Interfraternity Council President. We are excited about the future and the challenges that lie ahead.

FarmHouse 1989-90 Sweetheart KD Lisa Groth having fun at the House.

Steve Hawkins, Darren Bodine, Scott Schultz and Jeff Butler celebrating FarmHouse Senior Class: "Sure, we're ready for the real world...Right!"

FarmHouse '92's proving that they are "silly sophomores" at FH '93's Pledge Dance.

Phi Mu

First Row: Gail Hamilton, Laura Kulik, Shannon Hayes, Sara Nawara, Margaret Connolly, Theresa DeSalvo, Colleen Deming, Elaine Wisnosky, Cailin Harrison, Melanie Mann, Jana Tannebaum, Kellie Rowden; Second Row: Heather Munoz, Lauren Peterson, Dianna Kuhl, Jill Morrow, Sharon Gorden, Lynnette Johnson, AnnMarie Stare, Dawn Scheets, Kathy Duda, Sue Swigon, Lisa Hickey, Cheri Lager, Paula Widholm, Tamra Swistowicz; Third Row: Suzanne Mayer, Maria Quintana, Mary Hage, Trisha Kohls, Kate Bruder, Ann Marie Graziano, Sheryl Stuenkel, Patti Ottenstein, Urana Hayne, Jennifer Day; Fourth Row: Lori Zamberletti, Nicole Bastian, Kristen Vineau, Kathy Pabich, Kriste Seitz, Michelle Sauder, Jennifer Keogh, Molly Riordan, Dristen Larson, Kim Stanley, Julie Lueke, Lisa Houston, Cathy Wilkes, Michelle Mackin, Shannon McCormack, Gabrielle Rosi; Fifth Row: Cari Wilken, Lynn Bower, Tina Schwarz, Laurie Tafilaw, Sara Lussenhop, Jill Laux, Stephanie Kelly, Lena Lee, Adriana Brad, Carrie Smadris, Sharon Parillo, Cyndy Cleckner, Emily Reyes, Tiffany Wilson, Karen Kumorek; Sixth Row: Amy Yochum, Pan Laesch, Kristy Phariss, April Olszewski, Regina Chao, Tiffany Davis, Beth Wilson, Gridget Johnson, Shelly Norris, Melissa Mylin, Laura Waringo, Judy Kwak, Chandra Lowry, Susie Barbacovi, Tracy Keene, Chris Payne, Denise Gruhn, Karen Smilie; Seventh Row: Beata Bochenek, Kristen Doherty, Kim Reed, Meiko Ogura, Trina LoBue, Kelly Keen, Grace Hou, Johanna Lee, Kim Gall, Karen Fitzgerald, Hatasha Hein, Kristen Hanson, Julie Moody; Eighth Row: Lisa Stozek, Laura Mackner, Melinda Snep, Debbie Hann, Kristina Talbert, Karisa Koenig, Sharon Gonnella, Jeannie Meyer, Sheri Zebraskas, Kim Lundin, Roxana Jimenez, Betsy Lowery, Kris Lingle, Bianca Truitt, Jessica Young; Last Row: Josie Gill, Amy Pemble, Jeannie MacFarlane, Vicki Garrett, Tracey Maxey, Dana Morrison, Kris Treado

Bridget Johnson, Kathy Pabich, and Karen Drabotremain hopeful for a Rose Bowl season.

SENIORS

First Row: Ann Marie Stare, Sheyl Stuenkel, Sara Nawara, Elaine Wisnosky, Lynnette Johnson, Sharon Gorden, Kendall Stachon, Kathy Pabich, Bridgid Mattingly; Second Row: Kathy Duda, Tamra Swistowicz, Lisa Hickey, Sue Swigon, Laura Novi, Lori Zgoda, Julie Siedlecki, Julie Okon; Third Row: Kim Kutchma, Carla Mastorgio, Amy Revell, Margaret Connolly, Lucy Quintana, Beth Brayshaw; Fourth Row: Cathy Wilkes, Theresa DeSalvo, Kathy Burton, Melanie Mann, Kristen Larson, Cheri Lager; Fifth Row: Cailin Harrison, Urana Hayne, Laurie Tafilaw, Natalie Mikolajczak, Colleen Deming; Last Row: Liz Auer, Paula Widholm, Kriste Seitz, Lisa Witry, Theresa Mura

Phi Mu Fraternity was founded in 1852 in Macon, Georgia. The Delta Beta Chapter was founded at the University of Illinois and is located at 302 E. Armory, Champaign. Phi Mu raised money for our national philanthropy, Project HOPE (Health Opportunities for People Everywhere) while teaching community children Halloween safety tips. During football block, Phi Mu and Lambda Chi Alpha cheered the Illini on to a triumphant season. Phi Mus look forward to an excellent spring semester, which includes Atius with Alpha Kappa Lambda, a formal, pledge dance, canoe trip, and lots o' exchanges.

Phi Mu's "O'Malley's Crew" looks forward to an excellent year.

Alpha Omicron Pi

Iota, the fifteenth chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, was founded at the University of Illinois on February 27, 1911. Our chapter house at 706 S. Matthews Street, was originally built in 1927 and was expanded in 1986 to hold 65 women. The 140 members of Iota are actively involved in numerous campus activities and also contribute to our national philanthropy, Arthritis Research.

Formals, improptus, serenades and our Porch Fling in the spring make for a busy year. AOII's combine high academic standards with opportunities for personal growth, fun, and sisterhood. Members across the nation and in Canada are united through many traditions including the Jacqueminot Rose and the cardinal red of Alpha Omicron Pi.

Seniors

Front Row: Ann Horvath, Gail Meyer, Melissa Williams, Judi Mayerhofer, Liesel Krebs, Debbie Misevich; Second Row: Jenni Collins, Lucie Meyer, Amy Swierkosz, Diane Parkins, Lisa Johnson, Tammy Rowe, Pam Juckett, Marybeth Neffke, Laura Bussan, Anne Gallagher; Third Row: Danelle Green, Karen Shillington, Margie Tucker, Mary Ann Kim, Jenn Howell, Kirsey Na, Martha Janosky, Andrea Tirva, Chris Hale, Tracy Aller, Katika Tako, Cathy Sell, Elizabeth Schuring, Linda Hendricks, Ellen Klos, Lisa Snapp

Front Row: Liesel Krebs, Jenni Collins; Second Row: Jennifer Haley, Laura Finney, Kelli Odle, Jenny Prewitt, Kris Bunt, Ronette Leal, Debbie McCabe, Beth Willis, Kim Morris, Julie Schermerhorn, Jen Kuczwar, Jen Alexovich; Third Row: Kristin Vitek, Julie Triggs, Deborah Tessler, Sharon Kern, Barb Baugher, Meghan McCloskey, Sherri Perlstein, Paige Warner, Tania Schusler, Samantha West, Tonya Rosenbohm, Aileen Wright, Kristy Jostes, Katie Cochran; Fourth Row: Rebecca Beversdorf, Beth Crawford, Jennifer Zuschlag, Cindy Hicks, Kristen Albers, Shauna Littrell, Stephanie Williams, Jenni Black, Natalie Jennings, Cheryl Wickstrom, Kathy Bogan, Cyndi Wheeler, Michelle Ciucci, Lisa Hackbart; Fifth Row: Kim McCoy, Mary Ann Kim, Melissa Williams, Margie Tucker, Karen Shillington, Jenn Howell, Linda Hendricks, Marybeth Neffke, Wendi Steres, Jeanine Farioli, Laura Sarsha, Lynn Swetland, Michelle Goecke; Sixth Row: Amy Swierkosz, Judi Mayerhofer, Jenny Thiel, Ellen Klos, Chris Hale, Anette Lesieutre, Sheri Kim, Katika Tako, Andrea Tirva, Kristin Nelson; Seventh Row: Laura Bussan, Michele Gemske, Carol Dornbush, Jennifer Nolder, Myrna Rousseau, Maureen O'Neill, Tricia Patton, Elizabeth Allen, Debbie Misevich, Jackie Jacobs, Pam Juckett, Ann Horvath, Denelle Green, Anne Johnston, Cathy Stepenske; Eighth Row: Sue Schroeder, Wendy Lewis, Shannon Miller, Erica Tarrant, Katie Podl, Lois Casaleggi, Karen Duckworth, Sheila Sullivan, Elizabeth Schuring, Cathy Sell, Amy Steffen, Martha Janoskey, Jenny Tempestini; Ninth Row: Cindy Cheng, Jenny Dick, Monique Medewar, Danielle Raffanti, Niki Dracopoulos, Penny Proksch, Heather Parkin, Julie Yankosky, Jennifer Stevenson, Sonja Reichencker, Aileen Yang, Judi Malter, Denise Stowell, Linda Banaszek, Lynn Barone, Suzie Graf, Patti Tako, Robin Hartmann, Beth Kennedy, Jennifer Westin; Tenth Row: Jeanine Zachary, Jeanne Balaty, Amy Sehy, Lia Brakel, Rennee Werner, Anjeanette Blesy, Marci Uihlein, Jill Messamore, Beth Krause, Tiffani Miller

Alpha Delta Pi

Founded in 1851, Alpha Delta Pi prides itself in being the first national sorority. Our philanthropy, the Ronald McDonald House, serves parents of children who need to be hospitalized for long periods of time. In our sorority, we emphasize volunteerism in both our philanthropic contributions and campus involvement. All house members are required to be involved in at least two campus activities. Through our high standards, we take pride in the fact that many A D Pi's have become strong leaders in several campus organizations.

We received a National Alcohol Awareness award in 1989 for our chapter's dedication to this cause within the house, campus and the Champaign-Urbana community.

Seniors

Front Row: Deborah Marburger, Julia Moll, Melissa Credi, Dina Boxser; Second Row: Jennifer Ekstrom, Sara Corrough, Tami Craig, Linda Duval, Laura Landberg, Sunita Desai, Jean Crotty, Jennifer Curtis; Third Row: Holly Heavlin, Heidi Studtman, Julia Johannpeter, Valerie Revelle, Jennifer Hansen; Back Row: Lynne Wexelberg, Beth Mazenko, Susan Fermanek, Michele Vanderheyden, Lauren Howey, Debbie Cerda, Denise Wiederkehr, Ann Hink, Christine Squires, Linda Knudsen, Michele Phillips

Front Row: Christine Phelan, Keith Serrano, Kristen Wagner, Suzanna Schareder, Gioia Giannotti, Susan Pachikara; Second Row: Jerilyn Lipe, Dawn Day, Kenise Quizon, Beth Trahan, Nancy Boyer, Julie Payton; Third Row: Jennifer Hansen, Susan Fermanek, Angela Chalberg, Linda Knudsen, Dina Lusco, Dina Boxser, Pat Cini; Fourth Row: Selima Ani, Emily Tarterm, Laura Barry, Denis Wokas, Cindy Yound, Mary Jo Michel, Valerie Revelle; Fifth Row: Joanna Champley, Barbara Brozak, Kristin Belin, Merijo Jordan; Sixth Row: Jennifer Erdtmann, Jean Crotty, Sherry Dunn, Alise Bjelland, Kelly Hawbaker, Lisa Labuda, Peggy Holba, Darlene Maher; Seventh Row: Deborah Marburger, Valerie Huckstadt, Chanda Dies, Ann Marie Vagena, Anita Shutak, Debbie Cerda, Christina Squires, Denise Wiederkehr; Eighth Row: Melissa Credi, Linda Duval, Janet Roggy, Annett Deetz; Ninth Row: Liz Bunte, Heidi Studtman, Sunita Desai, Tina Lockwood, Joice Kempton, Staci Selke, Laura Revwee; Tenth Row: Margaret Clauson, Lauren Howey, Julie Johannpeter, Michele Pomeroy, Stephanie Bridenbaugh, Michele Vanderheyeden, Julie Perrin; Eleventh Row: Krista Finch, Stephanie French, Lynne Wexelberg, Gretel Ryan, Deanna Campbell, Sharon Wolf; Back Row: Holly Kopplin, Jennifer Curtis, Michele Phillips, Tami Craig, Karen Tims, Ann Peabody

Alpha Gamma Rho

Alpha chapter of Alpha Gamma Rho social-professional fraternity is located on the corner of First and Gregory Streets. The national fraternity was founded in 1908. Brotherhood is strong in the house – AGR consistently has the largest Homecoming turnout on campus, last year welcoming 600. Besides having a good time, the brothers of Alpha Gamma Rho work hard to support the Marching Illini through one of the most popular and successful philanthropies on campus, the Foxy Lady Contest.

Front Row: Ken Ropp, Tom Walberg, Jeff DeMeyer, Bob Cheline, Scott Samsa, Lance Ruppert, Joe Libbra, Sean Gilliam, Brian Downes, Wayne Heyen, Dave White, Steve Gregory, Ryan Betzelberger, Jeff Smith; Second Row: Jay Dameron, Brian Corkill, Don Hughes, Eric Thomas, Derek Kowalski, Kent Hudson, Nate Neumann, Rob Humphreys, Jon Day, Jeff Ellerbrock, Rob Berry, Brad Trotter, Scott Reis, Scott Johnson; Third Row: Eric Peters, Doug Hollis, Dave Hollinrake, Steve Laesch, Jim Anderson, Kevin Haas, Andy North, Rob Reiling, Dave Hughes, Bart Bayston, Daren Metz, Luke McKelvie, Rick Rosentreter, Mike Coleman, Brian Steidinger; Fourth Row: Jason Oertel, Brad Ellerbrock, Shawn Schrader, Anthony Koehler, Doug Frerichs, Tom Althans, Dan Weber, Scott Lauher; Fifth Row: Dave Armstrong, Brian Fuelberth, Jason Eversizer, Brad Stater, Doug Crane, Kirk Martin, Dan Hinshaw, Kerry Motley, Deith Hoffman

Seniors

Rob Humphreys, Frank Hopkins, Jon Day, Rob Berry, Jeff Ellerbrock, Kent Hudson, Scott Reis, Nate Neumann, Derek Kowalski, Eric Kraft, Eric Thomas, Scott Johnson

Zeta Tau Alpha

Zeta Tau Alpha was Founded in 1898 in Virginia. Our house, "the Castle," is the largest Greek house on campus and is located at 1404 S. Lincoln. Our colors are turquios blue and steel gray. Our symbol is the unicorn.

Our philanthropy is Association for Retarded Children (ARC). Besides raising money for ARC, we participate in service projects, such as baking cookies for nursing homes, food drives and blood drives.

Some of our other activities are Winter and Spring Formal, Barn Dance, Pledge Dance, Set-up dances, instant parties, scholarship and sisterhood activities.

Zeta Tau Alpha has 211 chapters internationally and over 115,000 members. Our chapter, Alpha Kappa, has approximately 130 members.

Spring Formal in 1989 for Zeta Tau Alpha was called "Paint the Town Red." Jessica Whetter, Ed Whetter, Bernie Darling

Front Row: Meg Mell, Nancy Vespa, Anna Mell, Millie Braun, Jennifer Streitmatter, Gina Poczekaj, Jann Lohman, Emily Peters, Jennifer Brejcha, Dor Davis, Becky Lipscomb; Second Row: Beth Ramey, Gina Anthony, Jennifer Salisbury, Jennifer Slavik, Paula Stein, Kay McKenna, Anna Ogena, Kristan Wolf, Lisa Braunlich, Shari Haglund, Annselma Leyva, Kristan Jatczak, Pam Lowrey; Third Row: Jennifer Erps, Kristen Reinking, Nancy Bongiorno, Chris Weidlich, Sheila Moran, Sharon Sunday, Debbie Johnson; Fourth Row: Karin Burgin, Mary Christine, Ann Larson, Jill Johnson, Lori Weissert, Karen Tallyn, Mary Klier, Kimber Bauersacs, Trang Nyugen, Megan Axe, Stephanie Connolly, Angie Lee, Cheryl Clegg, Wendi Llapitan, Lisa Huber, Jennifer Stofer, Valerie Walker, Heather Liska, Laurie Dalman; Fifth Row: Cathy McCay, Cindy Lane, Kristan Long, Lisa Larson, Cris Todas, Vicki Konapaz, Joan Wilson, Colleen McNamara, Donna Johnson, Becky Dunn, Theresa Sheridan, Tammy Smith, Myrna Green (House Mom), Sandra Monroy, Diane Uzamecki, Sharon Chisek, Berni Darling, Joyce Lew, Meg O'Hara, Pearl Sanchez, Lisa Piatkowski, Sue Smith, Kathy Shymanski, Melanie Filicowski, Sally Kagel, Leah Leeds, Jen Maurer, Cris Cazaz; Sixth Row: Laura Corridon, Betsy Connell, Sylvia Byun, Diane Base, Tricia Lewis, Dawn Kimple, Jessica Whetter, Sande Starnes, Terry Moore, Ann Krueger, Sharon Hwang, Joanna Abrams, Kelly Winters, Kelly Kristan, Cathy Juricic, Cindy Stimbert, Sue Dobias, Mary Mervin; Seventh Row: Kathy Troka, Lee Weissenstein, Kelly Pattison, Julie DeRosa, Julie Swadner, Lori Woodard; Back Row: Karen Plantan, Jill Rubel, Elizabeth Matyazic

Front Row: Karin Hutzler, Mary Christine, Colleen McNamara, Vicki Hickman, Jennifer Stofer, Diane Base, Lisa Huber, Julie DeRosa, Kate Green; Second Row: Sharon Chisek, Debbie Johnson, Donna Johnson, Lori Woodward, Elizabeth Matyzak, Karen Burgin; Back Row: Wendi Llapitan, Vicki Konopacz, Meg O'Hara, Karen Tallyn, Stephanie Surles, Cindy Lane, Melanie Fialkowski

Front Row: Debbie Johnson, Becky Dunn, Jill Rubel, Lori Weissert, Anna Mell; Second Row: Jann Kohman, Lisa Larson, Mary Klier, Jen Maurer, Chris Cazaz, Kristan Jatczak, Lisa Huber, Jennifer Streitmatter; Third Row: Jennifer Erps, Beth Hart; Back Row: Kay McKenna, Kristen Reinking, Karen Plantan, Millie Braun, Tammy Smith, Elizabeth Matyzak, Kristan Long

Sigma Kappa

Located at 303 E. John Street, Theta Chapter of Sigma Kappa has a rich heritage at the University of Illinois. Founded in 1906, Sigma Kappa has always prided itself on excellence as a house and as individuals. Sigma Kappas are constantly involved on campus with Panhellenic, student organizations, band and choral groups, and varsity sports. We are particularly well known for our philanthropic activities. These include Airband, the annual spring lip sync contest, and Week of Giving in the fall. Proceeds from both activities are donated to gerontology and Alzheimer's research. Our most prominent social event is Flamin' Mamie, the 1920s dance unique to our house. All this and more adds up to make Theta the strongest chapter of Sigma Kappa in the nation.

Front Row: Jen Gebhardt, Anne Lee, Lisa Raucci, Chris Rawlish, Jeannie Wang, Kavitha Narayana, Dawn Egelston, Kristen Hawkins, Joan Dimmitt, Patty Byrne; Second Row: Jerri Boughan, Christy Whitney, Susanne Koss, Barb La Monica, Melissa Archey, Connie Baker, Liza Vrlec, Heidi Dugar, Missy Ostermeier, Susie Adelman, Janelle Smith, Kori Kostenski, Missy Manning; Third Row: Sarah Brown, Theresa Eagleson, Kristin Peters, Chris Kalsan, Bonnie Gorr, Debi Wagner, Stephanie Clinton, Mary Ann Beutow, Michele Weiss, Tara Lloyd, Liz Rogers, Diane Flahaven, Julie Mraz, Pam Brooks, Stella Yeh; Fourth Row: Cindi Link, Patty Kanavos, Pam Giesecke, Alicia Steele, Jennifer Pakenham, Leslie Bratton, Catherine Cappuzzello, Linda Winker, Sara Stoltenberg, Vicki Jehle; Fifth Row: Kelly Weinberger, Kristie Gronowski, Lisa Mangione, Julie Lump, Christy Mangione, Lisa Andreini, Erin Lynch, Stephanie Gerken, Jen King, Amy Kozlowski, Laurie Johnson, Kathy Wyman, Nichole Chlebos, Erin Moran; Sixth Row: Ellyn McKinney, Julie Reynolds, Anastasia Jack, Missy Severson, Karen Gullett, Sandy Smith, Sara Rock, Sharon Marquardt, Esther Clarke, Nancy Jackson, Amy Hanson, Linda Nordvedt, Michelle Hawkins, Adelina Tseng, Leigh Ann Stier, Eunice Chang; Seventh Row: Michelle Cmelo, Britt Hendricksen, Deidre Ponzer, Pam Dunnuck, Sarah Hannagan, Mary Beth Green, Celeste Belczak, Kelly Welty, Susanne Peterson, Kim Danowski, Cathy Mau, Marguerite Madden, Michelle Canar, Kristi Tykal, Jane Weaver, Kristin Straub, Angie Thompson, Kris Eggers, Linda Paollela, Christy Bennett; Back Row: Jen Kenedy, Julie Engelmann, Katie Heinz, Debbie Pardol, Jodie Lindstrom, Jill Katz, Melissa Crook, Nadine Schneider, Michele Anderson, Donna Moss, Cathy Stubblefield, Sheila Dalrymple, Amy King, Jen Chidley, Sue Turnbull, Amy Heyen Front Row: Beth Grushkin, Michele Anderson, Linda Paollela, Julie Engelmann, Britt Hendricksen, Deidre Ponzer, Amy King; Second Row: Sheila Dalymple, Nadine Schnieder, Lisa Johnson, Jen Kenedy, Cathy Walker, Susanne Koss, Debbie Pardol, Katie Heinz; Third Row: Cathy Stubblefield, Vicki Jehle, Kelly Weinberger, Pam Brooks, Carrie Goerne, Pam Dunnuck, Theresa Eagleson, Chrsty Whitney; Fourth Row: Bekah Beal, Karen Kasinger, Kim Danowski, Joanne Cederoth, Mary Beth Green, Melissa Crook, Michelle Cmelo, Cathy Mau

Seniors

Alpha Gamma Delta

The Sigma chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta was founded on the University of Illinois campus on June 12, 1918. The chapter house is located at 1106 South Lincoln Ave., Urbana. Our philanthropic activities include a Walk-A-Thon and Halloween party in the fall and a beach volleyball tournament in the spring, all to benefit the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Many of our members hold campus offices and we are also proud to say that we are one of the most active sororities on campus.

Front Row: Jennifer Dobnick, Julie Miller, Debbie Koziel, Holly Buckley, Heather Willson, Kelly Kovach, Angie Pena, Stephanie Su, Kathy Brunn, Jennifer Anderson, Carla Simmons, Dorie LaHood; Second Row: Katie McAvoy, Lisa DiMartino, Charlotte McTaggart, Jennifer Snyder, Shelley Charhut, Barb Blazek, Heidi Coulson, Tia Margaris, Danielle Tisci, Cindy Page, Kelly Earl, Aprna Reddy; Third Row: Sara VanZeeland, Ali Kwon, Kim Grogan, Stacey Wynveen, Candi Fornero, Niki Triplett, Ann Linde, Lisa Metcalf, Karen Ericksen, Diana Mostowfi, Kim Fette; Fourth Row: Sara Smith, Jen Garwal, Kim Radosh, Diane Hartigan, Michelle Williams, Sue Stephen, Sara Shields, Kristin Miller, Peggy Magill, Chris Ruscheinski, Amy LaFoon; Fifth Row: Lia Beihl, Sara Larson, Christine Oldson, Colette Copper, Andrea Beniveгна, Jill Hawes, Susie Grune, Jamie McCoy, Becky Innis, Debbie Pallas, Vicky Cunningham, Meaghan Crook, Shelli Drummond, Maria McTaggart, Tarci Tebockhurst, Dianna Lovell, Debbie Boege, Kristin Wojcik, Nicole Festler, Daniella Roth; Sixth Row: Daniella Roth, Jeanne Murphy, Joy Reagan, Christine Davik, Tina Sciabica, Kristin Stromberg, Jen Gussner, Jen Curtin, Sindi Jonas, Heather Hafer, Kim Patyk, Kirsten Pierce, Angie Plair, Lisa Majeres, Christie Shih, Renee Irvine; Seventh Row: Pam Miller, Stephanie Duda, Kim Dukes, Kelly Loeffler, Erice Mudlong, Lori DeMers, Geanine Pirc, Beth Blackston, Jen Paxhia, Kaori Sonoda, Angela Burris, Tracee Fox, Val Marbach, Val Reinke, Caroline Glennon, Kristin Restivo, Heidi Snell, Lisa Mostowfi, Tracy Stephanon, Tammy Corzine, Bridget Gordon, Alison Gibbs, Jen Parry, Michelle Hickey, Carole Spengel, Kathy Dorista; Eighth Row: Caryn Radosh, Caroline Garwal, Kim Hanlon, Lisa Oldson, Michelle Lovell, Anna D'Agostino, Amy Kress, Tracey Haaland, Liz Celske, Joan Oliver, Jean Herr, Sandra Rhee, Janet Curtin, Leigh Ellen Ludwig, Kristin Borgman, Nicole Varrichio, Michelle Anderson, Karen Augustine, Tracey Klumb, Jill Centella; Back Row: Maria McKinney, Jen Carlson, Jennifer Jarvis, Kathy O'Reilly, Tricia Kent, Kristin Scala, Madeline Daley, Penny Petrow, Amy Stueber, Terri Arko, Laura Kurre, Jackie Milord, Stacey Scapino, Kim Duckett, Lisa Dennison, Jill Downing, Jean Lee, Giao Pham, Justine Dremuk, Chrisy Gadbois, Stacy Fisher, Lori Lamont

Seniors

Front Row: Lisa Dennison, Madeline Daley, Amy Stueber, Janet Curtin, Terri Arko, Jean Lee, Sandra Rhee; Second Row: Chrissy Gadbois, Stacey Fisher, Kristin Scala, Penny Petrow, Tracey Haaland, Justine Dremuk, Stacey Scapino, Carrie Forshier, Laura Kurre; Third Row: Lori Lamont, Maria McKinney, Amy Kress, Anna D'Agostino, Caryn Radosh, Kathy O'Reilly, Lisa Oldson, Giao Pham; Fourth Row: Kim Duckett, Michelle Lovell, Jill Centella, Val Reinke, Joan Oliver, Kristin Restivo, Tricia Kent, Tracey Klumb, Jackie Milord, Jennifer Jarvis; Back Row: Nancy Zalewski, Jennifer Carlson, Liz Celske, Jean Herr, Jill Downing, Karen Augustine

Sara Martin, Justine Dremuk, Jenny Cheek

Alpha Xi Delta

Alpha Xi Delta celebrated the pledging of our centennial pledge class this year, a stunning year to reflect upon for the Kappa Chapter. We hopped in the haystacks at our first Barn Bash since 1986, won first prize for our fire-breathing dragon float in the Homecoming parade and cheered as Elaine Fiolka accepted a spot on the 1989 Homecoming Court. We held blood drives, visited sick kids at Carle Hospital on Halloween, sent letters to servicemen for Christmas and of course, had our Teeter Totter Marathon on the Quad to raise money for the American Lung Association. Our new AI Fuzzy kept us smiling, our carven quill shone from above our open doors, and our unique sisterhood, binding us together forever, grew stronger and stronger. Alpha Xi Delta is located at 715 W. Michigan Avenue, Urbana, Ill. The Chapter was founded on April 17, 1893, at Lombard College.

"That says it all."

Front Row: Debbie Zilic, Karen Tricbe, Dawn Anderson, Barb Chidley, Carol Monge, Kim Baird, Elsa Ortiz, Kim Dorsey, Clare McAuliffe, Julie Owles; Second Row: Christine Grass, Lori Paulus, Julie Munday, Denese Brown, Karen Fairgrievies, Pam McVeigh; Third Row: Christal Ingle, Alice Connolly, Amy Nowling, Jane Donovan, Karen Swan, Elaine Fiolka, Danette Pittenger, Tammi Trebs, Beth Deterding, Rae Ann Boggs, Julie Hays, Veronica Pontarelli, Jean Acosta, Carla Dieterle, Eileen Lemezis; Fourth Row: Denise Marshall, Terri Ceithaml, Missy Kozyak, Peng Chen, Bridget Molson, Tammy Athas, Cheri Rettinger, Priti Khanna, Terri Szot, Heather Smith, Julie Marcus, Tekla Keogh, Jennifer Zerbe; Fifth Row: Jill Gordon, Jennifer Kauss, Karen Doyle, Joy Vallesterol, Susan Moore, Laurie Doherty, Jeannine Peres, Jill Goetz, Joanne Shineflug, Elaine Leung, Meg Houlihan, Esther Segal, Susan Potochniak; Back Row: Susan Foys, Paula Kilman, Melissa Rosen, Cheryl Blazajak, Kim Jones, Colleen Howard, Karen Mills, Julie Walberg, Sandy Collins, Eva McClelland, JiMin Kim, Kathy Bereza, Colleen Kane, Vivian Bennett, Kim Mraz, Lisa Rousso, Jeanine Schofield, Maureen McLaughlin, Laura Hays, Maria Finatri, Jennifer Sochacki, Heather Chapman, Amy Adams

Setting up the Alpha Xi Delta schedule for fall or setting up a tent so it couldn't fall? Well, both. Our '89 executive committee retreat was relaxing, fun, and very festive!

Peng Chen and Julie Hays relax before the big Dad's Day football game.

A sister-stack was built on Sisterhood Night to last the years through.

1989 Quill Man Brian Brooks and his betrothed, house president Sandy Collins, enjoy a traditional Pink Rose Fromal and being together.

Seniors

Front Row: Kate Jackson, Kim Jones, Julie Hays, Jennifer Kaus; Second Row: Carol Monge, Amy Adams, Maria Finatn, Missy Kozyak, Tammy Athas, Laura Hays; Back Row: Julie Arends, Jill Goetz, Kim Mraz, Sandy Collins, Terri Szot, Clare McAuliffe, Elaine Fiolka, Colleen Kane, Eileen Lemezis, Jane Donovan, Amy Nowling, Eva McClelland

Alpha Phi

Alpha Phi, 508 E. Armory, was founded in 1872 at Syracuse University and opened its Beta Alpha Chapter at the University of Illinois in 1922.

Sixty-eight years later and 168 members strong Alpha Phis can be seen all over campus involved in everything from women's soccer to student government.

U of I Alpha Phis support their national philanthropy, the Heart Fund, with annual Broomball and Billiards tournaments which raise money for local hospitals. Members also support the community through various volunteer programs.

No year would be complete without Waikiphi! A spring fiesta, this day-long picnic/party is preceded by a date serenade from a flat bed truck.

Like Mardi Gras, their theme for rush, Alpha Phis have a spirit that shows through whether they're socializing, in the classroom or volunteering in the community.

Front Row: Angie Morgan, Gina Virruso, Kristin Zahaitis, Stacy Creviston, Amy Nommensen; Second Row: Susan Turk, Hillary Mead, Erika Thompson, Tami Hahndorf, Karen Kroll, Lynne Peck, Jodie Haywood, Adri Moyano, Holly Cammack, Tanya Eng, Dee Bellanca, Sarah Arlt, Courtney Carpenter, Mrs. Van Eman, Carin Armstrong, Shari Gamble, Julie Gosnell, Amber Eslick, Gina Terrano, Amy Reedy, Karin Forsberg; Third Row: JoAnne Chun, Holly Bergren, Tisha Pates, Melissa Calandra, Lisa Walker, Angela Bouque, Jennifer Carroll, Melanie Maxwell, Elaine Tisovec, Andrea Darin, Kris McConaghy, Alissa Fields, Mary Patras, Karen Rohrer, Susie Gibbons, Shanin Zarate, Luara Blyskal, Allison Goodman, Amy Hynous, Lisa Szot, Kim Hrycyk, Maureen O'Connor, Maren Anderson, Jennifer Taccini; Fourth Row: Amy Morrison, Kristen Tinkoff, Megan Flynn, Jo Burnidge, Jeanne Hahn, Nancy Herndon, Karen Regan, Shelli Tallacksen, Erin Murphy, Joy Pitelka, Ann Deutsch, Christi Hillard, Kathy Maag, Becky Schalck, Linda Wong, Tracy Gassmen, Brenda Lakin, Janice Ampil, Jill Jablonski, Jennifer Pierceall, Michelle Grigsby, Jodi Cathrall, Amy Vance, Andrea Demling, Emily Dendtler, Tina Korman, Christine Mondero, Bridget Budde; Fifth Row: Michelle Antonetti, Rachel Sklamberg, Linda Choe, Joanne Walsh, Laura Kolze, Shannon DeLaMar, Tracy Neve, Patrice Zaccagni, Renee Romanelli, Elisa Kletecka, Jenny Walker, Molly Gielow, Jennifer Ary, Carrie Carter, Cindy Corti, Joan Fitzgerald, Lisa Peters, Kathy O'Connor, Julie Colen, Linda Clemmons, Cecile Yoon, Sylvi Kuperman, Amy Edwards, Michelle Ouwenga, DeAnn Anderson, Cynthia Stocker, Julie Koenigsberger, Sandy Cho, Linda Swanson, Lisa Cassel, Romy Zarate, Dawn Orton, Maureen O'Brien, Michelle Joesten, Amy Hume; Back Row: Shelley McDonald, Katie McGowan, Ann Walsh, Nancy Vercelli, Lisa Predavic, Jill Shattler, Gladys Aureus, Tracy Lee, Brigid Ohlinger, Beth Burton, Pam Vlasak, Jennie O'Keefe, Kristin Butcher, Carolyn Weyrich, Sue Buhrfeind, Jenny Marion, Sue Richter, Laura Michalowski, Amanda Abraham, Susan Moresco, Sandy Krolak, Ann Marie Semasko, Tanja Powers, Julie Snow, Laura Gerardy, Amy Johnson, Brenda Monk, Katrin Carlson, Amy Nelson, Lea Smith, Shelly Parvin, Melissa Gast, Julie Garvey, Laura Parent, Anna Metropoulos, Amy Stapleton, Krissy Kuhrt, Rhonda Esposito, Laura Fox, Catherine Carpenter, Kirie Slette, Kati Hausman

Seniors Front Row: Ann Moroney, Krissy Kuhr, Laura Michalowski, Nancy Vercelli, Susan Moresco, Lea Smith, Ann Marie Semasko, Amy Hume, Amy Johnson, Brenda Monk, Karin Carlson, Shelley McDonald, Katie McGowan, Pam Vlassak, Beth Burton, Jenny Marion, Second Row: Sue Richter, Laura Parent, Sue Buhrfeind, Amy Stapleton, Catherine Carpenter, Gladys Aureus, Kristin Butcher, Carolyn Weyrich, Amy Nelson, Laura Gerardy, Melissa Gast, Julie Garvey, Lisa Predovic, Sandy Krolak, Back Row: Brigid Ohlinger, Anna Metropoulos, Ann Walsh, Tanja Powers, Kirie Slette, Kati Hausman, Jill Shattler, Shelley Parvin, Jennie O' Keefe, Laura Fox, Rhonda Esposito

4-H House

Founded in 1934 by Mary A. McKee, 4-H House is a cooperative sorority which houses 55 girls and our new house director, Kathy Kingston. We have an exciting pledge class of 18 this semester. In addition, we have 12 out-of-house girls this year.

The women of 4-H House have kept their social calanders full this semester — from our exchanges with Alpha Gamma Rho and Chi Phi, to a great football block with Triangle! Our set-up dance, fall pledge dance (Forever Young) and winter formal at Jumer's were fun for all.

Plus, our philanthropy with Alpha Chi Rho at the Champaign County Children's Home was a benefit for the children as well as ourselves.

Front Row: Leanne McNamara, Suzan Campbell; Second Row: Carol Baker, Sherri Walden; Third Row: Mary Huelsman, Silvana Loudon; Fourth Row: Jaci Meyer, Valerie McClelland; Fifth Row: Lisa Brogdon, Diane Birch; Back Row: Cecille Widolff, Debbie Sommer, Melinda Miller

Front Row: Janet McNamara, Tammy Drach, Christy Vinson; Second Row: Lori Piatt, Lisa Kallal, Vicki McClelland, Teri Harmes, Debbie Wesson; Third Row: Rebecca Gaines, Anne Sherwood, Katie Leigh, Cathi Schweitzer; Fourth Row: Beth Walsten, Khloe Snell, Heidi Wolff, Audra Burlison; Back Row: Michelle Steiger, Rachel Rumble, Marianne Albin.

Front Row: Tammy Drach, Renita Jones, Lisa Kallal, Rebecca Gaines, Debbie Wesson, Cathi Schweitzer; Second Row: Gretchen Pfeffer, Karla Bauer, Khloe Snell, Anne Sherwood, Lisa Brogdon, Rachel Rumble, Janet McNamara, Lori Piatt, Audra Burlison, Dorothea Hart, Beth Walsten; Third Row: Camille Bouslog, Katie Leigh, Vicki McClelland, Missy Campbell, Shelley Schlipf; Fourth Row: Jenn Beyer, Christy Vinson, Leanne McNamara, Jaci Meyer, Lori Aden, Kathy Kingston (House Director); Fifth Row: Teresa Barnes, Lisa Alexander, Amy Romine, Sherri Walden, Kim Tice, Debbie Ruckman, Diane Wohltman, Rebecca Childress, Suzan Campbell, Joy Parr, Andrea Sheriff, Lori Bowen, Stephanie Kaylor, Marianne Albin, Leanne O'Neill, Michelle Steiger; Back Row: Joyce Maierhofer, Denis DeHaan, Melinda Miller, Debbie Sommer, Carol Baker, Ann Dorn, Silvana Loudon, Valerie McClelland, Diane Birch, Heidi Punke, Angie Wright, Mary Jo Donze, Tammy Cox, Emily Schaufelberger, Jane Hess, Dawn Orr, Teri Harms Front Row: Andrea Sheriff; Second Row: Debbie Ruckman, Dot Hart, Joy Parr, Teresa Barnes; Back Row: Lori Aden, Denise Dehaan, Heidi Punke, Lisa Alexander, Kim Tice, Joyce Maierhofer, Amy Romine.

WHILE ROSE FORMAL
APRIL 28, 1989

Phi Kappa Sigma

Phi Kappa Sigma, commonly referred to as Skulls, was founded on October 19, 1850 at the University of Pennsylvania. The Rho chapter was founded here at the University of Illinois on October 29, 1892, and is presently located on 313 E. Chalmers. Our main activities in the fall include our Fall Wrestling Classic Philanthropy, benefiting American cancer Society along with dances, exchanges and happy hours. In the spring we have our Dunk Your President Philanthropy for the American Heart Association and our annual Graduation Beach Party "Skulloha."

First Row: Joe Giorgetti; Second Row: Dave Dayon, Paul D'Amato, Ean Barnard, Brian Green, Andy Goldenhersh, Dave Maldow, Dan Gaston, Robert McDonal, Garth Wiehl, John Lawrence, Nison Puranasopar, Dennis Walter, Geoff Cockerham; Third Row: Kevin Carpenter, Glenn Carlson, Jim Gondeck, Jim Vail, Ken Wendt, George Heinz, Tom Rogers, Ferdinand Garcia, Jerry O'Connell, Terry Wagner, Ron Valdez; Fourth Row: Brian Bastyr, Paul Mitchell, Rodney Rastegar, Dan O'Brien, Scot Kunkel, Ed Wood, Jason Welsh, Art Katzmann; Last Row: Jeff Quackenbush, Gordy Rice, Max Jordan, Joe Ream, Mike Conforti, George Ferreti, Mike Dimaggie, Randy Eike, Rich Otto, Tom Maloney, Rob Weidner, Ed Peterka, Jason Gylling, Mike Phillip, Rodney Jackson

Seniors

Alpha Chi Rho

In such a large university, having a place where you feel you belong is important. The Phi Kappa Chapter of Alpha Chi Rho is such a place for over sixty diverse men. Since its founding in 1916, Alpha Chi Rho has been a place where its members can feel at home, accomplish their goals and have fun in doing so. The Men of Alpha Chi Rho know the true meaning of brotherhood. It is something we live everyday, and it shows: in the sports we play, the academics we achieve and the friendships we share.

Seniors

Front Row: Greg Alcazar, Stig Lanessko, Rick Rodriguez, Mike O'Beirne, Rick Prodoehl; Back Row: Gary Lemke, Jim DeMichael, Dennis Stieren, Randall Von Ryan

Front Row: John Zintak, A. Mark Bilstad, Greg Alcazar, James Lee, Brad Cullen, Peter Schwarz, Dominador Dayon, Randall Von Ryan, Andrew Gayer, David Guenther, John Martinez; Second Row: Devon Grams, Mark Hindson, Gary Lemke, Mark Bouckaert, Tim Drake, Hyun Lee, Kirk Rohrbaugh, Scott Forbes, Ravi Gupta, Sam Wang, Richard Rodriguez, Albert Muniz, Jason Hauser; Third Row: Thomas Heldmann, Ted Manczko, James Oldani, Cyrus Riventa, Rick Prodoehl, George Johnson, Vytautas Tamulaitis, Mitch Williams, Yong Chae, Eric Menendez, Glenn Pavey, Dennis Stieren, Stig Lanesskog; Back Row: Bryan Bello, Don Young, Craig Garbarini, Caler Leonchik, James KeMichael, Jon Paulsen, Michael O'Beirne, Keith Beyer, Michael Damewood, Leo Steiny

Delta Upsilon

The Illinois Chapter of Delta Upsilon Fraternity was founded in 1904 and is now located at 312 East Armory. Our Fraternity prides itself most on our policy of non-hazing and non-secrecy, excellent social program and outstanding sports. In addition, DU's are campus leaders involved in many activities including Atius-Sachem, Student Alumni Association and Interfraternity Council. This year our philanthropies include our annual beach volleyball tournament and Christmas with the Urbana Boys Club. Last year DU won championships in Frat Blue basketball, ice hockey and broomball. But most importantly, DU is a place where brotherhood comes first.

Seniors

Front Row: Pat Kocher, David Tarabolleti, Mike Foster, Chuck Bleck, John Scheid, Chris Hagen, Scott MacInnis, Andy Schmidt, Fred Wright; Back Row: Dan Aggatucci, Tom Hoffman, Rob Corso, Tom Merekis

Derek Hoovel, Bud Daleiden, Bart Seymour and friends at Kappa Delta Luau Party.

Matt Scavo and Andy Honegger at Phi Mu Happy Hour.

Adam Sutherland, Gop Akkineni, Ollie Besinger and Van McIver on the veranda during formal rush.

Darren Howard, Brian Steck, Tim Metzger, Todd Boak and House Sweet Heart Beth Baker go boating on Lake Michigan.

Front Row: Rob Corso, Andy Schmidt, Mike Foster, Chris Hagen, Scott MacInnes, John Scheid, Brian Williams, Pete Marcy, Tom Hoffman, Tom Merekis, Brian Steck, Dan Agatucci; Second Row: Steve Swenson, Pat Kocher, Tom Tomillo, Matt Scavo, Kevin Smits, Tom O'Connor, Kurt Winter, David Singer, Adam Sutherland, Derek Hoovel, Rob Siebert, Rich Kelly, Kevin Maloney, Jeff Simone, Van McIver, Kevin Gehrt, Kevin Driscoll, Chris Purcell, Peter Henry; Third Row: Kevin Betke, Jeff Jass, Brian Boch, Stuart Fedderson; Fourth Row: Ollie Besinger, Dave Cook, Mike Garret, P.K. Johnson, Curt Hennecke, Andy Honegger, Darren Howard, Steve Grohne, Kal Kilgast, Brian McClain, Mike Shorr, Scott Greenlee, Brian Nelson, Dennis Martin, Steve Oetgen, Scott Capper, Don Flora; Back Row: Brian Reckamp, Dave Wise, Ted Wiessing, Mark Muldowney, Gopi Akkineni, Jason Schuchert, Jason Hall, Matt Kinnear, Jon Schmeling, Jeff Rinaldo

Delta Delta Delta

Front Row: Kelly Leasure, Anne Hoffmeister, Julie Ahern, Maria Masuidal, Mary Zivkovic, Louise Rasho, Lori Keen, Amy Wagahoff, Susie Torrence, Cat Walmsley, Amy Hunter, Kate Riley, Amy Grimwood, Nancy Beckman, Beth Hulina, Karen Prodrano, Kristen Scott, Charrise Gilleran, Kim Smith, Paula Marusarz, Libby Gass; Second Row: Courtney Vonnahme, Erica Woock, Katie McNamara, Dana Wertheim, Lynn Talamonti, Leah Farinas, Jenny Lee, Marchia Sendaydiego, Kate Kelly, Brandi Bookman, Meredith Wilson, Chrissy Hassebrock, Jacqui Garcia-Camila, Monica Heckart, Anne Bierzychudek, Amy Shoop, Julie Bell, Liz Fikes, Sherri Huwer, Sarah Min, Mary Vidal, Tracey Blaha, Becky Schroat, Maggie Keane; Third Row: Stacy Lobaugh, Melissa Cramer, Valerie Mulhall, Gillian Lewke, Missy Forman, Elizabeth Shaul, Kim Kelly, Jennifer Lambert, Jennifer Meservy, Eileen Adler, Jenni Jeffress, Jennifer Collins, Pam Leland, Kris Finney, Mary Asaturian, Cindy Hallman, Michele Dixon, Jenny Bridge, Kelly Cassidy, Nina Connors, Jill Jodlowski, Georgian Theodoris, Jennifer Heinzman, Jennifer Rogers, Diane Convery, Tracy Laverty, Margarita Reina, Melissa Swanson, Sara Naumer, Diane White; Fourth Row: Sandy Pinkowski, Krista Johnson, Kirsten Moisio, Julie Orthoefer, Cindy Leaf, Karen Kaderabek, Kathy Metz, Kim Giller, Kathy Smith, Tina Hernandez, Christy Hunniford, Val Arakaki, Nancy Rinaldi, Sherri Thorton, Jeannie Berger, Sarah Hemphill, Shannon Polk, Liz Cassell, Andi Grahn, Holly Schroat, Kristine Culliton, Michelle Roberts, Beth Suter, Natalie Bianchi, SuzAnne Smith, Cyndy Rabe, Kirsten Jensen, Christy Bishop, Jenifer Wallrapp, Martha Pfister, Rachel Olson, Carrie Hartman, Debbie Blum, Julia Lippold, Maggie Deryke; Back Row: Kris Molander, Mandy Sihwail, Beth Bradford, Deb Walshon, Lynnette Jackson, Therese Concannon, Jackie Bush, Jenny Hauser, Tammy Rinaldi, Tracey Delanty, Lara Vukelich, Julie Vaughn, Carrie Stelnicki, Laura Baotright, Sara Beth Castrale, Laura Menke, Dennise Schultz, Susan Catalano, Julie Perozzi, Paula Lewis, Julie Walters, Kelaine Olevra, Kirsten Weidner, Anne Tremko, Carrie Collora, Suzy Layng, Lana Pelszynski, Eliana Brown, Kelly Cross, Janelle Johnson, Theresa Brown

The house at 508 E. Chalmers is home to the 170 women of Delta Delta Delta. Tri Delta was founded on this campus in 1920. Our house colors are silver, gold, and blue, and besides the obvious eltas, the stars and crescent moon are our symbols. Our philanthropies include benefits for children's hospitals and cancer research. Our annual philanthropic events are Sleighbell, our visit to hospitals to carol for the children, and Twister, a campuswide tournament held in the spring. Our yearly social activities include Barn Dance, Winter Formal and Canoe Trip. We also hope to continue our tradition of top-flight Atius shows teaming with Theta Xi this year.

Seniors

Front Row: Simi Chaddha, Julie Perozzi, Therese Concannon, Carrie Collora, Susan McLaughlin, Sara Beth Castrale, Jenny Hauser, Jackie Bush, Dennise Schultz, Laura Boatright, Paula Lewis, Teresa Brown; Back Row: Beth Bradford, Jennifer Hahn, Laura Menke, Carrie Stelnicki, Melinda Wright, Kelly Cross, Susan Catalano, Kelaine Olvera, Lynnette Jackson, Suzy Layng

Tri-Delts sharing the spirit at their sisterhood night.

Smiling their best at a bid night exchange with Alpha Sigma Phi.

Kappa Alpha Theta

Kappa Alpha Theta is the first Greek letter fraternity for women, founded in 1870. Delta chapter is a home away from home for the U of I Thetas, located at 611 East Daniel in Champaign. We have a new National Philanthropy, CASA, which helps abused and neglected children have a voice in court. Thetas continue to be active on campus with a wide variety of campus wide organizations and honoraries. Even with our emphasis on scholarship and extra-curriculars, Thetas have had a great year socially with football block, exchanges and sisterhood nights. All these memories and the friends we have made help to make Theta for a lifetime.

Front Row: Aimee Valleau, Laura Bramhall, Margo Papadakos. Back Row: Cynthia Momsen, Stephanie Cooper, Andrea Verasic.

Front Row: Cindy Falese, Gina Canzonz, Gina DeFransisco, Michelle Donato, Erin Eckenrod, Julie Barbour, Aimee Sipes, Kristin Hanson, Christine Aston, Jill Pignotti, Michelle Anderson, Tracy Mayer, Cari Alexander, Becky Radtke, Karin Uhlenhop, Kathy Parisi, Lisa Pilney, Cynthia Momsen, Anna Liosatos, Tricia Gaughan; Second Row: Diane Garrow, Jenny Burke, Connie Chen, Aileen DeQue, Leslie Rech, Kerry Kemp, Julie Woo, Cynthia Thomas, Tina Mereckis, Diane Hunt, Shelia Hogan, Chelsea Robertson, Melissa Berlet, Libby Clark, Sarah Morris, Jaqueline Ciccio, Tina Santoro, Kristin Bottom, Tina LaCorte, Christy Volz, Coleen Neuman, Cari Alexander, Kathie Valent, Traci Serafin, Shelia Galvez, Jennifer Hall; Third Row: Jill Nelson, Lori Harrison, Terri Flowers, Julie Jacobsen, Monica Goodman, Ximena Escobar, Ellen Janette, Katy Dobsen, Karen DeMars, Amy Sabbert, Kelly McEvers, Cindy Bjorseth, Becke Berger, Faith Henson, Cathy Tucci, Sally Hill, Angela Mancini, Erin Arnold, Hilary Fleischaker, Ann Browning, Pam Livingston, Trichia Tseng, Julia Sincox, Jaqui Strong, Susi Johnson, Meredith Weiss; Fourth Row: Kirstin Gibbs, Susie Bloechle, Tina Kontos, Tami McLemore, Julie Michaelson, Stephanie Davies, Erin Anthony, Jen Osman, Cathy Smith, Emi Gleichman, Josie Marino, Amy White, Tracy Ruby, Karen Zawadzski, Amy Howard, Beth Caliendo, Shari Eager, Jane Barr, Ginger Reynolds; Fifth Row: Betsy Huizenga, Karin Curtis, Anne Ruttencutter, Deborah Meyers, Kathleen Quan, Jennifer Therien, Gretchen Amann, Sally Parker, Sarah Joyce, Tina Cavavette, Susan Berkes, Gail Nielson, Sarah Held, Elizabeth Frost, Melissa Thomas, Tina Correnti, Stephanie Benjamin, Kristin Mickey, Meg Holper, Amy McKinnon, Mary Ban, Caren Ehret, June Houston, Kristin Burda, Patty McAdams, Carrie Martin, Kristin Reinertson; Sixth Row: Sue Caviness, Tina Wojick, Patty Ryan, Nici Montgomery, Kara DeWitt, Patty McCree, Kim Ruck, Laura Mohlencamp, Laura Bramhall, Molly Steinau, Amy Vercelote, Beth Slovick, Jennifer Raynis, Helen Gramates, Anne Kessinger, Jennifer Johnson, Laurel Ulbrich, Katie Wilson, Sally Nolan, Laurie Lezak, Katie Pezza, Emily Kokenge; Back Row: Ruth Newman—house mother, Rindy Finch, Cathy Stathakopulos, Sue Sherman, Laurie Stefanon, Kelly Elliot, Margo Papodakos, Amy Valteau, Andrea Varesic, Stephanie Cooper, Robin Rottschafer, Jeannie Prendergrast, Barb Sheperd, Adrienne Colbert, Wendy Foster

Seniors

Front Row: Adrienne Colbert, Margo Papadakos, Dana Ward, Kelly Elliot, Aimee Valteau, Patty McCree; Second Row: Katie Wilson, Beth Slovick, Rindy Finch, Molly Steinau, Jennifer Johnson, Cathy Stathakopulos, Jennifer Raynis; Third Row: Emily Kokenge, Sue Sherman, Julie Flannery, Amy Vercelote, Katie Pezza, Laurie Lezak, Anne Kessinger, Jeannie Prendergast, Laura Bramhall, Laura Mohlenkamp, Helen Gramates; Back Row: Sally Nolan, Andrea Verasic, Robin Rottschafer, Stephanie Cooper

1990 Fighting Illini Baseball Team

Front Row: Head Coach Augie Garrido, Jason Moler, Andy Small, Kevin O'Connor, Rich Hyde, Bob Palacio, Bubba Smith, Trainer Mike Begg; Second Row: Mike Jurack, Mike Kraft, Mark Dressen, Sean Mulligan, Vic Boyd, Ryan Nelligan, Emmit Cohick; Third Row: Brian Roberts, Jeff Richards, John Frangos, Keith Toriani, Marty Black, Bob Christensen, John Lewandowski, Asst. Todd Mitter; Back Row: Asst. Coach Jody Robinson, Chris Chiapetta, Todd Smiser, Adam Lynn, Mike Ruth, Larry Sutton, Will Parsons, Don Cuchran, Asst. Coach Tom Thomas

Woman's Glee Club

Front Row: Kelly M. Grant, Rosalind Lee, Erin Smith, Laura Hartwig, Colleen Swihart, Terry A. Moore; Second Row: Cindy Schairer, Lori Baker, Diane Garrison, Gayle L. Polk, Melinda Watkins, Amy Wagahoff; Third Row: Kimberly Hubert, Carol Dornbush, Kim Slomka, Sara Garman, Jacie Rasmussen, Laurie Huth; Fourth Row: Nora McNamara, Jessica Fox, Julie Barger, Melissa Gregoire, Melody Blain, Pyng-Na Lee; Fifth Row: Diana Gorman, Elaine Fetyko, Kendra K. Smith, Maura Scott, Anne Rigby, Kelly Comiskey; Sixth Row: Lara Kaiser, Pam Brooks, Christine Boulos, Betsy Burgoyne, Christine Giniat, Jacie Behm; Seventh Row: Jenny Stone, Donna Morris, Suzanne Clark, Denise Stowell, Theresa Todd; Eighth Row: Joyce Thompson, Michelle Rexroat, Susan Stephen, Renee Kroeger, Kimberly Lorman, Deborah Felder; Ninth Row: Nicole Lee, Melissa Fujinaga, Julie Neer, Joy Malecki, Angie Weiner, Lisa Wackerman; Tenth Row: Auditi Chakravarty, Deborah Tessler, Holly Jovanovich, Gina Eversole, Karen Glienke, Karen Tims; Back Row: Liz Anderson, Julie Gosnell, Dr. Joe Grant

WPGU FM

Front Row: Jason Landman, Steve Turnbull, Marybeth Bergeron, Amy Hume, Scott Nabat, Brett Olges, Arif Karim, Tricia Gunji; Second Row: Jill Schmidgall, Bob Francis, Eileen Manning, Lisa Carroll, Michelle Lane, Kathy Goy, Kurt Vanderah, Dan Bremner, Nadine Halkyn, Sheryl Stecyk; Third Row: Rob Ross, Chad Schubert, Pat Shaw, Bruce Gold, Al Muniz, Rob McCoy, Kim Sorey, Diane Holwick, Steve Bava, Nancy Slepicka, Holly Grisham, Brian Reardon, Alison Davis; Fourth Row: Kelly Fitz, Bill Lakowski, Ross Levy, Kim Grandcolas, Anna Walters, Debbie Howes, Mike Condron, Mark Mauer, Jerry Zeeplat; Fifth Row: Dave Reuter, Bill Schumacker, Dave Cadmus, Brad Hammill, Dorie LaHood, Dianne Jakstavich, Mark Thompson, Tom Trahan, Ray Martinez, Pat Macgill; Back Row: Paul Maloney, Johnathon Nieusma, Bob Faust, Madelyn Daley, Maribeth Nefke, Kathleen Baader, Michelle Zasi, Greg Gurski, Melinda Meyer

Michelle Lane (Programming Director)-A normal day at the office.
WPGU at a summer volleyball tournament for the Make-A-Wish Foundation.

MANAGERS

Front Row: Amy Hume, Bill Lakowski, Scott Nabot, Madelyn Daley, Michelle Lane, Dianne Jackstavich, Diane Holwick; Second Row: Dave Reuter, Kurt Vanderah, Kathy Goy, Bill Schumacher, Mark Thompson, Jason Landman, Dan Bremner; Back Row: Bob Faust, Melinda Meyer, Kathleen Baader

WDBS

Front Row: Trici Gunji, Kurt Vanderah, Marybeth Neffke, Jason Landman, Greg Gurski; Second Row: Anna Walter, Bob Francis, Jill Schmidgall, Rob McCoy, Pat Shaw, Madelyn Daley, Rob Ross; Back Row: Pat MacGill, Ray Martinez, Paul Maloney, Arif Karim, Tom Trahan, Jonathan Neusma, Scott Becvar, Mark Mauer, Mike Condon, Chad Schubert

The Daily Illini

Front Row: Jenny Kauaa, Jill Mackie, Catherine Spellman; Second Row: Scott Gregory, Tony Garcia, Beth Bork, Jenny Stone, Jennifer Cole, Millie Llerena, Lieschen Llerena, Julie Krezo, Spencer Hunt, Jim Vail; Third Row: Dennis Bronstein, Russ Barnett, Dave McGuire, Ed Bannon, Chris Tirona, Erika Rosenberg, Dan Bernard, Wendy Johnson, Katie Blossfield, Mona Blaber; Fourth Row: Tom Wilk, Jeff Ponczak, Jon Gardner, Cynthia Holmes, Mike Ramsey, Gary Margolis, Kevin Schweitzer, Dan Raffer, Mike Stotz; Back Row: Andy Kitzmiller, John Pletz, Chris Malcolm, Gene Tolli, Jenni Davis, R.T. Gould, Ches Wajda, Jim Burke

Editor-in-chief John Pletz teaches Directory editor Dave McGuire how to design the paper, which in 1989 was voted by the Illinois Associated Press managing editors as the number two commercial daily with a circulation under 20,000.

Cynthia Holmes, associate opinions editor, works on an editorial for Champaign-Urbana's only morning paper, which has a readership of about 30,000.

Standing in back: Joann Scholtes; from left to right: Tony Garcia, Mona Blaber, Julie Krezo, Spencer Hunt, Jon Gardner. The Daily Illini, which operates independently from the university, has trained editors, writers, photographers and artists for more than 100 years.

Campus editor Erika Rosenberg (right) works with Julie Flynn on a story. More than 100 students work in the newsroom.

Evans Scholars

Front Row: Ed Haugh, Erin Sullivan, Rick Torres; Second Row: Mike Turvey, Ray Loboeki, Jay Bradford, Ross Mishkin, Mark Rogan, Brian Hansen, Mike Magluilo, Mark Walsh, Kevin Walter, Joe Halwax, Pat Kosnick, Marty Hannon, Lynn Jackson; Third Row: Danial Christian, Eric Nield, Pat Cronin, Kendall Raczek, Scott Narrol, Dana Tarandy, Dave Loboeki, Scott Salzstein, Neil Doherty, Joe Sclafani, Dick Excell, Bob Urhell, Chip Cheseck, Todd Jackson, Mike O'Connor, Mike Connerty, Grundy Bains, Jim Tunney, Jim Buszkiewicz, Bill Peterson, Janet Hofbauer, Beth Wiedel, Thad Edwards, Pat Cassidy, Pete Sturn, Ken Drozt, Darren Guccion; Back Row: Rich Berner, Tom Farmer, Jim Christian, Kevin Foresman, Tom Grogan, Rich Ahnger, Tim Kavanaugh, Vic McCarthy, Joon Lee, Sean Wiedel, Jose Cantu, Scott Vancura, Todd Brage

Pi Lambda Phi

Front Row: Mat Hesser, Aaron Even, Ross Levey, Mitch Silver, John the Cook, Jeff Chiet, Brian Hecktwman, Eric Chern, Dan Tucker, Greg Winner, Corey Novick, Mark Friedman, Scott Silver, Ben Fine, Howard Windmiller, Robb Goldstein, Keith Goldberg Second Row: Ross Rosenberg, Mike Pruzan, Scott Skidelsky, Darrin Baim, Dave Melam, Larry Goldman, Craig Keer, Brian Dudkiewicz, Matt Parker, Frank Brodsky, Roger Krasnodebski, Jordan Cramer, Lou Orbach, Kevin Chern, Jeff Nesler, Marc Babsin, Jordan Gerber, Brian Schwartz Back Row: Jon Cook, Brian Hanover, Jeff Weinstein, Vadim Riber, Matt Fishman, Paul Sorkin, Brad Rabin, Jim Caserio, Brian Dunn, Dan Weisenberg, Jason Kramer

Kappa Delta Rho

Seniors

First Row: Marcelo Rodriguez, Vincent Fogt, Rey Tanig, Douglas Snook, Patrick Murphy, Christopher Buti, Andy Hibel, Michael Green, Michael Lightstone, Christopher Chranko, Bill Schumacher, Jim Duran, Wilson Huang

First Row: Jeff Karinattu, Bob Trahan, Bruce Gold, Andy Hibel, Jim Duran, Dan Periaswamy; Second Row: Jose Colindres, Wilson Huang, Chris Love, Ben Ramp, Patrick Murphy, Jeff Bryk; Third Row: Brian Stabler, Paul Henson, Bill Cizek, Terry Bennett; Fourth Row: Chris Buti, Keith Cengel, Andre Manaois, Kevin Carroll, Michael Green, Jim Rothschild, Gerard Korabik; Back Row: Frank Divito, David Lutz

Airforce ROTC

Professional Officer Course: Front Row: Dave Adams, Lynne Anderson, Paul Bresnahan, Dan Bruzzini, Bob Chrystler, Chuck Coderko, Jason Cortez, Doug Cutrell, Lorenzo DiVito, Dawn Dresch, James Duban, Amy Edwards, Ted Ferguson, James Fox, Eddie Garces, Anna Gaugel, Chris Hawkins, Brian Holden; Second Row: Jeremy Holtgrave, Mike Hopkins, Bob Horkavi, Deron Jackson, David Jones, Katie Keller, Robin Kulesza, DeAnn Lambert, Mary Lachner, Craig Mackey, Marc Mathes, Greg Matus, Steve McLaughlin, Steve Memenga, Andres Maneses, Dan Newport, Larry Nixon, Captain John Mazur; Third Row: Bill Otter, Michelle Pauley, Ray Perkins, Erik Pettyjohn, Joe Pica, Danny Quitno, Angela Rothe, Jeff Schavland, Brad Sherman, Steve Staats, Fred Thompson, Ron Vlach, Randall Von Ryan, Eugene Wagner, Kevin Walker, Blaine Watson, Lisle Wayne, Levi Williams; Back Row: Captain Terry MacFarlane, Patrick Zehr, Ken Yunevich, Xavier Woods, Bob Winkler

General Military Course: Front Row: Jason Aguayo, Scott Alfter, David Allen, Bob Avila, Jack Barbaccia, Eric Beck, Scott Bennett, Norm Bilsbury, Jason Birch, Matthew Bonus, Laura Brady; Second Row: Aaron Butcher, Robert Chua, Michael Claiborne, Mark Clark, David Cobb, Darren Cole, Lakeisha Covington, Lucien Cravens, Mike Croissant, Chris Day, Andrew Diel, Suzanne Dino, Jason Doelling; Third Row: John Dotson, Lynette Dover, Derek Ebdon, Curtis Eichen, Chris Erickson, Carlina Freeman, Chuck Golla, Jared Granstrom, Karl Gscheidle, Jeff Hank, Joseph Harris, Sean Hollonbeck, Mike Hoyle, Arnold Jimenez; Fourth Row: Stephanie Jones, Eric Keeley, Thomas Larkins, Mike Lehr, Erich Livengood, John Lockwood, James Loudermilk, Lewis Lovelace, Robin Mays, George Miarecki, William Mikucki, Mike Mirkovich, Willie Morgan, Richard Mulcahey, Michele Myles, Captain Mike Welsh; Fifth Row: Andre Myslinski, Mike Ostendorf, Edward Othon, Scott Papineau, Ernest Pena, Amy Petrolati, Jim Piasynski, Danette Pittenger, Laura Polz, Amalia Portillo, Randal Rhoads, Nick Rincker, Brian Robinson, Steve Russell, Gladston Sanders, Kevin Schmedeke; Back Row: Michelle Schomber, Diana Schult, Andy Shobe, Richard Stump, Paul Suarez, Chris Sullivan, Julie Triggs, Jennifer Vazquez, Burt Wagner, Jeff Wales, Doug Ward, Harold Waters, Greg Welsh, Kevin Weppner, Daniel Wood

Delta Zeta

Front Row: Lisa Rakowski, Lisa Laskey, Diane Subsits, Becky Russell, Jessica Adlewan, Stacey Bradding; Second Row: Toni Madden, Samantha Anderson, Chris Marshall, Kitty Kastner; Third Row: Laura Canham, Joanne Witter, Coleen Glaser, Lisa Homann, Tyra Beer; Fourth Row: Jenny Jacala, Laura Flaherty, Brigid Nagle, Kari Mede, Shaannon Rhodes, Cathy Miller, Jodi Henninger, Becky Stanley, Tara Lussen, Beth Willis, Sue Wymer, Leslie Kentz; Fifth Row: Barb Grossi, Cari Elijah, Christine Kovack, Sharon Kee, Jaime Tomecek, Kirsten Fish, Lisa Colena, Tara Bosh, Kristin Schimmel, Jennifer Trompadore, Melissa Hollub, Lari Garrison, Dawn Kaplan; Sixth Row: Michelle Albreck, Amy Smith, Cathy Martin, Kathy Metro, Dana Reynolds, Mary Hance, Gail Noffziger, Tamatha Nibert, Becky Rusch, Lisa Lombardo, Angel Bates, Anita Lopez, Amy Hucker, Andrea Wirkus, Shelly Frank, Sue Rose, Kim Slompka, Gina Geovannes, Aarti Tekchandani, Julie Parmeter; Seventh Row: Carla Macrito, Cody Clifford, Jennifer Cochran, Becky Heying, Gretchen Dietz, Gina Stalbaum, Sherri Goodall, Holly Hertzgaard, Tammy Rowe, Rebecca Priest, Anita Hanzlik, Amy Parise, Mary Vest, Carol Wellinghoff, Jill Haurser, Gretchen Dietz, Jennifer Healy; Eighth Row: Kathi Janci, Ann Tardy, Eileen Bunch, Laura Diehl, Tiffany Mikkelsen, Amy Broverman, Sherri Navarette, Linda Southard, Denise Shrewsbury, Tammy Holst, Michelle Briggs, Johnna Pothoff, Tracey Nicastro, Patty Mathes, Joan Kane, Lee Ann Norman; Ninth Row: Diana Miller, Tricia Gillenwater, Tricia Hurley, Carol Sinberg, Sophia Huizar, Jennifer Batton, Cathy Lamoreux, Lisa Dujlovich, Jenny Manning, Christine Ross, Kathy Klen; Tenth Row: Judy Espinoza, Janet Scott, Christy Kline, Linda Kujaka, Joan Perkins, Liane Smith, Beth Mickley, Angie Davis, Karen Kraft, Katie Gibson; Eleventh Row: Janet Vrasic, Marianne Linde, Kelly Jones, Denis Mohrman, Margo Middleton, Erin VanClay, Wendy Lepper, Melissa Reynolds, Dawn Winter; Twelfth Row: Linda Elbracht, Vicki Meyer, Karen Hammond, Debbie Krhn, Nejl Abbed, Kelly Cronin; Back Row: Tricia Cadwallader, Stephanie Olson, Beth Hartke, Karen Kresge, Jean Fangman

Pi Kappa Alpha

First Row: Paul Franze, Kyle Savers, Paul Daugerdas, Brooke Saucier, Luke Truty, Scott Wollney, John Blanke, Darren Antrim, Steve Lohman, Nick Gabrione, Steve Davis, Heath Greenfield, John Jones, Jim Elgas, Chris Lynch, Jason Tomaras, Bob Gramins, Mike Parduhn, Mark Heligman, Scott Emerling, Jason White, Steve Marderosian, Don Tyer, Jason Anderson, Alex Skinger, Dave Saluaski; Second Row: Tony Southard, Chuck Johnson, Rob Koontz, Chip Olsen, Jim Peterson, John Lundgren, Pat Butler, Jason Anderson, Jeff Locascio, Bruce Miller, Rick Mayes, Jeff Southard, Eric Koslowski, Doug Chuchro, Mark Kozlowski, John Vonder, John Lewe, Steve Hermann, Jim Weaver, Bob Greendyke; Back Row: Mike Risk, Toby McDonough, Mark Hanson, Scott Younger, Tony Baranski, Kevin Thompson, Giacomo Caliendo, Scott Bills, Lou Aguilera, Bryan Hansen, Mike Hoadley, George Taylor, John Wrona, Chuck Pfeiler

Pi Kappa Phi

Front Row: Keith Dober, Tres Roeder, Kris Pillai, Brad Lamont, Scott Rattray, Boyd Lafoon, Erik Krueger, Jim Perry, Jamie Wheeler, Gib Masters, Scott Croft, Bruce Radke; Second Row: Mike Fiore, Phil Wu, Doug Ward, Juan Jimenez, Steve McCarthy, Tom Gonzalez, Steve Tothoro, Steve Tothoro, Steve Wyent, Chris Quiones, Vic Kovachevich; Third Row: House Sweetheart Ann Peabody; John Buckley, George Couris, Bryce Hanna, Erik Ripper, Rob Riforgiate, Kishore Warriar, Brook Silvestri, John Pesavento, Mac Rice; Fourth Row: Enrique Nieto, Brian Larkin, Ed Contreras, Rich Shimon, Pete Apostelakis, Russ Tomes, Drew Coxhead, Doug Brown, Dave Lau; Fifth Row: Mike McQuade, Todd Kroll, Rob Thomas, Anthony Lee, Mike Daley, Dave Comacho, Scott Miller, Bryan Einwalter, Rich Mulcahey; Back Row: Craig Dempsey, Jim Perschke, Mike Eagleson, Mike Rothkopf, Bill Harrington, Adam Bennett, Mark Allender, Mark Schmitt, Eric Vandergraaf.

Psi Upsilon

Front Row: Trey Tillman, Jason Ornduff, Loren Andersen, Boyd Back, Scott Beall, Charles Eilers, Jeff Wargin, Dean Marinakis, Tom Mattes, Lou Margaglione, Dave Komie, Eric Vallego, John Madaras, Naser Shams Second Row: Jim Szyszko, Dave DiPrima, Jeff Olson, Cary Hansing, Marc Blumer, Mark Loges, Kevin Lannert, Jeff Kieffer, Rob Bohnsack, Barry Brandt, Chris Maza, Brian Woytek, Kevin Clancy, Jeff Zahren, David Ko, Mark Simek, Brian Loges, Jim Johnson, Greg Ong, Scott Henkel, John McClean Back Row: Tony Kim, Bob Peterson, Mike Schober, Thai Lam, Matt Doenitz, Scott Olson, Eric Madland, Dan Albert, Brian Hughes, Ed Whetter, John Brienens, Bruce Perona, Mark Dudley, Bill Cornfield, Stoner

Volunteer Illini Projects

Directors

Chairperson: Ty Nam
 Vice Chairperson: Lori Bajko
 Blood: Diane Peña
 Day Care: Karen Hammond
 Friendship: Paige Carnahan
 Brian Cunningham
 General Tutoring: Brett Blue
 Debbie Walshon
 Hospital Program: Susan Cash
 Matthew House: Alan Grebner
 Prison Concern: Cara Blonz
 Recreation: Mary Lewis
 Margarita Reina
 Senior Citizens: Tim Burgess
 Raja Sharma
 Special Health Needs: Mia Kim
 Patrick Borch
 Special Projects: Melissa Cox
 Team Triads: Sean C. Madison
 Whistlestop: Dan Madigan
 Public Relations:
 Moirá Dal-Cason
 Millie Llerena
 Finance: John Ciancelli
 Nina Villegas
 Financial Development:
 Kaori Sonada

Industrial Distribution Student Association

Front Row: Paul Schmerold, Julie Cooper, Jerry Jefferson, Tracy Scanlon (Vice Pres), Dan Cook (Pres), Cynthia Schwarz (Sec/Treas), Mark Roeser, Mike Moran, Greg Shoemaker; Second Row: Karen McBain, Davida Fry, Kimberly Adaway, Kim Dukes, Andrew Braaten, Laura Menke, Jeff McKinney, Marnie Murphy, Laura Bussan, Brian Mikes, Shelli Heinold; Back Row: DiAnne Jones, Hanan Wakeem, Mike Lund, Tyra Ringsrud, Fred Oelschlaeger, Jennifer Smith, Mike Downey, Jane Schott, Brett Gibson, Mary Pederson, Phi Nguyen, Lynda Deusinger.

Sigma Phi Delta

Front Row: David Sohl, Jeffrey Nelson, Douglas Sturrett, Michael Loudon, Burt Wagner, Terence Kirkwood Second Row: David Oitker, Aaron Feen, James Doidge, Gregory Kelly, Carlos Jimenez Third Row (center): Michael Rohan, Juan Lopez, Cesar Chacon Fourth Row: Douglas Zavodny, John Lindenberg, Michael kuhn, Eric Anderson Fifth Row: Bruce Lesikar, Chris Svec, William Vogel, Eric Williams, Randall Hein, David Forder, David Hoag, Jeffrey Johnson, Andrew Cich, Michael Olsen Back Row: David Kintz, Christopher Connor, Kevin Serafin, Brian Jackson, John Womeldorf, B. Scott Geaghan, Robert Stanley, Scott Steele

Seniors

Front Row: David Forder, Kevin Klein, William Vogel Second Row: Marc Kazen, Andy Cich, Eric Anderson Third Row: Brian Jackson, Scott Steele, Randy Hein, David Kintz, John Womeldorf Fourth Row: Christopher conner Missing From Photo: B. Scott Geaghan, Steven Seaney, Thad Briggs

Kappa Kappa Gamma

Front Row: Rachel Roberts, Jacie Rasmussen, Diane Sullivan, Rosie Ryan, Kelly Davis, Carla Johnson, Barb Timbers, Jennifer Gray; Second Row: Kristie Carlson, Julie Leasure, Amy Smith, Kenna Beapre, Kelly Dillon, Betsy Chapman, Debra Halstenburg, Kristen Loecke, Andres Smith, Shana Arthallony, Nicole Dadant, Tanya Saarva, Elena Trujillo; Third Row: Sara Reistoffer, Jillyn Jackson, Carrie Lawson, Anne Preshlock, Kathy Sennello, Cecelis Rettig, Cheryl Sepulveda, Patty Lyman, Nancy Klobner, Jennifer Carroll, Bobbie Snyders, Beth Spoonamore, Lynnie Mercury, Crissy Stinehelfer; Fourth Row: Kristen Parr, Cathy Ortnier, Linda Chiu, Dina Grover, Giovi Angelats, Hope Smith, Robin Rogus, Kim Nelson, Nancy Beach, Suzy Smith, Katy Enright, Julie Wroblewski, Mindy Watkins, Sara Stowe, Amy Nead, T. Silvestri; Fifth Row: Niki Dellinger, Kristen Johnson, Megan Donnelly, Kisten Nolan, Amy Bergseth, Beth Louis, Annette Zwierchowski, Maggie Zellers, Tracie Yonan, Stacy Chyla, Natalie Ferrabone, Chris Cerasani, L.K., Susie Stout, Dina LaChica, Heather Humphreys, Libby Wasserman, Mila Gomez, Nina Villegas, Lo, Amy Thompson; Sixth Row: Helen Mastoris, Veroni, Beth Porritt, Barger, Sara Wessels, Kristi Hood, Erica Mair, Jennifer Muldovan, Jennifer Lukehart, Julie Diamond, Betsy Flood, Shelly Schuler, Katie Nieman, Cheryl Synecki, Jennifer Heinhorst, Barb Lightstone, Allison Welch, Kendra Ward, Julie Cleary, Paula Davis; Seventh Row: Julie Ryan, Katie Czerwinski, Debbie Siegel, Julie Busch, Colleen Conniff, Kim Para, Christine Conniff, Beth Le Tourneau, Julie Gordon, Kim Robinson, Kathy Jones, Kristi Havak, Linda Peter, Becky Riorden, Jody Gorse, Christine Silhavey, Pam Flewelling, Joanie Loutos, Becky Kholhagen, Chris Ottoson, Tiffany Hall; Eighth: Dina Lucibello, Dina Zissimopoulos, Sharon Pankus, Chris Jungels, Lynn Powell, Beth Young, Amy Goberville, Kari Smith, Gina Maggio, Suzanne Swanson, Mary Mihelich, Lynn Balagtas, Zana, Carrie Hintzke, Amy McRenolds, Geri Shkoler, Karen Vallero; Ninth Row: Kim Green, Amy McArthur, Jen McGuffin, Paula Wemer, Kate Perez, Jennifer Aubry, Debra Andrews, Suzy Nagle, Josephine Villegas, Elizabeth Hausler, Cathi Frauenheim, Christine Fordham, Julia McClelland, Kelly Crowder, Angie Herrington, Lori Gardberg, Angela Matthews, Beth Verbrughe, Lisa Rodrian, Michelle Linneweh

Kappa Sigma

The Alpha Gamma chapter of Kappa Sigma at the University of Illinois was chartered in 1891 and enjoys the distinction of being the oldest continuous fraternity on our campus. The chapter house, located at 212 E. Daniel Street in Champaign, was constructed in 1911 as one of the first specially designed fraternity homes. Presently we are in the process of raising funds for remodeling of the chapter house as part of our centennial in 1991.

The Alpha Gamma chapter also was recognized by our national this year by earning our Founder's Award of Chapter Excellence, given to only seven of our 208 chapters.

Front Row: Eric Engler, Jay McKeown, William Tselepis, Andy Pipitone, Michael T. Scott; Second Row: Alex Olsansky, Bob Chamberlain, Jeff Ahlstrom, Trent Mayberry, John Kahling; Third Row: Larry Chaing, Mark Czech, Doug Heithoff, Larry Maucieri, Brian Corcoran; Fourth Row: Mark Biery, Kyle Thompson, Rob Robinson, Kashif Sheikh; Fifth Row: John O'Hara, Keith Egly, Greg Bedell, Brian Lunn, Scott Sinnott, Eric Jacobsen, Andy Czupeck, Peter Zibble, Mark Iovinelli, Tony Czupeck; Sixth Row: John Nash, Rich Pisarski, Jim Mueller, Kevin Egly, Ron Schmittling, Rob Gillman, Mike Marsaglia, John Marchelya, Scot Reinicker; Back Row: Sen Kenny, John Goldstien, Charles Bateson, Louis Slonski, Jim Christle, Keith Lake, Kevin Lennon, Rudy Perez, Greg Nolan, Kenny Such, Blair Sarkiss, Anthony Pipitone

Golden Key

Front Row: Dena Miller, Stacy Chuchro, Elizabeth Scharl; Second Row: Jordan Krolick, Michael Sichlau, Richard Excell, Greg Recamp

Theta Xi

Front Row: Henry Munez, Scott Lyons, Calvin Lu, Paul Mason, Dan McCarthy, Eric Rysner, Rick Kasper, Rich Kelly, Mark Sendee; Second Row: Paul Lusson, Steve Raquel, Lee Adrian, Mark Spoonamoore, Erik Diamond, George Griggs, Alan Libunao, Adam Wagener, Reggie Sulit, Bill Esbeck; Third Row: Dave Glover, Jim Szczupai, Chris Kelley, Jay Hallberg, Dave Bien, Rob Brown, Eric Adams, Tim Ferencz, Chris Johnston; Fourth Row: Tim Singh, Andy Fick, Mike Berns, Matt Spitznagle, Scott Burns, Pat Donoghue, Bob Horak, Andy Schoeff, Pete Magnabosco, Ed Mondek; Fifth Row: Matt Gravelle, Bob Dittmar, John Warner, Mike Kaider, Rich Bergman, Jim Mikvta, Todd Fritz, Mike Borkowski, Andrew Allen, Jeff Feeley, Jared Biethmann, Mark Midland, Dave Koenen; Back Row: Mark Purcell, Brian Jannusch, Brandon Fox, Mike Midland, Alex Van Eckeran, Rich Yoakum, Paul Egan, Dave Parent, Eric Flanders, Chris Weber, Dan Masterson, Dave Owles, Eric Amann, Ken Olsen, Jim Novak.

Lambda Chi Alpha

Front Row: Ken Tracy, Nick Tornow, Anton Angello, Brad Krone; Second Row: Anwar Najmi, Jason Labuda, Jeremy Sentman, Wayne Kissler, Gary Johnson; Third Row: Wayne Johnson, Pete Berg, Eric Hansen, Mike Brady; Fourth Row: Dean Weede, Adrian Honer, Mike Peugh, Scott Wilson, Keith Howard, Dave Fortier, Scott Jones, Scott Thomas, Chris Hansen, Chad Phillips, Tom Dohrer, Brian Uherka, Ed Karles, Troy Pottgen, Vince Galloro; Fifth Row: Brian Fitzpatrick, Brad Bechtel, Brian Hynes, Mike McGuire, Erik Blumberg, Harlan Kelley, Matt Petersen, Todd Grebner, Matt Guarnery, Joshua Tucker, Kevin Streble, Kent Willets, Brad Wachtor, Doug Baird, Ken Burns, Mike Anderson, Larry Nee, Vince Maestranzi, Andrew Ruhl, Matt Engels, Pat Jones, Topm Schleeter, Andrew Kuster, Chris Chrzanowski, Amit Patel, Alex Bernal, Mike Dubois; Back Row: Kevin Trilli, Pat Naughton, Jeff Pitts, Brian Tierney, Peter Sprague, Kurt Goebel, Doug Meir

Sigma Nu

Front Row: Brad Janik, Henry Artalejo, John Dixon, Ken Honecker, Joey Luse, Ken Dyer, Pat Keating, Joel Meyer, Steve Meid Second Row: Matt Darst, Joe Martinez, John Giertz, Brian Condon, Pat Lay, Dennis Larson, Craig Sellers, Bob Barnhart, Scott Moore, Mike McGee Third Row: Jack Capp, Jeff Harris, Matt Duda, Dave Bales, Eric Duncan, John Iskalis, John Fake, Klay Schmeisser, Jason Harlowe Fourth Row: Greg Fizzell, Brad Sharratt, Kevin Smith, Tom Colburn, Rich Shelby, Kent Pflederer, Brian Poole, Scott Kish, Jeff Prall, Randy Dutton Back Row: Rob Baxter, Scott Alexander, Jeff Scheirer, John Colburn

Varsity Men's Glee Club

Front Row: Alexander Djordjevic, Eric Loula, Louis Scaglione, William Tock, Mark Barone, John Waler; Second Row: Daniel Newitt, Jason Teeter, Mark Duker, Chris Schwarz, Jeffrey Robers, Andrew Kim; Third Row: Walter Hinson, Edward Simmonds, Terry Kirts, Shannon Caughey, Steven Cone, Stephen Rhoades; Fourth Row: Richard Anderson, Mark Timko, Jason Sirvatka, John Shiraki, Joseph Williams, David Park; Fifth Row: David Winnett, Bryan Schroeder, Arthur Sesma, Kevin McGinnis, Michael Dikelsky, Timothy Gannon; Sixth Row: Harlan Kelley, James Rogers, Glenn Schuster, Eric Van Hyfte, Stephen Osunsami, David Beatty; Seventh Row: Jason Krigas, Matthew Talbott, Andrew Trieiger, Keith Chase, Gregory Morgan, Kevin Bruemmer; Back Row: Chris Novop, Chris Hermes, Mark Martens, Andrew Billing

Alpha Epsilon Pi

Front Row: David Brot, Nevin Forkos, Scott Struber, Jeff Durtz, Corey Kessler, Jason Stone; Second Row: Matt Miller, Brian Ogan, Jay Bernstein, Mike Rosenthal, Brian Bromberg, Mike Melinger, Mike Silverman, Brian Newman, David Cohen, David Sandler, Alan Israel, Marc Hork, Ron Wolfman, Eric Edidin, Devin Lipman; Third Row: Steve Miller, Greg Silverman, Gary Bavishaw, Dan Argentar, Scott Pearlman, Rick Michaels, Lee Dorfman, Gary Segal, Aaron Bransky, Brian Karshen, Rob Hoffenberg, Rob Shore, Steve Isaacs, Ron Matten, Ira Penner, Jason Primer; Fourth Row: Ken Heinrich, Craig Wasserman, Adam Schwartz, Steve Stern, Scott Golstein, Jay Kahn, Greg Geren, Joh Aven, Vic Levitan, Jeff Schulkin, Gilad Ben-Yoseph, David Shapiro, Adam Ruchman, Jeff Winograd, Mike Preston; Last Row: Howard Fishman, Mike Herzog, Jordan Krolick, Scott Zells, Brian Lovett, Bryan Segal, Eric Gallender, David Berger, Dave Metz, Mike Dresner, Scott Silverman, Kevin Flagg, Rick Markle, Greg Prebish, Alan Berlin.

Seniors

Front Row: Jordan Krolick, Bryan Segal, Howard Fishman; Second Row: Mike Silverman, Brian Lovett; Third Row: Kevin Flagg, Alan Berlin, Mike Dresner, Eric Gallender, Scott Silverman; Last Row: Greg Prebish, Dave Metz, Mike Herzog, Rick Markle, Scott Zells

Delta Tau Delta

Front Row: John Coburn, Jed Richardson, Steve Kuhn, Andy Wells, Doug Gieger; Second Row: Brian Marshall, Mike Saad, Matt Holt, Jeff Tuisl, Ed Hulina, Brain Rees, Matt McQuinn, Matt Hedrick, Dan Stephan, Kendall Kessler, Jim McWethy, Tom D'Amore; Third Row: Joe Moyer, Tom Windish, Eric Sommerfeld, Dan Martens, Matt Homann, Mike Wells, Matt Middendorf, Chuck Baren, Mark Tomassini "The Count", Van Simios, Neil Kirby; Fourth Row: Bear Roth, Dan Landry, Rob Black, Jeff Mirman, Dave Dillon, Lars Johnson, Bob Iorii, Cory Lichtenberger, Mike Johnson, Jim Sullivan, Scott Stevens, Matt Rosauer, Tom Dressler; Fifth Row: Eric Dollman, Joe Barnabee, Jim Zinkus, Mike Helms, Lisle Wayne, Troy Waldherr, Scott Lambert, Steve Novy, Matt Madigan, Paul Blaszczyk, Dan Corcoran Phil Shaffer, Brad Boyd, Dave Groppel, Gregg Bartosz; Back Row: Sean Dunne, Andrew Trasart, Dave Jones, Dieter Elbert, Kirk Denz

Sigma Tau Gamma

Front Row: Chris Barnhart, Dan Pawlak, Frank Mastronuzzi, Simon Santiago, John Collins, Greg Nicpon, Joe Vasquez, Eric Foster, Scott Sutton; Second Row: Bret Lorenc, Geordan Capes, Tim Wayne, Don Kye, John Vigna, Dave Hene, Matt Hillebrand, Matt Hughes, John Schoolman, Fran DeLaCruz, Carlos Rojas, Jay Bishop, Scott Crawford, Jorge Cabrales; Third Row: Deith Bollman, Brad Lawton, Jim Pieschel, Cory Orzak, Raj Chandwaney, Mike McCure, Brent Duelm, Steve Sherwood, Jeff Petry, Bud Killian, Matt Murer, Steve Cavolick, Bryan Barger, Jim Wargo, Brian Slocum, John Fry, Dale Randol, Brad Hamlin; Back Row: Tom Franey, Rob Grossman, Raef Meves, Pete Neal, Chris Weber, Dennis Walsh, Kevin Rowe, Bob Fleck, Ray Gunn, Jason Bally, Sanjay Godhwani, Steve McCure Carl Norman, Tim MacDonald, Paul Cho, Ray Thakur, Greg Dohrman

Tau Beta Pi

Front Row: Sophie Bell, Stephanie Connolly, Trang Nguyen, Margaret Guell; Second Row: Gordon Ye, Michael Ries, Prof. Leslie G. Smith, Joe Macro, Jeffrey Medema, Jeffrey Schroll; Third Row: Scott Knight, Pamela Voitik, Nikki Mirghafori, Brent Whitlock, Mike Raschke, John Tanquary; Fourth Row: Doug Dominiak, Karen Chess, Scott Miller, Garr Gast, James Nocon, Mark Timko, Arturo Fernandez, Reid Erickson; Fifth Row: Max Rexroad, Dana Quinn, Deepak Prabhakar, Stephen Boppart, Lisa Conyers, Dave Hinde, Dan Mueller, Charles Azu, Tom Maciukenas; Sixth Row: Michael Corwin, Eden Tan, Thomas O'Rourke, David Meseka, Karl Guagel, Patrice Mitchell, Troy Klein, Jarret Cooper, John Runnion, Tom Ault, Emil Sims; Back Row: Mark Wessel, Christian Carrico, Keith Edwards, Sarah Taylor, Matthew Gerhart, Angela Locascio, Ralf Honermeier, Wendy Crone, Amanda Watson, Matt Neidlinger, Barry W. Reynolds

Engineering Olympics
Summer Job Fair
Tutoring
Student-Faculty Brunch
Fall Foliage Fest
Skating Party
The Better Cookie Baker
Engineers
Friends

Front Row: Laura Keenan-Engineering Olympics Co-chair, Trang Nguyen-General Secretary, Margaret Guell-President, Stephanie Connolly-Recording Secretary, Sophie Bell-Treasurer; Second Row: Rob Snyder-Engineering Olympics Co-chair, Owen Hayes-Engineering Open House Project, Rob Grossman-Comptroller, Tom Phelps-Engineering Council Representative, Jeff Schroll-Service Projects, Mike Reis-Cataloger, Jeff Medema-Vice President, Rande Johnson-Corresponding Secretary, Joe Macro-Service Projects

Delta Sigma Phi

Front Row: Pat Gray, Mike Schultz, Mark Vilcek, Mitch Myers, Jim Dvorak, Tome Sloan, Sean Bell, Craig Bridell, Todd Scott, Jerry Connors; Second Row: Mike Zak, Mike McGinnis, Chris Hermanson, Blaine Hyde, John Hijjani, Tom Kniery, John Sacco, Charlie Lee, Ivan Barriga, John Walsh; Third Row: Ross Bartolotta, John Tarte, Rick Shutter, Brian Kozminski, Dave Byrd, Jim Papesch, Rob Foldesi, Pat Towne; Fourth Row: Mike Verachtart, Marc Greenfield, Todd Wyatt, Mike Millerick, Cory Johnson, John Satti, Mike Towne, Jon Sus, Jake Litterest, John Vosicky; Back Row: Brian Greene, Mike Bucchin, Dave Teter, John Winkler, Sean Barry, Rob Roca, Scott Novosel, Don Barry, Vince Huff, Dan Nitzsche, Marshall Collins

Order of Omega

OFFICERS: Front Row: Lisa Davis(Secretary), Becky Rusch(President), Andrea Halperin(Vice President); Back Row: Penny Petrow(Treasurer)

Front Row: Jim Ostry, Mala Byanna, Becky Rusch, Andrea Halperin, Penny Petrow, Lisa Davis, Tanja Powers, Gitta Sorensen; Second Row: Melissa McKee, Rindy Finch, Deanna Willey, Leigh Kridakorn; Third Row: Claude Jacob, Melissa Credi, Anny Delliannis, Frank Karbarz, Susan Moresco, Angie Morgan, Chris Eichorn; Fourth Row: Bill Stafford, Julie Flannery, Bruce Radke, Stephanie Surlis, JoAnna Abrams; Fifth Row: John Burkey, Theresa DeSalvo, Andrew Hibel, Jordan Cramer, Robert Uhe; Back Row: Eric Duncan, Jennifer Kauss, Vincent Fogt, Chris Buti, Jennifer Zerbe, John Ehlert, Drew Coxhead, Stacey Huels, Mike Downey, John Terlisner

Illini Tae Kwon Do

Front Row: Joel Broadus, Jamie Rozyban, Christine Folan, Don Johnston, James Martin, Tina Chiemmongkoltip, Tony Artates, Mr. Nam Soo Hyong, Prasanta Bhowmik, Karen Roth, Ariel Estandarte, Albert Willette, Jennifer Alexovich, Ariel Ramirez, James Mullins; Second Row: Juan Brozan, Mike Rosenthal, John Edwards, Brian Metin, Marshall Blatz, Jim Matson, Kendal White, Tony Severino, John Silvestri, Calvin Chen, Dalila Arguez, Ibrahim Syed, Jeff Grauous, Mark Mikol; Third Row: Ted Vician, Chris Slankard, Dave Collins, Kiran Puri, Tod Martinsen, Mike Strezo, Mike Anania, John Jureinicz, Matt Cantlin, Antheny Allen, Stan Balog, Brandon Phelps, Matthew Nitsche, John Kowal, Tony Chen, Mike Connerty; Fourth Row: Jill Garner, Eric Bryan, Abhijit Chatterjee, John Melvan, Steve Johnson, Denis Labij, Rebecca Toon, Robert Hoeksta, Jeff Lannam, Jeff Fluhrer, David Chang, Rob Donart, Gary Miller, Ed Burke, Josh Kawaloski, Rajesh Selukar, Lawrence, Emida Wangboje; Back Row: JoAnn Whitehead, Clare Kubiak, Harry Miller, Garry Herzog, Arthur Kotz, Steven Miller, Anthony Coronado, Walter Borja, Mick M. Savoy, Scott Brown

Sigma Chi

Front Row: Brian Dillman, Brian Estes, Bernie, Otto, Darren Garrietts, Pizan, Lurch, Andy Basil, Sam, Dr. Bob Berger, Corpse, Drew Livingston, Dave Striech
Second Row: Greg Burd, Bill Schaedel, Ted Prillaman, Dave Lentz, Chris Disario, Dave Holmes, Dave Burden, Ack, Kevin Bixler, Mike Rediger, Andy Stroth, Pat Doyle, Dan Fewkes, Dallas Reynolds
Third Row: Matt Bretzlaff, Tom Carris, Bill Scanlon, Tim Schlicling, John Sonuski, Giacomo, Adam Baird, Dave Uddenberg, Tom Guttowski, Puffer, Mike Rappold, Rick Shertz
Fourth Row: Brian Packhouse, Ed Garcia, Scott Duerkip, John Ciko, Paul Ernst, John Quick, Mark Yokum, Brian Foley, Mike Bergin, Bob Bartell, Mack Henney, Brad Darchiaez, Wes Urich, Larry Ryan, Pat Dubois, Steve Kkhn, John Wazny, Mark Hennenfet, Chris Lentz, Derek Riker, Mike Larson, Ruprict, Dave Holmes, Pat Flynn, Jordon Chalmers, Drew Riker, Tom Panopolis, Brad Stedronski Roof: Ed Armstrong, Andy Foster, Tim Curry, Lane Soelberg, Scott Becker, Greg Wilson, Jones-Dog

NROTC

Front Row: P. Madell, K. Boyle, R. Schaffer, D. Modder, T. Drew, M. Kosnar, M. Buck, S. Macrane, M. Boulos, T. Sanzi, C. Lambert; Second Row: C. McCarthy, R. Beltrand, M. Palomino, C. Sheaff, J. Merkley, S. Taowarodom, M. Hixsom, J. Mangan, R. Garcia, B. Goszkowicz, D. Almer, R. Colson; Third Row: J. VanMessel, S. Ruscheinski, J. Rigdon, C. Tisdale, J. Wilmes, D. Diaz, J. Cox, T. Pena, T. Gosewelle, M. Hildebrand, A. Hoizenga; Fourth Row: M. Eisenberg, P. Brill, C. Morton, J. Moroni, I. Maciulis, B. Anderson, E. Estella, M. Narens, P. Minotillo, H. Choi, D. Lutz; Fifth Row: E. Mciver, P. Lee, D. Ross, J. Kill, P. Thompson, A. Burgos, S. Alt, R. Anderson, L. Thompson, J. Wurtz, M. Redd, J. Thompson, J. Raimo; Sixth Row: M. Monkman, D. Maxey, E. Viurquez, S. Jones, T. Riodon, J. Menoni, D. Hebda, M. Evert, P. Hines, S. Schaefer, D. Lundstrom, C. Michel; Seventh Row: J. King, E. Flemming, R. Brown, D. Bathauer, E. Armstrong, E. Williams, J. Burke, R. Snyder, M. Minotillo; Eighth Row: S. Maier, M. Stiber, M. Curry, K. Baywell, I. Kahn, S. Grandgeorge, C. Johnson, E. Richardson, J. Johnson, J. Bernet, A. Erins; Ninth Row: J. Sowers, K. McNeill, K. McDaniel, M. Stadtherr, R. Brown, K. Harms, M. Dargis, C. Siegle, L. Engman, K. Willets; Tenth Row: D. O'Connor, T. McRoberts, S. Giles, L. Barber, T. DeWitt, J. Watzlawick, K. Parker, K. Moore, P. Smith; Back Row: M. Morgan, E. Zentmyer, C. Nyquist, J. Tucker, J. Kraus, W. Grambley, K. Barney, B. Snider, M. Genson, P. Keane, S. Scanlon Front Row: Craig Ablin, John Curcio, Grey Malis, Gary Cerefice, Sam Lubek, Robert Carr, Chris Hollender, Tom Wicus, Hector Gustamante; Second Row: Brad Weinshenker, Geoff Noth, Eric Raymer, Steve Nelleman, John Mikoda, Chriss Dill, Mark Martens, Sean Jereb, James Tay; Third Row: Jeff Schmitz, Dan Wolf, Ron Markle, Dave Bogot, Michael Hoffman, Sean Copeland, Chris Goodsnyder, Scott Goldberg, Dirk Mason; Fourth Row: Dave Sarabacha, Andrew Jarosz, Rich Ringard, David Zwick, Will Kurima, Tim Martinez, Dave Goldberg, Steve Medvin, Mark Mirsky, Mitch Levinsoin; Fifth Row: Scott Zuckerman, Brad Pfanensteil, Arnold Davis, Eric Eisen, Jason Fixler, Elliot Stewart, Dave Futterman; Back Row: Rick Barnvos, Gary Kanter, Russ Barnett, Alan Levine, Chris Gattuso, Keith Melnick, Glen Lenart, Scott Morgan, Dustin Smith, Rob Mazor, Dan Edelstein.

Tau Epsilon Phi

The Other Guys

Front Row: Drew Trieger, Jason Krigas, Dave Winnett, Andy Sprague, Tim Gannon, Mike Dikelsky, Jason Sirvatka, Steve Rhodes

Alpha Sigma Phi

Front Row: Matthew Starks, Michael Downey, Greg Mittelstad, Jeff Shura, Melvin Wilson, Matthew Voss, Daniel Duhig, Matthew Gryzlo; Second Row: Thomas Trahan, Brett Baker, Michael Springer, Joseph Housh, Matthew Neidlinger, John Menoni, Phil Pilon, Vince Guzniczak; Third Row: John Massarelli, John Kerr, Richard Rewerts, Brian Laskowski, Paul Forsberg, Michael Dover, John Folan, Brian Lisek, Robert Vanna, Peter Murges, William 'Benton, Victor Carsello, Peter Rifakes; Fourth Row: Steve Novotony, Christopher Olsen, Andrew Hunter, Phi Ngnyen, William Milleker, Michael Hinnant, Dave Tjhio, Brian DeDecker, Charles Riggs, Mark Williams, Brad Clem, Kevin Kowalczak, Steve Madden, Hugo Chavez, Paul Schmidt, Karl Palasz, Kevin Wayer; Back Row: Ralph Williams, Richard Verback, Kevin Kerrigan, Brian Knudtson, David Meneely, Rick Hartwig, Jeff Dockins, Phil O'Donnell, William Love, Todd Wallace, Daniel McCandless, Christopher Haymaker, Lito Toreja, Scott Drewno, Jason Krigas, Robert Riggs, Kenneth Smorynski, Donald Smith

American Institute of Architecture Students

Front Row: Carol McLaughlin, Christy Eales, Cindy Pachikara, Clayton Haldeman, Eric Rowland, Amy Yue; Second Row: Art DelMuro, Steve Cain, Grace Chiu, Lisa Huber, Ann Coleman, Jamie Ladwig, Mark Trost, Roy Hwang; Third Row: Chad Bermingham, Lauren Laskowski, John Folan, Chris Wegscheid, Mark Aukamp, Bryan King, Steve Brown; Fourth Row: Steve Foutch, Pete Courlas; Back Row: Tom Sarbaugh, Michael Shaw, John Lynch, Lloyd Babbitt, Troy Strang, Angelo Trapani, Randy Tscheiter, Shelly Reed, Kristen Thomas, York Chan

Beta Sigma Psi

Front Row: Bob Norman, Andrew Inargo, Timothy Russo, George Haden, Timothy Holtan, Paul Malcharek, Michael Toepper, Roger Schnitzler, Ken Kroeker, Chris Marshall; Second Row: Dan Block, Brad Davis, Eric Christiansen, Rob Tieman, Dohn Pfeiffer, John Tynan, Andrew Nierman, Matthew Berg, Ronald Lange, Wade Harrison; Back Row: Jeff Roesler, Dave Mihevc, Kevin McReynolds, Dan Friend, Dave Wiese, Troy Stuckmeyer, Bob Goetting Darrell Douglass

Phi Sigma Kappa

Front Row: Mark Thompson, Inductor, Todd Gephart, Treasurer, Doug Heathcock, Vice-President, Vikas Puri, President, Steve Wells, Secretary, John Scudella, Sentinel Second Row: D. Manojlowski, J. Novak, T. McCutchen, K. Buban, G. Clark, M. Baldwin, E. Staudt, T. Callan, H. Sandoval, V. Izokaitis, R. Chiapetta, M. Barry, P. Karlovics, J. Lasak, E. Jasper, P. Flannagan, D. Hagan, M. Sarsany, L. Jogmen, B. Witthoft, B. Schutte Third Row: D. Harmon, M. O'Connor, C. Hall, M. Greifenkamp, R. Dineen, K. Maddox, T. Fox, R. Mehling, J. Stein, D. Griffiths Back Row: M. Fuhr, J. Murawska, D. Hallsten, M. Kowal, D. Boyce, R. Villa, J. Hanson, J. Barker, M. Gambla, R. Esser, J. Simmons, P. Wallace

Pre-Vet Club

Front Row: Sharon Payne, Laura L'Heureux, Matt Voss, Jeffery Brown, Wendy Grethen; Second Row: Amy Sturlini, Joe Mo, Al Poma, Karen Haag, Lesley Howell, Abby Dobbins, Melissa Alexander, Jenny Poddig; Third Row: Linda Berent, Jeff Hermann, Dan Krull, Coretta Washington, Coretta Cosby, Katrina Holmes, Deanna Ostien; Fourth Row: Toni Neel, Kim Freeman, Steve Levin, Matt Ackerman, Kris Colleran, Christine Merle, Ann Marie Marcucci; Fifth Row: Wendy Barczak, Shannon Greeley, Dennis Agustin, Cindi Link, Jennifer Powers, Megan Wiegman, Kathy Ashbury, Karla Bower, Sharon Wappel, Colin McHugh; Sixth Row: Jennifer Klenske, Tishia Price, Jeff Mevell, Jessica Carlson, Kathryn Cochran, Jim Cinto, Emily Warren, Carrie McMahon, Angie Kirkwood, Kate Tyler; Seventh Row: Nora Bibian, James Gratz, Robert Perlot, Michelle Pomeroy, Kara Pales, Jeremy Doserm, Dave Krodel, Jerry Fox, Suzanne Hartigan, Cecilia Friberg; Eighth Row: Stephanie Chamberlain, Lin McCormiack, Feli Herrera, Heather Spencer, Sandra Robertson, Janelle Bols, Doug Keen, Don Staunton, Kristin Wojeik, Dean Christopoulos; Ninth Row: Scott Clark, Rochel Huey, Melissa Vigor, Sara Rueler, Melissa Franklin, Cyndi Flood, Theresa Jones, Colleen Collins, Jack Martin, Shannan Kifer, Angie Smith, Michael Shivers; Tenth Row: Kristin Haugeto, Marsha Towne, Amy Newton, Sarah Stark, Teresa Goodson, Sylvia Nauyokas, Kris Thommes, Kim Boswell, Lara Borgerson, Kathleen Shelton, James Sievers; Eleventh Row: Sean Murray, John Granet, Jennifer Erdtmann, Virginia Spence, Gina Anthony, Anita McGovern, Lisa Dziedzina, Scott Geest, Sean Gillian, Brian Downes, Tom Shiozaki; Back Row: Laura Wallack, Ann Borger, Tracy Sullivan, Krista Lorenz, John Collister, Tammy Dedert

Alpha Gamma Sigma

Seniors

Front Row: Eric Delker, Jerry Askren, Second Row: Mike Graham, Thomas Wargel, Ryan Stallings, Devin Albrect, Ron Haarmann, Randy Miller, Third Row: Dave Stubblefield, Bernie Vahling, Adam Phillips, Fourth Row: Mike Stickler, John Bossert, Fifth Row: Phil Bartz, Bill Riffey, Back Row: Jay McWhinney

Front Row: Dave Stubblefield, Mike Dorn, Jordi Price, Robbert Lubben, John Huston, Dave Boundy, Lorana Ivens, Ralph Ivens, Phil Bartz, Thomas Liargel, Dave Schmidt, Brian Wills, Ed Dunn, Jason Blanchette; Second Row: Matt Bell, Steve Wirsing, Ron Harmann, Jerry Askin, Troy Throneborge, Devin Albrecht, Randy Miller, Bernie Vanhling, Adam Phillips, Brian Bork, Bob Spratt, Jeff Austman, Doug Miller, Todd Wachtel, Doug Webel, Mike Graham; Back Row: John Bossert, David Gay, Mike White, Ed Lesage, Ted Vinson, Jeff White, Greg O'Connor, Les Ahrends, Eric Decker, Mark Fesser, Chris Swiney, Mike Stickler, Ryan Stallings, Jay McWinney, Joe Boose, Mike Kennedy, Joh Tamblyn, tony Kile, Matt Brauman

Delta Phi Epsilon

Front Row: Cara Blonz, Jackie Stevens; Second Row: Julie Nochumson, Becky Lezak, Ellen Saharack, Cari Lewin, Sehba Khan, Terri Miller, Susan Shevelenko, Karla Morales, Alex Rogula; Third Row: Melissa Zahora, Cyndi Bloor, Sheri Cooperman, Sheila Cunningham, Shelly Dineen, Krista Pellicore, Marge Livingston, Cari Salpaka, Leslie Howell; Fourth Row: Gladys Morales, Dawn Randall, Joyce Fizzgibbons, Cyndi Flood, Cheryl Walcer, Julie Haw, Robin Levin, Peggy Katz, Beth Mendelson, Jenny Poddig, Nancy Ellis; Fifth Row: Amanda Esposito, Debbie Carbon, Angela Carlomango, Erin Moran, Beth Ohlson, Eva Lord, Laura Glassman, Jill Holtzrichter, Ilene Amend, Shelley Tannenbaum, Karen Silverman; Back Row: Nicki Ulrich, Holly Jovanovich, Sharon Arnold, Susan Buritz, Missy Scheller, Serena Lessin, Germaine Bello, Janine Kosel, Nancy Rosendorn, Susan Hammersley, Diana Field

Randi Smolen, Tracy Helmbock, Kim Sneider and Amy London show their relief, after their pledge daughters have been initiated.

Alpha Epsilon Phi

Front Row: Heidi Goodman, Pam Slovin, Dana Price, Melissa Garber, Elizabeth Remis, Amy LeVine, Michele Goldstein, Marla Gherman, Jennifer Rose, Jocelyn Cohen, Mara Shapiro, April Sugarman, Hader Danieli, Kari Levun, Laura Dresner, Hope Weinstein; Second Row: Audrey Buben, Gail Goldberg, Anjanette Fischer, Jocelyn Dickler, Sharai Freidman, Sarah Brown, Stephanie Horwitz, Miriam Engel, Dana Beck, Marcy Behrmann, Wendy Kagan, Danielle Chams, Holly Siegel, Tracey Michaels, Megan Goldish, Margaret Wolodko; Third Row: Beth Silver, Stephanie Mitzenmacher, Shari Goldberg, Julie Kliska, Lauren Grabowski, Beth Block, Nancy Shapiro, Elory Rozner, Alyson Spitalnik, Lorin Leavitt, Susan Elbaum, Tammi Henich, Stacy Levinson, Jennifer Sirkin; Fourth Row: Heidi Chavin, Amy Schiffman, Lauren Wise, Joli Robinson, Debbie Rubin, Donna Glutzer, Metra Cohanin, Alyssa Gallender, Tracy Schmall, Wendy Perla, Marcy Miller, Michelle Silver, Marianne Hyatt, Jodi Feinberg, Kim Cooper; Fifth Row: Sheri Lebedow, Abbi Banks, Becky Gittles, Stacy Rosenberg, Linda Corn, Laura Sachs, Karen Schreiber, Laura Jacobs, Nori Lifchez, Rhonda Fischman, Marla Wolyne, Dana Ugonlini, Michele Israel, Lisa Block, Sheryl Goldman, Laura Cudzik, Rachel Corn, Carol Ellman, Laura Luckman, Natalie Cadavid, Lisa Franklin, Missy Tobin, Lisa Dunn, Kim Golberg; Sixth Row: Hollie Sobel, Heather Margolis, Lainie Gutman, Wendy Weinstein, Lisa Brenner, Amy Pellman, Stacy Newman, Sarah Gordon, Suzanne Dunn, Debbrah Shapiro, Lisa Bobis, Ilana Carp, Allison Mangurten, Beth Davidson, Caryn Millstone, Kim Kossof, Jennifer Dienstag, Natalie Kosson, Lisa Robinson, Wendy Weingart, Tracie Helmbock, Randi Smollen, Amy London, Jennie Reinish; Seventh Row: Randee Leff, Debbie Cohn, Julie Davis, Lori Cohen, Leslie Linn, Jennifer Skolnik, Lori Bobis, Ellen Zfaney, Marta Steele, Lisa Sillins, Robin Dynner; Back Row: Sheryl Jaffe, Alana Dubin, Beth Steinberg, Jodi Cremer, Jamie Gelford, Mimi Ruthmam, Carrie Kaplan, Melanie Goldberg, Jenny Guss, Andrea Halperin, Kim Reitman, Wendy Hork, Michelle Krupp, Holly Rappin, Debby Goldman, Michelle Kelley, Lynn Yaffe, Sheri Zaban, Jenni Holt, Jackie Rozenwajg, Rachel Imber, Felicia Bakshy

Jennifer Dienstag, Lauren Crasko, Hollie Poncher, Kim Kossof, and Julie Davis celebrate bid night at Alpha Epsilon Pi.

Star Course

Front Row: Tim Muentzer, Shelly Davies, John Ottaviani, Kathi Brinkmann, Laura Kurre, Junse Kim, Margaret Scott, Bob Faust, Erin Smith, Patti O'Donnell, Sarah J. Palmer, Second Row: Kim Robeson, AnneMarie Stephens, Julie Sheehan, Ron Pradiges, Kevin Flores, Raleigh Bennett, Kelly Otto, Sue Donahue, Brian Maggi, Sallyann Parker, Becky Radtke, Clark Benson, Third Row: Matt Sidman, Annie Ek-Vinnai, Mike Sova, Jenni Gussner, Jenny Cheek, Mike Schober, Layla Garrigues, Sonja Winther, Meredith Weiss, Dristin Thomas, Heidi Clark, Fourth Row: Nick Macri, Amy Olsen, Gilles Rodi, Tony Tarasiuk, Tim Kavanaugh, Margaret Gembala, Joe Gembala, Rod VanHuis, Jennifer Lofgren, Alesia Strawn, Sandy Mutman, Nina Herneryd, Mike Eichorn, Fifth Row: Barb panek, Arif Karim, Tricia Gunji, Rupa Rao, Chris Lee, Mike Condon, Carl Galvan, Jenny Devens, Sheila Parker, Troy Wright, Julie Zerndt, Joel Zich, Sixth Row: Sara Morton, Eileen Rodgers, Julie Dresen, Janelle Smith, Alex Arzoumanidis, Greg Bolsinga, Jeff Wagner, Aline hoe, Kip Carrico, Sue Milleker, Rick Ahnger, Liz Atac, Rachel Bernstein, Sean Brady, Michele Burke, Vicky Carson, Mike Datz, Lisa Duba, Bob Geimer, Michele Jedlicka, Tim Kauffman, Sylvia Knust, Mike Magnus, Mark Maynard, Susanne Miller, Ned Molyneaux, Jill Constantino, Seventh Row: Dand Hanaman, Jim Clark, Jim Asnis, Matt McGinn, Mike Davis, Tad Neuhaus, Pari Ghorbani, Chris Stillson, Back Row: Joel Rynes, Jeff Morse, Dave Eggers, Amy Darabin, Laurie Williams, Amy Smithe, Rokaterice Collins-Jones, Sharon Wolf, Christopher Perrigo, Heidi Wambach, Amy Williams, Mark Griswold

STAR COURSE is THE student entertainment organization at the University of Illinois. It is the only completely student-run, self-sufficient, non-profit organization of its kind in the country. We pride ourselves on bringing top-name professional acts such as Dizzy Gillespie, the Violent Femmes, Stanley Jordan, R.E.M., BoDeans, Pixies and The B-52's to campus. If you are interested in upcoming events or how to get on the staff, feel free to stop by our office and inquire in room 266 Illini Union.

Managers

Front Row: Kathi Brinkmann, Shelly Davies, Bob Faust, Junse Kim, Laura Kurre, Susanne Miller, Tim Muentzer, Patti O'Donnell, John Ottaviani, Sarah J. Palmer, Margaret Scott, Erin Smith

Phi Kappa Psi

Front Row: Dan Beland, Terry Smith, Joe Dalesandro, Jake Lopata, Mike Moran, Chris Lynn, Dan Madigan, Mike Calderisi, Second Row: Brian Blockovich, Chris Smith, Tim Mezel, Dan Hughes, Dan Nevis, Dan Zurek, Jeff Zimmermann, Dave Orr, Wil Suppe, Dave Carlson, Pat SanRoman, Frank Stone, Marc Caifano, Craig Shaman, Eric Wilson, Jeff Hill, Kurt Marunde, Joe Pope, Matt Dahm, Mike Gilmartin, Matt Langhenry, Mark Lanzotti; Third Row: Dave Buetow, Will Austin, Jim Cole, John Tilson, Pete Schlegel, Dan Baroni, Eric Brown; Back Row: Mario Correa, Chris Harmon, Frank Sullivan, Dave Morris, Karl Remec, Kurt Iverson, Paul Snowwhite, Tom Schloemer, Heath Miller, Pedro Otero, Tim Hogan, Brian VonBergen, John Calahan, Rod O'Conner, Carl Scaffidi, Matt Heidkamp, Dave Smith, Pete Havlis, Steve Padracky, Jahn MacNamara, Tony Nowak, Brett Stadler, Chris Kerfoot, Bill Lewan, Jim Jacabucci, Andy Lynch

Intramural Fraternity Blue Champions

Front Row: Will Austin, Mike Gilmartin, Brian Bloc, John Davis, Anthony Lamantia, Matt Pensinger, Back Row: Kurt Marunde, Jeff Hill, Dave Cooney, John McNamara, Frank Stone.

Alpha Chi Omega

Front Row: Maureen Kocot, Sue Larkin, Sharon McDearmon, Kara Ruffatto, Shannon Svoboda; Second Row: Denise Chudy, Heather Greenfield, Lisa Kicmal, Laurie Zamiska, Christine Kearns, Lisa Madden, Lisa Lynch, Annie Connor, Jennifer McArdle, Laurie Thompson, Erin Maggio; Third Row: Catherine Klima, Jacquie Rehnberg, Beth Cornelius, Lisa Mini; Fourth Row: Laurie Bisbee, Kit Kendeigh, Stephanie Ratcliff, Katie McHugh, Rosie Loftus, Nicky DeSanto, Ingrid Reutter, Amy Berardi, Lynn Sommerschild, Gitta Sorenson, Michelle Tulley, Mary Lisa Gray, Sharon Kanabay, Nancy Fendley, Jennifer Owens; Fifth Row: Colleen Mini, Tracy Schneider, Susan Kaisner, Lisa Fischer, Tory Saporta, Effie Kahrman, Krissy Michaels, Anne Bozek, Audrey Zamin, Sari Zernich, Kathy Kay Carrie DeSanto, Heidi Hoffman, Molly Honneger; Sixth Row: Stephanie Sammon, Katie Humpal, Heidi Ecklund, Beth Lucas, DeeDee Anderson, Jami Kehl, Nicole Macrury, Jenny Cygan, Linda Butler, Laura Henningson, Paige Hochberg; Back Row: Carol Bock, Colleen Melady, Julie Zeno, Holly Schmidt, Tenell Rodden, Julie Bragg

DI Advertising

Front Row: Jennifer Riegler, Amy Cardin, Kevin Buban, Jennifer Huey, Tammy Rowe; Back Row: Neil Kirby, Jenny Devens, Greg Pomaro, Julie Nelson, Sean Bodnar, Carlo Arreglo.

Front Row: Karen Austin-Joslin (Assistant Advertising Director), Gregg Peck, Whitney Proffitt (Classified Advertising Coordinator); Back Row: Alice Niepert (Advertising Director), Noele Lukasik, Eileen Grady, Jenny Schuh.

Phi Kappa Theta

First Row: Kale Hoogstraat, Tom Eddington, Ed Plebanek, Dave Griesheimer, Bob Ghislandi, Mike Margas, Tom Siciliano, Todd Smith, Scott Gilday, Brad Hutchens; Second Row: Joe Belluso, A.J. Wiedhoph, Henry Izaguirre, Dave Paoni, Eddie Ford, Joel Baranowski, Dave Sherman, Gene Sheih, Dave Luhrs; Third Row: Brent Heilman, Ben Lerner, Bill Stostrom, Rob Smith, Curt Bailey, Tom Cassel, Doug Morrissey, Josh Lenzini; Fourth row: Bill Douglass, Brad Veath, Eric Redd, Joe Anglim, Tony Benvenuti, Walt Ruane, Jim Neuberger, John Dobecki, Scott Marquardt; Fifth Row: Jason Poindexter, Mary Bush, Dave Stone, Jeff Wittlich, Brian Miller, Mike Damocles; Last Row: Mike Orals, Diran Doritala, Frank Ratkus, Randy Kurtz, Greg Ring, Ross Winks

Fraternal excellence has been a tradition at the Beta Delta chapter of Phi Kappa Theta since 1912. The chapter house is located at 1106 South Third Street in Champaign. This year was started off with our 5th Annual Mud Volleyball Tournament held with the women of Alpha Chi Omega. This tournament raised thousands of dollars for the Leukemia Foundation. During the Christmas season we really get into the spirit by ringing bells for the Salvation Army. Our spring semester was highlighted with Atius with the women of Alpha Phi and our annual Easter Egg Hunt for the Champaign Boys Club.

Seniors

First Row: Henry Izaguirre, Ed Plebanek, Brent Heilman, Scott Gilday; Secon Row: Tom Eddington, Mike Orals, Tom Siciliano, Doug Morrissey; Last Row: Brian Miller, Dale Hoogstraat, Dave Griesheimer, Mike Damocles, Frank Ratkus, Greg Ring, Bob Ghislandi

Role of housemother changes

She's an organizer, an overseer, a role model and a friend. Her responsibilities are endless, and she could probably write a best-seller from all of the experiences she's had on the job. Who is this Superwoman? She is a sorority or fraternity housemother.

A housemom's job is never done. Duties include planning menus, ordering provisions and generally seeing that the house is running smoothly and efficiently. If something breaks, the housemom sees to it that it is fixed. Housemothers also help out with special events such as Mom's and Dad's Day Weekends.

Specific roles of housemoms vary from house to house, each using that which best serves the chapter's needs.

Phi Sigma Sigma is one of the few sororities without a live-in housemother. Instead, they have a house director, Nancy Eubanks, who also serves as a cook for the chapter. As opposed to the tradiboy. In exchange for his room and board, he takes care of all of the yardwork, snow shoveling and maintenance.

Eubanks sees the role of house

photo by Kristy Pharis

Although Phi Sigma Sigma house director Nancy Eubanks is ultimately responsible for planning meals, she likes to get input from the sorority members.

her own role, Eubanks said, "Basically, the purpose of a house director is to maintain continuity in the house."

When asked about her relationship with the sorority members, Eubanks said, "They see me as a friend, not a rule-maker."

In this "era of independence," she said, "it is important that they make their own rules and that they feel comfortable with those rules."

Maggie Kracke is in her first year as live-in housemother for Alpha Omicron Pi. Kracke also sees herself as a modern housemom. For starters, she insists that all of the women in the sorority call her Maggie instead of Mrs. Kracke. Respect doesn't come from titles, she said, "it must be earned."

In addition to serving as tional live-in housemother, Eubanks returns to her own home at night. Phi Sigma Sigma is also unique in that it has a live-in house director as changing from that of 20 years ago when "no one touched anything without the housemom's permission." As for stead of Mrs. Kracke. Respect doesn't come from titles, she said, "it must be earned."

Kappa Delta Rho Seniors

Marcelo Rodriguez, Vincent Fogt, Rey Tanig, Douglas Snook, Patrick Murphy, Christopher Buti, Andy Hibel, Michael Green, Michael Lightstone, Christopher Chranko, Bill Schumacher, Jim Duran, Wilson Huang

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Front Row: Susannah Taylor, Lara Quandt, Vicky Sloane, Micki Johnson, Christina Brunt; Second Row: Elsa Gonzalez, Jodi Seitsema, Mary Jo Norkus, Melanie Greeley, Susan Elvers, Nuala Glynn; Third Row: Leanne Matczak, Lisa Dieker, DeAnn Lambert, Melissa Unglaub, Tracy Cramer, April Sanders, Michelle Donovan, Annette LeZotte; Back Row: Lisa Meadows, Lisa Hummel, Cheryl Sudduth, Sunita Mather, Ann Zajec, Marti Hacker, Dawn Dresch, Lisa Martin, Kristin Land, Jill Naujoks

housemom, Kracke is also pursuing her Ph.D. in Vocational Technical Education.

"My place is to be a role model for the girls because I'm in school," she said. She provides the sorority members with career counseling and listens to personal problems.

"Part of my responsibility is sensitivity to the girls without imposing on their privacy," Kracke said.

Delta Chi is the only fraternity with a live-in housemother. This year was Madine Mason's first year serving the chapter. Over the past five years, she had been a housemom at different sororities. "Sometimes I think I like it better than a sorority – both have their pros and cons," Mason said.

"(She) understands the difference between a house full of girls and a house full of rowdy boys. She handles it really well," said Ken Dobson, member of Delta Chi. "Mrs. Mason is a great friend to the house; we look up to her as a sort of mom away from home."

Housemothers are a vital part of the Greek system and well-appreciated by its members. "We give our housemother a lot of respect, just as you would give your own mother," said Dobson.

*story by Angie Morgan
layout by Debbie Siegel*

Madine Mason fills some unusual shoes at Delta Chi fraternity as the only female tenant and live-in housemom.

photo by Kristy Pharris

Phi Delta Theta

Front Row: Jim deBeers, Chad Conklin, Kevin Buchar, Sam Woodson, Bob Fasano, Kyle Anderson; Second Row: Greg Loppnow, Mark Duin, Jason Mathein, Sean Brady, Brian Woodland, Claude Jacob, Jonathan Parker, Bob McGuffin, Rob Hardin; Third Row: Tom Mason, Matt Bonaguidi, Todd Minshall, Jon Rosenstengel, Bob Bloink; Fourth Row: Jim Courtad, Vito Schiro, Brad Lucas, Randy Mellott, Harry Chung, Brett Olmstead; Fifth Row: Scott Gass, Rich Lockwood, Dave Taylor, Jason Porch, Paul Durbin; Sixth Row: Craig Link, John Orr, Scott Anderson, Tim Dwyer, Rob McLure, Doug Vaughn; Back Row: Mike Kaiser, John Kruger, Mike Kang, Phil Nye, Pete Dwyer, Mike Populorum, Jim McGee

Psi Upsilon Seniors

Front Row: John McClean, Scott Beall, Dean Marinakis, Eric Madland, Jeff Wargin, Dave DiPrima, Bruce Perona, Boyd Bach, Tom Mattes; Back Row: Kevin Clancy, Charles Eillers

Sites highlight campus history

As you walk about the campus you'll probably see some interesting sights. Everything has a history behind it that not many people are familiar with. There are many sights to see and even more interesting and little known facts to learn.

Illinois Industrial University, U of I's original name, was chartered in 1867 and opened on March 2, 1868. The present name was not officially changed until 1885.

At first there were no school colors. In 1879, cardinal and silver became the official colors and it was not until 15 years later that the traditional orange and blue were adopted.

Originally, the campus consisted of one building, University Hall, on the spot where the Illini Union sits. "Uni Hall", as it was called, contained a dormitory, museum, classrooms, labs and a library. In the early years, students had to attend compulsory chapel services.

Some of the early buildings on campus have changed in some ways but are still around. The University Library, built in 1897 and originally called the Law Building, is now Altgeld Hall. The Women's Building, built in 1894, is now the English Building.

photo by Scott Jacobson

The Alma Mater stands in front of Altgeld Hall, which was originally the Law Building and University Library.

The first president of the university, John Milton Gregory, gives his name to Gregory Drive and Gregory Hall. Above the entrances to Gregory Hall there are quotations from Gregory, among them the motto of the university: "Learning and Labor." Gregory, as you may know, is buried on campus. His grave is located between Altgeld Hall and the Administration Building near an oak tree donated by the class of 1897.

In the 1900's baseball was the main sport at the university. Games were held at Illinois Field, located north of Springfield Avenue. The band played at these intercollegiate games.

At that time football wasn't very popular and basketball was considered a game for girls. But some coed basketball was played in "The Women's Gymnasium" on the third floor of the Natural History Building.

Alpha Lambda Delta

Front Row: Becke Berger, Dawn Smith, Julie Diamond, Susanna Chanp; Back Row: Jane Schott, Kal Kilgast, Michael Trzupek, Steve Isaacs, Gail Workman

Delta Sigma Pi

Front Row: Mary Jane Ho, Shelli Heinold, Doug Lee, Hugo Chavez, George Mannion, Barbara Nuxoll, Brent Yenan; Second Row: Julie Cooper, Michelle Sova, Nici Johnson, Jenny Lee, Susan Eappen, Kristen Konkolewski, Susanna Chan, Joda Pepple, Jennifer Jrczak, Beth Cornelius, Debbie Kaczmaryn, Andrea Ciszewski, Scott Settelmyer, Darren Howard, Mike Pesch, Chris Mannion, Julie Hozhall, Tom Trahan; Third Row: Mike Chandler, Greg Kurth, Sharee Howard, Natalie Goel, Mark Drendel, Carolyn Elliot, Laura Bussan, Mia Fromknecht, Julie Schemerhorn, Sandy Perry, Shannon Lind, John Sparger, Kristi Hood, Nancy Nowak, Mike Sheehan, Greg Stiff, Eileen Lanzorotta, Mark Lohman, Mark Fitch, Kenny Perry, Percy Moss, Patti Norris, Jenny Smith; Fourth Row: Marcy Engebretson, Denis Manning, Sandeep Tazali, Suzanne Mayer, Matt Ward, Laura Sarsha, Mike Ferraro, Jim Whetstone, Amanda Massucci, Mike Mahr, Debbie Trippel, David Porter, Debbie Nuxoll, Kevin McCarthy; Back Row: Steve McGee, Eric Meister, Matt Richmond, John Favors, Bill Hard, John Wyzkiewicz, Football games were played on Illinois Field until Memorial Stadium was built in 1924. The stadium was built in honor of the 183 students who died in World War I. On the east and west sides of the stadium are colonnades bearing a dedication to the students who gave their lives. The university was the home of the first Homecoming in history, held on October 18, 1910.

Behind Foellinger there are two statues of crouching men. If you look closely, you can see that they are "Sons of Ducalion." In front of the Main Library are two other statues, "Daughters of Pyrrha." These are works of sculptor Lorado Taft, an 1879 graduate, who also created the Alma Mater.

As you walk around campus, you might note some other historical sights. Look for the Worthy Grove when you walk by the Alma Mater. It's a small group of pine trees donated by the Mother's Association in 1978. Also interesting to see are the class gifts of early classes such as the stone chair near Lincoln Hall from the class of 1912.

So next time you're hurrying to class, give the sites you see everyday a second look, who knows where history and tradition may lurk.

*story by Karen Damascus
layout by Joan Wilson*

photo by Scott Jacobson

photo by Scott Jacobson

Heidi Prussin, university library employee, takes a lunch break outside the Main Library near the statues of the Daughters of Pyrrha.

The first president of the university, John Milton Gregory, is buried on the Quad in between Altgeld Hall and the Administration Building. This rock commemorates his grave.

Phi Gamma Nu

Front Row: Susan Vigor (historian), Leanne Vicha (pledge trainer), Donna Sreniawski (secretary), Denise Maple (president), Laura Michalowski (vice-president), Mike Hollander (treasurer), Mr. Pat Cleary (advisor); Second Row: Maria Tiongo, Jennifer Uson, Monica Logani, Mary Cooney, Linda Wong, Danielle Tisci, Lina Tsui, Julie Faber, Kerry Rymarsuk, Kruti Vashi, Brenda Lakin, Stephanie Ratcliff; Third Row: Laura Novi, Julie Siedlecki, Todd Faulstich, Denise Koprowski, Jane Hartman, Deanna Glazik, Mary McDonough, Margo Thomas, Andrea Nehrt, Jamie Lingane, Paula Berkowitz, Sharon McDearmon, Veronika Bruch, Tony Ebbale, Kristin Scala, Karen Kern, Anna Lisa Gaugel, Anita Lopez, Kim Rybczyk, Ann Tardy, Eileen Bunch, Trupti Gokani; Fourth Row: DiAnne Jones, Jacquie Terrill, Michelle Wesselmann, Barb LaMonica, Tina Lester, Aileen Abella, Mark Krajewski, Kim Reed, Elis Kletecka, Ann Peabody, Jeff Dockins, Brad Grcevic, Mark Winings, Sue Buhrfeind, Tim Winkler; Fifth Row: John Terrando, Steve Sherwood, Bret Lorenc, Keith Stenlund, Karl ostendorf, Jim Henry, Julie Pfau, Mandy Hull, Rachell Hewitt, Michael Lord, Mike Byrd, Dave Williams; Back Row: Alex Cue, Sean McMahon, Geordan Capes, Dave Wolfe, Juni Futrell, Adam Greco, Adam Ruchman, Dave Betz, Scott Winkler, Glenn Ranchero, Jennifer Jackson

Pi Sigma Alpha

Front Row: Lisa Colter; Second Row: Mike Kang; Third Row: Stephen A. Douglas; Fourth Row: Lynn Charters; Fifth Row: Simon Chong; Back Row: Bruce A. Radke

VIP: Students Make a Difference

Ever feel like really making a difference? Volunteer Illini Projects (VIP) helped close to 1,000 students this year do just that.

"We've improved the relationship between students and the community," says Ty Nam, VIP president and senior in CBA. "They have a more positive attitude toward students now."

The purpose of the group is to exchange charitable and educational ideals, make volunteers conscious of their obligations to the community and strengthen cooperation between groups in the university, community and state.

"We are getting out of the 'me' generation," Nam says. "Students are very aware of the needs of the community in comparison to the past."

Although in the past VIP has had to call agencies and offer student services, Nam says more calls were received from agencies looking for volunteers this year. VIP has become a recognized and teen student organization in the state. Founded in 1963, Nam says VIP went through a slow period in the early 80's but is making a comeback.

The over 800 participants this year supervised blood drives, provided support for area day care, gave warmth to the emotionally disturbed, or corresponded with inmates at correctional facilities. Other activities included assisting with recreation in Champaign-Urbana parks, befriending senior citizens and promoting VIP's newest program, Whistlestop.

*story by Claudine Cole
layout by Julie Triggs
photos courtesy of VIP*

VIP workers help the Red Cross with blood drives.

trusted name in the community.

Nam says VIP is different from other student organizations because members "make an impact. I think they enjoy that." Members participate because it is satisfying to help someone, Nam says.

VIP ranks as the largest volun-

Cosmopolitan Club

Front Row: Carnie Aboussouan, Maria Somma, Stacy Birch, Susan Taylor, Kendall Dugger; Second Row: Yoko Mori, Jenny Wang, Hong Zhang, Youssgf Saab, Supatra Chaven; Third Row: Dailin Luo, Zaini Naim, Archana Asthana, Beverly Thomas, Laura Buhs, Jo Fernandez, Mary Hussey, Ctwsak Chaven, Ari Ariyaratne; Fourth Row: Kelloo Lee, Lee Huang, Vida Revilla, Dajin Sun, Gregg Franklin, Paul Lee, Marvin Weinbaum, Wen-Teh Chen; Back Row: Yanxiang Gu, Mark Roth, Inge Herfort, Ken Henning, Chris Keener; Missing From Photo: Bill Erickson, Jean Liddle, Anne Parker, Lilia Peters

Kiononia

Front Row: David Douglass, Kevin McGinnis, Ron Alvey, Kurt Filla, Chris Hanson, Brian Alvey; Second Row: Mark Nelson, Dave Mecklenburg, Tracy Hendricks, Jeff Elbel, Dave Rounds, Brian Bennett, Eric Abbott, Gregg Snyder; Third Row: Troy McCarthy, Chris Brandenburg, Brian Reck, Tim Lindquist; Back Row: Dave Gupta, Paul Barthel, Greg Pelzer, Brant Hansen, David Soderstrom, Jeff Tucker, Jeff Techico, Jeff Kyle

Dan Weissman, participant in VIP's Bis Brother/Sister program, practices a duet with his eleven-year-old friend Larry Hutchinson of Champaign.

Volunteer Sherie Winang helps with snack time at Jack and Jill Day Care Center.

Nabor House

Front Row: Eric Berglind, Jesse Thornton, Don Gibson, Craig Vroman, Jeff Ray, Paul Taylor; Second Row: Charles Benson, Duane Otto, Derek England, Kevin Engel, Scott Block, Keith Soltwedel; Third Row: Todd Shupe, Troy Fischer, Michael Sleight, Steve Sheets, Kurt Wolff, Tim Lenz; Fourth Row: Bob Stewart, Todd Mayberry, Kris Swenson, Mike Winterland, Kerry Wolff; Fifth Row: Brian Bernhard, Pete Hembrough, Jeff Smith, Dave Faulke, Mike Hopkins; Back Row: Doug Van Hoveln, Tim Hufnagel, Jerry Cannon

Stratford House

Front Row: Joy Winship, Teri Pflederer, Eunice Tak, Vilma Chan, Kim Morey, Ann Hubner; Second Row: Jennifer Vaughn, Susan Eleam, Michele Marana, Cindi Bonacorsi, Jill Hayward; Third Row: Liz Lebman, Lois Meisenbeimer, Marsha Brown, Carolyn Herron, Beth Davis; Fourth Row: Lorri Hall, Holly Henderson, Kelly Hardin, Laura Williamson, Suzanne Curry, Christy Barrick; Back Row: Chris Rogers, Jamie Meyer, Chandra Gupta, Ann Marie Karlsen, Deanna Nelson

Greeks donate money and time to charities

Philanthropy is defined as an affection for mankind, especially shown through the donation of money, property of work to needy persons or purposes beneficial to society.

And philanthropy is a major part of the nation's largest Greek system. From blood drives to softball tournaments, every house on campus participates in philanthropic work of some type.

Alpha Delta Pi puts out a yearly "Datebook" calendar, featuring university men. All profits go to the Springfield Ronald McDonald House, which offers families of hospitalized children housing during the child's hospital stay.

Kappa Delta collects donations during the week preceding St. Patrick's Day. Proceeds of the "Shamrock Project" go to Children's Memorial Hospital in Richmond, Va., and to the National Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse.

Gamma Phi Beta holds an annual fall golf tournament, the proceeds of which support a camp in Canada for underprivileged children. Gamma Phi also held an "Aerobathon" in which participants collected pledges for minderbies across campus. The money raised is contributed to the Cleo Wallace Fund for Underprivileged Children.

Phi Kappa Psi holds an annual spring bicycle race, the "Phi Psi thrropy chairman, said his house is "always willing to help out when other things come up, like Food for Families."

Greeks join to make their philanthropies successful. In the spring every house participates in the Order of Omega Clean-up; collecting litter in the parks and streets of Champaign and Urbana.

Tamara Youngman, of Matthew House, a center for underprivileged children from north Champaign, said that students make a very big difference, providing 90 percent of the volunteers for the center. Greeks sponsor parties and get-togethers for the children and help them with homework.

Youngman said the children are helped by being around people who are "doing something with life," but added that it is not just the children who benefit. "Students learn a lot. It helps them to grow as people, away from the unreal academic world."

story by Lisa Bower

photo by Annie Pergande

Delta Delta Delta bought a car body from a junkyard, painted it and gave it Sigma Chi as a gift during "Derby Days" to show enthusiasm and spirit.

utes of exercise. The money raised went into a scholarship fund for future college students.

"Derby Days" is held every September by every Sigma Chi chapter in the nation. There's more to it than bat spins, tug-of-war and girls chasing guys in 500" to benefit the United Way.

Every year around the holidays, Lambda Chi Alpha collects toys for the Champaign Boys Club. Lambda Chi also participates in blood drives and co-sponsors a broomball tournament with Alpha Phi. Todd Lehman, philan-

Atius

Front Row: Jenny Lee; Julie McCardle, Dad's Night Out Chairperson; Jane Randall, Vice-President; Ann Dorn; Second Row: Chad Hertz, Homecoming Chairperson; Whitney Kaiser; Julie Diamond, Treasurer; Christy Balich; Third Row: Lori Bowen, President; Dana Wertheim; Jay Kahn. Back Row: David Crockett; Dale Stohr; Michael Tzrupek, Secretary; Craig Grey

Sachem

Front Row: Edwin Lampitt, Andy Honeggen, Kevin Carroll, David Pine, Greg Carney Second Row: Lori Aden, Kim Tice, Renita Jones, Roger Schnitzler, Jeff Brown Back Row: Ed Hulina, Kurt Gruben, Walter Ruane, Nicole Vartanian, Darren Bodine

photo by Annie Pergande

Kappa Alpha Theta beat Kappa Delta in the semi-final round to advance to the championship game and finally win the "Derby Days" volleyball tournament.

"Derby Days" lasts a week, in which each sorority earns points for winning an event and showing the most spirit. The house with the most points wins first place in the competition.

photo by Annie Pergande

Mortar Board

Front Row: Dana Ward, Judy Gawlik, Melissa Credi, Catherine Walker, Robin Baumgarten, Lucie Meyer; Second Row: Mary Sloth, John Diehl, David Williams, Christopher Michel, Loreli Hunt, JoAnna Abrams; Back Row: John Ehlert, David Rubin, C. Scott Johnson, Christopher Buti, Christopher Runge

Wa Na See

Front Row: Jennifer Hauser, Lisa Schmidt, Kevin Carroll, Arif Karim, Patrick Murphy; Back Row: Stephanie Surles Julie DeRosa, Penny Petrow, Janet Vrasic, Fernando Vinzons

Delivery people: the unsung heroes

It's midnight. Your midterm is in nine hours and you're madly cramming to learn the last ten chapters of your textbook. "Come on, you can do it," you think to yourself as you psych yourself up to pull another all-nighter. You arm yourself with the necessary equipment: pens, paper, books, a six-pack of Jolt, the most caffeinated pop you can buy and then lunge for the phone as you dial that number which is probably more familiar than your own by now.

Thirty minutes to an hour later you're munching on that midnight snack with little thought of the person who brought it to you. But what about those delivery people who get so little recognition, much less tips?

From pizza and mozzarella cheese sticks to submarine sandwiches and kitchen fries, almost every fast food joint in Champaign-Urbana has delivery service. For those who need to work during the school year or just want a little extra pocket money, delivering food is a good way to make more than minimum wage and get are pretty young so it's like hanging out with a bunch of friends," says Paul Kluge, junior in Engineering, who delivers for Jimmy John's.

But what about the less re-ends.

"Well, I don't like working on Saturdays at two in the morning. And I only get tips from about two out of every 20 people," says Kluge. "FAR and ISR are the worst. But, sometimes I'd get invited to parties at the houses that I was delivering to."

Rebecca Riddle, sophomore in LAS, has her own piece of advice for delivery people.

"They should deliver the food to the rooms. That way they get more exposure and more people will be tempted to order something," she says.

Whether or not food comes to the door, delivery service will remain a part of the campus as long as all-nighters and fast food remain mainstays of college life.

by Anna Choi
layout by Kimberly Kossof

photo by Jeff Miller

Grog's driver, Mark Marciante, senior in FAA, delivers a late night pizza to John Vosicky of Snyder Hall.

some of the benefits of the job.

"I applied there because they pay better than minimum wage, and it's fun. Most of the people who work there and run the place warding side to delivering food?

After all, these people have to deliver in all kinds of weather and the demands are often heaviest during late nights on the week-

Women in Communications, Inc.

Front Row: Erin M. Schertler (Secretary), Tricia Cadwallader (Fundraiser Chairperson), Maria McKinney (Public Relations Chairperson), Dian Olendzki (VP of Membership), Jackie Noel (President), Marianne Linde (VP of Programming), Julie Nelson (Treasurer), Tracie Yonan, Kristin Schnarr; Second Row: Nancy Leonard (Advisor), Vicki Paul, Bonnie Teitle, Gail Strassner, Kelly McCray, Sandra Lannert, Megan Nimmo, Gina Burkett, Jennifer Janovetz, Lynnette Johnson, Cindy Chang, Christine Cadiz; Back Row: Audra Manno, Bonnie Slater, Jeneane Ally, Sharon Plac, Lisa Witry, Michele Quirk

TORCH

Front Row: Sarah Gordon, Marta Steele, Melissa Breger, Natalie Kosson; Back Row: Rebecca Priest, Marc Babsin, Beth Davidson, David Pine, Kurt Grueben

Howard MacCardy, senior in LAS, delivers pizzas for Pizza Hut to earn cash. Pizza is the most commonly ordered late night snack.

Submarine sandwiches are an alternative to pizza. David Shupe, senior in Engineering, pays Blimpie's driver Robin Hercey for the food that he has ordered.

photo by Jeff Miller

photo by Jeff Miller

Women's Golf Team

Front Row: Paula Smith (Coach), Sue Winkelman (Captain), Shellie Wood, Liz Kelleher; Back Row: Dianna Kuhl, Kristen Klein, Julie Grumish, Jennifer Payne, Lia Biehl

Krannert Center Student Association Administrative Board

Front Row: Kathy Hodel, Nicolas Arreola, Jamie Anderson, Maeline Arreglo, Kurt Towler; Second Row: Sheila Noojibail, Dave Prince, Michael Peter, Jennifer Cosco, Laura Krebaum, Matt Brown, Carolina Reyes, Jennifer Anderson; Back Row: Ginger Yu, Stacy Waldrop

Dropping metal: a Greek tradition

“So he dropped metal, Sally?”

You overheard this bizarre exchange of words in the ladies’ restroom. Immediately bizarre explanations ran through your mind. Dropping metal? ... a colon disorder, criminal offense or maybe an injured toe.

No, put your mind at rest. Dropping metal is actually a term used in the Greek system to describe the act of a fraternity man’s presentation of a lavalier (his house letters in a gold charm) to his girlfriend.

Lavaliering is a longstanding tradition and one that is practiced frequently on this campus. Despite its frequency however, there is confusion (or embarrassment) as to what exactly this piece of jewelry signifies.

Is it going steady (the equivalent to wearing each other’s high school rings)? Or is it serious friendship (“special friend” as my mother calls it)? Or, god forbid, pre-engagement?

“What does lavaliering mean anyway? ... I don’t know,” laughed Wendy Salem, junior in CBA, not quite willing to take a stab.

Steve Belford, senior in CBA, ventured a more serious attempt at the definition after I assured him I could not ask multiple choice questions.

“It signifies a strong relationship,” he said.

Hmmm ... sounds reasonable.

Amy Morrison, sophomore in ED, thinks lavaliering is somewhat of a fad.

“People expect you to be lavaliered after a certain time (in the relationship) if you’re serious (about each other),” she said. “It ends up being trivialized.”

The process consists of more than just a piece of jewelry, though. To add to the festivities (and often embarrassment) a ceremony must also be held in the woman’s sorority house.

Her fate has been kept a secret until this point when her sorority sisters form a circle. A lighted candle is passed from hand to hand. The surprise is revealed when the candle is passed to her and she blows it out.

As Kristin Zahaitis, sophomore in LAS, explained, the experience is truly “enlightening ... you know, like a candle.”

For the guy, Belford said, there is ridicule, but nothing too serious. Gone are the days when newly lavaliered men were stripped and tied to the front of their girlfriend’s house in leopard skin underwear. And he admits he doesn’t mind that new version of the old tradition.

photo by Dan Creinin

Steve Lohman and Beth Herschbach, seniors in engineering, agree that being friends is an important part of the relationship.

layout by Julie Fanella

Alpha Rho Chi

Front Row: Chad Bermingham, Sarah Joyce, Leigh McMillen, Pam Mikulski, Jill Kustom, Kathy Gregory, Debbie O’Fallon, Steve Swanson, Frank Malinnoski; Second Row: Robert Peterson, Robert Kerns, Shelly Reid, Karen Grieves, Caroline Higgins, Laureen Laskowski, David Person, Joe Morrow, Tim Weber, Dan Bendixon; Third Row: Chuck Wittleder, Greg Marker, Steve Wettergren, John Rushing, Kendall Kirkpatrick, Chris Lasky, David Lyons, Greg Pelley, David Carbol, Brad Klein.

Delta Phi Epsilon Seniors

Front Row: Julie Haw, Susan Hammersley, Robin Levin, Cheryl Walcer, Laura Glassman; Second Row: Jenny Poddig, Diana Field, Randi Greenberg, Rebecca Lezak, Terri Miller, Angela Carlomango, Nancy Ellis; Third Row: Michele Dineen, Sheila Cunningham, Kelly Berliner, Marcia Scheller, Sheri Cooperman; Back Row: Erin Moran, Karla Morales, Susan Buritz

photo by Dan Creinin

Amy Thompson, manager at Moria Jewlery, displays the lavaliers many fraternity members give to their girlfriends as a symbol of their love.

Miriam Reitman and Adam Ruckman, sophomores in LAS, are a lavaliered couple.

photo by Dan Creinin

Phi Beta Chi

Front Row: Kasey Schaffer, Cheryl Secora, Julie Hege, Kara Mathers, Kris Kroeker, Michele Elsen, Margaret Lind; Second Row: Chris Taylor, Lori Sepp, Julie Brown, Alicia Anzaldo, Karen Koch, Tina Brueschke; Third Row: Jennifer Kranz, Helen Dollas, Carrie O'Hare, Lora Burt, Lorine Dickson, Sue Hartigan, Lorie Eiskamp, Chris Campbell, Karen Chamberlain, Cindy Gentile; Back Row: Cathy Snyder, Cyndy Brock, Kristen Grassman, Leigh Ann Rains, Tracy Alsberg, Nancy Morris, Janet Cross, Erica Buerkle, Christa Behrendt, Julie Spengler

Theta Xi Seniors

Front Row: Pete Magnabosco, Paul Mason, Reggie Sulit, Bob Horak, Eric Adams, Mike Berns, Rob Brown, Ed Mondek, Matt Gravelle; Back Row: Dan Masterson, Tim Singh, Andy Fick, Jim Novak, Pat Donoghue, Chris Johnston, Eric Amann

Bartending involves work and play

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to be on the other side of the bar? It sounds like a really great job doesn't it? How difficult could it be to check I.D.'s or make drinks. As the bartenders and bouncers can attest, it's not all play—there is a lot of hard work involved.

"How did these people get these great jobs?" you might ask. Well, it's really very simple. They applied. Often they have friends already working in a bar but not always.

"I just talked to the manager," says Kam's bartender Rob Baxter, junior in LAS. Some, such as Kam's head bartender Bob Moore, senior in LAS, have had previous bartending experience from their hometowns.

Just like any job, running a bar involves work. As a manager at Cochran's, Scott Reznicek, junior in Agriculture, takes care of the money, keeps the bar stocked, watches over the employees and makes sure the place runs smoothly.

Dealing with the large crowds being served fast enough. "Sometimes I have a different color shirt by the end of the night from having drinks spilled on fallen down stairs carrying ice," says Reznicek. A common error is mixing the wrong drink or confusing an order.

The most difficult part of a bouncer's job is throwing a customer out. "At one of the places I worked at, I had to throw out a couple of hookers. They offered me anything to stay," says former Cochran's bouncer Tom Dilts, Parkland student.

Bartending also requires patience. "People are very obnoxious. As a bartender you have to have patience," says Reznicek. "People think it's the end of the world when their drink isn't strong enough."

Customers often change their minds, hit on the bartenders, want their drinks right away and act rudely. "You have to be adaptable to deal with different situations," says Kam's bartender Lorna Luedtke, senior in LAS. "But you don't have to

photo by Scott Jacobson

Cochran's, located on Wright Street, has a separate floor for dancing.

on busy nights can be frustrating, Reznicek says. People complain and can become rude and obnoxious when they feel they aren't me," Baxter says.

When it's busy, bartenders have their own problems. "I've spilled entire bottles of liquor and

Engineering Council

Front Row: Steve Vavrik, Kelsey Milman, Elaine Fiolka, Melissa Moore, Roshni Mehta, John Marchelya; Back Row: Stanley G. Macasieb, Tom Moran, Kevin Klein, Bill Bittimer, Jason Struthers, Jahn Stanke, Matt Murphy

Engineering Freshman Committee

Front Row: Michael W. Loudon, Cesar H. Chacon, David Ahmari, Christine Herrera, Joseph M. Lukas, Matt Murphy; Back Row: David Oitker, David Sohl, Jeff Nelson, Andy Lampitt, Ernest F.B. Pena, Philip Byun have patience with people who are overly rude."

Of course, when people get a little alcohol in them, they do and say all kinds of crazy things. Bar employees say they've probably heard and seen it all. People stealing glasses, guys and girls hitting on each other, girls beating up their boyfriends, people throwing drinks on each other and people throwing up.

"One time there was a guy lying on the floor with his pants down," says Reznicek.

All bar employees agree on one thing: they have a fun job. "It's definitely fun. You're around people your own age — it's a party atmosphere," says Dilts.

"Most of the people I work with are my friends," says Luedtke. That makes the time behind the bar a lot of fun. "We've had ice fights behind the bar. We threw buckets of water down each others' shirts," says Luedtke.

As with any job, bar employees aren't always playing. "You have to come to work ready to have a good time and deal with the things you have to deal with," says Luedtke.

"It's harder work than most people think," adds Dilts. But it must be worth the small hassles because bar employees love their jobs. And the tips are nice, too.

*by Karen Damascus
layout by Joe Durica*

Rob Siebert, bouncer at R&R's, checks Tammy Grove's ID.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Michelle Dinneen, senior in LAS, bartends at R&R's.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Engineering in Medicine and Biology Society

Front Row: Ellen Cheng (president); Second Row: Melanie Koroulis (engineering council rep.), Diane Base (reference coordinator), Michelle Miller (membership chairperson), Jorie Wendt (vice-president—EOH); Back Row: Tom Koesterer (engineering council rep.), Dan Bruzzini (treasurer), Dave Gottardo (vice-president—Publicity), Ben Gerber (secretary)

Engineering Open House

Front Row: Lorelei Hunt, Akila Srinivasan, Jennifer Stofer, Jennifer Hansen; Back Row: Tom Moran, Stephen Lin, Bradley J. Elias, Scott Smith, Mike Lipkie

Cows provide a whole new viewpoint

One thing you might want to see while you are a student at the university is the fistulated cattle. Fistulated cattle have portholes in their sides allowing observation of one of their four stomachs. The porthole has a plug which is removed when viewing the stomach, and is then reinserted when finished.

The operation which creates the porthole is performed by the university's College of Veterinary Medicine. It involves cutting through the skin and the stomach and then sewing the skin and stomach together. The cattle have usually recovered from the operation and are eating within a few days.

Larry Berger, professor of ruminant nutrition, explains that there are no nerves in the rumen (the first and largest of the cow's stomachs); thus, the cow feels no

photo by Scott Jacobson

Professor Berger pulls out digested grass from the cows stomach. The scientists are able to place certain foods into the digestive system without having the cow chew it.

pain after the operation. In addition, the cow does not get infected because bacteria present within the rumen are not able to survive in the presence of oxygen.

These cows allow the close study of farm animal nutrition. Currently, Berger and the Animal Science department are examining how the cattle digest wheat straw and corn stalks. The department hopes to use the by-products of grain production for feed. This would allow the grain itself to be used for human consumption.

If you are interested in viewing the dark recesses of a cow's stomach, you can schedule a time with Berger. However, if you are more ambitious, you may want to take Animal Science 221 (Principles of Nutrition). Berger invites anyone to take the course. Past classes have consisted of Food and Nutrition, Animal Science and LAS majors. During the semester, students of An Sci 221 have the opportunity, if they wish, to reach through the porthole and feel the inside of the stomach. This is to help the student further visualize anatomical and metabolic processes. Professor Berger explains that the students wear long gloves and that there is no risk to the students or the cow.

Should you decide to view these unusual cattle, do not expect to see organs or blood. You will view what appears to be fresh grass clippings. These clippings form a fibrous layer that floats on top of the digestive fluids.

Now that you know that this is not just looking at blood and guts, you may want to see these interesting cattle. If you don't, you might miss something.

story by Stewart Schrof
layout by Mike Krupicka

Flying Team

Front Row: Alex Abellaneda, Steve McNeilly, Dan Becker, Craig Jacobson, Juliette Zielinski, Gloria Barc, Kirsten Jensen, Kevin Buchar, Mark Phillips, John Costion, Kent Boston, Brad McKee; Back Row: Dr. Henry Taylor, David Rowe, Bob Grevin, Jeff Holtz, Randy Skiba, Frank Quinn, Pete Carey, Brad Payne, Paul Weston, Sean O'Callaghan, Trooper Saladino, Steve Eibner, John Fulgenzi, Jeff Warner, Eric Popper, George Sandifer, Prof. Omer Benn

Residence Hall Association

Front Row: Scott Miller, Laura Hartfield, Kurt Trenkle, Karl Kosche, Lisa Glatz, Marilyn Michal Second Row: Tarin Schmidt, Ann-Marie Steimal, Tricia Turner, Renae White, Kelly Pforr, Jennie Shedroff, Dawn Mergenthaler, Danny Wulsch, Sabrina Miller, Alexis Duncan, Johnathon Kirkwood Back Row: Joe Follenweider, Pat Frost, Brad Stanfield, Scott Farley, Rachel Hewitt, Jim Hinterlong, Nancy Bierman, John Dahlquist, Maria Athenasiou, Ed Ramos, Angel Delabar, Kathy Riccardo, Michelle Fay, Byron Mitchell, Kim Wright, Jeannette Bailey, Bob Georgantas, Jenny Greco, Tom Cullen, Farhan Younus, John Hayes, Laida Davis, John Downing, Dave Hutchinson

Larry Berger, professor of Animal Science, reaches inside the cow's stomach. Berger said it feels like the grass on the underside of your lawnmower.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Fistulated cows lead normal healthy lives. The portholes are monitored carefully and changed every few years.

Pre-vet and other students reach inside the cow to learn about the cow's digestive system. Tim Alikakos, senior in LAS, wears a long plastic glove protecting his clothes while he feels around inside the cow.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Illini Emergency Medical Services

Front Row: Keith Zeitz, Anna Richter, Sue Sigler, Rick Ruck, Mike Goldrosen; Second Row: Connie Freeman, Sean Scrol, Scott French, Ron Reeves, Garry Clanton; Third Row: George McQuary, Nirali Ghia, Laurel Barber, Julie Reyer, Pat Jan, Mary Newman, Ken Skodacek, Lori Hahn; Fourth Row: John Wappel, John Mansini, Laura Bednarz, Steve Kramer, Adam Eaton, Janel Hoooven, Steve Stupp, Renee Papineau; Fifth Row: Mike Warmoth, Stephani Placek, Jodi Enos, Anna Kao, Monika Shah, Anita Shutak, Cynthia Levey, Andrew Bland, Janet Urasic, Eileen Hergenrother; Sixth Row: Nancy Krasnow, Linda Chan, Karen Rapp, Magdi Kiss, Roger Finnell, Oren Levin, Scott Avery; Back Row: Rob Lancaster, Faron Fox, Ravi Damaraju, Paul Kniery, Chris Haid, Bruce Leung, Scott Turk, Keith Mattison, Kevin Mattison, Mike Hammerman.

Korean EE Association

Front Row: Jin Soo James Bac, Andy Hong, Jamie Choi, Mary J. Woo, Steve Huh, Hyung Lim; Back Row: Daniel H. Park, Gwon Choi, Seung Bok Cha, Sang Ho Lee

Campus Parking Relief

Can you picture Wright and Green streets completely free of cars? Just imagine — only trees and lawns bordering the sidewalks along the Engineering campus.

Picture the area around the Quad free of parked cars and heavy traffic, as MTD buses cruise down the streets carrying students and faculty to their destinations.

You have just been given a look into a crystal ball. This is the future of parking on the University of Illinois campus.

Today the streets don't look quite as serene. As most people who drive cars on campus will tell you, there is a definite parking shortage. There are 21,546 automo-

What does this mean for students? For most it means feeding a meter, walking the two or three blocks to campus, or for the more determined student, driving ment some permanent solutions. According to Charles Haplin, director of the Division of Campus Parking, "This year we're into several new projects that we are semester and can ride any of the MTD buses by showing their student ID. Additional campus routes have also been added.

Since its installation in August 1989, ridership has more than doubled. Before the new program, about 1,100 students rode buses per day. Now more than 2,500 students ride the buses every day. The number of registered vehicles on campus has also decreased as a result of the new system.

"We have had a great deal of success with it. It's amazing. It's gone beyond our wildest expectations," Haplin said.

For those who must drive their car to campus,

photo by Scott Jacobson
Helping students like Pat Chambliss, senior in CBA, when they have car trouble is one of the many services provided by Rita Wilson and other Champaign Parking Employees.

biles registered on campus and only limited permanent parking, according to the Division of Campus Parking.

around the block five or six times trying to find something close.

To remedy this problem Campus Parking has tried to imple-very pleased with."

The most promising of these projects is the new MTD program. Students pay a $10 fee each the Division of Campus Parking has opened new car spaces for rent. These structures feature a shuttle every five minutes to take

L.A.S. Council

Front Row: Amy Parisc, Janet Vrasic (VP External), Mary Vest (President), Betty Prewitt (VP Internal), Rodney Reyes; Second Row: Stephanie Duda, Mary Beth Kane, Valerie DiGiovanni, John Alexis, Steve Keeley; Third Row: Liz Melady, Jennie Mulhern, Michelle Kraft, Greg Nicpon, Al Propst; Fourth Row: Alex Breimeris, Joe Dohaney, Nancy Young, Christine Sheehan, Jeanne Fangman; Back Row: Liz Mostonfi, Seon Young Ryu, Wendy Lepper, Joanne Cederoth, Dean Sylvia Riley (Advisor)

HRFS Student Council

Front Row: Liane Smith, Debbie Howes, Laura Wallin, Kate Gorman, Leah Petrizzo; Back Row: June Hashbarger, Stephanie Pytynia, Chris Cachey, Ginger Livingston, Dominick Bertucci, Kelly Powell, Karen Daily, Audry Buben, Rachel Denzin

users to campus. Resources are limited, though, as there is little land available on which to open lots.

"We do a lot besides parking. Unfortunately, there will never be parking available right outside their destination. There will be parking within four blocks of the place you want to go," Haplin said.

As the bus system has made life more convenient for all, the biggest travel worry will be trying to memorize schedules and routes. Once that's set there is nothing left to do but sit back and relax. Let someone else do the driving while you catch a quick cat nap or finish some last minute studying.

In 10 years, there will hopefully be no desperate search for parking spots on campus and no vultures dringing in circles to catch someone pulling out of a space. Maybe life will be a little more peaceful.

*story by Lori Acheson
layout by Debbie Siegel*

Linda Harry of Champaign is one of several city employees who inhabit the booth of the lot at Sixth and Green Streets. Gary Wilsey, senior in ALS, trades in his ticket and change for the ability to leave the lot.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Illini-Pac

Front Row: Eric Edidin, Jeff Kaminsky, Miriam Reitman, Ilene Amend, Bill Colwyn, Shari Goldberg; Second Row: Lisa Franklin (PR Director), David Ecanau (Research Director), Michelle Silver (Asst. Treasurer), Lana Becker (President), Jennifer Skolnik (U.S. Political Director), Pam Brookstein (Treasurer); Back Row: Dan Kelber (Israeli Political Director), David Williams (Vice-President)

Society of Women Engineers Officers

Front Row: Priscilla Park, Laura Keenan, Dana Ward, Liz Douglas, Melissa Herrick; Back Row: Patrice Mitchell, Lisa Majeres, Tracy Hoselton, Lenae Tietjens, Lorelei Hunt

Remembering the Alma Mater

Both the Student Alumni Association and the Alumni Association work through many programs to retain a relationship between graduates and the university.

The Student Alumni Association, which currently has about 100 student members, tries to "foster a good relationship between the alumni, faculty and staff, and students as well as the community itself," says Jenn Janovetz, president of SAA and senior in LAS.

The SAA's largest activity is the coordination of the Homecoming events. This year, Homecoming starts off with a concert and a bonfire.

"We are trying to revive the tradition of a bonfire on campus to kick off Homecoming," says Janovetz.

Lunch on the Quad and the pep rally are traditional activities. This is the first year the pep rally will be held at the Assembly Hall. Before the game there is a tent party held for Illini Comeback guests. Illini Comeback invites alumni back to spend time with their respective colleges and speak with students.

Another program is Senior Challenge in which seniors raise money for a senior class gift. This year, the money raised will go toward lighting the area between Davenport Hall and the Foreign Languages Building.

"This program is now in its third year. It's grown tremendously—into a very elaborate gift," says Janovetz.

Other activities include "Be A Part From The Start", an orientation program held each fall for new students, which was held for the first time at the Assembly Hall. Senior 100 recognizes the top 100 seniors at the university. The Senior Reception is a breakfast held commencement morning at the home of the president of the university. The SAA's biggest fundraiser are the Survival Kits, packages with snacks, which are sold at final exam time.

The Alumni Association, the parent organization of SAA, "retains ties with graduates, who are all over the world, and encourages them to continue to support the university," says Ruth Weinard, Associate Director of Communications and Public Relations for the Alumni Association. Its members come both from this campus and the Chicago campus.

The Alumni Association sponsors University Day in the spring, during which university professors and well-known alumni speak on topics of general interest.

The Alumni Board is a meeting of alumni, which this year meets in Chicago in December and in Champaign in May on commencement weekend.

"Three achievement awards recognizing alumni of national importance are awarded at the board meeting and they are introduced at commencement," says Weinard. Recipients of these awards have their portraits on display in the Union.

In addition, the Alumni Association publishes newsletters and a full-color magazine. It sponsors bus trips for alumni to away athletic events and vacation trips overseas. It also holds tent parties and reunion groups during Homecoming.

The different colleges of the university also have their own alumni groups. These groups also have their own activities, reunions, and publications.

by Karen Damascu
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Stephen Warmowski

Chief performs the traditional dance for a crowd at the Homecoming rally sponsored by SAA.

Homecoming Executive Board

Front Row: Tracey Delanty, Tammy Rinaldi, Beth Verbrughe, Cathy Graham, John Diehl, Tracy Betts; Second Row: Cyndy Rabe, Katrina Ross, Jennifer Ullrich, Becky Gittles, Karen Holbrook, Eric Peters, Jennifer Janovetz; Back Row: Paula Lewis, Amy Gasparac, Kyle Franzen, Joanna Abrams, Bob Lumsden, Janice Hartman

Student Alumni Association

Front Row: Jane Randall, Stacy Lobough, Jennifer Collins, Cyndi Rabe, Devi Vallabhaneni, Monica Logani, Sue Dunn, Marta Steele, Deanna Willey, Cathy Graham; Second Row: Annie Ni, Karen DeMars, Julie Barger, Libby Wasserman, Julie Orthoffer, Colleen Young, John McNeil, Missy Credi, Jenny Jurcazak, Jennifer Ullrich, Andi Halperin, Liz Anderson, Pam Gieske, Susanna Ross; Third Row: Jenn Janovetz, Erin Arnold, Scott Lockledge, Darren Bodine, Ralph Kooy, Katrina Ross, Mary Lisa Gray, Eric Wilson, Linda Butler, Eric Peters, Melissa Breger, Tracey Delanty, Paula Lewis; Back Row: Walt Ruane, Stacey Huels, Bill Hollis, Eric Dollman, Craig Gray, Ed Lampitt, Beth Brooks, Jim Graham, Bryan Rowland

photo by Stephen Warmowski

photo by Nora Hipolito

Athletic Director and Head Football Coach John Mackovic dons a pair of Illini shorts given to him at the homecoming pep rally.

Bob Lumsden, advisor to SAA and assistant director of AA, is drumming up alumni support.

New lighting by the Foreign Language building will be a gift from "Senior Challenge."

photo by Ray Greninger

SAA Executive Board

Front Row: Ed Hulina-Vice President, Paula Lewis-Vice President, Annie Ni-Vice President, Tracy Betts-Vice President; Second Row: Bob Lumsden-Advisor, Jenn Janovetz-President, Craig Gray-Vice President

U of I Student Ambassadors

Front Row: Priti Khanna, Holly Appeldorn; Second Row: Katie McGowan, Julie Koenigsberger, Eric Wilson, John Diehl, David Zich, Cyndy Rabe, Bob Lumsden, Dawn Smith, Andi Halperin; Third Row: Karen Holbrook, Merna Smith, Andy Stroth, John Hill, David Graham, Tom Livingston, Tim Chron, Frank Karbarz, Ed Hulina, David Prasso, Rachel Corn, Linda Butler; Back Row: James Cole, Jeff Podjasek, Julie Gosnell, Brian May, J.B. Heaton, Tim Goodall, Ross Winks, Steve Vavrick, David Crocket

New dean of fraternities faces changes

John Martinez, the Assistant Dean of Students and Dean of Fraternity Men, is a new addition to the University of Illinois staff.

Martinez began working with the university in July in the position of Resident Director of Townsend Hall. After working with the University Housing Division for two months, Martinez moved to the Student Services building, where he is now an important resource for students.

In addition to being named the new assistant dean of students, Martinez also holds the position of dean of fraternity men. This position makes him an advisor to the 56 fraternities on campus which are part of the Interfraternity Council. Representatives from the different fraternities come to him for advice, and he speaks at chapter meetings regarding major school issues and policies that affect the fraternity system. Martinez finds it a challenge working with such a large greek system, since he comes from a much smaller background.

Born and raised in Bayville, New York, Martinez attended college at Fairleigh Dickenson University in Rutherford, New Jersey. He graduated in 1987 from a total enrollment of 16,000 students, yet he enjoys working at the University of Illinois where there are about 19,000 more students.

When asked how he liked dealing with the nation's largest greek system Martinez said, "It's different. In between my undergraduate and graduate studies, I worked for a national fraternity, so even though there are a lot of chapters here, I was used to dealing with a lot of people and problems in different areas. It's changed a little bit in the sense that it's all here in one centralized spot instead of nationwide, but the problems and benefits are pretty much the same."

photo by Scott Jacobson

Panhellenic Council Executive Board

Front Row: Beth Hartke (judicial board chair), Melissa McKee (secretary), Melissa Credi (president), Natalie Kosson (internal vice-president); Back Row: Leigh Kridakorn (vice president, membership ed.), Robin Baumgarten (public relations), Donna Moss (treasurer), Adlon Jorgenson (advisor), JoAnna Abrams (external vice-president), Sharon Hwang (vice president, membership)

Shi-Ai

Front Row: Colleen Howard, Liane Smith, Stephanie Dauies, Dyana Balch, Heather Oosterdorp, Lisa McCartney, Mary Fran Ransick, Ann Tardy, Emily Dentler, Amy Berardi, Julie Kliska; Second Row: Denise Marshall, Erin Anthony, Jennifer Collins, Amanda Pawe, Trina LoBue, Laura Difiglio, Holly Appledorn, Angela Wright; Back Row: Lisa Piatkowski, Karla Bauer, Annette LeZotte, Vicky Sloane, Linda Corn, Ana Trivanovic; Last Row: Kendra Johnson, christie Shih, Linda Wong, Esther Clarke, Krista Pellicore, Nancy Morris, Missy Forman, Natalie Kosson (advisor)

John Martinez address an Interfraternity Council representative meetings. Martinez is both the assistant dean of students and the dean of fraternity men.

photo by Scott Jacobson

Eating dinner at Beta Sigma Psi, Martinez is able to better understand the needs of fraternity men, such as Jeff Roesler, sophomore in ENG and Dave Johnson, freshman in LAS .

Interfraternity Council

Front Row: John Terlisher, Stace Huels, Clint Hull; Back Row: Matt Johnson, Robert Kaplan, John Elhert, Marc Babsin, John Martinez

1989 Homecoming Parade Committee

Front Row: Kathy MacAlister, Stacey Komon, Lisa Mier; Second Row: Matt Call, Tracy Koniceky, Anny Deliyannis, Amy Gasparac (Homecoming Parade Chairman), Pam Stevens, Amy Paulson, John Satti; Third Row: Mike Dover, Randy Lyons, Jennifer Molitor, Jason Gyling, Jennifer Piatkowski, Mark Pool, Davia Frazier, Ken Hastings; Back Row: Kristen Larson, Gretchen Hagen, Ashlie Scott, Jay Damerson, Glenn Buric, Joanna Abrams, Kathy McCay.

Fraternity serves community

Alpha Phi Omega is a national, coed service fraternity that provides services to the community, the campus, the nation and the fraternity itself. APΩ consists of students from all faiths and races who hold certain beliefs in common.

The university's chapter (Alpha Alpha) of Alpha Phi Omega has been in existence since March 31, 1932 when it was installed as the 25th chapter in the nation. Alpha Phi Omega was founded on the principles of the Boy Scouts of America. In fact, the U of I chapter was formed so that Eagle Scouts would have a service-oriented organization on campus.

The first of Alpha Phi Omega's three cardinal principles is service. APΩ is involved with clean-ups of Boneyard Creek, helps with voter registration drives and provides services for Matthew House (a shelter for area underprivileged children). APΩ serves Matthew House through tutoring, clean-ups, facilities repair, construction and fundraising.

The second principle is fellowship. Alpha Phi Omega is based on the ideas of fraternity and lic relations officer.

APΩ has an extensive fellowship program which helps members to become part of the family. Weekly fellowship activities

photo by Jeff Miller

Janette Kovach, member of APO and sophomore in Elementary Education, takes down information from Saul Lopez, Freshman in ENG, regarding his bike.

brotherhood (although both men and women are encouraged to join).

"We don't believe in hazing of any sort for any purpose at any time," said Ron Perich, APΩ pub-range from ice-skating to intramural sports to weekend parties.

The final Alpha Phi Omega cardinal principle is leadership. The chapter has several ways for individuals to take on leadership responsibility. APΩ has 10 elected offices, over 20 appointed offices and a number of committees, on which members are given various responsibilities. In addition, the chapter holds leadership conferences and encourages other leadership activities outside of the fraternity.

"When we become leaders in the future, we will be able to understand the people of our communities," Perich said.

To become a member of Alpha Phi Omega one must pledge at the beginning of the semester. Pledges become actives after 10 weeks. Members of the chapter must be students of the University of Illinois, pay small dues every semester, complete 24 hours of fraternity, campus, national or community service, attend a few of the fellowship activities and be involved in leadership activities.

story by Stewart Schrof
layout by Debbie Siegel

American Marketing Association

Front Row: Sylvia Kung, Cathy Grabowski; Back Row: Kim Fasana, Lisa Schmidt, Michelle Bunch

Agricultural Economics Club

Front Row: Mark Schlute, Michael Sleight, Tim Lenz, Scott Block, Bob Stewert, Dr. Lyle Fettig, Dan Wegner; Second Row: Kyle Krazy, Beth Weatherby, Jenny Rader, Renee Roberts, Craig Macklin, Jodi Engbert, Julie Hissong, Joe Sestak; Third Row: Stephen Hollis, Mike Schabacker, Jay; Dameron, David Hollinrake, Andy North, Peter Hembrough, Jim Anderson, Jeffrey Smith, Troy Fischer, Sally Kagel; Fourth Row: Dave White, Tom Althous, Brad Ellerbrak; Back Row: Scott Sausa, Tom Wallberg, Doug Rosentreter, Ryan Betzelberg, John Wynn, Heide Punke, Cecille Widoff, William Cleveland, Dwyane Otto, Mike Winterland

photo by Jeff Miller

Dan Saban, junior in ENG, and Ryan Topel, sophomore in LAS, assist with APΩ's winter bike storage by waiting for a truck to pick up the bikes.

Tim Deets, junior in religious studies, picks up garbage to clean the stretch of Boneyard Creek near Skylight Court.

photo by Jeff Miller

Illini Union Board

Front Row: Greg Pfluger, Vicky Johnson, Robert DeHaan, Clay Johnson;
Second Row: Bill Stackman, Babette Munson Hiles, Frank Karbarz, Angela Odoms, Nelly Gonzalez, Sue Maul, Nancy Underwood, Dexter Page, Nicole Vartanian, Dan Stoffel; Back Row: Steve Blasingame, Barry Dauber, Marc Kaplanes, Ivor Emmanuel, Debbie Brinkmann, Matthew Wall

Johnathan Baldwin Turner Scholars Club

Front Row: Sara Douglas, Julie Musselman, Heidi Almay, Sharon Giddings, Susan Stephen, Laura King, Tracy Bauer; Second Row: Scott Boston, John Schweitzer, Jason Blanchette, Daren Metz, Jane Hess, Mark McLaren, E.J. McIntire; Third Row: Todd Wachtel, Dave Gerfew, Jim Johnson, Dean Reichers, Steven Davis, Paul Taylor, Ron Intyre, Roger Barnard; Back Row:

Credit given to guinea pigs

Surveys, questionnaires, controlled experiments ... these basic terms become more than just words on the pages of a psychology text when that first white notice card comes in the mail. For the more than 2,000 students who take Psychology 100 every semester, these experiments are an introduction to the world of psychology outside of the classroom.

A variety of experiments are performed throughout the semester ranging from simple surveys covering everything from personalities to out of body experiences, to more complicated experiments in which the subjects may be required to demonstrate their motor skills in responding to questions or commands on a computer screen.

The large number of students taking introductory psychology courses provides a big group from which experimenters are randomly assigned their subjects. But how do the students view being the "guinea pigs" of these

photo by Dan Creinin

This cockpit simulator helps researchers study the effects of different control layouts on pilot performance.

experiments? Some students see their participation as essential and helpful to the experimenters.

"It doesn't bother me because I know that it helps them out. It's only an hour out of my day," said Kris Reinking, freshman in LAS.

But others see it as little more than a part of their grade and a nuisance. "I don't think that they were necessary, and I don't like the idea that they were a required part of our grade. The experiments could have been more structured and there were too many of them. They can be a hassle to get to at night," comments Stacy Patinkin, senior in Communications.

Either way, the experiments give students a chance to personally participate in psychology research and maybe learn some new things about themselves in the process.

story by Anna Choi
layout by Mike Krupicka

Sigma Pi

First Row: Wilson Chan, Tom Schoen, Dave Monroe, Doug Boesen; Second Row: Ian Colle, John Cannon, Scott Kosinski, Matt Scott, Louis Koziarz, Jim Miller; Third Row: Frank Wong, Bruce Miller, Charles Delahunt, Curt Patton, Brady Jennings, Jim Moody, Stacy Waldrop, Ryan Klemm, David Lin; Fourth Row: Dave Hunter, Mark Rosenberg, Leon Chism, Eric Young, Brian Holsclaw, Tod Hunter, Matt Potts; Fifth Row: Brain Bergmann, Matt Myers, Kevin Walker; Last Row: Bill Poy, Jason Martin, Lance Spitzner, Steve Schaeffer, Mike Vanichakornatanes, Johnathan Mitchell, Vince Toreja, Mike Crossin, Eric Schroff, Joe Nelle, Evan Glazer

Zeta Psi

First Row: Kenneth Griffin, Daniel Becker, Michael Pawelczyk, Ward Makielski, Jude Lancaster, Stephen Hinrichs, Don An; Second Row: Anthony Almaguer, Raymond Kosiek, Michael Bringas, Douglas Higgins, Thomas Peragine, Cmdr. Donal Curran; Third Row: John Brzozowski, Thong Lam, Peter Gruben, Janes Harness, Thomas Bryja; Fourth Row: David Armstrong, Stephen Erickson, Gregory Drake, Edward DeFrance; Back Row: Gregory Gelwicks, Todd Alford, Edwin Jenkins, Douglas Clark, Christopher Guerrero, John Pfeiffer, Michael Scaramuzzi

photo by Dan Creinin

Dave Pizarro, junior in Psych, monitors the progress of Marianne Stowell, freshman in architecture, on a workload scheduling experiment.

photo by Dan Creinin

Many different types of software are used to perform testing. This program simulates the tasks of hovering while eliminating opposing helicopters for an experiment on auto-pilot capabilities.

Erika Noll, PhD student in Psych, shows her computer arrangement for testing her thesis on the different reactions of the left and right hemispheres of the brain.

photo by Dan Creinin

Alpha Kappa Lambda

First Row: Kent Asaki, Tim Couture, Roy Hawthorne, Scot O'Donnell, Mike Lombardo, Mike Lane; Second Row: Bryan Adams, Ron Klipstein, Jay Seymour, Chris Jeska, Joe Bucher, Gary Bhojwani, Bob Cusick, Bob Rennick, Mike D'Errico, Rick West, Jim Peters; Third Row: Marko Djuricic, Dave Taber, Michi Mho, Jim Hempleman, Scott Neal, Ken Czech, Mark Ragucci, Chris Youman, John Plumpe, Dave Young, Joe Vulich, Jim Staruck, Eric Nordlund, Scott Jadron, Kevin Halpin, Mike Bosshart, Craig Morton, Dave Chiszar, Tim Smith, Matt Engstrom, Matt Zander, Todd Ziaja; Fourth Row: Greg Gruen, Randy Coakley, Rick Kovacic, Nandu Talwalkar, Andrew Chamberlain, Bert Rodriguez, Chad Pfiefer, Jim Lundy, Ted O'Malley, Chris Gould, John Rush; Back Row: Eric Haynes, Doug Krvrep, Mike O'Shea, Tom Quinlan, Tim Powell, Brad Paisley, Steve Forde, Mike Meyer, Rick Dooley, Anthony Powell, John Giuffre, Larry Spangler, Brian Reardon, Tom Pawlowski, Dave Varney, Vince Monical, Biff Newcastle

Phi Kappa Tau

First Row: Eric Smith, Tyler Bolen, Jeff Leitner, Todd Shankland, Jeff Kautz, Whit Carlisle; Second Row: Mike Svancarek, Todd Favekeh, Dennis Hall, Eddie Sullivan, Todd Collins, Andy Yergler, Rusty Hofman; Third Row: Pat Griffin, Kirk Ingemunson, Tony Briney, Keith Lacy, Brent Derridge, Jim Townsend; Fourth Row: Pat Aldrich, Mike Hernandez, Ed Manrique, Craig Timko, Geoff Stanczyk, Mark Schmidt; Fifth Row: Tom Holleman, Chris Stanczyk, Mike Mirkovich, Charlie Blood, Joe Carrier, Greg Stafford, John Cappello; Sixth Row: Mark Steffe, Corey Maxwell, Scott Spitz, Rick O'Neal, Paul Dravillas, Gary Watson, Cy Schwartz, Tim Lubba, Steve Vanderschaaf; Last Row: Schy Willmore, Chad Kramer, Matt Porter, Nadir Khan, Scott Pawlow, Gregg Ingemunson, Pat Dyer

Spreading the word

Okay, girls—picture this. Four rows of handsome young men assemble before your very eyes. Each one is clad in a black tuxedo, complete with bow tie and tails. You haven't seen anything like this since your high school prom. And even then, your date didn't look this sharp. Are you dreaming? Possibly. But there's one more explanation. You could be sitting in the Great Hall at Krannert, waiting in anticipation for the Varsity Men's Glee Club to break into song.

Men's Glee Club is one of the oldest performing groups on campus. Founded in 1887, it recently celebrated its 100th anniversary. Although most of the university's choral groups are comprised of music majors, the Varsity Men's Glee Club is an exception. According to Professor William Olson, associate dean in the College of Fine and Applied Arts and director of Men's Glee since 1968, the club consists of about 60 men with an array of interests, from engineering to economics to psychology.

The glee club sings a wide variety of music. "I try to teach them more than just drinking songs," Olson said jokingly. "They sing classical, sacred and secular, old as well as new, popular and fun songs."

John Walker, current president of the glee club, said, "I really enjoy performing church music, especially when we sing in other languages, such as Latin, German and Italian."

Each year, Dad's Day Weekend provides a setting for the club's first concert. This is followed by a Christmas program, a spring concert and a performance during Mom's Day Weekend.

In addition to performing at concerts, the club acts as a public relations device. The university invites Men's Glee Club to perform at numerous university functions, such as workshops and meetings. It has performed for some of the university's presidents, governors and various chancellors.

Sometimes, Men's Glee has the opportunity to travel. In order to "spread the gospel of the U of I," said Olson, "the club spends two days touring six high schools in Illinois." In the past, the men performed at the Colorado State Music Educators Convention.

In the past 21 years, the club has traveled to Europe four times. Members spent three weeks of their summer traveling through different parts of Europe such as Austria, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Italy, Greece and Switzerland. They sang in concert halls, churches and cathedrals, as well as local cafes and street corners.

"The trip to Europe was certainly a big highlight. We sang on the streets every day and in some really beautiful churches," Walsh said.

Olson felt the trips were very worthwhile. "The end result is a very meaningful experience," he said. "Rather than just looking, seeing and taking, members leave something of themselves behind." For example, once when the club was staying at a hotel outside of Switzerland, they were invited to sing for a wedding ceremony. They sang a few songs, including a German love song.

Additional singing opportunities are available to members of the glee club. For example, eight of its members formed what they call "The Other Guys," a comedy octet which sings barbershop and other humorous songs.

Men's Glee supports itself through concert profits and donations. However, the club must pay for uniforms, music and traveling expenses. In order to raise money, it holds fund raisers such as "rent a glee club member," in which the men shovel snow, rake leaves and provide other services.

Members rehearse twice a week for a total of three hours and receive one hour of university credit each semester. This does not seem like much considering all of the extra time involved. However, "the men don't do it for the credit," said Olson. "They all have this love for music which makes Men's Glee worthwhile."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Mike Krupicka

Transfer Student Association

Front Row: Gary Johnson, Meredith Strinni, Mary Beth Wempe, Rich Katz, Tony Alvis, Joy Kriewaldt; Second Row: Caroline Schneider, Bruce Andrey, Ron Fedorchak, Jim Legner; Third Row: Danny Bautista, Ron Wiederman, Matt Fish, Alfred E. Newman, Jennifer Hall, Donna Hajduk, Bill Schmidt, Mike Tertipes, Debbie Felder, Jim White, Cal Fornia, Bill Christopher; Back Row: Joe Cool, Brian Coppie, Frank Furter, Dave Schaffer, Curt Envoy, Dale Bingman, Stud Lee Man, Lynne Swanson, Pete Budbulys, Dave Raica, Julie Taylor, Darwin Mauch, Jon Jensen

Association For Computing Machinery

Front Row: Laura Bridgewater, Greg Freeman, Heeren Pathak, Jeff Wilson, Marc Cooper; Back Row: John Melby, Brad Morris, Stephen Drone, John Coolidge, Rick Blewitt, Mike Maley, Don Meyer.

photo by Kristy Phariss

During a rehearsal at the Krannert Center before Dad's Day, Choral Director William Olson points out the last minute details of role and order and appearance to the members of the Men's Glee Club. The club must get accustomed to the accoustics of the Great Hall.

photo by Kristy Phariss

photo by Kristy Phariss

Japan Karate Association

Front Row: Pat Callahan, Marty Marren; Second Row: Chris Dunlap, Greg Wilkins, John Booras, Reg Tanig, Kennet Harris, Eric Petty Johnson; Third Row: Karyn Hanisch, Dan Quinto, Frank Cheng, Elizabeth Booras, Mary Herman, Rick Gimbel; Back Row: Bill Dwyer, Brian Robinson

Block I

Front Row: Becky Coleman, Sharon Arnold, Mike Jelen, Melissa Macke, Cissy Furusho, Sue Smith, Kelli Ettlebrick; Second Row: Heather Mohler, Wendy Gronwold, Cathy Turnbull, Peter Schwarz, Susan Shevelenko, Heather Warren, Pat Vlahos; Back Row: Karen Wolf, Matt Zehner, Julie DeRosa, Todd Kroll, Sam Stevenson, Paul Simek, Jim Szczupaj, Jennifer Arend, Kristen Anderson, Karin Hutzler.

Did your sweetie remember you?

When Carl Mattson, sophomore in FAA, first heard someone exclaim "Happy Sweetest Day!" he became a little confused. "Did you say 'Happy Swedish Day?' I'm Swedish!"

It's okay, Carl. The truth is, many students don't know that October 21st is Sweetest Day, a national holiday which encourages us to do something special for our family, friends and, of course, that "significant other" to let them know how much we care.

After spending Sweetest Day at the University of Illinois, however, most students become aware of the holiday and may even "catch the spirit" of kindness and generosity which it evokes.

Indeed, it is difficult to go through the day without noticing things students do for one another and wishing to be a part of it all. For example, many students place Sweetest Day personals in The Daily Illini, conveying messages of love and happiness which make almost everyone smile, not just their intended readers.

Others give their friends heart-

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Amy Thompson, manager at Moria Jewlers, said they carry engagement rings as well as other jewelry gift items.

shaped cookies from Cookies, Etc. They read "I love you!" in pink and white icing and are guaranteed to satisfy the hardest of appetites.

Residents of Weston Hall send their roommates balloons and buttons made by members of hall council and tied to the doorknobs.

For a romantic touch, young Romeos stop at Floral Impressions and buy their girlfriends flowers with plush stuffed animals. According to Michele Ensor, a freshman in engineering, "On Sweetest Day, my boyfriend gave me a dozen red roses and a big kiss."

Some girls, who "care to send the very best," give their boyfriends a traditional Hallmark card with a special poem on the inside and a hug.

Of course, as with all holidays, Sweetest Day does attract its share of "scrooges." "I'm not getting my girlfriend anything for Sweetest Day," said Pete Schlegel, a junior in education, "It's nonsense — a money-making scheme thought up by Hallmark and M.T.D."

*story by Janet Scott
layout by Julie Fanella*

Illini Media Company

Front Row: Board of Directors — Richard Ziegler (President), Richard Hill, Robert Rucker, Julie Randolph (Vice President), Judy Gawlik (Secretary/Treasurer), Julie Koenigsberger, Vivian Harris, Fred Mohn; Back Row: Jane Carr (WPGU Sales Manager), Ellie Dodds (IMC Operations Manager), Almario Salonga (IMC Accountant), Laura McDougald (Illio Editor-in-chief), Sean Bodnar (Daily Illini Sales Manager), Michael Smeltzer (General Manager/Publisher), Michelle Lane (WPGU Program Director), Terry Dugan-Nolan (WPGU Station Manager), Kathryn Goy (WPGU News Director), John Pletz (Daily Illini Editor-in-chief); Not Pictured: Ann Donohue (Illio Business Manager)

Illini Pride Athletic Board

Front Row: Carolyn Bahling, Laura Fox; Second Row: Julie McCardle, Melissa Credi, Jody Middendorf; Third Row: Barry Beaupre, Karen Fairgrievies, Eric Peters, Laura Wilson, Theresa Eagleson, Cathy Walker; Fourth Row: Greg Johnson, Steve Hawkins, Andy North, David Goodell, Brian Bertelson; Fifth Row: Eric Thomas, Scott Schindlbeck, Steve Buttitta, Tom Durbin, Nicole Vartanian

photo by Lisa Shapiro

April's Country Florist owner April Deters and employees, Judy Wolf, senior in LAS, and Phil Ferguson fill orders for Sweetest Day Surprises.

Anne Johnston, owner of Campus Florist, wraps a single red rose, the most popular gift for either sex.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Silk teddies are modeled at Silk Degrees on Men's Night.

Mylar balloons expressing silly sentiments are a popular pick-me-up for couples.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Summer Orientation Program Staff

Front Row: Ipalla Cooke, Jenny Jurcazak, Gretchen Pfeffer; Second Row: Tracy Skerritt, Tammie Swopes, Shelley McDonald, Jean Acosta, Chela Spaargaren, Susan Chacko; Third Row: Michelle Hayner, Martha Janoskey, David Crockett, Dee-Dee Collins-Jones, Heather Anderson, Grace Liu; Fourth Row: Joy Pitelka, Lorene Meyer, Jenny White, Jenny Stropes, Akemi Schaupp, Eileen Lemezis, Heather Parkin, Janet Deptuch, Rhonda Hilvety; Fifth Row: Brad Stanfield, Matt Neidlinger, Kelly Hawbaker, Steve Kuhn, Nancy Hesterberg, Angie Reno

Star Course Managers

Front Row: Shelly Davies (Publicity), Kathi Brinkmann (Public Relations), Erin Smith (Office & Hospitality), Bobby Faust (Advertising Design), Laura Kurre (Senior Manager), Junse Kim (Senior Manager), Patti O'Donnel (Ushering), Tim Muentzer (Personnel), Sarah J. Palmer (Advertising Media), Margaret Scott (Tickets), John Ottaviani (Stage & Production)

A picture-perfect job

"Photog! Photog! Over here!" screamed a bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked sorority member across the crowded room. "Could you get a picture of the five of us together?"

"Wait a minute!" begged a fellow sister. "Take a picture of my pledge daughter and me! Don't we look a lot alike? It'll be great slide-show material!"

"Snap a shot of that couple dancing in the corner!" exclaimed a fraternity member with a devilish gleam in his eyes. With some solid evidence, I can blackmail them for the rest of their college careers!"

A night such as this may seem like chaos to some, but according to Laura Gerardy, senior in FAA, "Working as a photographer for Memory Lane is lots of fun!"

Gerardy takes pictures at a variety of Greek events, including exchanges, pledge dances, and formals. She virtually sets her own schedule by signing up to work at as many parties as she wishes. "It's neat going to different Greek houses and seeing what Barndance is one of Gerardy's favorite events. "I love catching couples who try to hide from me

photo by Nora Hipolito

Grant Hamilton, senior in FAA, steps back to take a picture at Delta Phi Epsilon's initiation party. Photographers are hired by groups to work at parties, dances and special events.

they're like. I meet tons of people and get lots of dates, although I usually have to decline!"

in the hay!" Gerardy said.

Phil Dierker, senior in LAS, enjoys working as a photographer for Illini Studio, where he visits the same house as often as possible. "I really get to know the members of a house. I'll go to the bars and someone will shout, 'Hey, Phil! Where's your camera?'" Dierker also receives a few kisses here and there. "It's really an ego-trip. I've had girls throw their arms around me and say, 'The photog's so cute!'"

In spite of all the benefits, photographers must also tolerate occasional partygoers who become rude and disrespectful.

"While I was working outside a fraternity party, it began raining pretty hard," said Gerardy. "The guys kept yelling, 'Just get in the mud and take our pictures!'"

Dierker tells of similar experiences. "In order to last at this job, I've learned that I've got to be in the right kind of mood and let the insults roll off my back!"

story by Janet Scott
layout by Julie Fanella

Theta Delta Chi

Front Row: Fred Owens, Mark Stoot; Second Row: Tom O'Shaughnessy, Ed Othon, Dennis Yee, Tony Artates, Steve Perlman; Third Row: John Wappel, Andy Pasulka, Michael Lord, Lyle Kay, Malcolm Sickels, Ren Auliff, Cary Caveny, Phil Anzelmo; Back Row: Tom Brown, Randy Sliwa

Delta Zeta Seniors

Front Row: Aarti Tekchandani, Jenny Manning, Angie Russian, Nejla Abbed, Cathy Lamoureux, Katie Gibson, Sue Rose; Second Row: Sue Wymer, Dawn Kaplan, Mary Hance; Third Row: Johnna Pothoff, Lee Ann Norman, Melissa Reynolds, Karen Kraft, Gina Stalbaum, Becky Heying, Janet Vrasic, Mary Vest, Marianne Linde, Beth Hartke, Cristi Kline; Back Row: Patty Mathes, Margot Middleton, Gina Geovanes, Becky Rusch, Tricia Cadwallader, Joan Perkins, Angie Davis, Jennifer Batton

photo by Nora Hipolito

As a Memory Lane photographer, Grant Hamilton is a familiar party sight.

During Delta Phi Epsilon's initiation party in the basement of Kam's, Gladys Morales, sophomore in LAS, Eva Lord, sophomore in CBA, and Terri Miller, junior in LAS, pose for Memory Lane photographer Hamilton.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Sigma Alpha Epsilon

Front Row: Tim Provow, Tom Meyer, David Zimmer, Dave Weiner, Seth Gordon, Matt Warren, Eric Ziegler, Chris Garwacki, Brian Holdampf, Jason Neton, Paul "ILJ" Reavlin, James Wilkinson; Second Row: Mike Marburger, Doug Dodril, John Moroney, Greg Shoemaker, Chris Bradley, Clay Hafner, Brad Davison, Bill Stafford, Eric Gould, Ernie Janensch; Third Row: Mike Browning, Dave Schnitzer, Mike Beccastro, Tim Rabe, Matt Breidert, Scott Bohaboy, Rob Marburger, Scott; Fourth Row: Rudi Zipter, Jim Rund, Erik Siekmann, Nick Mihail, Mike Frank, Bob Liedtke, Joe Kohls, Chuck Alexander, Darren Hittle, Eric Nelson, John Stanke, Pete Newkirk, Jack Hook, Eric Larson, Rob Montalbano, Mark Anglin; Back Row: Mike, Colins, Scott, Kevin Murphy, Chris, Bryan, Dan Grund, Joe, Eric, Joe, David Schmidt, Jim, Phil, Scott, Scott

Delta Sigma Phi Seniors

Front Row: John Walsh; Second Row: Robert Sellergren, Rob Gilland, Marshall Collins, Marc Greenfield; Third Row: Mike Zak, Dave Stawick, John Sacco, Mike Schultz, Dan Nitzsche; Fourth Row: Mark Brady, Dave Teter, Rob Roca, Todd Wyatt, Jon Sus; Back Row: Dave Cutsinger, Mike Verachtart

Black Greek Council provides unity

As the governing body for the nine Black Greek organizations, the Black Greek Council (BGC) provides a voice for minority students on campus.

The BGC represents the black fraternities and sororities on campus. The BGC also "provides scholarships, community service and academic programs for U of I students and a social outlet as well," said Yavonna Miller, BGC president and senior in LAS.

BGC holds an All Greek Rush to familiarize students with the black Greek system and other minority organizations on campus. For freshman, the BGC holds an open forum to help students learn what Greek life is about. "The forum provides a relaxed atmosphere for students to learn about each organization," said Miller.

The BGC also sponsors informal gatherings for freshmen at places such as the Afro-American Cultural Center. At these meetings, students meet people that may help them at the university such as financial aid and academic advisors. There is also an opportunity to meet and make friends with other freshmen.

"Our main stress is unity semester freshman who attains a 4.2 or above grade point average.

The BGC also sponsors Step-Down, a variety dance show. Proceeds from the Step-Down go to a

"The shows are spectacular — some have light shows and fog," said Miller. Each group's entry fee goes toward the scholarship which is presented to the winner at the end of the Step-Down.

The BGC "provides most of the social activity for black students on campus," said Miller. They sponsor rush dances and parties at some of the fraternity houses throughout the year.

An average of 11 late night dances are held each year in the Illini Union. The BGC also brings in various speakers to talk to students on topics ranging from general minority problems to the problems black women face on a white campus.

The BGC also has service projects, can-shakes and Quad rallies.

"We are not a body just for Greeks," said Miller. "We are dedicated to serving the campus as well as the community."

story by Karen Damascus layout Julie Fanella

courtesy of Kappa Alpha Psi

Jeffrey Shavers, junior in LAS, twirls canes during the "Step Down" at the Illini Union.

among ourselves and education among UI black students," said Miller. As an organization concerned with academic achievement, the BGC awards scholarships. One award is given to a first high school senior who plans to attend the university. Each of the nine Greek organizations puts together a dance show for Step-Down, which is held in Foellinger Auditorium the first week of May.

Beta Alpha Psi

Front Row: Julie Hawkins, Susan Bills, Patricia Lin, Marc Babsin, Brittney Baker, Mitch Fisher, Jamie Heinen; Second Row: Nikki Kennett, Aileen Abella, Kelly Buban, Devi Vallabhaneni, Jennifer Quade, Anita A. Richert, Amy Wienke, John S. Byun; Third Row: Rob Jensen, Tom Brancato, Kevin Chan, Marck Tracy, Madeline Connell, Susan Eappen, Brent A. Teerlinck, Jennifer Horn, Russell Willis, Greg Reed, Ted Farbisz; Back Row: Brian Greene, Steve Sherwood, Stephen Oetgen, Staci Saeger, Joe Bailitz, Eric Meister, Barbara Nuxoll, Todd Burch, Christopher Brown, Torrey Browder, Tim Metzger

American Institute of Chemical Engineers

Front Row: Melissa Cregier (president), Mike ZumMallen (secretary), Kristie Oreluk (EOH chair), Lisa Conyers (Engineering Council rep.), Steve Harding (Eng. Council rep.); Second Row: David Dolnics (publicity chair), Anthony Valente (treasurer), Tom Pasmore (sophomore rep), Barry Reynolds (vice president), Dawana Smith (freshman rep); Third Row: Dianne Roggy, Jennifer Deutsch, Rob Duffy, Jordan Mellican, Jacob Harms, Tani Chen; Fourth Row: Kevin Hartzler, Ruchir Desai, Hai Hoang, Greg Joppa, James Rogers; Back Row: Dr. Charles F. Zukosi (advisor), Peter Boukouzis, Chris Frank Nathan Shavers, junior in LAS, Alan Brazil, junior in CBA, and Harold Caldwell, junior in CBA perform in Kappa Alpha Psi's "Cane Performance" for the Step Down show at the Union.

After setting up the VCR for a showing of Do the Right Thing, members of Iota Phi Theta clown around for the camera. They were showing Friday night movies for Black History Month.

courtesy of Kappa Alpha Psi

photo by Reggie Natividad

Alpha Kappa Psi

Front Row: John Courtney, Ken Pirok, Rob Toton, Henry Artelejo, Mike Leonard, Greg DeWolf, Fernando Vinzons, Mark Malinowski, Bill Winter, Ravi Gupta; Second Row: Judy Lin, Joy Reagan, LaTonya Washington, Devi Vallabhaneni, Charlotte Huang, Meredith Ottney, Chris Berba, Vic Arcabos, Silvia Kozyra; Third Row: Hazel Ferrer, Denise Mackey, Laurie Doherty, Grace Tsai, Minna Kim, Gina Stalbaum, Denise Shrewsbury, Linda Hendricks, Bill Kwon, Cathy Christ, Mark Palazzolo, Debbie Pallas, Marla Cornwell, Jennifer Weston, Minna Kim, Vicki Rimpalone, Sarah Arlt; Fourth Row: Nan Wakemm, Becky Rusch, Sherria Covington, Cindy Rekuch, Judy Lin, Benjamin Davinson, Leslie Steiner, Halina Mikowski, Koren Buckner, Katie Mizwicki, Christina Easterling, Diana Namowicz, Julie Marks, Janet Haeger, Beth Odle; Fifth Row: Paul Dickinson, Mark Williams, Tara Harris, Joel Jackson, Bethany Bare, Rob Robinson, Carrie Watne, Missy Temple, Anne Marie Englebrecht, Marc Liebman, Emily Reyes; Back Row: Lisa Fischer, Kristin Hanson, Rina Heinze, Steve Koslow, Jim Kappos, Mike Downey, Rob Jensen, John Timer, Ralph Williams, Sue Makayee, Darin Wright, Trisha Polfleit, Neil Jaffe, Jane Schott, Heather Cassidy, Darren Friedman, Trisha Kohls, Maria Quintana, Amy Knopp

Syncronized Swimming

Front Row: Diana Songer, Michelle Max; Second Row: Carol Songer, Micki Johnson, Erin Lynch, Becky Zerlentes; Back Row: Christina Mueller, Julie Nelson, Wendy Grethen

Scott Snyder, senior in Education, tries to walk nine steps in a straight line while legally drunk. Master-of-ceremonies Mike Haile, from WKIO, waits for an opinion from Champaign Police Officer Jason Eversole.

Jane Barr, Jennifer Shook and Valerie Arakaki, juniors in Engineering, participate in Beerfast at CO's by drinking non-alcoholic beverages.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Eastern Orthodox Christian Fellowship

Front Row: Mike Pallis, Anne Paris, Patricia Kakos, Paul Pagones (Treasurer), Liz Tsolakides (President), Fr. Nick Pathenos, George Sakas (Vice Pres.), Bill J. Deligiannis (Secretary), Spiro J. Deligiannis, Maria Maravelas, Vasilios Spyropoulos; Second Row: Lambrini Nicolopoulou, Pat Vlahos, Katina Secaras, Evangeline Secaras, Pam Karavolos, Angelo Karavolos, Julie Mangan, James Petropoul, Jeff Meyer, Debbie Kasulas, Maria Athanasiou, Michelle Christofidis, Dimitra Defotis, Spiro G. Deligiannis, Angela Tsakiris; Third Row: Patty Marinakis, Christina Mueller, Patty Sfondilis, Jim Argeros, Michelle Polios, Christiana Tsingi, Deena Poulos, Nick Karavolos, Gus Vlahos, Margo Toscas, Costa Varnavas, Nassos Katsonis; Back Row: Diane Chiligris, Chris Dagiantis, Alex Tsolakides, Philippos Pierides, Yiannis Georgious, Dimitri Eliopoulos, Thanos Stavropoulos, Paul Rosenboom, John Polihronidis, Tom Yiannis Ioannidis, Sani Ioannidis

Sigma Phi Epsilon

First Row: Sam MaCrane, Juni Futrell, Ramadan Ham, John Wierzbicki, Dan Fedor, Leif Landon, Don Mayszak, Tom Jennings, Mike Halpin, Kevin Hardin, Mike Klein, Tony Glowacki, Kevin Deters, Robert Gurgel; Second Row: Dave Christianson, John Shallot, Joe Norvell, Jeff Kling, Tony Collins, David Sincus, Mark Hansen, Tony Ebbale, Mike Wiggins, Kurt Wackerman, Alex Cue, Tim Bruce, Brad McKee, Rob Holzbach, Nevin Greenberg, Michael Claps; Third Row: Robert Chaves, Dan Shin, Brant Ahrens, Greg Miller, Bob Marikuni, Mike Dillon, Scott Bauknecht, Tom Pearl, John Calzaretta, Brian McCormack, Scott Schuster, Mike Sebastian, Tom Murphy, Bryan Johnson, Jim Cassidy, Chris Mason; Fourth Row: Bob Glennie, Steve Hickey, Jeff Jopes, John Warren, Randy Lyons, Derek Converse, Tom Wagner, Dave Peterson, Dan Merek, Mark Hoelt, Chris Hartweg, Mike Ruth, Stan Ray, Neal Speers; Back Row: Michael Wijas, Jeff Demaske, Dave Brickman, David Hillman, Matt Johnson, Mark Hanfland, Andy Groh, Forest Linton, Brad Greevie, Dave McGahey, Jim Feldmann, Rick Hodel, John Schumacher, Craig Sun

Education goes 'dry'

photo by Scott Jacobson

The second annual Alcohol Awareness Week began as university Residence Halls sponsored numerous activities, such as "mocktail" nights. For example, "quarter beers" were served in the Weston Hall lounge as residents socialized with their neighbors. Participation was so great that the supply of root-beer floats diminished within the first five minutes.

Six residence hall advisers participated in a controlled drinking experiment in Lincoln Hall, called "Wednesday Night Live." After drinking about five beers each, a Champaign police officer asked them to demonstrate their coordination to the audience. Simple tasks, such as standing on one leg while counting to 30, became difficult.

On Thursday night, the Panhellenic and Interfraternity Councils sponsored non-alcoholic pledge exchanges. Forty-seven houses attended these exchanges, which were hosted by sororities.

McKinley Health Center sponsored a program called "Student Drinking: Who's Calling the Shots?" The mayors of Champaign and Urbana were present in the Illini Union to discuss alcohol-related problems on campus and answer questions.

For those students attending the bars on Friday night, Health Advocates from McKinley administered blood-alcohol tests in front of the Psychology Building. According to Rosalind Pand, senior in LAS, "The testing was conducted to make people aware of how much alcohol they were drinking."

For the first time, the fourth annual Beerfast Pledge Program was incorporated into Alcohol Awareness Week. As part of the program 6,000 students and faculty made a pledge to refrain from drinking alcoholic beverages from Friday to Sunday afternoon.

Participants also received a Beerfast button which allowed them to receive free non-alcoholic beverages at popular bars such as O'Malley's, Cochranes and C.O. Daniel's.

These organizations, as well as a host of others, devoted a great deal of time and energy into making Alcohol Awareness Week a success.

"As a vehicle to heightening awareness of drinking as a part of college life," said Dale Tampke, chairman of the Alcohol Awareness Week Planning Group, "I think we were moderately successful."

Hopefully, their efforts will persuade students to take a closer look at their own drinking behaviors during the other 51 weeks of the year.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Mike Krupicka

Zeta Beta Tau

Front Row: Michael Wax, Arnold Becker, Eric Genin, Richard Shamberg, Philandler, Jeffrey Dan, Barry Scadron, Anthony Irpino, Chuck Swanson; Second Row: Joel Lewis, David Marks, Jeffrey Falcon, Steve Wittenberg, Jason Brooks, David Heisey, Andrew Eres, Reid Valfer, Jacob Frank; Third Row: Joshua Croland, Marty Hecht, Michael Nadler, Doug Golden, Richard Dubin, Adam Stolberg, Greg Hanin, Bill Colwyn, Cory Goodman; Fourth Row: Chad Steinberg, Dave Schwartz, Michael Gideon, Richard Schaffel, Craig Primack, Ryan Gottainer, Jason Friedlander, Rob Kayman, Mitch Lavin; Fifth Row: Michael Slavik, Todd Alexander, Ian Alexander, Peter Olesker, Dave Goldberg, Todd Horberg, Stuart Carlin, Tom Parisi, Rob Abrams, David Hechter, Jason Schwartz, Adam Cohen, Matt Radin, Jason Berk, Eric Glasson, Billy May, Rick Wise; Back Row: Steve Apter, Marc Kallish, Darryl Colen, Jeffrey Greenberg, Andrew Packer, Steve Kanter, Matt Clapman, Jim Lederer, Dan Shallman, David Carlin, David Williams

209 N. Goodwin

Bart Laughlin, Tom Burton, Thomas Silberg, Mike Gut, Andrew Kuklinski

"They jam!"

Sounds like a description of a heavy metal band at Mabel's, doesn't it? Actually, the above comment refers to the University of Illinois Black Chorus Concert.

The chorus, which is listed as Music 261 in the course catalog, is directed by Ollie Watts Davis, DMA. Students earn one credit hour while singing traditional black spirituals, contemporary gospels and rhythm and blues pieces.

The group had its beginnings in 1968 at Florida Avenue Residence Halls. "Some black students who had sung in their churches in Chicago got together to sing gospel and other music pertinent to black America," said George R. Smith, Jr., president of the Black Chorus.

Today the chorus consists of 200 dedicated men and women "who enjoy singing and enjoy people," said Smith.

Practice is scheduled for two hours per week, "but usually averages about three to three and one half hours or even more around performances," said first-year-member Julie Ingram.

The chorus maintains an extremely busy schedule. This year's concert schedule included performances at Purdue and Illinois State Universities. A

photo by Kristy Phariss

Roy Smith, freshman in LAS, sings a solo in the Black Chorus Concert performance in the fall.

highlight of the season was a trip to Atlanta in November for the National Black Gospel College Choir Workshop. At the conference, students learned everything from the history of black music to proper choir decorum.

Other activities include the Annual Black Mom's Day Concert, which has been a sellout for the past two years, and a performance at commencement exercises. This year also marks the first time the chorus will participate in the annual Christmas Carol given by the Men and Women's Glee Clubs and the University of Illinois Concert Choir.

Members give different reasons for participating in the choir. For Smith, the chorus provides a break from the stress of academic classes. "It's the highlight of my week," he said.

For Ingram, the music is not the only important part of the chorus. She describes the chorus as "totally a moving experience. Personally, I'm in it because I can praise God with music."

Overall, Ingram said that her involvement in the chorus "has given me a greater respect and understanding of the gospel music tradition."

story by Angie Morgan
layout by Mike Krupicka

Accounting Club

Front Row: Christine Taylor (Secretary), Warren Stippich (President); Back Row: Dan Podgorski (Treasurer), Michelle Roller (Vice-President), Joy Miller (Vice President), Tim Hickey (Vice President)

Illini National Agri-Marketing Association

Front Row: Robert Lubben, Chris Swiney, Cecille Widolff, Mary Jo Donze, Thelma Schoonmaker, Bruce Sherrick (Advisor), Raymond Leuthold (Advisor), Chad Hertz, David Timmermann, Heidi Burgess; Second Row: Eric Decker, Andrea Sheriff, Brian Mewes, Lori Aden, Mike Shabacker, Craig Macklin, Troy Throneburg; Back Row: Dean Schafer, David Boundy, Ed Cowan, Kevin Borgeson, Dan Wegner

photo by Kristy Phariss

Yolanda McGowan, Kim Simmons, Donna Burton, Tyria Walton and Angelique Jordan harmonize. This year is the first time the chorus participated in the annual Christmas Carol.

photo by Kristy Phariss

Black Chorus Concert maintains a busy schedule with performances at U of I and at other universities. Joelle Jones sings in the fall concert.

Soprano Elisha Jones sings a solo in Smith Music Hall.

photo by Kristy Phariss

Illini Riding Club

Front Row: Krista Pyle, Mary Kopecky, Tammy Dedert, Karin Neumann and Dynamite, Rhett Miller, Bristol Cream and Kim Bianco, Lydia Klunk, Debbie George, Tracey Bray, Lori Keen, Carey Walmsley; Second Row: Michelle Pomeray, Sarah Rotter, Marsha Demers, Wendy Novotny, Cinda Lashbrook, Chris Klis, John Collister, Sharon Payne, Dee Masear; Third Row: Mitra Cowan, Lynn Imbery, Angie Kirkwood, Barbara Buser, Susan Buritz, Luis Garcia, Deena Poulos, Sharon Rosenberg, Ella Endres, Emmanuelle Netral, Stephanie Chamberlain, Rhonda Bohlon, Krista Lorenz, Christy Gardner, Cary Ruth Carson, Kevin Kline (Advisor); Fourth Row: Marie Gau, Angie Hale, John P. Granat, Joanne Harlin, Jennifer Horn, Tawnya Zerbonia, Jeff Holden, Jeanne Bloomberg, Sarah Crawford, Theresa Jones, Denise Brachen, Carla Brieser, Annemarie Marcucci; Back Row: Steffanie Adams, Susan Bair, Mary Hodson, Heather Webb, Ken Such, Christine Merle, Ann Ashenfelder, Kris Colleran, Wendy Anderson

Horticulture Club

Front Row: Jill Hayward (President), Robin Cowen (Advisor), Joe Landini (Flower Show Chair); Second Row: Karen Carlson (Vice Pres), Peter Hsiao (Reporter), Anne McCombe (Advertising), Bobby Mountz (Treasurer), Amy Steffen; Third Row: Lori Barnhart, Diane Mohrman, Tina Mareello, Joanie Budzileni; Fourth Row: Renee Timmermann (Ag Rep), Elizabeth Kusy, Sharon Giddings, Kourtney Koertge, Debbie Woodworth, Chris Leverton; Back Row: Brian Borg, Gary Miller, Jeff Johnson, Kris Smith, Matt Klein, Richard Haijenga, George Farah, Chris Leverton

Editor
Greg Carney

Graduates

"So, what are you going to do next year?" That million dollar question is asked by all your friends, your parents and even those people you only see once a year over Christmas break. It's a question that, hopefully, you can answer.

The last year can be agonizingly busy when all you want to do is relax after two, three or four years of hard-work. There's the initial rush to send out those resumes and applications. The preparation for the tests you thought ended with the SAT is beginning again. And there's the pressure of traveling off campus for graduate school interviews and office visits. But all this work will hopefully pay off with a concrete plan for next year.

Then there are those who are more interested in what they haven't done during their undergraduate careers. Most seniors have a list of "Things I have to do before I graduate!". This often includes: getting a Haystack at the Homestretch, drinking the Wall at O'Malley's, playing frisbee on the Quad, visiting Kranert at least once and climbing on the Alma Mater.

Also of interest to those who haven't done everything yet is how to get that last general education requirement fulfilled when Gottheil's Econ 101 class is full. Adding to the pressure is the knowledge that you can't drop "the class from hell" because it rounds out the 120 hours you need to graduate. And remember, it's your last chance to take ornamental horticulture just for fun.

Now is also the time when you'll be overcome with nostalgia. You'll blow off studying to stay up all night with your friends reminiscing about all the stupid, yet pretty fun, things you've done in your time. You'll call your old dorm roommates who you haven't seen in two years just to find out they're getting married. You'll remember underage drinking at the bars and kegs at parties and laugh at the freshmen who will never know what other life once existed.

But relax, there is still life after graduation for LAS majors as well as engineers and accountants. You've already built a legend you can be proud of at Illinois that will live on long after the Commencement exercises are over.

One Illinois tradition is to crawl on the Alma Mater in cap and gown.

photo by Reggie Natividad

photo by Reggie Natividad

Each college conducts its own graduation ceremony in campus theaters, such as Follinger Auditorium. There is also an all campus commencement exercise in the Assembly Hall.

Building
a
Legend

College of Agriculture offers diversity

Unfortunately, the only thing many university students associate with the College of Agriculture is the smell coming from south farms on many windy days. What they don't realize is that the college encompasses over 25 different curricula that range from Agricultural Engineering and Forestry to Dietetics and Interior Design.

The college is divided into two major areas - Agriculture and Human Resources and Family studies, which includes areas many people don't associate with agriculture, such as Restaurant Management and Home Economics.

Agriculture is one of the oldest colleges at the university and traces its roots back to the time the U of I was still called the Illinois Industrial University in 1868. Today, the college boasts almost 2,000 students and over 300 faculty members. Over 4,500 acres of U.S. Forest Service lands and 7,000 acres of university-owned farmland are used by the college. Associate Dean William George estimates it is among the top five agricultural schools in the nation.

Sue Turnbull, senior in Agricultural Communications, said she likes the personal attention she has gotten from professors and advisors in the college and also the tailoring of the curriculum to her own interests.

"I grew up on a farm, but I also knew I was interested in journalism and communications, so I think the college really does a good job of incorporating a lot of diverse areas that a lot of people don't associate with agriculture," she said.

According to George, 70 percent of the students in the college have a nonfarm background and only about eight percent of those students graduating from Agriculture actually go into production agriculture.

photo by Anne Pergande

University employee and recent graduate Nancy Bower feeds milk replacer to a calf upon which the university is conducting an experiment

"The College of Agriculture is much more than farming, a lot of what we do relates more to food and human services. We not only emphasize food production but also the marketing process as well as management and business skills. We really cover a broad spectrum," George said.

But the College of Agriculture is also heavily committed to research in all areas of study. In the last decade, the college has invested almost $60 million in laboratories, classrooms, greenhouses and field facilities, and an additional $50 million in facilities are still under construction.

"I think one of the really unique things about the college is we have both undergraduate and graduate programs founded in research," George said.

The results of all this research help the consumer through the college's cooperative extension service, a public service outreach program. Seminars and workshops in many agricultural communities are some of the ways the university can work directly with people who benefit from the research done at the university.

"This college was founded with the ideals of education, research and service," George said. "And I think we're doing a good job of all three."

story by Carrie Goerne
layout by Laura McDougald

"The dumbest part of the U of I is that they raise tuition and then put up buildings all over campus."

A. Ashta

Donald Paul Abbs Elgin, LAS
Jalal Abedi Champaign, ENG
Amanda Marie Abraham Lake Forest, LAS
Lisa Jill Abramowitz Arlington Heights, ED
Brian Keith Abrams Northbrook, CBA
Joanna Lynn Abrams Roseburg, Ore., CBA
Ron David Abrams Deerfield, CBA
Douglas O. Ackerman Peoria, AGR
John Robert Acton Alvin, AGR
Amy Elizabeth Adams Pontiac, AGR
Debra Susan Adams Lincolnshire, CBA

Laura E. Adamson Ada, Mich., LAS
Kimberly Dawn Adaway Chicago, CBA
Susan E. Adelman Naperville, ED
Gina Lynn Adler Cary, LAS Jodi Michelle Adler Homewood, ED
Kathryn M. Aebel Riverton, LAS Michelle Agraivador Hinsdale, LAS Inuran Ahmed Champaign, CBA
Leila H. Ahmed Roselle, COM
Jumin Ahn Champaign, FAA
Anna Catherine Airey Evanston, COM

Mohammad Saeed Alam Chicago, ENG
Devin M. Albrecht Newton, AGR
Julie A. Alessandrini Springfield, LAS Charles P. Alexander Rockford, LAS
Scott A. Alexander Danville, CBA
Habib Ali Chicago, ENG
Richard C. Aliano Chicago, LAS
Timothy J. Alikakos Mount Prospect, LAS
Hannah E. Alkire Champaign, ED
Paul Anthony Allen Chicago, LAS
Terry D. Allen Jr. Manchester, Mo., ENG

Mark W. Allender Albuquerque, N.M., ENG
Patrice Allendorfer Berwyn, LAS
David P. Allenson Palos Park, LAS Tracy Dawn Aller River Grove, LAS
Jennifer R. Alleyne University Park, ED
Jeneane Ally Palos Hills, COM
Christopher M. Alonge Great Neck, N.Y., LAS
James Wayne Althoff Quincy, ENG
Leslie Ann Amadio Chicago Heights, ALS
Eric R. Amann Bloomingdale, ENG
Neha Narayan Amin Mattoon, LAS

Priti V. Anvin Elgin, LAS
Erika Ann Amstadt Oak Brook, COM
Eric A. Anderson St. Charles, LAS Eric Arvid Anderson Crystal Lake, ENG
Jason D. Anderson Barrington, LAS
Lisa Kaye Anderson Urbana, CBA
Lynn R. Anderson Geneva, CBA
Michele C. Anderson Palatine, LAS
Michelle Y. Anderson Champaign, CBA
Rodney Lee Anderson LaGrange, CBA
Alissa Dawn Andler Niles, ED

Barbara Ellen Andres Naperville, LAS Debra Susan Andrews Clearwater, Fla., LAS Jennifer D. Andrews Champaign, LAS Patrick R. Andrews Bloomington, LAS Dirk W. Andringa Palos Park, LAS Lisa Michelle Anelli Des Plaines, LAS
Audrey Anewishki Chicago, CBA
Carin Sue Angelotti Kildeer, ED
David Edward Angres Winnetka, LAS
Joseph C. Anicich Champaign, ENG
Howard H. Ankin Skokie, COM

Janet Anontvechrucks Chicago, LAS
Miriam I. Aparicio Flossmoor, LAS
Peter J. Apostolakis Long Grove, ENG
Elissa Aranas Lockport, FAA
Victor E. Arcabos Bolingbrook, LAS Christina L. Archer Springfield, LAS
Joseph H. Ardovitch Chicago, ENG
Lisa Ann Arianoutsos Park Forest, LAS
Lynne Marie Arie Sidney, ED
Ann Therese Arko Mount Prospect, CBA
Eric James Arndt Lansing, ENG

Russell J. Arneson Creve Coeur, Mo., ENG
Andrew Philip Arnett Libertyville, COM
Rick Loy Arnold Urbana, ENG
Lori Anne Aronson Lincolnwood, LAS
Nicolas Arreola Chicago, LAS Sharisse K. Arthur Chicago, LAS Telly A. Arvanitis Addison, ENG
Kent Jay Asaki Flossmoor, CBA
Mark Robert Ashbrook Glenview, ENG
Chris Dale Ashmore Granite City, LAS
Tamara Dawn Athas Bloomingdale, ENG

Andy K. Ashta Morton Grove, LAS
Geri Lynn Atherton Leland, FAA
Z. Carina A. Atienza Arlington Heights, LAS
Christine M. Atkinson Palos Park, CBA
Marcelo A. Atristain Champaign, ENG
Andrew Craig Atseff Western Springs, ENG
Malik Douglas Auden Huntsville, Ala., ENG
Elizabeth A. Auer Park Ridge, ENG
Edward Louis Aukamp Macon, LAS
Mark Eric Aukamp Lincoln, FAA
Gladys G. Aureus Oak Brook, LAS

Christine Ann Austin Winfield, LAS
 William B. Austin Decatur, ENG
 Maria D. R. Aviles Blue Island, LAS
 Douglas Albert Awe Elkhart, ENG
 Kathleen A. Baader Oak Lawn, LAS Edna M. Babbitt Somerset, N.J., LAS
 Lloyd A. Babbitt Buffalo Grove, FAA
 William Boyd Bach Bloomington, LAS
 Joseph Paul Bachman Oregon, ALS
 Sangsoo John Bae Chicago, LAS Heather L. Bailey Erskine, Minn., LAS

Jeannette A. Bailey Chicago, ALS
 Leah Leta Bailey Chicago, LAS Thomas John Bailey Hoopeston, LAS
 Kenneth Eric Baine Glenview, CBA
 Robert David Bain Schaumburg, ALS
 Dawn Marie Baird Kankakee, CBA
 Lori J. Bajko Arlington Heights, LAS
 Carol Eileen Baker Neoga, CBA
 Kenneth Baker Mount Vernon, LAS
 Lori Denise Baker Weldon, FAA
 Margaret Baker Indiana Head Pk., LAS

Felicia L. Bakshy Morton Grove, LAS Christine Balaty Westchester, LAS
 Jennifer Balsamello Westville, AGR
 Judith M. Balsman Crystal Lake, CBA
 Laura Anne Baltrus Lake Bluff, LAS Mirjana Bandur Chicago, AGR
 John E. Bannon Arlington Heights, FAA
 Kenneth Bansenmer Orland Park, CBA
 Brian Alan Barbee Gifford, LAS
 Rene Marie Barker Urbana, SW
 Craig Darren Barnes Chicago, FAA

Dana Leigh Barnett Eldred, CBA
 Kirk Leland Barney Freeport, ENG
 Robert H. Barnstable Joliet, ENG
 Richard Barnvos Prairie View, CBA
 Nora A. Barry Arlington Heights, ED
 Michael S. Bartlett Roscoe, LAS
 Melissa B. Bartolata Waukegan, LAS Gary Phillip Bartz Murrayville, AGR
 Diane Jean Base Lansing, ENG
 Gerilyn Ann Bass Northbrook, LAS Laura W. Bass Glendale Heights, LAS

Wade A. Bastien Streator, ENG
 Sara Bateman Danville, ALS
 Jennifer L. Batton Tremont, LAS
 Dallan J. Baumgarten Dunlap, FAA
 Robin Baumgarten Orland Park, COM
 Dan C. Bautista San Jose, Calif., ENG
 Kathryn S. Baxter Bloomington, COM
 Maria E. Bayer Chicago, CBA
 Kevin C. Bayless Decatur, CBA
 Cani Jo Beaber Alton, COM
 Rebekah Beal Hoffman Estates, COM

Lawrence Scott Beall Chicago, LAS
 James M. Beaumont Springfield, ENG
 Steven James Bechtel Eureka, ENG
 Erik G. Beck Western Springs, LAS
 Pamela Beck Lombard, CBA
 Sean Lawrence Beck Evanston, LAS
 Judy Marie Becker Westmont, ED
 Lana Becker Chicago, LAS
 Laura Marie Becker Elmhurst, FAA
 Jamie Lynn Beckman Godfrey, ED
 Felicia F. Beckwith Broadview, CBA

Jennifer Lynn Beeque Palatine, ENG
 Lynnee Sue Bedard Rockford, CBA
 Frank Allen Bednarz Burbank, CBA
 Michael J. Behling McHenry, ENG
 Jennifer L. Behne Carlinville, AGR
 Steven Belcher Clarendon Hills, CBA
 Ferdinand E. Belga Chicago, LAS
 Carol Leigh Belger Champaign, COM
 Lucia Lynn Bell Urbana, LAS
 Richard E. Bell Belleville, ED
 Sophie Bell Chicago, ENG

Michael Bellamy New York, N.Y., LAS Gregory Bendewald Glenview, LAS Jennifer T. Bendler Catlin, LAS
 Nancy E. Bennett Plano, LAS
 Karen Ann Bensen Glen Ellyn, ED
 Bradley J. Benson Novelty, Ohio, LAS
 John R. Benware Midlothian, FAA
 Renee M. Beran Aurora, LAS
 Christopher S. Berba Decatur, CBA
 Jan Scott Berezniak Wood Dale, CBA
 Anne Kathryn Berg Danville, CBA

Peter J. Berg Peoria, CBA
 David Earl Bergdahl Manteno, LAS Alan Berlin Flossmoor, LAS
 Kelly Beth Berliner Des Plaines, AGR
 Elliott M. Berman Palatine, ALS
 Chad Birmingham Thomasboro, FAA
 Elaine A. Bernabe Northbrook, ALS
 Michael A. Berns Urbana, ENG
 Lilan Berry Marengo, LAS
 Robert Osie Berry Crystal Lake, AGR
 Jeff Jerome Berti Sublette, LAS

"My favorite aspects about the U of I are some of the outstanding professors."

H. Bailey

ALS provides a small atmosphere at the Big U

With a total enrollment of approximately 675 students, the College of Applied Life Studies (ALS) is one of the smallest of the eight colleges at the University of Illinois. But many of its students believe that smaller is definitely better.

"The college is really close-knit," said Julie Englemann, senior in kinesiology. "Most people know each other, and you get to know your advisors and teachers on a more personal level."

Englemann said being in ALS makes the university seem less big because of the small class sizes, which, according to the college, average only about 22 students.

The college consists of three main degree programs - Health and Safety Studies, Leisure Studies and Kinesiology. Each of these academic departments rank among the top three nationally.

Leisure studies may sound like a "fun" major, but leisure has become a serious business. According to the college, a recent report estimated that the business of leisure accounted for $250 billion of the United States' economy. The Department of Leisure Studies is trying to meet the need for leisure professionals through its three degree programs - Program Management, Natural Resource Recreation Management and Therapeutic Recreation.

Englemann said one of the problems of being a kinesiology major is some people don't give it the respect it deserves.

"A lot of people only associate kinesiology with gym or P.E.; they don't realize how technical and diverse the major really is," she said. "There's been a lot of misunderstanding about the major."

Departments within kinesiology include Social Science of Sport, Bioscience, Curriculum and Instruction for elementary and secondary schools and Personalized Area of Concentration.

All students in ALS gain hands-on experience in their respective fields through required practicum experiences. Englemann is spending this semester working in the physical therapy department of Carle Clinic in Urbana for credit.

Most students find placements in local agencies and institutions but the college has made quality placements throughout the state, nation and the world.

story by Carrie Goerne
layout by Julie Fanella

Stacey Ooen, senior in ALS, studies in the ALS library for necessary references. The ALS library is located on the first floor of the graduate library.

photo by Nora Iipolito

Dominick Bertucci Orland Park, AGR
 Kimberly Ann Betz Duplo, ENG
 Frederick Beutler Forest Park, ENG
 Robert Bever Des Plaines, ED
 Gary C. Bhojwani Schaumburg, LAS Joel Roldan Biala Willowbrook, LAS
 Richard D. Bianco Oak Brook, CBA
 Jane Biberstein Stillman Valley, LAS
 Kathleen Bickel Mount Prospect, CBA
 Roger T. Bielickie Belleville, CBA
 Kent Edward Biggs Springfield, ENG

Scott M. Billadeau Bradley, ENG
 Teresa Billish Evergreen Park, ALS
 Salve Regina Billote Naperville, CBA
 Dale L. Bingman Effingham, ENG
 Karen Lynn Biolchini Peru, LAS
 Diane Kaye Birch Hickley, AGR
 Stephen L. Bishop Geneva, LAS Charles Haxton Bjork Palatine, LAS
 David John Bjork Dolton, ENG
 Melody Lynn Blain Orland Park, ED
 Melissa Gail Blair Ridgeway, ENG

Rebecca L. Blaker Champaign, LAS
 Roger E. Blakley Urbana, ENG
 Frederick J. Blanford Lincoln, LAS Steven Blasingame Harvey, LAS Julie Lynn Blaszczyk Palatine, LAS Gregory L. Blaum Springfield, LAS
 Heidi Blaumueller Naperville, ENG
 Wade Lynn Bleich Paxton, ENG
 Richard N. Blewitt Rockford, LAS
 Ronald K. Block Urbana, ENG
 Timothy M. Block Westmont, ENG

Jill E. Blotevogel Staunton, LAS
 Shirley Ann Blount Chicago, CBA
 Mark Walter Blumka Burbank, ENG
 Laura Anne Boatright Mundelein, LAS
 Robert W. Bober Jr. Des Plaines, CBA
 Sean Henry Bodnar Flossmoor, CBA
 Robert Boglin Jr. Chicago, FAA
 Karen Bohaboy Rolling Meadows, LAS
 Timothy M. Bolnhoff Dieterich, ENG
 Susan M. Boland Peoria, ALS
 Eric Ludwig Bolda Libertyville, ENG

Leis A. Boldrini Burbank, LAS Sherolyn R. Bolton Chicago, LAS Rhowena O. Bou Chicago, ED
 Cynthia A. Bonacorsi Rantoul, LAS
 Michael Alan Bondi Addison, ENG
 Heide Bonner Elgin, ALS
 James Josiah Bonwell Chrisman, AGR
 Stephen Boppart Gibson City, ENG
 James Bordner Downers Grove, ENG
 Kevin Borgeson Sylvania, Ohio, AGR
 Beth Ellen Bork Thawville, LAS

Brian D. Borkholder Palatine, LAS
 Craig Boroughf Medinah, CBA
 Jacqueline Borowiak Albion, FAA
 Michael Bosshart Libertyville, ENG
 Adam E. Bossov Wilmette, LAS Lori Lynn Bostrom Quincy, LAS Rommel O. Bote Glenview, LAS
 Cathy Ann Bothast E. Peoria, AGR
 Victoria L. Boudreau Clifton, FAA
 Peter M. Boukousis Waukegan, LAS
 Kenneth E. Bouma Urbana, AVI

Dennis A. Bourgerie Normal, LAS
 Patrick N. Bouslog Urbana, CBA
 Lisa Ann Bower Montgomery, COM
 Victor Bowlay-Williams Selden, NY, LAS Phillip J. Bowman Champaign, LAS
 Dina G. Boxser Deerfield, CBA
 Merita Anne Boyce Oak Lawn, LAS
 Douglas Dale Boyer Newman, ALS
 Vincent P. Boyle Spring Valley, CBA
 Michael R. Bozzi Orlando Park, CBA
 Adriana Brad Chicago, LAS

Anne Louise Bradbury Decatur, ED
 Mark Patrick Brady Park Forest, CBA
 Robert J. Brady Palos Park, ENG
 Laura L. Bramhall Lake Forest, LAS Jeffrey Branch White Heath, CBA
 Ann Marie Brandolino Crest Hill, COM
 Jason Matthew Brauer Peoria, LAS Daniel John Bremner Naperville, LAS
 Ann T. Brennan Orlando Park, LAS
 Nora E. Brennan Chicago, LAS
 Karen Gael Brenner Glenview, CBA

Mary Dean Brester Bethalto, LAS
 Julie Marie Brewer East Moline, CBA
 Laura L. Bridgewater Springfield, LAS Scott Alan Brill Vernon Hills, LAS
 A. R. Brinkley-Minnick Paris, CBA
 Kristi L. Britt Williamsville, AGR
 Kim Ann Brizzolara Geneva, ALS
 Christine Broadus Downers Grove, LAS
 Rebecca Lee Broeking Oleana, AGR
 Lisa C. Brogdon Jacksonville, AGR
 Pamela J. Brooks Arlington Hts, FAA

Ellen Zfaney, junior in accounting, looks at the summer internship board outside the Commerce Placement Office.

photo by Jeff Miller

CBA earns high reputation

One of U of I's most prestigious claims to fame is the College of Commerce and Business Administration – that breeding ground of future bankers, CEOs and accountants.

It boasts one of the most well-regarded business educations in the nation. According to a recent Standard and Poor's Register, the university ranked eighth in the nation and second in the Big Ten in the number of undergraduate degrees received by business executives. Illinois graduates hold 22 of the CEO positions in the nation's Fortune 500 companies and more partners in the "Big Six," the nation's largest accounting firms, are graduates of Illinois than any other institution.

"The most important factor in our success is the quality of students we get," said Larry Johnson, assistant dean of the college. "They are responsible for carrying our reputation far and wide. Of course, this would not be possible without the excellent faculty we also have."

The first "courses for training in business" were taught at the U of I in 1902, according to Johnson. A separate business college was later founded in 1915 under the leadership of David Kinley. Ever since, the U of I has been producing business graduates of top caliber, earning it a stellar reputation. This year 3,100 students were enrolled in the College of Commerce's five curriculums: Accountancy, Finance, Business Administration, Economics and a separate curricula for freshmen and sophomores.

There has been a recent trend in the college toward internationalizing the curriculum. "The globalization of industry requires that we educate students cross-culturally. We are already seeing steps in this direction with a series of new requirements being considered, including a foreign language requirement," Johnson said.

The business programs, like most at the university, are challenging, but "they are extremely well-rounded," he added. "We adhere to the university's general education requirements, and, believe it or not, up to 60-65 percent of a student's coursework can be non-business."

This is a fact overlooked by those who stereotype Commerce students as materialistic and obsessed by success or accuse them of selling out their education for "training."

But most CBA students will agree the payoff for them is well worth it. A diploma from the U of I earned Commerce grads in accountancy an average starting salary of $27,069 in 1989. Commerce – economics majors were offered $27,400.

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Nora Hipolito

Rodney Lacey, sophomore in CBA, gets a taste of a business environment at his part-time job in the education programs office.

"One of my favorite things about the U of I is that all of the groups come here to perform at Assembly Hall, Krannert, and Mabels."

P. Brooks

Pamela L. Brookstein Northbrook, LAS
 Susan Lee Brosseau Onarga, AGR
 Kathleen M. Brotko Schaumburg, LAS Audra Joyce Brown Homewood, FAA
 Dushon Monique Brown Chicago, LAS Dustin Louis Brown Chicago, LAS
 Janice Kay Brown Winchester, ED
 Jeffery C. Brown Tinley Park, AGR
 Joel Harry Brown Highland Park, LAS
 John Robert Brown Crete, ENG
 Laticia D. Brown Matteson, CBA

Robert Alan Brown Shelbyville, LAS
 Robert B. Brown Urbana, LAS Scott Charles Brown Centralia, LAS Stacy V. Brown Hoffman Estates, LAS
 Steve James Brown St. Charles, FAA
 Taylor Roland Brown St. Charles, ENG
 Thomas Matthew Brown Springfield, CBA
 Jeffrey S. Bruner Downers Grove, LAS Gary Van Brunner Herscher, ALS
 Mark A. Brunner Mount Prospect, LAS Samuel R. Brunner Morton, LAS

Lauren D. Bruno Melrose Park, LAS
 Richard Brian Bruno South Holland, CBA
 Daniel B. Bruzzini Northbrook, LAS
 David John Bryja Chicago, ENG
 Susan S. Bryniarski Harvey, LAS
 John Brzozowski Park Ridge, CBA
 Kevin Ronn Buban New Windsor, CBA
 Joan Gail Bublula Beecher, LAS
 Thomas M. Buccelli McHenry, ENG
 Robert G. Bucciferro Joliet, ENG
 Peter David Buchanan Winfield, LAS

Josef Max Bucher Addison, ENG
 Michael A. Buchert Libertyville, CBA
 Donald R. Buchman Frankfort, ENG
 Matthew E. Buckley Burbank, ENG
 Christopher Buckner Itasca, CBA
 Carol Ann Buczec Dairen, FAA
 Barbara Buddenhagen Waukegan, FAA
 Mark Michael Budnik Champaign, ENG
 Michael John Buetow Champaign, LAS Randy Lee Buhr Champaign, CBA
 Sandra Lynn Buhr De Kalb, LAS

Susan M. Buhrfeind Medinah, LAS
 Duc Q. Bui Mount Prospect, ENG
 Thuyanh Hong Bui Peoria, ENG
 Michelle Lynn Bunch Quincy, CBA
 Suzanne Bug Bunte Champaign, LAS
 Kathy Ann Burdine Plainfield, ED
 Laura Lynn Burger Lemont, LAS
 Heidi S. Burgess Champaign, AGR
 Timothy W. Burgess Caseyville, LAS
 Karen Kay Burgin Danville, AGR
 Kenneth Arnold Burke Lombard, LAS

John David Burkey Washington, LAS
 Pamela P. Burkman Glenview, LAS
 Lynette D. Burnam Champaign, ED
 Julie Lynn Burnett Chicago, LAS Lora Beth Burt Glendale Heights, LAS Beth Ann Burton Country Club Hills, LAS Katharine L. Burton Barrington, LAS Kristen Bea Burton Carol Stream, LAS
 Cindy Kay Bushur Watson, AGR
 Douglas M. Buske G. Rapids, Mich., ENG
 Karin L. Bustamante Skokie, LAS

Kristin C. Butcher Memphis, Tenn., LAS
 Christopher R. Buti Mount Prospect, FAA
 Suzanne Lynne Buti Chicago, CBA
 Cynthia Ann Butler Forest View, COM
 Patti Butler McHenry, CBA
 Royden O. Butterfield Peoria, CBA
 Kurt R. Buttleman Morton, CBA
 Michael Byrd Homewood, CBA
 Veronica M. Byrd Danville, CBA
 Robert E. Byron Park Ridge, LAS
 Heejung Sylvia Byun Skokie, CBA

John Sangjin Byun Skokie, CBA
 Christine S. Cadiz Glendale Heights, LAS
 Tricia J. Cadwallader Rockford, COM
 Craig R. Caffarelli Lombard, CBA
 Marc Anthony Caifano Orland Park, LAS
 George Thomas Cain Harrisburg, FAA
 Mark P. Cal Champaign, LAS
 Michael D. Calderisi Chicago, LAS
 James C. Calzaretta Orland Park, CBA
 Anne Christine Campbell Peoria, CBA
 Janette Marie Camden Metcalf, ALS

Heather Anne Came Bannockburn, LAS Heather Lynn Cammack Frankfort, LAS
 Kelly Bryan Campagna Alton, ENG
 Lorealee D. Campbell Hudson, LAS
 Suzan M. Campbell Bloomington, CBA
 Mary Alison Canady Washington, LAS Christine D. Canavan Cristwood, LAS
 Anselmo G. Canfora Park Ridge, FAA
 Timothy M. Canning Palatine, FAA
 Jerry Earl Cannon Avon, AGR
 John Glen Cannon Avon, AGR

"The thing I hate most about U of I is Teaching Assistants who can't teach - they know the subject but can't teach it."

L. Brown

College of Communications: Journalism students explore the field

Although the College of Communications is the smallest college at the University of Illinois, it has a lot to offer students interested in the fields of advertising, journalism and media studies.

According to Professor Bob Rucker, "One of the college's strongest points is that it provides students with an education based on real-world experience. This is essential in the field of communications where graduates must demonstrate their talents to potential employers and resume material is the bottom line."

To earn a degree in the field of broadcast journalism, for example, students are required to spend two semesters investigating news within the community and writing broadcasts suitable for both radio and television.

In order to obtain a solid background in journalism and the technical aspects of broadcasting, students begin their studies in Journalism 350: Reporting I.

"In this class, students are taught to think like journalists. They begin to ask themselves, 'What does my reader want to know?' and consider questions such as 'Who? What? Where? When? and Why?'," said Rucker.

Students are then taken "behind the scenes" in Journalism 362: Broadcast News Production. Rucker said, "Here, the emphasis is placed on technical equipment, editing and video techniques, and studio productions." After successfully completing these two classes, students are ready to test their skills outside of the classroom. "We throw them out to the wolves and see

photo by Annie Pergande

Chris Hansen assembles her camera equipment before shooting for an assignment.

what they can do!"

In Journalism 372: Broadcast News Writing and Gathering, students gather, write and edit news suitable for broadcast on radio stations such as WMAQ and WBBM in Chicago. Rucker said, "It's really exciting. Students get out there with their tape recorders and talk to empassioned people with strong opinions."

Next, in Journalism 382: Broadcast News Editing, students create a 30 minute television newscast called Newsline. It is shown on channel 10 Cablevision twice a week during the second half of the semester.

"Last year on Newsline, students did a tribute to Cub fans, which was a lot of fun," said Rucker. "Also, during the presidential election, students had the opportunity to talk with Dan Quayle and Michael Dukakis."

Sometimes students feel intimidated by these challenges. "I've heard students say, 'Come on, I can't talk to him!' or 'I can't do that! I'm only in college!' But that's what the life of a journalist is like, and students must experience this before graduation, not after," said Rucker.

Although the field of broadcast journalism is extremely competitive, Rucker feels that the College of Communications prepares its students well. "If you're willing, we'll take you from square one to 1,000. With enough dedication, hard work, and determination, you can be successful, but no one gives you a job - you must earn it."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Debbie Siegel

Randolph A. Cano Darien, CBA
 Michael John Capelle Palatine, ENG
 Marissa Renee Capps Chicago, LAS
 David J. Caracci Palos Hills, ENG
 Amy Laura Cardin Champaign, CBA
 Whitney T. Carlisle Naperville, LAS
 Angela Carlomango S. Holland, CBA
 Cynthia Sue Carlson Rockford, LAS
 Debra Jean Carlson Elk Grove, CBA
 Donald L. Carlson Galesburg, AGR
 Jennifer A. Carlson Rockford, CBA

Karen Marie Carlson Peoria, AGR
 Katrin M. Carlson Mt. Prospect, LAS Patrick R. Carmichael Riverton, LAS
 Catherine Carpenter San Mateo, CA, CBA
 Kevin A. Carpenter Tinley Park, ENG
 Timothy R. Carpenter Monticello, LAS Brian Carpizo Arlington Heights, LAS
 Alexander H. Carr Park Forest, ENG
 Deborah Suzanne Carr Normal, FAA
 Renee Carr Newark, N.J., FAA
 Thomas Frank Carris Riverwoods, LAS

Megan Eileen Carroll Oak Forest, ED
 Odell Carson Jr. Chicago, LAS Vicky Lynne Carson Champaign, LAS Thomas Hans Carste Bensenville, LAS
 Michael Lee Carter Clinton, CBA
 Cullen L. Casey Washington, ENG
 Michael P. Casey Springfield, LAS
 Scott Patrick Casey Savoy, CBA
 Susan Mara Cash Wilmette, LAS
 David J. Cassiere Mount Prospect, ENG
 Christopher Cassulo, Belleville, CBA

Sara Beth Castrale O'Fallon, LAS
 Susan B. Catalano Lake Forest, CBA
 Steven Cavolick Vernon Hills, LAS Joanne M. Cederoth Oswego, LAS
 Suzanne Marie Cekal Lombard, CBA
 Paul Cellini Chicago Heights, LAS Elizabeth Celske Fox River Grove, ED
 Jill A. Centella Palatine, COM
 Hector Centeno Chicago, CBA
 Brenda Renae Centko Streator, AGR
 James P. Cerasani Bensenville, LAS

Debbie Cerda Wood Dale, ALS
 Smriti Chaddha Elk Grove, CBA
 John S. Chamberlain Warrenville, LAS
 Karen F. Chamberlain Dixon, AGR
 Patrick T. Chambliss Eureka, CBA
 C. R. Chandler Martin, Tenn., COM
 Michael Chandler Niles, CBA
 Steven T. Chandler Glenview, ENG
 Rajesh H. Chandwaney Chicago, LAS Claudia Chaney Chicago, LAS
 Alice Y. Chang Naperville, CBA

Cindy I. Chang Romeoville, LAS
 Kathryn Chang Winfield, CBA
 Kwan Young Chang Chicago, LAS
 Michelle D. Chaplin Genoa, LAS
 Rebecca L. Chapman Sterling, ALS
 Ronald Alan Chapman Charleston, LAS
 Peter L. Charvat Peoria, LAS
 Steven T. Chase West Chicago, ENG
 Ranjini Chatterjee Singapore, LAS
 Anna M. Chavez Homewood, LAS Anshuman Chawla Oak Brook, LAS

Robert Chen Woodstock, LAS
 Sylvia Yu Chen Glen Ellyn, ENG
 Moses Cheng Downers Grove, LAS Kevin Ward Chern Lincolnwood, LAS
 Carol Ann Chesnut New Holland, FAA
 Pei Ching Chew Lexington, Ky., CBA
 Kenneth Paul Chica Chicago Ridge, ED
 Antonio Chico Chicago, LAS
 Jennifer Chidley Arlington Heights, ED
 P. Chiemmongkoltip Olympia Fields, LAS
 Valerie N. Childers Chicago, CBA

Carl G. Chin Aurora, ENG
 Christopher Lee Chin Mundelein, LAS Aamir Chinoy Ontario, Canada, LAS
 John L. Chinski Kankakee, CBA
 Sharon F. Chisick Homewood, LAS
 Grace Yi-ting Chiu Glenview, FAA
 Jamie Meejung Choi Skokie, ENG
 Katherine K. Choi Northfield, LAS
 Rik Carl Chomko Buffalo Grove, LAS
 William Choslovsky Flossmoor, CBA
 Cynthia H. Chou Champaign, LAS

C.J. Chranko Geneva, ENG
 Catherine D. Christ Sullivan, CBA
 Daniel J. Christensen Chicago, LAS
 Mary K. Christine Hoopston, AGR
 James E. Christle Elburn, LAS
 Thaison Chu Orland Park, ENG
 Edbert T. Chua South Holland, ENG
 Yuan-Chang Chuang Champaign, CBA
 Jason Ho Yong Chung Glen Ellyn, LAS Phillip Yong Chung Morton Grove, LAS William Chung Skokie, LAS

College of Education: programs improve teacher training

The College of Education is rated as one of the top five in the nation. About 800 undergraduates and an equal number of graduates are enrolled in six departments: Administration, Higher and Continuing Education, Curriculum and Instruction, Educational Policy Studies, Educational Psychology, Special Education and Vocational and Technical Education.

The Department of Curriculum and Instruction, formerly the departments of Early Childhood and Elementary Education and Secondary Education, reflects concern about the quality of teachers and shows an interest in educational reform.

"We want to have one department whose primary mission is to examine teaching and learning within the public schools," said P. David Pearson, dean of the College of Education.

One goal of the department is to improve teacher training. "We're moving toward a new model in education," Pearson said. This will require that the college move toward a five year teacher-training program "to prepare teachers for the kinds of challenges they will inevitably meet. They need more experience, stronger course work in the arts and sciences - it's just going to take longer," Pearson said.

A pilot project in four Urbana elementary schools is testing the new approach to teacher training and education.

Research in the college focuses on looking for new ways to educate children. At the Center for the Study of Reading, researchers study how people learn to read and comprehend and how to teach them to read. Reading Recovery "takes kids who, left to their own devices, would be barely coping," and helps them before they start to fail, Pearson said. The program, operating since 1988 in first-grade classrooms in the Champaign-Urbana, Springfield and Chicago areas, helps children become independent readers. It has been enormously successful at reducing reading failure.

Another program, the College of Education of Tomorrow, links computers within the college and with schools across the state. This network enables schools to enhance their curriculum while sharing special files.

Illinois is one of the five states involved in a new program, Re: Learning, through the Illinois Alliance for Essential Schools. This program provides a school structure and culture that helps students develop problem-solving and better thinking skills.

The college is also committed to active recruitment and scholarship programs which will attract minorities to the field of education. Currently, the number of minority students is increasing while the number of minority teachers is decreasing. "We need to reverse that trend," Pearson said. "We are committed to this program - it essential to the well-being of our schools."

story by Angie Morgan
layout by Joan Wilson

Alicia Kokkinis, sophomore in ED, gets help from Susan Kent, graduate student in educational psychology, concerning changing a class.

"My advice to incoming freshmen is to take a lot of courses in different areas to be sure of what you want to do and what you want to major in."

W. Chung

College of Engineering offers competition and excellence

The College of Engineering is the second largest undergraduate college on the Urbana-Champaign campus. About 5,300 students are enrolled comprising approximately 20 percent of the undergraduate student body. There are 14 different engineering programs for students, ranging from Aeronautical and Astronautical Engineering to Agricultural Engineering to Nuclear Engineering.

The College of Engineering is known for being ranked as one of the top engineering schools in the nation. In a 1987 U.S. News and World Report survey of American colleges and universities, Illinois' undergraduate and graduate programs were ranked second only to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Because of the college's notoriety, admission is difficult. Nearly 90 percent of engineering students ranked in the top 10 percent of their high school class, had an average ACT score of 29 and an average SAT score of 1260. In addition, many students enter with advanced placement in chemistry, physics and mathematics.

"The level of knowledge that entering freshmen possess is really remarkable," said Carroll Goering, professor of Agricultural Engineering.

Goering worked in industry but left when he was offered the opportunity to teach.

"I keep thinking I'm never going to hear anything different, but each year the students surprise me with fresh, new ideas," he said.

Jeff Helmers, senior in Computer Engineering, believes the level of instruction is outstanding. Helmers enjoys the design aspect of engineering and hopes to specialize in networking or microprocessors when he graduates. Over the summer, he was employed at the National Center for Supercomputing Applications located on the Urbana-Champaign campus.

Over 70 percent of the students that enroll in the college graduate in engineering. About 25 percent of engineering graduates go on to pursue master's and doctoral degrees. Graduates are prepared to move into careers in all types of theoretical and practical engineering.

Helmers described what he feels the College of Engineering is all about: "They teach you the foundation that everything is based on. Then it's up to you to use what you've learned to make new products or to improve existing ones."

story by Stewart Schrof
layout by Joe Durica

Alan Novak, graduate student in ENG, rides the bike he designed for a mechanical engineering class.

photo by Nora Hipolito

"My favorite college memory is the weekend the Illini played Michigan in football."

M. Cox

Elizabeth A. Cich Fairview Heights, CBA
Christine A. Cieslak Schaumburg, COM
Darla Sue Cislighi Herrin, FAA
Andrea M. Ciszewski Orland Park, CBA
Jeffrey W. Claire Watska, AGR
Kevin John Clancy Oak Forest, LAS
Garrett M. Clanton II Quincy, ENG
Suzanne Maria Clark Elmhurst, ED
Andrew James Clausen Hinsdale, FAA
Michelle L. Claypool Greenview, COM
Peter V. Clement Chicago, LAS

Michelle F. Cleveland Hebron, AGR
William S. Cleveland Hampshire, AGR
Holly Suzann Clingan Collin, LAS
Michelle L. Cmelo Chicago Heights, LAS Deirdre Lynn Cobb Chicago, LAS Glenn L. Cobb Altadena, Calif., LAS
Charles R. Coderko Hillside, FAA
Lisa Ann Coffey Aurora, CBA
Andrew Jay Cohen Glenview, FAA
Adrienne Colbert Memphis, Tenn., FAA
Brian Alan Cole Freeburg, COM

Claudine R. Cole Virden, AGR
Debra Cole Fountain Valley, Calif., LAS
James Cole Jr. Chicago, CBA
Ann Jeanette Coleman Ofallon, FAA
Erik C. Coleman Vernon Hills, ENG
Michael John Coleman Naperville, CBA
Rebecca Coleman Indian Head Pk., CBA
Patrick D. Colgan Champaign, LAS Ian Ronald Colle Champaign, LAS
Christopher L. Collins Crystal Lake, CBA
Colleen Ann Collins Palatine, AGR

Erica M. Collins Chicago, LAS
Jennifer M. Collins Mount Prospect, LAS Marshall J. Collins Park Ridge, CBA
Robert Collins Grayslake, FAA
Sandra Rena Collins Marengo, ED
William Carl Collins Mount Vernon, CBA
John P. Collister Mount Prospect, LAS
Carolyn J. Collora Coronado, Calif., CBA
Byron B. Colvis Walsh, ENG
Christopher O. Colvis Chester, ENG
Mary Compagnoni Chicago Heights, ED

Steven Loren Conard Urbana, CBA
Theresa L. Concannon Tinley Park, LAS Jacqueline A. Conley Chicago, LAS
Michael H. Conlon Rock Island, ENG
Lisa Marie Conn Park Ridge, LAS
Lisa E. Connell Inverness, CBA
Madeline Connell Naperville, CBA
John M. Connelly Tinley Park, ENG
Christopher M. Conner Elmhurst, ENG
Marc Andrew Connery Glenwood, LAS Colleen Mary Conniff Chicago, LAS

Margaret M. Connolly Lansing, LAS
Stephanie A. Connolly Deerfield, ENG
Vicki Ann Conoscenti Addison, LAS
James M. Conti Steamwood, ENG
Aaron M. Contorer Deerfield, ENG
Erin Anne Conway McHenry, LAS
Brian P. Cook Rolling Meadows, ENG
Charles Cook Skidaway Island, Ga., LAS
Daniel John Cook Palatine, CBA
Debra Anne Cook Orland Park, CBA
Julia Dawn Cooke Champaign, CBA

Julie A. Cooper Wheaton, CBA
Marc Adam Cooper Urbana, ENG
Sheri L. Cooperman Morton Grove, LAS
Monica R. Copeland Kankakee, COM
Sean R. Copeland Morton Grove, FAA
Diana Marie Corbett Wheaton, LAS
Marla Dawn Cornwell Paris, CBA
Anthony R. Coronado Spring Grove, LAS
David J. Coronado Rosemont, FAA
Sara J. Corrough Lombard, LAS Edmundo P. Cortez Jr. Chicago, LAS

Thomas P. Cosbey Willowbrook, ENG
Mark Louis Cosentino Oak Lawn, CBA
Scott C. Costello Bloomingdale, FAA
Lisa Rae Cotler Northbrook, LAS
Craig Allan Cotton Buffalo Grove, COM
Sharon Denise Coty Chicago, LAS
Katherine S. Coughlin Kenilworth, COM
Peter George Courlas Villa Park, FAA
Troy M. Courson Mansfield, FAA
Timothy R. Couture Glen Ellyn, LAS
David Anthony Cox Yorkville, ENG

Marvin Lee Cox Bismarck, CBA
Julie Ann Craft Dixon, ED
Tamara Jean Craig Clay City, AGR
Amy Christine Crane Coal Valley, FAA
Elaine M. Crawford Grayslake, CBA
Scott W. Crawford Peoria, CBA
Melissa M. Credi Taylorville, CBA
Daniel M. Creinin Cincinnati, Ohio, ENG
Roy John Crettol Orland Park, LAS David Scott Croft Collinsville, LAS Wendy C. Crone Peoria, ENG

photo by Reggie Natividad

"Living in the dorms is my favorite college memory. Because of the camaraderi, you can make lasting friendships and meet people to live with in an apartment after the dorms."

— M. Crook

Professor Sanford Berry hands out reeds in the beginning of each class. The instruments are loaned by the School of Music.

FAA offers wide variety

The College of Fine and Applied Arts offers its 1,907 undergraduate and 731 graduate students a wide variety of educational programs and experiences.

Majors in the college include architecture, art and design, landscape architecture, urban and regional planning, music, theatre and dance.

According to the dean of the college, Jack McKenzie, students in FAA also have the opportunity to participate in programs related to their major while traveling to foreign countries.

Each year, five faculty members and 60 juniors in architecture travel to Versaille, France to study French architecture. According to McKenzie, this is "the oldest running overseas program on campus."

Other past programs have included art and design students spending summers in Tokyo and Poland, and landscape architecture and urban planning students studying for a summer in China.

The college of FAA also boasts a very strong music program. Seven hundred and fifty students are involved, thus making it the largest in the country, McKenzie said.

An advantage of the college is the amount of individual attention students receive. Because of the nature of the coursework, McKenzie said, "A lot of instruction, such as studio music, is on a one-to-one basis."

story by Angie Morgan
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Reggie Natividad

Music 171 Woodwind Instruments is a beginning class for music education majors. Section E teaches the bassoon in the classrooms of the music building.

The Architecture Building houses the offices of the College of FAA as well as Ricker Architecture and Fine Arts library.

photo by Reggie Natividad

Melissa Karen Crook Palatine, LAS Kelly Kathleen Cross Monticello, CBA
 Jean E. Crotty Lockport, LAS
 Gregory B. Crouse Homewood, FAA
 Harry Alan Crowcroft Macomb, CBA
 Joshua A. Crowder Martinsville, ENG
 Todd C. Crowley Naperville, CBA
 Peter Crozier Lake St. Louis, Mo., LAS Steven L. Crozier South Holland, LAS
 Sally Ann Cummins Springfield, AGR
 James G. Cunnar Bartlett, LAS

Brooke Cunningham East Moline, ED
 Sheila Cunningham Buffalo Grove, ALS
 Jennifer Lynn Curtis Palatine, COM
 Yvonne Curtis Lombard, LAS Andrew B. Cutler Highland Park, LAS
 Amy Lyn Cutright Kenney, ED
 Brenda M. Cwikla Orland Park, LAS
 Joseph Cygan Chicago, ENG
 Craig R. Czeklanis Niles, ENG
 Therese M. Czerwinski Normal, ENG
 Anna D'Agostino Melrose Park, CBA

Claudia T. D'Andria Westchester, ED
 MaryHelen D'Anza Melrose Park, ED
 Michael S. D'Errico Flossmoor, ENG
 Sharlene T. Dacanay Ingleside, AGR
 William P. Dagiantis Aurora, LAS
 Michael Dailey Mount Prospect, FAA
 Karen Lee Daily Windsor, AGR
 Anna Kiyomi Daker Peoria, LAS Madelyn Jean Daley Belleville, LAS
 Patricia L. Dallmier Arcola, ENG
 Sean Alan Dalton Monticello, LAS

Yvonne Dammert Urbana, LAS
 Lisa B. Daniszewski Lansing, ENG
 Kimberly Danowski Hoffman, Ests., AGR
 Anthony Datton West Chicago, LAS
 Barry C. Dauber Bloomingdale, ENG
 Timothy P. Daudelin Elmhurst, CBA
 Christopher Dausman Decatur, ENG
 Albert Frank Davis Chicago, ENG
 Alison Anne Davis Springfield, COM
 Amy Marie Davis Salem, AGR
 Arnold Todd Davis Evanston, LAS

Charles Scott Davis Elgin, ENG
 Donna M. Davis Willowbrook, ENG
 Lisa J. Davis Mahomet, LAS
 Philip Alan Davis Armstrong, ED
 Scott N. Davis Georgetown, AGR
 Karen Anne Davlin Park Ridge, LAS
 Jennifer Kay Day Carrollton, AGR
 Jon Matthew Day Lovington, AGR
 Steven D. Day Downers Grove, LAS
 Melissa H. Daza Orland Park, LAS Michael DeGraff Downers Grove, LAS

Juddy Lee Deacetis Skokie, CBA
 Nikki Deciani Hickory Hills, FAA
 Brian Alan Deck Wheeling, LAS
 David L. Decker East Peoria, ENG
 Eric Wade Decker Fairbury, AGR
 Stephen Ray Decker Odin, AGR
 Jason T. Dederich Wadsworth, LAS
 Tammy Lynn Dedert Quincy, AGR
 Mark A. Dees West Frankfort, ENG
 Jeanne Deininger Northbrook, AGR
 Greg William Deist Staunton, ENG

James Delaney Country Club Hills, ENG
 Tracey Delanty Manchester, Mo., CBA
 Eugene Delfiaco Rockford, ENG
 Stephen M. Delisi River Forest, LAS Anny Deliyannis Deerfield, CBA
 Susan Delmedico Schaumburg, ENG
 Michelle L. Demars Northbrook, LAS
 David Dembowski Melrose Park, ENG
 Maria L. Demers Bourbonnais, LAS
 Valerie Sue Demich Wheaton, ED
 James R. Demichael Elk Grove, CBA

Mary C. Deming Champaign, CBA
 Joan Ann Denhart Champaign, LAS Joseph Frank Denner Evanston, LAS
 Deborah M. Dennis Chicago, ENG
 Desiree M. Denoyer Kankakee, LAS Janet Marie Deptuch Oak Park, LAS
 Jeffrey L. Derdiger Brookfield, CBA
 Julie Ann Derosa Calumet City, LAS
 Samir D. Desai St. Charles, CBA
 Sumita Desai Springfield, ALS
 Theresa E. Desalvo Park Ridge, LAS

Nicole A. Desanto Palos Hills, ALS
 Althea Mae Descartin Chicago, CBA
 Chris F. Deutschmann Palatine, FAA
 Dennis Devine Jr. Bloomington, LAS
 Mark T. Devita Streamwood, CBA
 Michael P. Devita Streamwood, CBA
 Reece A. Dewell Clarence, Iowa, AGR
 Christina L. Dewerff Nokomis, LAS
 R. Scott Dexheimer Alsip, LAS
 Walter F. Dexter Metamora, ENG
 Alfredo Jesus Diaz Golden Hills, P.R., ENG

David Diaz Chicago, CBA
 Matthew David Dick Streator, LAS
 James W. Dickman Northbrook, ENG
 Alexander Didato Chicago, LAS
 John William Diehl Wheaton, ENG
 Philip Dierker Farmington, Mo., LAS
 Michael A. Dikelsky Aurora, FAA
 Brian Dillman Richardson, Texas, LAS
 Michael Dillon Chicago Heights, ENG
 Robert Craig Dillow Oakwood, LAS
 Michele Dineen Colona, ED

Ralph J. Dinges Carol Stream, ENG
 Janet Dirienzo Woodridge, ENG
 Chris Diserio Crystal Lake, CBA
 Eric James Ditman Corrollton, ENG
 Maria V. Dixon St. Louis, Mo., CBA
 Tri Cao Do Chicago, ENG
 Thomas E. Dobbels Cambridge, AGR
 Stephanie L. Dodge St. Charles, COM
 Joseph E. Dohany Berwyn, Pa., LAS
 Sharon V. Doheny Mt. Prospect, COM
 Therese Ann Doherty Chicago, LAS

Victoria E. Doke Prairie View, ENG
 David C. Dolnic Westchester, LAS
 Christine A. Dominguez Chicago, AVI
 Douglas C. Dominiak Chicago, ENG
 Jeffrey W. Donels Springfield, ENG
 Patrick Donoghue Barrington, LAS
 Ann Marie Donohue Elmhurst, COM
 Daniel F. Donovan Cerritos, Calif., ALS
 James E. Donovan Oak Park, LAS Jane M. Donovan Northbrook, LAS
 James Gregory Doolin Lincoln, FAA

Natalie Marie Doom Springfield, COM
 Rivanda Doss Chicago, LAS Timothy Sean Dougan Chicago, LAS
 Elizabeth L. Douglas Urbana, ENG
 Deborah L. Douglass Forrest, ALS
 Timothy Jon Dow Rockford, ENG
 Jill M. Dowling Lincoln, AGR
 Patrick Joseph Doyle Glen Ellyn, LAS Regina Marie Doyle Chicago, LAS
 Karen Marie Drabot Palatine, CBA
 Kimberly Kay Draeger Macomb, ENG

David G. Drawer St. Charles, LAS
 Justine A. Dremuk Edwardsville, FAA
 Peter Michael Drozt Barrington, ENG
 Beth Andrea Dubek Gages Lake, CBA
 Steven Duberstein Buffalo Grove, LAS
 Kimberly A. Duckett La Grange, ENG
 Katherine Eve Duda Chicago, LAS
 Jonathan Dudas Downers Grove, CBA
 Victor A. Dudzik Bogart, GA, LAS
 Steven Allan Due Calendonia, ENG
 Brent Michael Duell Mt. Olive, CBA

Steven Duenser Mt. Prospect, LAS
 Sheila K. Duernit Northbrook, ED
 Michelle M. Duerr Westchester, LAS Mark Andrew Duin Rock Island, LAS
 Staci Ann Duitsman St. Joseph, CBA
 Carla Rae Dulaney Aledo, LAS Venguanette Dulaney Chicago, ENG
 Dustin Dumas Aurora, CBA
 Scott Allen Dummer Bonfield, FAA
 Cynthia O. Duncan Waterloo, ENG
 Erick Lee Duncan Moro, ENG

Sandra K. Dunford Champaign, LAS Becky Gerette Dunn Elk Grove, LAS
 Robert M. Dunn Champaign, LAS
 Pamela Linn Dunnuck Decatur, CBA
 Katherine Q. Duong Cicero, ENG
 David Duque Champaign, AGR
 James C. Duran Arvada, Colo., ENG
 Veronica E. Durham Dolton, CBA
 Deanne M. Durko Lake Zurich, AGR
 Muriel P. Duster Chicago, ENG
 Susan Beth Dustmann Staunton, ENG

Dawn Denise Dutz Lincoln, CBA
 Linda Marie Duval Herscher, LAS
 Michael D. Duvall Batavia, ENG
 Bridget Anne Dwyer Decatur, LAS Charles Dyer Danville, LAS
 Robin Beth Dynner Deerfield, LAS
 Christine L. Dzik Naperville, CBA
 Theresa A. Eagleson Mattoon, LAS
 Susan Eappen Burr Ridge, CBA
 Christina Easterling Urbana, CBA
 Anthony R. Ebbels Schaumburg, CBA

James Victor Ebel II Aurora, FAA
 Christine M. Eberman Antioch, CBA
 Jamie Lynn Eckardt Chicago, AGR
 Nancy J. Eckhardt Hopedale, AGR
 Mary J. Eckroth Evergreen Park, LAS
 Thomas Eddington Springfield, FAA
 Julie Ann Edgar Tinley Park, COM
 Lyn Marie Edmonson New Lenox, CBA
 Daniel E. Edwards St. Joseph, CBA
 John I. Edwards Rolling Meadows, LAS Keith M. Edwards St. Louis, Mo., ENG

"I hate the burcacracy that allows teachers who care more about research and don't give a damn about students to continue teaching here."

—M. Dineen

College of LAS: college gives well-rounded education

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the largest and third oldest college at the University of Illinois. It enrolls over 12,000 students in the Science and Letters curriculum each semester and offers baccalaureate degrees in over 35 major areas of concentration.

But Michelle Cmelo, senior in psychology, said that the college's size is both good and bad for its students.

"I like the fact that the college has a lot to offer and that I'm getting a broad education," she said, "but it's so big that it's hard not to just feel like a number."

According to Cmelo, most students receive the individual treatment they need in their own curricula's office, not the LAS office. "I know I only deal with my major's own office; I don't think there's a lot of cohesiveness in the college as a whole."

In order for an LAS student to earn a degree, he must meet 10 specific graduation requirements. Within four years, the student must complete a certain number of English, foreign language and general education courses, not to mention the required number of hours in his declared major. An average LAS student needs a minimum of 120 credit hours to graduate, but some majors in the specialized curricula require as many as 132 hours.

In order to graduate, LAS students need to keep an overall G.P.A. of 3.0 based on the 5.0 scale. They also need to keep a 3.0 in their major. When these tasks are accomplished, a student may receive a degree. But with this maze of complicated steps, it's easy to get lost along the way. If this does happen, the college can provide help.

The LAS Student Academic Affairs Office is there to assist students in the college of LAS. Deans are always available for counseling and for leading students down the right path towards graduation.

"I've gotten to know some of my counselors pretty well," Cmelo said. "They are pretty knowledgeable about matching the classes which are of interest to me career-wise and also fill a requirement."

The LAS educational objective is stated in the 1989-1990 LAS handbook: "The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences recommends a way and a kind of learning which will move you beyond immediate interests and current knowledge into the world of ideas; an education which not only trains your mind and provides you with knowledge but develops you as a whole person and makes you resilient enough to grow and meet the challenge of accelerated change which will confront you throughout your life."

story by Chris Canavan
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Nora Hipolito

Barb Shepherd, senior in ALS, and Stephen Lippitz, senior in LAS, take advantage of extra time between classes to study in an empty room in Lincoln Hall.

"My favorite college memory was getting my acceptance letter because I'm 33 and many people were surprised I was accepted."
N. Edwards

Ikenberry: A big actor behind the scenes

The 1989-90 Academic School Year marked the 10th anniversary for the University of Illinois' President Stanley Ikenberry, and it provides an excellent opportunity to reflect upon his position.

What exactly does a university president do? U of I students are somewhat confused.

"What decisions does he (Ikenberry) make?" asked Katie McGowan, senior in LAS. Her concern is that Ikenberry, along with the rest of the school's administrators, make decisions only in a corporate sense. Not that this is necessarily wrong she said, but where is the interaction with the students?

"I've heard his name tossed out," laughed Ernie Estella, junior in LAS. He readily admits to his ignorance about what the president does.

Paul Nibbio, senior in LAS, doesn't think ignorance is bad, however. With a university so large the head decision maker has a lot to do.

"Just because he's not visible it doesn't mean that he isn't doing his job," he said.

Whatever your thoughts, be sure that Ikenberry came to us well qualified. His credentials are many.

Ikenberry came to his present position in 1979 from Pennsylvania State University where he was vice president. His own education includes degrees from Shepherd College in West Virginia and Michigan State.

His experience includes, co-chair of the Illinois' Governor's Commission on Science and Technology, trustee and chairman of the Carnegie Foundation for Advancement in Teaching, and just this year, president of the American Council on Education. (And this is in no way a complete list.)

Just as this anniversary provides us with an opportunity to reflect, it also gives the president a chance to make a self-evaluation.

Ikenberry said, for himself, the biggest challenge in the last 10 years has been "securing the financial support and the public recognition the university deserves."

In the new decade building the university's prominence is first in his mind. He wants to see it become "second to none."

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Debbie Siegel

President Stanley Ikenberry waves to the crowd after receiving an award on November 11, 1989, at the Illini vs. Michigan football game.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Nancy Marie Edwards St. Joseph, ED
Douglas P. Egbers Olympia Fields, ENG
Timothy C. Eggers Lisle, LAS
John W. Ehler Jr. Naperville, LAS Elizabeth Anne Ehlig Barrington, LAS Astrid Eichner West Hill, Canada, CBA
Christopher Eichorn Alton, CBA
Lynn Marie Eicken Danville, LAS
Charles A. Eilers Kewanee, ENG
Lorie M. Eiskamp Rantoul, CBA
Susan K. Eitel Arlington Hgts., LAS

Wendy Sue Eklund Champaign, AGR
Jennifer L. Ekstrom Hoffman Ests., LAS Rochelle Y. Elijah Morton, LAS
Jeffrey C. Ellerbrock Quincy, AGR
Charles R. Ellington Villa Grove, LAS
Carolyn E. Elliott Glen Ellyn, CBA
David M. Elliott Centralia, LAS
Dawn Leigh Elliott Homewood, ENG
Kelly M. Elliott Wheaton, CBA
David Wayne Ellis Downers Grove, CBA
Diane Lyne Ellis Normal, CBA

Laurie Sue Ellsworth Champaign, ALS
Colette Marie Elsen Hickory Hills, LAS
Mark James Endre Glendale Hts., ENG
Kristin Joy Eneberg Addison, ALS
Keith Todd Eng Waukegan, LAS Jodi Sue Engbert German Valley, AGR
Marcy A. Engebretson Frankfort, CBA
Kevin Roy Engel Arlington Hts., FAA
Julie M. Engelmann Woodstock, ALS
Jennifer M. England Joliet, LAS
Kimberly J. Engman Mundelein, LAS

Mark Engstrom Elmwood Park, LAS Cathleen Ann Enstrom Oak Park, ED
Glenn Lewis Enz Worden, LAS
Cheryl Erdman W. Lafayette, Ind., LAS
Elizabeth A. Erdmann Hinsdale, CBA
Timothy K. Erickson Urbana, ENG
Brian Lee Estes Mt. Juliet, Tenn., CBA
Matthew James Estes Raleigh, N.C., LAS
Maria E. Estrada Chicago, CBA
Patricia A. Etzkorn Lisle, CBA
Jane Marie Evans Beltsville, Md., ENG

Jennifer Evans Wayne, ED
Woodrow K. Evans Albany, Ga., ENG
Daniel P. Even Downers Grove, ENG
Jody Kathryn Evenson St. Charles, FAA
William C. Eves Ballwin, Mo., ENG
Gary James Faber Mt. Morris, LAS
Paul David Falconio Westville, FAA
Thaddeus Farbis Jr. Chicago, CBA
Krista Joanne Faries Glen Ellyn, LAS
Kimberly Ann Fasana Berwyn, CBA
Robert A. Fasano Northbrook, LAS

Robert Charles Faust Riverside, FAA
Maynard P. Favila Palos Heights, LAS Daniel Joseph Fedor Summit, LAS
Thomas M. Feldsien Cary, FAA
Matthew Wayne Fell Wheaton, ENG
Lynette Sue Felsman East Moline, CBA
Amanda Felts Champaign, ALS
Dewayne Allan Fender Milan, ENG
Nancy Jean Fendley Arlington Hts., LAS
Karen R. Fenske Morton Grove, COM
Patrick Ferguson Hoffman Estates, ENG

Tony D. Ferguson Martinsville, ENG
Adriana R. Ferlaak Marietta, Ga., FAA
Michael F. Ferraro Franklin Park, CBA
Douglas A. Ferreira Richton Park, LAS
Alvin Solano Ferrer Chicago, ENG
Steven Fessenbecker Glen Ellyn, ENG
Donald J. Fiala Itasca, LAS
Melanie S. Fialkowski Chicago, AGR
Mary C. Ficker Springfield, AGR
Mitzi Diane Ficker Springfield, LAS Antoinette M. Field La Grange, AGR

Diana Lynn Field Skokie, LAS
Diane Lynn Figiel Urbana, ENG
Peter A. Figiel Urbana, LAS Luce Ann Fikejs Westchester, LAS Maria Irene Finatri St. Charles, LAS Rindy Lynn Finch Carmi, CBA
Susan Abigail Fine N. Tarrytown, N.Y., ED
Daniel Scott Fink Winthrop Harbor, LAS Andrew K. Finley Shorewood, LAS
Scott William Finley Elburn, CBA
Elaine T. Fiolka Joliet, ENG

Lisa Joan Fischer Highland Park, LAS
Michael J. Fischer Champaign, LAS
Christopher J. Fisher Naperville, CBA
Stacey Ann Fisher Libertyville, ALS
Kimberly Fitzgerald Alsip, LAS
Bruce Flachsbarth Chesterfield, Mo., ENG
Kevin Flagg Hoffman Estates, LAS Beverly J. Flaherty Lake in the Hills, LAS Patricia A. Flaherty Chicago, LAS
Kimberly M. Flak Naperville, COM
Laura M. Flanigan New Lenox, FAA

Julie C. Flannery Park Ridge, LAS
 Mary Kristine Fleck Dolton, ED
 Thomas John Fleck Flossmoor, ENG
 David Fleischmann Omaha, Neb., LAS
 Jan E. Flessner Rantoul, FAA
 Roger William Fliege Springfield, ENG
 Kelly Rae Flynn Downers Grove, LAS
 John Enda Folan Park Ridge, FAA
 Ronald James Fouby Mundelein, LAS Kurt Alan Foote Woodstock, LAS
 David Vincent Forbes Urbana, ENG

Michael F. Ford Glen Ellyn, LAS
 Paul Robert Forsberg Naperville, LAS
 Carin E. Forshier Hoopston, CBA
 Candace Fortune North Chicago, LAS
 Michael Jon Foster Towanda, AGR
 Sebastian E. Fournes Champaign, SW
 Donna Laquita Fowler Chicago, CBA
 Felicia M. Fox Highland Park, LAS
 Laura Fay Fox Carbondale, ALS
 Alan Fozailoff Chicago, LAS
 Shelly Jo Frailey Brownstown, COM

Heather M. Francis Park Ridge, LAS Benjamin Frank Highland Park, LAS Karen L. Frank Murphysboro, LAS
 Laura Renee Frank Batchtown, COM
 Robert M. Frank Northbrook, ENG
 Erin M. Franklin Boody, LAS Liza Marie Franklin Chicago, LAS
 Penny M. Franklin Chicago, LAS
 Jeffrey B. Frantz Lincoln, LAS Sarah Lynn Franz Rock Island, LAS Catherine Frauenheim Downers Grove, LAS

Brian C. Frederick Barrington, LAS Jeffery W. Freeman Crystal Lake, LAS
 Sarah Jeanne Freitag Elk Grove Village, ED
 Scott Curtis French Champaign, LAS Rhonda Lynne Freund Crystal Lake, LAS
 Suann Patrice Frey Highland, CBA
 Darren Friedman Staten Island, N.Y., CBA
 Mark James Friedman Chicago, LAS Richard Friedman Rolling Meadows, LAS
 Joelle Claire Friese Urbana, COM
 Andrea Joy Frigo Orland Park, LAS

Stefan A. Frisch Arlington Heights, LAS
 Nancy Ann Frison Byron, ED
 Mary Kay Froegel Chicago, COM
 Cynthia Jo Froman Chrisman, ENG
 Patrick Dennis Frost Dixon, LAS Keith E. Fruehling Hoffman Estates, LAS
 Douglas R. Fuelne Hillsboro, ENG
 Richard W. Fuller Jr. Oak Lawn, LAS Roger Nathan Fuller Lynnwood, Wash., LAS
 Scott Randall Fuqua Park Forest, CBA
 Kirsten Gabriel St. Charles, AGR

Alicia C. Gaca Chicago, ALS
 Christine M. Gadbois Oak Forest, CBA
 Catherine L. Gaertner Ames, Iowa, COM
 Elizabeth Kay Gaik Crystal Lake, LAS
 Bridget M. Gainer Chicago, LAS Matthew B. Gairani Springfield, LAS
 Anne M. Gallagher Dundee, CBA
 William J. Gallagher Elmhurst, ENG
 John A. Gallardo Chicago, ENG
 Carla Marie Galvez Orland Park, LAS
 Valerie Lynn Gamino Chicago, CBA

Timothy Gannon Western Springs, LAS Brian James Gansmann West Chicago, CBA
 Ferdinand P. Garcia Northbrook, LAS Marcos E. Garcia Rio Piedras, P.R., LAS Kerry Frances Gard Elk Grove, ENG
 Lori B. Gardberg Buffalo Grove, CBA
 Christy Gardner Matteson, LAS Karen Kris Gardner Newman, LAS Gay Nell Garoutte Wheaton, LAS
 Angela Sue Garrett Peoria, FAA
 Diane C. Garrison Danville, LAS

Annette Gasior Palos Heights, LAS Melissa Ann Gast New Lenox, LAS
 Karl Rudolf Gangel St. Charles, ENG
 Kevin John Gaughan Streamwood, ENG
 Michael E. Gaughan Homewood, LAS
 Julie A. Gauvreau Prospect Heights, ENG
 Judy Lynne Gawlik Dolton, CBA
 Susan Leda Gearhart Libertyville, LAS
 Kenneth J. Gearin Crystal Lake, LAS
 Thomas M. Gehring Galesburg, AGR
 Kelly Marie Geier Peoria, CBA

Candice M. Geisler Justice, COM
 David R. Geller Louisville, Ky., ENG
 Scott J. Genutis Hinsdale, LAS
 Deborah Lynn George Urbana, ED
 Emily Ann George Riverside, AGR
 Gina Lynn Geovanes Champaign, LAS
 Laura Gerardy Olympia Fields, FAA
 Rhonda Kay Gerber Hoopole, LAS
 Ray Ward Gerfen Freeburg, AGR
 Matthew J. Gerhart Pittsburgh, Pa., ENG
 Monica Maria Gerth Evanston, LAS

"My favorite aspect about the U of I is the diversity of the Champaign and Urbana communities. Both offer lots of things to do."

—D. Forbes

Survey makes media crazy

On Feb. 6, 1990, the Office of the Dean of Students released the results of the Sexually Stressful Events Survey. Within a week, the U of I had made the front page of local papers as well as The Chicago Tribune, and Oprah Winfrey invited several students to sit on a panel for a show dealing with sexual assault on university campuses.

What was all the fuss?

The survey, sent to a random sample of 1,460 undergraduate women in Spring, 1989, had 537 women respond to its questions on forced intercourse, sexual harassment, obscene phone calls and public exposure.

The results were shocking, said Carolyn Palmer, assistant professor of Health and Safety Studies but similar to what is happening on campuses nationwide. Forty percent of the respondents said they had been victims of sexual assault while on the campus.

Palmer and Mary Ellen O'Shaughnessey, assistant dean of students, developed the survey.

The survey also found:

- 13.2 percent of the respondents said they had been raped;
- 3.2 percent reported they were victims of sexual assault involving anal or oral sex;
- 23.1 percent reported they were victims of criminal sexual abuse (in these cases penetration was not achieved);
- 50.8 percent of the total incidents involved "complete strangers;"
- 49.2 percent involved friends, classmates, dates or boyfriends;
- 71 percent of the women who described sexual assaults said they had been drinking;
- 82 percent said the males had been drinking;
- 63 percent of the 54 sexual assaults were reportedly committed by fraternity men;
- 71 percent of the sexual abuse cases were said to have involved fraternity members.

After compiling the data, Palmer said a task force was formed to develop suggestions for the administration. It was this 22 page report from the task force, specifically two lines suggesting the elimination of the Illinettes, that led to most of the press coverage, said Palmer.

This was unfortunate. "The study we did had absolutely nothing to do with the Illinettes," she said.

Palmer believed the press focused on the dance squad so their stories would sell.

"We have uncovered a serious problem, and thanks to the press it's a fiasco," she said.

Illinettes' co-captain Kim Stanley, senior in LAS, said she thinks the task force had great intentions but she disagrees with the suggestion involving her group.

"Eliminating the Illinettes won't eliminate the problem," said Stanley. Both she and Palmer hope by the end of the semester the university will focus on the problem itself and start improving the educational resources on sexual assault.

Being an Illinette has only been a positive experience for Stanley. She said she's been dancing and wearing costumes since she was a kid.

"I'm not offended. If I were, I wouldn't still be doing it (dance)."

She believes the press coverage has actually boosted support for her organization.

Another focus of concern is the Greek System's involvement and the role alcohol plays in these incidents.

Natalie Kosson, president of Panhellenic Council and junior in LAS, said she was shocked by the numbers, but Panhel and the Inter Fraternity Council (IFC) are already taking steps to improve the situation in their system.

Recently, the Social Awareness Committee (SAC) was formed by Panhellenic to aid the IFC's counterpart the Social Responsibility Committee (SRC) in policing all fraternity parties.

"It was a big step for the university to do a survey like this," said Kosson, "but they're (the press) focusing on the wrong things."

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Joan Wilson

Education majors test their skills in classrooms

As the saying goes, 90 percent of what you learn in college comes from outside the classroom. While that might be true, at least one major may choose to argue.

It is in grade school and high school classrooms that education majors put to the test everything they've learned and come away with an invaluable experience.

To graduate, seniors must spend one semester student teaching.

Jami Cottingham, senior in Education, is spending her last semester at Wiley School in Urbana.

"They (professors) have told us we're ready," said Cottingham, who believes the experience will polish her skills.

"You can never tell if you're ready. You have to go out and get it (experience)," she said.

Professor Sheryl Benson, who oversees the student teaching program, said there is a new option opened to education majors.

This year, in cooperation with the Urbana schools, the university has developed the Urbana year long project where student teaching is only one aspect of the experience.

Students do their junior practicum and student teaching back to back their senior year. In addition, they attend method courses which are taught in a team effort by U of I faculty and Urbana teachers.

Benson said 18 students participated this year and 27 students have enrolled for next year's program.

The advantage of this program, Benson said, is "much more direct interaction (with students) for a longer time."

Barb McMillan, a second grade teacher at Prairie School in Urbana, is one of the teachers participating in the year long program. So far, she's impressed with the new program's results.

"They (the student teachers) all feel better about it (teaching)," she said. When the student teachers come into the classroom they "warm up to the children right away."

Benson doesn't see the year long program replacing the traditional semester student teaching in the near future. Right now it's just another option.

Whichever program students choose, Cottingham thinks the U of I has prepared future educators well, and student teaching will be one of the most beneficial experiences of their preparation.

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Joe Durica

Tricia Lewis, junior in art education, helps two grade school students with their art project while student teaching.

photo by Jeff Miller

"I think my favorite college memory is when I got two sacks against Wisconsin."

K. Gregus

Amy Sue Geschwind Dwight, LAS
Barry Thomas Gibson Salem, LAS
Joel Price Gibson Hoffman Estates, CBA
Kathryn J. Gibson Belvidere, COM
Catherine A. Giesel Wheaton, CBA
Daniel F. Gizano Franklin Park, LAS Gary Robert Gilbert Lake Zurich, LAS Scott Gillday, Jr. Arlington Heights, LAS Anne Elizabeth Gile Rockford, CBA
Arvin S. Gill Peoria, LAS
Thomas E. Gill III Rockford, ENG

Daniel Jose Gilland Grayslake, LAS
Robert D. Gilland Arlington Heights, CBA
Jeannine S. Gilleran Chicago, FAA
Michael J. Gilmartin Oak Brook, CBA
Michael Frank Gin Mount Prospect, LAS Cassandra Lee Giroux Oak Park, LAS Laura Glassman N. Miami Beach, Fla., LAS Steven C. Glasson Palos Hills, LAS Donna Jane Glenn McNabb, LAS Molly Ann Glenn Naperville, LAS David E. Glennon Bloomington, LAS

Amy N. Goberville Deerfield, LAS
Charles Ronald Godby East Peoria, ENG
Johnathan F. Goddard Benton, LAS
Steven Paul Goel Mount Prospect, CBA
Carrie Lynn Goerne Des Plaines, COM
Kari Anne Goettsche Inverness, CBA
Jill Marie Goetz Franklin Park, LAS Linda M. Gogola Oak Forest, ENG
Christine Goin Champaign, ED
Stephanie Kay Goins Lawrenceville, CBA
Lori B. Gold Tempe, Az., ENG

Nathaniel Golden Evanston, ALS
Debby Goldman Highland Park, LAS
Andrea B. Goldstein Northbrook, CBA
John Patrick Goldstein Effingham, ENG
Louis R. Goldstein Palm Beach, Fla., ENG
Marc Goldstein Des Plaines, LAS
Scott Goldstein Northbrook, LAS
Timothy J. Golen Libertyville, COM
Martin R. Gonzalez Chicago, LAS Yvette Gonzalez Wheeling, LAS
Timothy M. Goodall Clarendon Hills, ENG

David Alan Goodell Prophetstown, AGR
Shawn E. Goodman Schaumburg, LAS
Chris M. Goodsnyder Champaign, LAS Sharon Lynn Gorden Oak Brook, LAS
Katherine S. Gorman Washington, CBA
Sally Ann Gorney Elmwood Park, FAA
Michael Eric Gorrell Creve Coeur, ENG
Daniel Paul Gorski Morton Grove, ENG
Donna Marie Gorski Park Ridge, AGR
Erika Lee Gosker Brookfield, CBA
Jane Elizabeth Goss Galesburg, AGR

David Alan Gottardo Franklin Park, ENG
Chris Alcuin Gould Chillicothe, ENG
Michael Gould Buffalo Grove, FAA
Richard D. Goulding Oakwood, LAS
Kathryn Ann Goy Downers Grove, COM
Cathy Ann Grabowski Midlothian, CBA
Kenneth C. Grafty Hanover Park, FAA
Catherine D. Graham Springfield, ED
James Edward Graham Springfield, FAA
Laura Jill Graham Miami, Fla., FAA
Michael J. Graham Pearl, AGR

Deborah D. Grandcolas Belleville, CBA
Alicia Marisa Grant Vernon Hills, FAA
Kelly Moore Grant Champaign, LAS
Paul Stuart Grant Wauconda, LAS
Jon Wesley Gray Hot Springs, Ark., AGR
Mary Lisa Gray Ingleside, LAS
Tonya Elizabeth Gray Waukegan, AGR
Jody R. Greathouse Stanford, COM
Jeffery J. Grebner Metamora, ENG
Melanie Ann Greeley Loves Park, AGR
Charles Arthur Green Chicago, ENG

Edward J. Green III Urbana, FAA
Kathleen A. Green Camp Grove, CBA
Mary E. Green Decatur, LAS Michael Joseph Green Geneva, LAS
Randi B. Greenberg Highland Park, COM
Heather G. Greenfield O'Fallon, ED
Lorenzo Kevin Greer Chicago, CBA
Craig David Greeson Neoga, ENG
Jennifer J. Gregory Naperville, COM
Kristina Sue Gregory Alexis, LAS
Scott Allen Gregory Northlake, COM

Kurt Gregus Hickory Hills, CBA
Wendy Lynn Grethen Deerfield, LAS
David E. Griesheimer Waukegan, FAA
Janet Marie Griffith Aurora, LAS
Christopher W. Grimes Bloomington, ENG
Cary Louis Grimmer Laprairie, ENG
Barbara G. Grisell Urbana, LAS Jay Lloyd Grisland Freeport, LAS
John Gregory Grissom Glen Ellyn, LAS Scott David Groesch Springfield, LAS
Thomas W. Grogan Hazel Crest, CBA

Michael B. Gronberg Wheaton, IAS
 Kristie Gronowski South Holland, IAS
 Wendy Lynn Gronowold Chicago, ENG
 Sara L. Grootwassink Waukegan, CBA
 Lynn Marie Gross Roselle, ED
 Marcy A. Gruber Edison, N.J., CBA
 Mark R. Gruber New Lenox, ENG
 Elizabeth Grushkin St. Charles, IAS
 Gina Marie Gualandi Granville, IAS
 Jason Guard Lawrenceburg, Ind., IAS
 Margaret Guell Columbia, Mo., ENG

Eric Todd Gugger Freeport, IAS
 Rebecca Gumble Springfield, IAS
 George R. Gunning Brighton, Tenn., ENG
 Tod Lawton Gunter Brentwood, Tenn., IAS
 Jane F. Gurecki Hoffman Estates, IAS
 Jennifer Guss Cherry Hill, N.J., COM
 Kimberly Gustine Jacksonville, CBA
 Krystyna Gut Northlake, IAS
 Mark Gutzmer Prospect Heights, IAS
 Maximilian Guzman East Moline, IAS
 Mark Alan Gwaltney Oak Brook, ENG

Elaine M. Gwynn Schaumburg, ENG
 Jason Scott Gylling Chicago, IAS
 Amy Elizabeth Haag Kempton, CBA
 Michael Edward Haag Emington, AGR
 Thomas C. Haag Yorkville, ENG
 Tracy Jo Haaland Lisle, IAS
 Ronald Haarmann Edwardsville, AGR
 Bruce E. Hackett Des Plaines, ENG
 Gary Lee Hadden Jacksonville, AGR
 Heather Lynn Hafer Frankfort, IAS
 Lisa Ann Hafner Washington, ED

Ruth Mary Hageman Deer Grove, IAS
 Cheryl L. Hagneier Quincy, IAS
 Jennifer Kay Hahn Edwardsville, CBA
 Jennifer Renee Hahn Glenview, CBA
 Matthew M. Hahn Arlington Hts., ED
 Cara Lynn Hainline Catlin, ED
 Michi A. Haire E. Saint Louis, COM
 Donna Hajduk Round Lake Park, AGR
 Kathryn L. Hajek Villa Park, IAS
 Clayton Haldeman Downers Grove, FAA
 Christine L. Hale Downers Grove, ED

David William Hall Mt. Carmel, IAS
 Andrea Halperin Highland Park, AGR
 Thomas Gerard Hamill Palatine, IAS
 Donnavieve Hamilton Calumet City, AGR
 Grant S. Hamilton Arlington Hts., ENG
 James Heath Hamilton Olney, FAA
 James L. Hamilton Jr. Urbana, FAA
 Susan E. Hammersley Wilmette, FAA
 Timothy C. Hammons Oak Ridge, Tenn., ED
 Sharva Y. Hampton Bogalusa, La., SW
 Mary Irene Hance Tuscola, AGR

Karyn V. Hanisch Chicago, COM
 Richard E. Hank Bartonville, ENG
 Sara Hannagan Barrington, CBA
 Christopher P. Hanlon Elmhurst, IAS
 Jennifer L. Hansen Naperville, ENG
 Mark Tracy Hansen Decatur, IAS
 James Arthur Hansing Elgin, FAA
 Deanna Marie Hanson Plano, IAS
 Eric Leif Hanson Dixon, IAS
 James Hanson III Crystal Lake, CBA
 Jennifer M. Hanson Barrington, ENG

Mark R. Hanson Melrose Park, ENG
 Mashaune L. Hardy Chicago, COM
 Thomas Allen Hardy Ashland, ENG
 Timothy Hardy Mount Prospect, ENG
 Katherine L. Harenza Chicago, CBA
 Rachel Jean Harker Wilmette, IAS
 Joanne Lynn Harlin Chicago, AGR
 William J. Harrington Normal, ENG
 Brian Paul Harris Oswego, IAS
 Ladon A. Harris Dolton, IAS
 Roger Alan Harris Tuscola, IAS

Cailin M. Harrison Lincolnshire, COM
 Rebecca L. Harrison Belvidere, IAS
 Traci Lynn Hart Montgomery, ED
 Brian J. Hartigan Naperville, IAS
 Michael J. Hartigan Naperville, ENG
 Beth Ann Hartke Buckley, IAS
 Christopher Hartke Teutopolis, AGR
 M. Deborah Hartman Champaign, AGR
 Robin Hartmann Aurora, ED
 Stephanie L. Hartmann Elgin, ED
 Heather Rae Hartwig Peoria, AGR

Victoria Hartwig Schaumburg, AGR
 Deborah L. Harvey Des Plaines, CBA
 Elaine Renee Harvey Pekin, CBA
 Timothy W. Hauser Tiskilwa, CBA
 Donald J. Hastings Monticello, IAS
 Toshiro Hata Nishinomiya, Japan, IAS
 Elaine S. Hausch Chicago, CBA
 Jennifer E. Hauser Kenilworth, IAS
 Jeffrey O. Havis Chicago, CBA
 Janet Lynn Havlik Oak Lawn, CBA
 Julisa Haw Vernon Hills, IAS

"My favorite college memory is the first time I got drunk."
— M. Guell

Museum provides journey to distant lands

"If you are making a jar of pickled fish, please send me one too," wrote Lucius to Apolinarius.

This quote is taken from a letter written almost 2,000 years ago. The letter, written on papyrus, is displayed in the Egyptian gallery of the World Heritage Museum, along with many other authentic Egyptian treasures.

The World Heritage Museum, located in 484 Lincoln Hall, was established in 1911 as part of the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Originally a Classical and North European Museum, it has expanded tremendously in the last 20 years to include more than 25,000 items from various parts of the world.

"The bulk of the museum is authentic," said director Barbara Bohen. "Although many of the large casts are replicas, all the pieces encased in glass are original artifacts."

Because the museum's five unique galleries provide insight into a number of different cultures, it is often used as an educational device.

"Thousands of school children take field-trips to the museum each year, and many professors use it as a supplement to courses in art history, classics and journalism," said Bohen.

Upon entering the museum, numerous masks, textiles and pottery may be seen in the adjoining Oriental, African and New World gallery.

A Chinese Imperial Summer Robe, embroidered with blue silk and gold thread, hangs gracefully while depicting the five-clawed dragon worn only by emperors. It was thought to belong to the Imperial House of Kuang Hau, the last Manchu emperor, during the late 19th and early 20th centuries.

Fertility dolls once belonging to the young Ashanti brides of Ghana, West Africa, now rest undisturbed in a nearby case. The women carried the mysterious dolls in the back of their skirts to ensure pregnancy and healthy offspring.

For those interested in the origins of Chief Illiniwek, the university's symbol, the gallery also contains a figure depicting an Illini Indian, whose tribe originated in the Kaskaskia village near Starved Rock.

Moving on, the Parthenon, C-U style, emphasizes the artistic achievements of ancient Greece. A cast of the Parthenon frieze, located on the Acropolis hill in the center of Athens and dedicated to the goddess Athena, runs along 168 feet of this gallery. The cast was made from molds created 200 years ago and preserves many figures which have been damaged on the original frieze.

Notable items in the Roman gallery include elegant wall paintings, marble tombstones, wax writing tablets and delicate ceramic and glass vases.

One rather large vase depicts the Lords of the Underworld, Hades and Persephone, as they dwell in their palace surrounded by the Blessed and the Damned.

Model ships of intricate detail, beautiful stained glass panels and dignified suits of armor may all be found in the European gallery.

For example, the three-quarters suit of armor, worn by German cavalymen in the early part of the 17th century, appears here in all its glory. These are merely a few examples of the treasures awaiting your exploration at the World Heritage Museum.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Lisa Shapiro

Michelangelo's David greets visitors as they enter the World Heritage Museum.

Stephen Carl Hawkins Cameron, AGR
 Victoria J. Hawley Palos Heights, LAS Christopher A. Hay Lindenhurst, LAS Donald Ervin Hayes Aurora, LAS Andrew S. Hayman Woodridge, LAS
 Urana C. Hayne Montgomery, CBA
 George R. Haynes Springfield, LAS Julie Lynn Hays Naperville, LAS Laura Jeanne Hays Naperville, LAS Eric Allan Hayteher Mohne, ENG
 Jill Leigh Hayward Rochester, AGR

Stephanie Healy West Dundee, LAS
 Tamara Marie Healy Springfield, ALS
 Douglass Heathcock Flossmoor, LAS
 James B. Heaton III Mt. Sterling, LAS Craig M. Heavener Champaign, LAS
 Holly Ann Heavlin Orland Park, ED
 Brad William Heiler Lena, ENG
 Brent T. Heilman Oak Forest, ENG
 Randall John Hein Northridge, Calif. ENG
 Bartholomew D. Heine Wilmette, LAS
 Kathryn M. Heinz Arlington Hts. ALS

Douglas M. Heithoff Elmhurst, LAS
 Clifford E. Helfrich Bellville, ENG
 Mark Eugene Helland Elgin, CBA
 Scott W. Hellmer Murphysboro, ENG
 Barton M. Helmick Peoria, ENG
 Kristen R. Helms Buffalo Grove, ED
 James M. Hemmerle Northlake, ENG
 Anna L. Henderson Palos Park, LAS
 Lyle Kent Henderson Sullivan, ENG
 Stephen S. Henderson Marion, AGR
 Linda L. Hendricks Sycamore, CBA

Russell Hendricks Round Lake Beach, AGR
 Britt A. Hendricksen Plainfield, ENG
 David F. Heine Des Plaines, FAA
 Matthew S. Henriksen Lisle, CBA
 Richard Wayne Henry Urbana, ENG
 Scott Thomas Henry Wheaton, LAS
 Theresa Ann Henry Pesotum, LAS Ellen Hergenrother Chicago, LAS Todd Michael Herges Champaign, LAS Laura Hermesner Glencoe, Mo., LAS Michele R. Hernandez Chicago, LAS

Jean Adele Herr Chatham, ED
 Andrea Lynn Herried Belvidere, LAS Angela K. Herrington Matttoon, LAS
 Beth Ann Herschbach Tonopah, Nev. ENG
 Susan C. Herzberger Lombard, LAS
 Michael E. Herzog Lincolnwood, LAS Cheryl Kay Hess Rockford, LAS Jeffrey Hetttenhausen Millstadt, ENG
 Susan Hevrdajs Chicago, LAS Rebecca Leah Heying Deerfield, LAS
 Lisa Marie Hickey Bourbonnais, CBA

Patricia Ann Hickey Lockport, LAS
 Timothy David Hickey Bradford, FAA
 Timothy Sean Hickey Aurora, CBA
 Victoria Lee Hickman Peoria, CBA
 Christopher Higgins Springfield, ENG
 Richard C. Higgins Grayslake, ED
 Siobhan Higgins Downers Grove, LAS
 Jeffrey James Hill Jr. Woodstock, ED
 Laura Lee Hill Champaign, FAA
 Laurie L. Hill Chicago, LAS Jeffrey Neil Hines O'Fallon, ENG

Lisa Ann Hingstrum Cordova, CBA
 Lisa Marie Hinrichs Frankfort, CBA
 Daniel William Hipp Aurora, LAS Julie Denise Hissong Lovington, AGR
 Dean Howard Hixson Urbana, COM
 Larry J. Hlavacek Palatine, FAA
 Matthew A. Hoaglund Morris, AGR
 Rachele Hochreiter Plainfield, ENG
 Tarniece L. Hockenbuhl Chicago, COM
 Maya Hodari Chicago, LAS
 Steve H. Hodge Mt. Vernon, LAS

Latanya Hodges Chicago, LAS
 Mary Jane Hodson Oak Forest, AGR
 Brian Scott Hoeger Chicago, ENG
 Ann Marie Hofbauer Trenton, LAS
 Gaye Ann Hofer Rockford, FAA
 Mark Hoferle Algonquin, CBA
 Cheryl L. Hoffman Beardstown, LAS Deborah Hoffman Montgomery, LAS
 Steven Mark Hoffman Glenview, ENG
 Thomas E. Hoffman White Bear, Minn., ENG
 Christine A. Hoffmann Elk Grove Village, AGR

Jennifer I. Hoffmann Champaign, LAS Jon Hoffmeister Arlington Hts., LAS Alan C. Hofman Highland Park, LAS Kathleen G. Hogan Winnetka, LAS
 Karl Eric Hohenboken Urbana, AGR
 Brian Alan Holika Chicago, LAS
 Earl Edwin Hokens Chicago, ENG
 Karen Holbrook Western Springs, CBA
 Gregory Holderfield St. Charles, ENG
 Brett Arthur Holland St. Louis, Mo. ENG
 Roger W. Holland Manville, LAS

Fire destroys stadium turf

On September 24th around 5:30 a.m., a University of Illinois janitor discovered a fire on the AstroTurf of Memorial Stadium. The blaze began at the northern 10-yard line and extended to midfield. The campus fire department quickly arrived on the scene and extinguished the blaze, but not before extensive damage had occurred. When the smoke cleared, a 40-yard scar of charred rubber padding and turf was what remained of the artificial turf.

While the police had their hands full looking for causes, motives and suspects, the Athletic Association was up to its neck in another dilemma – could the playing field be ready in time for Illinois' next home game on October 7? If the Athletic Association had anything to be thankful for, besides the janitor noticing the fire, it was that Illinois wasn't scheduled to play at home the following Saturday. However, this gave them only two weeks to repair the field. Luckily, an engineer from AstroTurf Industries, Inc., concluded that it could be replaced by the Ohio State game on October 7.

The Athletic Association decided to replace the entire field because of vanity and safety reasons – the shades of green didn't match and the textures were different. It took a 12-man crew working 10 to 12 hours a day, seven days a week to install 100 yards of new turf on time. The insurance company picked up the $573,000 tab while U of I contributed a $10,000 deductible.

Arson was believed to be the cause after investigators found two wooden matches and smelled lighter fluid near the 10-yard line.

In October a phone tip led the police to question three suspects. The informant, representing two other witnesses, told police that three persons were playing with matches and lighter fluid outside the stadium about an hour prior to the discovery of the fire. The witnesses recognized the suspects and were able to discover their identities.

According to police, Conor Gorman, sophomore in LAS, Glenn Schicker and Aleck Zaralis, juniors in FAA, confessed that they had intended to burn the word "foo" into the turf. They were then charged with two counts of arson, a Class 2 felony, which carries a penalty of three to seven years in jail, a maximum fine of $10,000 and probation.

However, on February 28, a judge ruled that the confessions were inadmissible because the men were not read their Miranda rights.

As a result of the fire, 24-hour security was added to the stadium, including additional lighting and a night watchman.

story by Matt Cantlin
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by John Pletz

The fire in Memorial Stadium left a 40-yard hole in the AstroTurf. Luckily, there was no home game the following week.

"The dumbest rule at the U of I is the 'No Parking' on university lots between 2am-6am."

—R. Holland

The cast of Les Miserables brings the sensation of the Big Stage to U of I.

photo by Alex Tziortzis

Tony-award winner hits C-U

This year, instead of having to drive to Chicago to see a Tony-award winning show, the show came to Champaign-Urbana. Les Miserables went on tour and visited the Assembly Hall from October 10-15.

Les Miserables, often shortened to Les Miz, follows the life of Jean Valjean upon his release from prison in 1815. Valjean realizes that he cannot live in France as an ex-convict so he must change his name. The musical then jumps to 1823. Valjean, under the name of Monsieur Madeleine, has become a factory owner and a major in the French army. He befriends one of his workers, Fantine, as she is dying and promises to find and take care of her daughter, Cosette.

Valjean finds Cosette and, assuming the role of her father, takes her away from the Thenardiers, the family that has been working the young Cosette while spoiling their own daughter, Eponine.

Nine years later in Paris, there is great unrest. Students are preparing for the revolution they feel will occur upon the death of General Lamarque. One of the students, Marius, becomes intrigued by Cosette. Eponine, who is love with Marius, agrees to help him find Cosette. The battle between the students and the soldiers erupts and all are killed except Marius. Valjean arrives to find Marius injured and, knowing Cosette loves him, takes him away so he can recover. Marius recovers and marries Cosette as Valjean leaves in order to keep Cosette from finding out about his past. However, Cosette and Marius find him and stay with him until his death.

Many students enjoyed the musical but disliked the fact that it was played at Assembly Hall. Becky Schalek, sophomore in LAS, felt that the cast "did a fantastic job, but I would rather have seen the performance in a theatre." Schalek felt the show was "very well performed, acted and sung."

Edna Friedberg, freshman in LAS, felt the show was "really good, but not God's gift to shows. It was really worth seeing, but don't go in with unreasonable expectations."

Kristin Tinkoff, sophomore in LAS, simply thought it was an outstanding musical. Many students enjoyed the set design. The center of the stage was a circular disk that could be rotated. It was used to show time passing and was very effective to show characters walking great distances.

Of particular note were the performances by the child actors. There were three parts played by elementary school-aged children: young Cosette, young Eponine and Gavroche, a street urchin who aided the students. The singing and acting of these three were very enjoyable. All in all, Les Miserables was a wonderful performance.

story by Lynne Peck
layout by Debbie Siegel

"I'd tell all incoming freshman that it's easier to stay in than to get in. Once you're in, keep an open mind."

S. Jablonski

Amy Lynn Holler Mazon, LAS Julie Ann Hollis Petersburg, LAS Kendall Jon Hollis Sherman, ENG
Kent Hollis Champaign, AGR
Daniel J. Hollowed Westchester, CBA
Derek Steven Holmes O'Fallon, LAS
Timothy Paul Holtan Morton Grove, ENG
Jeremy C. Holtgrave Breese, LAS
Diane Ruth Holwick LaGrange, COM
Julie Holzhall Chicago Heights, CBA
Gali Holzmann Wilmette, LAS

Matthew W. Homann Highland, LAS Sara A. Honcharuk Park Ridge, LAS Adrian Phillip Honer Rockford, ENG
Ralf Honermeier Northbrook, ENG
Robert N. Honig Skokie, LAS
Susan Lynn Honzel Geneseo, FAA
Dale R. Hoogstraat Clifton, AGR
Allen E. Hoover Wilmette, ENG
Frank J. Hopkins Jr. Gilsen, AGR
Michael M. Hopkins Polo, AGR
Laura Ann Hoppenjans Belleville, ED

Robert M. Horak Jr. Park Ridge, LAS Jefferey A. Horaney Streator, LAS Pamela Jean Horgan Brookfield, LAS
Patrick J. Horgan Brookfield, ENG
Wendy M. Hork Hoffman Estates, AGR
Robert A. Horkavi Barrington, ENG
Deborah Beth Horn Hinsdale, LAS
Jennifer Susan Horn Niles, CBA
Nancy R. Hornbrook Marshall, AGR
Mark Raymond Horst Peoria, ENG
Douglas Hortin Albion, AGR

Ann Larre Horvath Park Ridge, AGR
Denise Cecelia Hott Fairview Hts, LAS
Robert House St Charles, FAA
James J. Howe Rolling Meadows, LAS
Deborah Ann Howes Grayslake, AGR
Lauren Monroe Howey Palatin, FAA
Jeanne Beth Hsieh Palatine, LAS
Jason Chih-Ping Hsu Champaign, AGR
Richard Htwe Danville, LAS Charlotte S. Huang Naperville, LAS
Rose D. Huang Effingham, ENG

Wilson Hwakwan Huang Chicago, LAS
Todd M. Hubble Stillman Valley, AGR
David Paul Huber Downers Grove, LAS
Kevin Bradley Huber Libertyville, CBA
Lisa Marie Huber Franklin, Tenn., FAA
Nicole Diane Huck Lisle, LAS
Amy Frances Hucker Hillsboro, ENG
Paula Jeanne Hudd Springfield, AGR
Lynn Ann Hudgens Milford, ED
Kent Robert Hudson Hindsboro, AGR
Stacey James Huels Carlyle, AGR

Mary Lynn Huelsmann Trenton, FAA
Sherry L. Huelsmann Trenton, LAS Kinberly K. Hueneburg Peru, LAS
Timothy M. Hufnagel Henry, AGR
Jeffrey P. Hugert Oak Park, ENG
Matthew J. Hughes Downers Grove, LAS Amanda Hull Dixon, CBA
Clint Hull St. Charles, LAS
Amy Jo Hume Normal, COM
Lisa Marie Hummel Urbana, ED
Theodore W. Humphrey Elgin, ENG

Robert D. Humphreys Gilsen, AGR
Lorelei Anne Hunt Carpentersville, ENG
Felicia L. Hurst Springfield, FAA
Karin I. A. Hutzler Glen Ellyn, CBA
Peter Y. Hwang Northridge, Calif., ENG
Sharon Ann Hwang Naperville, ENG
Sung Won Hwang Champaign, LAS
Alan Igelman Evanston, ENG
Denise B. Igolka Deerfield, CBA
Gregory Earl Ikins Onarga, AGR
Rachel Anne Imber Belleville, LAS

Suzanna J. Ingram Sidney, ED
Amy K. Ip Chicago, ENG
Debra Jo Irvin Lake Villa, LAS
Craig Edward Irvine Champaign, LAS
Scott Alan Isenhardt Wheaton, ENG
Ronald Leslie Itnyre Polo, AGR
Jennifer Joy Ivory Chicago, ED
Atsushi Iwashita Nagasaki, Japan, LAS
Henry J. Izaguirre Blue Island, LAS
Victor Izokaitis Oak Forest, ENG
John A. Izzo Villa Park, LAS

Susan M. Jablonski Chicago, LAS
David J. Jablonsky Lombard, ENG
Jeanne K. Jackson Springfield, ENG
Jennifer Joyce Jackson Chicago, CBA
Joel Martin Jackson Pekin, LAS
Lynette Ann Jackson Kewanee, ED
Philip L. Jackson Urbana, ENG
Tyra L. Jackson Chicago, CBA
Kenneth T. Jacobis Addison, LAS Brian George Jacobs Berwyn, ENG
Jacqueline A. Jacobs Naperville, LAS

photo by Joe Trojanowski

"My favorite aspect about the U of I is its diversity."

J. Jacobs

Hundreds of members of Greek houses gather on Daniels Street to socialize during Greek Reunion weekend.

Greeks gather for ritual

They came from towns and villages far from Champaign-Urbana, the modern Athens and Troy. It was a hot night, and the sweat dripped from their brows and fell to the dry, cracked earth. "Why did I come here with you? I'm not Greek," exclaimed one man. Not all were happy, and some were too far gone to notice any difference. "God, what a great time," prayed another man.

The ritual performed at the gathering of Greek Reunion '89, ruled by Dionysus, was a simple one - we drink, we drink and fill our bellies with libation; we scam, we scam and fill our minds with lust.

In Olympus, land of the gods, with the humid air falling harsh upon the collars and crowns of the merry drinkers, the participants were in mixed opinions.

The festive gathering brought together a more sublime crowd than the drunk-fest of previous years, according to partakers of both law and disorder. Aristippian revenge upon Plato and Aristotle.

Said Ian Drury, senior in engineering and Phi Beta Psi member, "There are less people here. It's better because there is less tension and it's friendlier." He was correct, and the gods commend him for his astute vision.

Said one of the men of law, Officer Paulus, standing next to his chariot of green and white, "Last year we had a few fights and bottle rockets, but nothing yet this year. We just let them get drunk and fall down. Then we sweep the street out at 1:30."

The impressive Psychology Building gave protection to the men as they relieved themselves. It was safety and they needed it. The building also gave people a perch, by way of a ledge just above street level. They could see above the heads of the throngs and stinking masses, to select a member of the opposite gender. And while the tension was a bit sweeter this year, the pick-up masters were kept the pressure sustained and high. And Eros and Aphrodite were proud.

Standing a bit like Ares, the War God, Andy Shephard, senior in aviation and Phi Beta Psi member, had a "main scope on chicks. You see mostly hair and a little face, but no caboose. It's not bad, just a lot of targeting."

"We're not out mingling because you stopped us," said Derrick Johnson, senior in business and independent. "But after hours parties are where you go to take somebody home, get to know them better. I feel sorry for the Greek guys, they go and hang out with the guys from the house after this."

Hera, the protector of women, was at work and hoping that Hypnos, the God of Sleep, would command the men to pass out. But all was not well. The sour faces, looked dissatisfied for one reason or another. They hadn't the facilities of men, and the wait for drink was long, and the flesh was sticky and hot.

Said Megan Regan, a student at Illinois Institute of Technology, "This place sucks. There are 8,000 people here - a bunch of sloppy drunks. And you can't go to the bathroom."

Said Kristin Callaway, senior in engineering and Pi Beta Phi member, governed by Circe, "This is a bunch of elitist bullshit."

Indeed, a good people watching weekend. The ways of the Greek and gods are unique. They come from all ends to feast and celebrate in the streets. They laugh, and sing and get drunk. Zeus said this is good, and commanded that, as long as there are Greek, they shall reunite in Champaign-Urbana story by Robert Siders

layout by Joan Wilson

John Francis Jacobs Riverdale, LAS
Nancy Jacobsen St. Louis, Mo., LAS Ruth F. Jacobson Mt. Prospect, LAS
Scott L. Jacobson Mt. Prospect, ENG
Joanna Alina Jacyno Aurora, LAS Sheryl Lynn Jaffee Evanston, LAS
James W. Janetka East Peoria, LAS Lesley Jankausky Schaumburg, LAS Torpum Jannak Chicago, ENG
David R. Janos Elk Grove, LAS Martha Janoskey Buffalo Grove, LAS

Jennifer M. Janovetz Peoria, COM
Susan L. Janowicz Naperville, LAS Teri Lynn Jansen Dunlap, LAS Christina M. Jarolin Chicago, LAS Jennifer Anne Jarvis Naperville, ED
Andrea Dawn Jasnich Palatine, ENG
Gerald K. Jefferson Peru, CBA
Vicki Marie Jehle Elmwood, ED
Jennifer L. Jenkins Carthage, CBA
Dawn M. Jenkinson Oak Lawn, LAS
Heidi Jensen Woodcliff Lake, N.J., CBA

Jodi Lynn Jensen Glen Ellyn, LAS Krista Anne Jensen Sterling, AGR
Rebecca S. Jensen Gibson City, COM
Mirta Jerome Evanston, LAS
Therese Marie Jilek La Grange, ED
Kevin Munro Jocius Elgin, FAA
Julia Johannpeter Granite City, LAS Mahesh O. Johari Elk Grove Village, LAS
Carolyn S. Johnson Loves Park, FAA
Amy Lynne Johnson Normal, FAA
Brett Holter Johnson Geneva, LAS

C. Scott Johnson Oso, AGR
Charles R. Johnson Camargo, LAS Clifford Johnson Jr. Ottawa, LAS
Deanne Marie Johnson Rantoul, AGR
Deborah M. Johnson Oak Park, FAA
Falcia M. Johnson Chicago, LAS
Gary G. Johnson Elmhurst, CBA
Gary Jack Johnson Champaign, LAS Gregory S. Johnson Joliet, LAS Janelle Lynn Johnson Cary, ED
Janina Ruth Johnson Chicago, LAS

Jeffrey A. Johnson Schaumburg, LAS
Jeffrey D. Johnson Champaign, AGR
Jennifer J. Johnson Joliet, LAS
Jennifer L. Johnson Palatine, ENG
Kent J. Johnson Champaign, LAS Lisa C. Johnson Libertyville, LAS
Lisa R. Johnson Thomasboro, CBA
Lynnette M. Johnson St. Joseph, AGR
Michael A. Johnson Odell, ENG
Michelle Lee Johnson Evanston, LAS Rande T. Johnson Caledonia, ENG

Sonja Marie Johnson Chicago, LAS
Vanessa A. Johnson Evanston, CBA
Victoria E. Johnson Carbondale, LAS
Wendy M. Johnson Wildwood, COM
Andrew Johnston Jacksonville, CBA
Christopher Johnston La Grange, ENG
Timothy R. Johnston Frankfurt, FAA
Anthony Lee Jones Mattoon, ED
Chad A. Jones Roodhouse, FAA
Daniel Curtis Jones Villa Grove, LAS
Gwendolyn C. Jones Chicago, COM

Kimberly Ann Jones Elmhurst, ALS
Kurt Andrew Jones Lincoln, AGR
Larry E. Jones Cerro Gordo, ENG
Mark J. Jones University Park, ENG
Perry Tyrone Jones Chicago, CBA
Sara Jones Godfrey, CBA
Scotty L. Jones Edmonton, Ky., FAA
Sonja Jovanovich Chicago, AGR
Barbara Joyce Arlington Hts., COM
Janet Mary Joyce Savoy, LAS
David Lee Jozaities Chicago, FAA

Pamela A. Juckett Arlington Hts. LAS
Michelle H. Julius Chicago, LAS
Christina M. Jungels Aurora, ED
Stephen J. Jurczyk Streamwood, ENG
Karen B. Jurgovan Homewood, LAS
Michele L. Jurgovan Chicago, LAS
David A. Jutovsky Lincolnton, CBA
Debra A. Kaczmaryn Waukegan, CBA
Chris B. Kaczynski Glenview, LAS
Kathryn M. Kahlfeldt Wheaton, ALS
Donald P. Kaiser Jr. Woodstock, LAS

Konstantin Kalafatis Park Forest, ENG
Elizabeth Kalafut Hinsdale, LAS
Ginger B. Kamber Chicago, ENG
Joellen C. Kames West Chicago, LAS
Hassan Kanaan Champaign, CBA
Sharon Ann Kanabay Hinsdale, LAS
Mark A. Kanazawa Chicago, ENG
Hirmiz Kando Skokie, FAA
Colleen Diane Kane Naperville, LAS
Michael H. Kang Wilmette, LAS Allena Kanne Grayslake, LAS

Program steers students toward college

Upward Bound began in 1966 as one of the TRIO programs, a series of programs established by the federal Higher Assistance Act of 1965. These programs were set up to help students with social and economic disadvantages. Upward Bound provides support that enables disadvantaged students to pursue a college career.

Octavia Exum, Acting Director of Upward Bound, stresses that "the program is not just for minorities," which is a common misconception because of its association with Minority Student Affairs at the university.

The program, federally funded for 55 students, is designed for students in grades nine - 12 who want to go on to college. Participants must be low income and first generation college-bound students from the Champaign-Urbana community.

The program offers many services to its participants. It provides tutoring in a variety of subjects such as math, physics, English and foreign languages. A study center on the U of I campus provides additional academic support.

Students receive help preparing for the ACT and SAT tests, visit different college campuses and attend career fairs. They also receive individualized career, academic and personal counseling. In addition, Upward Bound has a summer program. Students live in a U of I residence hall and attend classes for six weeks.

Upward Bound closely monitors student performance during the school year and also in the summer program to help students with academic problems.

Upward Bound places at least 90 percent of its student's in colleges or universities, such as U of I, Illinois State University and Northern Illinois University.

"Students have been accepted to top universities such as West Point and Stanford," said Exum.

The success rate of Upward Bound proves its worth. "With assistance, these disadvantaged students succeed, and that is the goal of the program," Exum said.

story by Karen Damascus
layout by Joe Durica

photo by Dan Crenin

Kurt Mamon, junior in CBA, tutors Renee Wilson, sophomore at Urbana High School. Even though the program is large, and growing at a high rate, students can and do receive individual attention in Upward Bound.

"My favorite college memories are being in a fraternity and working at the DI."

N. Kirby

Christopher C. Kanute St. Charles, LAS
Wan Jung Kao Champaign, ENG
David Jay Kaplan Buffalo Grove, ENG
Dawn Marie Kaplan Northbrook, LAS Robert Alan Kaplan Wilmette, LAS
Christopher Karabin Park Ridge, FAA
John George Karam Big Rock, LAS Demetrios Karamichos Chicago, LAS Cynthia M. Karanikas Oak Park, LAS
Frank A. Karbarz Downers Grove, ENG
Arif Karim Niles, LAS

Steven W. Karlman Orland Park, LAS Stacey Ann Karzen Chicago, LAS Jonathan S. Kasten Bethalto, LAS
Lori Ann T. Katano Chicago, ENG
Nicholas W. Katers Champaign, ENG
Kathleen M. Kattner McHenry, LAS
Michael J. Katz Woodridge, CBA
Richard Herman Katz Chicago, ENG
Jennifer Lynn Kauss Barrington, COM
Jeffrey E. Kawczynski Chicago, LAS
Marc A. Kazen Buffalo Grove, ENG

Karen Keagle Argenta, LAS
Michael T. Kearney Lombard, ENG
Alex Robert Kedas Danville, ENG
Bonnie Lynn Keefe Lockport, LAS Laura Lynn Keefer Urbana, LAS Kevin David Keeker Rockford, LAS
Lisa Marie Keeler Aurora, FAA
Kristin Noelle Keen Munster, Ind., LAS Eli W. Kehrl Elmhurst, LAS
Angela J. Keleher Orion, LAS
Elizabeth Kelleher Downers Grove, CBA

Julia Ann Kelleher Clarendon Hills, COM
Elizabeth Keller Prospect Heights, FAA
Georgia Ann Keller Perrysville, Ind., AGR
Valerie E. Keller Peoria, ENG
Michelle Kelley Buffalo Grove, LAS
Jonathan E. Kelly Vandalia, ENG
Scott M. Kelley Naperville, CBA
Michele Inez Kelly Flossmoor, CBA
Sheila Ann Kelly Bellwood, LAS Colleen Renee Kelsey Peru, LAS
John C. Kelsheimer Casey, CBA

Mary Kathryn Kendall Springfield, CBA
Daphne A. Kennedy Chicago, LAS Jennifer L. Kennedy Naperville, LAS
Ralph Guy Kennedy Crystal Lake, ENG
Scott M. Kennedy Wheaton, FAA
Mary Elizabeth Kent Carbondale, ALS
Patricia A. Kent McHenry, LAS
Kathryn Anne Kenter Des Plaines, CBA
William James Kenton Yorkville, Com
Charles M. Keogh Lisle, LAS Albertas J. Kerelis Palos Park, FAA

Sandra Lynn Kerl Rockford, ENG
Diane Lynn Kern Carol Stream, LAS
Karen Marie Kern Hazel Crest, CBA
Timothy Joseph Kern Round Lake, LAS Jack Ira Kernes Skokie, CBA
Anne Hart Kesinger Jacksonville, CBA
Audrey R. Kessie Buffalo Grove, ED
Priti Khanna Arlington Heights, LAS Sonu Khosla Gallipolis, OH, LAS Stephen John Kibler Bloomington, FAA
Lisa Marie Kiemal Lombard, ED

Pamela B. Kieler Chicago, CBA
Andrew Dohyung Kim Champaign, FAA
Cathy Y. Kim Arlington Heights, ED
Chae Min Kim Glendale Heights, CBA
Gina Piljin Kim Hoffman Estates, CBA
Horace Hyungil Kim Glenview, ENG
John Sung Kim Round Lake, ENG
Julie Hye Kim Chicago, FAA
Junse Arthur Kim Wilmette, LAS Mary Anne Hy Kim Palos Park, LAS
Michelle Joong Mount Prospect, CBA

Mihee Kim Champaign, FAA
Steve Hyun Seok Kim Rockford, ENG
Katherine Kimball Orland Park, AGR
Patricia K. Kimbel Highland Park, LAS
Bryan Michael King Elgin, FAA
Jeffrey Lynn King Champaign, LAS
Valerie M. King Chicago, LAS
Thomas F. Kinsella Cooksville, LAS David Lee Kintz Geneva, LAS
Thomas Jacob Kinzler Joliet, CBA
Daniel Leroy Kipper Aurora, ED

Neil Stuart Kirby Matteson, LAS
Kyle Thomas Kirts Mattoon, LAS Magdalen Anna Kiss Barrington, LAS
Melissa Ann Kissel Plainfield, ED
Jerry A. Kistler Decatur, LAS
Laura A. Klappenbach Libertyville, LAS
Stephen B. Klaus Freeport, FAA
Erik James Klebosits Palatine, LAS
Kevin M. Klein Hoffman Estates, ENG
Troy Lee Klein Flora, ENG
Randall C. Kline Rockford, LAS

photo by Jadon Evans

So this is Willard Airport?

How do students feel about flying out of Willard?

"It's like riding in a tin can," said Kirsten Anderson, junior in LAS, who flew home to Chicago last year when her baby brother was born.

"The only things that bother me are that I can see the pilot and the seats are kind of cramped," said Jana Tanenbaum, junior in CBA, who flies home to Kansas City regularly.

"You fly much lower in the small planes – it's an interesting experience," said Molly Riordan, junior in COM, who flew to Florida over break. "And the airport is amazing – high ceilings, a pond outside. It's more than people think it is."

The University of Illinois Airport opened in 1945, under the direction of the university's Institute of Aviation. It was later renamed University of Illinois – Willard Airport, in honor of Arthur Cutts Willard, who served as president of the university at that time and also as the governor. Today the Institute of Aviation still runs Willard, located in Savoy, as well as its flight training school, in which 200 university students enrolled in 1989.

Contrary to popular student opinion, Willard is more than a landing strip for rinky-dink single engine planes. In fact, most students who venture out there would be surprised. Six airlines service Willard: American Eagle, Midway Connection, Trans World Express, United Express, USAir and USAir Express. Last year they flew 177,000 passengers out of Willard and 177,601 into the airport.

"My advice to incoming freshmen would be to find friends that have had your classes before and get old exams."

— L. Klingbeil

Post-Modern architecture welcomes visitors to Champaign-Urbana in the newly renovated Willard Airport. The airport, located in Savoy, is serviced by six major airlines which brought 177,601 visitors to the area last year. An additional 177,000 people left Champaign-Urbana via Willard.

Willard also boasts a recently completed new terminal building, triple the size of the old one. The building cost $16.3 million and was paid for with federal, state and county funds, according to Nicholas Merrill, airport manager. In an unprecedented move, Champaign County allocated $4 million for the project.

"It is very unusual for the county to be involved in something like this, especially with such a large sum," said Merrill. "It indicates how important Willard is to the community."

Especially after the addition of the new terminal building, Willard is attracting more attention and respect as a full-service airport.

If you're interested in skipping that long train or bus ride to Chicago, consider flying home. It takes about half an hour and costs anywhere from $108 to $300 dollars round trip – significantly steeper than bus or train, but sometimes flying is the way to go. If you live out of state, Willard is a big convenience. Seniors often fly to interview in distant cities and sometimes, like in Anderson's case, time is of the essence.

In more relaxed times, there's little need to dish out the equivalent of a semester's books when Greyhound or Amtrak can get you there for a fraction of the cost. Still, it's reassuring to know that if we ever need it, Willard can "beam us up" to Chicago and beyond before we fall asleep in our seats or get sore necks.

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Julie Fanella

Lawrence Klingbeil Naperville, ENG
Christina Kliros Orland Park, LAS Christopher B. Klis Barrington, LAS Michelle Marie Kloha Chicago, LAS
C. Alan Klonowski Woodridge, FAA
Sherry Lynn Klooster Erie, LAS Ellen Elizabeth Klos Chicago Hts, LAS Kathleen M. Kluber Aurora, LAS
James A. Kluka Arlington Hts, ENG
Tracey E. Klumb Naperville, LAS
Lydia Faye Klunk Carrollton, AGR

Nancy M. Kmak Stickney, AGR
Paula Marie Knesel Champaign, ED
Steve Joseph Knick Chicago, CBA
Jill S. Knieriem Champaign, LAS
Kenneth Scott Knight East Alton, ENG
Lisa Marie Knight Chesterfield, AGR
Richard Henry Knoll Champaign, ENG
Linda E. M. Knudsen Arlington Hts, LAS Jeffrey Knuppel Havana, LAS Edward Paul Knutel Park Ridge, LAS
Laura Ann Knutson Spring, Texas CBA

Robert Walter Koca Kingston, ENG
Karen Ann Koch Highland, LAS
Stephen Brent Koch East Peoria, AGR
Jacqueline Kocinski Chicago, LAS
Sumana Koduri Naperville, ENG
Jeffrey Paul Koebel Crystal Lake, ENG
Clarissa Humie Koehn Elgin, LAS
Kourtney Koertge Sumner, AGR
Greg Charles Koester Bloomington, LAS Kristin Ann Koester Belleville, LAS Kok Sin Koh Urbana, ENG

Keith A. Kohler Bridgeview, LAS
Michael James Kohn Park Forest, ENG
Kimberly Ann Koide Arlington Hts, LAS
Yukio Kojima Union, Ky. ENG
Richard Kokodynski Palatine, LAS
Kenneth D. Koldan Streamwood, ENG
Mary Kathryn Kolesar Elgin, COM
August C. Konie Jr. Midlothian, LAS
Kimberly Konkolewski Cicero, ENG
Vickie Konopacz Villa Park, AGR
Tracy Lynette Kontur Countryside, LAS

Jeoung-Hea Koo Northbrook, ED
Timothy Koontz Quincy, CBA
Catherine Koop Elmhurst, LAS
Holly Kopplin Effingham, AGR
Denise Koprowski Chicago, CBA
Sonja Kosanovic Franklin Park, ED
Karl Walter Kosche Palos Hills, ENG
Susanne Maud Koss South Elgin, LAS
Merrick F. Kossack Buffalo Drive, ENG
Julia Carol Kotlarz Chicago, LAS Erin Marie Kotzman Mount Olive, LAS

John Derek Kowalski Sheridan, AGR
Melissa Kaye Kozyak Granite City, ED
Alison Jane Kraai South Holland, LAS
Jill Ann Kraeger Peoria, CBA
Steven C. Kraemer Franklin Park, LAS
Karen Ruth Kraft Normal, AGR
Timothy Eric Kraft Towanda, AGR
David S. Krampitz Park Ridge, ENG
Steven Daniel Kraus Murphysboro, ENG
Anne Marie Krause North Aurora, LAS Tracy Louise Krause Peoria, LAS

Laura Krebaum Glen Ellyn, LAS
Jonathan M. Kreissman Atlanta, Ga. FAA
David Krejei Naperville, ENG
Jacqueline Krejei Naperville, LAS
Anthony T. Kremer Savoy, VM
Kevin P. Kremeyer Downers Grove, ENG
Karen Lynn Kresge Barrington, LAS
Amy Sue Kress Mundelein, LAS Julie Krezo Flushing, Mich. LAS
Leslie L. Kridakorn Naperville, LAS Christopher Kriesie Indianapolis, Ind. LAS

Linda Kriewall Urbana, CBA
Murali Krishnan Collinsville, ENG
Mark Allen Krizak Posen, ENG
Dale Kenneth Kroeger Houston, Texas CBA
Renee M. Kroeger Downers Grove, SW
Debra M. Krohn South Holland, LAS Sandra Marie Krolak Palos Hills, LAS
Jordan E. Krolick Northbrook, CBA
Kevin Krone Urbana, CBA
Paul Claude Krueger Belvidere, AGR
Michael Krunney Grayslake, LAS

Barry Alan Krumwiede Onarga, AGR
Richard Krunnoszi Canton, ENG
Michele Joy Krupp Deerfield, CBA
Beth Ann Kruse Highland, ED
Lisa Paige Kubicek Collinsville, CBA
Sarah Ellen Kuhlman Darien, LAS
Kristine K. Kuhlert Rolling Meadows, ENG
Gary Joseph Kuhtoss Rantoul, FAA
Robin Ann Kulesza Des Plaines, LAS Steven James Kulisek Bolingbrook, LAS Anita Rani Kumar Westmont, LAS

Steven Kumis Oak Lawn, LAS
 Sylvia Kung Walnut Creek, Calif., CBA
 Kristie Ann Kunkel Metamora, AGR
 Phillip Kunz Buffalo Grove, ENG
 Tracey Kunz Carlyle, ALS
 Mark Kurowski Champaign, ENG
 Laura Kurre Fairmont City, LAS Gregory Kurth Mendota, CBA
 John Kusak Wheaton, LAS
 Marcie Kustoni Palos Heights, FAA
 Margaret Kuzma Joliet, ED

Sung Kwak Chicago, ENG
 Teryn Kwak Northbrook, FAA
 John Stanley Kwit La Salle, FAA
 Donald Kye Skokie, FAA
 Kimberly Labeck Orland Park, LAS Mitchell Labuda Northfield, LAS
 Timothy Labuda Northfield, ENG
 Jamie Lou Ladwig Sandwich, FAA
 Boyd Campbell Lafoon Anna, COM
 Sharon Ann Lahey Chicago, ALS
 Sue Lai Champaign, CBA

Jennifer Lynn Laible Freeport, LAS
 Philip Daniel Liable Magnolia, AGR
 Sharon Lyn Lake Tuscola, ENG
 Anthony J. Lamantia Addison, LAS
 De Ann Lambert Palos Park, COM
 William R. Lambert Chicago, LAS
 Denise Lamborn South Bend, Ind., ALS
 Daniel W. Lamond Algonquin, ENG
 Lori Lynn Lamont Sycamore, CBA
 Catherine Lamoreaux Palos Hts, LAS
 Laura Lyn Landberg Geneva, LAS

Lance Joseph Landeck Villa Grove, LAS Kathleen E. Landers Hinsdale, CBA
 Leif Landon Deerfield, COM
 Russell Landsly Lansing, AGR
 Cynthia Beth Lane McHenry, LAS
 Susan Michelle Lane Farmington, COM
 Stig Lanesskog Dekalb, CBA
 Barbara Anne Lange River Forest, LAS Gregory Wade Lange Plainfield, ALS
 Jeffrey Robert Lange Barrington, LAS
 Peter Vincent Lange St. Charles, ENG

Matthew P. Langhenry Arlington, LAS Winston L. Langston Chicago, LAS
 Jeffrey A. Lanham Glen Ellyn, ENG
 Diane M. Lanigan South Holland, FAA
 Michael J. Lanter Belleville, ENG
 Eileen A. Lanzrotta Elk Grove, CBA
 Marc Elliot Lapidus Livingston, N.J. LAS
 Angela S. Larimer Effingham, LAS
 Anne Marie Larson South Holland, CBA
 Kristen Kay Larson Bloomington, LAS
 Todd Aaron Lash Mt. Vernon, ENG

Cherie L. Lashinski Glen Ellyn, ALS
 Jayne Caye Lassiter Metropolis, ENG
 Michael J. Lastovich Berwyn, LAS
 Michelle R. Latimer Canton, LAS
 Diane Lillian Lau Skokie, CBA
 Craig A. Loughton Glenwood, ENG
 Steven John Law McHenry, ENG
 Celeste Lawson Hinsdale, LAS Dina Selma Lawson Chicago, LAS
 Suzanne M. Layng Rockford, FAA
 Timothy G. Layton Toledo, ENG

Lam L. Le Flanagan, ENG
 Stephanie Haas Leath Fairfax, Va., FAA
 Barbara Jo Lechner Trenton, LAS Mary C. Lechner Tinley Park, LAS Brian Keith Lee Chicago, LAS
 Dennis Lee Urbana, ENG
 Dennis Lee Wheaton, LAS
 Douglas G. Lee Springfield, ENG
 Douglass B. Lee Oakbrook, CBA
 Hyun Lee Chicago, LAS
 Jean E. Lee Northfield, CBA

Joseph B. Lee River Forest, LAS Kyung H. Lee Chicago, LAS Lynna Lee Chicago, CBA
 Margaret Lee Normal, LAS
 Michael Lee Glenview, LAS Sang Lee Chicago, LAS Sang Lee Arlington Heights, LAS
 William Lee Chicago, ENG
 Sylvia Lee Chicago, COM
 Elizabeth L. Lehman Marissa, FAA
 Richard A. Lehning Elk Grove, LAS

Deborah H. Lei Cicero, ENG
 James Eric Leight Heyworth, ENG
 Gary Edward Lemke Bartlett, ENG
 Andrea K. Lenigan Matteson, AGR
 Patricia M. Leninger Forest Park, ED
 David C. Lentz Long Grove, FAA
 Timothy E. Lenz Strasburg, AGR
 Robert James Leone Elmhurst, LAS Wendy Ann Lepper Oak Forest, LAS
 Cindy Ellen Leprich Antioch, CBA
 Jeffrey A. Les Schaumburg, LAS

"My favorite college memory is having football seats on the field for the Michigan game."
— M. Kuzma

The browsing room offers students many different settings to read, relax and enjoy a book.

Browsing room offers retreat

On a typical weekday afternoon, students, faculty and visitors seek refuge in the library room of their own colonial manor.

In February of 1941, the Illini Union opened its doors to the campus. According to a brochure published in 1939, its purpose was to "create a homelike atmosphere" for students.

One arm of the enormous University Library System is located within this home away from home – the Browsing Room.

The Browsing Room is located on the main level of the Union, in what was originally called the Wedgewood Lounge.

In keeping with the colonial style that President Arthur Cutts Willard and architect Howard Lovewell Cheney chose for the building, the walls are a pale blue and the moldings are ornately sculptured ivory. The room's decor was patterned after the Governor's Palace at Williamsburg, including a crystal chandelier that was imported from Czechoslovakia before World War II and a baroque fireplace.

Oxblood leather chairs, perfect for curling up with a current magazine, a good book or just napping, line the perimeter of the room.

They are interspersed between the 10 bookcases which contain art, music, non-fiction, humor, science fiction, social science, history, biography and other books.

Current issues of magazines are stacked on tables beside the leather chairs and blue and white couches.

Gail Grigg, sophomore in LAS, works about 10 hours a week in the library.

"Anywhere from 10 to 20 people come in here every hour – some students, lots of older people and faculty members. They read the paper ... lots of them sleep," she said.

So if you ever feel like grabbing a catnap, but are embarrassed to be seen drooling and snoring in the much-traveled North and South lounges, head for the Browsing Room. You may even decide to forgo that nap to read something besides a textbook.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Mike Krupicka

David Nasralla, senior in Engineering, takes advantage of the quietness of the browsing room to read something other than a text book. The browsing room offers listeners a choice of over 1200 albums.

Marietta Lee Lesage Naperville, LAS Ignacio Letemendia Champaign, LAS
 David Neil Letwat Morton Grove, CBA
 Raymond L. Leung Skokie, LAS
 Ross Steven Levey Niles, CBA
 Michelle Robin Levin Skokie, LAS
 Robin Beth Levin Skokie, LAS
 James Lewis Jr. E. St. Louis, CBA
 Paula Marie Lewis Elmhurst, LAS
 Tonia Denise Lewis Chicago, LAS
 Laura Ann Lezak Orland Park, CBA

Rebecca Gayle Lezak Chicago, AGR
 Andrew E. Liakopoulos Chicago, LAS
 Ken J. Libowicz Barrow, Ark., AGR
 Robert R. Liedtke Oswego, LAS
 Michael Lightstone Manchester, Miss., ENG
 Mark A. Ligoeki River Grove, CBA
 Hyung G-Hyung Park Ridge, ENG
 Douglas Van Limbaugh Granite City, ENG
 David C. Lin Woodridge, ENG
 Johnny Chun-Yen Lin Libertyville, LAS
 Margaret Y. Lin Mattoon, LAS

Ruo Min Lin Chicago, LAS
 Margaret Mary Lind Wyand, ED
 Marianne T. Linde South Holland, COM
 Amy Kristine Lindley Marshall, COM
 Teresa Leona Lindley Farmington, CBA
 Timothy A. Lindquist Wheaton, ENG
 Cheryl Ann Lindstrom Lombard, LAS Brian David Link Champaign, ENG
 Leslie Anne Linn Rock Island, LAS
 Laura Lee Lipicky Loveland, Ohio, CBA
 Matthew M. Lipinski Cicero, ENG

Robert T. Little University Park, LAS
 Patricia Susan Litus Schaumburg, COM
 Steven W. Litzwitz Barrington, LAS Ching Ching Liu Chicago, ENG
 Roger W. Liu Lisle, ENG
 Allison Jo Livesay Anna, LAS
 Thomas E. Livingston LaGrange, COM
 Wendi Marie Llapitan Melrose Park, LAS
 Mildred L. Llerena Skokie, LAS Ching Hsiung Lo Champaign, LAS
 Joseph T. Lo Chicago, LAS

David B. Loboeki Chicago, ENG
 Sharon Lucy Locascio Evergreen, ALS
 Anne M. Lockwood Hazelcrest, LAS Jennifer L. Loebach Lewiston, LAS Patricia Ann Loebach Oglesby, LAS Jennifer Lee Lofgren Springfield, FAA
 Roseanne Loftus Chicago, LAS
 Stephen Karl Lohman New Lenox, ENG
 Joseph M. Lohmar Mattoon, ENG
 Steven J. Lollino Chicago, CBA
 Angela Kay Londo Rockford, LAS

Andrew Long Champaign, LAS Clarisa Anne Long Champaign, LAS Louis C. Longhitano Chappaqua, NY, LAS
 Kara Louise Longtin Dixon, ALS
 Julia K. Loofbourrow Decatur, LAS Clover E. Loos St. Charles, LAS
 John Anthony Lopez Sterling, CBA
 Mauricio Lopez Armenia, Columbia, ENG
 Michael R. Lord Princeton, CBA
 Michael Ross Lorenz Mascoutah, FAA
 Laurie Ann Losasso Woodstock, LAS

Silvana Sue Loudon Long Point, FAA
 Eric Franklin Loula Westchester, CBA
 Tamara Elaine Loury Bolingbrook, LAS
 Michelle Ann Lovell Mokenca, CBA
 Brian Michael Lovett Morton Grove, CBA
 Georgia Lynn Lower Champaign, LAS Linda Lu Elmhurst, LAS
 Edward Chu Luan Edwardsville, LAS
 Bradley A. Lubrant Loami, CBA
 Dina M. Lucibello Downers Grove, CBA
 Lorna Luedtke DeKalb, LAS

David C. Lukas Franklin Park, LAS Tony Ronald Lush El Paso, LAS Lori Ann Luther Sauk Village, LAS
 Irene Brenda Lutz Chicago, FAA
 Johnny Andre Lynch Chicago, FAA
 Adam Nathan Lyons Lake Bluff, FAA
 David Michael Lyons Wheaton, CBA
 Linda Francine Lyons Schaumburg, LAS
 Thomas John Maas Quincy, ENG
 Eric Scott Maaske Freeport, CBA
 Daniel Allen Macahon Norridge, ENG

Stanley Macasieb Chicago, ENG
 James M. MacDonald Evanston, CBA
 Maureen N. MacDonald Joliet, CBA
 Indira T. Macedo Urbana, ALS
 Gregg Jon Macek Oak Lawn, LAS Sevela Karen Machen Chicago, LAS Melissa Anne Macke West Union, LAS
 Bruce MacKenzie Clarendon Hills, CBA
 Craig L. Macklie Findlay, AGR
 Paul Gordon Macklin Chicago, FAA
 Barbara Ann Maczko Arlington Hts., LAS

photo by Nora Hipolito

Maureen Garnett (left), senior in ENG, won CBSU's Big-Buddy-of-the-Year award. The winning nomination, a poem about Garnett, was written by Stacey Holland, freshman in ED. Jami Morris (far right), freshman in LAS, is Garnett's other lil' buddy.

Buddy program offers warm welcome to freshmen

No one ever said it was easy making the transition from high school to college. At first glance, the university may seem overwhelming. It's a big place and it takes time to find where you fit in.

Having a "buddy" to show you the ropes can make all the difference. Incoming freshmen who are Afro-American or Latino have a buddy waiting for them when they arrive on campus in the fall, thanks to the Central Black Student Union's Buddy Program.

The freshmen (little buddies) are matched with upperclassmen (big buddies), based on area of residence. The program tries to match those living in the same residence halls or areas.

The program began in 1985, when a group of about 10 minority students decided they wanted to do something about retention, said Barbara Stewart, associate director of housing for minority student affairs and adviser to the program. This year about 530 little buddies and 300 big buddies are participating in the program.

It is run by a core group of 10 people, about half of whom live in the residence halls. In addition to the core group, there are hall chairpersons in every dorm who deal with day-to-day problems.

Big buddies must commit time and personal interest to the program. They usually meet weekly, or even daily if they live in the same hall, with their buddies. Their duty, said Stewart, is to "acclimate their little buddies to the campus environment."

This includes accompanying them to New Student Week events, including a two hour forum, "Let's Talk," especially for minority students. The forum provides the freshmen an opportunity to talk with administrators, faculty and students about programs and services.

Stewart said that while all new students need support and camaraderie, it's important for minorities to have a special support system because it can be difficult to adjust to an institution built mainly around white culture.

Next year the program hopes to include spring and transfer students. They are also considering traveling to high schools for information sessions.

Stewart said the program has had a positive impact on minority student life, both academically and socially. "If you can help someone get off on the right foot - from day one - they're more likely to succeed."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Debbie Siegel

"One of the dumbest standards at the U of I is having Reading Day on Saturday."

B. Mackzo

J. Bennett O. Madamba Lombard, LAS
 Daniel T. Madigan Burr Ridge, LAS Eric C. Madland Mt. Prospect, ENG
 Samuel Madrigal Chicago, ENG
 Sara K. Madson Libertyville, LAS
 Dinitris Magemeneas Joliet, ENG
 Gina Michelle Maggio Inverness, COM
 Stephanie Ann Maggs Urbana, ENG
 Sofia Maglaras Chicago, LAS
 Peter J. Magnabosco Burbank, ENG
 Donna M. Maibusch Elmhurst Park, LAS

Kimberly J. Mairet Sherrard, ED
 Amy Major Lockport, LAS Haramandeep Makkar Hoffman Estates, LAS
 Kathy L. Maksimik Calumet City, CBA
 Paul C. Malcharek Irvington, LAS
 Christopher Malcolm Urbana, COM
 Michael Paul Maley Godfrey, ENG
 Suzanne Lee Mallar Arlington Hts., LAS Mike George Mallidis Barrington, LAS Stephanie A. Manion Hoopeston, LAS
 Janet E. Manley Genoa, ENG

Melanie Louise Mann Pine Village, Ind., CBA
 Joanne Marie Manna Evergreen Park, ED
 Jennifer May Manning Westmont, CBA
 Natasha Manning Champaign, LAS
 George B. Mannion Park Forest, CBA
 Audra Marie Manno Arlington Hts., LAS
 Michael R. Mansen Dixon, ENG
 Angela Ann Mantia Breese, LAS
 Denise Lee Maple Lake Villa, CBA
 Maria Mina Maravelas Antioch, CBA
 Deborah L. Marburger Mt. Olive, AGR

Alyssa Ann Marcantonio Neils, AGR
 Arik V. Marcell Chicago, LAS
 John C. Marchelya Glen Ellyn, ENG
 Anne E. Marcus Beecher, SW
 Scott Robert Marean Elgin, ENG
 Gary Allan Margolis Wilmette, COM
 Cheryl Ann Marich Orland Park, LAS
 Barbara L. Marik Schaumburg, CBA
 Dean C. Marinakis Lincolnwood, CBA
 Ronald David Markle Gurnee, CBA
 Todd B. Markle Evanston, LAS

Donald Lee Marks Chicago, LAS
 John Addison Marlott Peoria, ENG
 Karin M. Marquart Northbrook, ENG
 John David Marquis Colfax, AGR
 Cristina M. Marrello West Chicago, AGR
 Martin J. W. Marren Chicago, FAA
 Eric Russell Marsh Naperville, ENG
 Douglas Lee Marshall Speer, AGR
 Joanne M. Marshall Aleo, LAS
 Michael T. Marshall Zion, ENG
 Ryan S. Marshall Urbana, ENG

Michael Marsoglia Coal City, AGR
 Gregory Todd Martel Silvis, LAS
 Richard F. Martel Morton Grove, LAS Brian Patrick Martin Dixon, CBA
 James Michael Martin Magnolia, ENG
 Jeffrey Alan Martin Eureka, FAA
 Kristin Anna Martin Crystal Lake, CBA
 Kurt W. Martin Berwyn, ENG
 Eduardo J. Martinez Chicago, FAA
 Kurt William Marunde Woodstock, ED
 C. Masiewicz Burbank, ENG

Chris Alan Masin St. Charles, ENG
 John Edward Masnik Chicago, ENG
 Stanley A. Masnik Chicago, ENG
 Linda A. Mason Lewiston, CBA
 Paul Joseph Mason Elmhurst, CBA
 Peter Brent Mason Plainfield, LAS
 Lori C. Massari Rockford, LAS Kristin Maria Massey Glen Ellyn, ALS
 Camille A. Masterson Mahomet, SW
 Carla Ann Mastorgio St. Charles, LAS Helen Maria Mastoris Northbrook, CBA

Rose Mastropieri Northlake, ED
 Joanne M. Mataitis Oaklawn, LAS
 Daniel J. Mateja Oak Brook, ENG
 Lynn Ellice Mathena Chicago, ENG
 Patty Mathes Chicago, LAS
 Angela Lynne Mathews Fairfield, SW
 Sameer Kumar Mathur Springfield, LAS
 Thomas P. Mattes Crystal Lake, CBA
 Brigid M. Mattingly St. Louis, Miss., CBA
 Elizabeth A. Matyazic LaGrange, CBA
 Ann Katherine Matz Huntley, LAS

Amy L. Mau Elwood, ENG
 Catherine Eileen Mau Lombard, ED
 Julianne Kern Maudlin Cissna Park, ED
 Paul J. Mauschbaugh Washington, ENG
 Humansu Mayani Schaumburg, LAS
 Trent Alan Mayberry Jacksonville, ENG
 Judi R. Mayerhofer Schaumburg, LAS
 Johnathan Mayfield Cantrall, AGR
 Mark Anthony Maynard Chicago, CBA
 Stacie Mayoras Pryn Mawr, PA, CBA
 Elizabeth L. Mazenko Godfrey, LAS

"I think the dumbest rule here is that there is no studying during lunch hours in Down Under in the Union."

D. Maibusch

Dr. Richard Keen, radiologist at the university's Large Animal Hospital, explains how the CAT scan can detect the presence of brain tissue on the skull.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

It's a question of sex

It's a boy! Maybe. The sex of the World Heritage Museum's Egyptian mummy has yet to be determined.

Barbara Bohen, the museum's director, said that it is assumed that the mummy, acquired in mid-August, is a male because of the position of the hands on top of the thighs.

The acquisition of the 2,000-year-old mummy was a fortunate opportunity because very few universities have access to such an artifact.

The mummy's outer wrappings are painted with scenes of Egyptian gods, such as Horus, god of heaven, Nut, god of the sky, and Osiris, god of death. As was customary, the wrappings are also painted with a portrait of the deceased.

Richard Keen of Veterinary Medicine x-rayed the mummy at the Large Animal Clinic. Results that the ends of the long bones were not fused and both baby teeth and adult teeth appeared in the jaw, indicating that the person was about eight or nine at the time of death.

On September 22, the long-dead patient was transported by ambulance to Burnham Hospital for free magnetic resonance imaging and a CAT scan.

The MRI scan did not work because there was not enough moisture left in the body, but the CAT scan revealed that the brain, lungs and heart were still in place. This is unusual because it was customary for embalmers in Old Kingdom Egypt to remove all organs before wrapping a deceased person.

Another unusual mummification practice was revealed during the CAT scan—there was a board under the full length of the body.

A skull fracture was also revealed, which may have been the cause of death.

The mummy will go on display next year, after several departments have had the opportunity to conduct research on it.

The Program on Ancient Technologies and Archaeological Materials is coordinating interdisciplinary research which will try to ascertain the age, sex and cause of death as well as studying mummification differences.

Departments using the mummy include Archeology, Ancient Art History, the Division of Textiles, Apparel and Interior Design, Veterinary Medicine, College of Medicine and the College of Engineering.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Joe Trojanowski

A paramedic team carefully transported the mummy to Burnham Hospital which has the facilities for the sophisticated analysis necessary to identify the mummy.

Levy serves student needs

"Very often, while visiting a residence hall or a fraternity, I've had students ask me: 'Exactly what is it that you do?'" said Stanley Levy, vice chancellor for student affairs. "When I tell them that I work with 185 professionals and an $80 million budget, they are usually quite surprised."

The student affairs office, located on the first floor of Swanlund Administration Building, is "primarily concerned with the quality of life students experience here at the university," Levy said. "Our staff has representatives for almost everything that students experience outside of the classroom, with the exception of academic advising and athletics. In other words, we deal with a lot of stuff!"

Levy accepted the position of vice chancellor in 1979. Since that time, he and his staff have implemented a number of beneficial changes on campus.

"In recent years, I have been personally involved with the remodeling of Busey-Evans, the computerization of university Residence Halls, the improved services at McKinley Health Center..." and the list goes on.

Levy enjoys interacting with students leaders and meets with at least three or four student groups on a regular basis. "There are so many areas which need my attention, and talking with students really helps me to define my priorities."

For example, last semester Levy spent a lot of time on issues relating to student alcohol use and abuse, anti-semitism and racism. "I feel these are serious problems which need immediate attention," he said.

Sometimes, budget constraints make Levy's job a difficult one. "Literally half of our budget is consumed by Student Financial Aid and the Office of Minority Student Affairs. This doesn't leave us with a lot of money."

"When NightRides, formerly called Women's Wheels, was in desperate need of a new van, we just didn't have the money for it," Levy said. "Eventually, the Moms' and Dads' Associations agreed to pay for the van. However, I had to go out and 'beat the bushes' first."

Many times, it takes years of hard work before a new idea or proposal is accepted. "I've been pushing the idea of a new campus recreation center for about four years," said Levy, "and we're just now seeing the results."

In spite of these drawbacks, Levy is very satisfied with his position as vice-chancellor.

"I never know what I'll be doing next," Levy said. "Each day brings something new and as a result, I'm never bored with my work."

story by Janet Scott
layout by Joe Durica

photo by Reggie Natividad

"There are so many areas which need my attention, and talking with students really helps me to define my priorities," said Stanley Levy, vice chancellor for student affairs.

"My advice for incoming freshman is that they should take advantage of everything that's here."

G. Meyer

Beth Elyn Mazor Evanston, AGR
 Scott McAllen Lake Forest, CBA
 Robert M. McAllister Lasle, LAS
 Traci L. McAllister Stafford, Va., ENG
 Amy Ann McArthur Wilmette, LAS
 Christa McArthur Mt. Prospect, ED
 Clare E. McAuliffe Evergreen Park, CBA
 Steve James McCabe Pontiac, AGR
 Debra McCall Champaign, ED
 Roy Alan McCaun Bloomington, ENG
 Mark W. McCarthy Florissant, Mo., ENG

Jeffrey J. McCauley Downers Grove, LAS
 James E. McCleish Wood River, ENG
 Valerie L. McClelland West Point, AGR
 D. McClendon-Smith Champaign, CBA
 Sandra Kay McClure Newton, AGR
 Robert J. McCollom Lansing, ED
 Judith J. McCormick Burbank, ALS
 Deborah Kay McCoy Lovington, LAS
 Kimberly Kay McCoy Robinson, CBA
 Patricia A. McCree N. Chicago, LAS
 Thomas Lee McCutchan Princeton, ENG

Gregory A. McDaniel Rockford, LAS John Scott McDaniel Paris, LAS
 Mary C. McDaniel Peoria, CBA
 Andrew R. McDonald Romeoville, LAS
 Shelley McDonald Olympia Fields, COM
 Laura C. McDougald Chicago, COM
 Amy Lynn McDough Huntsville, Ala., FAA
 Mark Edward McFadden Algonquin, LAS Toria Kaye McFadden Mahomet, CBA
 Steven Allen McGee Louisville, CBA
 Kelly K. McGinnis Edwardsville, CBA

Kevin Alex McGinnis Quincy, LAS
 Amy Lynn McGough Huntsville, Ala., FAA
 Kathleen M. McGowan Flossmoor, LAS
 John M. McGregor Glen Ellyn, LAS
 Christina McGuire Joliet, CBA
 Katie McHugh Deerfield, LAS Pamela Ann McInerney, LAS
 Brian L. McKay Elgin, ENG
 Robert John McKay Chicago, CBA
 William A. McKay Chicago, LAS
 Melissa Marion McKee Barrington, CBA

Kristine M. McKenna Winfield, CBA
 Maria N. McKinney Morton, COM
 Patricia A. McKnight Lincoln, LAS
 Susan E. McLaughlin Springfield, ENG
 Mark Andrew McLean Oak Forest, LAS
 Deanna M. McMasters Danville, COM
 David M. McMorran Crystal Lake, ENG
 Colleen M. McNamara Woodale, CBA
 Leanne M. McNamara Savoy, LAS
 Susan E. McNeela Chicago, COM
 Jennifer E. McNees Champaign, CBA

Kristen Joy McNeill Wheaton, SW
 James Edward McNelis Chicago, ENG
 Paula Irene McQuade LaGrange, LAS
 George F. McQuary Plainfield, ENG
 Lynne K. McKee Mundelein, LAS
 Julie McRedmond Brentwood, Tenn., AGR
 Amy K. McReynolds Hinsdale, LAS
 Thomas A. McRoberts Naperville, ENG
 Jay C. McWhinney Coal Valley, AGR
 David M. Mecklenburg Rockford, CBA
 Jeffrey Scott Medema Fulton, ENG

Steven M. Medvin Northbrook, LAS
 Laura Marie Mehl Chicago, COM
 Thomas C. Meier Altamont, ENG
 Tracey D. Meiners Anchor, CBA
 Eric Meister Elmhurst, CBA
 John B. Melby Kawasaki Japan, LAS
 Bradley M. Meloy Park Ridge, CBA
 Laura Gerrish Menke Quincy, CBA
 Phyllis D. Mennenga St. Joseph, ED
 Laura Mensik Burr Ridge, ED
 Dean Gregory Mentjes Elgin, ENG

Lisa M. Merchant Chicago, LAS Dawn L. Mergenthaler Palatine, LAS
 Cheryl A. Meriedith Bondville, ED
 Renee T. Meronek Downers Grove, ENG
 Mary C. Mervin Downers Grove, LAS David Holt Merwin Barrington, LAS
 David William Meseke St. Charles, ENG
 Kristen N. Messamore Joliet, LAS
 Anna Metropoulos Northbrook, CBA
 David Elliott Metz Wilmette, CBA
 David Lee Meyer Pekin, ENG

Gail Ann Meyer Ottawa, CBA
 Heidi Ann Meyer Chicago, ALS
 Jacilyn M. Meyer Tuscola, AGR
 Lorene L. Meyer Oaklawn, LAS
 Lucie Anne Meyer Mt. Prospect, CBA
 Melinda Marie Meyer Champaign, COM
 Timothy James Mezel Ottawa, ENG
 Kristin L. Michaels Hickory Hills, LAS
 Laura Michalowski Buffalo Grove, CBA
 Chris Michel Winthrop Harbor, LAS Susan Ann Michlik Streator, AGR

photo by John Pletz

"The dorm food is what I hate most about the U of I."

—R. Mickey

Toby Itano, freshman in LAS, shovels debris from his room in FAR. The fire, which occurred over Labor Day weekend, was caused by faulty wiring in the room next to Itano's.

FAR fire alarms 12th floor

You've just surrounded yourself with books and are ready to begin to study. Or perhaps you've decided to skip the studying and getting ready to go out for the night. All of a sudden, a shrill noise breaks the silence and it startles you. It's the fire alarm. Do you ignore it (who really wants to go outside if it's only a false alarm?) or do you follow everyone outside to wait in the cold? The men of Oglesby Hall probably take fire alarms more seriously since the night of September 1.

At 8:50 that Friday night, a fire alarm in room 1209 sounded, alerting the floor to a possible fire. Having had several false alarms, many were skeptical. However, by 9 p.m. the students were outside while the firefighters were inside battling the blaze. The fighters were able to contain the fire damage to three rooms and the smoke and water damage to three floors.

But where do you sleep when your bed's full of either water or smoke? Those living on the twelfth floor and some on the tenth and eleventh floors were relocated to temporary housing. The damage costs are estimated at $125,000 for the university. That figure includes damages to the building (approximately $100,000) and to the furniture ($25,000).

The fire was allegedly started by a short circuit in a lamp in room 1209. The two students living in there, Mark Batanick and Steve Schuldt, were gone at the time but returned after the fire had been controlled. "When we got back to our room everything was basically gone," Schuldt said. "Everything was just ashes, all my stuff was destroyed."

He said his insurance company covered the $8,000 worth of damage done to his belongings in the blaze. "My main worry at the time was whether the insurance would pay for all my stuff, it wasn't that big of a deal, but I did go home for the weekend."

story by Lynne Peck
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by John Pletz

Pointing to the damage, Toby Itano, freshman in LAS, explains how much of his property has to be moved.

Although there was extensive damage done to personal property, a lot of clothes were salvageable.

photo by John Pletz

Robert G. Micky Garden Prairie, AGR
Margaret J. Middleton Millstadt, CBA
Nancy Mary Miedlar Oak Lawn, LAS Lisa Nicole Mier Bloomington, LAS Nicholas H. Mihael Deerfield, LAS
Mary Susan Mihelich Joliet, COM
Natalie Mikolajczak Dolton, CBA
Pamela Ann Mikulski Chicago, FAA
Michael K. Milani Naperville, CBA
Mary Beth Milas Wheaton, LAS Brian Michael Millar Tinley Park, ENG

Charlene Kay Miller Davis, CBA
Clifford E. Miller Urbana, ENG
Dena Kay Miller Niantic, AGR
Frank M. Miller West Chicago, LAS Gary Edward Miller Monticello, FAA
Gregory Allen Miller Schaumburg, CBA
James Patrick Miller Peoria, ENG
James Richard Miller Effingham, CBA
Krista A. Miller Urbana, LAS
Melinda Jo Miller Lewistown, AGR
Michelle M. Miller Elgin, LAS

Randall Allen Miller Chenoa, AGR
Rhett Lee Miller Mineral, LAS Sabrina L. Miller Chicago, COM
Scott Michael Miller Streator, ENG
Stephen Duane Miller East Peoria, CBA
Susanne Linda Miller Glen Ellyn, CBA
Kellyann Milliman Lake Forest, AGR
Brent Bradley Milner Springfield, CBA
Jacqueline T. Milord Homewood, LAS
Sun Young Min Mt. Prospect, LAS
Woongkee Min Chicago, ENG

David I. Minor Bettendorf, LAS
Sekine Miruki Urbana, CBA
Deborah Ann Misevich Naperville, COM
Kalpesh G. Mistry Hoffman Estates, LAS Anna Marie Mitchell Oak Lawn, CBA
Thomas Mitchell Murphysboro, LAS
Todd Paul Mitchell Downers Grove, ENG
Valerie E. Mitchell Chicago, LAS
Christina Mitsdarfer Philo, FAA
Michelle D. Mittleman Champaign, ALS
Tracy G. Mittleman Deerfield, CBA

Doug J. Mleczko Stillman Valley, ENG
Sam E. Mleczko Stillman Valley, ENG
Dale Owen Mobley Whitsett, ENG
Koki Mochizuki Yokohama, LAS Leslie Sue Moeckler Homewood, LAS Christy Kay Moeller Collinsville, LAS
Craig J. Mohan Homewood, ENG
Laura M. Mohlenkamp Sherrard, ENG
Christina Lee Mohr Homer, LAS Angel L. Molina Granite City, LAS
Jennifer L. Molitor Batavia, ED

Julia Ann Moll Oak Brook, CBA
Douglas Molnar Stone Mountain, CBA
Edmund C. Molyneux Rockford, LAS
Janet Lynn Molzan N. Aurora, LAS
Edward Allen Mondek Darien, ENG
Dennis J. Mondero Westchester, LAS
George W. Moner Champaign, LAS Carol Ann Monge Rockford, LAS
Brenda Lynn Monk Ashkum, LAS Barbara Jean Monroe Spring Valley, LAS
Erica L. Montgomery Highland Pk., AGR

Catherine Moody Crystal Lake, LAS John Austin Moody Rockford, LAS
Dorothy Hye Y. Moon Urbana, AGR
James Loren Moore Decatur, ENG
Jeffrey Robert Moore Elk Grove, LAS
Jill Renee Moore Homer, ENG
Melissa Kay Moore Timewell, ENG
Sherryl Denise Moore Chicago, LAS Angelice Lynn Mora Cary, LAS Carlos E. Morales Chicago, LAS
Erin M. Moran South Holland, ALS

Thomas P Moran III Palatine, ENG
Jeffrey A. Moreland Lansing, LAS
Susan Pia Moresco Glenview, COM
Alan Joseph Moretti Decatur, ENG
Brian Douglas Morgan Havana, LAS
Carol Ann Morgan Joliet, COM
Katherine Moriarty Evergreen Pk., ALS
James Jiro Morikuni Park Ridge, ENG
Robert S. Morikuni Park Ridge, FAA
Alicia Ann Morris Fairfield, LAS Thomas Harold Morris Joliet, LAS

Gary L. Morrison Naperville, LAS Matthew Morrisette New Lenox, LAS Kevin Morrow Indian Head Park, LAS
Craig Hubert Morton Chicago, CBA
Graig Morton Chicago, CBA
Pamela D. Morton Wheaton, ENG
Walter Moscose Mt. Prospect, ENG
Yvette Mosely Chicago, LAS
Daniel Edward Moser Elgin, ENG
Donna Louise Moss Orland Park, CBA
Melissa Mouhelis Crystal Lake, LAS

Michelle Mouheis Crystal Lake, LAS
 Andrew Peter Mowery Chicago, CBA
 Mary M. Moyer Rockford, LAS
 Kimberly A. Mraz Bloomington, LAS Kathleen M. Mroz Bourbonnais, LAS Christine Mueller Morton Grove, LAS
 Erica Lynn Mueller Aurora, ENG
 Joan Beth Mueller Haywood, CBA
 Michael J. Mueller Des Plaines, ENG
 Tina Marie Mueller Champaign, LAS
 Abdul Muhammad Chicago, CBA

Sheelah E. Muhammad Dolton, CBA
 Peter Hon-Fung Mui Chicago, ENG
 Udit K. Mukherjee Oak Brook, LAS
 Wendy Ann Mullan Lindenhurst, ALS
 Laura C. Munro Park Ridge, LAS
 Kirsten M. Munson Champaign, LAS
 Mark S. Murman Park Ridge, LAS Christopher S. Murphy Decatur, LAS
 John Murphy Longmont, ENG
 Marnie J. Murphy Palos Heights, CBA
 Patrick J. Murphy Geneva, LAS

John Patrick Murray Waterloo, LAS
 Leanne P. Murray Dunlap, COM
 Sandra A. Mutman Springfield, LAS
 Leigh Nachowicz Morton Grove, CBA
 Evanthis Nafpliotis Skokie, ENG
 Joanne Lynne Nagel Champaign, CBA
 Kathleen Irene Nagel Flossmoor, LAS
 Kimberly M. Nagel Palatine, CBA
 Richard Nagle Bloomington, LAS
 David L. Nagelski Bloomington, ENG
 Ty Taik Nam Burr Ridge, CBA

Diana Namowicz Downers Grove, CBA
 Christine Napoles Chicago, CBA
 Mark Eaton Narens Arnold, ED
 Cynthia Lynn Nash Springfield, FAA
 Julie Marie Nash Chicago, LAS Kirsten Marie Nash Neponset, LAS Dalila Nasser Chicago, LAS
 Philip S. Natividad Champaign, ENG
 Reggie S. Natividad Champaign, FAA
 Jill Ann Naujoks Chicago, LAS
 Sarah Judine Nawara Riverside, COM

Elizabeth Ann Neal Morgantown, AGR
 James Preston V. Neal Newark, LAS Teresa Lynn Neal Champaign, LAS Patricia J. Nebriada Chicago, LAS Marybeth Nefke Villa Park, LAS Mary Ellen Nejman Oak Lawn, LAS
 Amy Lynn Nelson Kalamazoo, LAS
 Andrew W. Nelson Quincy, ED
 Julie Ann Nelson Naperville, COM
 Lisa Marie Nelson Chicago, ENG
 Mark William Nelson Oak Park, LAS

Traci L. Nelson Chicago, LAS Arun J. Nemivant Chicago, LAS
 Michael A. Nena East Peoria, ENG
 Steven R. Neruda Inverness, LAS
 David R. Neuhoft West Chicago, ENG
 Karin R. Neumann Park Ridge, LAS Marshall G. Neumann Urbana, LAS
 Nathan V. Neumann Milan, AGR
 Jennifer Neville Western Springs, ED
 Allison Newhouse Urbana, AGR
 Daniel D. Nguyen Glen Ellyn, ENG

Hoang Huy Nguyen Champaign, ENG
 Thanh Viet Nguyen Westville, ENG
 Trang Quynh Nguyen Dolton, ENG
 Paul Nicholas Nibbio Wauconda, CBA
 Jennifer S. Nickle Norridge, CBA
 Kathleen M. Nielsen Chicago, LAS Scott Nielsen Rockford, LAS
 Carl J. Niemann Downers Grove, ENG
 Nancy Jo Niemeier Godfrey, LAS
 James A. Niewiara Schaumburg, LAS
 Michele Nigg Woodridge, ED

Megan K. Nimmo Batavia, COM
 Hendrica Nischan Champaign, ENG
 Nickolas R. Nisevich Lansing, LAS
 Daniel E. Nitzche Bloomington, FAA
 Lawrence A. Nixon OFallon, LAS
 John Joseph Niziolek Itasca, FAA
 Kimberly Jean Noah Lisle, LAS
 James Nocon Orland Park, ENG
 Daria B. Nogacz Crystal Lake, LAS Sunna Noh Oak Brook, LAS Mary Elizabeth Nolan Taylorville, LAS

Sally Marie Nolan Joliet, CBA
 Alyssa L. Noll West Chicago, ENG
 Eric Kevin Nolte Ofallon, LAS
 Thomas A. Noonan Dwight, AGR
 Mary Jo Norkus Alsip, ED
 Carl W. Norman Highland Park, FAA
 Lee Ann Norman Godfrey, LAS
 John Michael Norris Joliet, CBA
 Michael G. Norte Orland Park, ENG
 James B. Novak Hanover Park, ENG Laura Lee Novi Western Springs, LAS

photo by Jeff Miller

Matthew Byer, the UIUC student trustee, files a quarterly report on investments.

Board of Trustee members work over a model of the campus master plan.

photo by JoEllen Kanes

Elected board controls university

The Board of Trustees is the university's highest policy-making body. Among other things, it decides how much you will pay for tuition and fees each year, approves appointments and tenure decisions and creates the campus master plan.

Under state law the board is charged with exercising final authority over the university, including the delegation of state funds, administration and government of the university.

The board meets for two days each month, alternating between the Urbana-Champaign and the Chicago campus.

There are nine trustees, who are elected by Illinois citizens to staggered six-year terms.

Anyone in the state can run for board membership. Before a person can become a candidate, he is interviewed by University Alumni Association committees that represent the Republican and Democratic parties. These committees recommend candidates for slating in November elections.

Two students also serve on the board: law student Matt Byer and Randy Crumpton, a student at the Chicago campus.

Students serve one-year terms and are elected by the student body during April Student Government Association elections.

This year marked the first time a student government position was disputed.

The elected student trustee was removed from office after it was found that campaign rules had been violated. A lawsuit stemming from the situation is still pending in Champaign Circuit Court.

The current student trustee, Byer, said he is confident about his performance in the position and has helped "sensitize the other trustees to student issues."

The students vote before the other trustees, but their votes don't count. However, they do have participatory rights, which allow them to make motions and express ideas.

Byer said that giving the student trustee a full vote would lend additional credibility to the position, but added that it would not have much impact because, "there are almost never close votes. It's usually unanimous, or only one or two dissenting."

Byer spends about 18-25 hours in preparation the week before each meeting. He reads materials about subjects the board will be covering and talks to student groups and leaders about their opinions on the issues.

He also remains involved in other campus projects, that "do not necessarily fit into the definition of student trustee."

One such project is his work with the Interfraternity Council and SGA on starting a campaign to get the campustown bar hours extended to 2 a.m.

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Mike Krupicka

"My favorite college memory was when I went to South Padre for spring break."

L. Novi

Amy Lynn Nowling Elmhurst, ED
 Samita Doroy Nunn East St. Louis, LAS David Scott Nuzzo Darien, LAS
 Michael J. O'Beirne Galesburg, LAS Brian James O'Brien Darien, CBA
 Charles T. O'Brien Homewood, LAS Karen E. O'Brien South Holland, LAS Suzanne O'Dell Peoria, LAS
 John Francis O'Hare Rockford, COM
 Sarah Jane O'Hare Arlington Hts., LAS
 Kelley Rose O'Neill Crystal Lake, ENG

Timothy M. O'Neill Rockford, FAA
 Kathleen O'Reilly Bartlett, CBA
 David M. Ohernesser Barrington, LAS
 Angela Mable Odums Chicago, AGR
 Christine Oeffinger Naperville, LAS Donald S. Ogilvie Schaumburg, LAS Jolua H. Oh Schaumburg, CBA
 Kiho Oh Champaign, LAS Kyung Suk Oh Chicago, ENG
 Carrie Ann Ohare Springfield, LAS
 R. Clinton Ohlers Barrington, LAS

Julie Ann Okon Libertyville, LAS Lisa Marie Oldson Schaumburg, LAS
 Diane S. Olendzki Chicago, COM
 Brett N. Olmstead Springfield, LAS Debra Anne Olsen Edwardsville, LAS
 Mark Milton Olson Sullivan, ENG
 Paul William Olson Shabbona, ENG
 Ruby Diane Olson Woodstock, ALS
 Kelaine M. Olvera Des Plaines, LAS Janine Eva Onorato Glen Ellyn, LAS Kristin Diane Odsterdorp Hinsdale, ED

Charlotte Sue Opila Riverside, ALS
 Robert Allen Opsal Tiskulva, CBA
 Michael David Orals Arlington Hts., LAS Elizabeth A. Orchard Des Plaines, LAS Holly K. Oreutt Urbana, LAS
 Kristie Ann Oreluk Hazelcrest, ENG
 Valerie L. Orington Urbana, AGR
 Bridgette E. Orkild Barrington, LAS
 Jamie Orlovski Buffalo Grove, ED
 Scott Patrick Orr Naperville, ENG
 Pia M. Orrenius Evanston, LAS

Mark Joseph Orth Western Springs, ENG
 Cory Anthony Orzak Glendale Hts., LAS
 Todd Bruening Osing Havana, CBA
 Suzanne Oslovich Buffalo Grove, CBA
 Thomas R. Ossmann Oak Lawn, LAS Julie Marie Osswald Western Springs, LAS
 Noelle R. Osterbur Champaign, CBA
 Brett W. Ostrowski Crete, ENG
 David A. Oswald Seneca, LAS
 John C. Ottaviani Clarendon Hills, CBA
 William Robert Outer Geneva, CBA

Meredith M. Ottney Northbrook, CBA
 Robert Veloso Ouano Palos Heights, CBA
 Evan Lee Owens Benton, LAS
 Jeffrey Scott Owens Washington, ED
 Kathleen L. Pabich Hoffman Estates, LAS
 Annie C. Pachikara Murphysboro, FAA
 Francis R. Padilla Tinley Park, LAS Kevin Young Joon Pak Skokie, LAS
 Mark A. Palazzolo Springfield, LAS Stacy Lyn Palm Arlington Hts., AGR
 Todd Louise Palmbo Champaign, FAA

Jeffrey R. Panella Chicago, LAS
 Sharon Leigh Pankus Park Ridge, CBA
 Linda D. Paoletta Arlington Hts., LAS
 Margo Lea Papadakos Addison, COM
 Angela Papisideris Bristol, LAS Renee Ann Papineau Ashkum, LAS
 Deborah Ann Pardol Bolingbrook, CBA
 Michael F. Parduhn Chicago, CBA
 Laura Susan Parent Lake Forest, LAS
 Anne G. Paris Palos Hills, CBA
 Il H. Park Chicago, LAS

Ruth Eun Park Urbana, LAS Shirley Park Orland Park, LAS
 Eric Lavell Parker Evanston, CBA
 Jonathan B. Parker Lincoln, LAS
 Diane Lynne Parkins Ottawa, CBA
 Rena Susan Parman Lemont, ENG
 Cynthia E. Parrott Chicago, LAS Shelly Ann Parvin Naperville, LAS Michael C. Pascoe Highland Park, LAS
 Jaymin M. Patel Niles, ENG
 Sujal J. Patel Northbrook, ENG

Vaishalini K. Patel Woodale, AGR
 Heeren Hareesh Pathak Shorewood, ENG
 Stacy Lois Patinkin Chicago, COM
 Michelle B. Patt Chicago, LAS
 Lisa Jane Patterson Marshall, COM
 Michelle Lee Pauley Peoria, LAS Ronse Joseph Pavone Norridge, ENG
 Kacey Jo Paw Dolton, ENG
 Susan Rita Pawelko Des Plaines, LAS Scott Allan Pawlow Colchester, LAS
 Craig Steven Payne Chicago, ENG

"My favorite aspects about the U of I are the clubs and organizations, especially the intramurals."

—K. O'Neill

Technograph: a magazine for the mind

"You are given nine identical widgets. All widgets weigh exactly the same. However, there is an imposter in their midst. It is known that the imposter will be slightly heavier. You are given a two pan balance. What is the minimum number of weighings required to determine the imposter?" (Technograph: Volume 105, Issue 2).

To the average student, this might sound like a nightmare. However, this "Techteaser" provides entertainment for many readers of the University of Illinois' engineering magazine, Illinois-Technograph.

The Technograph is a "general science magazine focused around U of I research," according to Chi Ting Huang, editor-in-chief. It is published twice a semester and distributed free of charge around the Engineering campus.

Additionally, the Technograph has approximately 500 on-campus and 1,200 off-campus subscribers.

The staff of 20 students, many of them engineers, help to discredit the commonly held belief that "engineering students can't write."

Features have included such titles as "Fractals: A Descent Into Chaos," "Flexible Production Comes to U of I" and "Perspectives in Space Technology."

Many of the articles, however, would capture even the most unscientific student's attention. Topics such as "The Latest in Gourmet: Food Engineering" provides interesting reading for those of us who don't know a widget from a beaker.

"I find it really interesting. A lot of the articles would appeal to everyone — not just science students," said Kirsten Jensen, junior in Engineering.

By the way, the answer to the above "Techteaser" is two. For further explanation, ask your friendly neighborhood engineering student.

story by Angie Morgan
layout by Debbie Siegel

photo by Nora Hippolito

Chi-Ting Huang, Technograph editor-in-chief, discusses the layout for the next Technograph issue with Rachel Weaver, junior in FAA.

Laverne Moutse Payne Champaign, LAS Rhonda Payne Chicago, FAA
Stephen Ellis Payne Park Forest, ENG
Thomas R. Paynter Arlington, FAA
Jacqueline A. Payton Bridgeview, CBA
Pamela Jean Peak Winchester, CBA
Allen Lenart Paearson Glenview, LAS Susan Jane Pease Crystal Lake, LAS
Chris Allen Pedersen Hillside, FAA
Krista Lee Pederson Urbana, CBA
Matthew L. Peecher New Berlin, LAS

Laura Kay Pelz Elmhurst, CBA
Alfonso R. Pena Chicago, LAS Diane B. Pena Arlington Heights, LAS Kimberly D. Pendelton Chicago, LAS Margaret J. Pendelton Ballwin, Mo., LAS Katherine Perez Darien, LAS Deborah Lynn Perkins Champaign, LAS
Jennifer L. Perkins Decatur, CBA
Joan Colleen Perkins Mahomet, LAS
Bruce William Perona Peru, COM
Julie L. Perozzi Chicago Heights, COM

Joseph Perry Barrington, AGR
Sandra D. Perry Hoffman Estates, CBA
Tauara Evette Perry Chicago, LAS
Michael A. Pershing Champaign, ENG
Dan Slawko Perun Bensenville, CBA
Edward Ralph Peterka Galesburg, LAS
Lance G. Peterman Jr. Exton, Pa., ENG
James B. Peters Glen Ellyn, CBA
Kim Marie Peters Freeport, CBA
Colette T. Peterson Champaign, LAS David J. Peterson Orland Park, LAS

James D. Peterson Arlington Hts., FAA
Lara Marie Peterson Schaumburg, LAS Lori Ann Peterson Arlington Hts., LAS
Steven M. Petroskey Wheaton, AVI
Penny Ann Petrow Pekin, CBA
Kathryn M. Pezza Lake Forest, COM
Julie Rae Pfau East Moline, COM
Jo Ann Pfeiffer Seymour, AGR
Hoang Tan Phan Champaign, ENG
Thomas Arthur Phelps Dunlap, LAS
Adam Lane Phillips Gardner, AGR

Kelli Sue Phillips Calumet City, LAS
Erika Ruth Picard Alpha, COM
Paula Kay Pickett Decatur, FAA
Lisa Diane Pieklo Berwyn, COM
Anne C. Pielsticker Lisle, LAS
Robert Louis Pieper Urbana, ED
Judith L. Pierce Woodstock, LAS
Susan A. Pierce Oak Lawn, ENG
Michael E. Piggush Bradley, ENG
Raymond E. Pilapil Springfield, ENG
Matthew I. Pilditch Chicago, LAS

Amy Jeanne Pine Urbana, LAS
Susan M. Pinkowski Lemont, CBA
Susan Lynn Pinnow Crete, COM
Jeffrey W. Pinson Monmouth, ENG
Andrew J. Pipitone Naperville, CBA
James Robert Pirzyk Rockford, ENG
Marsha Kay Pitman Auburn, FAA
Brian S. Pitts Brookfield, ENG
William C. Pizzo Downers Grove, ENG
Sharon J. Plae Chicago, COM
Heather W. Placek Orland Park, LAS

Brendan Bryce Plapp Iowa City, Ia., LAS
Richard D. Plata Aurora, ENG
Amy Lynne Pleasant Highland, ALS
Matt Steven Plofsky Deerfield, LAS
Roy Elmer Plote Leland, AGR
Christine B. Plummer Springfield, LAS
Scott Robert Plummer Naperville, ENG
Theresa A. Pluskota Carol Stream, LAS Jennifer B. Poddig Chicago, LAS
Daniel R. Podgorski Lansing, CBA
Brian A. Podraza Chicago, ALS

Sandra Susan Podraza Chicago, ALS
Timothy R. Pollowy Schaumburg, FAA
Petra Polske New Lenox, ENG
Christa Lynn Pomerooy Grayslake, FAA
Deborah Sue Ponder Glen Carbon, LAS Deidre Ann Ponzer Galesburg, LAS Mark Collins Pool Pleasant Hill, ENG
Joseph Guy Pope Wheaton, CBA
Michael J. Populorum Wheaton, LAS Susanne Janet Porter Champaign, ALS
John Postlewaite Palestine, AGR

Karen Lynn Pottebaum Maineville, FAA
Johnna Jo Potthoff Spring Valley, ENG
Peter W. Poulos Morton Grove, CBA
Amy L. Poulson Indian Head Park, LAS Christine D. Pour Brookfield, LAS Lynn Marie Powell Hillview, LAS
Mark Steven Powell Annawan, ALS
John Michael Power Mt Prospect, LAS Tanja Anne Powers Normal, COM
Deepak Prabhakar Skokie, ENG
James Edward Pracht Liberty, AGR

"My favorite college memory was when I got slugged during my sophomore year. My friend got me into a fight with about 150 - 200 guys. We each got our punch in before we escaped."

—M. Peecher

Making a commitment before commencement

Love and marriage may go together like a horse and carriage, but what about marriage and an undergraduate education?

For Diane Maske, senior in communications, they fit together just fine. Diane married Marty Maske August 5, 1989.

After spending two years at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, the Campaign native transferred to the U of I. She was ready for a change, but marriage was not on her mind.

However, the day she returned to town, her mother introduced her to a Parkland classmate — Marty. "She thought we'd have fun together, she didn't think we'd get married," Diane said.

She said planning a wedding while attending school was not difficult because she had done it for others as part of her part time job at Ducky's Formal Wear in Campaign.

For others it may not be as easy, she said. "You have to plan way ahead, even if you know what you are doing. But I'm convinced that there's no way to throw one (a wedding) together in less than four months."

So far, the combination of marriage and studies has been smooth sailing. "It's actually easier to get stuff done," Maske said, "I have a routine now and my grades have actually improved."

She tries to get studying done while Marty is at work, but added that he's very understanding and supportive of her.

Her husband works full-time at Sears, and she works weekends at Ducky's. She looks forward to finding a job after graduation because, "when you're a student, it's hard to make ends meet."

While the arrangement works well for the Maskes, Diane said she thinks marriage would be overwhelming for two students.

Citing financial and educational stress, she said, "Even with scholarships, it would be almost impossible to make it work."

The best thing about being married is having someone to come home to, she said.

The worst thing is the reactions of some classmates when they find out she's married. "People in my classes make the most horrid faces when they find out ... there's a real emphasis on careers here," she said.

"People come home to roommates, he's my roommate ... but I guess marriage is a little different. It's not for everyone, but if you work hard you can have both (school and marriage)."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Joan Wilson

photo by Reggie Natividad

Darla Coriasco, senior in FAA, pins up photos of her husband, Jimmy, next to drafting equipment and Walt Disney cartoon characters. Coriasco keeps the pictures in her studio since she spends much time in the Senior Industrial Design Studios in the Art and Design Building.

Laurie Lynne Pranger North Lake, LAS
 Paul Richard Pratt Glendale Hts., ENG
 Jean Prendergast Flossmoor, LAS Lashia Donai Price Decatur, LAS David Joseph Prince River Forest, LAS Victoria Jo Printz Champaign, AGR
 Todd Eric Pritts Macon, ENG
 Richard J. Probst Wheeler, AGR
 Andrew J. Prochaska Champaign, ENG
 Stephanie J. Procopis Indianapolis, Ind., ENG
 Richard M. Prodoehl Chicago, LAS

Maureen F. Prosser Arlington Hts., CBA
 Cynthia Rae Protus Glenview, LAS
 C. Pruetting Hoffman Estates, ENG
 Elizabeth A. Pruitt Frankfort, LAS
 Ella Pruszyński Justice, CBA
 Veronica Anna Puc Westmont, CBA
 Peggy Anne Puckett Champaign, LAS
 Steven D. Pudar Chicago, ENG
 Amy Leigh Pulkrabek Barrington, CBA
 Julie Ann Purdy St. Charles, MO, LAS Praveen Chandra Puri Schaumburg, ENG

Todd C. Pusateri S. Holland, LAS
 Matthew A. Puzey Cazenovia, NY, ENG
 Stephanie Jo Pytymia Orland Park, AGR
 Chi Ngoc Quach Chicago, LAS
 Anthony J. Quigley Wilmington, ENG
 Karen E. Quinlan Champaign, CBA
 Joseph E. Quinn Plainfield, ENG
 Jennifer A. Quinnett Chicago, LAS
 Lucy A. Quintana Richton Park, LAS
 Michele Marie Quirk Lansing, COM
 Karla Raber Saybrook, ALS

J. Bradley Rabig Willowbark, ENG
 Douglas W.G. Rabold Carlisle PA, LAS
 Stacey Beth Rachesky Champaign, AGR
 Michael Dean Rader Williamsfield, ENG
 Theresa A. Radgowski Chicago, ED
 Thomas R. Radice Orland Park, LAS
 Caryn C. Radosh Barrington, CBA
 Daniel M. Rafter Chicago, COM
 Debra Kaye Ragan Strasburg, LAS Adam Bryan Ragins Glencoe, LAS Naushina Rahman Skokie, LAS

Keith Richard Rahn Geneseo, AGR
 Sheryl Judith Rak Mundelein, LAS
 David G. Ramsay Clarksville, MD, CBA
 Ericka Lene Ramsey Chicago, ED
 Kiten S. Randhawa Downers Grove, ENG
 Dale Gibson Randol Elmhurst, LAS
 Teresa Anne Rankin Riverton, AGR
 Ravi Prakash Rao Westchester, AGR
 Kathleen S. Raparelli Frankfort, LAS Heike G. Rapp-Wurm Champaign, FAA
 Karen E. Rapp Fairview Heights, COM

Karen Ingrid Rapp Palatine, LAS Holly Rappin Chicago, LAS
 Jason G. Rasinski Oaklawn, LAS
 Mark Rastovac Dearborn Hts., Mich., CBA
 Christopher P. Rath Lake Zurich, ENG
 Frank Justin Ratkus Crete, CBA
 Sonja S. Rawls Paxton, LAS Jennifer Ann Raynis Naperville, FAA
 Brian Edward Reek Rockford, COM
 Gregory D. Reekamp Crystal, LAS
 Gregory Dean Reed Catlin, CBA

James Michael Reed Darien, ENG
 Melinda M. Reed Rock Island, CBA
 Patrick Joseph Reed Alton, ENG
 Phylecia B. Reed Alton, CBA
 Lenore Reedy Lombard, LAS Heather A. Reichert Libertyville, LAS
 Suzanne M. Reichle Naperville, LAS
 Edward John Reinhardt Lemont, ED
 Valerie Reinke Carrollton, Texas, LAS
 William Reinwald Jr. Carmi, LAS
 Scott Phillip Reis Willow Hill, AGR

Jane Allison Reising Mokena, CBA
 Ann E. Reisinger Springfield, FAA
 Julie Lynn Reiske Godfrey, LAS
 Pamela Rose Reiss Urbana, LAS
 Ronald W. Reiter Manteno, AGR
 Kimberly A. Reitman Deerfield, LAS
 Cynthia K. Rekuch Niles, CBA
 Jody Rendzik Tinley Park, CBA
 Steven Carl Rennick Dunlap, ENG
 James M. Rentas Westchester, CBA
 Ron Greg Repking Flossmoor, LAS

Kristen C. Restivo Arlington Hts., COM
 Dave John Reuter Coal City, ENG
 Ingrid Ann Reutter Aurora, LAS
 Amy Elizabeth Revell Byron, LAS
 Valerie Jo Revelle Belleville, COM
 Darcy Rexroat Macomb, CBA
 Jeanne M. Rexroat Oak Park, FAA
 John Bernard Reyes Palos Hills, LAS
 Barry Wayne Reynolds Shelbyville, ENG
 Dana Reynolds Decatur, LAS
 Melissa Ann Reynolds Chicago Hts., AGR

"The dumbest thing at U of I is how they put students in 'C' section at basketball games."

—R. Prodoehl

photo by Jeff Miller

Saturday morning classes interrupt most students' weekends, but they also help determine who are the most dedicated students.

Classes disturb Saturdays

As the last spark of sunlight slowly descends upon the horizon, it leaves behind a magnificent display of colors in the evening sky. While admiring the vibrant streaks of orange and gold, you dig your toes deep into the cool, wet sand. A wave ebbs toward the shore, splashing foam playfully across your feet. You tilt your head back and listen as a piercing ring vibrates through the ocean air.

Wait a minute. Something strange is going on. When was the last time you heard a piercing ring at the beach?

As you rub your eyes, you begin to realize that your "beautiful sunset" is nothing more than paint chipping from your bedroom ceiling and that the ring is coming from your alarm clock.

It's 8:00 in the morning and you're late for class.

After five days of early mornings such as this one, most university students look forward to sleeping-in on Saturdays, spending a few more hours "at the beach," so to speak.

However, for the handful of students each semester who have no alternative but to attend classes on Saturday mornings, this is one dream that just won't come true.

For example, last semester, those wishing to take Art Education 390, Biochemistry 350, and Chemistry 436 stared at their Timetables in horror upon discovering the capital "S" beside the only sections available.

"Having a 9:00 class on Saturday mornings was really horrible!" said Don Staunton, senior in LAS, who took Biochemistry 350 to satisfy a requirement for his major, Animal Science. "On Friday nights, I drank a lot less and I was home by 2:00."

Mike Velez, senior in LAS, agreed. "Biochem was really a bummer on Saturday mornings. But then again, I think I only attended about half the classes!"

On a more conservative note, Lisa Majeres, junior in LAS, said, "Taking Biochem on Saturdays last semester was really hard. I had to sacrifice many Friday nights and my weekends seemed a lot shorter."

Pity these and other unfortunate students who needed one of the three classes to graduate, for they could not stay in bed on Saturday mornings and "watch the sunset." Instead, they had to turn off their alarm clocks and face reality.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Joe Durica

Wendy Kay Reynolds Kenney, LAS Sandra Rhee Park Ridge, CBA
 Stephen J. Rhoades Oswego, LAS
 Michael P. Rhode Pontiac, LAS
 Joseph A. Riassetto Belleville, FAA
 Jeffrey J. Richards Effingham, ENG
 Chad D. Richardson Naperville, ENG
 Bret Luzern Richter Naperville, FAA
 Bryan N. Richter Belleville, FAA
 Kamnie Marie Richter Oakwood, ED
 Susan K. Richter Northbrook, LAS

Dean E. Riechers Grant Park, AGR
 Greg Allan Riechman Irvington, CBA
 Bret Allen Riedl Bloomingdale, ENG
 James Roger Riffle Streamwood, LAS Maria V. Rigas Belleville, LAS
 Jennifer Rigdon Davenport, Iowa, ENG
 Andrew C. Riggs Lafayette, Ind., LAS
 Charles Riggs Jr. River Forest, ENG
 Heather Marie Riker Westport, CBA
 Viengkham Rimpakone Rockford, CBA
 Gregory T. Ring Oak Lawn, LAS

Michelle Elaine Ring Barrington, LAS
 Nancy L. Ringelstein Mundelein, AGR
 Erik C. Ringstad Geneva, ENG
 Jeffrey J. Ringwald Peoria, ENG
 Jennifer M. Rivan West Chicago, CBA
 Lecann E. Robeck Pesotum, CBA
 Dina Rene Roberti Chicago, LAS
 Carmen C. Robinett Decatur, LAS
 David Mark Robinson Annawan, ENG
 Delores R. Robinson Minooka, ED
 Eric P. Robinson Bloomington, COM

Lisa Ann Rodrian Bloomington, ED
 Carlos O. Rogriguez, Jr. Skokie, AGR
 Marcelo P. Rodriguez Glencoe, LAS
 Richard Rodriguez Chicago, ENG
 Jacob Andrew Roedl Urbana, ALS
 Christina S. Roesch Clinton, CBA
 Amrk Hanley Roeser Wheaton, CBA
 Kurt Patrick Roesner Kewanee, ENG
 Denise Karen Rogala Cary, LAS Caryn Nicole Rogers Chicago, LAS
 James Rogers Downers Grove, ALS

Jeffrey E. Rogers Champaign, ENG
 Kimberly Anne Rogers Greer, LAS Debra Jo Rohleder Offallon, LAS
 Ulysses G. Rojas Miami, Fla., ENG
 Jeffrey Allen Roleck Brookfield, LAS Karen Sue Roll Moline, LAS
 Michelle Anne Roller Aurora, CBA
 Gregory J. Rollins Bourbonnais, AGR
 Toulia Romas Chicago Heights, LAS
 David Luis Romero Champaign, CBA
 Marcus K. Rominger Springfield, LAS

John D. Roncone Westchester, LAS
 Donald Roop Chicago Heights, CBA
 Suzanne Rosales Downers Grove, LAS
 Deborah Sue Roscich Naperville, CBA
 Melissa Ann Rosen Lincolnwood, LAS
 David E. Rosenberg Dundee, FAA
 James D. Rosenberg Evanston, LAS Mark Allen Rosenberg Peoria, LAS
 Jon E. Rosenstengel Belleville, CBA
 Carl Anton Ross III Waukegan, LAS Claudia Helena Ross Chicago, LAS

Donald Allen Ross Urbana, LAS Katrina Marie Ross Tuscola, COM
 Angela K. Roth Belleville, LAS
 Steven Dudley Roth River Forest, ALS
 Bruni Joseph Roti Chicago, FAA
 David P. Rottschaefer Wheaton, LAS
 Craig William Rowe Decatur, ENG
 Mark Allyn Rowe Monticello, LAS Tammy Lynne Rowe Marseilles, LAS Bryan K. Rowland Christopher, LAS
 Dawn Kandice Rozek Chicago, COM

Jacqueline Rozenewajg Skokie, LAS
 Kimberly K. Rubel Northbrook, CBA
 David Todd Rubin Wilmette, LAS
 Pamela Anne Rubin Oak Lawn, CBA
 Kim Leslie Ruche Homewood, AGR
 Roger Andrew Ruesing Madison, ENG
 Lorianne M. Ruggles Antioch, CBA
 Thomas J. Ruggles Urbana, CBA
 Brett Michael Ruiz Rockford, LAS
 Christopher F. Runge Dawson, ENG
 Jill Lyn Runnion Homewood, LAS

Rebecca Ruseh San Rafael, Calif., CBA
 Robert Nelson Rush Glenview, ENG
 Denise Rusnack Belleville, LAS
 John E. Rusnak Arlington Hts., ENG
 Rachael E. Russ Chicago, LAS
 Angela M. Russell Rochester, LAS
 Deborah S. Russell Evanston, LAS
 James A. Russell Winnetka, LAS Mark Douglas Russell Geneva, LAS
 Thomas C. Russell Springfield, LAS Angela C. Russian Westville, LAS

"Because of the friendships, activities and closeness, my favorite college memory is being in a sorority."

—S. Richter

Andrew Ketterson, graduate student in electrical engineering, adjusts controls on a machine in the Engineering Clean Room. Located at Everitt Lab, the Clean Room is the "cleanest spot on campus."

photo by Nora Hipolito

How clean can you get?

You shower everyday, put on freshly washed clothes and dust your room. You think you're clean, right? Wrong. Just visit the Engineering Clean Room at Everitt Lab — the cleanest spot on campus.

Some fields of micro electronic research require a very clean room because the instruments are highly sensitive to tiny particles in the air and on people.

At the U of I, the research done in the clean room involves compound semi-conductors and submicron device fabrication for applications in high-speed digital electronic systems. The research can be used to develop computer chips that operate faster. Researchers use instruments such as the Electron Beam Lithography system which, "etches fine lines that are one one-thousandth the diameter of a piece of hair," said John Hughes, senior research engineer.

Because the processes use such fine dimensions, even small dust particles in the air are, "large enough to wreak havoc," Hughes said.

All the air coming into the clean room passes through a filter. A constant pressure outward also cuts down on the amount of contaminated air entering the room.

The chemicals and water are also treated or purchased to specifications to be as clean as possible.

The light, too, passes through a filter. The materials used for the research are sensitive to some wavelengths of light, so the filter removes these wavelengths, leaving a yellow light.

People, though, are the main source of contamination. "You can create a very clean room, but as soon as someone walks in, there is a lot of debris that you wouldn't normally worry about," Hughes said.

The researchers "gown up" in coveralls, head and foot gear and rubber gloves. Their clothing is made from Tyvec, a synthetic material. Tyvec is similar to plastic and won't shed small fibers as most materials do, Hughes said.

In addition, lead pencils and women's cosmetics are prohibited because they add small particles to the air.

This facility, however, is not as clean as it could be. Some cleanrooms eliminate people altogether, using totally electronic processes instead, Hughes said. But, he added, creating a true cleanroom would be very expensive.

The cleanroom at Everitt will relocate this summer to the newly built Microelectronics Center. The new facility will have 16 cleanrooms. "It's a phenomenal facility," Hughes said, "with cleaner cleanrooms than (the one at Everitt) is."

story by Karen Damascus
layout by Julie Fanella

photo by Nora Hipolito

Michael Nabielec, senior in electrical engineering, examines a chip under a microscope.

"My favorite memory here is when the basketball team went to the Final Four in 1989."

E. Russow

USSA networks in Midwest

One and a half months without a weekend at home seems too hectic for most of us, but for Judi Pierce, senior in LAS, it's all in a day's work.

As the Midwest Representative for the United States Student Association (USSA), Pierce travels to Washington, D.C., the group's headquarters, twice a year and spends a great deal of time networking with her representative areas: Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri and Illinois.

The USSA's prime directive is to concentrate on and promote higher education across the nation. Recently it has been struggling with a dilemma: how to define "higher education." Does it just involve issues like tuition, financial aid and its availability, and academic planning, or does it also include social issues?

"I feel that these issues overlap but I am trying (as a regional representative) to stay in line with networking and addressing problems. However, the USSA is concentrating on social issues, too," Pierce said.

USSA also tries to do things for its subsidiary members at a local level. Last semester, USSA brought a growth and leadership conference, the Grow Program, to the Illinois campus. The workshop was attended not only by Illinois students but also by students from Northern, Eastern, Southern and Illinois Wesleyan.

At the end of February, Pierce will be traveling, accompanied by eight delegates from Illinois and several from Wisconsin, to Washington, D.C., for the Annual Legislative Conference. This semester's conference concentrates on lobbying legislators and accomplishing goals through the legislative system.

Pierce became interested in the USSA last year when she applied to go to a USSA conference as a delegate. She had done research into the issue of higher education and decided to run for the representative position during the conference at the University of California-Berkley.

"I felt it was important to be involved nationally if for no other reason than to be informed," she said.

Pierce said she feels she has done a good job keeping Illinois aware of national policy during her year long term as a regional representative.

"What I feel really good about is that I have learned a lot about people and how they operate. On the (USSA) Board there are people from all over the USA with different backgrounds and cultures. Personally, I've diversified my views."

story by Deidre Ponzer
layout by Mike Krupicka

photo by Dan Creinin

"I felt it was important to be involved nationally if for no other reason than to be informed," said Judi Pierce.

Eric Scott Russow Ancona, ED
Kelly Arthur Rust Freeport, LAS Loretta Sue Rust Freeport, ED
Maureen J. Ruthman Chicago, LAS
Ellen Louise Rutlin Rockford, COM
Sheryl A. Rutter Champaign, LAS
Terri Sue Ruwe Carol Stream, CBA
Paul T. Rozicka Champaign, AGR
John Wynn Ryan Jr. Belvidere, ENG
Martina Mary Ryan Elmhurst, CBA
Elizabeth S. Rybicki Yorkville, AGR

Karen Rydzewski Chicago, LAS
Michael Rzeszutko Schaumburg, AGR
Nicholas A. Sabadoski Plainfield, LAS
Karen H. Saddler Naperville, AGR
S. Sadeghossini Urbana, ENG
Maria S. Saenz Elgin, CBA
Anjad Ali Safvi Springfield, ENG
Nobuo Sakai Nara Japan, ENG
David Salazar Chicago, LAS
Natalia Maria Salces Chicago, COM
Gina Marie Salemi Wheaton, CBA

Stephen Jay Salm Riverwoods, LAS
Reino Salmi Chicago, ENG
Douglas A. Saloga Sugar Grove, AGR
Derek C. Sammons Pontiac, CBA
Monica Samolis Downers Grove, CBA
Carl Norman Santos Riverside, ENG
Teresa Lynn Sams Normal, CBA
Karen C. San Vicente Chicago, ENG
Carolyn P. Sanchez Naperville, LAS April Leigh Sanders Springfield, COM
Timothy C. Sanders Allendale, LAS

Patricia A. Sanderson Leland, ED
Michael H. Sandow Deerfield, CBA
Cary Sandvig Minneapolis, Minn., ENG
Adolfo Santos Santos Chicago, FAA
Thomas Joseph Sanzi Addison, CBA
David Saporta Rolling Meadows, CBA
Claudia Marie Saran Berwyn, CBA
Thomas Sarbaugh Woodstock, FAA
Sheila Sasso Crawfordville, Ind., CBA
Raul Sancedo Chicago, ENG
Michelle P. Sauder Tremont, LAS

Scott Jay Sauer Arlington Hts., ALS
Elizabeth A. Saviski Homewood, COM
Allan P. Saywitz Northbrook, LAS
Kristin M. Scala Crystal Lake, CBA
David R. Scanlan Newton, LAS Tracy J. Scanlon McHenry, CBA
Tasmyn Wynta Searl Glencoe, FAA
Lisa M. Seavarda Milan, CBA
Philip J. Schaefer Mt. Prospect, ENG
Edward J. Schaffer Oak Lawn, CBA
Judith Beth Schag Lake Zurich, LAS

Elizabeth Scharl Arlington Hts., LAS Dawn Marie Scheets Aurora, LAS
Daniel C. Scheffler Wheaton, ENG
Marcia A. Scheller Bloomington, LAS
William D. Schempp Springfield, LAS
Megan Schendel Crystal Lake, CBA
Charles R. Schenk Rockford, ENG
Jon Daniel Schertz Normal, AGR
Matthew W. Schertz El Paso, AGR
Kelly Ann Schewe Champaign, LAS
Paul Allen Schewe Champaign, LAS

Christina Schick Severna Park, CBA
Jeffrey C. Schierer Aurora, LAS
Michael D. Schilling Mattoon, ENG
Jeffrey Schillinger Plainfield, AGR
Harold Schlehahn Villa Park, CBA
Sanford Schleicher Lake Bluff, ENG
Lisa Jo Schleyhahn Springfield, CBA
Joann Schlosser Burbank, LAS
Paul E. Schmerold Wheaton, CBA
Andrew Schmidt Mt. Prospect, CBA
Eric Arthur Schmidt Belleville, ENG

Lisa M. Schmidt Downers Grove, CBA
Michael A. Schmidt Glen Ellyn, LAS
Robert Schmieder Westchester, COM
Todd A. Schmiedl Champaign, LAS David Keith Schmit Elmhurst, LAS
Mark A. Schnutt Glen Ellyn, FAA
Kristin Lynn Schnarr Elk Grove, LAS
Hildegard Schneider Glenview, ENG
Nadine M. Schneider Berwyn, ED
Todd B. Schneider Centralia, ENG
Matthew A. Schoaf Dixon, ENG

Joseph Thomas Schohl Mokena, CBA
Susan B. Scholfield Morton, LAS
Sandra J. Scholtens Woodridge, CBA
Michelle E. Schon Park Ridge, LAS
John David Schoolman Sheldon, AGR
Thelma Schoonmaker Sycamore, AGR
Jane Ellen Schott Kankakee, CBA
Curtis A. Schrieber Versailles, AGR
Troy David Schrock Congerville, CBA
Charles Schroeder Schaumburg, LAS
Donna Schroeder Grant Park, AGR

Students for a Tuition Freeze – a non-registered student organization – protest future tuition increases by dumping 2000 lbs of ice on the Illini Union's south patio.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

IBHE deals with taxing issues and tuition

The university depends on the behind the scenes work of the Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) for survival. Why? FUNDING.

Tuition hikes and tax increases will not be necessary to fund Illinois' higher education system for 1990-91, that is, if the state fully funds the IBHE's budget request.

Each year the university, along with all other public universities in the state, submits a budget request to the IBHE, which pares down the figures and sends its recommendations to the governor. The governor cuts these figures even more before sending them to the General Assembly.

This year the IBHE is seeking an 8.8 percent increase in funding. Their budget includes 7.3 percent more funds for the university than this year's budget, 2.6 percent less than what university administrators had asked for.

The board also develops policy guidelines for public universities.

There are 13 board members appointed by the governor, but many other individuals participate through staff or committee work.

For the past two years Margaret Humay, senior in communications, has been on the Student Advisory Committee to the board. Each school in the state has one or two delegates, depending on enrollment.

This year Humay was selected as the alternate student board member, so she attends and participates in monthly meetings.

She is also on the Committee on Scope and Productivity, upon which Dick Wagner, IBHE executive director, asked her to participate. University Vice Chancellor Morton Weir is also on the committee, whose other members include university administrators and Illinois business leaders.

The committee's purpose is to evaluate the state of higher education in Illinois by assessing its productivity and responsibilities.

Humay said she has learned a lot through her involvement with the IBHE. She said she sometimes feels intimidated by the "prestigious people" she works with, and often prefers to "sit back and observe" during the meetings.

But, she added, the "prestigious people" treat her as an equal and "always encourage my opinion, because they are removed from the campus scene and they want to know what's going on."

story by Lisa Bower
layout by Debbie Siegel

"My favorite college memory is living in the dorms my Freshman year and getting to meet a lot of people. There were forty-five guys and ten girls on my floor. The guys are like my brothers now."

A. Siampus

Sara Lynn Schroeder Columbia, CBA
 Jeffrey D. Schroll Morton, ENG
 Rebecca Jane Schubel Naperville, LAS
 Debra Renee Schubert Mt. Vernon, ALS
 Richard N. Schultz Elk Grove, ENG
 Suzette Schultz Richmond, LAS
 John Edward Schulz Richton Park, LAS
 William P. Schumacher Champaign, ED
 Elizabeth J. Schuring Marengo, ED
 Nancy J. Schuster Aurora, CBA
 Cynthia L. Schwartz Northbrook, CBA

Melissa B. Schwartz Lake Villa, LAS
 Chris Werner Schwarz Coal Valley, ENG
 Melissa Dori Schwarz Chicago, ED
 Steven E. Schwarz Antioch, LAS
 Rebecca L. Schwarz Chillicothe, FAA
 Cynthia S. Schwegler Bloomingdale, LAS Diane Renee Sciacca Berwyn, LAS Rebecca L. Sekrabilis West Chicago, LAS
 Brett A. Seorza Bensenville, ENG
 Margaret Scotellaro Wilmette, LAS
 Ashlie Anne Scott Ottawa, CBA

Michael Andrew Scott Palatine, ENG
 Jeffrey S. Seukaneec Hillside, ENG
 Krista Jo Sebastian Elmwood Park, COM
 Mila Sebesta Oak Brook, ENG
 Joseph Whitney Seda St. Charles, ENG
 Noha M.L. Seddik Urbana, ENG
 Wendy Jill Sedelsku Des Plaines, COM
 Susan M. Segebarth Homewood, CBA
 Nancy Seidel St. Charles, AGR
 Kristine Ann Seitz Gelbets, CBA
 Deborah Ann Sejud Tinley Park, ED

Catherine Ann Sell Park Ridge, FAA
 Tom Jason Selland Norman, OKL, ENG
 Lara Marie Seman Hinsdale, CBA
 Ann Marie R. Semaski Ingleside, LAS
 George B. Semeniuk Olympia Fields, LAS Scott Edward Senalik Springfield, LAS
 James Gerard Senese Chicago, CBA
 Carol F. Sennett Chadwick, LAS Sung Scott Seong Carpentersville, ENG
 Joseph S. Sepeczi Dolton, ENG
 Lori L. Sepp Urbana, CBA

Aruna R. Serbanescu Chicago, ENG
 Neal Howard Setchell La Grange, LAS
 Elizabeth Ann Sevier Decatur, ED
 Cynthia L. Sewell Belleville, LAS Deksha Shah Chicago, ENG
 Divya S. Shah Chicago, ENG
 Jay Shah Naperville, CBA
 Kelly Jean Shanahan Chicago, AGR
 Michael N. Shapiro Highland, FAA
 Raja Sharma Darien, LAS
 Angie Richele Sharp Edwardsville, FAA

Debra Ann Sharp Springfield, ENG
 Jill Lynn Shattler Geneva, CBA
 Lisa M. Shauinger Barrington, LAS
 April Marie Shaw Urbana, COM
 Heather Ayn Shaw Lincolnshire, CBA
 Michelle Lee Shaw Maroa, LAS Patrick D. Shaw Pekin, LAS
 Ann Margaret Shea Godfrey, AGR
 Jeffrey Lee Shelby Chillicothe, ENG
 Hemanth Sheno Centerville, Ohio, LAS
 John Carl Shepard Cary, FAA

Barbara J. Shepherd Glen Ellyn, ALS
 Teresa Ann Sheridan Sauk Village, CBA
 Susan Lynn Sherman Peru, COM
 Michael J. Shevlin Arlington Hts., COM
 Amy Lynn Shields Quincy, ALS
 Hideki Shikata Lisle, LAS
 Karen M. Shillington Glendale Hts., COM
 John Charles Shimala Lansing, LAS
 Sheryl L. Shimanovsky Niles, ED
 Hyun Moon Shin Park Ridge, LAS Robert Michael Shislandi Wilmette, LAS

Deborah Ann Shively Belleville, CBA
 Geri Lynn Shkoler Wilmette, LAS Katherine M. Shonk Evanston, LAS
 Steven W. Shoopman Normal, ENG
 Shelley Lyn Shoot Charleston, LAS
 Bradley Kyle Shuttton Pinckneyville, ENG
 Susan Elaine Shoup Frankfort, IN, AGR
 Margaret Ann Shultz Evergreen Pk., LAS
 David Henry Shuo Carrollton, ENG
 Jeffrey James Shura Villa Park, ENG
 Gary John Shust Palatine, LAS

Adriana M. Siampus Justice, LAS
 Michael J. Siehlau Litchfield, LAS
 Robert L. Siders Champaign, COM
 Julie Ann Siedlecki Addison, LAS
 Brenda K. Siegel Wheaton, LAS
 Karen C. Sievertsen Arlington Hts., LAS
 Daniel J. Signorini Des Plaines, CBA
 Karl John Sila Normal, ENG
 Christina G. Silhavy Park Forest, LAS Mitchell A. Silver Highland Park, LAS Michael E. Silverman Des Plaines, LAS

To grade or not to grade

It's been a long time since kindergarten. Reflecting on all those years of ABC's, spelling bees and multiplication tables, you probably think you've made a great deal of progress. In addition to acquiring a wealth of knowledge, you have mastered the skills involved in taking notes, pulling all-nighters and guessing on multiple choice exams. And that's something to be proud of, right?

Sure it is. But let's not get carried away. At some point in time, if you're like most students at the University of Illinois, you will experience the feeling of being back in grade school again, struggling to comprehend the basic concepts and ideas of a class.

Your confusion may result from Introduction to Computer Science, Masterpieces of American Literature or Comparative Politics. Regardless of the source, this feeling can be harmful to your ego as well as to your grade point average.

Should you ever find yourself in this situation, you might consider taking the class credit/no credit. Under this option, you will receive full credit for the class, while at the same time, the grade you earn will not be counted toward your G.P.A.

"I took the class because I liked German, not because I needed it to fulfill any requirements. When it started getting really difficult and time-consuming, I was afraid it might lower my G.P.A. By taking the class credit/no credit, there was no pressure involved, and I enjoyed it a lot more," said Craig Vodnick, sophomore in engineering, explaining why he took German 211 credit/no credit

In order to take advantage of the credit/no credit option, you must obtain approval from your advisor within the first eight weeks of the semester. As an undergraduate, you may take up to 18 hours of classes credit/no credit, provided they are not satisfying the university's general education requirements or specific requirements within your major.

Although this option may seem very desirable, there are several drawbacks to consider. First of all, in order to receive credit, you must earn a grade of "C" or above. Therefore, you may devote lots of time and energy to your Logic and Reasoning class, but if you don't make the grades, your efforts will be in vain.

Also, if you take the class credit/no credit and later decide that you would prefer the regular grade option, you must turn in a request within the first eight weeks. In other words, if you should discover that you're really not that "illogical" after receiving an "A" on your midterm exam, you may be out of luck.

If you are thinking of attending graduate school, you should also keep in mind that some schools are not impressed when they see credit symbols on transcripts. Some may even convert no credits symbols into failing grades.

In spite of these negative aspects, the credit/no credit option is definitely something to consider, as it does give you the opportunity to take a difficult and challenging class without the added pressure of grades.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Joan Wilson

Some students, such as Lynette Felsman, senior in CBA, find they must study late at night whether or not they enjoy it.

photo by Scott Jacobson

"I think the dumbest rule here is the Non-Western Culture requirement for LAS students."

S. Silverman

Scott R. Silverman Northbrook, LAS Yoon Mun Sim Skokie, LAS
David Sinia Downers Grove, AGR
Holly Simantel Lisle, AIS
Stephen Simberg Scottsbluffs, N.J., CBA
Christine Simmons Williamstown, Mich., AGR
Nancy Beth Simon Hinsdale, ENG
Lasaundra Renee Sims Chicago, CBA
Payton Lasean Sims Markham, LAS Clarke A. Sinclair Chicago, LAS
Kristin Ann Sincalir Orland Park, ED

Heather Singalewitch Cherryville, N.C., ENG
Harbinder Singh Libertyville, LAS Vineet Singla Schaumburg, LAS
Denis Eric Singleton Melrose, MA, ENG
Eric Wayne Sink Champaign, ENG
Lisa Marie Siragusa Elmwood Park, CBA
Paulette C. Siron Elmwood, FAA
Howard Brian Sirota Des Plaines, CBA
Nancy M. Sirota St. Louis, Mo., LAS
Barbara Siska Wheaton, AGR
Elizabeth Ann Skach Palatine, LAS

Daniel Skallington Chesterfield, Mo. ENG
Kevin M. Skoner Hoffman Estates, ED
Thomas Edward Skozko Champaign, ENG
Charles S. Skrabacz Addison, LAS
Cheryl R. Skrabacz Addison, ED
Rebecca Lynn Slater Peoria, CBA
Amy Jean Slates Hoopston, ALS
Nancy C. Slepicka Glen Ellyn, COM
Victoria E. Sloane Arlington Hts., CBA
Richard Slobodnik Joliet, ENG
David W. Slodki Downers Grove, LAS

Gregory T. Sloniger Champaign, FAA
Mary Louise Sloth Lake Zurich, CBA
Bethelen Slovick Niles, LAS
Alexander M. Smaga Glenwood, CBA
Lisa Romain Small Chicago, CBA
David D. Smart Centerville, Ohio, LAS
Albert R. Smiles Oak Lawn, CBA
Cheryl Lynn Smith Urbana, CBA
Christopher Smith G. Rapids, Mich., CBA
Eric Worth Smith Havana, ENG
Heather Gail Smith Elk Grove, LAS

J. Scott Smith Urbana, LAS
James Robert Smith Dolton, ALS
Jennifer Ann Smith Gurnee, CBA
Julia C. Smith Quincy, AGR
Karen Lynn Smith Villa Grove, LAS Kari Anne Smith Schaumburg, LAS Laurie Janeane Smith East Peoria, LAS Melanie Ann Smith Yorkville, LAS Merna Marie Smith DeKalb, LAS
Michael James Smith Edwardsville, ENG
Scott Alan Smith Bloomington, ENG

Susan M. Smith Aurora, COM
Tracy M. Smith Chicago, LAS
Travis Ray Smith Omaha, AGR
Vedia Yvette Smith Chicago, ED
William Terry Smith Naperville, LAS Loren N. Smolensky Champaign, LAS
Susan Kay Smudde Glenview, CBA
Anna Maria Smull Champaign, LAS Susan E. Smylie Palatine, LAS
Lisa R. Snapp Urbana, LAS
James W. Snell IV Libertyville, FAA

Denise Snider Milledgeville, AGR
Shannon Mary Snider Urbana, FAA
Douglas P. Snook Geneva, FAA
Julie C. Snow Champaign, LAS
Roger E. Snyder Warrensburg, ENG
Lisa Deborah Sobol St. Louis, Mo. CBA
Jennifer A. Sochacki Palatine, LAS
David A. Soderstrom Champaign, ENG
Jyoti C. Solanki Indian Head, LAS
Daniel E. Solarz Cary, ENG
Jacqueline D. Sollers Danville, COM

Brian K. Soltermann Petersburg, LAS
Patricia Somerville Aurora, CBA
Deborah K. Sommer Foolsland, AGR
Sherry Lynne Sommer Metropolis, AGR
Barry A. Sommerfield Niles, LAS
Anthony K. Song Naperville, ENG
Candice Song Chicago, FAA
Dong Il Song Northbrook, ENG
Joung Eun Song Chicago, LAS Mary Sugyeong Song Chicago, SW
Young Jin Song Elk Grove Village, LAS

Diana Lynn Songer Zion, LAS Donna Marie Sopiarz Burbank, LAS Brigitta K. Sorenson Libertyville, LAS Jose Regie Soriano Chicago, LAS
Beverly Ellen Sorkin Northbrook, COM
Joseph F. Sorquist Park Ridge, ENG
Anthony Margaro Soto Chicago, ENG
Lonnie M. Southard Buffalo Grove, LAS Michael Ronald Sova Huntley, LAS
David Lee Spangler Streator, CBA
Douglas E. Spaniol Palatine, CBA

Tony Iniguez, freshman in FAA, works out on a regular basis in the Rehabilitation Center, where there are weight-lifting machines for students with disabilities.

photo by Ruth Galvez

Disabilities are not inabilities for sports programs

"The U of I arguably has one of the best wheel chair sports programs," said Jean Driscoll, senior in LAS.

And if anyone can make this statement, it's her. It's one reason Driscoll came to this university from her hometown of Milwaukee, and it will keep her here a few extra years as she pursues a master's degree and prepares for the 1992 Olympics.

Driscoll thinks she has a pretty good chance of making the 1992 team since she's already ranked nationally in track and road racing.

This won't be the first time a disabled U of I student has participated in the Olympics. In 1988 U of I alumnae Sharon Hedrick was an Olympic gold medalist and world record holder in the 800 meter event in Seoul, Korea.

Driscoll also plays on the women's basketball team. Because most universities don't have the teams or facilities, it is difficult for the U of I team to compete.

For men, however, there is a varsity basketball team that competes nationally. They also compete in track and road racing.

Even for those students with more severe disabilities there are athletic opportunities. This year a quad rugby team for quadriplegics was formed. Players have some use of their arms and play with a volleyball.

Senior in ALS, Greg Ridley, shooting at the basketball courts on First Street, was one of 12 to be chosen to compete in the International Wheelchair Basketball Tournament in England.

The Disabled Students Organization (DSO) helps fund the sports programs. Scott Hollonbeck, sophomore in LAS and DSO's vice president, believes the purpose of the disabled student's sports program is more than recreation. Sports serve to disprove the disabled students' disabilities.

"You can promote a lot with athletics," he said. "It opens people's eyes."

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Laura McDougald

photo by Ray Greninger

"The worst part of U of I is that everytime you need something from McKinley, it takes forever because you have to see a doctor."

A. Surges

Jon Gerard Spansal Lyons, LAS
John Alan Sparger Belleville, CBA
Brian Keith Speers Villa Park, LAS
Carolyn L. Spengler Glen Ellyn, ED
Matthew J. Spiewak Glenview, ALS
Laura L. Spindler Olympia Fields, ENG
Shaun Kollar Spiro Chicago Hts, LAS Kieron J. Sponburgh Libertyville, LAS Stephane Sprague Western Springs, LAS Christine S. Squires Lockport, LAS
Akila Srinivasan Oak Park, ENG

Frnak St. Angel Jr. Rockford, FAA
Anne Julie Stachnik Chicago, LAS Kendall K. Stachon Long Grove, COM
John Tower Stadler Quincy, ENG
Alyssa Christine Stahl Camden, CBA
Jeffrey M. Stahl Indian Head Park, CBA
Jodi Lorraine Stahl Winnebago, AGR
Gina Maria Stalhamm Bloomington, CBA
Melissa Lynn Staley O'Fallon, LAS
Ryan R. Stallings Norris City, AGR
Steven Eric Stammer N. Haledon, N.J., LAS

Gregory L. Stangle Carol Stream, CBA
Theresa A. Stanhaus New Baden, LAS
William H. Stansfield Woodridge, ENG
Anne Marie Stare Aurora, AGR
Jeff Lee Stark Ashkum, AGR
Tamara B. Starks Zion, COM
Don J. Staunton Glenview, AGR
James Lee Steck Wataga, AGR
Scott Alan Steele Hickory Hills, ENG
Michael A. Steigmann Urbana, LAS Amy Jennifer Stein Highland Park, LAS

Molly Ann Steinau Peoria, ED
Beth A. Steinberg Arlington Hts, CBA
Greg Steiner Pacific, Calif., CBA
Jeffery W. Steiner Tremont, AGR
Karen Lynn Steinhaus Addison, CBA
Carrie J. Stehnick Homewood, ED
Julie Ann Stephenson Collinsville, ENG
William C. Stepien St. Charles, ED
Robert J. Sterling Barrington, CBA
Katherine A. Stetter Morton, LAS
Scott Evan Stevenson Champaign, ALS

Lance Edward Steward Duquoin, LAS
Leslie John Stewart Indianapolis, Ind., ENG
Nicole M. Stewart Polo, AGR
Ronald Wayne Stewart Potomac, ED
James M. Stichnoth Milford, ENG
Michael T. Stickler Ridge Farm, AGR
Karen Marie Stilling Arlington Hts, LAS
Paul C. Stims Bolingbrook, LAS
Warren W. Stippich Ingleside, CBA
Diane Carol Stoddard Urbana, COM
Martha Y. Stoerger Sadorus, CBA

Jennifer Ann Stofor Worthington, Ohio, ENG
Vikki Ann Stohs Chicago, CBA
Jeffrey B. Stoller Pekin, LAS
Keri Lynn Stone St. Charles, FAA
Michael Alan Stotz Westchester, COM
Mark Steven Stout Cranbury, N.J., ENG
Sarah Jane Stowe Glen Ellyn, CBA
Sarah Adele Strang Jericho, Vt., CBA
Alesia Marie Strawn Elwood, LAS
Meredith Sue Strinni Fairview Hts, ENG
Bernard Strittmatter Libertyville, ENG

Carolyn Strittmatter Bolingbrook, ENG
Cherie L. Strong Chicago, LAS
Jenny R. Stropes Taylor Ridge, CBA
Andrew Martin Stroth LaGrange, LAS
Laura Leigh Strozok Buffalo Grove, FAA
Dave Stubblefield Rantoul, AGR
Brian T. Stubitsch Chicago, LAS
C. A. Stubblefield Decatur, CBA
Heidi Anne Studtmann Belleville, ED
Amy Jane Stueber Ingleside, LAS Sheryl Ann Stuenkel Addison, LAS

Tracy Lynne Stumbo Bloomington, FAA
Michael D. Stutzman Park Ridge, FAA
Bradley Rhett Suhre Monticello, ENG
Carol Jean Sukowicz Palatine, ENG
Paul Joseph Sularz Wooddale, LAS
David C. Sulaski Normal, CBA
Jeffrey Van Sulcer Sandoval, LAS
Frank J. Sullivan Oak Park, LAS
James J. Sullivan Peoria, ENG
Linda Jean Sullivan Elk Grove, LAS
Edwin Sunga Waukegan, ENG

Amy Marie Surges Orland Park, LAS
Stephanie A. Surles Urbana, LAS
David M. Susenichl Champaign, CBA
Robert John Sushak Edina, ENG
Kevin Lewis Sutton Mapleton, ENG
Kimiko Suzue Grayslake, LAS
Christine Adel Svab Woodridge, ED
Frank D. Svoboda Downers Grove, FAA
Holly Jean Swanlund Lamoille, CBA
Brian Lee Swanson Elgin, ED
Kristin M. Swanson Sherman, CBA

photo by Jane Smith

"The dumbest rule at the U of I is all the paperwork needed to add or drop a class."

S. Swanson

Senior Dan Creinin and Mike Villarreal, of Domino's Pizza, discuss Domino's involvement in EOH '90.

EOH opens eyes of campus

The theme for the 1990 Engineering Open House, held March 2 and 3, was "Dare to Discover." The Engineering Open House Central Committee felt that this theme represented the many challenges facing today's engineers such as: increasing competition in world trade markets, increasing demand for quality products, new energy sources and greater environmental concerns.

Engineering Open House began in 1906 when members of the physics department gathered for lectures and displays. Since then, it has grown into a large exhibit of student projects from all curricula of engineering as well as Computer Science, Physics and Theoretical and Applied Mechanics.

According to Jennifer Hansen, Internal Publicity Chair for Engineering Open House, EOH serves many purposes. "It's an opportunity for engineering students to display completed projects, thus showing off their technical knowledge. It's a means of publicizing the university's College of Engineering. Finally, it is a way of informing the public about the latest developments in technology and the importance of engineering."

Matt Slaughter, junior in Mechanical Engineering, had other reasons for getting involved. "I've always found the projects interesting and wanted the responsibility, but mainly I'm participating just for fun."

Slaughter and two fellow engineering students, Jim Adams and Norm Bilisbury, worked on a project dealing with water evaporation and airflow. He believes the project to be relevant to any situation where water evaporates, such as steam engines, steam turbines and the environment.

Projects were submitted to any of the 15 possible categories and then were judged on six characteristics: how well does the display depict the category, quality of presentation, effectiveness of visual aids, technical effort and achievement, individual student effort and overall aesthetic quality and well-roundedness.

This year's EOH marked the first year for two contests. The first contest was designed for engineering students. It involved building a device that would travel up a ramp and knock a ball off a platform. Cash prizes of $2000 for first, $1000 for second and $500 for third were awarded to the winning organizations.

The second contest was for non-engineering students and involved answering 50 trivia questions (unrelated to engineering), building a card house and a sand castle. The grand prize for the contest was a trip for two to New Orleans and $400 spending money.

According to Dan Creinin, EOH Contest Chairperson and senior in Industrial Engineering, "We wanted a way to involve the whole campus in EOH, the contests were a revolutionary way to do it. EOH is important to us (engineers) because we really get to shine."

story by Stewart Schrof
layout by Julie Fanella

Students discuss their plans to build an entry into the EOH design contest.

photo by Dan Creinin

Suzanne M. Swanson Pekin, COM
 Amy Anne Swatek Crete, LAS
 John Corte Swearingen Ille, LAS
 Todd M. Sweet St. Charles, ED
 Kathleen Sweitzer Lombard, CBA
 Christina J. Swenson Lombard, LAS
 Amy L. Swierkosz East Dundee, LAS Susan Marie Swigon Willow Springs, LAS
 Kristi Renee Swinson Noble, CBA
 Tamra L. Swistowicz Chicago, LAS
 Roxanne L. Sylora Frankfort, CBA

Aaron Henry Symanski Catlin, LAS
 Cheryl Ann Synecki Hickory Hills, AGR
 Susan L. Szalczyński Park Ridge, CBA
 Dennis F. Szewczyk Lansing, LAS
 Theresa Marie Szot Willow Springs, CBA
 John Michael Szweda Waukegan, ENG
 David Alan Taher Naperville, LAS Laurie Lee Tafilaw Elmhurst, LAS
 Robert D. Taich Glenview, FAA
 Sabera F. Taiyebi Bensenville, LAS Eunice Eun Jung Tak Peoria, ENG

Katherine Gabor Tako Oak Park, LAS Anthony G. Talerico Yorkville, LAS
 Patricia L. Talley Florissant, Mo., ENG
 Karen Camille Tallyn Peoria, COM
 Daiva E. Tamulaitis Berwyn, ENG
 Jin-Ho Tan Urbana, ENG
 Mami Tanaka Japan, LAS Reynard L. Tanig Roselle, LAS Athena A. Tapales Dekalb, LAS
 David W. Taraboletti Canton, ENG
 Amy E. Tarailo Chicago, CBA

Dana I. Tarandy Orland Park, LAS
 Kenneth D. Tarter Palos Hills, CBA
 Elizabeth M. Tashjian Chicago, COM
 Cheryl A. Taylor Oak Forest, LAS
 Christine Ann Taylor Toulon, CBA
 Cynthia Diane Taylor Woodridge, FAA
 Deborah Lynn Taylor Rantoul, LAS
 Roger Mark Taylor Princeton, CBA
 Sarah Lynn Taylor Woodridge, ENG
 Ingrid K. Teclaw Oak Park, FAA
 Katherine M. Tedesco Bloomington, CBA

Aarti Tekchandani Champaign, LAS Peter Andrew Temko Bartlett, LAS
 Jill S. Templer Arlington Heights, CBA
 John Michael Terlap Waukegan, ENG
 John Louis Terlisner Godfrey, LAS
 Catherine S. Terneus Hillsboro, ENG
 Jeffrey L. Terry Morris, CBA
 David F. Teter Aurora, ENG
 Lisu M. Thachet Villa Park, CBA
 Darshan Thakker Palatine, AGR
 Ketan J. Thakkar Buffalo, ENG

Rajiv P. Thakur St. Louis, Mo., LAS Mike Brenden Thede Aleo, FAA
 Stacey Lynn Thiems Highland, CBA
 Todd M. Thiessen Downers Grove, CBA
 Kelly A. Thiewes Geneva, ED
 Andrew John Thill Aurora, CBA
 Eric Michael Thomas Pinckneyville, AGR
 J. Shadley Thomas Fairmount, COM
 Jeffrey John Thomas Barrington, LAS Kevin Patrick Thomas Chicago, LAS Marcia Ann Thomas Granite City, LAS

Melissa Gail Thomas Evanston, LAS
 Michele Lynn Thomas Vandalia, ED
 Mohan P. Thomas Bourbonnais, ENG
 Sue Wells Thomas Mankato, Minn., CBA
 Tamiko Chantez Thomas Chicago, CBA
 Marie E. Thomopoulos Oak Brook, LAS
 Jeffrey A. Thompson Metcalf, AGR
 Oneida B. Thorne Evanston, LAS
 Valerie M. Threatt Chicago, CBA
 Micheal A. Thurston Pecatonica, FAA
 Martin L. Tibudan Chicago, LAS

Diane Lynn Tillis Rockford, CBA
 John Ray Tilson Rockford, CBA
 Christine A. Tirona Champaign, COM
 Andrea M. Tirva Glenview, LAS Brian Teruo Toba Mt. Prospect, LAS Mark Edward Tobias Hillsboro, ENG
 Micheline Todd Oxford, Ohio, LAS
 Edward T. Tohill Decatur, ENG
 Brenda Gail Toland Bloomington, ALS
 Melissa Sue Tomczak Rockford, LAS Kathryn Jane Tongue Lockport, LAS

Joseph Baar Topinka Riverside, LAS Ricardo Torres Highland, LAS
 Robin Lee Torrshafer Oak Brook, CBA
 Mark W. Torsberg LaGrange Park, ENG
 Laura C. Tortorello Shorewood, COM
 Susan A. Toth Palos Park, AGR
 Eric David Totten Champaign, ENG
 Kathryn Toussaint Arlington Heights, ED
 Mark Mathew Towne Schaumburg, ENG
 Jerrett Donald Tozzi Pekin, LAS John Patrick Tracy Westchester, LAS

Kenneth Tracy Downers Grove, CBA
 Mark Edward Tracy Ivesdale, CBA
 Sharon Lee Trahan Elmhurst, LAS
 Denise L. Trainor Pontiac, CBA
 Katherine Sue Tran Danville, ED
 Tin Duc Tran Champaign, ENG
 Angelo A. Trapani Chicago, FAA
 Kimberly A. Trehy Roselle, CBA
 Timothy A. Tremain Yorkville, ENG
 Bess Tremonto Oak Park, FAA
 Raylene Triezenberg Urbana, LAS

Sandeep K. Tripathy Urbana, LAS Vipul Alkesh Trivedi Springfield, LAS
 Thomas G. Tromiczak Chicago, CBA
 Mark William Trost Auburn, FAA
 Jennifer Trowbridge Normal, LAS
 Janet L. Trzcinski So. Holland, LAS
 Randall K. Tschetter Oak Lawn, FAA
 Maggie G. Tse Chicago, COM
 Sharon Tse Chicago, LAS
 William P. Tselepis Berwyn, CBA
 Elizabeth Tsolakides Country Club, LAS

Jeffrey Lloyd Tucker Quincy, ENG
 Marjorie G. Tucker Naperville, LAS Mark John Tulach Westchester, ENG
 Dominic M. Tunzi Addison, LAS
 Robert B. Turkot Jr. Plainfield, ENG
 Susan Gaye Turnbull Sparland, AGR
 Arthur Jay Turner Skokie, AGR
 Michelle Rene Turner Galena, ENG
 Nicholas A. Turnow Peoria, FAA
 Julia Marie Twaddle Carthage, ENG
 Pamela Cecilia Tynus Chicago, CBA

James Allan Tyre Peoria, LAS
 Michael A. Tyre Peoria, AGR
 Darren R. Tyson N. Homestead, LAS Gary Samuel Tyson Deerfield, CBA
 Lisa Ann Uhe Alhambra, CBA
 Robert Andrew Uhe Jacksonville, ENG
 Mari Ann Ujka Orland Park, LAS
 Gary Dean Uken St. Joseph, ENG
 Wendy Rose Ulaszek Palos Hills, LAS Laurel K. Ulbich Bloomington, ED
 Deborah Jean Ulrich Dunlap, LAS

Julia Ann Upper Quincy, ENG
 Matthew T. Urban Hazel Crest, ALS
 Marcella Edith Uribe Chicago, LAS
 William Gregory Utz Effingham, FAA
 Diane Uzamecki Bloomington, LAS
 Bernard R. Vahling Tentopolis, AGR
 Theresa Valdez Chicago, LAS
 Anthony M. Valente Sesser, ENG
 Gloria C. Valiente Chicago, LAS Aimee C. Vallean Northbrook, LAS
 Iryne T. Vallejo Skokie, ENG

Karen M. Vallero Orland Pk., ENG
 Grant Van Bortel West Chicago, FAA
 Robert Van Deven Schaumburg, LAS
 Mark C. Van Houten Deerfield, ENG
 Douglas D. Van Hoven Milford, AGR
 Thomas S. Van Winkle Peoria, LAS
 William J. Vance New Lenox, LAS Voorde Eileen Vande Annawan, LAS Brian Vanderogenugen Crete, ENG
 M.A. Vanderheyden Elmhurst, LAS
 Arnold Vanderschoot Des Plaines, ENG

Stacy Vandever Chillicothe, LAS Susan R. Vandusen Belleville, LAS Wayne M. Vanlerberghe Colona, ENG
 Heather M. Vanlyssel Decatur, COM
 Scott Vannaldegiam Bloomington, ENG
 Lea Vannerkestyn Alsip, FAA
 Robert E. Vann Commack, LAS
 James A. Vannpelt Chicago, LAS Subadra Varadarajan Glendale Hts, ENG
 Andrea E. Varesic Friendswood, Texas, LAS
 Thomas Geza Varga Wheaton, ENG

Victor A. Varsbergs Chicago, LAS
 Kruti R. Vashi Hamden, Conn., CBA
 Mario T. Vasquez Wadsworth, ENG
 Cassandra D. Vaughan Fairfield, CBA
 Edward James Vaughn Melrose, CBA
 Elizabeth Ann Vaughn Hinsdale, CBA
 Julie Ann Vaughn Champaign, ALS
 Vonda Kay Vaughn Peru, LAS
 Steven W. Vavrik Naperville, ENG
 Jacqueline Vazquez Champaign, LAS
 Luis A. Vazquez Coral Gables, Fla., CBA

Michael A. Velez Champaign, LAS Dan Velkovich Naperville, LAS Murali Vanugopalan Macomb, LAS Michael Verachtert Wheeling, LAS
 Nancy Vercelli Chicago, COM
 Amy Vercelote Joliet, CBA
 Esther F. Vergara Chicago, LAS Dan Verner St. Charles, LAS
 David J. Verneti Oak Park, ENG
 John C. Verri Oak Park, ENG
 Christopher M. Vessell Eldorado, ENG

"One of my favorite aspects about the U of I is the small classes dealing directly with the professor."

—R. Triezenberg

photo by Nora Hipolito

Judith Martinez, director of La Casa, Jose Molina and Darol Freeman sit by the mural depicting the hardships of Latinos in the United States.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Thursday nights at La Casa Cultural Latina are "Spanish Nights," where people of all races get together to watch a Spanish movie, plan activities, socialize, or listen to a guest speaker.

Las Casa helps Latinos

Upon entering the living room of La Casa Cultural Latina, a center for Latino students located at 510 E. Chalmers Street in Champaign, a rather haunting mural covers all four walls and the ceiling with powerful shades of red, yellow, orange, green and purple.

The mural, painted by 16 Latino students in 1975, depicts the struggles and hardships faced by Latino students in the United States, particularly at the University of Illinois at that time.

According to Lisa O'Brien, editor of the center's newsletter La Carta, "The Latino's were trying to get an education like everyone else, but in the face of prejudice at a predominantly white university, they kept getting knocked down."

Today, Latino students may not have to experience the kind of frustration and anger which inspired such a mural only 15 years ago.

Although La Casa was a rather weak organization when it began in 1974, it has expanded in recent years to offer Latino students the resources and support necessary in coping with a minority situation.

Each month, La Casa schedules a number of social activities. This gives Latino students the opportunity to become better acquainted with one another. For example, Thursday nights are called Spanish Nights at La Casa.

"On Spanish Nights," O'Brien said, "we usually invite guest speakers, show movies or have parties."

La Casa also sponsors the Peer Retention Program, which is designed to keep Latino students enrolled at the university. "Each year, a number of Latinos withdraw from school," said O'Brien. "The Peer Retention Program, through its organized study groups and social events, strives to make students feel welcome so they will want to stay."

La Casa publishes two pieces of literature each year. La Carta, a newsletter which comes out twice a semester, contains news and information about the many different organizations in which Latino students may be interested. The Literary Magazine, which comes out once a year, provides a place for Latino students to express their thoughts and emotions.

In addition to these services, La Casa serves as a meeting place for many other Latino organizations. For example, Alpha Psi Lambda, a new co-ed Hispanic fraternity on campus, does not have its own house. Consequently, La Casa opens its doors to them when necessary.

Because the student body at the University of Illinois is so large and diverse, most students do not have difficulty finding people with which they can identify and a place where they belong. But for Latino as well as other minority students, this task can be very difficult. La Casa is helping Latino students deal with this problem effectively.

story by Janet Scott
layout by Mike Krupicka

Mary Lynn Vest Godfrey, LAS
Joseph A. Viecei Countryside, ENG
Thomas Viemont Chenoa, LAS
John Robert Vigna Rockford, LAS
Susan LynneVigor Barrington, CBA
Alberto R. Vilches La Grange, AIS
Natie J. Villafior Arlington Hts., LAS Rogiero A. Villarias Richton Park, LAS
Josephine P. Villegas Carlinville, CBA
Fernando I. Vinzons Chicago, LAS
Susan M. Viranyi Palatine, LAS

Patricia S. Vlahos Winthrop Harbor, LAS
Pamela Anne Vlasak Olympia Fields, CBA
William Craig Vogel Westwood, ENG
Nick Anthony Volpe Morton Grove, LAS Christopher Vonnahme Springfield, ENG
David Scott Voorhees Bensenville, ENG
Kimberly Vormittag Hoffman Ests., ENG
Jeffrey Scott Vose Champaign, LAS Matthew Thomas Voss Glen Ellyn, LAS
George N. Vuoramus Champaign, AIS
Janet Lee Vrasie Inverness, LAS

Lisa E. Vreugdenhil Chicago, FAA
Robert W. Vyverberg Peoria, LAS Lisa Ann Wackerman Burr Ridge, LAS Eric Carl Wagner Des Plaines, FAA
Eugene H. Wagner Jr. Naperville, ENG
Jodi Kay Wagner Lombard, ED
Terrence M. Wagner La Grange Park, CBA
Dawn N. Wahler Palatine, ED
Jennifer Lynn Wake Port Byron, CBA
Timothy Eric Walberg Forsyth, ENG
Cheryl Rena Walcer Buffalo Grove, COM

Sherri Sue Walden Findlay, AGR
Nina M. Waldherr Bloomingdale, FAA
Robert Waligurski Rolling Meadows, ENG
Valerie Walkek Deerfield, LAS
Alisia Marie Walker Broadview, COM
Catherine M. Walker Mulkeytown, AGR
John Hamilton Walker Champaign, LAS
Tina Louise Walker Oswego, CBA
Lynda Marie Wallace South Holland, CBA
Laura Lynn Wallin Springfield, AGR
Joan M. Wallner West Chicago, COM

Patrick K. Walls Midlothian, LAS
John James Walsh Glen Ellyn, CBA
Kathleen Marie Walsh Bolingbrook, LAS Krista Rae Walsh Sleepy Hollow, FAA
William James Walsh Wilmington, FAA
Alan Scott Walstad Hanover Park, LAS Michele M. Waltemath Danville, LAS Denise D. Waltrip Hanover Park, LAS Anthony Francis Wang Gaithersburg, LAS
Chantal A. Wanless Auburn, ED
Dana Kay Ward Lake Villa, ENG

Jeannelouise Ward Chicago, AGR
John Patrick Ward Des Plaines, CBA
Michelle Lee Ward Hull, LAS Alicia Delorace Ware Chicago, LAS
Thomas C. Wargel Equality, AGR
Laura M. Warner Henderson, Ky., CBA
Matthew Kevin Warren Collinsville, LAS
Michael J. Washburn Dixon, ENG
Edye Washington Chicago, LAS Rose Mary Wasyluk Chicago, LAS
Michael C. Watkins Chicago, CBA

Susan E. Watnabe Chicago, LAS
John Richard Watson Chicago, CBA
Krista M. Watson Naperville, LAS Michele Lee Watson Marion, LAS Vikki L. Watson Chicago, LAS Donna J. Watts River Forest, LAS Timothy Andrew Wayne Crete, LAS Nicole Elaine Webel Carbondale, LAS Brenda Marie Weber Aledo, LAS
Christopher J. Weber Chicago, CBA
Sarah Ellen Weddig Normal, LAS

James Albert Wegman Aurora, ENG
Michael Weidenbenner Belleville, LAS
Robert R. Weidner Charleston, LAS
David Scott Weinberg Glencoe, CBA
Kelly A. Weinberger Downers Grove, COM
Kenneth B. Weingard Chicago, COM
Michael J. Weinkauff Peoria, ENG
Elizabeth L. Weismehl Evanston, FAA
Jodi Lynn Weiss Oak Park, ED
William L. Weiss Evanston, ENG
Deena L. Weixelbaum Northbrook, AGR

Catherine Ross Welch Barrington, LAS Kristine E. Welch Palatine, LAS Brennan Stuart Wells Denver, Co., LAS
Mary Elizabeth Wempe Belleville, ENG
John B. Wendel Elmhurst, LAS Jorie Ann Wendt Chicago, LAS
Kenneth John Wendt Chicago, ENG
Marcia Kay Westrom Wataga, AIS
James P. Wente Teutopolis, ENG
Eric Fetting Wenzel Lemont, ENG
Tara Sallie Wernsing Cicero, COM

Bar owners unite

From the dust of this year's drinking and afterhours party controversies came the Campus Bar Association (CBA), a group dedicated to the responsible pursuit of a good time. While the bar scare seems to have died down, the CBA is one aftereffect that is here to stay.

Formed last October by a group of campustown bar owners, the CBA has worked to open the lines of communication between bar owners and the community, promote safe drinking habits and present a united lobbying front to local government.

"We were all out one night," said Creg McDonald, president of the group and owner of O'Malley's and White Horse Inn. "A few of us discussed the idea and we agreed there was a need for a more homogeneous representation of our industry. We decided to group together informally."

McDonald described the CBA as a forum for discussing the issue of alcohol and a way of unifying the bar owners' position within the community. "It streamlines things in dealing with the local government," he added. "Instead of having to make 17 phone calls, the mayor only has to make one if there is something that needs to be discussed."

"We are forming a voice as bar owners, in response to certain events last semester," said Tim Murphy, a CBA officer and owner of Kam's and Gully's. "The possibility of a change in the bar entrance age as well as regulation of drink pricing and promotions led us to band together into a collective lobbying position."

Almost all campustown drinking establishments with a class "A" liquor license are represented in the group. They started sporting the CBA logo – a beer mug with a "drink safely" message – in The Daily Illini ads early in the spring semester.

Apart from representing bar owners, the CBA is more than a lobbying organization. Along with safe drinking promotions, the group has also taken out ads that promote the MTD, making students more aware of the bus routes available after the bars close.

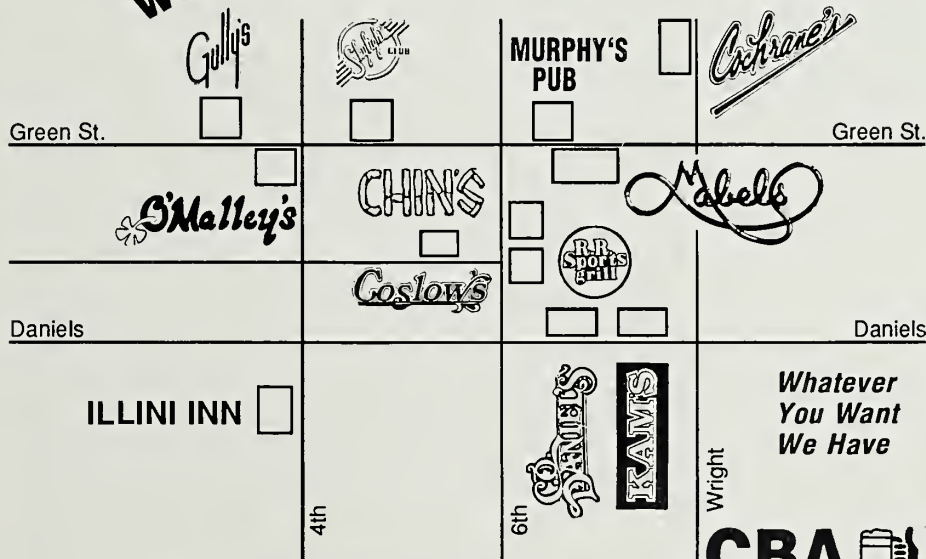

"One of our concerns is getting people home safely, especially in the cold winter months," said McDonald.

"In a larger sense, we represent the campus community. We want to get students back out and having a good time," Murphy said. "The local government needs to realize that campustown is, to a great extent, a separate community. Bars are important as social outlets; they're not just centers of alcohol consumption."

story by Adriana Brad
layout by Debbie Siegel

We Have The Place For You!

17 oz Beers on this Path courtesy of The Daily Illini

"The thing I hate most about the U of I are the new alcohol restrictions."

T. Wernsing

Graduates Vest - Wernsing

409

Janie C. Wernitz Glenwood, LAS
 Dean Arthur Werries Chapin, AGR
 Beth Kristen Werths Granite City, LAS David Brian Wesner Portland, Ind., LAS
 Wendell D. Westbrook Chicago, ALS
 Paul Steven Westphal McHenry, ENG
 Lynne Ann Wexelberg Harvey, ED
 Carolyn M. Weyrich Roselle, ENG
 James T. Whaley Park Ridge, CBA
 Ynnice William Wheat Chicago, ED
 Jeffrey A. Wheatley Springfield, LAS

David Lee Whetstone Carmi, AGR
 Torrianna Whitaker Champaign, ALS
 Cecilia Rita White Oak Lawn, ED
 Dana Elizabeth White Chicago, CBA
 Jennifer Jo White Millstadt, AGR
 Maria L. White Streator, LAS Edye A. Whitefield Highland Park, ED
 Joann E. Whitehead St. Charles, LAS
 Brent K. Whitlock Cherry Valley, ENG
 Brett R. Whitlock Bloomington, LAS
 Christina Whitney Arlington Hts., CBA

Richard J. Whitt Zion, ENG
 Kristine Kay Wibel Tinley Park, LAS
 Kim Marie Wicus Lockport, AGR
 Carey D. Widder Bloomington Ind., ENG
 Paula Ann Widholm Clifton, COM
 Cecille A. Widloff Rock Falls, AGR
 Sean Stephen Wiedel Chicago, CBA
 Rebecca Mae Wiegand Urbana, AGR
 Teresa Marie Wieland Rock Island, AGR
 Michael Paul Wiggins Schaumburg, ALS
 Matthew Wilcoski Richmond, ENG

Jennifer Ann Wilhelm Oswego, LAS
 Catherine M. Wilkes St. Charles, LAS D.E. Wilkinson III Glen Ellyn, LAS David W. Wilkinson Robinson, LAS
 Jeffrey P. Wilkinson Champaign, ENG
 Tanara L. Wilkinson Champaign, FAA
 Deanna M. Willey Western Springs, LAS
 David M. Williams Wilmette, CBA
 David M. Williams Arlington Hts., LAS
 Gregory R. Williams Herkimer, N.Y., CBA
 Melissa J. Williams Naperville, LAS

Michelle R. Williams Decatur, LAS
 Pat Scott Williams Kewanee, AGR
 Sarah Anne Williams Champaign, COM
 Stephanie A. Williams Salem, AGR
 Alysia Rhae Willis Pleasant Plains, LAS
 Russell A. Willis Clatsford, CBA
 William Eric Willis Scott AFB, ENG
 Melissa Ann Willis McHenry, LAS
 Marla B. Wilner Skokie, AGR
 Eric John Wilson Elmhurst, ENG
 Jeffrey David Wilson Rockford, ENG

Katherine V. Wilson Woodridge, COM
 Kimberly Ann Wilson O'Fallon, LAS
 Robert Paul Winkler Eilon AFB, Ark., ENG
 Terry Lynn Winkless Oak Lawn, CBA
 Dawn Kathleen Winter Dolton, COM
 Regina Marie Wiora Itasca, LAS
 Christopher M. Wirth Urbana, ED
 Dennison Wise, Jr. Chicago, ED
 Kuri D. Wisthuff LaGrange, FAA
 Lisa Ann Witry Oak Forest, COM
 Christopher S. Witte Bloomington, ENG

Susan L. Wobbekind Wilmette, LAS Terilyn Wodka Evergreen Park, ALS
 Jason P. Woerner Peoria, CBA
 J.D. Wohlschlaeger Oak Park, COM
 Christina Anna Wolf Palatine, LAS Judith Lynn Wolf Sugar Grove, LAS
 Michael T. Wolf Barrington, LAS William Peter Wolf Morton Grove, LAS Gretchen Lou Wolfer Spring Valley, LAS
 Kerry Allen Wolff Mason, AGR
 Richard J. Wokowitz St. Louis, Mo. AGR

Scott D. Wollenweber Montgomery, LAS
 Chris John Wolschlag Urbana, ENG
 Gregg L. Wolski Lemont, FAA
 John P. Womeldorf Decatur, ENG
 Laura E. Wonderlin Hoopston, ED
 Jeffrey M.C. Wong Naperville, LAS
 Kenaz S. Wong Clarendon Hills, ENG
 Man Sau Wong Urbana, AGR
 Mary Jungmin Woo Chicago, ENG
 Shellie Wood Kentland, Ind., CBA
 Lori Woodard Sidney, AGR

Wendy Lynette Woods Taylorville, LAS
 Monica Woodward Champaign, ED
 Robert Todd Woodward Taylorville, LAS
 Lisa Ann Wright Oakwood, ENG
 Melinda Ann Wright O'Fallon, ED
 Michael G. Wright Waukegan, ENG
 Richard P. Wright Chicago Heights, LAS Peide Wu Chicago, ENG
 Lawrence R. Wuensch Chicago, ENG
 Bryan F. Yamase Sumiyoshi, Japan, LAS
 Brian T. Yamataka Honolulu, Hawaii, ENG

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS CHICAGO CAMPUS

photo by Laura McDougald

The skyline of the Circle campus consists of the buildings of Chicago, as compared with the cornfields of Champaign. UIC has the advantages of a large city, while UIUC has the advantages of a college town.

Our campus to the north

For most students on this campus, the University of Illinois exists only here in the midst of corn fields. Our sister campus to the north, University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) better known as Circle, has little or no relation to the happenings here in C-U.

Our campuses share more than a name, however; namely, our governing body. President Stanley Ikenberry and the nine member board of trustees oversee the governance of both campuses. The medical schools also function cooperatively.

Denyse Stallons, formerly a U of I student in C-U who transferred to Circle last year, cites another similarity - BUREAU-CRATIC MESS.

"It's the same at Circle," she said. "If you need something done, count on standing in a line and running all over campus getting forms signed."

Stallons admits she was hesitant about her move, but after a year in Chicago she's happy with her decision.

"For me this is the perfect thing."

One of the most noticeable differences for Stallons was the students themselves. Most, like her, live off campus and commute each day to class. Also, most work - many full time. The professors realize this, she said, making them a little more lenient with deadlines.

And who can forget the social scene? Yes, Stallons admits, Chicago is a welcome change over C-U.

Still, there is one thing she doesn't like ... the buildings.

The 183 acre campus at Circle is split into an east and west campus. The west campus houses the hospital and medical center, and the east campus, where Stallons spends most of her time, has many newer buildings.

"It's that 60's architecture and its not that attractive," she laughed.

Mike Bringas, senior in CBA at UIUC, takes another viewpoint. He transferred to C-U from Circle campus after his sophomore year.

Bringas said Circle served as a better transition between high school and college for him. Going to school at UIC gave him a good opportunity to work while going to school and to raise his grades.

Now though, he's happy with his change.

Here, unlike Circle, most students live on campus, Bringas said. He thinks that this adds to the school spirit and improves the social scene.

As far as classes, he believes instructors are more demanding here. That too, though, is OK by him.

"It is a good school so they (the instructors) can push us a little harder."

Mark Murman, senior in LAS, said he thinks of UIC as a lower caliber school.

"If they (the students at UIC) could be going to the U of I, they'd be going here," he said.

story by Tanja Powers
layout by Joan Wilson

"I don't like the locations of the university. I'm from Hawaii."

B. Yamanska

Christa Yangas Wheeling, ENG
 Gordon Hai-Xiang Ye Urbana, ENG
 Marilyn Yee Chicago, LAS
 Mon Lun Yee Rockford, LAS
 Adam Lewis Yentis Glencoe, FAA
 Annette Yongsil Yi Chicago, ENG
 Son Hwa Yi Chicago, LAS Cynthia Ann Yonan Morton Grove, LAS

Yuka Yoshimura Nara, Japan, LAS Colleen E. Young River Forest, LAS
 Jacqueline A. Young Belleair, Fla., FAA
 Kimberly Lynne Young Peoria, CBA
 Kristin Young Wheaton, LAS
 Lloyd Ross Young Bloomington, AGR
 Keith A. Youngman Highland Park, LAS
 Amy Miranda Yue Parkville, Mo., FAA

Kelly Delaine Yuras Sullivan, LAS Dawn Marie Zacek Alsip, LAS Ann Katherine Zajec Homewood, LAS
 Nancy Ann Zalewski Itasca, ED
 John J. Zapata Hartford, Conn., ENG
 Frank Zappa Naknek, Ark., ENG
 Mark Joseph Zator Palos Park, CBA
 Stacy Carlene Zaun Mundelein, CBA

Douglas E. Zavodny Bloomington, ENG
 Husni Mohammad Zayed Chicago, ENG
 Mary Kay Zeed Frankfort, LAS
 Matthew L. Zehner Hinsdale, LAS Jeffrey A. Zeidler Wheaton, LAS Keith John Zeitz Glen Ellyn, LAS
 Alice M. Zemaitis Decatur, AGR
 Jennifer Marie Zeman Chicago, LAS

Katherine Lynn Zentz Lombard, LAS
 Amy Elaine Zernich Urbana, LAS Lori Jean Zgodla Addison, ED
 David K. Zieh Normal, ENG
 Kevin P. Ziegler Rockford, ENG
 Catherine M. Zielske Lombard, LAS
 Joseph R. Zimmer Manitowoc, Wis., ENG
 Kimberly Zimmerman Libertyville, LAS

Rachel D. Zimmerman Lincolnwood, CBA
 David Rolland Zinner Hinsdale, CBA
 William C. Zinn Rockford, CBA
 Dina V. Zissimopoulos Burr Ridge, LAS Michael L. Zucker Highland Park, LAS
 Rachel S. Zucker Northbrook, ED
 Robin V. Zucker New City, N.Y., COM
 Michael B. Zukerman Northbrook, LAS

Michael P. Zumnallen Hazel Crest, ENG
 Raymond D. Zuschlag Palos Hills, LAS

In Memory Of

Steven Philip Caeti

Bradley Hart

Neelam Shah

John J. Morris, Jr.

Chris C. Pappageorge

Barry F. Bergman

A

Abbed, Nejla 262, 332
 Abbott, Eric 306
 Abbs, Donald Paul 342
 Abedi, Jalal 342
 Abella, Aileen 305, 334
 Abellana, Alex 316
 Abbin, Craig 286
 Abortion 118
 Aboussouan, Carnie 306
 Abraham, Amanda 238, 334
 Abramowitz, Lisa Jill 342
 Abrams, Brian Keith 342
 Abrams, Joanna 230, 282, 309, 321, 322, 323, 342
 Abrams, Rob 337
 Abrams, Ron David 342
 Accounting Club 338
 Ackerman, Douglas O. 342
 Ackerman, Matt 292
 Acosta, Jean 236, 331
 Acton, John Robert 342
 Adams, Amy Elizabeth 236, 342
 Adams, Bryan 327
 Adams, Dave 261
 Adams, Debra Susan 342
 Adams, Eric 273
 Adams, Eric 313
 Adams, Steffanie 216, 339
 Adamson, Laura E. 342
 Adaway, Kimberly 204, 267, 342
 Adelman, Susie 232, 342
 Aden, Lori 240, 308, 338
 Aden, Rick 12
 Adler, Eileen 248
 Adler, Gina Lynn 342
 Adler, Jodi Michelle 342
 Adlawan, Jessica 262
 Adnerson, Jason 263
 Adrian, Lee 273
 Advertising 281 68
 Aebel, Kathryn M. 342
 Agatucci, Dan 246
 Agee, Mel 125, 131, 133
 Aggatucci, Dan 246
 AGR Experiments 62
 Agraviador, Michelle 342
 Agricultural Economics Club 324
 Aguayo, Jason 261
 Aguilera, Lou 263
 Agustin, Dennis 292
 Ahern, Jube 248

Ahlstrom, Jeff 270
 Ahmari, David 314
 Ahmed, Imran 342
 Ahmed, Leila H. 342
 Ahn, Jumin 342
 Ahnger, Rich 258, 296
 Ahrends, Les 293
 Ahrens, Brant 336
 Ainsworth, Ed 284
 Air Force ROTC 261
 Airey, Anna 208, 342
 Aitken, Michelle 210
 Ajwani, Monica 210
 Akkineni, Gopi 246
 Alam, Mohammad Saeed 342
 Albers, Kristen 224
 Albert, Dan 265, 303
 Albin, Marianne 240
 Albrecht, Devin 293, 342
 Albreck, Michelle 262
 Alcazar, Greg 244
 Alcock, Laura 216
 Alcohol Awareness Week 336
 Alcohol Dilemma 12
 Aldrich, Lisa 210
 Aldrich, Pat 327
 Alessandrini, Julie A. 342
 Alexander, Cari 250
 Alexander, Chuck 333
 Alexander, Ian 337
 Alexander, Lisa 240
 Alexander, Melissa 292
 Alexander, Scott 275, 342
 Alexander, Todd 337
 Alexander, Charles P. 342
 Alexis, John 318
 Alexovich, Jen 224, 283
 Alfani, Sue 210
 Alford, Todd 326
 Alfieri, Scott 261
 Ali, Habib 342
 Aliano, Richard C. 342
 Alikakos, Timothy J. 317, 342
 Alkire, Hannah E. 342
 Allen, Andrew 273
 Allen, Anthony 283
 Allen, David 261
 Allen, Elizabeth 224
 Allen, Ellie 218
 Allen, Paul Anthony 342
 Allen Jr., Terry D. 342
 Allender, Mark 264, 342
 Allendorfer, Patrice 342
 Allenson, David P. 342
 Aller, Tracy 224, 342
 Alleyne, Jennifer R. 342

Alloco, Jennifer 210
 Ally, Dee 214
 Ally, Jeneane 310, 342
 Almaguer, Anthony 326
 Almay, Heidi 325
 Almer, D. 285
 Almer, Liz 208
 Alonge, Christopher M. 342
 Alonso, Lourdes 22
 Alph Phi Omega 324
 Alpha Chi Omega 298
 Alpha Chi Rho 244
 Alpha Delta Pi 226
 Alpha Epsilon Phi 295
 Alpha Epsilon Pi 277
 Alpha Gamma Delta 234
 Alpha Gamma Rho 228
 Alpha Gamma Sigma 293
 Alpha Kappa Lambda 327
 Alpha Kappa Psi 335
 Alpha Lambda Delta 304
 Alpha Omicron Pi 224
 Alpha Phi 238
 Alpha Phi Omega 324
 Alpha Rho Chi 312
 Alpha Sigma Alpha 302
 Alpha Sigma Phi 288
 Alpha Xi Delta 236
 Alsberg, Tracy 313
 Alt, S. 285
 Alternative Publications 91
 Althaus, Tom 228
 Althoff, James Wayne 342
 Althous, Tom 324
 Alumni Associations 320
 Alvey, Brian 306
 Alvey, Ron 306
 Alvis, Tony 328
 Amadio, Leshe Ann 342
 Amann, Eric 273, 313, 342
 Amann, Gretchen 250
 Amend, Hene 291, 319
 American Institute of Chemical Engineers 334
 American Marketing Association 324
 American Institute of Architecture Students 289
 Amn, Neha Narayan 342
 Amin, Priti V. 342
 Ampd, Janice 238
 Amstadt, Erika 212, 342
 An, Don 326
 Anania, Mike 283
 Andersen, Loren 265, 303
 Anderson, B. 285

Anderson, Chris 208
 Anderson, Dawn 236
 Anderson, DeAnn 238
 Anderson, DeeDee 298
 Anderson, Eric 268
 Anderson, Eric A. 342
 Anderson, Eric Arvid 342
 Anderson, Heather 331
 Anderson, Jamie 311
 Anderson, Jason 263
 Anderson, Jason D. 342
 Anderson, Jennifer 234
 Anderson, Jennifer 311
 Anderson, Jim 228
 Anderson, Jim 324
 Anderson, Kirsten 216
 Anderson, Kristen 329
 Anderson, Kyle 303
 Anderson, Lesen 208
 Anderson, Lisa 214
 Anderson, Lisa Kaye 342
 Anderson, Liz 208, 320
 Anderson, Lynn R. 342
 Anderson, Lynne 261
 Anderson, Maren 238
 Anderson, Michele 232, 342
 Anderson, Michelle 234, 250, 342
 Anderson, Mike 274
 Anderson, R. 285
 Anderson, Richard 276
 Anderson, Rodney Lee 342
 Anderson, Samantha 262
 Anderson, Scott 303
 Anderson, Wendy 339
 Andler, Alissa Dawn 342
 Andreini, Lisa 232
 Andrews, Debra 269
 Andrews, Jennifer D. 342
 Andrews, Patrick R. 342
 Andrey, Bruce 328
 Andringa, Dirk W. 342
 Anelli, Lisa Michelle 342
 Anewishki, Audrey 342
 Angelats, Giovi 269
 Angele, Karen 19
 Angello, Anton 274
 Angelotti, Carin Sue 342
 Anglim, Joe 300
 Anglin, Mark 333
 Angres, David Edward 342
 Ani, Selima 226
 Anicich, Joseph C. 342
 Ankin, Howard 97, 342
 Ann Beutow, Mary 232
 Ann Kim, Mary 224

Ann Stier, Leigh 232
 Anontvechrucks, Janet 342
 Anthony, Erin 250, 322
 Anthony, Gina 230, 292
 Antonetti, Michelle 238
 Antrim, Darren 263
 Anzaldo, Alicia 313
 Anzelmo, Phil 332
 Aparicio, Miriam I. 342
 Apostolakis, Peter 264, 342
 Appeldorn, Holly 210, 321
 Appledorn, Holly 322
 Apter, Steve 337
 Arakaki, Val 248
 Arakski, Valerie 336
 Aranas, Elissa 342
 Arcabos, Vic 335, 342
 Archer, Christina L. 342
 Archey, Melissa 232
 Architecture 26
 Arcida, Maria 212
 Ardovitch, Joseph H. 342
 Arend, Jennifer 329
 Arends, Julie 236
 Argacz, Dalila 283
 Argentari, Dan 277
 Argeros, Jim 336
 Arianoutsos, Lisa Ann 342
 Arie, Lynne Marie 342
 Ariyaratne, Ari 306
 Arko, Ann Therese 342
 Arko, Terri 234
 Arlt, Sarah 238, 335
 Armstrong, Carin 238
 Armstrong, Dave 228
 Armstrong, David 326
 Armstrong, E. 285
 Arndt, Eric James 342
 Arneson, Russell J. 342
 Arnett, Andrew Philip 342
 Arnold, Erin 250, 320
 Arnold, Rick Loy 342
 Arnold, Sharon 294, 329
 Aronson, Lori Anne 342
 Arregio, Caro 299
 Arregio, Macbne 311
 Arreola, Nicolas 311, 342
 Artalejo, Henry 275, 335
 Artates, Tony 283, 332
 Arthallony, Shana 269
 Arthur, Denise 214
 Arthur, Sharisse K. 342
 Arvanitis, Telly A. 342
 Ary, Jennifer 238
 Arzoumanidis, Alex 296
 Asaki, Kay 210

B

Baader, Kathleen 254, 344
 Bahbitt, Edna Marie 344
 Bahbitt, Lloyd Allan 289, 344
 Bahbich, Dina 218
 Balsin, Marc 259, 310, 323, 334
 Bae, Jin Soo James 317
 Bach, Wilham Boyd 265, 303,

June 4, 1989

In Beijing, Chinese troops opened fire on unarmed student pro-democracy demonstrations in Tiananmen Square, leaving approximately 1,500 Beijing residents dead. Although the government denied the massacre, it ordered a military crackdown on the student leaders and intellectuals and executed those "rioters" who were captured. Some escaped by means of an Underground railroad although Chinese television called upon families to turn in the "dissenters."

AP

AP

- 344
 Bachman, Joseph Paul 344
 Bae, Sangsoo John 344
 Bahling, Carolyn 330
 Baile, Curt 300
 Bailey, Heather Leigh 344
 Bailey, Jeannette 316, 344
 Bailey, Leah Leta 344
 Bailey, Mike 195
 Bailey, Thomas John 344
 Bailitz, Joe 334
 Baim, Darrin 259
 Baime, Kenneth Eric 344
 Bain, Robert David 344
 Bains, Grundy 258
 Bair, Susan 339
 Baird, Adam 284
 Baird, Dawn Marie 344
 Baird, Doug 274
 Baird, Kim 236
 Bajko, Lori 266, 344
 Baker, Margaret Mary 344
 Baker, Brett 288
 Baker, Britney 334
 Baker, Carlott 240, 344
 Baker, Connie 232
 Baker, Kenneth Lee 344
 Baker, Lori Denise 344
 Baker, Meg 212
 Bakshy, Felicia 295, 344
 Balagtas, Lynn 269
 Balaty, Christine 344
 Balaty, Jeanne 224
 Bales, Dyana 322
 Baldwin, M. 291
 Bales, Dave 275
 Balestri, Alysa 208
 Balich, Christy 308
 Bally, Jason 279
 Balog, Stan 283
 Balsamello, Jennifer 344
 Balsewich, Caryn 212
 Balsman, Judith Marie 344
 Baltrus, Laura Anne 344
 Ban, Mary 250
 Banaszek, Linda 224
 Bandur, Mirjana 344
 Bang, Jean 218
 Banks, Abbi 295
 Bannon, Ed 256
 Bannon, John Edward 344
 Bansemer, Kenneth J. 344
 Baranowski, Joel 300
 Baranski, Tony 188, 263
 Barbaccia, Jack 261
 Barbacovi, Susie 222
 Barbee, Brian Alan 344
 Barber, L. 285
 Barber, Laurel 317
 Barbour, Julie 250
 Bare, Gloria 316
 Barezak, Wendy 292
 Bardo, Steven 138, 140
 Bare, Bethany 216, 335
 Baren, Chuck 278
 Barger, Bryan 279
 Barger, Julie 320
 Barhang, Melissa 210
 Barker, J. 291
 Barker, Rene Marie 344
 Barnabee, Joe 278
 Barnard, Ean 242
 Barnard, Roger 325
 Barnes, Craig Darren 344
 Barnes, Freddie 197
 Barnes, Jeff 206
 Barnes, Lee 206
 Barnes, Teresa 240
 Barnett, Dana Leigh 344
 Barnett, Russ 256, 286
 Barney, Kirk Leland 285, 344
 Barnhart, Bob 275
 Barnhart, Chris 279
 Barnhart, Lori 339
 Barnshaw, Anne 210
 Barnstable, Robert H. 344
 Barone, Lynn 224
 Barone, Mark 276
 Baroni, Dan 297
 Barr, Jane 250, 336
 Barrick, Christy 307
 Barriga, Ivan 281
 Barry, Don 281
 Barry, Laura 226
 Barry, M. 291
 Barry, Nora Ann 344
 Barry, Sean 281
 Bars and Bouncers 314
 Bartell, Bob 284
 Barthel, Paul 306
 Bartlett, Michael S. 344
 Bartolota, Melissa B. 344
 Bartolotta, Ross 281
 Bartosz, Gregg 278
 Bartz, Gary Phillip 293, 344
 Basak, Debbie 216
 Base, Diane 230, 315, 344
 Baseball 144
 Basid, Andy 284
 Basketball (Junior college transfers) 162
 Basketball (Men's) 144
 Basketball (Women's) 166
 Bass, Gerdyn Ann 344
 Bass, Laura Wendy 344
 Bastian, Nicole 222
 Bastien, Wade A. 344
 Bastyr, Brian 242
 Bateman, Sara 344
 Bates, Angel 262
 Bates, Madrid 218
 Bateson, Charles 270
 Batthauer, D. 285
 Batton, Jennifer 262, 332, 344
 Bauer, Karla 322
 Bauer, Tracy 325
 Bauer, Vicki 218
 Bauersaacs, Kimber 230
 Baugher, Barb 224
 Banknecht, Scott 336
 Baumgarten, Dallan J. 344
 Baumgarten, Robin 208, 309, 322, 344
 Bautista, Danny 328, 344
 Bava, Steve 254
 Bayer, Karla 240
 Bavislaw, Gary 277
 Baxter, Katie 210, 344, 442
 Baxter, Rob 275
 Bayer, Maria E. 344
 Bayless, Kevin C. 344
 Baylor, Laura 216
 Bayston, Bart 228
 Baywell, K. 285
 Beaver, Cami Jo 210, 344
 Beach, Nancy 269
 Beal, Bekah 232, 344
 Beall, Scott 265, 303, 344
 Beapre, Kenna 269
 Beatty, David 276
 Beaumont, James M. 344
 Beaupre, Barry 330
 Beccastro, Mike 333
 Bechtel, Brad 274
 Bechtel, Steven James 344
 Beck, Dana 295
 Beck, Eric 261
 Beck, Erik George 344
 Beck, Pam 216, 344
 Beck, Sean Lawrence 344
 Becker, Arnold 337
 Becker, Dan 316, 326
 Becker, Jeff 47
 Becker, Judy Marie 344
 Becker, Lana 319, 344
 Becker, Laura Marie 344
 Becker, Scott 284
 Beckman Institute 116
 Beckman, Jamie Lynn 344
 Beckman, Nancy 248
 Beckman Institute 116
 Beckwith, Felicia F. 344
 Beckwith, Tammie 208
 Beeque, Jennifer Lynn 344
 Beevar, Scott 254
 Bedard, Lynnee Sue 344
 Bedard, Robbin 208
 Bedell, Greg 270
 Bednarz, Frank Allen 344
 Bednarz, Laura 317
 Beeley, Chad 220
 Beer, Tyra 262
 Behling, Michael J. 344
 Behme, Jennifer Lynn 344
 Behrendt, Christa 313
 Behrmann, Marcy 295
 Beihl, Lia 234
 Beland, Dan 297
 Belcher, Steven Paul 344
 Belczak, Celeste 232
 Belga, Ferdinand E. 344
 Belger, Carol Leigh 344
 Belin, Kristin 226
 Bell, Julie 248
 Bell, Lucie 161
 Bell, Lucia Lynn 344
 Bell, Matt 293
 Bell, Richard E. 344
 Bell, Sean 281
 Bell, Sophie 218, 280, 344
 Bellamy, Michael S. 130, 134, 344
 Bellanca, Dee 238
 Bellinghausen, Dena 210
 Bello, Bryan 244
 Bello, Germaine 294
 Belluso, Joe 300
 Beltrand, R. 285
 Ben-Yoseph, Gild 277
 Bendewald, Gregory 344
 Bendixon, Dan 312
 Bendler, Jennifer T. 344
 Benegoechea, Tasha 208
 Benivigna, Andrea 234
 Benjamin, Stephanie 250
 Benn, Omer 316
 Bennett, Adam 264
 Bennett, Brian 306
 Bennett, Christy 232
 Bennett, Nancy E. 344
 Bennett, Raleigh 214, 296
 Bennett, Scott 261
 Bennett, Terry 260
 Bennett, Vivian 236
 Bensen, Karen Ann 344
 Benson, Bob 220
 Benson, Bradley John 344
 Benson, Charles 307
 Benson, Clark 296
 Benton, William 288
 Benvenuti, Tony 300
 Benware, John R. 344
 Berquet, Jodie 216
 Beran, Renee M. 344
 Berardi, Amy 298, 322
 Berba, Chris 335, 344
 Berdeaux, Genevieve 212
 Berent, Linda 292
 Bereza, Kathy 236
 Bereznick, Jan Scott 344
 Berg, Anne Kathryn 344
 Berg, Matthew 290
 Berg, Pete 274, 344
 Bergdahl, David Earl 344
 Berger, Becke 250, 304
 Berger, Bob 284
 Berger, David 277
 Berger, Jeannie 248
 Berger, Laura 113
 Bergeron, Marybeth 254
 Bergin, Mike 284
 Bergin, Molly 210
 Bergind, Eric 307
 Bergman, Rich 273
 Bergmann, Brain 326
 Bergren, Holly 238
 Bergschneider, Steve 220
 Bergseth, Amy 269
 Berk, Jason 337
 Berke, Andy 96, 97
 Berkes, Susan 250
 Berkowitz, Paula 305
 Berlet, Melissa 250
 Berlin, Alan 277, 344
 Berliner, Kelly Beth 344
 Berman, Elliott M. 344
 Bermingham, Chad 289, 312, 344
 Bernahe, Elaine A. 344
 Bernal, Alex 274
 Bernard, Dan 256
 Berner, Rich 258
 Bernet, J. 285
 Bernhard, Brian 307
 Berns, Mike 273, 313, 344
 Bernstein, Jay 277
 Bernstein, Rachel 296
 Berry, Lilan 210, 344
 Berry, Roh 228, 344
 Bertelson, Brian 330
 Berti, Jeff Jerome 344
 Bertucci, Dominick V. 318, 346
 Besinger, Ollie 246
 Beta Alpha Psi 334
 Beta Sigma Psi 290
 Betke, Kevin 246
 Betts, Tracy 320, 321
 Betz, Dave 305
 Betz, Kimberly Ann 346
 Betz, Thomas 115
 Betzelberger, Ryan 228
 Bentler, Frederick G. 346
 Bever, Robert 346
 Beversdorf, Rebecca 224
 Beyer, Jenn 240
 Beyer, Keith 244
 Bhojwani, Gary 327, 346
 Bhowmik, Prasanta 283
 Biala, Joel Roldan 346
 Bianchi, Natalie 248
 Bianco, Kim 339
 Bianco, Richard David 346
 Biberstein, Jane M. 346
 Bibian, Nora 292
 Bickel, Kathleen 346
 Bield, Lia 311
 Biedieke, Roger T. 346
 Bien, Dave 273
 Bierman, Nancy 316
 Biery, Mark 270
 Bierzychudek, Anne 180, 248
 Biethmann, Jared 273
 Big Bro/Sis Program 378
 Big Ten 200
 Biggs, Kent Edward 346
 Billadeau, Scott M. 346
 Billing, Andrew 276
 Billish, Teresa M. 346
 Billote, Salve Regina 346
 Bills, Susan 334
 Bils, Scott 263
 Bilsbury, Norm 261
 Bilstad, A. Mark 244
 Bingman, Dale 328, 346
 Biodegradable Plastics 30
 Biolchini, Karen Lynn 346
 Birch, Diane 240, 346
 Birch, Jason 261
 Bills, Susan 306
 Bishee, Laurie 298
 Bishop, Christy 248
 Bishop, Jay 279
 Bishop, Jennifer 208
 Bishop, Stephen L. 346
 Bitimer, Bill 314

June 21

Bob Kane's 1939 creation finally hit the silver screen. Batman, the movie, was released starring Michael Keaton as Batman and Jack Nicholson as his nemesis, the Joker.

June 28

Sixty-three-year-old Hugh Hefner, U of I graduate in 1946, takes Kimberley Conrad, 26, as his bride at the Playboy Mansion.

July 5

AP

Retired Marine Lt. Col. Oliver North was given a suspended sentence and fined $150,000 for his role in the Iran-Contra affair.

- Bixler, Kevin 284
Bjelland, Alise 226
Bjerke, Jennifer 38
Bjork, Charles Haxton 95, 346
Bjork, David John 346
Bjorseth, Cindy 250
Blaber, Mona 256
Black, Jenni 224
Black, Rob 278
Black, Todd 206
Black Chorus 338
Black Greek Council 334
Blackston, Beth 234
Blaha, Tracey 248
Blain, Melody Lynn 346
Blair, Melissa Gail 346
Blaker, Rebecca Gail 346
Blakley, Roger E. 346
Blanchette, Jason 293, 325
Bland, Andrew 317
Blanford, Frederick J. 346
Blanke, John 263
Blasingame, Steve 325, 346
Blaszczuk, Julie Lynn 346
Blaszczuk, Paul 278
Blatz, Marshall 283
Blaum, Gregory L. 346
Blau Mueller, Heidi 346
Blazejak, Cheryl 236
Blazek, Barb 234
Bleck, Chuck 246
Bleich, Wade Lynn 346
Blesy, Anjeanette 224
Blewitt, Richard N. 328, 346
Block, Beth 295
Block, Dan 290
Block, Lisa 295
Block, Ronald K. 346
Block, Scott 307, 324
Block, Timothy M. 346
Block I 329
Blockovich, Brian 297
Bloechle, Susie 250
Bloink, Bob 303
Blomberg, Julie 216
Blonz, Cara 266, 294
Blood, Charlie 327
Bloomberg, Jeanne 27, 339
Bloor, Cyndi 294
Blossfield, Katie 214, 256
Blotevogel, Jill 212, 346
Blount, Shirley Ann 346
Blue, Brett 266
Blum, Debbie 248
Blumberg, Erik 274
Blumer, Marc 265, 303
Blumka, Mark Walter 346
Blunk, Heidi 208
Blyskal, Luara 238
Board of Trustees 386
Boatright, Laura 248, 346
Bober Jr., Robert W. 346
Bolis, Lisa 295
Bobis, Lori 295
Boch, Brian 246
Bochantin, Michele 216
Bochenek, Beata 222
Bock, Carol 298
Bodine, Darren 220, 308, 320
Bodnar, Sean 299, 330, 346
Boege, Debbie 234
Boehme, Alison 210
Boeke, Scott 206
Boesen, Dong 326
Bogan, Kathy 224
Boggs, Rae Ann 236
Boglin Jr., Robert 346
Bogot, Dave 286
Bohahoy, Karen Lynne 346
Blaszczuk, Julie Lynn 346
Bohlon, Rhonda 339
Bohnhoff, Timothy M. 346
Bohnsack, Rob 265, 303
Boksa, Alisa 210
Boland, Susan M. 346
Bolda, Eric Ludwig 346
Boldrini, Lois A. 346
Bolen, Tyler 327
Bollman, Deith 279
Bols, Janelle 292
Bolsinga, Greg 296
Bolt, Cheryl 210
Bolton, Sherolyn R. 346
Bon, Rhowna O. 346
Bonacorsi, Cindi 307, 346
Bonaguidi, Matt 303
Bondi, Michael Alan 346
Bongean, Meredith 210
Bongiorno, Nancy 230
Bonner, Heidi 218, 346
Bonnier, Sylvie 27
Bonus, Matthew 261
Bonwell, James Josiah 346
Boodrean, Victoria L. 346
Bookman, Brandi 248
Booras, Elizabeth 329
Booras, John 329
Boose, Joe 293
Boppart, Stephen 280, 346
Borch, Patrick 266
Bordner, James Oliver 346
Borg, Brian 339
Borger, Ann 292
Borgerson, Lara 292
Borgeson, Kevin 338, 346
Borgman, Kristin 234
Borja, Walter 283
Bork, Beth 256, 346
Bork, Brian 293
Borkholder, Brian D. 346
Borkowski, Mike 273
Borop, Jim 206
Borough, Craig 346
Borowiak, Jacqueline 346
Borowski, Katie 210
Borowski, Valerie 26
Bosh, Tara 262
Bossert, John 293
Bossart, Mike 327, 346
Bossow, Adam E. 346
Boston, Kent 316
Boston, Scott 220, 325
Bostrom, Lori Lynn 346
Boswell, Kim 292
Bote, Rommel O. 346
Bothast, Cathy Ann 346
Bottom, Kristin 250
Bouckaert, Mark 244
Boudreau, Darrin 220
Boughan, Jerri 232
Boukousis, Peter 334, 346
Boulos, M. 285
Bouma, Kenneth E. 346
Boundy, Dave 293, 338
Bouque, Angela 238
Bourgerie, Dennis A. 346
Bouslog, Camille 240
Bouslog, Patrick N. 346
Bowen, Lori 240, 308
Bower, Karla 292
Bower, Lisa Ann 346
Bower, Lynn 222
Bowlay-Williams, Victor 346
Bowman, Phillip James 346
Boxser, Dina 226, 346
Boyce, D. 291
Boyce, Merita Anne 346
Boyd, Brad 278
Boyer, Douglas Dale 346
Boyer, Nancy 226
Boyle, K. 285
Boyle, Vincent P. 346
Bozek, Anne 298
Bozzi, Michael Robert 346
Braaten, Andrew 267
Bracken, Denise 216, 339
Brad Adriana 222, 346
Bradbury, Anne Louise 346
Braddings, Stacey 262
Braden, Chad 220
Bradford, Beth 248
Bradford, Jay 258
Bradley, Chris 333
Brady, Laura 261
Brady, Mark 333, 346
Brady, Mike 274
Brady, Robert J. 346
Brady, Sean 296
Brady, Sean 303
Brage, Todd 258
Bragg, Julie 298
Brakel, Lia 224
Bramhall, Laura 250, 346
Brancato, Tom 334
Branch, Jeffrey Kirk 346
Brann, Laura 216
Brandt, Barry 265, 303
Brandt, Debbie 208
Bransky, Aaron 277
Bratton, Leslie 232
Brauer, Jason Matthew 346
Brauman, Matt 293
Braun, Millie 230
Braunlich, Lisa 230
Bray, Tracey 339
Brayshaw, Beth 222
Brazil, Alan 335
Breen, Molly 214
Bregger, Melissa 208, 310, 320
Bredert, Matt 333
Breimeris, Alex 318
Brejcha, Jennifer 230
Brenner, Dan 254, 346
Brenner, Dan 254
Brennan, Ann Therese 346
Brennan, Nora E. 346
Brenner, Karen Gael 346
Brenner, Lisa 295
Brent, Laura 210
Bresing, Jim 193
Bresnahan, Paul 261
Brester, Mary Dean 346
Bretzlaff, Matt 284
Brewer, Julie Marie 346
Brice, Romero 129
Brickman, Dave 336
Bridell, Craig 281
Bridenbaugh, Stephanie 226
Bridge, Jenny 248
Bridgewater, Laura 328, 346
Brienens, John 265, 303
Brieser, Carla 339
Briggs, Michelle 208, 262
Briley, Todd 206
Brill, P. 285
Brill, Scott Alan 346
Briney, Tony 327
Bringas, Michael 326
Brinkley-Minnick, A. R. 346
Brinkmann, Debbie 325
Brinkmann, Kathi 296, 331
Britt, Kristi L. 346
Brittain, Kim 212
Brizzolara, Kim Ann 346
Broadus, Christine F. 346
Broadus, Joel 283
Brock, Cyndy 313
Brodsky, Frank 259
Broeking, Becky 216, 346
Brogdon, Lisa C. 240, 346
Bromberg, Brian 277
Bronstein, Dennis 256
Nancy Brookhart 164
Brooks, Beth 320
Brooks, Brian 237
Brooks, Jason 337
Brooks, Pam 232, 346
Brookstein, Pam 319, 348
Brunn, Susan Lee 348
Brot, David 277
Brotko, Kathleen M. 210, 348
Broughton, Dena 208
Broverman, Amy 262
Browder, Torrey 334
Brown, Audra 212, 348
Brown, Christopher 334
Brown, Denise 236
Brown, Doug 264
Brown, Dushon Monique 348
Brown, Dustin Louis 348
Brown, Eliana 248
Brown, Eric 297
Brown, Hamilton 150
Brown, Janice Kay 348
Brown, Jeff 220
Brown, Jeff 308
Brown, Jeffery 292
Brown, Jeffery C. 348
Brown, Jill 212
Brown, Joel Harry 348
Brown, John Robert 348
Brown, Julie 210
Brown, Julie 313
Brown, Latricia B. 348
Brown, Marsha 307
Brown, Matt 311
Brown, R. 285
Brown, Roh 273
Brown, Roh 313
Brown, Robert Alan 348
Brown, Robert B. 348
Brown, Sarah 232
Brown, Sarah 295
Brown, Scott 283
Brown, Scott Charles 348
Brown, Stacy Victoria 348
Brown, Steve 289
Brown, Steve James 348
Brown, Taylor 206, 348
Brown, Teresa 248
Brown, Thomas Matthew 348
Brown, Tom 332
Browning, Ann 250
Browning, Mike 333
Brownlow, Darrick 129
Browsing Room 376
Brozak, Barbara 226
Brozan, Juan 283
Bruce, Tim 336
Bruch, Veronika 305
Bruder, Kate 222
Brummer, Kevin 276
Brueschke, Tina 313
Bruner, Jeffrey S. 348
Brunn, Kathy 234
Brunner, Gary Van 348
Brunner, Mark Alfons 348
Brunner, Samuel R. 348
Bruno, Lauren D. 348
Bruno, Richard Brian 348
Brunt, Christina 302
Brunton, Christy 210
Brunton, Cindy 210
Bruzini, Dan 261, 315, 348
Bryan, Eric 283
Bryja, David John 348
Bryja, Thomas 326
Bryk, Jeff 260
Bryniarski, Sue 216, 348
Brzozowski, John 326, 348
Buban, K. 291
Buban, Kelly 334
Buhan, Kevin 299, 348
Buhner, Audrey 295
Buhner, Audrey 318
Bublula, Joan Gad 348
Buccelli, Thomas M. 348
Buccini, Mike 281
Bucciferro, Robert G. 348
Buchanan, Peter David 348
Buchar, Kevin 303, 316
Bucher, Joe 327, 348
Buchert, Michael A. 348
Buchman, Donald R. 348

July 20

A United Airlines DC-10, en route from Denver to Chicago, experienced total hydraulic failure and crashed into a cornfield outside Sioux City, Iowa. One hundred ten people died, but the survival of 186 other passengers was attributed to the flying skills of Captain Alfred Haynes.

AP

AP

August 23

Pete Rose is banned from baseball for betting on Reds' games.

AP

- Buck, M. 285
 Buckley, Holly 234
 Buckley, John 264
 Buckley, Matthew E. 348
 Buckner, Christopher 348
 Buckner, Koren 214, 335
 Bucek, Carol Ann 348
 Budbulys, Pete 328
 Budde, Bridget 238
 Buddenhagen, Barbara 348
 Budnik, Mark Michael 348
 Budzileni, Joanie 339
 Buerkle, Erica 313
 Buetow, Dave 297
 Buetow, Michael John 348
 Buhr, Randy Lee 348
 Buhr, Sandi 214, 348
 Buhrfeind, Sue 238, 305, 348
 Buhs, Laura 306
 Bui, Duc Q. 348
 Bui, Thuyanh Hong 348
 Bunch, Eileen 262, 305, 324, 348
 Bunt, Kris 224
 Bunte, Liz 226
 Bunte, Suzanne Bing 348
 Burch, Todd 334
 Burd, Greg 284
 Burda, Kristin 250
 Burden, Dave 284
 Burdine, Kathy Ann 348
 Burger, Laura Lynn 348
 Burgess, Heidi 338, 348
 Burgess, Joanie 210
 Burgess, Tim 266, 348
 Burgin, Karen 230, 348
 Burgos, A. 285
 Burguone, Lyn 214
 Buric, Glenn 223
 Buritz, Susan 294, 339
 Burke, Ed 283
 Burke, J. 285
 Burke, Jenny 250
 Burke, Jim 256
 Burke, Kenneth Arnold 348
 Burke, Michele 296
 Burkett, Gina 310
 Burkey, John 282, 348
 Burkman, Pamela P. 348
 Burlison, Audra 240
 Burnam, Lynette D. 348
 Burnett, Julie Lynn 348
 Burnidge, Jo 238
 Burns, Ken 274
 Burns, Scott 273
 Burris, Angela 234
 Burt, Lora 313, 348
 Burton, Beth 238, 348
 Burton, Katharine L. 222, 348
 Burton, Kristen Bea 348
 Burton, Tom 337
 Busch, Julie 269
 Buser, Barbara 339
 Bush, Jackie 248
 Bush, Mary 300
 Bushur, Cindy Kay 348
 Buske, Douglas Meyer 348
 Bussa, Julie 218
 Bussan, Laura 224, 267, 304
 Bustamante, Karin L. 348
 Buszkiewicz, Jim 258
 Butcher, Aaron 261
 Butcher, Kristin 238, 348
 Buti, Chris 260, 282, 302, 309, 348
 Buti, Suzanne 218, 348
 Butler, Cynthia Ann 348
 Butler, Jeff 220
 Butler, Linda 298, 320, 321
 Butler, Mandy 65
 Butler, Pat 263
 Butler, Patti 348
 Butterfield, Royden O. 348
 Buttimer, Bill 206
 Buttitta, Steve 330
 Buttleman, Kurt R. 348
 Byanna, Mala 212, 282
 Byrd, Dave 281
 Byrd, Michael 348
 Byrd, Mike 305, 348
 Byrd, Veronica M. 348
 Byrkit, Jeff 206
 Byrne, Patty 232
 Byron, Robert E. 348
 Byun, Heejeung Shlvia 348
 Byun, John S. 334, 348
 Byun, Philip 314
 Byun, Sylvia 230
- C
- Cabaret 56
 Cabrales, Jorge 279
 Cachey, Chris 318
 Cadavid, Natalie 295
 Cadiz, Christine S. 348, 310
 Cadmus, Dave 254
 Cadwallader, Tricia J. 348, 262, 310, 332
 Caffarelli, Craig R. 348
 Caifano, Marc Anthony 348, 297
 Cain, George Thomas 348
 Cam, Steve 289
 Cal, Mark P. 348
 Calahan, John 297
 Calandra, Melissa 238
 Calderisi, Michael D. 348, 297
 Caldwell, Harold 335
 Caliendo, Beth 250
 Caliendo, Giacomo 263
 Call, Matt 323
 Callahan, Pat 329
 Callan, T. 291
 Calzaretta, James C. 348
 Calzaretta, John 336
 Cambell, Anne Christine 348
 Camden, Janette Marie 348
 Cane, Heather Anne 348
 Cammack, Heather Lynn 348
 Cammack, Holly 238
 Campagna, Kelly Bryan 348
 Campbell, Anne 218
 Campbell, Chris 313
 Campbell, Deanna 226
 Campbell, Loralee D. 348
 Campbell, Missy 240
 Campbell, Suzan M. 348, 240
 Campe, Christine 208
 Campus Bar Association 408
 Campus Safety 38
 Canady, Mary Alison 348
 Canar, Michelle 232
 Canavan, Christine D. 348
 Canfield, Mike 13
 Canfora, Anselmo G. 348
 Canham, Laura 262
 Canning, Kelly 210
 Canning, Timothy M. 348
 Cannon, Jerry Earl 348, 307
 Cannon, John Glen 348, 326
 Cano, Randolph A. 350
 Cantlin, Matt 283, 442
 Cantu, Jose 258
 Canzon, Gina 250
 Capelle, Michael John 350
 Capes, Geordan 279, 305
 Capp, Jack 275
 Cappello, John 327
 Capper, Scott 246
 Capps, Marlisa Renee 350, 204
 Cappuzzello, Catherine 232
 Caracci, David J. 350
 Carbol, David 312
 Carlson, Debbie 294
 Cardin, Amy Laura 350, 299
 Carey, Pete 316
 Carinato, Maria 216
 Carlin, David 337
 Carlin, Stuart 337
 Carlisle, Whitney T. 350, 327
 Carlomango, Angela L. 350, 294
 Carlson, Angie 210
 Carlson, Cynthia Sue 350
 Carlson, Dave 297
 Carlson, Debra Jean 350
 Carlson, Donald L. 350, 220
 Carlson, Glenn 242
 Carlson, Jen 234
 Carlson, Jennifer 234
 Carlson, Jennifer A. 350
 Carlson, Jessica 292
 Carlson, Karen Marie 350, 339
 Carlson, Katrin M. 350, 238
 Carlson, Kristie 269
 Carlson, Lori 218
 Carlson, Sandra 208
 Carmichael, Patrick R. 350
 Carnahan, Paige 266
 Carnes, Laura 218
 Carney, Greg 308
 Carp, Ilana 295
 Carpenter, Carla 214
 Carpenter, Catherine S. 350, 238
 Carpenter, Courtney 238
 Carpenter, Kevin A. 350, 242
 Carpenter, Timothy R. 350
 Carpizo, Brian Leo 350
 Carpo, Cyndi 214
 Carr, Alexander H. 350
 Carr, Deborah Suzanne 350
 Carr, Jane 330
 Carr, Renee 350
 Carr, Robert 286
 Carriaco, Christian 280
 Carriaco, Kip 296
 Carrier, Joe 327
 Carris, Thomas Frank 350, 284
 Carroll, Jennifer 238
 Carroll, Jennifer 269
 Carroll, Kevin 260
 Carroll, Kevin 308, 309
 Carroll, Lisa 254
 Carroll, Megan Eileen 350
 Carsello, Victor 288
 Carson, Cary Ruth 339
 Carson, Vicki Lynne 350, 296
 Carson, Odell 350
 Carste, Thomas Hans 350
 Carter, Carrie 238
 Carter, Michael Lee 350
 Casaleggi, Lois 224
 Caserio, Jim 259
 Casey, Cullen L. 350
 Casey, Michael P. 350
 Casey, Scott Patrick 350
 Cash, Susan Mara 350, 266
 Caspary, John 220
 Casper, Kathy 212
 Cassel, Lisa 238
 Cassel, Tom 300
 Cassell, Liz 248
 Casserly, John 206
 Cassidy, Heather 335
 Cassidy, Jim 336
 Cassidy, Kelly 248
 Cassidy, Pat 258
 Cassiere, David J. 350
 Cassulo, Christopher 350
 Castrale, Sara Beth 248, 350
 Catalano, Susan B. 350, 248
 Cathrall, Jodi 238
 Caughey, Shannon 276
 Cavavette, Tina 250
 Caveny, Cary 332
 Caviness, Sue 250
 Cavolick, Steven 350, 279
 Cazaz, Cris 230
 Cederroth, Joanne M. 350, 318, 232
 Ceithaml, Terri 236
 Cekal, Suzanne Marie 350
 Cellini, Paul Vincent 350
 Celske, Elizabeth A. 350, 234
 Cengel, Keith 260
 Centella, Jill A. 350, 234
 Centeno, Hector 350
 Centko, Brenda Renae 350
 Cerasani, Chris 269
 Cerasani, James P. 350
 Cerda, Debbie 226, 350
 Cerefice, Gary 286
 Cesaroni, Gail 218
 Cezar, Harold 60
 Cha, Seung Bok 317
 Chaeko, Susan 331
 Chacon, Cesar 314, 268
 Chaddha, Smriti 350, 248
 Chae, Yong 244
 Chaing, Larry 270
 Chakravarty, Auditi 208
 Challerg, Angela 226
 Chalmers, Jordon 284
 Chalupnik, Linda 208
 Chamberlain, Andrew 327
 Chamberlain, Boh 270
 Chamberlain, John S. 350
 Chamberlain, Karen 350, 313
 Chamberlain, Stephanie 292, 339
 Chambers, Cynthia 173, 218
 Chambliss, Patrick T. 318, 350
 Champley, Joanna 226
 Chams, Danielle 295
 Chan, Kevin 334
 Chan, Linda 317
 Chan, Susanna 304
 Chan, Vilma 307
 Chan, Wilson 326
 Chan, York 289
 Chandler, C. R. 350
 Chandler, Michael 350, 304
 Chandler, Steven T. 350
 Chandwaney, Rajesh H. 350, 279
 Chaney, Claudia 350
 Chang, Alice Y. 350
 Chang, Cindy I. 350, 310
 Chang, David 283
 Chang, Eunice 232
 Chang, Judy 208
 Chang, Julie 212
 Chang, Kathryn 350
 Chang, Kwan Young 350
 Chang, Virginia 208
 Chao, Regina 222
 Chaplin, Michelle D. 350
 Chapman, Betsy 269
 Chapman, Heather 236
 Chapman, Meagan 208
 Chapman, Rebecca L. 350
 Chapman, Ronald Alan 350
 Charbut, Shelley 234
 Charvat, Peter L. 350
 Chase, Keith 276
 Chase, Steven T. 350
 Chatterjee, Abhijit 283
 Chatterjee, Ranjini 350
 Chaven, Ctwsak 306
 Chaven, Supatra 306
 Chaves, Robert 336
 Chavez, Anna M. 350
 Chavez, Hugo 288, 304
 Chavin, Heidi 295
 Chawla, Anshuman 350
 Check, Jenny 296
 Cheerleaders 194
 Chelene, Boh 228
 Chen, Calvin 283
 Chen, Connie 250
 Chen, Peng 236
 Chen, Robert 350
 Chen, Sylvia Yu 350
 Chen, Tani 334

September 1

Gov. Thompson decides to ban "Happy Hours" but not "Happy Days."

Leona Helmsley was convicted of evading $1.2 million in Federal Income taxes.

An overheated lamp in one of the rooms on the 12th floor of Oglesby residence hall starts a fire, causing an estimated $125,000 in damages to three floors in the hall.

photo by D. Ghent

- Chen, Tony 283
Chen, Wen-Teh 306
Cheng, Cindy 224
Cheng, Ellen 315
Cheng, Frank 329
Cheng, Moses 350
Cherie, Ricardo 171
Chern, Eric 259
Chern, Kevin Ward 350, 259
Cherny, Renata 208
Chesek, Chip 258
Chesnut, Carol Ann 350
Chess, Karen 280
Chew, Pei Ching 350
Chi Omega 218
Chiapetta, R. 291
Chica, Kenneth Paul 350
Chicago Campus 410
Chico, Antonio 350
Chidley, Barb 236
Chidley, Jennifer L. 350, 232
Chief 120
Chiemkolp, Tina 283, 350
Chiet, Jeff 259
Childers, Valerie N. 350
Childress, Rebecca 240
Chiligris, Diane 336
Chin, Carl G. 350
Chin, Christopher Lee 350
Chinese Pro-Democracy 44
Chinoy, Amir 350
Chinski, John L. 350
Chisek, Sharon F. 350, 230
Chism, Leon 326
Chiszar, Dave 327
Chiu, Grace Yi-ting 350, 289
Chiu, Janice 218
Chiu, Linda 269
Chlebos, Nichole 232
Cho, Paul 279
Cho, Sandy 238
Choe, Linda 238
Choi, Gwon 317
Choi, H. 285
Choi, Jamie 317, 350
Choi, Katherine K. 350
Chomko, Rik Carl 350
Chong, Lynn 305
Chopak, Joanne 41
Choslovsky, William 350
Chou, Cynthia H. 350
Chranko, Christopher 302, 350
Christ, Catherine D. 350, 335
Christensen, Bob 144
Christensen, Daniel J. 350
Christensen, Kathy 216
Christian, Danial 258
Christian, Jim 258
Christiansen, Eric 290
Christianson, Dave 336
Christine, Mary K. 350, 230
Christie, James E. 350, 270
Christofidis, Michelle 336
Christopher, Bill 328
Christopoulos, Dean 292
Chron, Tim 321
Chrystler, Bob 261
Chrzanowski, Chris 274
Chu, Thaison 350
Chua, Edbert T. 350
Chua, Robert 261
Chuang, Yuan-Chang 350
Churchro, Doug 263
Churchro, Stacy 272
Chudy, Denise 298
Chun, JoAnne 238
Chung, Harry 303
Chung, Jason Ho Yong 350
Chung, Ken 206
Chung, Phillip Yong 350
Chung, William 350
Churchill, Jenny 214
Chyla, Stacy 269
Ciancellis, John 266
Ciccio, Jaqueline 250
Cicero, Erica 214
Cieh, Andrew 268
Cieh, Elizabeth A. 352
Cieslak, Beth 212
Cieslak, Christine A. 352
Ciko, John 284
Cini, Pat 226
Cinto, Jim 292
Cislaghi, Darla Sue 352
Ciszewski, Andrea M. 352, 304
Citrus Bowl 154
Cimcci, Michelle 224
Cizek, Bill 260
Claeson, Leslie 218
Claiborne, Michael 261
Claire, Jeffrey W. 352
Clancy, Kevin John 352, 265, 303
Clanton, Garret M. 352, 317
Claps, Michael 336
Clark, Douglas 326
Clark, G. 291
Clark, Heidi 296
Clark, Jennifer 218
Clark, Jim 296
Clark, Libby 250
Clark, Mark 261
Clark, Scott 292
Clark, Suzanne Maria 352
Clarke, Esther 232, 322
Clausen, Andrew James 352
Clauson, Margaret 226
Claypool, Michelle L. 352
Cleary, Julie 269
Cleary, Pat 305
Cleckner, Cyndy 222
Clegg, Cheryl 230
Clen, Brad 288
Clement, Peter V. 352
Clemmons, Linda 238
Cleveland, Michelle F. 352
Cleveland, William S. 352
Clifford, Cody 262
Clingan, Holly Suzann 352, 218
Clinton, Stephanie 232
Cmelo, Michelle Lyn 352, 232
Coakley, Randy 327
Cobb, David 261
Cobb, Deirdre Lynn 352
Cobb, Glenn L. 352
Coburn, John 278
Cocco, Susan 208
Cochran, Jennifer 262
Cochran, Kathryn 292, 224
Cockerham, Geoff 242
Coderko, Charles R. 352, 261
Coffey, Lisa Ann 352, 214
Cohanin, Metra 295
Cohen, Adam 337
Cohen, Andrew Jay 352
Cohen, David 277
Cohen, Jocelyn 295
Cohen, Lori 295
Colnick, Emmitt 145
Cohn, Debbie 295
Colbert, Adrienne 250, 352
Colbert, Laura 114
Collburn, John 275
Colburn, Tom 275
Cole, Brian Alan 352
Cole, Claudine R. 352
Cole, Darren 261, 220
Cole, Debra Lynn 352, 216
Cole, James 321, 297, 204, 352
Cole, Jennifer 256
Coleman, Ann Jeanette 352, 289
Coleman, Anthony E. 204
Coleman, Becky 329
Coleman, Erik C. 352
Coleman, Michael John 352
Coleman, Mike 228
Coleman, Rebecca 352
Colen, Darryl 337
Colen, Julie 238
Colena, Lisa 262
Colgan, Patrick D. 352
Colindres, Jose 260
Colins, Mike 333
College of Agriculture 342
College of Applied Life Studies 344
College of Commerce and Business 346
College of Communications 348
College of Education 350
College of Engineering 352
College of Fine and Applied Arts 354
College of Liberal Arts and Sciences 356
Colle, Ian Ronald 352, 326
Colleran, Kris 292, 339
Collins, Christopher L. 352
Collins, Colleen Ann 352, 216, 292
Collins, Dave 283
Collins, Erica M. 352
Collins, Jenni 224
Collins, Jennifer 248
Collins, Jennifer 320
Collins, Jennifer 322
Collins, Jennifer M. 352
Collins, John 279
Collins, Marshall 352, 281, 333
Collins, Robert 352
Collins, Sandra Rena 352, 236
Collins, Todd 327
Collins, Tony 336
Collins, William Carl 352
Collins-Jones, Dee-Dee 296, 331
Collister, John P. 352, 292, 339
Collora, Carolyn J. 352, 248
Colson, R. 285
Colvis, Byron B. 352
Colvis, Christopher O. 352
Colwyn, Bill 319, 337
Comacho, Dave 264
Compagnoni, Mary J. 352
Comstock, Angie 36
Conard, Steven Loren 352
Concannon, Theresa 352, 248
Condon, Brian 275
Condron, Mike 254, 296
Cone, Steven 276
Conforti, Mike 242
Conklin, Chad 303
Conley, Jacqueline A. 352
Conlon, Michael H. 352
Conn, Lisa Marie 352
Connell, Betsy 230
Connell, Lisa E. 352
Connell, Madeline 334, 352
Connolly, John M. 352
Conner, Christopher M. 352, 268
Conner, Mark 220
Connors, Jerry 177
Connerty, Mike 258, 283
Connery, Marc Andrew 352
Conniff, Christine 269
Conniff, Colleen Mary 352, 269
Connolly, Alice 236
Connolly, Margaret M. 352, 222
Connolly, Stephanie A. 352, 280, 230
Connor, Annie 298
Connors, Jerry 281
Connors, Nina 248
Conoscenti, Vicki Ann 352
Constantino, Jill 296
Conti, James M. 352
Contoror, Aaron M. 352
Contreras, Ed 264
Converse, Derek 336
Convery, Diane 248
Conway, Erin Anne 352
Conyers, Lisa 280, 334
Cook, Brian Patrick 352
Cook, Charles R. 352
Cook, Daniel John 352, 267
Cook, Dave 246
Cook, Debra Anne 352, 210
Cook, Erin 195, 210
Cook, Jon 259
Cook, Sue 210
Cooke, Ipalla 331
Cooke, Julia Dawn 352
Courtney, John 335
Coolidge, John 328
Cooney, Mary 305
Cooper, Jarret 280
Cooper, Julie A. 352, 267, 304
Cooper, Kim 295
Cooper, Marc Adam 352, 328
Cooper, Stephanie 250
Cooperman, Sheri 352, 294
Copeland, Monica R. 352
Copeland, Sean R. 352, 286
Copper, Colette 234
Coppie, Brian 328
Copy Shops 52
Corasco, Darla 391
Corbett, DeeDee 214
Corbett, Diane Marie 352
Corcoran, Brian 270
Corcoran, Dan 278
Corcoran, Laura 57
Corcoran, Maura 218
Corkill, Brian 228
Corn, Linda 295, 322
Corn, Rachel 295, 321
Cornelius, Beth 298, 304
Cornfield, Bill 265, 303
Cornwell, Marla Dawn 352, 335
Coronado, Anthony R. 352, 283
Coronado, David J. 352
Correa, Mario 297
Correnti, Tina 250
Corridon, Laura 230
Crough, Sara J. 352, 226
Corso, Kara 184
Corso, Rob 246
Cortez, Jason 261
Cortez Jr., Edmundo P. 352
Corti, Cindy 238
Corwin, Michael 280
Corzine, Tammy 234
Cosbey, Thomas P. 352
Cosby, Coretta 292
Cosco, Jennifer 216, 311
Cosentino, Mark Louis 352
Cosmopolitan Club 306
Costello, Scott C. 352
Costion, John 316
Cotler, Lisa Rae 352
Cotton, Craig Allan 352
Coty, Sharon Denise 352
Coughlin, Katherine S. 352, 212
Coulson, Heidi 234
Cours, George 264
Courlas, Peter George 352, 289
Courson, Troy M. 352
Courtad, Jim 303
Courtney, John 335
Couture, Timothy R. 352, 327
Covington, Lakeisha 261
Covington, Sherria 335
Cowan, Ed 338
Cowan, Mitra 339
Cowen, Robin 339
Cox, David Anthony 352
Cox, J. 285
Cox, Marvin Lee 352
Cox, Melissa 266
Cox, Tammy 240
Coxhead, Drew 264, 282
Craft, Julie Ann 352
Craig, Tamara Jean 352, 226
Cramer, Jordan 259, 282

September 17

Assembly Hall gets a new marquis.

photo by Lisa Shapiro

September 24

Hurricane Hugo lashes Charleston, S.C. with 135 mile per hour winds.

Cramer, Melissa 248
 Cramer, Tracy 302
 Crane, Amy Christine 352
 Craue, Doug 228
 Cravens, Lucien 261
 Crawford, Beth 224
 Crawford, Elaine M. 352
 Crawford, Sarah 339
 Crawford, Scott W. 352, 279
 Credi, Melissa M. 352, 25, 226,
 282, 309, 322, 330, 320
Credit/No Credit 400
 Cregier, Melissa 334
 Creinin, Daniel M. 352, 404
 Cremer, Jodi 295
 Crettol, Roy John 352, 206
 Creviston, Stacy 238
 Crockett, David 308, 321, 331
 Croft, David Scott 352, 254
 Croissant, Mike 261
 Croland, Joshua 337
 Crone, Wendy C. 352, 280
 Cronin, Kelly 262
 Cronin, Pat 258
 Crook, Meaghan 234
 Crook, Melissa Karen 354, 232
Cross County 178
 Cross, Janet 313
 Cross, Kelly Kathleen 354, 248
 Crossin, Mike 326
 Crotty, Jean E. 354, 226
 Crouse, Gregory Bruce 354
 Crowcroft, Harry Alan 354
 Crowder, Joshua A. 354, 206
 Crowder, Kelly 269
 Crowley, Todd C. 354
 Crozier, Peter Scott 354
 Crozier, Steven L. 354
 Cudzik, Laura 295
 Cue, Alex 305, 336
 Cullen, Brad 244
 Cullen, Tom 316
 Culliton, Kristine 248
 Cummins, Sally Ann 354
 Cunnar, James G. 354
 Cunningham, Brian 266
 Cunningham, Brooke D. 354
 Cunningham, Sheila 354, 294
 Cunningham, Vicky 234
 Curcio, John 286
 Curran, Donal 326
 Curry, M. 285
 Curry, Molly 218
 Curry, Suzanne 307
 Curry, Tim 284
 Curtin, Janet 234

Curtin, Jen 234
 Curtis, Jennifer Lynn 354, 226
 Curtis, Karin 195, 250
 Curtis, Shelli 218
 Curtis, Yvonne 354
 Cusick, Boh 327
 Cutler, Andrew B. 354
 Cutrell, Dong 261
 Cutright, Amy Lyn 354
 Cutsinger, Dave 333
 Cwikla, Brenda Marie 354
 Cygan, Jenny 298
 Cygan, Joseph 354
 Czech, Ken 327
 Czech, Mark 270
 Czeklanis, Craig R. 354
 Czerwinski, Katie 269
 Czerwinski, Therese M. 354
 Czupeck, Andy 270
 Czupeck, Tony 270

D

D'Agostino, Anna M. 354, 234
 D'Amato, Paul 242
 D'Amore, Tom 278
 D'Andria, Claudia T. 354
 D'Anza, MaryHelen 354
 D'Errico, Michael S. 354, 327
 Dabbs, Tammy 210
 Dacanay, Sharlene T. 354, 208
 Dad's Weekend 74
 Dadant, Nicole 269
 Dagiantis, Chris 336
 Dagiantis, William P. 354
 Dagley, Kristen 214
 Dahlquist, John 316
 Dahm, Matt 297
 Dailey, Michael I. 354
 Daily, Karen Lee 354, 318
 Daily Illini 256
 Daily Illini Advertising 299
 Daker, Anna Kiyomi 354
 Dakin, Mike 206
 Dalesandro, Joe 297
 Daley, Madelyn 354, 234, 254
 Daley, Mike 264
 Dallmuer, Patricia L. 354
 Dalman, Laurie 230
 Dalrymple, Sheda 232
 Dalton, Sean Alan 354
 Damaraju, Ravi 317
 Dameron, Jay 228, 323, 324
 Damewood, Michael 244
 Dammertz, Yvonne 354

Damocles, Mike 300
 Dan, Jeffrey 337
 Danieli, Hader 295
 Daniszewski, Lisa B. 354
 Danowski, Kimberly 354, 232
 Darahn, Amy 296
 Darchiaez, Brad 284
 Dargis, M. 285
 Darin, Andrea 238
 Darling, Bernie 230
 Darst, Matt 275
 Dattomo, Anthony L. 354
 Datz, Mike 296
 Dauher, Barry Craig 354, 325
 Daudelin, Timothy P. 354
 Daugerdas, Paul 263
 Davies, Stephanie 322
 Dausman, Christopher 354
 David, Arnold Todd 354
 Davidson, Beth 295, 310
 Davies, Shelly 296, 331
 Davne, Stephanie 250
 Davik, Christine 234
 Davinson, Benjamin 335
 Davis, Albert Frank 354
 Davis, Alison Anne 354, 254
 Davis, Amy Marie 354
 Davis, Angie 262, 332
 Davis, Arnold 286
 Davis, Beth 307
 Davis, Brad 290
 Davis, Carrie 208
 Davis, Charles Scott 354
 Davis, Donna Marie 354
 Davis, Dor 230
 Davis, Jenni 256
 Davis, Julie 295
 Davis, Kelly 269
 Davis, Lavidia 316
 Davis, Lisa 282
 Davis, Lisa J. 354
 Davis, Mike 296
 Davis, Paula 269
 Davis, Philip Alan 354
 Davis, Scott Norman 354
 Davis, Steve 263
 Davis, Steven 325
 Davis, Tiffany 222
 Davison, Brad 333
 Davlin, Karen Anne 354
 Davy, Aimee 33
Day in the life of a Band Member 70
 Day, Chris 261
 Day, Dawn 226
 Day, Jennifer 222

Day, Jennifer Kay 354
 Day, Jenny 216
 Day, Jon Matthew 354, 228
 Day, Steven Douglas 354
 Dayon, Dave 242
 Dayon, Dominador 244
 Daza, Melissa H. 354
 De, Sujata 216
 De Campe, Danielle 208
 Deacetis, Juddy Lee 354
 DeAcetis, Judy 216
Dean of Fraternity Men 322
 Deasy, Erica 216
 deBeers, Jim 303
 Deciani, Nikki 354
 Deck, Brian Alan 354
 Decker, David L. 354
 Decker, Eric 354, 293, 338
 Decker, Stephen Ray 354
 DeDecker, Brian 288
 Dederich, Jason T. 354
 Dedert, Tammy 354, 292, 339
 Deen, Stacey 208
 Dees, Mark Allen 354
 Deets, Tim 325
 Deetz, Annett 226
 DeFina, Sally 208
 Defotis, Dimitra 336
 DeFrance, Edward 326
 DeFrancisco, Gina 250
 DeGraft, Michael W. 354
 DeHaan, Denise 240
 DeHaan, Robert 325
 Deininger, Jeanne Ann 354
 Deist, Greg William 354
 Delabar, Angel 316
 DeLaCruz, Fran 279
 Delahunt, Charles 326
 DeLaMar, Shannon 238
 Delaney, James Thomas 354
 Delano, Michelle 210
 Delanty, Tracey Ann 354, 248,
 320, 321
 Delap, Deb 218
 DelCason, Moira 266
 Delfiaco, Eugene 354
 Deligiannis, Bill J. 336
 Deligiannis, Spiro G. 336
 Deligiannis, Spiros J. 336
 Delisi, Stephen M. 354
 Delisi, Karin 212
Delivery People 310
 Deliyannis, Anny 210, 282, 323, 354
 Delker, Eric 293
 Dellinger, Niki 269

Delmedico, Susan G. 354
 DelMuro, Art 289
 Delta Delta Delta 248
 Delta Gamma 210
 Delta Phi Epsilon 294
 Delta Sigma Phi 281
 Delta Sigma Phi Seniors 333
 Delta Sigma Pi 304
 Delta Tau Delta 278
 Delta Upsilon 246
 Delta Zeta 262
 Delta Zeta Seniors 332
 DeMars, Karen 250, 320
 DeMars, Michelle L. 354, 214
 Demaske, Jeff 336
 Dembowski, David A. 354
 DeMers, Lori 234
 Demers, Maria Lynn 354
 Demers, Marsha 339
 DeMeyer, Jeff 228
 Demich, Valerie Sue 354
 Demichael, James R. 354, 244
 Deming, Colleen 222
 Demirjian, Kara 214
 Demling, Andrea 238
 Dempsey, Craig 264
 Dences, Kristin 208
 Denhart, Joan Ann 354
 Denner, Joseph Frank 354
 Dennis, Deborah M. 354
 Dennison, Lisa 234
 Denoyer, Desiree M. 354, 210
 Dentler, Emily 238, 322
 Denz, Kirk 278
 Denzin, Rachel 318
 Deptuch, Janet 354, 212, 331
 DeQue, Aileen 250
 Derbiger, Jeffrey L. 354
 Derosa, Julie Ann 354, 230,
 309, 329
 Derridge, Brent 327
 Deryke, Maggie 248
 Desai, Ruchir 334
 Desai, Samir D. 354
 Desai, Sunita 226, 354
 DeSalvo, Theresa 354, 222, 282
 DeSanto, Carrie 298
 DeSanto, Nicole A. 354, 298
 Descartin, Althea Mae 354
 Deterding, Beth 236
 Deters, Kevin 336
 Deuir, Bill 92
 Deusinger, Lynda 267
 Deuster, Anne 212
 Deutsch, Ann 238
 Deutsch, Jennifer 334

Deutschmann, Chris F. 354
 Devens, Jenny 299, 296
 Devine Jr, Dennis J. 354
 Devita, Mark Thomas 354
 Devita, Michael Paul 354
 Devlin, Sue 208
 Dewell, Reece Alan 354
 Dewerff, Christina L. 354
 DeWitt, Kara 250
 DeWitt, T. 285
 DeWolf, Greg 335
 Dexheimer, R. Scott 354
 Dexter, Walter F. 354
 Diamond, Erik 273
 Diamond, Julie 269, 304, 308
 Diaz, Alfredo Jesus 354
 Diaz, David 356, 285
 Dick, Jenny 224
 Dick, Matthew David 356
 Dickinson, Paul 335
 Dickler, Jocelyn 295
 Dickman, James W. 356
 Dickson, Lorine 313
 Didato, Alexander 356
 Diehl, Amy 214
 Diehl, John William 356, 309, 321
 Diehl, Laura 262
 Dieker, Lisa 302
 Diel, Andrew 261
 Dienstag, Jennifer 295
 Dierker, Philip D. 356
 Dies, Chanda 226
 Dieterle, Carla 236
 Dietz, Gretchen 262
 Difiglio, Laura 216, 322
 DiGiovanni, Valerie 318
 Dikelsky, Michael A. 356, 276, 287
 Dill, Chris 286
 Dillingham, Lisa 216
 Dillman, Brian David 356, 284
 Dillman, Lisa 164, 165
 Dillon, Dave 278
 Dillon, Kelly 269
 Dillon, Michael Sean 356, 336
 Dillow, Robert Craig 356
 Dimaggio, Mike 242
 DiMartino, Lisa 234
 Dimmitt, Joan 232
 Dineen, Michele 356
 Dineen, R. 291
 Dineen, Shelly 294
 Dinges, Ralph James 356
 Dinneen, Michelle 315
 Dino, Suzanne 261

photo by John Pletz

Fire damages Memorial Stadium. The 40-yard wide scar of charred astroturf in the middle of the football field cost the university $573,000 to repair, since the Athletic Association decided to replace the entire field. The fire was allegedly started after three university students tried to burn the word "foo" into the turf.

- DiPrima, Dave 265, 303
Dirienzo, Janet 356
Diserio, Chris 356, 284
Ditman, Eric James 356
Dittmar, Bob 273
Divito, Frank 260
DiVito, Lorenzo 261
Dixon, John 275
Dixon, Michele 248
Djordjevic, Alexander 276
Djurisic, Marko 327
Do, Tri Cao 356
Dobbels, Thomas E. 356
Dobbins, Abby 292
Dobacki, John 300
Doherty, Keith 264
Dobias, Sue 230
Dobnick, Jennifer 234
Dobson, Katy 250
Dockins, Jeff 288, 305
Dodds, Ellie 330
Dodge, Stephanie Lee 356, 210
Dodrill, Doug 333
Doelling, Jason 261
Doenitz, Matt 265, 303
Dogadalski, Mark 206
Dohany, Joseph 356, 318, 206
Doheny, Sharon V. 356
Doherty, Kristen 222
Doherty, Laurie 236, 335
Doherty, Neil 258
Doherty, Therese Ann 356
Dohrer, Tom 274
Dohrman, Greg 279
Doidge, James 268
Doke, Victoria E. 356
Dolan, Kristen 216
Doll, Jill 208
Dollas, Helen 313
Dollman, Eric 278, 320
Dolnic, David C. 356, 334
Dominiak, Douglas C. 356, 280
Donahue, Sue 214, 296
Donart, Rob 283
Donato, Michelle 250
Donels, Jeffrey W. 356
Donnelly, Megan 269
Donoghue, Patrick R. 356, 273, 313
Donohue, Ann Marie 356, 442
Donohue, Christine 216
Donovan, Daniel F. 356
Donovan, James Eagon 356
Donovan, Jane M. 356, 236
Donovan, Michelle 302
Donze, Mary Jo 240, 338
- Dooley, Michelle 214
Dooley, Rick 327
Doolin, James Gregory 356
Doom, Natalie Marie 356
Dorfman, Lee 277
Dorista, Kathy 234
Doritala, Diran 300
Dorn, Ann 240, 308
Dorn, Mike 293
Dornbush, Carol 224
Dorsey, Kim 236
Dosem, Jeremy 292
Doss, Rivanda 356
Dotson, John 261
Doutan, Timothy Sean 356
Douglas, Elizabeth L. 356, 319
Douglas, Sara 325
Douglas, Stephen A. 305
Douglass, Bill 300
Douglass, Darrell 290
Douglass, David 306
Douglass, Deborah L. 356
Dover, Lynette 8, 261
Dover, Michael 288, 323
Dow, Timothy Jon 356
Downes, Brian 228, 292
Downey, Michael 288, 267, 282, 335
Downing, Jill M. 356, 234
Downing, John 316
Doyle, Karen 236
Doyle, Pat 284, 356
Doyle, Regina 212, 356
Drabot, Karen Marie 356
Dracaponlos, Niki 224
Drach, Tammy 240
Draeger, Kimberly Kay 356
Drake, Gregory 326
Drake, Tim 244
Dravillas, Paul 327
Drawer, David Gordon 356
Dremuk, Justine Anne 356, 234
Drendel, Mark 304
Dresch, Dawn 261, 302
Dresen, Julie 296
Dresner, Laura 295
Dresner, Mike 277
Dressler, Tom 278
Drever, Gwen 210
Drew, T. 285
Drewno, Scott 288
Driscoll, Kevin 246
Drone, Stephan 328
Droz, Jenny 208
Droz, Ken 258
Droz, Peter Michael 356
- Drucher, Ellen 90
Drummond, Shelli 234
Dubal, Lisa 296
Duban, James 261
Dubek, Beth Andrea 356
Duberstein, Steven A. 356
Dubin, Alana 295
Dubin, Richard 337
Dubois, Mike 274
Dubois, Pat 284
Duckett, Kimberly 356, 234
Duckworth, Karen 224
Duda, Katherine Eve 356, 222
Duda, Matt 275
Duda, Stephanie 234, 318
Dudas, Jonathan Ward 356
Dudkiewicz, Brian 259
Dudley, Mark 265, 303
Dudzik, Victor A. 356
Due, Steven Allan 356
Duern, Brent Michael 356, 279
Duenser, Steven W. 356
Duerkip, Scott 284
Duermit, Sheda K. 356, 216
Duerr, Michelle Marie 356
Duffy, Rob 334
Dufner, Melanie 212
Dugan-Nolan, Terry 330
Dugan, Heidi 232
Dugger, Kendall 306
Duhig, Daniel 288
Duin, Mark Andrew 356, 303
Duitsman, Staci Ann 356
Dnjlovich, Lisa 262
Duker, Mark 276
Dukes, Kim 234, 267
Dulaney, Carla Rae 356
Dulaney, Venguanette 356
Dullum, Terrie 216
Dumas, Dustin 356
Dummer, Scott Allen 356
Duncan, Alexis 316
Duncan, Cynthia O. 356
Duncan, Erick Lee 356, 275, 282
Dunford, Sandra K. 356
Dunlap, Chris 329
Dunn, Becky Gerette 356, 230
Dunn, Brian 259
Dunn, Ed 293
Dunn, Lisa 295
Dunn, Robert M. 356
Dunn, Sherry 226
Dunn, Sue 208
Dunn, Sue 320
Dunn, Suzanne 295
- Dunne, Sean 278
Dunnuck, Pamela L. 356, 232
Duong, Katherine Q. 356
Dupois, Beth 212
Duque, David 356
Duran, Jim 260, 302, 356
Durbin, Denise 210
Durbin, Paul 303
Durbin, Tom 330
Durdil, Jenny 185
Durham, Veronica E. 356
Durko, Deanne M. 356
Durtz, Jeff 277
Duster, Muriel P. 356
Dustmann, Susan Beth 356
Duston, Katie 218
Duttinger, Andy 206
Dutton, Donna 218
Dutton, Randy 275
Dutz, Dawn Denise 356
Duval, Linda Marie 226, 356
Duvall, Michael D. 356, 53
Dvorak, Jim 281
Dwyer, Bill 329
Dwyer, Bridget Anne 356
Dwyer, Pete 303
Dwyer, Tim 303
Dybala, Vanessa 218
Dyer, Charles 356
Dyer, Ken 275
Dyer, Pat 327
Dyner, Robin 295, 356
Dziedzina, Lisa 292
Dzik, Christy 208, 356
- Eager, Shari 250
Eagleson, Mike 264
Eagleson, Theresa 232, 330, 356
Eales, Christy 289
Eappen, Susan 304, 334, 356
Earl, Kelly 234
East, Betsy 210
Easterling, Christina 335, 356
Eastern Orthodox Christian Fellowship 336
Eaton, Adam 317
Ebbale, Anthony 195, 305, 336, 356
Ebdon, Derek 261
Ebel II, James Victor 356
Eberman, Christine M. 356
Ecanan, David 319
Eckardt, Jamie Lynn 356
- Eckenrod, Erin 250
Eckert, Jill 214
Eckhardt, Nancy 218, 356
Ecklund, Heidi 298
Eckroth, Mary Joan 356
Eddington, Thomas E. 300, 356
Edelstein, Dan 286
Edgar, Julie Ann 210, 356
Edidin, Eric 277, 319
Edmonson, Lyn Marie 356
Edwards, Amy 238, 261
Edwards, Daniel E. 356
Edwards, John Ira 283, 356
Edwards, Keith M. 280, 356
Edwards, Nancy Marie 358
Edwards, Thad 258
Egan, Paul 273
Egbers, Douglas Paul 358
Eggleston, Dawn 232
Eggers, Dave 296
Eggers, Kris 232
Eggers, Timothy C. 358
Egley, Keith 270
Egley, Kevin 270
Ehlert, John 115, 282, 309, 358
Ehmig, Elizabeth Anne 358
Ehret, Caren 250
Eibner, Steve 316
Eichen, Curtis 261
Eichner, Astrid 173, 358
Eichorn, Christopher 282, 358
Eichorn, Mike 296
Eicken, Lynn Marie 358
Eike, Randy 242
Eilers, Charles 265, 303, 358
Einwalter, Bryan 264
Eisen, Eric 286
Eisenberg, M. 285
Eiskamp, Lorie M. 313, 358
Eitel, Susan K. 210, 358
Ek-Vinnai, Annie 296
Eklund, Wendy Sue 358
Ekstrom, Jennifer L. 226, 358
Elbaum, Susan 295
Elhel, Jeff 306
Elhert, Dieter 278
Elbracht, Linda 262
Elder, Karen 216
Eleam, Susan 307
Elgas, Jim 263
Elgas, Kelly 212
Elhert, John 323
Elias, Brad 206, 315
Elijah, Cari 262
Elijah, Rochelle Y. 358
Eliopoulos, Dimitri 336
- Ellen, Barbara 342
Ellerbrock, Brad 228, 324
Ellerbrock, Jeffrey C. 228, 358
Ellington, Charles R. 358
Elliott, Carolyn 218, 358
Elliott, David M. 358
Elliott, Dawn Leigh 358
Elliott, Kelly M. 250, 358
Ellis, David Wayne 358
Ellis, Diane Lyne 358
Ellis, Nancy 294
Ellison, Daniel 206
Ellison, Tim 206
Ellman, Allison 216
Ellman, Carol 295
Ellsworth, Laurie Sue 358
Elsen, Colette Marie 358
Elsen, Michele 313
Elvers, Susan 358
Emerling, Scott 263
Emmanuel, Ivor 325
Endre, Mark James 358
Endres, Ella 339
Eneberg, Kristin Joy 358
Eng, Keith Todd 358
Eng, Tanya 238
Engbert, Jodi 324, 358
Engelbreton, Marcy 304, 358
Engel, Kevin 307
Engel, Kevin Roy 358
Engel, Miriam 295
Engelmann, Julie 232, 358
Engels, Matt 108, 274
Engineering Clean Room 394
Engineering Council 314
Engineering Freshman Committee 314
Engineering in Medicine & Biology Society 315
Engineering Open House 315, 404
England, Derek 307
England, Jennifer 216, 358
Englebrecht, Anne Marie 335
Engler, Eric 270
Engman, Kim 218, 358
Engman, L. 285
Engstrom, Mark 358
Engstrom, Matt 327
Enos, Jodi 317
Enright, Katy 269
Enrollment 36
Enselman, Kina 212
Enstrom, Cathleen Ann 358
Envoy, Curt 328
Enz, Glenn Lewis 358

September 27

The Cubs win the National League East division championship 3-2 over the Montreal Expos.

AP

AP

Erdman, Cheryl Lynn 358
 Erdmann, Elizabeth 208, 358
 Erdmann, Jennifer 226, 292
 Eres, Andrew 337
 Erickson, Karen 234
 Erickson, Chris 261
 Erickson, Jill 218
 Erickson, Reid 280
 Erickson, Stephen 326
 Erickson, Timothy K. 358
 Erins, A. 285
 Ernst, Paul 284
 Erps, Jennifer 230
 Esbeck, Bill 273
 Escamilla, Alicia 216
 Escobar, Ximena 250
 Eslick, Amber 238
 Espinoza, Judy 262
 Esposito, Amanda 294
 Esposito, Rhonda 238
 Esser, R. 291
 Estandarte, Ariel 283
 Estella, E. 285
 Estes, Brian 284, 358
 Estes, Matthew James 358
 Estey, Jill 168
 Estrada, Maria E. 358
 Ethridge, Cindy 218
 Ettelbrick, Kelli 216, 329
 Etzkorn, Patricia A. 212, 358
 Eubanks, Nancy 302
 Evans, Jane Marie 358
 Evans, Jennifer 358
 Evans, Lana 214
 Evans, Woodrow K. 358
 Evans Scholars 258
 Evulsizer, Jason 228
 Even, Aaron 259
 Even, Daniel Patrick 358
 Evenson, Jody Kathryn 358
 Eversole, Jason 50
 Evert, M. 285
 Eves, William C. 358
 Excell, Richard 258, 272

Fangman, Jeanne 262, 318
 Farah, George 339
 Farbisz, Ted 334, 358
 Faries, Krista Joanne 358
 Farinas, Leah 248
 Farioli, Jeanine 224
 Farley, Scott 316
 Farmer, Tom 258
 FarmHouse Fraternity 220
 Fasana, Kim 324, 358
 Fasano, Robert A. 303, 358
 Fashion 110
 FAR Fire 384
 Faulke, Dave 307
 Faudstich, Todd 305
 Faust, Robert 254, 296, 331, 358
 Favekeh, Todd 327
 Favila, Maynard P. 358
 Favors, John 304
 Fay, Michelle 316
 Feagan, Steve 130
 Feddersen, Stuart 246
 Fedor, Daniel Joseph 336, 358
 Fedorchak, Ron 328
 Feeley, Jeff 273
 Feen, Aaron 268
 Fehr, Kelly 218
 Feinartz, Nina 214
 Feinberg, Jodi 295
 Feit, Sarah 208
 Felder, Debbie 328
 Feldmann, Jim 336
 Feldsien, Thomas M. 358
 Fell, Matthew Wayne 358
 Felsman, Lynette Sue 358, 400
 Felts, Amanda 358
 Fencing 190
 Fender, Dwayne Allan 358
 Fendley, Nancy 298, 358
 Fenske, Karen 216, 358
 Ferencz, Tim 273
 Ferguson, Kristine 15
 Ferguson, Patrick Lee 358
 Ferguson, Ted 261
 Ferlaak, Adriana Rose 358
 Fermanek, Susan 226
 Fernandez, Arturo 280
 Fernandez, Jo 306
 Ferrabone, Natalie 269
 Ferraro, Michael F. 304, 358
 Ferrer, Alvin Solano 358
 Ferrer, Hazel 335
 Ferretti, George 242
 Ferretta, Douglas A. 358
 Fessenbecker, Steven 358
 Fesser, Mark 293

Festler, Nicole 234
 Fette, Kim 234
 Fettig, Dr. Lyle 324
 Fewkes, Dan 284
 Fiala, Donald J. 358
 Fialkowski, Melanie 230, 358
 Fick, Andy 273, 313
 Ficker, Mary C. 358
 Ficker, Mitzi Diane 358
 Field, Antoinette 208, 358
 Field, Diana 294, 358
 Fields, Alissa 238
 Figiel, Diane Lynn 358
 Figiel, Peter A. 358
 Fikejs, Luce Ann 358
 Fikes, Liz 248
 Filicowski, Melanie 230
 Filla, Kurt 306
 Finatri, Maria 236, 358
 Finch, Krista 226
 Finch, Rindy 250, 282, 358
 Fine, Ben 259
 Fine, Susan Abigail 216, 358
 Fink, Cari 210
 Fink, Daniel Scott 358
 Finley, Andrew K. 358
 Finley, Scott William 358
 Finnell, Roger 317
 Finney, Kris 248
 Finney, Laura 224
 Fioce, Mike 264
 Fiolka, Elaine 236, 314, 358
 Fischer, Anjanette 295
 Fischer, Lisa 210, 298, 335, 358
 Fischer, Michael J. 358
 Fischer, Troy 307, 324
 Fischman, Rhonda 295
 Fish, Kirsten 262
 Fish, Matt 328
 Fisher, Christopher J. 358
 Fisher, Liz 210
 Fisher, Mitch 334
 Fisher, Stacey Ann 234, 358
 Fishman, Howard 277
 Fishman, Matt 259
 Psticulated Cows 316
 Fitch, Mark 304
 Fitch, Michelle 218
 Fitz, Kelly 254
 Fitzgerald, Debbie 214
 Fitzgerald, Joan 238
 Fitzgerald, Kim 212, 358
 Fitzpatrick, Brian 274
 Fixler, Jason 286
 Fitzgerald, Karen 222
 Fizgibbons, Joyce 294

Fizzell, Greg 275
 Flachsbart, Bruce R. 358
 Flagg, Kevin 277, 358
 Flahaven, Diane 232
 Flaherty, Beverly J. 358
 Flaherty, Laura 262
 Flaherty, Patricia A. 358
 Flak, Kimberly M. 358
 Flanders, Eric 273
 Flanagan, Mike 56
 Flannagan, P. 291
 Flannery, Julie 250, 282, 360
 Fleck, Bob 279
 Fleck, Mary Kristine 360
 Fleck, Thomas John 360
 Fleischaker, Hilary 250
 Fleischmann, David H. 360
 Flemming, E. 285
 Flessner, Jan E. 360
 Flewelling, Pam 269
 Fliege, Roger William 360
 Flood, Betsy 269
 Flood, Cyndi 292, 294
 Flora, Don 246
 Flores, Kevin 296
 Florini, Debbie 216
 Flowers, Terri 250
 Fluhrer, Jeff 283
 Flying Team 316
 Flynn, Julie 257
 Flynn, Kelly Rae 360
 Flynn, Megan 238
 Flynn, Pat 284
 Fogt, Vincent 282, 302
 Folan, Christine 283
 Folan, John 288, 289, 360
 Foldesi, Rob 281
 Foley, Brian 284
 Follenweider, Joe 316
 Fomby, Ronald James 360
 Football 124
 Football Fire 366
 Foote, Kurt Alan 360
 Forbes, David Vincent 360, 361
 Forbes, Scott 244
 Ford, Eddie 300
 Ford, Michael F. 360
 Forde, Steve 327
 Forder, David 268
 Fordham, Christine 269
 Foreign Students 84
 Foresman, Kevin 258
 Forkos, Nevin 277
 Forman, Missy 248, 322
 Fornero, Candi 234
 Fornia, Cal 328

Forsberg, Karin 238
 Forsberg, Paul 288, 360
 Forshier, Carin E. 234, 360
 Fortenberry, Felicia 204
 Fortier, Dave 274
 Fortune, Candace M. 360
 Forutan, Sally 210
 Foster, Andy 284
 Foster, Eric 279
 Foster, Michael Jon 246, 360
 Foster, Wendy 250
 Four-H House 240
 Fournes, Sebastian E. 360
 Foutch, Steve 289
 Fowler, Donna Laquita 360
 Fox, Brandon 273
 Fox, Faron 317
 Fox, Felicia Michelle 360
 Fox, James 261
 Fox, Jerry 292
 Fox, Lanra 238, 330, 360
 Fox, Tracee 234, 291
 Foys, Susan 236
 Fozailoff, Alan 360
 Fradin, Matt 337
 Frailey, Shelly Jo 360
 Fraley, Lenae 218
 Francis, Bob 254
 Francis, Heather M. 360
 Franck, Missy 218
 Franey, Tom 279
 Frank, Benjamin 360
 Frank, Chirs 334
 Frank, Dee 210
 Frank, Jacob 337
 Frank, Karen Leanne 360
 Frank, Laura Renee 360
 Frank, Mike 333
 Frank, Robert M. 360
 Frank, Shelly 262
 Franklin, Erin M. 360
 Franklin, Gregg 306
 Franklin, Lisa 112, 295, 319
 Franklin, Liza Marie 360
 Franklin, Melissa 292
 Franklin, Penny M. 360
 Frantz, Jeffrey B. 360
 Franz, Sarah Lynn 360
 Franze, Paul 263
 Franzen, Kyle 321
 Fraternity Hazing 108
 Frauenheim, Catherine 269, 360
 Frazier, Davia 323
 Frederick, Brian C. 360
 Freeman, Carlina 261

Freeman, Connie 317
 Freeman, Greg 328
 Freeman, Jeffery W. 360
 Freeman, Kim 292
 Freidman, Sharai 295
 Freitag, Sarah 214, 360
 French, Scott 317, 360
 French, Stephanie 226
 Frerichs, Doug 228
 Freitag, Sarah 214
 Freund, Rhonda Lynne 360
 Frey, Suann Patrice 360
 Friberg, Cecilia 292
 Friedlander, Jason 337
 Friedman, Darren 335, 360
 Friedman, Mark 259
 Friedman, Mark James 360
 Friedman, Richard J. 360
 Friend, Dan 290
 Friesse, Joelle Claire 360
 Frigo, Andrea 208, 360
 Friberg, Cecilia 292
 Frison, Nancy Ann 360
 Fritz, Todd 273
 Froegel, Mary Kay 360
 Froman, Cynthia Jo 360
 Fromknecht, Mia 216, 304
 Frost, Elizabeth 250
 Frost, Pat 316, 360
 Fruehling, Keith Eric 360
 Fry, Davida 204, 267
 Fry, John 279
 Fuehne, Douglas R. 360
 Fuchler, Brian 228
 Fuhr, M. 291
 Fulgenzi, John 316
 Fuller, Richard W. 360
 Fuller, Roger Nathan 360
 Fuqua, Scott Randall 360
 Furstenuau, Karen 210
 Furter, Frank 328
 Furusho, Cissy 329
 Furtrell, Juni 305, 336
 Futterman, Dave 286

G

G-Hyung, Hyung 378
 Gahbard, Pam 208
 Gabriel, Kirsten 360
 Gabrione, Nick 263
 Gaca, Alicia C. 360
 Gadbois, Christine M. 234, 360
 Gaertner, Catherine L. 360
 Gaik, Elizabeth Kay 218, 360

F

Faber, Gary James 358
 Faber, Julie 305
 Failla, Jennifer 210
 Fairgrievies, Karen 236, 330
 Fake, John 275
 Falcon, Jeffrey 337
 Falconio, Paul David 358
 Falese, Cindy 293

photo by Annie Pergande

R.E.M.'s lead singer, Michael Stipe, plants a tree with Anamaria Spiteri, winner of the "Keep the World Green Recycling Drive." Stipe plants a tree in every city in which R.E.M. plays in order to spread environmental awareness.

The new and improved Willard Airport opened its doors and received an award from the Consulting Engineer Council for its design.

October 1

- Gainer, Bridget M. 360
Gaines, Rebecca 240
Gairani, Matthew B. 360
Gall, Kim 222
Gallagher, Anne 224, 360
Gallagher, William J. 360
Gallardo, John A. 360
Gallender, Alyssa 295
Gallender, Eric 277
Gallo, Bianco 208
Galloro, Vince 274
Galvan, Carl 296
Galvez, Carla Marie 360
Galvez, Shelia 250
Gambila, M. 291
Gamble, Shari 238
Gaminio, Valerie Lynn 360
Gamma Phi Beta 212
Gannon, Timothy 276, 287, 360
Gansmann, Brian James 360
Garhart, Craig 244
Garber, Melissa 295
Garces, Eddie 261
Garcia, Ed 284
Garcia, Ferdinand 242, 360
Garcia, Luis 339
Garcia, Marcos E. 360
Garcia, R. 285
Garcia, Tony 256
Garcia-Camila, Jacqui 248
Gard, Kerry Frances 360
Gardberg, Lori 269, 360
Gardner, Christy 339, 360
Gardner, Jon 256, 257
Gardner, Karen Kris 360
Gardner, Moe 124, 126
Garippo, Mary 208
Garman, Sara 208
Garner, Jill 283
Garnett, Maureen 379
Garoutte, Gay Nell 360
Garret, Mike 246
Garrett, Angela Sue 360
Garrett, Kim 218
Garrett, Scott 41
Garrett, Vicki 222
Garriets, Darren 284
Garrigues, Layla 296
Garrison, Diane C. 360
Garrison, Lari 262
Garrow, Diane 250
Garvey, Julie 238
Garwacki, Chris 333
Garwal, Caroline 234
Garwal, Jen 234
Gasior, Annette 360
Gasparac, Amy 210, 321, 323
Gass, Libby 248
Gass, Scott 303
Gassmen, Tracy 238
Gast, Garr 280
Gast, Melissa 238, 360
Gaston, Dan 242
Gaston, Kim 218
Gates, Chip 195
Gattuso, Chris 286
Gau, Marie 339
Gaugel, Anna 261, 305
Gaugel, Karl Rudolf 360
Gaughan, Kevin John 360
Gaughan, Michael E. 360
Gaughan, Tricia 250
Gauvreau, Jube 214, 360
Gawbk, Judy 309, 330, 360
Gay, David 293
Gayer, Andrew 244
Geaghan, B. Scott 268
Gearhart, Susie 208, 360
Gearin, Kenneth J. 360
Gebhardt, Jen 232
Geest, Scott 292
Gehring, Thomas M. 360
Gehrt, Kevin 246
Geier, Kelly Marie 360
Geimer, Bob 296
Geisler, Candice M. 360
Gelford, Jamie 295
Geller, David R. 360
Gelwicks, Gregory 326
Gembala, Joe 296
Gembala, Margaret 296
Gemske, Michele 224
Genetic Engineering 42
Genin, Eric 337
Genson, M. 285
Gentile, Cindy 313
Gentle, Rita 214
Gentry, Kirsten 216
Genutis, Scott J. 360
Georgantas, Bob 316
George, Debbie 214, 339, 360
George, Emily Ann 360
George, Jeff 132, 135, 154, 155
Georgions, Yiannis 336
Geovanes, Gina 262, 332, 360
Gephart, Todd 291
Gerardy, Laura 238, 360
Gerber, Ben 315
Gerber, Jordan 259
Gerher, Rhonda Kay 360
Geren, Greg 277
Gerfen, Ray Ward 360
Gerbew, Dave 325
Gerhart, Matthew 280, 360
Gerken, Stephanie 232
Gerner, Kim 208
Gerth, Monica 208, 360
Geschwind, Amy Sue 362
Gherman, Marla 295
Ghia, Nirali 317
Ghislandi, Bob 300
Ghorbani, Pari 296
Giannotti, Gioia 226
Gibbons, Susie 238
Gibbs, Alison 234
Gibbs, Kirstin 250
Gibson, Barry Thomas 362
Gibson, Brett 267
Gibson, Don 307
Gibson, Joel Price 362
Gibson, Kathryn J. 362
Gibson, Katie 262, 332
Gibson, Sue 212
Giddings, Sharon 325, 339
Gideon, Michael 337
Gides, Becky 107
Gieger, Dong 278
Gielow, Molly 238
Giertz, John 275
Giesecke, Pam 232, 320
Giesell, Catherine A. 362
Gigiano, Daniel Frank 362
Gilbert, Gary Robert 362
Gilday, Scott 300
Giles, Anne Elizabeth 212, 362
Giles, S. 285
Gill, Arvin S. 362
Gill, Dan 220
Gill, Josie 222
Gill Kendall 139, 140
Gill, Thomas E. 362
Gilland, Daniel Jose 362
Gilland, Rob 333, 362
Gillday, Jr., Scott R. 362
Gillenwater, Tricia 262
Giller, Kim 248
Gilleran, Charisse 248
Gillernan, Jeannine S. 362
Gilliam, Sean 228, 292
Gillman, Roh 270
Gilmartin, Michael J. 297, 362
Gimbel, Rick 329
Gin, Michael Frank 362
Giorgetti, Joe 242
Giroux, Cassandra Lee 210, 362
Giroux, Rainy 210
Gittles, Becky 295, 321
Giuffre, John 327
Glaser, Coleen 262
Glasscock, Bonnie 216
Glassman, Laura 294, 362
Glasson, Eric 337
Glasson, Steven C. 362
Glatz, Lisa 316
Glazer, Evan 326
Glazik, Deanna 305
Gleichman, Emi 250
Glen, Molly Ann 362
Glenn, Donna Jane 362
Glennie, Bob 336
Glennon, Caroline 234
Glennon, David Edward 362
Glover, Dave 273
Glover, Jennifer 210
Glowacki, Tony 336
Glutzer, Donna 295
Glynn, Nuala 302
Goberville, Amy 269, 362
Godby, Charles Ronald 362
Goddard, Johnathan F. 362
Godfred, Andi 214
Godeon, Thomas 337
Godhwani, Sanjay 279
Goebel, Kurt 274
Goetze, Michelle 224
Goel, Natabe 304
Goel, Steven Paul 362
Goerne, Carrie 232, 362
Goetting, Bob 290
Goettsche, Kari Anne 362
Goetz, Jill 236, 362
Gogola, Linda M. 362
Goin, Christine 362
Goins, Stephanie Kay 362
Gokani, Trupti 305
Golberg, Kim 295
Gold, Bruce 254, 260
Gold, Lori B. 362
Goldberg, Dave 286
Goldberg, Dave 337
Goldberg, Gail 295
Goldberg, Keith 259
Goldberg, Melanie 295
Goldberg, Scott 286
Goldberg, Shari 295, 319
Goldman, Doug 337
Golden, Nathaniel 362
Golden Key National Honor Society 272
Goldenherh, Andy 242
Goldish, Megan 295
Goldman, Debby 295, 362
Goldman, Larry 259
Goldman, Sheryl 295
Goldrosen, Mike 317
Goldstein, Andrea B. 362
Goldstein, John Patrick 362
Goldstein, Louis R. 362
Goldstein, Marci 362
Goldstein, Michele 295
Goldstein, Robb 259
Goldstein, Scott 97, 362
Goldstien, John 270
Golen, Timothy J. 362
Golf 182
Golla, Chuck 261
Golstein, Scott 277
Gomez, Mila 269
Gondeck, Jim 242
Gonnella, Sharon 222
Gonzalez, Elsa 302
Gonzalez, Martin R. 362
Gonzalez, Nelly 325
Gonzalez, Tom 264
Gonzalez, Yvette 362
Goodall, Sherri 262
Goodall, Tim 321, 362
Goodell, David 330, 362
Goodman, Allison 238
Goodman, Cory 337
Goodman, Heidi 295
Goodman, Matt 206
Goodman, Monica 250
Goodman, Shawn E. 362
Goodsnider, Chris 286, 362
Goodson, Teresa 292
Gorden, Sharon 222, 362
Gordon, Bridget 234
Gordon, Jill 236
Gordon, Julie 269
Gordon, Sarah 295, 310
Gordon, Seth 333
Gorman, Katherine S. 318, 362
Gorney, Sally Ann 362
Gorr, Bonnie 232
Gorrell, Michael Eric 362
Gorse, Jody 269
Gorski, Daniel Paul 362
Gorski, Donna Marie 362
Goswelle, T. 285
Gosker, Erika Lee 362
Gosnell, Julie 238, 321
Goss, Derrick 195
Goss, Jane Elizabeth 362
Goszkowicz, B. 285
Gottainer, Ryan 337
Gottardo, Dave 315, 362
Gould, Chris 327
Gould, Chris Alcuin 362
Gould, Eric 333
Gould, Michael 362
Gould, R.T. 256
Goulding, Richard D. 362
Gove, Tammy 315
Goy, Kathryn 254, 330, 362
Grahowski, Cathy 324, 362
Grabowski, Jeff 111
Grabowski, Joan 218
Grabowski, Lauren 295
Grady, Eileen 299
Graf, Suzie 224
Grafy, Kenneth C. 362
Graham, Catherine D. 208, 320, 321, 362
Graham, David 321
Graham, James Edward 362
Graham, Jim 320
Graham, Kerry 212
Graham, Laura Jill 362
Graham, Michael J. 362
Graham, Mike 293
Grahm, Andi 248
Gramates, Helen 250
Grambley, W. 285
Gramins, Bob 263
Grams, Devon 244
Granat, John P. 339
Grandcolas, Debbie 218, 362
Grandcolas, Kim 218, 254
Grandgeorge, S. 285
Granet, John 292
Granstrom, Jared 261
Grant, Alicia Marisa 362
Grant, Jennifer 212
Grant, Kelly Moore 362
Grant, Paul Stuart 362
Grants 34
Grass, Christine 236
Grassman, Kristen 313
Gratz, James 292
Grauous, Jeff 283
Gravelle, Matt 273, 313
Gray, Craig 320
Gray, Heather 214
Gray, Jennifer 269
Gray, Jon Wesley 362
Gray, Mary Lisa 298, 320, 362
Gray, Pat 281
Gray, Tonya Elizabeth 362
Graziano, Ann Marie 222
Greevic, Brad 305
Greatbouse, Jody R. 362
Grebner, Alan 266
Grebner, Jeffery J. 362
Grebner, Todd 274
Greco, Adam 305
Greco, Jenny 316
Greek Reunion 370
Greeley, Melanie 302, 362
Greeley, Shannon 292
Green, Brian 242
Green, Bryn 208

October 12

The Lesbian and Gay Illini sponsor a rally on the quad to recognize National Coming Out Day.

photo by Craig Cotton

October 13

The House voted 371-43 to approve a bill for a federal ban on flag burning. Just four months previously, the Supreme Court made a decision allowing destruction of the flag as a political protest.

October 14-31

Oakland, California makes a four game sweep in a 9-6 victory over the San Francisco Giants to win the World Series.

Green, Charles Arthur 362
 Green, Danelle 224
 Green, Edward J. 362
 Green, Karla 214
 Green, Kathleen A. 230, 362
 Green, Kim 269
 Green, Laura 208
 Green, Mary E. 362
 Green, Mary Beth 232
 Green, Michael 260, 302, 362
 Green, Myrna 230
 Greenberg, Jeffrey 337
 Greenberg, Nevin 336
 Greenberg, Rand B. 362
 Greendyke, Bob 263
 Greene, Brian 281, 334
 Greenfield, Heather 263, 298, 362
 Greenfield, Marc 281, 331
 Greenlee, Scott 246
 Greer, Lorenzo Kevin 205, 362
 Greerson, Craig David 362
 Greevie, Brad 336
 Gregoire, Melissa 208
 Gregory, Jennifer J. 362
 Gregory, Kathy 312
 Gregory, Kristina Sue 362
 Gregory, Scott 256, 362
 Gregory, Steve 228
 Greus, Kurt 362
 Greifenkamp, M. 291
 Grenda, Melissa 214
 Grethen, Wendy 292, 335, 362
 Grevin, Bob 316
 Grey, Craig 308
 Griesheimer, Dave 300, 362
 Grieves, Karen 312
 Griffin, Kenneth 326
 Griffin, Pat 327
 Griffith, Howard 128
 Griffith, Janet Marie 362
 Griffiths, D. 291
 Griggs, George 273
 Grigsby, Michelle 238
 Grimes, Christopher W. 362
 Grimmer, Cary Louis 362
 Grimwood, Amy 248
 Grisell, Barbara G. 362
 Grisbam, Holly 254
 Grisoland, Jay Lloyd 362
 Grissom, John Gregory 362
 Griswold, Mark 296
 Groesch, Scott David 362
 Grogan, Kim 234
 Grogan, Thomas W. 258, 362
 Grob, Andy 336
 Grohne, Steve 246

Gronberg, Michael B. 364
 Gronowski, Kristie 232, 364
 Gronwold, Wendy 329, 364
 Grootwassink, Sara L. 364
 Groppel, Dave 278
 Gross, Lynn Marie 364
 Grossi, Barb 262
 Grossman, Rob 279, 280
 Groth, Lisa 214, 221
 Grover, Dina 269
 Groves, Tammy 218
 Gruben, Kurt 220, 308, 310
 Gruber, Peter 326
 Gruber, Marcy A. 364
 Gruber, Mark Robert 364
 Gruber, Tricia 218
 Gruen, Greg 327
 Gruhn, Denise 222
 Grumish, Julie 218, 311
 Grund, Dan 333
 Grundke, Jennifer 212
 Grune, Susie 234
 Grushkin, Elizabeth 232, 364
 Gruzewski, Lisa 218
 Gryzlo, Matthew 288
 Gscheidle, Karl 261
 Gu, Yanxiang 306
 Guagel, Karl 280
 Gualandi, Gina Marie 364
 Guard, Jason 364
 Guarnery, Matt 274
 Guccione, Darren 258
 Guell, Margaret 280, 364, 365
 Guenther, David 244
 Guerrero, Christopher 326
 Guggler, Eric Todd 364
 Guler, Dana 212
 Gullett, Karen 232
 Gumble, Rebecca 364
 Gunji, Tricia 254, 296
 Gunn, Ray 279
 Gunning, George R. 364
 Gunter, Tod Lawton 364
 Gupta, Chandra 307
 Gupta, Dave 306
 Gupta, Ravi 244, 335
 Gurecki, Jane Frances 364
 Gurgel, Robert 336
 Gurski, Greg 254
 Guss, Jennifer 295, 364
 Gussner, Jen 234, 296
 Gustamante, Hector 286
 Gustine, Kimberly Jo 364
 Gut, Mike 337
 Gutman, Laine 295
 Gutshall, Jan 216
 Guttowski, Tom 284

Gutzmer, Krystyna 364
 Guzman, Maximilian B. 364
 Guzniczak, Vince 288
 Gwaltney, Mark Alan 364
 Gwynn, Elaine M. 364
 Gylling, Jason 242, 323, 364
 Gymnastics (Men's) 170
 Gymnastics (Women's) 184

H

Haag, Amy Elizabeth 364
 Haag, Karen 292
 Haag, Thomas C. 364
 Haag, Michael Edward 364
 Haaland, Tracey 234, 364
 Haarmann, Ronald J. 293, 364
 Haas, Kevin 228
 Hackbart, Lisa 224
 Hacker, Marti 302
 Hackett, Bruce Evert 364
 Hadden, Gary Lee 364
 Haden, George 290
 Haefner, James 69
 Haeger, Janet 335
 Hafer, Heather 234, 364
 Hafner, Clay 333
 Hafner, Lisa Ann 364
 Hagan, D. 291
 Hage, Mary 222
 Hageman, Ruth Mary 364
 Hagen, Chris 246
 Hagen, Gretchen 214, 323
 Haglund, Shari 230
 Hagmeier, Cheryl L. 364
 Hahn, Jeanne 238
 Hahn, Jennifer 248
 Hahn, Jennifer Kay 364
 Hahn, Jennifer Renee 364
 Hahn, Lori 317
 Hahn, Matthew Mark 364
 Hahn, Sue 216
 Hahndorf, Tami 238
 Haid, Chris 317
 Haijenga, Richard 339
 Hainline, Cara Lynn 364
 Haire, Michi Aoyama 364
 Hajduk, Donna 328, 364
 Hajek, Kathryn L. 364
 Haldeman, Clayton 289, 364
 Hale, Angie 339
 Hale, Christine Lisa 224, 364
 Haley, Jennifer 224
 Halkyn, Nadine 254

Hall, C. 291
 Hall, David William 364
 Hall, Dennis 327
 Hall, Jason 246
 Hall, Jennifer 250
 Hall, Jennifer 328
 Hall, Lorri 307
 Hall, Tiffany 269
 Hallberg, Jay 273
 Hallman, Cindy 248
 Hallman, Sandy 210
 Hallsten, D. 291
 Halperin, Andrea 282, 295, 320, 321, 364
 Halpin, Kevin 327
 Halpin, Mike 336
 Halstenburg, Debra 269
 Halwax, Joe 258
 Ham, Ramadan 336
 Hamill, Thomas Gerard 364
 Hamilton, Donnavieve N. 364
 Hamilton, Gail 222
 Hamilton, Grant S. 364
 Hamilton, James Heat 364
 Hamilton Jr., James L. 364
 Hamblin, Brad 279
 Hammerman, Mike 317
 Hammersley, Susan 294, 364
 Hammill, Brad 254
 Hammond, Karen 262, 266
 Hammons, Timothy C. 364
 Hampton, Sharva Y. 364
 Hanaman, Dand 296
 Hance, Mary 75, 262, 332, 364
 Handler, Anne 216
 Handler, Phil 337
 Hanfland, Mark 336
 Hanisch, Karyn 329, 364
 Hank, Jeff 261
 Hank, Richard E. 364
 Hankenson, Steven K. 364
 Hanlon, Christopher P. 364
 Hanlon, Kim 234
 Hann, Debbie 222
 Hanna, Bryce 264
 Hannagan, Sarah 232
 Hannon, Marty 258
 Hanover, Brian 259
 Hanrikson, Matthew S. 366
 Hansen, Brant 306
 Hansen, Brian 258
 Hansen, Bryan 263
 Hansen, Chris 274, 349
 Hansen, Eric 274
 Hansen, Jennifer 226, 315, 364
 Hansen, Mark 336, 364
 Hansing, Cary 265, 303

Hansing, James Arthur 364
 Hanson, Amy 232
 Hanson, Chris 306
 Hanson, Deanna Marie 364
 Hanson, Eric Leif 364
 Hanson, J. 291
 Hanson, Jennifer 212, 364
 Hanson, Kristen 222
 Hanson, Kristin 250
 Hanson, Kristin 335
 Hanson, Mark 263
 Hanson, Mark Robert 364
 Hanson III, James B. 364
 Hant, Spencer 256
 Hanzlik, Anita 262
 Hard, Bill 304
 Hardesty, Brad 220
 Hardin, Kelly 307
 Hardin, Kevin 336
 Hardin, Rob 303
 Hardin, Sonya 208
 Harding, Steve 334
 Hardy, Mashaune L. 364
 Hardy, Thomas Allen 364
 Hardy, Timothy L. 364
 Harenza, Katherine L. 364, 216
 Harker, Rachel Jean 364
 Harlin, Joanne Lynn 364, 339
 Harlowe, Jason 275
 Harmann, Ron 293
 Harmon, Chris 297
 Harmon, D. 291
 Harmon, Jessica 208
 Harms, Jacob 334
 Harms, K. 285
 Harms, Teri 240
 Harness, James 326
 Harper, Jack 206
 Harrier, Michelle 216
 Harrington, Wdbam J. 364, 264
 Harris, Brian Paid 364
 Harris, Jeff 275
 Harris, Joseph 261
 Harris, Kennet 329
 Harris, Krista 214
 Harris, Ladon A. 364
 Harris, Roger Alan 364
 Harris, Tara 335
 Harris, Vivian 330
 Harrison, Cailin M. 364, 222
 Harrison, Lori 250
 Harrison, Rebecca L. 364
 Harrison, Wade 290
 Hart, Dorothea 240
 Hart, Traci Lynn 364
 Hartfield, Laura 316
 Hartigan, Brian J. 364

Hartigan, Diane 231
 Hartigan, Michael J. 364
 Hartigan, Suzanne 292, 313
 Hartke, Beth Ann 364, 262, 322, 332
 Hartke, Christopher J. 364
 Hartman, Beth 212
 Hartman, Carrie 248
 Hartman, Jamee 321
 Hartman, M. Deborah 364
 Hartmann, Robin 224, 364
 Hartmann, Stephanie L. 364
 Hartweg, Chris 336
 Hartwig, Heather Rae 364
 Hartwig, Rick 288
 Hartwig, Victoria W. 364, 216
 Hartzler, Kevin 334
 Harvey, Deborah Lynn 364
 Harvey, Elaine Renee 364, 218
 Hasbarger, June 318
 Hasselbrock, Chrissy 248
 Hassler, Timothy W. 364
 Hastings, Donald J. 364
 Hastings, Ken 323
 Hata, Toshiro 364
 Haugeto, Kristin 292
 Haugh, Ed 258
 Hauser, Jdl 262
 Hausch, Elaine S. 364
 Hauser, Charla 31
 Hanser, Jason 244
 Hauser, Jennifer 364, 309, 248
 Hauser, Elizabeth 269
 Hausman, Kati 238
 Havak, Kristi 269
 Havis, Jeffrey O. 364
 Havis, Mara 208
 Havlik, Janet Lynn 364
 Havbs, Pete 297
 Haw, Julie 294, 364
 Hawhaker, Kelly 226, 331
 Hawes, Jill 234
 Hawkins, Chris 261
 Hawkins, Julie 334
 Hawkins, Kristen 232
 Hawkins, Michelle 232
 Hawkins, Stephen 220, 330, 366
 Hawkinson, Angie 208
 Hawley, Victoria Jean 366
 Hawthorne, Roy 327
 Hay, Christopher Alan 366
 Hayes, Donald Ervin 366
 Hayes, John 316
 Hayes, Lynn 204
 Hayes, Owen 280
 Hayes, Shannon 222
 Haymaker, Christopher 288

October 17

Earthquake strikes San Francisco Bay area, killing over 200 people; a section of Nimitz Freeway in Oakland collapses; the World Series is halted. The quake ranked 6.9 on the Richter scale.

AP

October 18

East Germany's Communist Party ousted Erich Honecker, the builder of the Berlin Wall. Egon Krenz is named as new party leader.

AP

Hayman, Andrew Sidney 366	Hemmerle, James M. 366	Hertzgaard, Holly 262	Hindson, Mark 244	Hoffmeister, Anne 248	Homann, Matthew W. 368, 278
Hayne, Urana C. 366, 222	Hemphill, Sarah 248	Herzberger, Susan C. 366	Hines, Jeffrey Neil 366	Hoffmeister, Jon 366	Homecoming 102
Hayner, Michelle 331	Hempleman, Jim 327	Herzog, Garry 283	Hines, P. 285	Hofman, Alan Charles 366	Homecoming Parade Committee 323
Haynes, Eric 327	Henderson, Anna L. 366	Herzog, Michael E. 366, 277	Hingstrum, Lisa Ann 366	Hofman, Rusty 327	Homes, Daniel Steven 368
Haynes, George Robert 366	Henderson, Holly 307	Hess, Cheryl Kay 366	Hink, Ann 226	Hofner, Amy 210	Honcharuk, Sara 212, 368
Haynes, Kristen 169	Henderson, Lyle Kent 366	Hess, Jane 240, 325	Hinnant, Michael 288	Hogan, Kathleen Graham 366	Honecker, Ken 275
Hays, Julie Lynn 236, 366	Henderson, Stephen S. 366	Hess, Karl 206	Hinrichs, Lisa Marie 366	Hogan, Shelia 250	Honegger, Andy 246, 308
Hays, Laura Jeanne 366, 236	Hendricks, Linda 366, 224, 335	Hessee, Susan 114	Hinrichs, Stephen 326	Hogan, Tim 297	Honer, Adrian Phillip 368, 274
Haytcher, Eric Allan 366	Hendricks, Russell V. 366	Hesser, Mat 259	Hinsbaw, Dan 228	Hogg, Jennifer 210	Honermeier, Ralf 280, 368
Hayward, Jill L. 366, 307, 339	Hendricks, Tracy 306	Hesterberg, Nancy 212, 331	Hinson, Walter 276	Hohenboken, Karl Eric 366	Hong, Andy 317
Haywood, Jodie 238	Hendricksen, Britt A. 366, 232	Hesterman, Heidi 218	Hintzke, Jim 316	Hoika, Brian Alan 366	Honneger, Molly 298
Health Advocates 40	Hene, David F. 366, 279	Hettenhausen, Jeffrey 366	Hinton, John 51	Hoizenga, A. 285	Honzel, Robert Lynn 368
Healy, Jennifer 262	Henich, Tammi 295	Heunman, Aaron 206	Hinton, Lori 214	Hokens, Earl Edwin 366	Hobler, Jenny 210
Healy, Stephanie A. 366, 216	Henkel, Courtney 214	Hevrejs, Susan 366	Hintzke, Carrie 269	Holba, Peggy 226	Hood, Kristi 269, 304
Healy, Tamara Marie 366	Henkel, Scott 265, 303	Hewitt, Rachel 316, 305	Hipp, Daniel William 366	Holbrook, Karen Sue 366, 103, 218, 321	Hoogstraal, Dale R. 368, 300
Heathcock, Douglass 366, 291	Hennecke, Curt 246	Hewland, Mark Eugene 366	Hissong, Julie Denise 366, 324	Holdampf, Brian 333	Hoops, Julie 214
Hays, James B. 366, 321	Hennet, Mark 284	Heyen, Amy 232	Hixson, M. 285	Holden, Brian 261	Hoovel, Derek 246
Heavener, Craig M. 366	Henney, Mack 284	Heyen, Marty 220	Hixson, Dean Howard 366	Holden, Jeff 339	Hogel, Janel 317
Heavlin, Holly Ann 366, 226	Henning, Ken 306	Heyen, Wayne 228, 325	Hixson, Larry J. 366	Holland, Brett Arthur 366	Hooper, Allen E. 368
Hebard, Andrea 210	Henninger, Jodi 262	Heying, Rebecca 366, 262, 332	Hoadley, Mike 263	Holland, Roger W. 366	Hopfinger, Joe 206
Hebda, D. 285	Henningson, Laura 298	Heyse, Sue 218	Hoag, David 268	Hollander, Mike 305	Hopkins, Michael M. 368
Hecht, Marty 337	Henrichs, Cathy 210	Hibbard, Jennifer 208	Hoaglund, Matthew A. 366	Hollander, Chris 286	Hopkins, Mike 261
Hechter, David 337	Henrikson, Aimee 214	Hibel, Andrew 282, 260, 302	Hoang, Hai 334	Holler, Amy Lynn 368, 208	Hopkins, Mike 307
Heckart, Monica 248	Henry, Jim 305	Hickey, Kathy 216	Hochberg, Paige 298	Holler, Beth 208	Hopkins Jr., Frank J. 368
Heckman, Brian 259	Henry, Peter 246	Hickey, Lisa Marie 366, 222	Hochreiter, Rachele L. 366	Hollinrake, David 324, 228	Hoppenjans, Laura Ann 368
Hedeen, Karen 210	Henry, Richard Wayne 366	Hickey, Michelle 234	Hockey 192	Hollis, Bill 220, 320	Horak, Boh 273, 313, 368
Hedrick, Matt 278	Henry, Scott Thomas 366	Hickey, Patricia Ann 366, 216	Hockenhull, Tarniece L. 366	Hollis, Doug 228	Horaney, Jefferey A. 368
Hege, Julie 313	Henry, Theresa Ann 366	Hickey, Steve 336	Hodari, Maya 366	Hollis, Julie Ann 368	Horberg, Todd 337
Heidkamp, Matt 297	Henson, Ron 51	Hickey, Tim 338	Hodge, Steve H. 366	Hollis, Kendall Jon 368	Horgan, Pamela Jean 368
Heiler, Brad William 366	Henson, Paul 260	Hickey, Timothy David 366	Hodges, Latanya 366	Hollis, Kent 368	Horgan, Patrick J. 368
Heilman, Brent T. 366, 300	Herbst, Linnea 216	Hickey, Timothy Sean 366	Hodgett, Missy 214	Hollis, Stephen 324	Horiuchi, Sharon 218
Hein, Hatasha 222	Herfort, Inge 306	Hickman, Victoria Lee 366, 230	Hodson, Mary Jane 366, 339	Hollonbeck, Sean 261	Hork, Marc 277
Hein, Randall John 366, 268	Hergenrother, Eileen 317, 366	Hicks, Cindy 224	Hoeft, Mark 336	Hollowed, Eileen 208	Hork, Wendy M. 368, 295
Heine, Bartholomew D. 366	Herges, Todd Michael 366	Higgins, Caroline 312	Hoege, Brian Scott 366	Hollub, Melissa 262	Horkavi, Robert A. 368, 261
Heinen, Jamie 334	Herman, Mary 329	Higgins, Christopher 366	Hoeksta, Robert 283	Holman, Guy 205	Horn, Deborah Beth 368
Heinhorst, Jennifer 269	Hermann, Jeff 292	Higgins, Douglas 326	Hoerner, Todd 16	Holmes, Cynthia 256	Horn, Jennifer S. 368, 334, 339
Heinkel, Kathy 208	Hermann, Steve 263	Higgins, Richard C. 366	Hoey, Aline 296	Holmes, Dave 284	Hornbrook, Nancy R. 368
Heinold, Shelli 267, 304	Hermanson, Chris 281	Higgins, Siobhan T. 366	Hofbauer, Ann Marie 366	Holmes, Katrina 292	Horst, Mark Raymond 368
Heinrich, Ken 277	Hermes, Chris 276	Higgins, Sue 208	Hofbauer, Janet 258	Holper, Meg 250	Horticulture Club 339
Heinz, George 242	Hermes, Chris 276	Hijjani, John 281	Hofer, Gaye Ann 366	Holsclaw, Brian 326	Hortinv, Douglas 368
Heinz, Kathryn Mary 366, 232	Hermes, Chris 276	Hildebrand, M. 285	Hofle, Mark 366	Holst, Tammy 262	Horvath, Ann Larre 368, 224
Heinze, Rina 214, 335	Hernandez, Michele R. 366	Hiles, Babette Munson 325	Hoffenberg, Rob 277	Holt, Jenni 295	Horwitz, Stephanie 295
Heinzman, Jennifer 248	Hernandez, Mike 327	Hill, Jeff 297	Hoffert, Shelly 216	Holt, Matt 278	Hoselton, Tracy 319
Heisey, David 337	Hernandez, Tina 248	Hill, John 321	Hoffman, Cheryl Lynn 366	Holtan, Timothy Paul 368, 290	Hott, Denise Cecelia 368
Heitoff, Douglas M. 366, 270	Hernandez, Nancy 238	Hill, Laura Lee 366	Hoffman, Deborah Ann 366	Holtgrave, Jeremy C. 368, 261	Hou, Grace 222
Held, Angie 218	Herneryd, Nina 296	Hill, Laurie L. 366	Hoffman, Deith 228	Holtz, Jeff 316	Houlihan, Meg 236
Held, Sarah 250	Herr, Jean Adele 366, 234	Hill, Richard 330	Hoffman, Heidi 298	Holtzman, Kevin 175	House, Robert 368
Heldmann, Thomas 244	Herrera, Christine 314	Hill, Sally 250	Hoffman, Keith 325	Holtzrichter, Jill 294	House Moms 302
Helfrich, Clifford E. 366	Herrera, Feli 292	Hill, Tina 33	Hoffman, Michael 286	Holwick, Diane Ruth 368, 254	Housh, Joseph 288
Heligman, Mark 263	Herrick, Melissa 319	Hill Jr., Jeffry James 366	Hoffman, Steven Mark 366	Holzbaeh, Rob 336	Houston, June 250
Hellmer, Scott W. 366	Herried, Andrea Lynn 366	Hill, Jr., John 33	Hoffman, Thomas E. 366, 246	Holzhael, Julie 208, 368	Houston, Lisa 222
Helmbock, Tracie 295	Herrington, Angela K. 366, 269	Hillard, Christi 238	Hoffmann, Christine A. 366	Holzmann, Gabi 368	Howard, Amy 250
Helmick, Barton M. 366	Herron, Carolyn 307	Hillebrand, Matt 279	Hoffmann, Jennifer I. 366	Homann, Lisa 262	Howard, Colleen 236, 322
Helms, Kristen Ruth 366	Herschbach, Beth Ann 45, 212, 312, 366	Hillman, David 336
Helms, Mike 278	Hertz, Chad 220, 308, 338	Hilvety, Rhonda 331
Hembrough, Peter 324, 307		Hinde, Dave 280

October 21

Partygoers at a campus apartment shout ethnic slurs at members of the predominantly Jewish fraternity, Sigma Alpha Mu.

October 21 - 22

A record crowd of 6,000 university students participated in the week-end-long Beerfast when it merged with Alcohol Awareness Week.

photo by Scott Jacobson

October 24

Beverly Hills, California, judge sentences Zsa Zsa Gabor to three days in jail for slapping a police officer and for traffic violations. She must serve 120 hours of community service and pay over $12,000 in fines.

AP

- Howard, Darren 246, 304
Howard, Keith 274
Howard, Sharee 304
Howdle, Laura 210
Howe, James Joseph 368
Howell, Jenn 224
Howell, Leslie 294, 292
Howes, Deborah 368, 254, 318
Howey, Lauren M. 368, 226
Hoyle, Mike 261
Hozhall, Julie 304
Hrycyk, Kim 238
Hsiao, Peter 339
Hsieh, Jeanne Beth 368
Hsu, Jason Chih-Ping 368
Htwe, Richard 368
Huang, Charlotte S. 368, 335
Huang, Chi-Ting 389
Huang, Lee 306
Huang, Rose D. 368
Huang, Wilson H. 368, 260, 302
Hubble, Todd Mathew 368
Huber, David Paul 368
Huber, Kevin Bradley 368
Huber, Kristell 214
Huber, Lisa M. 368, 230, 289
Hubert, Kim 212
Hubner, Ann 307
Huck, Nicole Diane 368
Hucker, Amy Frances 368, 262
Huckstadt, Valerie 226
Hudd, Paula Jeanne 368
Hudgens, Lynn Ann 368
Hudson, Kent Robert 368, 228
Huels, Stacey James 368, 323, 282, 320
Huelsmann, Mary Lynn 368
Huelsmann, Sherry L. 368
Hueneburg, Kinherly K. 368
Huey, Jennifer 299
Huey, Rachel 292
Huff, Vince 281
Huffington, Leigh 214
Hufnagel, Timothy M. 368, 307
Hugert, Jeffrey P. 368
Hughes, Brian 265, 303
Hughes, Catherine 216
Hughes, Dan 297
Hughes, Dave 228
Hughes, Don 228
Hughes, Matthew J. 368, 279
Hub, Steve 317
Huisinga, Amy 208
Huizar, Sophia 262
Huizenga, Betsy 250
Hulina, Beth 248
Hulina, Ed 278, 308, 320, 321
Hull, Clint 323, 368
Hull, Mandy 305, 368
Human Resources and Family Studies Student Council 318
Human Sexuality 14
Hume, Amy Jo 368, 238, 254
Hummel, Christy 208
Hummel, Lisa Marie 368, 302
Humpal, Katie 298
Humphrey, Theodore W. 368
Humphreys, Heather 269
Humphreys, Robert D. 368, 228
Hunniford, Christy 248
Hunt, Diane 250
Hunt, Lisa 214
Hunt, Lorelei 309, 315, 319, 368
Hunt, Spencer 257
Hunter, Amy 248
Hunter, Andrew 288
Hunter, Dave 326
Hunter, Kirk 220
Hunter, Tod 326
Hurley, Tricia 262
Hurst, Felicia L. 368
Husemann, John 220
Hussey, Mary 306
Huston, John 293
Hutchens, Brad 300
Hutchinson, Dave 316
Huth, Laurie 214
Hutson, Angie 210
Hutzler, Karin 368, 230, 329
Huwer, Sherri 248
Hwang, Peter Y. 368
Hwang, Sharon 368, 230, 322
Hwang, Sung Won 368
Hyatt, Marianne 295
Hycner, Jill 218
Hyde, Blaine 281
Hyde, Rich 145
Hynes, Brian 274
Hynous, Amy 238
Hyong, Nam Soo 283
- I
- Ickenberry, Stan 382
Ieuter, Hilde 208
Igelman, Alan 368
Igolk, Denise B. 368
Ikens, Gregory Earl 368
Illini Cheerleading Squad 195
Illini Emergency Medical Services 317
Illini Media Company 330
Illini National Agri-Marketing Association 338
Illini Pride Athletic Board 330
Illini Riding Club 339
Illini Spirit Clubs 98
Illini Tae Kwon Do Club 283
Illini Union Board 325
IlliniPac 319
Illinois Board of Higher Education 398
Imber, Rachel Anne 368, 295
Imbery, Lynn 339
Inargo, Andrew 290
Industrial Distribution Student Association 267
Ingenuison, Gregg 327
Ingenuison, Kirk 327
Ingle, Christal 236
Ingram, Suzanna J. 368
Iniguez, Tony 402
Innis, Becky 234
Interfraternity Council 323
Internships 24
Intramurals 174
Intyre, Ron 325
Ioannidis, Sam 336
Ioannidis, Tom Yannis 336
Iori, Bob 278
Iovinelli, Mark 270
Ip, Amy K. 368
Irpino, Anthony 337
Irvin, Debra Jo 368
Irvine, Craig Edward 368
Irvine, Renee 234
Isaacs, Steve 277, 304
Isenhardt, Scott Alan 368
Isidoro, Christine 214
Iskalis, John 275
Israel, Alan 277
Israel, Michele 295
Issacs, Shelley 212
Itano, Toby 384
Itzyre, Ronald Leslie 368
Ivens, Lorana 293
Ivens, Ralph 293
Iverson, Kurt 297
Ivory, Jennifer Joy 368
Iwashita, Atsushi 368
Izaguirre, Henry J. 368, 300
Izokaitis, Victor 368, 291
Izzo, John A. 368
- J
- Jablonski, Jill 238
Jablonski, Susan M. 368
Jablonsky, David J. 368
Jacalucci, Jim 297
Jacala, Jenny 262
Jack, Anastasia 232
Jackson, Brian 268
Jackson, Deron 261
Jackson, Jeanne K. 368
Jackson, Jennifer J. 368, 305
Jackson, Jillyn 269
Jackson, Joel Martin 368, 335
Jackson, Kate 236
Jackson, Lynn 258
Jackson, Lynnette 248, 368
Jackson, Nancy 232
Jackson, Philip L. 368
Jackson, Rodney 242
Jackson, Todd 258
Jackson, Tyra L. 368
Jacob, Claude 282, 303
Jacob, Resmi 216
Jacobi, Kenneth T. 368
Jacobs, Brian George 368
Jacobs, Jacqueline A. 368, 224
Jacobs, John Francis 370
Jacobs, Laura 295
Jacobsen, Eric 270
Jacobsen, Julie 250
Jacobsen, Nancy K. 370
Jacobsen, Ruth F. 370
Jacobson, Craig 316
Jacobson, Scott Lee 370
Jacyno, Joanna Alina 370
Jadron, Scott 327
Jaffe, Neil 335
Jaffee, Sheryl Lynn 370, 295
Jakstovich, Dianne 254
Jambrosek, Cristine 210
Jan, Pat 317
Janci, Kathi 262
Janensch, Ernie 333
Janetka, James Walter 370
Janette, Ellen 250
Jang, Betty 218
Jani, Shanti 210
Janik, Brad 275
Jankausky, Lesley D. 370
Jannak, Torpum 370
Jannusch, Brian 273
Janos, David R. 370
Janoskey, Martha 370, 224, 331
Janovetz, Jennifer M. 370, 210, 320, 310, 321
Janowicz, Susan L. 370
Jansen, Teri 208, 370
Japan Karate Association 329
Jarkin, Eric 190
Jarolim, Christina M. 370
Jarosz, Andrew 286
Jarvis, Jennifer Anne 370, 234
Jaskowiak, Janny 210
Jasnich, Andrea Dawn 370
Jasper, E. 291
Jass, Jeff 246
Jatczak, Kristan 230
Jedlicka, Michele 296
Jefferson, Gerald K. 370, 267
Jeffress, Jenni 248
Jehle, Vicki Marie 370, 232
Jelen, Mike 329
Jenkins, Edwin 326
Jenkins, Jennifer L. 370
Jenkinson, Dawn M. 370, 210
Jennings, Brady 326
Jennings, Natalie 224
Jennings, Tom 336
Jensen, Becky 208, 370
Jensen, Heidi Maria 370, 216
Jensen, Jodi Lynn 370, 308
Jensen, Jon 328
Jensen, Kirsten 248, 316
Jensen, Krista Anne 370
Jensen, Rob 334, 335
Jereb, Sean 286
Jerome, Mirta 370
Jeska, Chris 327
Jilek, Therese Marie 370
Jimenez, Arnold 261
Jimenez, Roxana 222
Jimenez, Carlos 268
Jimenez, Joan 264
Jocius, Kevin Munro 370
Jodlowski, Jill 248
Joesten, Michelle 238
Jogmen, L. 291
Johannpeter, Julia M. 370, 226
Johari, Mahesh O. 370
Johns, Becky 208
Johns, Debbie 210
Johnsen, Carolyn Sue 370
Johnson, Amy 218
Johnson, Amy 238
Johnson, Amy Lynne 370
Johnson, Brett Holter 370
Johnson, Brian 220
Johnson, Bryan 336
Johnson, C. Scott 370, 285, 309
Johnson, Carla 269
Johnson, Charles R. 370
Johnson, Chuck 263
Johnson, Clay 325
Johnson, Cory 281
Johnson, Deanne Marie 370
Johnson, Deborah M. 370, 230
Johnson, Donna 230
Johnson, Eric 329
Johnson, Erik 206
Johnson, Felicia M. 370
Johnson, Gary 274
Johnson, Gary 328
Johnson, Gary Gilmore 370
Johnson, Gary Jack 370
Johnson, George 244
Johnson, Greg 330
Johnson, Gidget 222
Johnson, J. 285
Johnson, Janelle Lynn 370, 248
Johnson, Janina Ruth 370
Johnson, Jeff 339
Johnson, Jeffrey 268
Johnson, Jeffrey A. 370
Johnson, Jeffrey D. 370
Johnson, Jennifer 212
Johnson, Jennifer 250
Johnson, Jennifer J. 370
Johnson, Jennifer L. 370
Johnson, Jill 230
Johnson, Jim 265
Johnson, Jim 303
Johnson, Jim 325
Johnson, Joan 212
Johnson, Julie 216
Johnson, Kendra 210, 322
Johnson, Kent Jeffrey 370
Johnson, Kim 218
Johnson, Krista 248
Johnson, Kristen 269
Johnson, Lars 278
Johnson, Laurie 195, 232
Johnson, Lisa 218
Johnson, Lisa 224
Johnson, Lisa 232
Johnson, Lisa C. 370
Johnson, Lisa Renee 370
Johnson, Lynnette 222, 310
Johnson, Lynnette M. 370
Johnson, Matt 323
Johnson, Matt 336
Johnson, Michael A. 370
Johnson, Michelle Lee 370
Johnson, Micki 302, 335
Johnson, Mike 278
Johnson, Nici 304
Johnson, P. K. 246
Johnson, Rande T. 370, 280
Johnson, Scott 228
Johnson, Sonja Marie 370

October 28

Campus Halloween party flops. Security is stepped up and no glass bottles can be purchased in area liquor stores. At SIU city officials mailed 200,000 fliers state-wide to discourage students from attending Carbondale's infamous Halloween party.

photo by Joe Trojanowski

photo by Ron Foley

- Johnson, Steve 283
Johnson, Susi 250
Johnson, Vanessa A. 370
Johnson, Victoria E. 370, 325
Johnson, Wayne 274
Johnson, Wendy Marie 370, 256
Johnson Jr., Clifford 370
Johnston, Andrew S. 370
Johnston, Anne 224
Johnston, Christopher 370, 273, 313
Johnston, Dave 17
Johnston, Don 283
Johnston, Timothy R. 370
Jonas, Sindi 234
Jonathon Baldwin Turner Scholars Club 325
Jone Ho, Mary 304
Jones, Anthony Lee 370
Jones, Chad A. 370
Jones, Daniel Curtis 370
Jones, Dave 278
Jones, David 261
Jones, DiAnne 267, 305
Jones, Gwendolyn 115, 370
Jones, Henry 129
Jones, John 263
Jones, Kathy 269
Jones, Kelly 262
Jones, Kimberly Ann 370, 236
Jones, Kurt Andrew 370
Jones, Larry Edmond 370
Jones, Mark Jerard 370
Jones, Pat 274
Jones, Perry Tyrone 370
Jones, Renita 240, 308
Jones, Rodney 163
Jones, S. 285
Jones, Sara 370
Jones, Scotty Lane 370, 274
Jones, Stephanie 261
Jones, Theresa 216
Jones, Theresa 292
Jones, Theresa 339
Joong, Michelle 372
Jopes, Jeff 336
Joppa, Greg 334
Jordan, Leslie 216
Jordan, Max 242
Jorlan, Merijo 226
Jordan, Theresa 216
Jorgenson, Adlon 322
Jostes, Kristy 224
Jovanovich, Holly 294
Jovanovich, Sonja 370
Joyce, Barbara Ann 370
Joyce, Janet Mary 370
Joyce, Sarah 250
Joyce, Sarah 312
Jozaities, David Lee 370
Jozwalk, John 79
Jreazak, Jennifer 304
Juckett, Pamela Ann 370, 224
Julius, Michelle H. 370
Jung, Susan 2414
Jung Tar, Eunice Eun 404
Jungels, Christina M. 370, 269
Juras, Jennifer 216
Jureczak, Jenny 320, 331
Jurczyk, Stephen J. 370, 206
Jurcinicz, John 283
Jurgovan, Karen Beth 370, 212
Jurgovan, Michele L. 370, 208
Jurgovan, Sheryl 208
Juricic, Cathy 230
Jutovsky, David Alan 370
Jutting, Michele 210
- K
- Kaczmaryn, Debra A. 370, 304
Kaczynski, Chris B. 370
Kaderabek, Karen 248
Kagan, Wendy 295
Kagel, Sally 230, 324
Kahlfeldt, Kathryn M. 370
Kahling, John 270
Kahn, I. 285
Kahn, Jay 277, 308
Kahriman, Effie 298
Kaiser, Mike 303, 273
Kaiser, Whitney 308
Kaiser Jr., Donald P. 370
Kaisner, Susan 298
Kajmowicz, Kathy 210
Kakos, Patricia 336
Kalafatis, Konstantin 370
Kalafut, Elizabeth 370
Kalfahs, Turi 212
Kallal, Lisa 240
Kallish, Marc 337
Kalsan, Chris 232
Kahuzny, Nancy 214
Kamher, Ginger B. 370
Kames, Joellen C. 370, 208
Kaminsky, Jeff 319
Kammeyer, Shelly 210
Kammeyer, Tracey 210
Kanaan, Hassan 370
Kanabay, Sharon Ann 370, 298
Kanavos, Patty 232
Kanazawa, Mark A. 370
Kandl, Jeanne 216
Kando, Hirnuz 370
Kane, Colleen Diane 370, 236
Kane, Joan 262
Kane, Katie 210
Kane, Mary Beth 318
Kang, Michael 13, 303, 305, 370
Kanne, Allena 370
Kanter, Gary 286
Kanter, Steve 337
Kanute, Christopher C. 372
Kao, Anna 317
Kao, Wan Jung 372
Kaplan, Carrie 295
Kaplan, David Jay 372
Kaplan, Dawn M. 372, 262, 332
Kaplan, Robert Alan 372, 323
Kaplanes, Marc 325
Kappa Alpha Theta 250
Kappa Delta 214
Kappa Delta Rho 260
Kappa Delta Rho 302
Kappa Kappa Gamma 269
Kappa Sigma 270
Kappos, Jim 335
Karabin, Christopher 372
Karam, John George 372
Karamichos, Demetrios 372
Karankias, Cynthia M. 372
Karavolos, Aagoo 336
Karavolos, Nick 336
Karavolos, Pam 336
Karbarz, Frank A. 372, 282, 321, 325
Karbarz, Sue 208
Karin, Arif 254, 296, 309, 372
Karinattu, Jeff 260
Karles, Ed 274
Karلمان, Steven W. 372
Karlovics, P. 291
Karlsen, Ann Marie 307
Karns, Leanne 218
Karshen, Brian 277
Karzen, Stacey Ann 372, 214
Kasinger, Karen 232
Kasner, Dennis 206
Kasper, Rick 273
Kasten, Jonathan S. 372
Kastner, Kitty 262
Kasulas, Debbie 336
Katano, Lori Ann T. 372
Katers, Nicholas W. 372
Katsonis, Nastos 336
Kattner, Kathleen M. 372
Katz, Jill 232
Katz, Michael J. 372
Katz, Peggy 294
Katz, Herbert Herman 372, 328
Katzmann, Art 242
Kauffman, Alex 296
Kaufmann, Kurt 220
Kauss, Jennifer Lynn 372, 236, 282, 256
Kautz, Jeff 327
Kavanaugh, Maureen 216
Kavanaugh, Tim 258, 296
Kawaloski, Josh 283
Kawczynski, Jeffrey E. 372
Kay, Kathy 298
Kay, Lyle 332
Kaye, Julie 216
Kaylor, Stephanie 240
Kaylor, Thad 220
Kayman, Roh 337
Kazen, Marc 268, 372
Keagle, Karen 372
Keane, John 11
Keane, Maggie 248
Keane, P. 285
Kearney, Michael T. 372
Kearns, Christine 298
Keating, Pat 275
Keddas, Alex Robert 372
Kee, Sharon 262
Keefe, Bonnie Lynn 372
Keefe, Laura Lynn 372
Keegan, Bill 220
Keeker, Kevin David 372
Keeler, Lisa Marie 372
Keeley, Eric 261
Keeley, Steve 318
Keen, Doug 292
Keen, Kelly 222
Keen, Kristin Noelle 372, 208
Keen, Lori 248, 339
Keenan, Laura 218, 280, 319
Keene, Tracy 222
Keener, Chris 306
Keer, Craig 259
Kehl, Jami 298
Kehrli, Eli W. 372
Keistler, Lana 218
Kelber, Dan 319
Kelleher, Angela J. 372
Kelleher, Elizabeth A. 372, 311
Kelleher, Julia Ann 372
Keller, Anne 210
Keller, Diane 216
Keller, Elizabeth M. 210, 372
Keller, Georgia Ann 372
Keller, Katie 261
Keller, Mandy 210
Keller, Rhonda 212
Keller, Valerie E. 372
Kelley, Chris 273
Kelley, Harlan 274, 276
Kelley, Michelle 295, 372
Kelley, Scott M. 372
Kelly, Gregory 268
Kelly, Jonathan E. 372
Kelly, Kate 248
Kelly, Kim 248
Kelly, Michele Inez 372
Kelly, Rich 246
Kelly, Rich 273
Kelly, Sheila Ann 372
Kelly, Stephanie 222
Kelsey, Colleen Renee 372
Kelsheimer, John C. 372
KeMichael, James 244
Kemp, Kerry 250
Kempton, Joice 226
Kendall, Mary K. 34, 216, 372
Kendeigh, Kit 298
Kendle, Lynelle 208
Kendrigan, Maura 210
Kenedy, Jen 232
Kennedy, Beth 224
Kennedy, Daphne A. 372, 204
Kennedy, Jennifer L. 372
Kennedy, Mike 293
Kennedy, Ralph Guy 372
Kennedy, Scott M. 372
Kennett, Nikki 334
Kenny, Sen 270
Kent, Mary Elizabeth 372
Kent, Patricia A. 372, 234
Kent, Susan 351
Kenter, Kathryn Anne 372
Kenton, William James 372
Kentz, Leslie 262
Keogh, Charles M. 372
Keogh, Jennifer 222
Keogh, Tekla 236
Kerelis, Albertas J. 372
Kerfoot, Chris 297
Kerl, Sandra Lynn 372
Kern, Diane Lynn 372
Kern, Karen Marie 372, 305
Kern, Sharon 224
Kern, Timothy Joseph 372
Kernes, Jack Ira 372
Kerns, Robert 312
Kerr, John 288
Kerrigan, Jim 176
Kerrigan, Kevin 288
Kesinger, Anne Hart 250, 372
Kessie, Audrey R. 372
Kessler, Corey 277
Kessler, Kendall 278
Ketherson, Andrew 395
Khan, Nadir 327
Khan, Sehla 294
Khanna, Priti 236, 321, 372
Kholhagen, Becky 269
Khosla, Sonu 372
Kibler, Stephen John 372
Kicmal, Lisa Marie 372, 298
Kieffer, Jeff 265, 303
Kielar, Pamela B. 372, 216
Kifer, Shannan 292
Kile, Tony 293
Kiley, Leah 214
Kilgast, Kal 246, 304
Kill, J. 285
Killian, Bud 279
Kilman, Paula 95, 236
Kim, Andrew 276
Kim, Andrew Dohyoung 372
Kim, Cathy Yukyung 372
Kim, Chae Min 372
Kim, Gina Piljin 372
Kim, Horace Hyungil 372
Kim, JiMin 236
Kim, John Sung 372
Kim, Julie Hye 372
Kim, Junse 296, 331
Kim, Mary Ann 224, 372
Kim, Mihee 372
Kim, Minna 335
Kim, Sheri 224
Kim, Tony 265, 303
Kimball, Katherine 372
Kimb, Patricia K. 372
Kimple, Dawn 230
Kindred, Chad 220
King, Amy 232
King, Bryan 289, 372
King, J. 285
King, Jeffery Lynn 372
King, Jen 232
King, Laura 325
King, Valerie M. 372
Kingston, Kathy 240
Kinnear, Matt 246
Kinsella, Thomas F. 372
Kintz, David 268, 372
Kinzler, Thomas Jacob 195, 372
Kiononia 306
Kipper, Daniel Leroy 372
Kirby, Neil 278, 299, 372
Kirch, Barb 214
Kirkpatrick, Kendall 312
Kirkwood, Angie 292, 339
Kirkwood, Johnathon 316
Kirkwood, Terence 268
Kirts, Kyle Thomas 372
Kirts, Terry 276
Kish, Scott 275

November 2

About 30 men and women picket The Daily Illini in protest of sexist attitudes demonstrated in the comic strip "Acidic Humor." The cartoon ran Oct. 26 and showed a character saying, "What's the difference between a sorority girl and a toilet? At least when you use a toilet it doesn't follow you home."

HUD Secretary Samuel Pierce was charged with misuse of discretionary funds, in particular paying for a $1 million swimming pool for Sen. Alphonse D'Amato. New secretary Jack Kemp implemented reforms but was marginally successful.

AP

November 9

The Berlin Wall is opened for the first time since 1961 and hundreds flock over the borders. The following night citizens of East and West Berlin celebrated the opening of the border in front of the Brandenburg Gate.

AP

Kiss, Magbalen Anna 372
 Kiss, Magdi 317
 Kissel, Melissa Ann 372
 Kissler, Wayne 274
 Kistler, Jerry A. 372
 Kitzmiller, Andy 256
 Kklun, Steve 284
 Klaper, David A. 216
 Klapman, Matt 337
 Klappenbach, Laura A. 372
 Klausm, Stephen B. 372
 Klebosits, Erik James 372
 Kleckauskas, Theresa 210
 Klein, Brad 312
 Klein, Jennifer 218
 Klein, Kevin 268, 314, 372
 Klein, Kristen 216, 311
 Klein, Matt 339
 Klein, Mike 336
 Klein, Troy 280, 372
 Klemm, Ryan 326
 Klen, Kathy 262
 Klenske, Jennifer 216, 292
 Kletecka, Elisa 238, 305
 Klier, Mary 230
 Klima, Catherine 298
 Kline, Christy 262, 332
 Kline, Kevin 339
 Kline, Randall C. 372
 Kling, Jeff 336
 Klingbeil, Lawrence S. 374
 Klipstein, Ron 327
 Kliros, Christina 374
 Klis, Christopher 339, 374
 Kliska, Julie 295, 322
 Klober, Nancy 269
 Kloha, Michelle Marie 374
 Klonowski, C. Alan 374
 Klooster, Sherry Lynn 374
 Klos, Ellen Elizabeth 224, 374
 Klubber, Kathleen M. 374
 Klug, Kathy 208
 Kluka, James Anthony 374
 Klumb, Tracey E. 234, 374
 Klunk, Lydia 339, 374
 Kmak, Nancy M. 374
 Knesel, Paula Marie 374
 Knick, Steve Joseph 374
 Knieriem, Jill S. 374
 Knier, Paul 317
 Knier, Tom 281
 Knight, Kenneth Scott 280, 374
 Knight, Lisa Marie 374
 Knoll, Richard Henry 374
 Knopp, Amy 335
 Knudsen, Linda 226, 374
 Knudtson, Brian 288
 Knuppel, Jeffrey 374
 Knuppel, Jill 212
 Knust, Sylvia 296
 Knutel, Edward Paul 374
 Knutson, Laura Ann 374
 Ko, David 265, 303
 Koca, Robert Walter 374
 Koch, Karen Ann 313, 374
 Koch, Stephen Brent 374
 Kochanowicz, Kim 214
 Kocher, Pat 246
 Kocinski, Jacqueline 374
 Kocot, Maureen 298
 Koduri, Sumana 374
 Koebel, Jeffrey Paul 374
 Koehler, Anthony 228
 Koehn, Clarissa Hume 374
 Koenen, Dave 273
 Koernig, Karisa 222
 Koernigsberger, Julie 238, 321, 330
 Koertge, Kourtney 339, 374
 Koester, Greg Charles 374
 Koester, Kristin Ann 374
 Koesterer, Tom 315
 Koh, Kok Sin 374
 Kohler, Keith A. 374
 Kohls, Joe 333
 Kohls, Trisha 222, 335
 Kohn, Michael James 374
 Koide, Kimberly Ann 374
 Kojima, Yukio 374
 Kokenge, Emily 250
 Kokkinis, Alicia 351
 Kokodynski, Richard 374
 Kolar, Jennifer 210
 Kollan, Kenneth 374
 Kolesar, Mary Kathryn 374
 Kolze, Laura 238
 Komie, Dave 265, 303
 Komon, Stacey 323
 Konapaz, Vicki 230
 Konicek, Tracey 218, 323
 Konie Jr., August C. 374
 Konkel, Julie 208
 Konkolewski, Kimberly 374
 Konkolewski, Kristen 304
 Konnerth, Jacque 218
 Konopacz, Vicki 230, 374
 Kontos, Tina 250
 Kontur, Tracy Lynette 374
 Koo, Jeonung-Hea 374
 Koonce, Bob 220
 Koontz, Rob 263
 Koontz, Timothy 374
 Koop, Catherine 374
 Kooy, Ralph 320
 Kopeck, Kelly 210
 Kopecky, Mary 339
 Kopplin, Holly 226, 374
 Koprrowski, Denise 305, 374
 Koprrowski, Denise 374
 Koralluk, Gerard 260
 Korean EE Association 317
 Korfist, Matt 186
 Korman, Tina 238
 Koroudis, Melanie 315
 Kosanovic, Sonja 212, 374
 Kosche, Karl 316, 374
 Kosel, Janine 294
 Kosiek, Raymond 326
 Kosinski, Scott 326
 Koslow, Steve 335
 Koslowski, Eric 263
 Kosnar, M. 285
 Kosnick, Pat 258
 Koss, Susanne 232, 374
 Kossack, Merrick F. 374
 Kossof, Kim 295, 442
 Kosson, Natalie 111, 295, 310, 322
 Kostenski, Kori 232
 Kotlarz, Julia Carol 374
 Kotz, Arthur 283
 Kotzman, Erin Marie 374
 Kovach, Janette 324
 Kovach, Kelly 234
 Kovachevich, Vic 264
 Kovacic, Rick 327
 Kovack, Christine 262
 Kowal, John 283
 Kowal, M. 291
 Kowalczak, Kevin 288
 Kowalski, John Derek 228, 374
 Koziarz, Louis 326
 Koziel, Dehlie 234
 Kozlowski, Amy 232
 Kozlowski, Mark 263
 Kozminski, Brian 281
 Kozyak, Melissa Kaye 236, 374
 Kozyra, Silvia 335
 Kpedi, Andy 162, 163
 Kraai, Alison 210
 Kraai, Alison Jane 210, 374
 Kraai, Sarah 210
 Kraeger, Jill Ann 374
 Kraemer, Steven Craig 374
 Kraft, Eric 228
 Kraft, Karen 262, 332, 374
 Kraft, Michelle 318
 Kraft, Timothy Eric 374
 Krammer, Maria 218
 Krajewski, Mark 173, 305
 Kral, Jackie 218
 Kramer, Chad 327
 Kramer, Jason 259
 Kramer, Kristi 210
 Kramer, Steve 317
 Kraml, Brooke 210
 Krampitz, David S. 374
 Krannert Student Association
 Administrative Board 311
 Kranz, Jennifer 313
 Krasnodebski, Roger 259
 Krasnow, Nancy 317
 Kraus, J. 285
 Kraus, Steven Daniel 374
 Krause, Anne Marie 210, 374
 Krause, Beth 224
 Krause, Tracy Louise 374
 Krazy, Kyle 324
 Krebaum, Laura 311, 374
 Krebs, Liesel 224
 Kreissman, Jonathan M. 374
 Krejci, David 374
 Krejci, Jacqueline 374
 Kremer, Anthony T. 374
 Kremeyer, Kevin P. 374
 Kresge, Karen Lynn 262, 374
 Kress, Amy 234, 374
 Krezo, Julie 256, 374
 Kridakorn, Leigh 214, 282, 322
 Kridakorn, Leshe L. 374
 Kriesel, Christopher 374
 Kriewaldt, Joy 328
 Kriewall, Linda 374
 Krigas, Jason 73
 Krigas, Jason 276, 287, 288
 Krishnan, Murali 374
 Kristan, Kelly 230
 Krizik, Mark Allen 374
 Krudel, Dave 292
 Kroeger, Dale Kenneth 374
 Kroeger, Renee M. 374
 Kroeker, Ken 290
 Kroeker, Kris 313
 Kroencke, Tammy 218
 Krohn, Debra Michelle 262, 374
 Krolak, Sandra Marie 238, 374
 Kroliek, Jordan 272, 277, 374
 Kroll, Karen 57, 238
 Kroll, Todd 264, 329
 Krone, Brad 274
 Krone, Kevin 374
 Krubert, Heidi 216
 Krueger, Ann 230
 Krueger, Erik 264
 Krueger, Paul Claude 374
 Kruger, John 303
 Krull, Dan 292
 Krumrey, Michael 374

L

L'Heureux, Laura 292
 La Casa Cultural 106
 Labeck, Kimberly 376
 Labij, Denis 283
 Labuda, Jason 274
 Labuda, Lisa 226
 Labuda, Mitchell 376
 Labuda, Timothy 376
 LaChica, Dina 269
 Lachner, Mary 261
 LaCorte, Tina 250
 Lacy, Keith 327
 Ladwig, Jamie 289, 376
 Laesch, Pan 222
 Laesch, Steve 228
 Lafoon, Amy 234
 Lafoon, Boyd 264, 376
 Lager, Cheri 222
 Lahey, Sharon 376
 LaHood, Amy 210
 LaHood, Dorie 234, 254
 Lai, Sue 216, 376
 Laible, Jennifer 214, 376
 Lake, Keith 270
 Lake, Sharon 376
 Lakin, Brenda 238, 305
 Lakowski, Bill 254
 LaLonde, Tracy 214
 Lam, Thai 265, 303
 Lam, Thong 326
 Lamantia, Anthony 376
 Lambda Chi Alpha 274
 Lambert, C. 285
 Lambert, De Ann 261, 302, 376
 Lambert, Jennifer 248
 Lambert, Scott 278
 Lambert, William 376
 Lamborn, Denise 376
 Lamond, Daniel 376
 LaMonica, Barli 305
 Lamont, Brad 264
 Lamont, Lori 234, 376
 Lamoureux, Cathy 262, 332, 376
 Lampitt, Andy 314
 Lampitt, Edwin 308, 320
 Lancaster, Jude 326
 Lancaster, Roh 317
 Land, Kristin 302
 Landberg, Laura 226, 376
 Landeck, Lance 376
 Landers, Kathleen 15, 376

Many sections of the wall were destroyed by the Berliners in an attempt to reunify their city. A West Berlin policeman shakes hands with an East German border guard.

AP

AP

AP

- Landini, Joe 339
Landlord Problems 114
Landman, Jason 254
Landon, Leif 336, 376
Landry, Dan 278
Landsly, Russell 376
Lane, Beth 376
Lane, Cindy 230
Lane, Kathy 208
Lane, Michelle 254, 330
Lane, Mike 327
Lane, Susan 376
Lanesskog, Stig 244, 376
Lange, Barbara 376
Lange, Gregory 376
Lange, Jeffrey 376
Lange, Peter 376
Lange, Ronald 290
Langhenry, Matthew 297, 376
Langston, Winston 376
Lanham, Jeffrey 376
Lanigan, Diane 376
Lannam, Jeff 283
Lannert, Kevin 265, 303
Lannert, Sandra 310
Lanter, Michael 376
Lanyi, Susanne 214
Lanzarotta, Eileen 304, 376
Lanzotti, Mark 297
Lapides, Marc 376
Larimer, Angela 376
Larkin, Brian 264
Larkin, Sue 298
Larkins, Thomas 261
Larner, Ben 300
Larsen, Eric 206
Larson, Anne 230, 376
Larson, Dana 216
Larson, Dennis 275
Larson, Eric 333
Larson, Kristen 222, 323, 376
Larson, Lisa 230
Larson, Mike 284
Larson, Sara 234
LAS Council 318
Lasak, J. 291
Lash, Todd 376
Lashbrook, Cinda 339
Lashinski, Cherie 376
Laskey, Lisa 262
Laskowski, Brian 288
Laskowski, Laureen 289, 312
Lasky, Chris 312
Lassiter, Jayne 376
Laster, Tony 130
Lastovich, Michael 376
- Latimer, Michelle 376
Lau, Dave 264
Lau, Diane 376
Laughlin, Bart 337
Laughman, Amy 79
Laughton, Craig 376
Lauher, Scott 228
Laurin, Katie 216
Laux, Jill 222
Lavalering 312
Laverty, Tracy 248
Lavin, Mitch 337
Law, John 376
Lawence, Kara 210
Lawrence, John 242
Lawson, Carrie 269
Lawson, Celeste 376
Lawson, Dina 376
Lawton, Brad 279
Lay, Pat 275
Layng, Suzanne 248, 376
Layton, Timothy 376
Lazarus, Beth 210
Le, Lam 376
Le Tourneau, Beth 269
Leaf, Cindy 248
Leal, Ronette 224
Leasure, Julie 269
Leasure, Kelly 248
Leath, Stephanie 376
Leavitt, Lorin 295
Lebedow, Sheri 295
Lebman, Liz 307
Lechner, Barbara 376
Lechner, Mary 376
Lederer, Jim 337
Lee, Angie 230
Lee, Anne 232
Lee, Anthony 264
Lee, Brian 376
Lee, Charlie 281
Lee, Chris 296
Lee, Dennis 376
Lee, Doug 304
Lee, Douglas 376
Lee, Douglass 376
Lee, Hyun 244
Lee, Hyun 376
Lee, James 244
Lee, Jean 234
Lee, Jean 376
Lee, Jenny 248
Lee, Jenny 304
Lee, Jenny 308
Lee, Johanna 222
Lee, Joon 258
- Lee, Joseph 376
Lee, Kelloo 306
Lee, Kyung 376
Lee, Lena 222
Lee, Lori 210
Lee, Lynna 376
Lee, Margaret 376
Lee, Michael 376
Lee, P. 285
Lee, Paul 306
Lee, Sang 376
Lee, Sang Ho 317
Lee, Suzanne 216
Lee, Suzy 208
Lee, Sylvia 376
Lee, Tracy 238
Lee, William 376
Leeds, Leah 230
Leff, Randee 295
Legner, Jim 328
Lehman, Elizabeth 376
Lehning, Richard 376
Lehr, Mike 261
Lei, Deborah 376
Leigh, Ed 220
Leigh, Katie 240
Leight, James 376
Leininger, Nina 218
Leitner, Jeff 327
Leland, Pam 248
Lema, Veronica 218
Lemezis, Eileen 236, 331
Lemke, Gary 244, 376
Lenart, Glen 286
Lenigan, Andrea 376
Leninger, Patricia 376
Lennes, Bob 206
Lennon, Kevin 270
Lentz, Chris 284
Lentz, Dave 284, 376
Lenz, Timothy 307, 324, 376
Lenzini, Josh 300
Leonard, Mike 335
Leonard, Nancy 310
Leonchik, Caler 244
Leone, Robert 376
Leong, Wendy 216
Lepp, Lori 212
Lepper, Wendy 262, 318, 376
Leprich, Cindy 376
Les, Jeffrey 376
Les Misérables 368
Lesage, Ed 293
LeSage, Marietta 208, 376, 378
Lesieutre, Anette 224
Lesikar, Bruce 268
- Lessin, Serena 294
Lester, Tina 305
Letemendia, Ignacio 378
Letwat, David Neil 378
Leung, Bruce 317
Leung, Elaine 236
Leung, Raymond L. 378
Leuthold, Raymond 338
Levertson, Chris 339
Levey, Cynthia 317
Levey, Ross Steven 259, 378
Levin, Michelle Robin 378
Levin, Oren 317
Levin, Robin 294, 378
Levin, Steve 292
Levine, Alan 286
Levine, Amy 295
Levinsoin, Mitch 286
Levinson, Stacy 295
Levitan, Vic 277
Levin, Kari 295
Levy, Dana 214
Levy, Ross 254
Levy, Stan 382
Lew, Joyce 230
Lewan, Bill 297
Lewe, John 263
Lewin, Cari 294
Lewis, Joel 337
Lewis, Mary 266
Lewis, Paula 248, 320, 321, 378
Lewis, Tonia Denise 378
Lewis, Tricia 230
Lewis, Wendy 224
Lewis Jr., James 378
Lewke, Gillian 248
Leyva, Anselma 230
Lezak, Becky 294, 378
Lezak, Laura Ann 250, 378
LeZotte, Annette 302, 322
Liable, Philip 376
Liakopoulos, Andrew E. 378
Liargel, Thomas 293
Libbra, Joe 228
Libowicz, Ken J. 378
Libunao, Alan 273
Lichtenberger, Cory 278
Liebman, Marc 335
Liedtke, Robert R. 333, 378
Lifchez, Nori 295
Lightstone, Barb 269
Lightstone, Michael 302, 378
Ligocki, Mark A. 378
Lim, Hyung 317
Limbaugh, Douglas Van 378
Lin, David 326
- Lin, David C. 378
Lin, Johnny Chun-Yen 378
Lin, Judy 335
Lin, Margaret Y. 378
Lin, Patricia 334
Lin, Ruo Min 378
Lin, Stephen 315
Lind, Margaret Mary 313, 378
Lind, Shannon 212, 304
Linde, Ann 234
Linde, Marianne 262, 310, 332, 378
Linden, Christy 212
Lindenberg, John 268
Lindgren, Leslie 218
Lindley, Amy Kristine 378
Lindley, Teresa Leona 378
Lindquist, Timothy A. 306, 378
Lindren, Leslie 218
Lindstrom, Cheryl Ann 378
Lindstrom, Jodie 232
Lingane, Jamie 212, 305
Lingle, Kris 222
Link, Brian David 378
Link, Cindi 232, 292
Link, Craig 303
Link, Rob 220
Linke, Craig 16
Linke, Greg 16
Linn, Leslie 295, 378
Linneweh, Michelle 269
Linton, Forest 336
Liosatos, Anna 250
Lipe, Jerilyn 226
Lipicky, Laura Lee 378
Lipinski, Matthew M. 378
Lipkie, Mike 315
Lipman, Devin 277
Lippold, Julia 248
Lipscomb, Becky 230
Lisek, Brian 288
Liska, Heather 230
Lisnich, Margie 212
Litterest, Jake 281
Little, Robert T. 378
Little Known Facts 304
Littrell, Shauna 224
Litus, Patricia Susan 378
Litzwitz, Steven W. 378
Liu, Ching Ching 378
Liu, Grace 331
Liu, Jean 218
Liu, Roger W. 378
Livengood, Erich 261
Livesay, Allison Jo 378
Livesay, Dristen 218
- Livingston, Drew 284
Livingston, Ginger 318
Livingston, Kathy 218
Livingston, Marge 294
Livingston, Pam 250
Livingston, Thomas E. 321, 378
Llapitan, Wendi Marie 230, 378
LLerena, Lieschen 256
LLerena, Mildred 256, 266, 378
Lloyd, Tara 232
Lo, Ching Hsiung 378
Lo, Joseph T. 378
Lo, Stephanie 210
Lohagh, Stacy 248
Lohman, Steve 312
Lobocki, David B. 258, 378
Lobocki, Ray 258
Lobough, Stacy 320
LoBue, Trina 222, 322
Locascio, Angela 280
Locascio, Jeff 263
Locascio, Sharon Lucy 378
Lockledge, Scott 320
Lockwood, Anne M. 378
Lockwood, John 261
Lockwood, Rich 303
Lockwood, Tina 226
Loebach, Jennifer L. 378
Loebach, Patricia Ann 378
Loecke, Kristen 269
Loeffler, Kelly 234
Loftren, Jennifer 296, 378
Loftus, Roseanne 266, 298, 378
Logani, Monica 218, 305, 320
Loges, Brian 303
Loges, Mark 265, 303
Lohman, Jann 230
Lohman, Mark 304
Lohman, Stephen Karl 263, 378
Lohmar, Joseph M. 378
Lolbino, Steven J. 378
Lombardo, Lisa 262
Lombardo, Mike 327
Londer, Angela Kay 378
London, Amy 295
Long, Andrew 378
Long, Clarisa Anne 378
Long, Kim 208
Long, Kristan 230
Longhitano, Louis C. 378
Longtin, Kara Louise 378
Longworth, Heather 214
Lonsway, Kim 216
Loofhourrow, Julia K. 378
Loos, Clover E. 378
Lopata, Jake 297

November 11

Senator Paul Simon receives an award at Krannert Center for the Performing Arts instead of during the half-time of the Illini-Michigan football game as originally planned. Two weeks earlier Sen. Simon signed a petition to get rid of the Chief. Administrators, fearing student and alumni reaction, moved the awards ceremony to the other end of campus.

November 15

Brazilians vote for president in their first direct election in 29 years.

AP

Chancellor Morton Weir and the Board of Trustees announce Chief Illiniwek will remain as our university symbol. After all the hullabaloo the only change directed particularly at the Chief was that he and the cheerleaders couldn't wear face paint.

Lopez, Anita 262, 305
 Lopez, John Anthony 378
 Lopez, Juan 268
 Lopez, Mauricio A. 378
 Lopez, Saul 324
 Loppnow, Greg 303
 Lord, Eva 294, 333
 Lord, Michael R. 305, 332, 378
 Lorenc, Bret 279, 305
 Lorenz, Krista 292, 339
 Lorenz, Michael Ross 378
 Losasso, Laurie Ann 378
 Loudon, Michael 268, 314
 Loudon, Silvana 240
 Loudermilk, James 261
 Loudon, Silvana Sue 378
 Loughman, Cathy 208
 Louis, Beth 269
 Loula, Eric Franklin 276, 378
 Loury, Tamara Elaine 378
 Lontos, Joanie 269
 Love, Chris 260
 Love, William 288
 Lovelace, Curt 128, 130, 161
 Lovelace, Lewis 261
 Lovell, Dianna 234
 Lovell, Michelle 234, 378
 Lovett, Brian Michael 277, 378
 Lower, Georgia Lynn 378
 Lowery, Betsy 222
 Lowrey, Pam 230
 Lowry, Chandra 222
 Lu, Calvin 273
 Lu, Linda 378
 Luan, Edward Chu 378
 Lubba, Tim 327
 Lubben, Robert 293, 338
 Lubek, Sam 286
 Lubrant, Bradley A. 378
 Lucas, Beth 298
 Lucas, Brad 303
 Lucchesi, Mary Ann 210
 Lucibello, Dina 269, 378
 Luckman, Laura 295
 Ludwig, Leigh Ellen 234
 Luedtke, Lorna 216, 378
 Lueke, Julie 222
 Luhrs, Dave 300
 Lukas, David C. 378
 Lukas, Joseph 314
 Lukasik, Noelle 299
 Lukehart, Jennifer 269
 Lump, Julie 232
 Lumsden, Bob 320, 321
 Luna, Amy 218
 Lunborn, Denise 184

Lund, Mike 267
 Lundgren, John 263
 Lundin, Kim 222
 Lundsberg, Page 214
 Lundstrom, D. 285
 Lundy, Jim 327
 Lunn, Brian 270
 Luo, Dailin 306
 Lusco, Dina 226
 Luse, Joey 275
 Lush, Tony Ronald 378
 Lussen, Tara 262
 Lussenhop, Sara 222
 Lussan, Paul 273
 Lutchka, Darlene 216
 Luth, Lori 212
 Luther, Lori Ann 378
 Lutz, D. 285
 Lutz, David 260
 Lutz, Irene Brenda 378
 Lyman, Patty 269
 Lynch, Andy 297
 Lynch, Chris 263
 Lynch, Erin 232, 335
 Lynch, John 289
 Lynch, Johnny Andre 378
 Lynch, Laura 208
 Lynch, Lisa 298
 Lynn, Chris 192, 297
 Lyons, Adam Nathan 378
 Lyons, David Michael 312, 378
 Lyons, Linda Francine 378
 Lyons, Randy 323, 336
 Lyons, Scott 273

M

Maag, Kathy 238
 Maas, Thomas John 378
 Maaske, Eric Scott 378
 Macahon, Daniel Allen 378
 MacAlister, Jennifer 210
 MacAlister, Kathy 210, 323
 Macasieb, Stanleynd 314, 378
 MacCardy, Howard 311
 MacDonald, James M. 378
 MacDonald, Maureen N. 378
 MacDonald, Tim 279
 Macedo, Indira T. 378
 Macek, Gregg Jon 378
 MacFarlane, Captain Terry 261
 MacFarlane, Jeannie 222
 Macgill, Pat 254
 Machen, Sevela Karen 378
 Machota, Jolie 218

MacInnis, Scott 246
 MacInkenas, Tom 280
 Macinlis, I. 285
 Macke, Melissa 329, 378
 MacKenzie, Bruce Mark 378
 Mackey, Craig 261
 Mackey, Denise 335
 Mackie, Jill 256
 Mackin, Jim 181
 Mackin, Michelle 222
 Macklin, Craig 324, 338, 378
 Macklin, Paul Gordon 378
 Mackner, Laura 222
 MacNamara, John 297
 MaCrane, Sam 285, 336
 Maeri, Nick 296
 Macrito, Carla 262
 Maero, Joe 280
 Macrury, Nicole 298
 Maczko, Barbara Ann 378
 Madamba, J. Bennett O. 378, 380
 Madaras, John 265, 303
 Madden, Lisa 298
 Madden, Marguerite 232
 Madden, Steve 288
 Madden, Toni 262
 Maddox, K. 291
 Madell, P. 285
 Madigan, Dan 266, 297, 380
 Madigan, Matt 278
 Madison, Sean Clinton 266
 Madland, Eric 265, 303, 380
 Madrigal, Samuel 380
 Madson, Sara K. 380
 Maestranzi, Vince 274
 Magemeneas, Dimitris 380
 Maggi, Brian 296
 Maggio, Erin 298
 Maggio, Gina Michelle 269, 380
 Maggs, Stephanie Ann 380
 Magill, Peggy 234
 Maglarras, Sofia 380
 Magtullo, Mike 258
 Magnabosco, Pete 273, 313, 380
 Magnus, Mike 296
 Maher, Darlene 226
 Maher, Genny 214
 Mahoney, Trish 214
 Mahr, Mike 304
 Maibusch, Donna Marie 380
 Maier, S. 285
 Maierhofer, Joyce 240
 Mair, Erica 269
 Mairet, Kimberly J. 380
 Majeres, Lisa 234, 319

Major, Amy 380
 Makayee, Sue 335
 Makielski, Ward 326
 Makkar, Harmandeep S. 380
 Maksimik, Kathy L. 380
 Malcharek, Paul C. 290, 380
 Malcolm, Chris 256, 380
 Maldow, Dave 242
 Maley, Michael 328, 380
 Malinoski, Frank 312
 Malinowski, Mark 335
 Mahis, Grey 286
 Mallar, Suzanne Lee 380
 Malles, Stuart 188
 Mallidis, Mike George 380
 Maloney, Kevin 246
 Maloney, Paul 76, 254
 Maloney, Tom 242
 Malovany, Lucia 212
 Malter, Judi 224
 Mamon, Kurt 372
 Man, Stud Lee 328
 Manaois, Andre 260
 Manchester, Martha 218
 Mancini, Angela 250
 Manckzo, Ted 244
 Maneses, Andres 261
 Mangan, Julie 285, 336
 Mangione, Christy 232
 Mangione, Lisa 232
 Mangurten, Allison 295
 Manion, Stephanie A. 380
 Manley, Janet E. 380
 Manley, Kevin 206
 Mann, Melanie 222, 380
 Manna, Joanne 212, 380
 Manning, Denis 304
 Manning, Eileen 254
 Manning, Jennifer 262, 332, 380
 Manning, Missy 232
 Manning, Natasha 380
 Mannion, Chris 304
 Mannion, George 304, 380
 Manno, Audra 212, 310, 380
 Manns, Bob 220
 Manns, Nick 220
 Manojowski, D. 291
 Manrique, Ed 327
 Mansen, Michael R. 380
 Mansini, John 317
 Mantia, Angela Ann 380
 Maple, Denise 212, 305, 380
 Marana, Michele 307
 Maravelas, Maria 336, 380
 Marbach, Val 234
 Marburger, Deborah 226, 380

Marburger, Mike 333
 Marburger, Rob 333
 Marcantonio, Alyssa Ann 380
 Marcell, Arik V. 380
 Marchelya, John 270, 314, 380
 Marciante, Mark 310
 Marciniak, Melissa 210
 Marciniak, Steve 195
 Marcucci, Ann Marie 292, 339
 Marcus, Anne E. 380
 Marcus, Julie 236
 Marcy, Pete 246
 Marderosian, Steve 263
 Marean, Scott Robert 380
 Marelo, Tina 339
 Margagione, Lou 265, 303
 Margaris, Tia 234
 Margas, Mike 300
 Margolis, Gary 256, 380
 Margolis, Heather 295
 Marich, Cheryl Ann 380
 Marik, Barbara L. 380
 Marikuni, Boh 336
 Marinakis, Dean 265, 303, 380
 Marinakis, Patty 208, 336
 Marinaro, Kim 210
 Marino, Josie 250
 Marion, Jenny 238
 Marker, Greg 312
 Marker, Kim 208
 Markle, Rick 277, 286, 380
 Markle, Todd B. 380
 Marks, David 337
 Marks, Donald Lee 380
 Marks, Julie 335
 Marks, Tracy 212
 Marlott, John Addison 380
 Marquardt, Scott 300
 Marquardt, Sharon 232
 Marquardt, Susie 212
 Marquart, Karin M. 380
 Marquis, John David 380
 Marrello, Cristina M. 380
 Marren, Martin J. W. 329, 380
 Married Undergrads 390
 Marsaglia, Mike 270
 Marsh, Eric Russell 380
 Marshall, Brian 278
 Marshall, Chris 262
 Marshall, Chris 290
 Marshall, Denise 236, 322
 Marshall, Douglas Lee 380
 Marshall, Joanne M. 380
 Marshall, Michael T. 380
 Marshall, Ryan S. 380
 Marsogha, Michael 380

Martel, Gregory Todd 380
 Martel, Richard F. 380
 Martens, Dan 278
 Martens, Mark 276, 286
 Marti, Dave 304
 Martin, Brian Patrick 380
 Martin, Carrie 250
 Martin, Cathy 262
 Martin, Dennis 246
 Martin, Jack 292
 Martin, James 283
 Martin, James Michael 380
 Martin, Jason 326
 Martin, Jeffrey Alan 380
 Martin, Kirk 228
 Martin, Kristin Anna 380
 Martin, Kurt W. 380
 Martin, Lisa 302
 Martinez, Eduardo J. 380
 Martinez, Joe 275
 Martinez, John 244, 323
 Marik, Barbara L. 380
 Martinez, Tim 286
 Martinsen, Tod 283
 Marunde, Kurt W. 297, 380
 Marusarz, Paula 248
 Marzo, Kim 218
 Masear, Dee 339
 Masiewicz, C. 380
 Masin, Chris Alan 380
 Masnik, John Edward 380
 Masnik, Stanley A. 380
 Mason, Chris 336
 Mason, Dirk 286
 Mason, Kathy 218
 Mason, Linda A. 380
 Mason, Madine 303
 Mason, Nancy 210
 Mason, Paul 273, 313, 380
 Mason, Peter Brent 380
 Mason, Tom 303
 Massarelli, John 288
 Massari, Lori C. 380
 Massey, Kristin 210, 380
 Massucci, Amanda 208, 304
 Masters, Gib 264
 Masterson, Camille A. 380
 Masterson, Dan 273, 313
 Mastorgio, Carla 222, 380
 Mastoris, Helen 269, 380
 Mastronuzzi, Frank 279
 Mastropieri, Rose 380
 Masudal, Maria 248
 Mataitis, Joanne M. 380
 Matezak, Leanne 302
 Mateja, Daniel J. 380

photo by Craig Cotton

November 16

On campus, fraternity presidents vote to make all fraternity parties B.Y.O.B. (Bring Your Own Beer). However, no alcohol is allowed to be brought into the party after 1 a.m.

photo by Scott Jacobson

November 21

Champaign City Council votes to reduce the number of bars in campus town from 18 to 15. If any of the bars' licenses expire they will not be renewed.

- Mathein, Jason 303
Mathena, Lynn Ellice 380
Matheny, Jill 208
Mather, Sunita 302
Mathers, Kara 313
Mathes, Marc 261
Mathes, Patty 262, 332, 380
Mathews, Angela Lynne 380
Mathur, Sameer Kumar 380
Matis, Laurel 212
Matson, Jim 283
Matsuki, Naomi 214
Matten, Ron 42, 277
Mattes, Thomas 265, 303, 380
Matthews, Angela 269
Mattling, Brigid 222, 380
Mattison, Keith 317
Mattison, Kevin 317
Matus, Greg 261
Matyazic, Elizabeth 230, 380
Matz, Ann Katherine 380
Matzinger, Mary 216
Mau, Amy L. 380
Mau, Catherine Eileen 232, 380
Mauch, Darwin 328
Mancieri, Larry 270
Mandlin, Julianne Kern 380
Mauer, Mark 254
Maul, Sue 325
Manrer, Jen 230
Manschlag, Paul J. 380
Max, Michelle 335
Maxey, D. 285
Maxey, Tracey 222
Maxwell, Corey 327
Maxwell, Melanie 238
May, Billy 337
May, Brian 321
Mayani, Humansu 380
Mayberry, Todd 307
Mayberry, Trent Alan 270, 380
Mayer, Craig 206
Mayer, Suzanne 222, 304
Mayer, Tracy 250
Mayerhofer, Judi 224, 380
Mayes, Rick 263
Mayfield, Johnathan 220, 380
Mayhugh, Natalie 210
Maynard, Mark 296, 380
Mayoras, Stacie 210, 380
Mays, Robin 261
Mayszak, Don 336
Maza, Chris 265, 303
Mazenko, Beth 226, 380
Mazor, Beth Elyn 382
Mazor, Rob 286
Mazur, Captain John 261
Mazzone, Laura 210
McAdams, Patty 250
McAllen, Scott 382
McAllister, Kim 216
McAllister, Robert M. 382
McAllister, Traci L. 382
McArdle, Jennifer 298
McArdle, Larry 49
McArthur, Amy Ann 296, 382
McCarthy, Troy 306
McAidey, Coleen 214
McAuliffe, Clare 236, 382
McAvoy, Katie 234
McBain, Karen 204, 267
McBain, Tracy 204
McCabe, Debbie 224
McCabe, Steve James 382
McCall, Debra 382
McCandless, Daniel 288
McCann, Roy Alan 382
McCann, Sue 208
McCardle, Julie 308, 330
McCarthy, C. 285
McCarthy, Dan 273
McCarthy, Katie 210
McCarthy, Kevin 304
McCarthy, Mark W. 382
McCarthy, Steve 264
McCarthy, Vic 258
McCartney, Lisa 216, 322
McCauley, Jeffrey J. 382
McCay, Cathy 230
McCay, Kathy 323
McClain, Brian 246
McClean, John 265
McClean, John 303
McCleish, James E. 382
McClelland, Julia 269
McClelland, Eva 236
McClelland, Valerie L. 240, 382
McClelland, Vicki 240
McClenahan, Angie 212
McCloskey, Meghan 224
McChure, Sandra Kay 382
McCollom, Robert J. 382
McCombe, Anne 339
McConaghy, Kris 238
McCormack, Brian 336
McCormack, Lin 292
McCormack, Shannon 222
McCormick, Alvie 220
McCormick, Judith J. 382
McCormick, Kathy 212
McCoy, Deborah Kay 382
McCoy, Jamie 195, 234
McCoy, Kimberly Kay 224, 382
McCoy, Rob 254
McCray, Kelly 216, 310
McCree, Patricia A. 250, 382
McCure, Mike 279
McCure, Steve 279
McCurley, Michelle 212
McCutchan, Thomas 291, 382
McDaniel, Gregory A. 382
McDaniel, John Scott 382
McDaniel, K. 285
McDaniel, Mary C. 382
McDearmon, Sharon 298, 305
McDonald, Andrew R. 382
McDonald, Shelley 238, 331, 382
McDonal, Robert 242
McDonnell, Maureen 212
McDonough, Mary 305
McDonough, Toby 263
McDougald, Laura 330, 382, 442
McDough, Amy Lynn 382
McEvers, Kelly 250
McFadden, Mark Edward 382
McFadden, Tonia Kaye 382
McGahay, Dave 336
McGee, Jim 303
McGee, Mike 275
McGee, Steven Allen 304, 382
McGinn, Matt 296
McGinnis, Kelly 208, 382
McGinnis, Kevin 276, 306, 382
McGinnis, Mike 281
McGough, Amy Lynn 382
McGovern, Anita 292
McGovern, Terri 216
McGowan, Kathleen M. 238, 321, 382
McGrath, Katie 218
McGregor, John M. 382
McGuffin, Bob 303
McGuffin, Jen 269
McGuire, Christina 382
McGuire, Dave 256
McGuire, Mike 274
McHugh, Colin 292
McHugh, Katie 298, 382
McInerney, Pamela Ann 382
McIntire, E.J. 325
Meiver, E. 285
Melver, Van 246
McKay, Brian L. 382
McKay, Robert John 382
McKay, William A. 382
McKee, Brad 316, 336
McKee, Melissa 214, 282, 322
McKee, Wendy 214
McKelvie, Luke 228
McKenna, Kay 230
McKenna, Kristine M. 382
McKeown, Jay 270
McKinney, Elyn 232
McKinney, Jeff 267
McKinney, Maria 234, 310, 382
McKinnon, Amy 250
McKinstry, Jennifer 35
McKnight, Patti 212, 382
McLaren, Mark 325
McLaughlin, Carol 289
McLaughlin, Maureen 236
McLaughlin, Steve 261
McLaughlin, Susan E. 248, 382
McLean, Mark Andrew 382
McLemore, Tami 250
Melure, Rob 303
McMahill, Sean 305
McMahon, Carrie 292
McManamon, Coleen 214
McMasters, Deanna M. 382
McMillen, Leigh 312
McMorrin, David M. 382
McNally, Kelly 208
McNamara, Colleen 230, 382
McNamara, Janet 240
McNamara, Katie 248
McNamara, Leanne 240, 382
McNeela, Susan E. 382
McNeely, Jennifer E. 382
McNeil, John 320
McNeill, K. 285
McNelly, Kristen Joy 382
McNeilly, Steve 316
McNelis, James Edward 382
McNichols, Kelly 214
McNichols, Maureen 214
McQuade, Mike 264
McQuade, Paula Irene 382
McQuary, George 317, 382
McQuinn, Matt 278
McRae, Lynne K. 382
McRedmond, Julie Ann 382
McReynolds, Amy K. 269, 382
McReynolds, Kevin 290
McRoberts, T. 285, 382
McTaggart, Charlotte 234
McTaggart, Maria 234
McVeigh, Pam 236
McWethy, Jim 278
McWhinney, Jay 293, 382
Mead, Hillary 238
Meadows, Lisa 302
Mecklenburg, Dave 306, 382
Mede, Kari 262
Medema, Jeffrey Scott 280, 382
Medewar, Monique 224
Medvin, Steve 286, 382
Mehl, Laura Marie 382
Mehling, R. 291
Mehmel, Maribeth 208
Mehta, Roshni 216, 314
Meid, Steve 275
Meier, Steve 206
Meier, Thomas C. 382
Meils, Jody 206
Meiners, Tracey D. 382
Meir, Doug 274
Meisenheimer, Lois 307
Meister, Eric 304, 334, 382
Melady, Colleen 298
Melady, Liz 318
Melam, Dave 259
Melby, John Bethune 328, 382
Melinger, Mike 277
Mell, Anna 230
Mell, Meg 230
Mellican, Jordan 334
Mellott, Randy 303
Melnick, Keith 286
Meloy, Bradley M. 382
Melvan, John 283
Memenga, Steve 261
Men's Glee Club 328
Mendelson, Beth 294
Mency, David 288
Menendez, Eric 244
Menke, Laura 248, 267, 382
Mennenga, Phyllis D. 382
Menoni, J. 285, 288
Mensik, Laura 382
Mentjes, Dean Gregory 382
Merchant, Lisa M. 382
Mercury, Linnie 269
Mereckis, Tina 250
Merek, Dan 336
Merekis, Tom 246
Mergenthaler, Dawn 316, 382
Meriedith, Cheryl A. 382
Merkley, J. 285
Merle, Christine 292, 339
Meronek, Renee T. 382
Merritt, Tom 76
Mervin, Mary 230, 382
Merwin, David Holt 382
Mesa, Ruben 206
Meseke, David William 280, 382
Messervy, Jennifer 248
Messamore, Jill 224
Messamore, Kristen N. 382
Metcalf, Lisa 234
Metin, Brian 283
Metro, Kathy 262
Metropoulos, Anna 238, 382
Metz, Daren 228, 325
Metz, Dave 277, 382
Metz, Kathy 248
Metzger, Tim 334
Mevell, Jeff 292
Meyes, Raef 279
Mewes, Brian 338
Meyer, David Lee 382
Meyer, Don 328
Meyer, Gail Ann 324, 382
Meyer, Heidi Ann 216, 382
Meyer, Jaclyn M. 240, 382
Meyer, Jamie 307
Meyer, Jeannie 222
Meyer, Jeff 336
Meyer, Joel 275
Meyer, Lorene L. 331, 382
Meyer, Lucie A. 224, 309, 382
Meyer, Melinda Marie 254, 382
Meyer, Mike 327
Meyer, Tom 333
Meyer, Vicki 262
Meyers, Deborah 250
Mezel, Tim 297, 382
Mho, Michi 327
Miarecki, George 261
Michaels, Krissy 298, 382
Michaels, Rick 277
Michaels, Tracey 295
Michaelson, Julie 250
Michal, Marilyn 316
Michalowski, Laura M. 238, 305, 382
Michel, Christopher P. 3285, 309, 382
Michel, Mary 226
Michlik, Susan Ann 382
Mickey, Kristin 250
Mickey, Robert George 384
Mickle, Beth 262
Middendorf, Jody 330
Middendorf, Matt 278
Middleton, Margaret J. 262, 332, 384
Midland, Mark 273
Midland, Mike 273
Miedlae, Nancy Mary 384
Mier, Lisa Nicole 210, 323, 384
Migdal, Christel 210
Migut, Melissa 216
Mihael, Nicholas H. 333, 384
Mihelich, Mary Susan 269, 384

November 25

More than 500,000 Czechoslovakians gather in Prague to voice their support of democratic changes in their country.

AP

December 1

Pope John Paul II meets with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev in the first ever meeting between a Soviet leader and the head of Catholics.

AP

December 4

Communist leader Egon Krenz and his entire government resigned in East Germany. This was the shortest reign of any leader in the country's history.

AP

- Miheve, Dave 290
 Mikes, Brian 267
 Mikkelsen, Tiffany 262
 Mikoda, John 286
 Mikol, Mark 283
 Mikolajczak, Natalie 222, 384
 Mikowski, Halina 335
 Mikucki, William 261
 Mikulina, Deb 212
 Mikulski, Pamela Ann 312, 384
 Mikvta, Jim 273
 Milani, Michael K. 384
 Milas, Mary Beth 208, 384
 Millar, Brian Michael 384
 Milleker, Susan 212, 296
 Milleker, William 288
 Miller, Brian 300
 Miller, Bruce 263, 326
 Miller, Cathy 262
 Miller, Charlene Kay 384
 Miller, Clifford E. 384
 Miller, Dena Kay 274, 384
 Miller, Diana 262
 Miller, Doug 293
 Miller, Frank M. 384
 Miller, Gary 283, 339
 Miller, Gary Edward 384
 Miller, Gregory A. 47, 336, 384
 Miller, Harry 283
 Miller, Heath 297
 Miller, James Patrick 384
 Miller, James Richard 384
 Miller, Jeff 64
 Miller, Jim 326
 Miller, Joy 338
 Miller, Julie 210
 Miller, Julie 234
 Miller, Justi 214
 Miller, Krista A. 384
 Miller, Kristin 234
 Miller, Marey 295
 Miller, Matt 277
 Miller, Melinda 240
 Miller, Melinda Jo 384
 Miller, Michelle M. 315, 384
 Miller, Pam 234
 Miller, Randall Allen 293, 384
 Miller, Rhett Lee 339, 384
 Miller, Sahrina L. 316, 384
 Miller, Sara 208
 Miller, Scott 264
 Miller, Scott 280
 Miller, Scott 316
 Miller, Scott Michael 384
 Miller, Shannon 224
 Miller, Stephen Duane 384
 Miller, Steve 277
 Miller, Steven 283
 Miller, Susanne L. 296, 331, 384
 Miller, Terri 294, 333
 Miller, Tiffani 224
 Millerick, Mike 281
 Milliman, Kelly 218, 384
 Mills, Karen 236
 Millstone, Caryn 295
 Milman, Kelsey 314
 Milner, Brent Bradley 384
 Milord, Jackie 234, 384
 Min, Sarah 248
 Min, Sun Young 216, 384
 Min, Woongkee 384
 Miner, Krista 212
 Mini, Colleen 298
 Mini, Lisa 298
 Minor, David 384
 Minority Commerce Assoc. 204
 Minotillo, M. 285
 Minotillo, P. 285
 Minshall, Todd 303
 Mirabella, Julie 210
 Mirghafori, Nikki 280
 Mirkovich, Mike 261, 327
 Mirman, Jeff 278
 Mirsky, Mark 286
 Miruki, Sekine 384
 Misevich, Debbie 224, 384
 Mishkin, Ross 258
 Mistry, Kalpesh 384
 Mitchell, Anna Marie 384
 Mitchell, Byron 316
 Mitchell, Johnathan 326
 Mitchell, Patrice 280, 319
 Mitchell, Paul 242
 Mitchell, Thomas Paul 384
 Mitchell, Todd Philip 384
 Mitchell, Valerie 384
 Mitsdarfer, Christina 384
 Mittelstad, Greg 288
 Mittleman, Michelle 384
 Mittleman, Tracy 384
 Mitzenmacher, Stephanie 295
 Mizwicki, Katie 218, 335
 Mleczko, Sam E. 384
 Mleczko, Doug John 384
 Mo, Joe 292
 Mohley, Dale 206, 384
 Mochizuki, Koki 384
 Modder, D. 285
 Moeckler, Leslie Sue 384
 Moeller, Christy Kay 384
 Mohan, Craig J. 384
 Mohlenkamp, Laura 250, 384
 Mohler, Heather 329
 Mohn, Fred 330
 Mohr, Christina Lee 384
 Mohrman, Denis 262
 Mohrman, Diane 339
 Moiso, Kirsten 248
 Molander, Kris 248
 Molina, Angel 216, 384
 Molitor, Jennifer 214, 323, 384
 Moll, Julia 226, 384
 Molnar, Douglas C. 384
 Molson, Bridget 236
 Molyneaux, Edmund 296, 384
 Molzan, Janet Lynn 384
 Momsen, Cynthia 250
 Monder, Ed 273, 313, 384
 Mondero, Christine 238
 Mondero, Dennis Jude 384
 Monen, George 327
 Monge, Carol 236, 384
 Monica, Barb La 232
 Monical, Vince 327
 Monk, Brenda Lynn 238, 384
 Monkman, M. 285
 Monroe, Barbara Jean 208, 384
 Monroe, Dave 326
 Monroy, Sandra 205, 230
 Montalbano, Roh 333
 Montgomery, Erica L. 384
 Montgomery, Nici 250
 Moody, Catherine E. 384
 Moody, Jim 326
 Moody, John Austin 384
 Moody, Julie 222
 Moon, Dorothy Hye Y. 384
 Moore, James Loren 384
 Moore, Jeffrey Robert 384
 Moore, Jill Renee 384
 Moore, K. 285
 Moore, Melissa K. 216, 314, 384
 Moore, Michelle 212
 Moore, Scott 275
 Moore, Shannon 208
 Moore, Sherryl Denise 384
 Moore, Susan 236
 Moore, Terry 230
 Moore, Tracie 195
 Mora, Angelica Lynn 384
 Morales, Carlos E. 384
 Morales, Gladys 294, 333
 Morales, Karla 294
 Moran, Erin 232, 294
 Moran, Erin M. 384
 Moran, Mike 267
 Moran, Mike 297
 Moran, Sheila 230
 Moran, Tom 206, 314, 315
 Moran III, Thomas P. 384
 Moreland, Jeffrey 384
 Moresco, Susan 238, 282, 384
 Moretti, Alan Joseph 384
 Morey, Kim 307
 Morgan, Angie 238
 Morgan, Angie 282
 Morgan, Brain Douglas 384
 Morgan, Carol Ann 384
 Morgan, Greg 206, 276
 Morgan, M. 285
 Morgan, Scott 286
 Morgan, Willie 261
 Mori, Yoko 306
 Moriarty, Katherine 384
 Morikuni, James Jiro 384
 Morikuni, Robert S. 384
 Moroney, Ann 238
 Moroney, John 333
 Moroni, J. 285
 Morris, Alicia Ann 384
 Morris, Brad 328
 Morris, Dave 297
 Morris, Jami 379
 Morris, Kim 224
 Morris, Nancy 313, 322
 Morris, Sarah 250
 Morris, Thomas Harold 384
 Morrison, Amy 238
 Morrison, Dana 222
 Morrison, Gary Lyman 384
 Morrison, Jackie 216
 Morrisette, Matthew 384
 Morrissey, Doug 300
 Morrow, Jill 222
 Morrow, Joe 312
 Morrow, Kevin Patrick 384
 Morse, Jeff 296
 Mortar Board 309
 Morton, Craig 204, 285, 327, 384
 Morton, Pamela Denise 384
 Morton, Sara 296
 Moscoso, Walter 384
 Mosely, Yvette 384
 Moser, Daniel Edward 384
 Moss, Donna L. 232, 322, 384
 Moss, Percy 304
 Moss, Sara 204
 Mostonfi, Liz 318
 Mostowfi, Diana 234
 Mostowfi, Lisa 234
 Motley, Kerry 228
 Mouhelis, Melissa 208, 384
 Mouhelis, Michelle 208, 386
 Mountz, Bobby 339
 Mowery, Andrew Peter 386
 Moyano, Adri 238
 Moyer, Joe 278
 Moyer, Mary M. 386
 Mraz, Julie 232
 Mraz, Kimberly Ann 236, 386
 Mroz, Kathleen Mary 386
 MTD 60
 Mudlong, Erice 234
 Mueller, Christina 212, 335, 336
 Mueller, Christine K. 386
 Mueller, Dan 290
 Mueller, Erica Lynn 386
 Mueller, Jim 270
 Mueller, Joan Beth 386
 Mueller, Michael John 386
 Mueller, Tina Marie 386
 Muentzer, Tim 296, 331
 Muhammad, Abdul 386
 Muhammad, Sheelah E. 386
 Mui, Peter Hon-Fung 386
 Mukherjee, Udit K. 386
 Mulcahey, Richard 261, 264
 Muldovan, Jennifer 269
 Muldowney, Mark 246
 Mulhall, Valerie 248
 Mulhern, Jennie 218, 318
 Mullan, Wendy Ann 386
 Mulligan, Sean 145
 Mullins, James 283
 Mummy 380
 Mun, Minah 214
 Munday, Julie 236
 Munez, Henry 273
 Muniz, Albert 244, 254
 Munoz, Heather 222
 Munro, Laura C. 386
 Munson, Kirsten Marie 386
 Mura, Theresa 222
 Muranko, Amy 214
 Murawska, J. 291
 Murer, Matt 279
 Murges, Peter 288
 Murman, Mark S. 386
 Murphy, Cathy 216
 Murphy, Christopher S. 386
 Murphy, Erin 238
 Murphy, Jeanne 234
 Murphy, John 386
 Murphy, Kevin 333
 Murphy, Marnie 216, 267, 386
 Murphy, Matt 314
 Murphy, Patrick 260, 302, 309
 Murphy, Patrick J. 386
 Murphy, Therese 216
 Murphy, Tom 336
 Murray, John Patrick 386
 Murray, Lianne P. 386
 Murray, Sean 292
 Musselman, Julie 325
 Mutman, Sandra Aylin 296, 386
 Myers, Matt 326
 Myers, Mitch 281
 Myles, Michele 261
 Mylin, Melissa 222
 Myslinski, Andre 261

N

- Na, Kirsey 224
 Nahat, Scott 254
 Nahielec, Michael 395
 Nabor House 307
 Nachowicz, Leigh C. 386
 Nadler, Michael 337
 Nafphtis, Evanthia 386
 Nagel, Joanne Lynne 386
 Nagel, Kathy 216, 386
 Nagel, Kimberly M. 386
 Nagel, Molly 210
 Nagle, Bridget 262
 Nagle, Richard 386
 Nagle, Suzy 269
 Nagreski, David L. 386
 Naim, Zaini 306
 Najmi, Anwar 274
 Nam, Ty Taik 266, 386
 Namowicz, Diana 335, 386
 Naples, Christine 386
 Narayana, Kavitha 232
 Narens, M. 285, 386
 Narrol, Scott 258
 Nash, Cynthia Lynn 386
 Nash, John 270
 Nash, Julie Marie 386
 Nash, Kirsten Marie 386
 Nash, Tiffany 208
 Nasser, Dalila 386
 Natividad, Phil 16, 386
 Natividad, Reggie S. 386, 442
 Naughton, Pat 274
 Naujoks, Jill 302, 386
 Naumer, Sara 248
 Nauyokas, Sylvia 292
 Navarette, Sherri 262
 Nawara, Sarah Judine 222, 386
 Neal, Elizabeth Ann 210, 386
 Neal, James Preston V. 386
 Neal, Pete 279
 Neal, Scott 327
 Neal, Teresa Lynn 386

December 19

The Pennsylvania State University accepted the Big Ten's invitation to join the conference as its 11th member. It's 27 men's and women's varsity sports teams competed as a member of the Atlantic 10 and as an independent in football.

photo by Scott Jacobson

December 23

U.S. government sends troops to Panama to hunt down Manuel Noriega.

Nebrida, Patricia J. 212, 386
 Nee, Larry 274
 Neel, Suzy 218
 Neel, Toni 292
 Nefike, Marybeth 224, 254, 386
 Nehrt, Andrea 305
 Neuburger, Ben 12
 Neidinger, Matthew 280, 288, 331
 Nejman, Mary Ellen 386
 Nelle, Joe 326
 Nellenman, Steve 286
 Nelson, Amy 238
 Nelson, Amy Lynn 386
 Nelson, Andrew W. 386
 Nelson, Brian 246
 Nelson, Deanna 307
 Nelson, Eric 333
 Nelson, Jeffrey 268, 314
 Nelson, Jill 250
 Nelson, Julie 299
 Nelson, Julie 310
 Nelson, Julie 335
 Nelson, Julie Ann 386
 Nelson, Kerry 214
 Nelson, Kim 269
 Nelson, Kris 218
 Nelson, Kristin 224
 Nelson, Lisa Marie 386
 Nelson, Mark 306
 Nelson, Mark William 386
 Nelson, Scott 175
 Nelson, Traci L. 386
 Nemivant, Arun J. 386
 Nena, Michael Anthony 386
 Nerad, Amy 269
 Nerstad, Kristin 208
 Neruda, Steven R. 386
 Nesler, Jeff 259
 Neton, Jason 333
 Netral, Emmanuelle 339
 Neuburger, Jim 300
 Neuhaus, Tad 296
 Neuhoft, David Ross 386
 Neul, Jeff 206
 Neuman, Coleen 250
 Neumann, Karin R. 339, 386
 Neumann, Marshall G. 386
 Neumann, Nate 228, 386
 Neusma, Jonathan 254
 Neve, Tracy 238
 Neville, Jennifer J. 212, 386
 Nevis, Dan 297
 New Student Week 58
 Newcastle, Biff 327
 Newell, Michele 216
 Newhouse, Allison 214, 386
 Newitt, Daniel 276
 Newkirk, Pete 333

Newman, Brian 277
 Newman, Mary 317
 Newman, Ruth 250
 Newman, Stacy 295
 Newport, Dan 261
 Newport, Monica 208
 Newton, Amy 292
 Nguyen, Phi 288
 Nguyen, Daniel Dzong 386
 Nguyen, Hoang Huy 386
 Nguyen, Phi 267
 Nguyen, Thanh Viet 386
 Nguyen, Trang 280
 Nguyen, Trang Quynh 386
 Ni, Annie 320
 Nibbio, Paul Nicholas 386
 Nibert, Tamatha 262
 Nicastro, Tracey 262
 Nিকে, Jennifer S. 386
 Nicolopoulou, Lambrini 336
 Nicpon, Greg 279, 318
 Nield, Eric 258
 Nielsen, Kathleen M. 386
 Nielsen, Scott 386
 Nielson, Gail 250
 Nieman, Katie 269
 Niemann, Carl James 386
 Niemeier, Nancy Jo 208, 386
 Niepert, Alice 299
 Nierman, Andrew 290
 Nieto, Enrique 264
 Niesma, Johnathon 254
 Niewiara, James A. 386
 Nigg, Michele 386
 Nimmo, Megan K. 310, 386
 Nischan, Hendrica 386
 Nisevich, Nickolas R. 386
 Nitsche, Matthew 283
 Nitzsche, Daniel 281, 333, 386
 Nixon, Lawrence A. 261, 386
 Niziolek, John Joseph 386
 Noah, Kimberly Jean 218, 386
 Nochumson, Julie 294
 Nocon, James 280, 386
 Noel, Jackie 310
 Noffziger, Gail 262
 Nogacz, Daria B. 386
 Noh, Sunna 386
 Nolan, Greg 270
 Nolan, Kisten 269
 Nolan, Mary Elizabeth 386
 Nolan, Sally Marie 250, 386
 Nolder, Jennifer 224
 Noll, Alyssa Lenora 386
 Noll, Amy 218
 Noll, Erika 327
 Nolte, Eric Kevin 386
 Nommensen, Amy 238
 Noojibail, Sheila 311

Noonan, Thomas A. 386
 Nordlund, Eric 327
 Nordvedt, Linda 232
 Norkus, Mary Jo 302, 386
 Norman, Bob 290
 Norman, Carl William 279, 386
 Norman, Lee Ann 262, 332, 386
 Norris, John Michael 386
 Norris, Patti 304
 Norris, Shelly 222
 Norte, Michael Gerald 386
 North, Andy 228, 324, 330
 Norvell, Joe 336
 Noth, Catherine 22
 Noth, Geoff 286
 Novak, J. 291
 Novak, James Brian 273, 313, 386
 Novi, Laura Lee 222, 305, 386
 Nowick, Corey 259
 Novop, Chris 276
 Novosel, Scott 281
 Novotny, Wendy 339
 Novotony, Steve 288
 Novy, Steve 278
 Nowak, Lisa 212
 Nowak, Nancy 304
 Nowak, Tony 297
 Nowling, Amy Lynn 236, 388
 Nunn, Santita Doroy 388
 Nuxoll, Barbara 304, 334
 Nuxoll, Debbie 304
 Nuzzo, David Scott 388
 Nye, Phil 303
 Nyquist, C. 285
 Nyugen, Trang 230

O

O'Brien, Maureen 238
 O'Connor, Kelly 210
 O'Beirne, Michael 244, 388
 O'Brien, Brian James 388
 O'Brien, Charles T. 388
 O'Brien, Dan 242
 O'Brien, Denise 216
 O'Brien, Karen E. 388
 O'Brien, Sherrie 212
 O'Callaghan, Sean 316
 O'Connell, Jerry 242
 O'Connor, Rod 297
 O'Connor, D. 285
 O'Connor, Greg 293
 O'Connor, Heather 212
 O'Connor, Kathy 238
 O'Connor, M. 291
 O'Connor, Maureen 238
 O'Connor, Mike 258

O'Connor, Scott 108
 O'Connor, Tom 246
 O'Dell, Suzanne 388
 O'Donnell, Anne 208
 O'Donnell, Patti 296, 331
 O'Donnell, Phil 288
 O'Donnell, Scot 327
 O'Fallon, Debbie 312
 O'Hara, John 270
 O'Hara, Meg 230
 O'Hare, Carrie 313, 388
 O'Hare, John Francis 388
 O'Hare, Sarah Jane 388
 O'Keefe, Jennie 238
 O'Malley, Ted 327
 O'Neal, Rick 176, 177, 327
 O'Neill, Leanne 240
 O'Neill, Kelley Rose 388
 O'Neill, Maureen 224
 O'Neill, Timothy M. 388
 O'Reilly, Kathleen 234, 388
 O'Rourke, Thomas 280
 O'Shaughnessy, Tom 332
 O'Shea, Mike 327
 Obernesser, David M. 388
 Odle, Beth 335
 Odle, Kelli 224
 Odums, Angela Mable 325, 388
 Odstendorp, Kristin Diane 388
 Oedewaldt, Jennifer 195, 218
 Oeffinger, Christine 388
 Oelschlaeger, Fred 267
 Oertel, Jason 228
 Oetgen, Stephen 246, 334
 Offensive Line 160
 Ogan, Brian 277
 Ogena, Anna 230
 Ogilvie, Donal S. 388
 Ogura, Meiko 222
 Oh, John H. 388
 Oh, Kiko 388
 Oh, Kyung Suk 388
 Ohlers, R. Clinton 388
 Ohlinger, Brigid 238
 Ohlson, Beth 294
 Oitker, David 268, 314
 Okon, Julie Ann 222, 388
 Oldani, James 244
 Older Students 80
 Oldson, Christine 234
 Oldson, Lisa Marie 234, 338
 Olendzky, Diane 214, 310, 388
 Olesker, Peter 337
 Olevra, Kelaine 248
 Olges, Brett 254
 Oliver, Joan 234
 Obver, Stacy 218
 Olmstead, Brett N. 303, 388
 Olsansky, Alex 270

Olsen, Amy 296
 Olsen, Chip 263
 Olsen, Christopher 288
 Olsen, Debra Anne 388
 Olsen, Ken 273
 Olsen, Michael 268
 Olsen, Patty 208
 Olson, Jeff 265, 303
 Olson, Mark Milton 388
 Olson, Paul William 220, 388
 Olson, Rachel 248
 Olson, Ruby Diane 388
 Olson, Scott 265, 303
 Olson, Stephanie 262
 Olszewski, April 222
 Olvera, Kelaine M. 248, 388
 Ong, Greg 265, 303
 Onorato, Janine 210, 388
 Oostendorp, Heather 218, 322
 Oostendorp, Kristin 218
 Opila, Charlotte Sue 388
 Opsal, Robert Allen 189, 388
 Orals, Michael David 300, 388
 Orbach, Lou 259
 Orchard, Elizabeth A. 388
 Oreutt, Holly K. 388
 Order of Omega 282
 Orelik, Kristie Ann 334, 388
 Orington, Valerie L. 388
 Orkild, Bridgette E. 388
 Orlovski, Jamie 388
 Ornduff, Jason 265, 303
 Orr, Dave 297
 Orr, Dawn 240
 Orr, John 303
 Orrenius, Pia M. 388
 Orth, Mark Joseph 388
 Orthofer, Julie 248, 320
 Ortiz, Elsa 236
 Ortner, Cathy 269
 Orton, Dawn 238
 Orzak, Cory Anthony 279, 388
 Osing, Todd Bruning 388
 Oslovich, Suzanne 388
 Osman, Jen 250
 Ossmann, Thomas R. 388
 Osswald, Julie Marie 388
 Ostendorf, Karl 305
 Ostendorf, Mike 261
 Osterbur, Noelle R. 388
 Ostermeier, Missy 232
 Ostieni, Deanna 292
 Ostrowski, Brett W. 388
 Ostry, Jim 282
 Osunsami, Stephen 276
 Oswald, David A. 388
 Otero, Pedro 297
 Othon, Edward 261, 332
 Ottaviani, John 296, 331, 388

Ottenstein, Patti 222
 Otter, William Robert 261, 388
 Ottney, Meredith M. 335, 388
 Otto, Duane 307
 Otto, Kelly 214, 296
 Otto, Rich 242
 Ottoson, Chris 269
 Ouano, Robert Veloso 388
 Ouwenga, Michelle 238
 Owens, Evan Lee 388
 Owens, Fred 332
 Owens, Jeffrey Scott 388
 Owens, Jennifer 298
 Owles, Dave 273
 Owles, Julie 236

P

Paarlberg, Laura 208
 Pabich, Kathleen L. 222, 388
 Pachikara, Cindy 289
 Pachikara, Annie C. 388
 Pachikara, Susan 226
 Packer, Andrew 337
 Packheiser, Matt 206
 Packhouse, Brian 284
 Padilla, Francis R. 388
 Orington, Valerie L. 388
 Page, Cindy 234
 Page, Dexter 325
 Pagonis, Paul 336
 Pahriss, Kristy 222
 Paisley, Brad 327
 Pak, Kevin Young Joon 388
 Pakenham, Jennifer 232
 Palasz, Karl 288
 Palazzolo, Mark A. 335, 388
 Pales, Kara 292
 Pallas, Debbie 234, 335
 Pallas, Mike 336
 Palm, Stacy Lyn 388
 Palmer, Sarah J. 296, 331
 Palomino, M. 285
 Palumbo, Todd Louise 388
 Panek, Barb 296
 Panhellenic Council Executive Board 322
 Pankus, Sharon Leigh 388, 269
 Pannaralla, Janet 214
 Panopols, Tom 284
 Padella, Linda D. 388, 232
 Paoni, Dave 300
 Papadakis, Margo Lea 388, 250
 Papisideris, Angela 388
 Papesch, Jim 281
 Papineau, Renee Ann 388, 317
 Papineau, Scott 261
 Papodakos, Margo 250

December 25

Christmas gifts. This year Batman, Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles, Oopse Daisy Dolls and Holiday Barbies top the wish lists of kids.

January 1, 1990

Illini are victorious (31-21) at the Citrus Bowl in Orlando, Fla., against the University of Virginia. This was the first bowl game victory for the Illini in 26 years.

TRUS BOWL ORLANDO
VIRGINIA	21	ILLINI	31
DOWN 3	2	TIME OUTS LEFT	2
YDS. TO GO	3	22 BALL
RUSHING	106	187 RUSH
PASSING	203	32 PASSI
TOTAL	309	508 TOT.

photo by Scott Jacobson

- Para, Kim 269
Paraprofessional Career Consultants 46
Pardol, Deborah Ann 388, 232
Parduhn, Michael F. 388, 263
Parent, Dave 273
Parent, Laura Susan 388, 238
Parillo, Sharon 222
Paris, Anne G. 388, 336
Parise, Amy 262, 318
Parisi, Kathy 250
Parisi, Tom 337
Park, Daniel H. 317
Park, David 276
Park, II H. 388
Park, Priscilla 319
Park, Ruth Eun 388
Park, Shirley 388
Park, Sue 218
Parker, Debbie 218
Parker, Eric Lavell 388
Parker, Jonathan B. 388, 303
Parker, K. 285
Parker, Matt 259
Parker, Sallyann 296, 250
Parker, Sheda 296
Parker, Heather 224, 331
Parking 318
Parkins, Diane Lynne 388, 224
Parman, Rena Susan 388
Parmeter, Julie 262
Parr, Joy 240
Parr, Kristen 269
Parrott, Cynthia E. 388
Parry, Jen 234
Parvin, Shelly Ann 388, 238
Pascoc, Michael C. 388
Pasmore, Tom 334
Pasulka, Andy 332
Patel, Amit 274
Patel, Jaymin M. 388
Patel, Ripal 216
Patel, Sujal J. 388
Patel, Vaishalini K. 388
Pates, Tisha 238
Pathak, Heeren H. 388, 328
Pathenos, Fr.Niek 336
Patinikin, Stacy Lois 388
Patras, Mary 238
Patt, Esther 115
Patt, Michelle B. 388
Patterson, Amy 208
Patterson, Lisa Jane 388
Pattison, Kelly 230
Patton, Curt 326
Patton, Tricia 224
Patyk, Kim 234
Paul, Vicki 216, 310
Pauley, Michelle Lee 388, 261
Paulsen, Jon 244
Paulson, Amy 210, 323
Paulus, Lori 236
Pavey, Glenn 244
Pavone, Ronse Joseph 388
Paw, Kacey Jo 388
Pawelczyk, Michael 326
Pawelko, Susan Rita 388
Pawl, Amanda 218, 322
Pawlak, Dan 279
Pawlow, Scott Allan 388, 327
Pawlowski, Sue 216
Pawlowski, Tom 327
Paxhia, Jen 234
Payne, Brad 316
Payne, Chris 222
Payne, Craig Steven 388
Payne, Jennifer 311
Payne, Laverne Monise 390
Payne, Rhonda 390
Payne, Sharon 292, 339
Payne, Stephen Ellis 390
Paynter, Thomas R. 390
Payton, Jacqueline A. 390
Payton, Julie 226
Peabody, Ann 226, 264, 305
Peak, Pamma Jean 390, 442
Pearl, Tom 336
Pearlman, Scott 277
Pearson, Allen Lenart 390
Pease, Susan Jane 390
Peck, Gregg 299
Peck, Lynne 238
Pedersen, Chris Allen 390
Pederson, Krista Lee 390, 210
Pederson, Mary 216, 267
Peecher, Matthew L. 390
Penn State 196
Peer Counseling 46
Peiper, Robert Louis 390
Pelley, Greg 312
Pellicore, Krista 294, 322
Pellman, Amy 295
Pelszynski, Lana 248
Pelz, Laura Kay 390
Pelzer, Greg 306
Pemble, Amy 222
Pena, Alfonso R. 390
Pena, Angie 234
Pena, Diane 266
Pena, Ernest 261, 314
Pena, T. 285
Pendelton, Kimberly D. 390
Pendelton, Margaret 390, 208
Penner, Ira 277
Pepper, Cam 130
Pepple, Joda 304
Peragine, Thomas 326
Peres, Jeannine 236
Perez, Katherine 390, 269
Perez, Rudy 270
Periaswamy, Dan 260
Perkins, Deborah Lynn 390
Perkins, Jennifer L. 390
Perkins, Joan 262, 332
Perkins, Ray 261
Perla, Wendy 295
Perlman, Steve 332
Perlot, Robert 292
Perlstein, Sherri 224
Peron, Dan Slawko 390
Perona, Bruce 265, 303, 390
Perozzi, Julie Louise 390, 248
Perrigo, Christopher 296
Perrin, Julie 226
Perry, Jennifer 210
Perry, Jim 264
Perry, Joseph 390
Perry, Kenny 304
Perry, Sandra D. 390, 216, 304
Perry, Tamara Evette 390
Perschke, Jim 264
Pershing, Michael A. 390
Person, David 312
Pesavento, John 264
Pesch, Pamma Jean 390, 442
Peter, Linda 269
Peter, Michael 311
Peter, Steve 114
Peterka, Edward 390, 242
Peterman, Lance G. 390
Peters, Emily 230
Peters, Eric 228, 320, 321, 330
Peters, James B. 390, 327
Peters, Kim Marie 390
Peters, Kristin 232
Peters, Lisa 238
Petersen, Matt 274
Peterson, Bill 258
Peterson, Bob 265
Peterson, Bob 303
Peterson, Colette T. 390
Peterson, Dave 336
Peterson, David J. 390
Peterson, James D. 390, 263
Peterson, Kawn 208
Peterson, Lara Marie 390
Peterson, Lauren 222
Peterson, Lori Ann 390, 208
Peterson, Robert 312
Peterson, Susanne 232
Petratis, Luke 130
Petrizzo, Leah 318
Petrolati, Amy 261
Petropoul, James 336
Petroskey, Steven M. 390
Petrow, Keri 210
Petrow, Penny Ann 390, 234, 282, 309
Petty, Jeff 279
Pettyjohn, Erik 261
Peugh, Mike 274
Pezza, Kathryn M. 390, 250
Pfauensteil, Brad 286
Pfau, Julie Rae 390, 305
Pfeffer, Gretchen 240, 331
Pfeffer, Jo Ann 390
Pfeiffer, John 326, 290
Pfeiler, Chuck 263
Pfieffer, Chad 327
Pfister, Martha 195, 248
Pflederer, Kent 275
Pflederer, Teri 307
Pfluger, Greg 325
Pforr, Kelly 316
Pham, Giao 234
Phan, Hoang Tan 390
Phelan, Christine 226
Phelps, Brandon 283
Phelps, Thomas A. 390, 280
Phi Beta Chi 313
Phi Delta Theta 303
Phi Gamma Nu 305
Phi Kapp Theta 300
Phi Kappa Phi 264
Phi Kappa Psi 297
Phi Kappa Sigma 242
Phi Kappa Tau 327
Phi Mu 222
Phi Sigma Kappa 291
Phi Sigma Sigma 216
Philanthropies 308
Philips, Adam 293
Phillip, Mike 242
Phillips, Adam Lane 390, 293
Phillips, Chad 274
Phillips, Kelli Sue 390
Phillips, Leonard T. 204
Phillips, Mark 316
Phillips, Michele 226
Photographers 332
Pi Beta Phi 208
Pi Kappa Alpha 263
Pi Lambda Phi 259
Pi Sigma Alpha 305
Pianfetti, Brian 190
Piasynski, Jim 261
Piatkowski, Jennifer 323
Piatkowski, Lisa 230, 322
Piatt, Lori 240
Piazza, Jennifer 210
Pica, Joe 261
Picard, Erika Ruth 390
Pickett, Paula Kay 390
Picton, Kristy 26
Pieklo, Lisa Diane 390
Pielsticker, Anne C. 390
Pierce, Judith L. 390, 212
Pierce, Kirsten 234
Pierce, Susan A. 390
Pierceall, Jennifer 238
Pierides, Philippos 336
Pieschel, Jim 279
Piggush, Michael E. 390
Pignotti, Jill 250
Pilapil, Raymond E. 390
Pilcher, Sue 214
Pidditch, Matthew L. 390
Pidenyi, Janos 190
Pillai, Kris 264
Pine, Lisa 250
Pine, Phil 288
Pine, Amy Jeanne 390
Pine, David 308, 310
Pinkowski, Sandy 248
Pinkowski, Susan M. 390, 90
Pinnow, Susan Lynn 390
Pinson, Jeffrey W. 390
Pinzyk, James Robert 390
Pipitone, Andrew J. 390, 270
Pirc, Geanine 234
Pirok, Ken 335
Pisarro, Dave 327
Pisarski, Rich 270
Pitelka, Joy 238, 331
Pitman, Marsha Kay 390
Pittenger, Danette 236, 261
Pitts, Brian S. 390
Pitts, Jeff 274
Pizzo, William C. 390
Plac, Sharon J. 390, 310
Placek, Heather W. 390, 216
Placek, Stephani 317
Plair, Angie 234
Plantan, Karen 230
Plapp, Brendan Bryce 390
Plata, Richard D. 390
Plattner, Beth 208
Pleasant, Amy Lynne 390
Plehanek, Ed 300
Pletz, John 256, 330
Plofsky, Matt Steven 390
Plote, Roy Elmer 390
Plummer, Christine B. 390
Plummer, Scott Robert 390
Plumpe, John 327
Pluskota, Theresa A. 390
Poczekaj, Gina 230
Poddig, Jennifer 390, 292, 294
Podgorski, Daniel R. 390, 338
Podjasek, Jeff 321
Podl, Katie 224
Podraza, Brian A. 390
Podraza, Sandra Susan 390
Poindexter, Jason 300
Poland, Cindy 208
Polleit, Trisha 335
Police Training Institute 50
Polihronidis, John 336
Polios, Michelle 336
Politics 100
Polk, Shannon 248
Pollowy, Timothy R. 390
Polske, Petra 390
Polz, Laura 261
Poma, Al 292
Pomaro, Greg 299
Pomeroy, Christa Lynn 390
Pomeroy, Michele 226, 292
Ponder, Deborah Sue 390
Pontarelli, Veronica 236
Ponzak, Jeff 256
Ponzer, Deidre Ann 390, 232
Pool, Mark C. 390, 206, 323
Poole, Brian 275
Pope, Joseph Guy 390, 297
Porphy, Eric 316
Populorum, Michael J. 390, 303
Porch, Jason 303
Porritt, Beth 269
Porter, David 304
Porter, Matt 327
Porter, Susanne Janet 390
Portillo, Amalia 261
Postlewaite, John 390
Pothoff, Johnna 332, 208, 262
Potochniak, Susan 236
Pottechaum, Karen Lynn 390
Pottgen, Troy 274
Pothoff, Johnna Jo 390
Potts, Matt 326
Poulos, Deena 336, 339
Poulos, Peter W. 390
Poulson, Amy Lynn 390
Pounr, Christine D. 390
Homecoming Execs 321
Powell, Anthony 327
Powell, Kelly 318
Powell, Lynn Marie 390, 269
Powell, Mark Steven 390
Powell, Tim 327
Power, John Michael 390
Powers, Jennifer 292
Powers, Tanja 238, 282, 390, 442
Poy, Bill 326
Prahakar, Deepak 280, 390
Pracht, James Edward 390
Pradiges, Ron 296
Prall, Jeff 275
Pranger, Laurie Lynne 392
Prasso, David 321
Pratt, Paul Richard 392
Pre Vet Club 292
Prebish, Greg 277

AP

January 7

Manuel Noreiga surrenders to U.S. troops after taking refuge in the Vatican embassy. U.S. soldiers had been playing loud rock music outside the embassy in hopes of encouraging the Panamanian dictator to give himself up.

Predavic, Lisa 238
 Prendergast, Jeannie 250, 392
 Presblock, Anne 269
 Preston, Mike 277
 Prewitt, Betty 318
 Prewitt, Jenny 224
 Price, Dana 295
 Price, Jordi 293
 Price, Latisha Donai 392, 292
 Priest, Rebecca 262, 310
 Prillaman, Ted 284
 Primack, Craig 337
 Primer, Jason 277
 Prince, Dave 311, 392
 Printz, Victoria Jo 392
 Pritts, Todd Eric 392
 Probst, Richard J. 392
 Procbaska, Andrew J. 392
 Procopis, Stephanie J. 392
 Prodanovic, Seka 210
 Prodoehl, Rick 244, 392
 Prodrono, Karen 248
 Professor Haefner 68
 Proffitt, Whitney 299
 Prokseh, Penny 224
 Propst, Al 318
 Prosser, Maureen F. 392
 Protus, Cynthia Rae 392
 Provow, Tim 333
 Pruetting, C. 392
 Pruiett, Elizabeth A. 392
 Pruszyński, Ella 392
 Pruzan, Mike 259
 Prystalski, Jodi 210
 Psi Upsilon 265, 303
 Psych 100 Experiments 326
 Puc, Veronica Anna 392
 Puckett, Peggy Anne 392
 Pudar, Steven D. 392
 Pulkrahek, Amy Leigh 392
 Pumo, Ellen 218
 Punch, Tom 13, 84
 Punke, Heidi 240
 Puranasopar, Nison 242
 Purcell, Chris 246
 Purcell, Mark 273
 Purdy, Julie Ann 392
 Puri, Kiran 283
 Puri, Praveen Chandra 392
 Puri, Vikas 291
 Purser, Kristi 218
 Puryear, Lisa 208
 Pusateri, Todd C. 392
 Puzey, Matthew A. 392
 Puzzey, Matt 91
 Pyle, Krista 339
 Pytynia, Stephanie 216, 318, 392

Q

Quach, Chi Ngoc 392
 Quackenbush, Jeff 242
 Quade, Jennifer 334
 Quan, Kathleen 250
 Quandt, Lara 302
 Quick, John 284
 Quigley, Anthony J. 392
 Quinlan, Karen E. 392
 Quinlan, Sue 208
 Quinlan, Tom 327
 Quinn, Dana 280
 Quinn, Frank 316
 Quinn, Joseph E. 392
 Quinert, Jennifer A. 392
 Quintana, Lucy 222, 392
 Quintana, Maria 222, 335
 Quinto, Dan 329
 Quiones, Chris 264
 Quirk, Michele 310, 392
 Quitno, Danny 261
 Quizon, Kenise 226

R

R.O.T.C. 8
 Rabe, Cyndy 248, 320, 321
 Rabe, Tim 333
 Raber, Karla 392
 Rabig, J. Bradley 392
 Rabin, Brad 259
 Rabold, Douglas W.G. 392
 Rachesky, Stacey Beth 392
 Raczek, Kendall 258
 Rader, Jenny 324
 Rader, Michael Dean 392
 Radgowski, Theresa A. 392
 Radice, Thomas R. 392
 Radke, Bruce 264, 282, 305
 Radosh, Caryn 234, 392
 Radosh, Kim 234
 Radtke, Becky 250, 296
 Radvils, Kristina 216
 Raffanti, Danielle 224
 Rafter, Daniel M. 392
 Ragan, Delra Kaye 392
 Ragins, Adam Bryan 392
 Ragucci, Mark 327
 Rahman, Naushina 392
 Rahn, Keith Richard 392
 Raica, Dave 328
 Raimo, J. 285
 Rains, Leigh Ann 313
 Rak, Sheryl Judith 392
 Rakowski, Lisa 262
 Ramey, Beth 230

Ramirez, Ariel 283
 Ramos, Ed 316
 Ramp, Ben 260
 Ramsay, David G. 392
 Ramsey, Ericka Lene 392
 Ramsey, Mike 256
 Rancho, Glenn 305
 Randall, Dawn 294
 Randall, Jane 214, 308, 320
 Randall, Tracy 208
 Randhawa, Kiten Singh 392
 Randol, Dale 279, 392
 Randolph, Julie 330
 Rankin, Teresa Anne 392
 Ransick, Mary Fran 208, 322
 Rao, Ravi Prakash 392
 Rao, Rupa 296
 Raparelli, Kathy 208, 392
 Rape Survey 360
 Rapp, Karen 317
 Rapp, Karen Elizabeth 392
 Rapp, Karen Ingrid 392
 Rapp-Wurm, Heike G. 392
 Rappin, Holly 295, 392
 Rappold, Mike 284
 Raquel, Steve 273
 Raschke, Mike 280
 Rasha, Louise 248
 Rasinski, Jason G. 392
 Rasmussen, Cary 206
 Rasmussen, Jacie 269
 Rastegar, Rodney 242
 Rastovac, Mark David 392
 Ratchiff, Stephanie 298, 305
 Rath, Christopher P. 392
 Ratkus, Frank 300, 392
 Ratter, Dan 256
 Rattray, Scott 264
 Raucchi, Lisa 232
 Rauch, Julie 214
 Rawlish, Chris 232
 Rawls, Sonja S. 392
 Ray, Jeff 307
 Ray, Stan 336
 Raymer, Eric 286
 Raynis, Jennifer 250
 Reagan, Joy 234, 335
 Ream, Joe 242
 Reardon, Brian 254, 327
 Reavlin, Paul 333
 Recamp, Greg 272
 Rech, Leslie 250
 Reck, Brian 306, 392
 Reckamp, Brian 246
 Reckamp, Gregory D. 392
 Redd, Eric 300
 Redd, M. 285
 Redden, Leanne 84
 Reddy, Aprna 234
 Rediger, Mike 284
 Reed, Elizabeth 49
 Reed, Greg 334, 392
 Reed, James Michael 392
 Reed, Kim 28
 Reed, Kim 222
 Reed, Kim 305
 Reed, Melinda M. 392
 Reed, Patrick Joseph 392
 Reed, Phyllecia 204, 392
 Reed, Shelly 289
 Reedy, Amy 238
 Reedy, Lenore 392
 Rees, Brain 278
 Reeves, Ron 317
 Regan, Karen 238
 Registered Organizations 88
 Registration 82
 Rebnierg, Jacquie 298
 Reichbauer, Sonja 224
 Reichers, Dean 325
 Reichert, Heather A. 392
 Reichert, Matt 220
 Reichle, Suzie 216, 392
 Reid, Nancy 210
 Reid, Shelly 312
 Reiling, Rob 228
 Reina, Margarita 248, 266
 Reinertson, Kristin 250
 Reinhart, Edward John 392
 Reinicker, Scot 270
 Reinish, Jennie 295
 Reinke, Valerie 234, 392
 Reinking, Kristen 230
 Reinwald Jr., William 392
 Reis, Mike 280
 Reis, Scott 228, 392
 Reising, Jane Allison 392
 Reisinger, Ann E. 392
 Reiske, Julie Lynn 392
 Reiss, Pamela Rose 392
 Reistroffer, Sara 269
 Reiter, Ronald W. 392
 Reitman, Kim 295, 392
 Reitman, Miriam 313, 319
 Rekuh, Cynthia K. 335, 392
 Remec, Karl 297
 Remis, Elizabeth 295
 Rendziak, Jody 392
 Rennick, Steven Carl 392
 Rennick, Bob 327
 Reno, Angie 331
 Rentas, James M. 91, 392
 Repking, Kristen C. 392
 Repking, Ron Greg 392
 Residence Hall Association 316
 Resident Advisors 22
 Restivo, Kristin 234
 Rettig, Cecili 269

Rettinger, Cheri 236
 Reuter, Dave 254, 392
 Reutter, Ingrid 298, 392
 Revell, Amy 222, 392
 Revell, Valerie 226, 392
 Revilla, Vida 306
 Revwee, Laura 226
 Rewerts, Richard 288
 Rexroad, Max 280
 Rexroat, Darcy 392
 Rexroat, Jeanne M. 392
 Reyer, Julie 317
 Reyes, Carolina 311
 Reyes, Emily 222, 335
 Reyes, Hope 56
 Reyes, John Bernard 392
 Reyes, Rodney 318
 Reynolds, Barry 280, 334, 392
 Reynolds, Dallas 284
 Reynolds, Dana 262, 392
 Reynolds, Ginger 250
 Reynolds, Julie 232
 Reynolds, Melissa 262, 332, 392
 Reynolds, Rhonda 210
 Reynolds, Wendy 216, 394
 Rhee, Sandra 234, 394
 Rhoades, Stephen 73, 276, 287, 394
 Rhoads, Randal 261
 Rhode, Michael 394
 Rhodes, Shannon 262
 Riassetto, Joseph 394
 Riber, Vadim 259
 Riccardio, Kathy 316
 Rice, Gordy 242
 Rice, Mac 264
 Richards, Amy 216
 Richards, Debbie 218
 Richards, Jeffrey 394
 Richardson, Chad 206, 394
 Richardson, E. 285
 Richardson, Jed 278
 Richardson, Julia 208
 Richert, Anita A. 334
 Richmond, Matt 304
 Richter, Anna 317
 Richter, Bret 394
 Richter, Bryan 394
 Richter, Kammie 394
 Richter, Lori 218
 Richter, Padra 218
 Richter, Susan 238, 394
 Ridley, Greg 402
 Riechers, Dean 394
 Riechman, Greg 394
 Riedl, Bret 394
 Riegler, Jennifer 299
 Ries, Michael 280
 Rifakes, Peter 288
 Riffey, Bill 293
 Riffle, James 394
 Riforgiate, Rob 264
 Rigas, Maria 394
 Rigby, Anne 214
 Rigdon, J. 285, 394
 Riggins, Paula 218
 Riggs, Andrew 394
 Riggs, Charles 288, 394
 Riggs, Robert 288
 Riker, Derek 284
 Riker, Drew 284
 Riker, Heather 208, 394
 Riley, Kate 248
 Riley, Sylvia 318
 Rimpakone, Viengkham 335, 394
 Rinaldi, Nancy 248
 Rinaldi, Tammy 248, 321
 Rinaldo, Jeff 246
 Rincker, Nick 261
 Rindal, Karol 218
 Ring, Greg 300
 Ring, Gregory 394
 Ring, Michelle 218, 394
 Ringard, Rich 286
 Ringelstein, Nancy 394
 Ringsrud, Tyra 267
 Ringstad, Erik 394
 Ringwald, Jeffrey 394
 Rio, Genevieve 212
 Riorden, Becky 269
 Riorden, T. 285
 Riccardio, Molly 222
 Ripper, Erik 264
 Risk, Mike 263
 Riskedal, Brad 220
 Riva, Jenny 218
 Rivan, Jennifer 216, 394
 Riventa, Cyrus 244
 Roheck, Lecann 394
 Robers, Jeffrey 276
 Roberti, Dina 394
 Roberts, Michelle 248
 Roberts, Rachel 269
 Roberts, Renee 324
 Robertson, Chelsea 250
 Robertson, Joelle 210
 Robertson, Sandra 292
 Roheson, Kim 296
 Robinett, Carmen 394
 Robinson, Brian 220
 Robinson, Brian 261
 Robinson, Brian 329
 Robinson, David 394
 Robinson, Delores 394
 Robinson, Eric 394
 Robinson, Joli 295
 Robinson, Kim 269

January 15

Students celebrate Martin Luther King's Birthday. The only three-day weekend of the spring semester.

AP

January 28

The San Francisco 49ers and quarterback Joe Montana win Super Bowl XXIV, becoming the first repeat NFL champions in 10 years. The 49ers routed the Denver Broncos 55-10 – the most dominant performance ever at a Super Bowl.

- Robinson, Lisa 295
Robinson, Rob 270, 335
Robinson, Susan 196
Roca, Rob 281, 333
Rock, Sara 232
Rodden, Tenell 298
Rodgers, Eileen 218, 296
Rodi, Gilles 296
Rodrian, Lisa 269, 394
Rodriguez, Bert 327
Rodriguez, Marcelo 302, 394
Rodriguez, Richard 244, 394
Roeder, Tres 264
Roedl, Jacob 394
Rogner, Kurt 394
Roesch, Christina 394
Roeser, Mark 267, 394
Roesler, Jeff 290
Rogala, Denise 394
Rogan, Mark 258
Rogers, Caryn 394
Rogers, Chris 307
Rogers, James 276, 334, 394
Rogers, Jeffrey 394
Rogers, Jennifer 248
Rogers, Kimberly 394
Rogers, Liz 232
Rogers, Tom 242
Roggy, Dianne 334
Roggy, Janet 226
Rogríguez, Carlos 394
Rogula, Alex 294
Rogus, Robin 269
Rohan, Michael 268
Rohleder, Debra 394
Rohrbaugh, Kirk 244
Rohrer, Karen 238
Rojas, Carlos 279
Rojas, Ulysses 394
Rokita, June 218
Roleck, Jeffrey 394
Rolf, Damon 206
Roll, Karen 394
Roller, Michelle 338, 394
Rollins, Gregory 394
Romanelli, Renee 238
Romas, Toulia 394
Romero, David 171, 394
Romine, Amy 240
Rominger, Marcus 394
Romcone, John 394
Roop, Donald 394
Root, Hiedi 208
Ropp, Ken 228
Rosales, Suzanne 394
Rosauer, Matt 278
Rosch, Debbie 218, 394
Rose, Jennifer 295
Rose, Susan 262, 332
Rosen, Melissa 236, 394
Rosenberg, David 394
Rosenberg, Erika 256, 257
Rosenberg, James 23, 394
Rosenberg, Mark 326, 394
Rosenberg, Ross 259
Rosenberg, Sharon 339
Rosenberg, Stacy 295
Rosenblom, Tonya 224
Rosenboom, Paul 336
Rosendorn, Nancy 294
Rosenstengel, Jon 303, 394
Rosenthal, Mike 277, 283
Rosentreter, Rick 228
Rosi, Gabrielle 222
Rosing, Heather 208
Ross, Carl 394
Ross, Christine 262
Ross, Claudia 394
Ross, D. 285
Ross, Debbie 210
Ross, Donald 394
Ross, Katrina 212, 320, 321, 394
Ross, Rob 254
Ross, Susanna 212, 320
Roth, Angela 261, 394
Roth, Bear 278
Roth, Daniella 234
Roth, Karen 283
Roth, Mark 306
Roth, Steven 394
Rothkopf, Mike 264
Rothschild, Jim 260
Roti, Bruni 394
Rotter, Sarah 339
Rottschafel, David 394
Rottschafel, Robin 250
Rounds, Dave 306
Rousseau, Myrna 224
Rousso, Lisa 236
Rouyer, Remi 27
Rowden, Kellie 222
Rowe, Craig 394
Rowe, David 316
Rowe, Kevin 279
Rowe, Mark 394
Rowe, Tammy 262, 299, 394
Rowland, Bryan 320, 394
Rowland, Eric 289
Rozeck, Dawn 394
Rozenowaj, Jacqueline 295, 394
Rozer, Elory 295
Rozyban, Jamie 283
Ruane, Walt 300, 308, 320
Rubel, Jill 230
Rubel, Kimberly 394
Rubin, David 309, 394
Rubin, Debbie 295
Rubine, Pamela Anne 394
Ruby, Tracy 250
Ruche, Kim Leslie 394
Ruchman, Adam 277, 305
Ruck, Kim 250
Ruck, Rick 317
Rucker, Robert 330
Ruckman, Adam 313
Ruckman, Debbie 240
Rudolph, James 206
Rueler, Sara 292
Ruesing, Roger Andrew 394
Ruffatto, Kara 298
Ruggles, Lorianne M. 394
Ruggles, Thomas J. 394
Ruhl, Andrew 274
Ruiz, Brett Michael 394
Rumple, Rachel 240
Rund, Jim 333
Runge, Christopher 309, 394
Runnion, Jill 216, 394
Runnion, John 280
Runtz, Cara 214
Ruppert, Lance 228, 325
Rusch, Becky 262, 382, 332, 335, 394
Ruscheinski, Chris 234
Ruscheinski, S. 285
Rush, John 327
Rush, Robert Nelson 394
Rush, Scott 190, 191
Rush, Tonya 216
Rushing, John 312
Rusack, Denise 394
Rusnak, John Edward 394
Russ, Rachael E. 394
Russel, Kathy 52
Russell, Angela M. 394
Russell, Becky 262
Russell, Deborah S. 394
Russell, James A. 394
Russell, Mark Douglas 394
Russell, Steve 261
Russell, Thomas C. 394
Russian, Angela C. 332, 394
Russo, Timothy 290
Russow, Eric Scott 396
Rust, Kelly Arthur 396
Rust, Loretta Sue 396
Ruth, Mike 336
Rutherford, Elizabeth 214
Ruthman, Maureen J. 295, 396
Rutlin, Ellen Louise 396
Ruttencutter, Anne 250
Rutter, Dave 65
Rutter, Sheryl A. 396
Ruwe, Terri Sue 396
Ruzicka, Paul 195, 396
Ryan, Bob 220
Ryan, Gretel 226
Ryan, John Wynn 396
Ryan, Julie 269
Ryan, Larry 284
Ryan, Martina Mary 396
Ryan, Patty 250
Ryan, Rosie 269
Rybczyk, Kim 305
Rybicki, Elizabeth S. 396
Rydzewski, Karen 396
Rymarsnik, Kerry 305
Rynes, Joel 296
Rysner, Eric 273
Ryu, Seon Young 318
Rzeszutko, Michael F. 396

S
Saab, Youssef 306
Saad, Mike 278
Saarva, Tanya 269
Sabadosh, Nicholas A. 396
Sabon, Dan 325
Sahbert, Amy 250
Sacco, John 281, 333
Sachem 308
Sachs, Laura 295
Saddler, Karen Helene 396
Sadeghossseini, S. 396
Sadkowski, Sandy 212
Sadler, Jenny 181
Saeger, Staci 334
Saenz, Maria S. 396
Safvi, Amjad Ali 396
Sager, Robin 210
Saharack, Ellen 294
Sailor, Kim 212
Sak, Maureen 210
Sakai, Nobuo 396
Sakas, George 336
Saladino, Trooper 316
Salaries 20
Salazar, David 396
Salces, Natalia Maria 396
Salemi, Gina 216, 396
Salsbury, Jennifer 230
Salm, Stephen Jay 396
Salmi, Reino 396
Salmon, Abby 218
Saloga, Douglas Allen 396
Salonga, Almaria 330
Salpaka, Cari 294
Salzstein, Scott 258
Sammon, Stephanie 298
Sammons, Derek C. 396
Samobs, Monica E. 396
Samonte, Jill 218
Samos, Carl Norman 396
Sampey, Eileen 218
Sams, Teresa Lynn 216, 396
Samsa, Scott 228
San Vicente, Karen C. 396
Sanchez, Carolyn P. 396
Sanchez, Pearl 230
Sanders, April 302, 396
Sanders, Beth 214
Sanders, Gladston 261
Sanders, Timothy C. 396
Sanderson, Patricia A. 396
Sandifer, George 316
Sandler, David 277
Sandoval, H. 291
Sandow, Michael Henry 396
Sandvig, Cary Alan 396
Sanford, Alf 40
Sanger, Carol 335
Sanger, Diana 335
SanRoman, Pat 297
Santiago, Simon 279
Santorio, Tina 250
Santos, Adolfo Santos 396
Santucci, Angie 218
Sanzi, Thomas Joseph 285, 396
Saporta, David J. 396
Saporta, Tory 298
Sarabacha, Dave 286
Saran, Claudia 212, 396
Sarbaugh, Tom 289, 396
Sarkiss, Blair 270
Sarsany, M. 291
Sarsha, Laura 224, 304
Sasso, Sheila Marie 11, 396
Satterfield, Kim 216
Satt, John 281, 323
Saturday Classes 392
Saucedo, Raul 396
Saucier, Brooke 263
Sauder, Court 220
Sander, Michelle 222, 396
Sauer, Scott Jay 396
Savers, Kyle 263
Saviski, Elizabeth A. 396
Saviski, Jennifer 212
Savoy, Mick M. 283
Saywitz, Allan P. 396
Scadron, Barry 337
Scafidi, Carl 297
Scaglione, Louis 276
Scala, Kristin 234, 305, 396
Scanlan, David R. 396
Scanlon, Bill 284
Scanlon, S. 285
Scanlon, Tracy 267, 396
Scapino, Stacey 234
Scaramuzzi, Michael 326
Scarl, Tasmyn 214, 396
Scavarda, Lisa 210, 396
Scavo, Matt 246
Schabacker, Mike 324
Schadell, Bill 284
Schaefer, Philip J. 396
Schaefer, S. 285
Schaeffer, Steve 326
Schaffer, Dean 338
Schaffel, Richard 337
Schaffer, Dave 328
Schaffer, Edward J. 396
Schaffer, Kasey 313
Schaffer, R. 285
Schag, Judith Beth 396
Schairer, Cindy 208
Schalek, Becky 238
Schareder, Suzanna 226
Scharl, Elizabeth 222, 396
Schaufelberger, Emily 240
Schaupp, Akemi 331
Schavland, Jeff 261
Scheets, Dawn 222, 396
Scheffler, Daniel C. 396
Scheid, John 246
Scheier, Jeff 275
Scheller, Marcia Ann 396
Scheller, Missy 294
Schemerhorn, Julie 224, 304
Schemmer, Dough 220
Schempp, William Dale 396
Schenkel, Megan C. 208, 396
Schenk, Charles R. 396
Schertler, Erin M. 310
Schisha, Jon Daniel 396
Schertz, Matthew W. 396
Schewe, Kelly Ann 396
Schewe, Paul Allen 396
Schick, Christina E. 396
Schierer, Jeffrey C. 396
Schiffman, Amy 295
Schilling, Michael D. 396
Schilling, Jeffrey 396
Schimmel, Kristin 262
Schindlbeck, Scott 330
Schiro, Vito 303
Schleeter, Topm 274
Schlegel, Pete 297
Schlehahn, Harold W. 396
Schleicher, Sanford D. 396
Schleyhahn, Lisa Jo 396
Schlicling, Tim 284
Schöpf, Shelley 240
Schloemer, Tom 297
Schlosser, Joann 396
Schlute, Mark 324
Schmallbach, Debbie 214
Schmall, Tracy 295
Schmedede, Kevin 261
Schmeisser, Klay 275

AP

AP

Tens of thousands protest against communism in Bucharest. The Victoria Palace, the seat of the interim government, is guarded by armed troops and tanks.

- Schmeling, Jon 246
Schmerold, Paul E. 267, 396
Schmidgall, Jill 254
Schmidt, Andrew W. 246, 396
Schmidt, Bill 328
Schmidt, Christine 218
Schmidt, Dave 174
Schmidt, Dave 293
Schmidt, David 333
Schmidt, Eric Arthur 396
Schmidt, Holly 298
Schmidt, Lisa Marie 210, 309, 324, 396
Schmidt, Mark 327
Schmidt, Melissa 208
Schmidt, Michael A. 396
Schmidt, Tarin 316
Schneider, Robert E. 396
Schmiell, Todd Andrew 396
Schmit, David Keith 396
Schmitt, Mark Andrew 264, 396
Schmittling, Ron 270
Schmitt, Jeff 286
Schnarr, Kristin Lynn 310, 396
Schneider, Caroline 328
Schneider, Craig 133, 161
Schneider, Hildegard 396
Schneider, Nadine M. 232, 396
Schneider, Todd B. 396
Schneider, Tracy 298
Schneider, Nadine 232
Schmitz, Dave 333
Schmitzler, Roger 290, 308
Schoaf, Matthew A. 396
Scholer, Mike 265, 296, 303
Schoeff, Andy 273
Schoen, Tom 326
Schoettle, Amy 210
Schofield, Jeanine 236
Schohl, Joseph Thomas 396
Scholfield, Susan B. 396
Scholtens, Sandra J. 396
Scholtes, Joann 257
Scholvin, Julie 218
Schomber, Michelle 261
Schon, Michelle E. 396
Schoolman, John 279, 396
Schoonmaker, Thelma E. 95, 338, 396
Schott, Jane Ellen 267, 304, 335, 396
Schrader, Shawn 228
Schreiber, Karen 295
Schrieber, Curtis A. 396
Schroat, Becky 248
Schroat, Holly 248
Schrock, Troy David 396
Schroeder, Bryan 276
Schroeder, Charles M. 396
Schroeder, Donna Mae 396
Schroeder, Sara Lynn 398
Schroeder, Sue 224
Schroff, Eric 326
Schroll, Jeffrey D. 280, 398
Schrumpt's 16
Schuhel, Rebecca Jane 398
Schulert, Chad 254
Schubert, Debra Renee 398
Schuchert, Jason 246
Schuler, Shelly 269
Schulkin, Jeff 277
Schult, Diana 261
Schultz, Denise 248
Schultz, Leslie 218
Schultz, Mike 281, 333
Schultz, Richard N. 398
Schultz, Scott 220
Schultz, Suzette 398
Schulz, Dana 210
Schulz, John Edward 398
Schumacher, John 336
Schunacher, William P. 254, 302, 398
Schuring, Elizabeth J. 224, 398
Schusler, Tania 224
Schuster, Glenn 276
Schuster, Nancy J. 212, 398
Schuster, Scott 336
Schutte, B. 291
Schwartz, Adam 277
Schwartz, Brian 259
Schwartz, Cynthia L. 327, 398
Schwartz, Dave 337
Schwartz, Jason 337
Schwartz, Melissa B. 398
Schwarz, Chris 276
Schwarz, Chris Werner 398
Schwarz, Cynthia 267
Schwarz, Melissa Dori 398
Schwarz, Peter 244, 329
Schwarz, Steven E. 398
Schwarz, Tina 222
Schwarze, Rebecca L. 398
Schwegler, Cynthia S. 398
Schweitzer, Cathi 240
Schweitzer, John 220, 325
Schweitzer, Kevin 256
Sciabica, Tina 234
Sciaccia, Diane Renee 398
Sckrabulis, Rebecca L. 398
Selafani, Joe 258
Semdt, Paul 288
Scoreboard 198
Scorza, Brett A. 398
Scotellaro, Margaret 398
Scott, Ashbe Anne 214, 323, 398
Scott, Janet 262
Scott, Kristen 248
Scott, Margaret 296, 331
Scott, Matt 326
Scott, Maura 216
Scott, Michael 270
Scott, Michael Andrew 398
Scott, Todd 281
Scrol, Sean 317
Scroll, Jeff 24
Scudella, John 291
Scukanec, Jeffrey S. 398
Seabert, Becky 218
Sebastian, Krista Jo 210, 398
Sebastian, Mike 336
Sehesta, Mila 398
Secaras, Evangeline 208, 336
Secaras, Katina 208, 336
Secca, Tony 197
Secora, Cheryl 313
Seda, Joseph Whitney 398
Sedlik, Noha M.L. 398
Sedelsku, Wendy Jill 398
Segal, Bryan 277
Segal, Esther 236
Segal, Gary 277
Segebarth, Susan M. 215, 398
Sehy, Amy 224
Seilel, Nancy 214, 398
Seitsem, Jodi 302
Seitz, Kristine Ann 222, 398
Sejuml, Deborah Ann 398
Selke, Staci 226
Sell, Catherine Ann 224, 398
Selland, Tom Jason 398
Sellers, Robert 333
Sellers, Craig 275
Sellis, Georgia 212
Selukar, Rajesh 283
Seman, Lara Marie 398
Semasko, Ann Marie 238, 398
Semenink, George B. 398
Senalik, Scott Edward 398
Sendaydiego, Marchia 248
Sendee, Mark 273
Senese, James Gerard 398
Sennett, Carol F. 398
Sennello, Kathy 269
Sentman, Jeremy 274
Seok Kim, Steve Hyun 372
Seong, Sung Scott 398
Sepecki, Joseph S. 398
Sepp, Lori L. 313, 398
Sepulveda, Cheryl 269
Seraffin, Kevin 268
Serafin, Traci 250
Serbanescu, Aruna R. 398
Serfoss, Susanna 214
Serrano, Keith 226
Sesma, Arthur 276
Sestak, Joe 324
Setchell, Neal Howard 398
Seutemyer, Scott 304
Severino, Tony 283
Severson, Missy 232
Sevier, Elizabeth Ann 398
Sewell, Cynthia L. 398
Seymour, Jay 327
Sfondilis, Patty 336
Shabacker, Mike 338
Shafer, Lisa 11
Shaffer, Phil 278
Shah, Alpita 212
Shah, Deksha 398
Shah, Divya S. 398
Shah, Jay 398
Shah, Monika 317
Shallman, Dan 337
Shallot, John 336
Shaman, Craig 297
Shamberg, Richard 337
Shams, Naser 265, 303
Shanahan, Kelly Jean 208, 398
Shanin, Greg 337
Shank, Bob 151
Shankland, Todd 327
Shannon, Colleen 208
Shapiro, David 277
Shapiro, Debbrah 295
Shapiro, Mara 295
Shapiro, Michael N. 398
Shapiro, Nancy 295
Sharma, Raja 266, 398
Sharp, Angie Richele 398
Sharp, Debra Ann 398
Sharp, Sarah 168
Sharratt, Brad 275
Shattler, Jill Lynn 238, 398
Shauinger, Lisa M. 398
Shaul, Elizabeth 248
Shavers, Jeffrey 334
Shavers, Nathan 335
Shaw, April Marie 398
Shaw, Heather Ayn 398
Shaw, Michael 289
Shaw, Michelle Lee 398
Shaw, Patrick D. 254, 398
Shea, Ann Margaret 398
Sheaff, C. 285
Shedroff, Jennie 316
Sheehan, Christine 318
Sheehan, Julie 296
Sheehan, Mike 304
Sheeler, Katie 210
Sheets, Steve 307
Sheibani, Sheri 216
Sheih, Gene 300
Sheikh, Kashif 270
Shelby, Jeffrey Lee 398
Shelby, Rich 275
Shelley, Stephanie 210
Shelton, Kathleen 292
Shenoi, Hemanth D. 398
Shepard, John Carl 398
Shepherd, Barbara J. 250, 398
Sheridan, Teresa Ann 230, 398
Sheriff, Andrea 240, 338
Sherman, Brad 261
Sherman, Dave 300
Sherman, Susan Lynn 250, 398
Sheroky, Dawn 210
Sherrick, Bruce 338
Shertz, Rick 284
Sherwood, Anne 240
Sherwood, Steve 279, 305, 334
Shevelenko, Susan 294, 329
Shi-Ai 322
Shields, Amy 208
Shields, Sara 234
Shih, Christie 234, 322
Shih, Michael 95
Shillington, Karen 224
Shumala, John Charles 398
Shimanovsky, Sheryl L. 398
Shimon, Rich 264
Shin, Dan 336
Shin, Hyan Moon 398
Shineflug, Joanne 236
Shiozaki, Tom 292
Shiraki, John 276
Shislandi, Robert Michael 398
Shively, Deborah Ann 398
Shivers, Michael 292
Shkoler, Geri Lynn 269, 398
Shobe, Andy 261
Shoemaker, Greg 267, 333
Shonk, Katherine M. 398
Shook, Jennifer 214, 336
Shoop, Amy 248
Shoopman, Steven W. 398
Shoot, Shelley Lyn 398
Shopping 32
Shore, Rob 277
Shorr, Mike 246
Shoup, Susan Elaine 398
Shrewshury, Denise 262, 335
Shuh, Jenny 299
Shultz, Margaret Ann 398
Shupe, David 311, 398
Shupe, Tohl 307
Shura, Jeffrey James 288, 398
Shust, Gary John 398
Shutak, Anita 226, 317
Shutter, Rick 281
Shutton, Bradley Kyle 398
Shymanski, Kathy 230
Siampus, Adriana M. 398
Sichlau, Michael J. 272, 398
Siciliano, Tom 300
Sickels, Malcolm 332
Siders, Robert L. 398, 442, 444
Sildman, Matt 296
Siebert, Rob 246, 315
Siedlecki, Julie Ann 222, 305, 398
Siegel, Brenda K. 398
Siegel, Dehlia 269
Siegel, Holly 295
Siegle, C. 285
Sigler, Sue 317
Siegman, Erik 333
Siewers, James 292
Sieverson, Karen C. 398
Sigler, Sue 317
Sigma Alpha Epsilon 333
Sigma Chi 284
Sigma Kappa 232
Sigma Nu 275
Sigma Phi Delta 268
Sigma Phi Epsilon 336
Sigma Pi 326
Sigma Tau Gamma 279
Signorini, Daniel J. 398
Silhail, Mandy 248
Sila, Karl John 398
Silberg, Thomas 337
Silhavy, Christina G. 269, 398
Sillins, Lisa 295
Silver, Beth 295
Silver, Michelle 259, 295, 319, 398
Silver, Mitchell A. 259, 398
Silver, Scott 259
Silverman, Greg 277
Silverman, Karen 294
Silverman, Michael E. 277, 398
Silverman, Scott R. 277, 400
Silvestri, Brook 264
Silvestri, John 283
Silvestri, T. 269
Sim, Yoon Mun 400
Sima, David 400
Simantel, Holly 218, 400
Simberg, Stephen D. 400
Simek, Mark 265, 303
Simek, Paul 329
Simos, Van 278
Simmering, Laura 151
Simmonds, Edward 276
Simmons, Becky 210
Simmons, Carla 234
Simmons, Christine R. 218, 400
Simmons, J. 291
Simmons, Lynda 218
Simms, Paige 210
Simon, Nancy Beth 400
Simone, Jeff 246
Simpson, Chris 218
Sims, Emil 280

February 4

Hundreds of thousands people march in Moscow, demanding the Communist Party give up its stronghold on power. It is the largest protest since the Bolshevik Revolution. People also equated the KGB with death.

AP

AP

- Sims, Lasandra Renee 400
Sims, Payton Lasean 400
Sims, Trey 105
Sinberg, Carol 262
Sinclair, Clarke A. 400
Sinclair, Kristin Ann 400
Sinecox, Julia 250
Sincus, David 336
Singalewitch, Heather 185, 400
Singer, David 246
Singh, Harbinger 400
Singh, Tim 273, 313
Singh, Tim 313
Singla, Vineet 400
Singleton, Denis Eric 400
Sink, Eric Wayne 400
Sinnott, Scott 270
Sipes, Aimee 250
Siragusa, Lisa Marie 400
Sirkin, Jennifer 295
Siron, Paulette C. 400
Sirota, Howard Brian 400
Sirota, Nancy M. 400
Sirvatka, Jason 276, 287
Siska, Barbara 214, 400
Skach, Elizabeth Ann 400
Skerritt, Tracy 331
Skiha, Randy 316
Skidelsky, Scott 259
Skillington, Daniel L. 400
Skinger, Alex 263
Skitt, Tony 84
Sklamberg, Rachel 238
Skodacek, Ken 206, 317
Skolnik, Jennifer 110, 295, 319
Skomer, Kevin Michael 400
Skoza, Thomas Edward 400
Skrabacz, Charles S. 400
Skrabacz, Cheryl R. 400
Slankard, Chris 283
Slater, Bonnie 310
Slater, Rebecca Lynn 400
Slates, Amy Jean 218, 400
Slattery, Arah 210
Slavik, Jennifer 230
Slavik, Michael 337
Sleight, Michael 307, 324
Slepicka, Nancy C. 400
Slette, Kirie 238
Sliwa, Randy 332
Sloan, Tome 281
Sloane, Victoria E. 302, 322, 400
Slohodnik, Richard 206, 400
Slocum, Brian 279
Slodki, David William 400
Slompka, Kim 262
Sloniger, Gregory T. 400
Slonski, Louis 270
Sloth, Mary Louise 309, 400
Slovick, Bethelen 250, 400
Slovin, Pam 295
Smaga, Alexander M. 400
Smaidris, Carrie 222
Small, Lisa Romain 400
Smart, David Daniel 400
Smeltzer, Michael 330
Smiles, Albert R. 400
Smilie, Karen 222
Smith, Alyson 216
Smith, Amy 262
Smith, Amy 269
Smith, Andres 269
Smith, Angie 292
Smith, Bubba 158
Smith, Cathy 250
Smith, Cheryl Lynn 400
Smith, Chris 297
Smith, Christopher L. 400
Smith, D. McClelland 382
Smith, Dave 297
Smith, Dawana 334
Smith, Dawn 212
Smith, Dawn 304
Smith, Dawn 321
Smith, Donald 288
Smith, Dustin 286
Smith, Eric 327
Smith, Eric Worth 400
Smith, Erich 206
Smith, Erin 296, 331
Smith, Heather Gail 236, 400
Smith, Helena 43
Smith, J. Scott 400
Smith, James Robert 400
Smith, Janelle 232, 296
Smith, Jeff 228
Smith, Jeff 307
Smith, Jeffrey 324
Smith, Jennifer 267
Smith, Jennifer Ann 400
Smith, Jenny 304
Smith, Julia C. 400
Smith, Karen 208
Smith, Karen Lynn 400
Smith, Kari Anne 269, 400
Smith, Kathy 248
Smith, Kevin 275
Smith, Kim 248
Smith, Kris 339
Smith, Laura 216
Smith, Laurie Janeane 400
Smith, Lea 238
Smith, Leslie 280
Smith, Liane 262, 318, 322
Smith, Melanie Ann 400
Smith, Merna M. 218, 321, 400
Smith, Michael James 400
Smith, P. 285
Smith, Paula 311
Smith, Rob 300
Smith, Sandy 232
Smith, Sara 234
Smith, Scott Alan 206, 315, 400
Smith, Shari 185
Smith, Sue 210
Smith, Sue 230
Smith, Sue 329
Smith, Susan M. 400
Smith, Suzanne 248
Smith, Suzy 269
Smith, Tammy 230
Smith, Terry 297
Smith, Tim 327
Smith, Todd 300
Smith, Tracy M. 400
Smith, Travis Ray 220, 400
Smith, Vedia Yvette 400
Smith, William Terry 400
Smithe, Amy 296
Smithe, Hope 269
Smits, Kevin 246
Smolen, Randi 10, 295
Smolensky, Loren N. 400
Smorynski, Kenneth 288
Smundde, Susan Kay 400
Smull, Anna Maria 400
Smylie, Susan E. 210, 400
Snapp, Lisa R. 224, 400
Snell, Heidi 234
Snell, Khloe 240
Snell IV, James W. 400
Snep, Melinda 222
Snep, M. 285
Snider, Denise 400
Snider, Liz 216
Snider, Shannon Mary 400
Snook, Douglas P. 302, 400
Snow, Julie C. 238, 400
Snowwhite, Paul 297
Snyder, Cathy 313
Snyder, Gregg 306
Snyder, Jennifer 234
Snyder, R. 285
Snyder, Rob 280
Snyder, Roger Eugene 400
Snyder, Scott 336
Snyders, Bobbie 269
Sobel, Hollie 295
Sobel, Lisa Deborah 400
Sochacki, Jennifer A. 236, 400
Society of Women Engineers Officers 319
Soderstrom, David A. 306, 400
Soelberg, Lane 195, 284
Sohl, David 268, 314
Sokol, Gail 212
Solanki, Jyoti C. 400
Solarz, Daniel E. 400
Sollers, Jacqueline D. 400
Soltermann, Brian K. 400
Soltwedel, Keith 307
Soltys, Jane 208
Somerville, Patricia 400
Somma, Maria 306
Sommer, Deborah K. 240, 400
Sommer, Sherry Lynne 400
Sommerfeld, Eric 278
Sommerfield, Barry A. 400
Sommerschield, Lynn 298
Sonada, Kaori 266
Song, Anthony K. 400
Song, Candice 400
Song, Dong Il 400
Song, Joung Eun 400
Song, Mary Sugyeong 400
Song, Young Jin 400
Songer, Diana Lynn 400
Sonoda, Kaori 234
Sonuski, John 284
Soong, May 212
Sopiarz, Donna Marie 400
Sorenson, Brigitta 282, 298, 400
Sorey, Kim 254
SORF 92
Soriano, Jose Regie 400
Sorkin, Beverly Ellen 400
Sorkin, Paul 259
Sorquist, Joseph F. 400
Soto, Anthony Margaro 400
Southard, Jeff 263
Southard, Linda 174, 262
Southard, Lonnie M. 400
Southard, Tony 263
Sova, Michael Ronald 296, 400
Sova, Michelle 304
Sowers, J. 285
Spaargaren, Chela 331
Spalt, Dave 206
Spangler, David Lee 400
Spangler, Larry 327
Spaniol, Douglas E. 400
Spansail, Jon Gerard 402
Sparger, John Alan 304, 402
Spector, Deborah 216
Speers, Brian Keith 402
Speers, Neal 336
Spellman, Catherine 256
Spence, Virginia 292
Spencer, Heather 292
Spencer, Liz 208
Spencer, Pam 216
Spengel, Carole 234
Spengler, Carolyn L. 216, 402
Spengler, Julie 313
Spiewak, Matthew J. 402
Spindler, Laura 216, 402
Spindler, Laura Lynn 402
Spiro, Shaun 'Kollar' 402
Spitalnik, Alyson 295
Spiteri, Anamaria 218
Spitz, Scott 327
Spitznagle, Matt 273
Spitzer, Lance 326
Spivey, Rachel 208
Spleicka, Nancy 254
Sponburgh, Kieron J. 402
Spoonamore, Mark 273
Spoonamore, Beth 269
Sponner, Erin 212
Sporleder, Melissa 212
Sprague, Andrew 73, 287
Sprague, Peter 274
Sprague, Stephanie E. 402
Spratt, Bob 293
Springer, Michael 288
Spyropoulos, Vasilios 336
Squires, Christina 226, 402
Sreniawski, Donna 305
Srinivasan, Akila 315, 402
St. Angel Jr., Frnak 402
Staats, Steve 261
Stabler, Brian 260
Stachnik, Anne Julie 402
Stachon, Kendall K. 222, 402
Stackman, Bill 325
Stadler, Brett 297
Stadler, John Tower 402
Stadtherr, M. 285
Stafford, Bill 282, 333
Stafford, Greg 327
Stahl, Alyssa Christine 402
Stahl, Jeffrey Morris 402
Stahl, Jodi Lorraine 402
Stalbaum, Gina Maria 262, 332, 335, 402
Staley, Melissa Lynn 402
Stallings, Ryan R. 293, 402
Stammer, Steven Eric 402
Stamos, Bill 206
Stanczyk, Chris 327
Stanczyk, Geoff 327
Stanfield, Brad 316, 331
Stangle, Gregory L. 402
Stanhaus, Theresa A. 402
Stanke, Jahn 314, 333
Stanley, Becky 262
Stanley, Kim 222
Stanley, Robert 268
Stanovich, Lori 208
Stansfield, William H. 402
Staples, Diane 218
Stapleton, Amy 238
Star Course 296, 331
Stare, Ann marie 222, 402
Stark, Jeff Lee 402
Stark, Sarah 292
Starkley, Dean 153
Starks, Matthew 288
Starkes, Tamara B. 402
Starnes, Sande 230
Starnock, Jim 327
Stater, Brad 228
Stathakopoulos, Cathy 250
Standt, E. 291
Staunton, Don J. 292, 402
Stavropoulos, Thanos 336
Stawick, Dave 333
Steck, Brian 246
Steck, James Lee 402
Stecyk, Sheryl 254
Stedronski, Brad 284
Steele, Alicia 232
Steele, Marta 295, 310, 320
Steele, Scott 268
Steele, Scott Alan 402
Stefanon, Laurie 250
Steffe, Mark 327
Steffe, Amy 224, 339
Steidinger, Brian 228
Steiger, Michelle 240
Steigmann, Michael A. 402
Steimal, Ann-Marie 316
Stein, Amy Jennifer 402
Stein, J. 291
Stein, Paula 230
Stein, Scott 220
Steinau, Molly Ann 250, 402
Steinberg, Beth Amber 295, 402
Steinberg, Chad 337
Steiner, Greg 402
Steiner, Jeffery W. 402
Steiner, Leslie 335
Steinhaus, Karen Lynn 402
Steinys, Leo
Stelmicki, Carrie J. 248, 402
Stenlund, Keith 305
Stepenske, Cathy 224
Stephan, Dan 278
Stephanon, Tracy 234
Stephen, Sue 234, 325
Stephens, AnneMarie 296
Stephenson, Julie Ann 402
Stepien, William C. 402
Steres, Wendi 224
Sterling, Robert J. 402
Stern, Gail 115
Stern, Mindy 210
Stern, Steve 277
Stetter, Katherine A. 402
Stevens, Jackie 294
Stevens, Pam 210, 323
Stevens, Scott 278
Stevens, Terry 190

February 5

Soviet Premier Mikhail Gorbachev told the Communist Party that it must give up its unchallenged right to rule the Soviet Union and allow a multiparty system.

February 7

A university task force issued the results of its rape survey, finding that 40 percent of the 537 undergraduate woman who responded to the survey had been sexually assaulted or abused while on campus. The task force also recommended changes from banning alcohol at campus public events to eliminating the Illinettes.

February 11

After South African President F.W. de Klerk lifted a 30-year ban on the African National Congress a week ago, today, he freed the ANC's leader Nelson Mandela, who has been in prison for 27 years.

AP

- Stevenson, Jennifer 224
Stevenson, Sam 329
Stevenson, Scott Evan 402
Steward, Lance Edward 402
Stewart, Boh 307, 324
Stewart, Elliot 286
Stewart, Lesbe John 402
Stewart, Ronald Wayne 402
Stewart, Nicole M. 402
Stuber, M. 285
Stuehnoth, James M. 402
Stueckler, Michael T. 293, 402
Stueren, Dennis 244
Stiff, Greg 304
Stiles, Alysia 216
Stilling, Karen Marie 402
Stillson, Chris 296
Stinhert, Cindy 230
Stimer, Chris 208
Stinehelfer, Crissy 269
Stins, Paul C. 402
Stippich, Warren W. 338, 402
Stirrett, Douglas 268
Stocker, Cynthia 238
Stoddard, Diane Carol 402
Stoerger, Martha Y. 402
Stofer, Jennifer 230, 315, 402
Stoffel, Dan 325
Stohr, Dale 308
Stohs, Vikki Ann 402
Stolberg, Adam 337
Stoller, Jeffrey B. 402
Stollenberg, Sara 232
Stone, Dave 300
Stone, Frank 297
Stone, Jason 277
Stone, Jenny 256
Stone, Keri Lynn 402
Stone, Shelly 214
Stoot, Mark 332
Stosor, Melissa 218
Stostrom, Bill 300
Stotz, Michael Alan 256, 402
Stout, Mark Steven 402
Stout, Susie 269
Stowe, Sarah Jane 269, 402
Stowell, Denise 224
Stowell, Marianne 327
Stozek, Lisa 222
Strang, Sarah Adele 402
Strang, Troy 289
Strassner, Gail 310
Stratford House 307
Strauh, Kristin 232
Strawn, Alesia Marie 296, 402
Strehle, Kevin 274
Streich, David 195
Streitmatter, Jennifer 230
Strezo, Mike 283
Striech, Dave 284
Strinni, Meredith Sue 328, 402
Strittmatter, Bernard 206, 402
Strittmatter, Carolyn 402
Stromberg, Kristin 234
Strong, Cherie L. 402
Strong, Jaqui 250
Stropes, Jenny R. 331, 402
Stroth, Andrew Martin 103, 284, 321, 402
Strozok, Laura Leigh 402
Struher, Scott 277
Struthers, Jason 314
Stubblefield, C. A. 232, 402
Stubblefield, Dave 293, 402
Stubitsch, Brian T. 402
Stuckmeyer, Troy 290
Student Alumni Association 320
Student Alumni Executive Board 320
Student Bands 104
Student Credit Union 90
Student Entrepreneurs 96
Student Teachers 362
Studtmann, Heidi A. 226, 402
Study Abroad 28
Study Spots 64
Stueher, Amy Jane 234, 402
Stuenkel, Sheryl Ann 222, 402
Stumbo, Tracy Lynne 402
Stump, Richard 261
Stupp, Steve 317
Sturbini, Amy 292
Stunn, Pete 258
Stutzman, Michael D. 402
Style 112
Su, Stephanie 234
Suarez, Paul 261
Subsits, Diane 262
Such, Ken 270, 339
Sudduth, Cheryl 302
Sugarman, April 295
Suhl, Soir 84
Suhre, Bradley Rhett 402
Suits, Eric 220
Sukowicz, Carol Jean 402
Sularz, Paul Joseph 402
Sulaski, David C. 263, 402
Sulcer, Jeffrey Van 402
Sulit, Reggie 273, 313
Sullivan, Chris 261
Sullivan, Diane 269
Sullivan, Eddie 327
Sullivan, Erin 258
Sullivan, Frank J. 297, 402
Sullivan, James J. 402
Sullivan, Jim 278
Sullivan, Julie 210
Sullivan, Katie 208
Sullivan, Linda Jean 402
Sullivan, Sheila 224
Sullivan, Tracy 292
Summer at C-U 78
Summer Orientation Program Staff 331
Sun, Craig 336
Sun, Dajin 306
Sunday, Sharan 230
Sunga, Edwin 402
Suppe, Wd 297
Surges, Amy Marie 208, 402
Surles, Stephanie A. 230, 282, 309, 402
Sus, Jon 281, 333
Susemehl, David M. 402
Sushak, Robert John 402
Suter, Beth 248
Sutherland, Adam 246
Sutton, Kevin Lewis 402
Sutton, Scott 279
Suzac, Kimiko 402
Svab, Christine Adel 214, 402
Svancarek, Mike 327
Svec, Chris 268
Svoboda, Frank Dane 402
Svohoda, Shannon 298
Swadner, Julie 230
Swan, Karen 236
Swanlund, Holly Jean 402
Swanson, Brian Lee 402
Swanson, Chuck 337
Swanson, Kristin M. 402
Swanson, Linda 238
Swanson, Lynne 328
Swanson, Melissa 248
Swanson, Steve 312
Swanson, Suzanne M. 269, 404
Swanson, Tracy 214
Swanstrom, Tara 208
Swatek, Amy Anne 404
Swearingen, John C. 404
Sweet, Todd M. 404
Sweetest Day 330
Sweetzer, Kathleen 216, 404
Swenson, Christina J. 404
Swenson, Kris 307
Swenson, Steve 246
Swetland, Lynn 224
Swierkosz, Amy L. 224, 404
Swigon, Susan Marie 222, 404
Swimming and Diving 180
Swiney, Chris 293, 338
Swinson, Kristi Renee 404
Swistowicz, Tamra L. 222, 404
Swopes, Tammie 331
Syed, Ibrahim 283
Sylora, Roxanne L. 404
Symanski, Aaron Henry 404
Synchronized Swimming 335
Synecki, Cheryl Ann 269, 404
Szalczynski, Susan L. 404
Szcupaj, Jim 273, 329
Szewczyk, Dennis F. 404
Szot, Lisa 238
Zot, Theresa Marie 236, 404
Szweda, John Michael 404
Szymanski, Kathy 195
Szysko, Jim 265, 303
- T
- Taher, David Alan 327, 404
Tabor, Greg 206
Taccini, Jennifer 238
Tadlaw, Laurie Lee 222, 404
Taich, Robert D. 404
Taiyebi, Sabera F. 404
Tak, Eunice 307
Take The Lead 48
Tako, Katherine Cabor 404
Tako, Katika 224
Tako, Patti 224
Talamonti, Lynn 248
Talhert, Kristina 222
Talhott, Matthew 276
Talerico, Anthony G. 404
Tallacksen, Shelli 238
Talley, Patricia L. 404
Tallyn, Karen Camille 230, 404
Talwalkar, Nandu 327
Tamblyn, Joli 293
Tamilaitis, Daiva E. 404
Tamilaitis, Vytautas 244
Tan, Edenis 280
Tan, Jin-Ho 404
Tanaka, Manu 404
Tanig, Reynard 302, 329, 404
Tannebaum, Jana 222
Tannenbaum, Shelley 294
Tanning Salons 10
Tanquary, John 280
Taowarodom, S. 285
Tapales, Athena A. 404
Taraboletti, David W. 246, 404
Tarailo, Amy E. 404
Tarandy, Dana L. 258, 404
Tarasiuk, Tony 296
Tardy, Ann 262, 305, 322
Tarrant, Erica 224
Tarte, John 281
Tarter, Kenneth D. 404
Tartem, Emily 226
Tashjian, Elizabeth M. 404
Tatooles, Kristy 212
Tau Beta Pi 280
Tau Epsilon Phi 286
Tay, James 286
Taylor, Cheryl A. 404
Taylor, Chris 313
Taylor, Christine 338
Taylor, Christine Ann 404
Taylor, Cynthia Diane 404
Taylor, Dave 303
Taylor, Deborah Lynn 404
Taylor, George 263
Taylor, Henry 316
Taylor, Julie 328
Taylor, Kelly 210
Taylor, Lindy 214
Taylor, Paul 307, 325
Taylor, Roger Mark 404
Taylor, Sarah Lynn 280, 404
Taylor, Susan 306
Taylor, Susannah 302
Tazab, Sandeep 304
Tebockhurst, Tarci 234
Techico, Jeff 306
Technograph 389
Teclaw, Ingrid K. 404
Tedesco, Katherine M. 404
Teerbnck, Brent A. 334
Teeter, Jason 276
Teitle, Bonnie 310
Tekchandani, Aarti 262, 332, 404
Temko, Peter Andrew 404
Tempestini, Jenny 224
Temple, Kristin 208
Temple, Missy 212, 335
Templer, Jill Suzanne 404
Terlap, John Michael 404
Terbiser, John Louis 206, 282, 323, 404
Terneus, Catherine S. 404
Terrando, John 305
Terrano, Gina 238
Terrill, Jacquie 305
Terry, Jeffrey L. 404
Terripes, Mike 328
Tessler, Deborah 224
Tessmer, Gina 208
Teter, David F. 281, 333, 404
Thachet, Lisa M. 404
Thakkar, Ketan J. 404
Thakker, Darshan 404
Thakur, Rajiv P. 279, 404
The Other Guys 72, 287
Thede, Mike Brenden 404
Theodoris, Georgian 248
Therien, Jennifer 37, 250
Theta Delta Chi 332
Theta Xi 273
Theta Xi Seniors 313
Thiel, Jenny 224
Thiems, Stacey Lynn 404
Thiessen, Todd M. 404
Thiewes, Kelly A. 404
Thull, Andrew John 404
Thomas, Beverly 306
Thomas, Cynthia 250
Thomas, Dristin 296
Thomas, Eric M. 228, 330, 404
Thomas, J. Shadley 404
Thomas, Jeffrey John 404
Thomas, Kevin Patrick 404
Thomas, Kristin 289
Thomas, Marcia Ann 404
Thomas, Margo 305
Thomas, Melissa 250
Thomas, Melissa Gail 404
Thomas, Michele Lynn 404
Thomas, Mohan P. 404
Thomas, Roh 264
Thomas, Scott 274
Thomas, Sue Wells 404
Thomas, Tamiko Chantez 404
Thommes, Kris 292
Thomopoulos, Marie E. 404
Thompson, Amy 269, 313
Thompson, Angie 232
Thompson, Erika 238
Thompson, Fred 261
Thompson, J. 285
Thompson, Jeffrey A. 404
Thompson, Kevin 263
Thompson, Kyle 270
Thompson, L. 285
Thompson, Laurie 298
Thompson, Mark 254
Thompson, Mark 291
Thompson, Marnie 218
Thompson, P. 285
Thorne, Oneida B. 404
Thorne, Stacey 214
Thornton, Jesse 307
Thorton, Sherri 248
Threalt, Valerie M. 404
Thronchurg, Troy 293, 338
Thurber, Kevin 56
Thurston, Micheal A. 404
Tibudan, Martin L. 404
Tice, Kim 240, 308
Tieman, Roh 290
Tierney, Brian 274
Tietjens, Lenae 319
Tillis, Diane Lynn 404, 216
Tillman, Trey 265, 303
Tidson, John Ray 297, 404
Timbers, Barb 269
Timer, John 335
Timko, Chris 216
Timko, Craig 327
Timko, Mark 276, 280
Timmermann, David 338

February 14

An ice storm hits C-U, causing branches to drop and fall and disturbing power lines, leaving 15,000 people without power for days.

photo by Joe Trajanowski

February 15

The Illini Basketball team is presented with 11 allegations from NCAA, six of which are considered to be "major in nature" by the NCAA and would make Illinois eligible for the "death penalty."

Timmermann, Renee 339
Tims, Karen 226
Tinkoff, Kristen 238
Tiongo, Maria 305
Tipton, Chablis 210
Tirona, Christine A. 256, 404
Tirva, Andrea M. 224, 404
Tisci, Danielle 234, 305
Tisdale, C. 285
Tisovec, Elaine 238
Tjho, Dave 288
Toba, Brian Terno 404
Tobias, Mark Edward 404
Tobin, Missy 295
Toek, William 276
Todas, Cris 230
Todd, Carol 216
Todd, Michelle 218, 404
Toepper, Michael 290
Tohill, Edward T. 404
Toland, Brenda Gail 210, 404
Tolch, Barbara 210
Toledo, Glorinda 212
Tolli, Gene 256
Tomaras, Jason 263
Tomassini, Mark 278
Tomeczak, Jackie 216
Tomeczak, Melissa Sue 404
Tomecek, Jaime 262
Tomes, Russ 264
Tomillo, Tom 246
Tongue, Kathryn Jane 404
Toon, Rebecca 283
Topel, Ryan 325
Topinka, Joseph Baar 404
Torbeck, Liesel 210
Torch 310
Toreja, Lito 288
Toreja, Vince 326
Tornow, Nick 274
Torrence, Susie 248
Torres, Ricardo 258, 404
Torrshafer, Robin Lee 404
Torsberg, Mark W. 404
Tortorello, Laura C. 404
Toscas, Margo 336
Toth, Susan A. 404
Tothero, Steve 264
Toton, Rob 335
Totten, Eric David 404
Tourism 66
Toussaint, Kathryn A. 404
Towler, Kurt 311
Towne, Mark Matthew 404
Towne, Marsha 292
Towne, Mike 281
Towne, Pat 281
Townsend, Jim 327
Tozzi, Jerrett Donald 404

Track and Field (Indoor) 150
Track and Field (Men's outdoor) 152
Track and Field (Women's outdoor) 148
Tracey, Ken 108
Tracy, John Patrick 404
Tracy, Kenneth Young 274, 406
Tracy, Mark Edward 334, 406
Trahan, Beth 226
Trahan, Bob 260
Trahan, Sharon Lee 406
Trahan, Thomas 254, 288, 304
Trainor, Denise L. 216, 406
Tran, Chi 210
Tran, Katherine Sue 406
Tran, Tin Duc 406
Transfer Student Association 328
Trapani, Angelo A. 289, 406
Trasatt, Andrew 278
Treado, Kris 222
Trebs, Tammi 236
Trehly, Kimberly A. 218, 406
Tremain, Timothy Alan 406
Tremko, Anne 248
Tremonto, Bess 218, 406
Trenkle, Kurt 316
Triangle 206
Triebe, Karen 236
Trieger, Andrew 206, 276, 287
Triezenberg, Raylene 406
Triggs, Julie 224, 261
Trilli, Kevin 274
Tripathy, Sandeep K. 406
Triplett, Niki 234
Trippel, Debbie 304
Trivanovic, Ana 322
Trivedi, Vipul Alkesh 406
Troka, Kathy 230
Tromhadore, Jennifer 262
Tromieczak, Thomas G. 406
Trost, Mark William 289, 406
Trotter, Brad 228
Trowbridge, Jennifer 406
Truitt, Bianca 222
Trujillo, Elena 269
Truty, Luke 263
Trzeinski, Janet Lynn 406
Trzupek, Michael 304
Tsai, Grace 335
Tsakiris, Angela 336
Tschetter, Randall K. 289, 406
Tse, Maggie G. 406
Tse, Sharon 406
Tselepis, William P. 270, 406
Tseng, Adebna 232
Tseng, Trichia 250
Tsingi, Christiana 336

Tsolakides, Alex 336
Tsolakides, Elizabeth 336, 406
Tsui, Lina 305
Tucci, Cathy 250
Tucker, Dan 259
Tucker, J. 285
Tucker, Jeffrey Lloyd 306, 406
Tucker, Joshua 274
Tucker, Margie 224, 406
Tuisi, Jeff 278
Tulach, Mark John 406
Tulley, Michelle 298
Turney, Jim 258
Tunzi, Dominic M. 406
Turk, Scott 317
Turk, Susan 238
Turkot Jr., Robert B. 406
Turnball, Cathy 329
Turnbull, Steve 254
Turnbull, Susan Gaye 232, 406
Turner, Arthur Jay 406
Turner, Michelle Rene 406
Turner, Tricia 316
Turnow, Nicholas A. 406
Turvey, Mike 258
Tutoky, Ann 210
Tutoky, Kate 210
Twaddle, Julia Marie 406
Two O Nine N. Goodwin 337
Tyer, Don 263
Tykal, Kristi 232
Tyler, Kate 292
Tynan, John 290
Tyner, Alicia 216
Tynus, Pamela Cecilia 406
Tyre, James Allan 406
Tyre, Michael A. 406
Tyson, Darren Raymond 406
Tyson, Gary Samuel 406
Tzortzis, Demi 210
Tzrupek, Michael 308

U

U of I Student Ambassadors 321
Uddenberg, Dave 284
Ugonbini, Dana 295
Uhe, Lisa Ann 406
Uhe, Robert Andrew 282, 406
Uherka, Brian 274
Uhlenhop, Karin 250
Uihlein, Marci 224
Ujka, Mari Ann 406
Uken, Gary Dean 406
Ulaezek, Wendy Rose 406
Ulbrich, Laurel 250, 406
Ulrich, Jennifer 210, 320, 321
Ulrey, Lisa 208

Ulrich, Deborah Jean 406
Ulrich, Nicki 294
Umdbenstock, Colleen 210
Underwood, Nancy 325
Unglaub, Melissa 302
United States Student Assoc. 396
University of Illinois Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps 285
Upper, Julia Ann 406
Upward Bound 372
Urasie, Janet 317
Urban, Matthew Thomas 406
Urchell, Bob 258
Uribe, Marcella Edith 406
Urich, Wes 284
Uson, Jennifer 305
Utz, William Gregory 406
Uzumecki, Diane M. 230, 406

V

Vagena, Ann Marie 226
Vahling, Bernard R. 293, 406
Vad, Jim 242, 256
Valdez, Theresa 406
Valent, Kathie 250
Valente, Anthony M. 334, 406
Valfer, Reid 337
Valiente, Gloria C. 406
Vallabhaneni, Devi 320, 334, 335
Valleau, Aimee C. 250, 406
Vallejo, Eric 265, 303
Vallejo, Iryne T. 406
Vallero, Karen M. 269, 406
Vallesterol, Joy 236
Vallina, Cyndi 214
Van Bortel, Grant J. 406
Van Deven, Robert P. 406
Van Ekeren, Alex 273
Van Eman, Mrs. 238
Van Houtum, Mark C. 406
Van Hoveln, Douglas 307, 406
Van Voorst, Beth 208
Van Winkle, Jenny 218
Van Winkle, Thomas S. 406
Vance, Amy 238
Vance, William Joseph 406
VanClay, Erin 262
Vancura, Scott 258
Vande, Voorde Eileen 406
Vanderah, Kurt 254
Vandergentgen, Brian 406
Vandergraaf, Eric 264
Vanderheyden, Michele 226, 406

Vanderschlaaf, Steve 327
Vanderschoot, Arnold 406
Vandever, Stacy 406
Vandusen, Susan R. 406
Vanhling, Bernie 293
VanHuis, Rod 296
VanHylte, Eric 276
Vanichakornatanes, Mike 326
Vanlerberghe, Wayne M. 406
Vanlyssel, Heather M. 406
VanMaldegiam, Scott 206, 406
Vanmerkestyn, Lea 406
VanMessel, J. 285
Vann, Robert E. 406
Vanna, Robert 288
Vanspelt, James A. 406
Vannogalan, Murab 406
VanZeeland, Sara 234
Varadarajan, Subadra 406
Varesic, Andrea Enea 250, 406
Varga, Thomas Geza 406
Varnavas, Costa 336
Varnay, Dave 327
Varrichio, Nicole 234
Varsbergs, Victor A. 406
Varsity Men's Glee Clee Club 276
Vartanian, Nicole 308, 325, 330
Vashi, Kruti R. 305, 406
Vasquez, Joe 279
Vasquez, Mario Tonyo 406
Vaughan, Cassandra D. 406
Vaughn, Cassie 208, 210
Vaughn, Doug 303
Vaughn, Edward James 406
Vaughn, Elizabeth Ann 406
Vaughn, Jennifer 307
Vaughn, Julie Ann 248, 406
Vaughn, Vonda Kay 406
Vavrik, Steven 314, 321, 406
Vazquez, Jacqueline 406
Vazquez, Jennifer 261
Vazquez, Luis Antonio 406
Veath, Brad 300
Velez, Michael A. 406
Velkovich, Dan 406
Velloff, Nancy 48
Verachtart, Michael 281, 333, 406
Verasic, Andrea 250
Verback, Richard 288
Verbrugge, Beth 269, 321
Vercelli, Nancy 238, 406
Vercelote, Amy 250, 406
Verduzco, Jason 126
Vergara, Esther F. 406
Verner, Dan 406
Verneti, David J. 406

Verni, John C. 406
Vespa, Nancy 230
Vessell, Christopher M. 406
Vest, Mary 262, 318, 332, 408
Vet-med Surgery 18
Vicha, Leanne 305
Vician, Ted 283
Vidal, Mary 248
Viecelli, Joseph A. 408
Viemont, Thomas 408
Vigna, John R. 279, 408
Vigor, Melissa 292
Vigor, Susan 305, 408
Vileek, Mark 281
Vilches, Alberto R. 408
Villa, R. 291
Villafior, Natlie 408
Villarias, Rogienio A. 408
Villegas, Josephine P. 269, 408
Villegas, Nina 266, 269
Vigneau, Kristen 222
Vinson, Christy 240
Vinson, Ted 293
Vinzons, Fernando I. 309, 335, 408
VIP 306
Viranyi, Susan 408
Virruso, Gina 238
Vitek, Kristin 224
Viquez, E. 285
Vlach, Ron 261
Vlahos, Gus 336
Vlahos, Patricia 329, 336, 408
Vlasak, Pamela Anne 238, 408
Vlassak, Pam 238
Vogel, William Craig 268, 408
Voitak, Pamela 280
Volleyball (Men's) 188
Volleyball (Women's) 132
Volpe, Nick Anthony 408
Volunteer Illini Projects 266
Volunteering 106
Volz, Christy 250
Von Ryan, Randall 244, 261
VonBergen, Brian 297
Vonder, John 263
Vonnahme, Christopher 408
Vonnahme, Courtney 248
Voorhees, David Scott 408
Vormittag, Kimberly A. 408
Vose, Jeffrey Scott 408
Vosicky, John 281, 310
Voss, Matthew 288
Voss, Matthew Thomas 292, 408
Voucanos, George N. 408
Vrasie, Janet 262, 309, 318, 332, 408
Vreugdenhil, Lisa E. 408
Vrlec, Liza 232

February 16

Champaign resident Vincent Lipscombe is convicted of the rape of a 21 year old university student. His conviction sets the precedent in Illinois for use of DNA testing to determine probable guilt.

photo by Lloyd Young

photo by Lloyd Young

Vroman, Craig 307
 Vukelich, Lara 248
 Vulich, Joe 327
 Vyverberg, Juli 218
 Vyverberg, Robert W. 408

W

Wa Na See 309
 Wachtel, Todd 293, 325
 Wachtor, Brad 274
 Wackerman, Kurt 336
 Wackerman, Lisa Ann 408
 Wagahoff, Amy 248
 Wagener, Adam 273
 Wagner, Burt 261, 268
 Wagner, Debi 232
 Wagner, Eric Carl 408
 Wagner, Eugene 261
 Wagner, Jeff 296
 Wagner, Jodi Kay 408
 Wagner, Kristen 226
 Wagner, Terrence M. 242, 408
 Wagner, Tom 336
 Wagner Jr, Eugene H. 408
 Wahler, Dawn N. 408
 Wajda, Ches 256
 Wake, Jennifer Lynn 408
 Wakeem, Hanan 267, 335
 Walberg, Julie 236
 Walberg, Timothy Eric 408
 Walberg, Tom 228
 Walcer, Cheryl Rena 294, 408
 Walden, Julie 216
 Walden, Sherri Sue 240, 408
 Waldherr, Nina M. 212, 408
 Waldherr, Troy 278
 Waldrop, Stacy 311, 326
 Waler, John 276
 Wales, Jeff 261
 Waligurski, Robert J. 408
 Walker, Alisia Marie 408
 Walker, Catherine 232, 309, 330, 408
 Walker, Jenny 238
 Walker, John Hamilton 408
 Walker, Kevin 261, 326
 Walker, Lisa 238
 Walker, Tina Louise 408
 Walker, Valerie 230
 Walker, Valerie 408
 Wall, Matthew 325
 Wallace, Julie 210
 Wallace, Lynd 408
 Wallace, P. 291
 Wallace, Todd 288

Wallack, Laura 292
 Wallin, Laura L. 214, 318, 408
 Wallner, Joan M. 408
 Wallrapp, Jenifer 248
 Walls, Patrick K. 408
 Wally, Karen 208
 Walmsley, Cat 248, 339
 Walsh, Ann 238
 Walsh, Dennis 279
 Walsh, Joanne 238
 Walsh, John J. 281, 333, 408
 Walsh, Kathleen Marie 408
 Walsh, Krista Rae 408
 Walsh, Laura 208
 Walsh, Mark 258
 Walsh, Nancy 218
 Walsh, William James 408
 Walshon, Deb 248, 266
 Walstad, Alan Scott 408
 Walsten, Beth 240
 Waltemath, Michele M. 408
 Walter, Anna 254
 Walter, Dennis 242
 Walter, Kevin 258
 Walters, Anna 254
 Walters, Julie 248
 Waltrip, Denise D. 408
 Wambach, Heidi 210, 296
 Wang, Anthony Francis 408
 Wang, Jeannie 232
 Wang, Jenny 306
 Wang, Sam 244
 Wanghoje, Emida 283
 Wanless, Chantal A. 408
 Wappel, John 317, 332
 Wappel, Sharon 292
 Ward, Dana Kay 250, 309, 319, 408
 Ward, Doug 261, 264
 Ward, Jeanne Louise 408
 Ward, John Patrick 408
 Ward, Kendra 269
 Ward, Matt 304
 Ward, Michelle Lee 218, 408
 Ware, Alicia Delorace 408
 Wargel, Thomas 293
 Wargel, Thomas C. 408
 Wargin, Jeff 265, 303
 Wargo, Jim 279
 Waringo, Laura 222
 Warmoth, Mike 317
 Warner, Jeff 316
 Warner, John 273
 Warner, Laura M. 408
 Warner, Paige 224
 Warren, Emily 292

Warren, Heather 329
 Warren, John 336
 Warren, Matthew K. 333, 408
 Warrier, Kishore 264
 Washburn, Michael J. 408
 Washington, Corretta 292
 Washington, Edye 408
 Washington, La Tonya 204, 335
 Wasidewski, Amy 216
 Wasserman, Craig 277
 Watkins, Libby 269, 320
 Wasyluk, Rose Mary 408
 Waters, Harold 261
 Waters, Matt 220
 Waters, Sonya 169
 Watkins, Michael C. 408
 Watkins, Mindy 269
 Watnabe, Susan E. 408
 Watne, Carrie 218, 335
 Watson, Amanda 280
 Watson, Ben 220, 325
 Watson, Blaine 261
 Watson, Gary 327
 Watson, John Richard 408
 Watson, Krista M. 18, 212, 408
 Watson, Michele Lee 408
 Watson, Vikki L. 408
 Watts, Donna J. 408
 Watzlawick, J. 285
 Wax, Michael 337
 Wax, Shawn 133
 Way, Lori 212
 Wayer, Kevin 288
 Wayne, Lisle 261, 278
 Wayne, Timothy A. 279, 408
 Wazny, John 284
 Weatherby, Beth 324
 Weaver, Jane 232
 Weaver, Jim 263
 Weaver, Rachel 389
 Webb, Heather 339
 Webberman, Michelle 113
 Webel, Doug 293
 Webel, Nicole Elaine 408
 Weber, Brenda Marie 408
 Weber, Chris 273
 Weher, Christopher J. 279, 408
 Weber, Dan 228
 Weber, Tim 312
 Weddig, Sara Ellen 218, 408
 Weede, Dean 274
 Wegman, James Albert 408
 Wegner, Dan 324, 338
 Wegscheid, Chris 289
 Weidenbenner, Michale 408
 Weidlich, Chris 230

Weidner, Kirsten 248
 Weidner, Robert R. 242, 408
 Weinbaum, Marvin 306
 Weinberg, David Scott 408
 Weinberger, Kelly Ann 232, 408
 Weiner, Dave 333
 Weiner, Jennifer 208
 Weingard, Kenneth B. 408
 Weingart, Wendy 295
 Weinkauf, Michael J. 408
 Weinsbenker, Brad 286
 Weinstein, Hope 295
 Weinstein, Jeff 259
 Weinstein, Wendy 295
 Weisenberg, Dan 259
 Weismehl, Elizabeth 212, 408
 Weiss, Bdl 206
 Weiss, Jodi Lynn 408
 Weiss, Meredith 250, 296
 Weiss, Michele 232
 Weiss, William L. 408
 Weissert, Lori 230
 Weissman, Dan 307
 Weixel, Deena L. 408
 Welch, Allison 269
 Welch, Catherine Ross 408
 Welch, Kristine E. 408
 Welch, Lauri 208
 Wellinghoff, Carol 262
 Wells, Andy 278
 Wells, Brennan Stuart 408
 Wells, Chris 206
 Wells, Mike 278
 Wells, Steve 291
 Welsh, Captain Mike 261
 Welsh, Greg 261
 Welsh, Jason 242
 Welty, Kelly 232
 Wempe, Mary E. 328, 408
 Wendel, John B. 408
 Wendt, Jorie Ann 315, 408
 Wendt, Kenneth John 242, 408
 Wenger, Holly 216
 Wenstrom, Marcia Kay 408
 Wente, James P. 408
 Wenzel, Eric Fetting 408
 Weppner, Kevin 261
 Werner, Katie 216
 Werner, Paula 269
 Werner, Renee 224
 Werning, Tara 409
 Wernsing, Tara Sallie 210, 408
 Wernitz, Jamie C. 410
 Werries, Dean Arthur 410
 Werries, Kristen 218
 Wertheim, Dana 248, 308

Werths, Beth Kristen 410
 Wesner, David Brian 410
 Wessel, Mark 280
 Wesselhoff, Rick 188
 Wesselmann, Michelle 305
 Wessels, Sara 269
 Wessenstein, Lee 230
 Wesson, Debbie 240
 West, Rick 327
 West, Samantha 224
 Westbrook, Wendell D. 410
 Westen, Jennifer 224, 335
 Weston, Paul 316
 Westphal, Paul Steven 206, 410
 Wettergren, Steve 312
 Weunsch, Larry 206
 Wexelberg, Lynne Ann 226, 410
 Weyrich, Carolyn M. 238, 410
 Whalen, Kim 216
 Whaley, James T. 410
 Wheat, Yonice William 410
 Wheatley, Jeffrey A. 410
 Wheeler, Cyndi 224
 Wheeler, Jamie 264
 Whetstone, David Lee 410
 Whetstone, Jim 304
 Whetter, Ed 265, 303
 Whetter, Jessica 230
 Whitaker, Torrianna L. 410
 White, Amy 250
 White, Cecilia Rita 410
 White, Dana 204
 White, Dana Elizabeth 410
 White, Dave 228
 White, Dave 324
 White, David 325
 White, Diane 248
 White, Jason 263
 White, Jeff 293
 White, Jennifer Jo 410
 White, Jenny 212, 331
 White, Jim 328
 White, Julie 210
 White, Kendal 283
 White, Maria L. 410
 White, Mike 293
 White, Renae 316
 White, Sylvester 150
 White, Tony 220
 Whitefield, Edye Ann 410
 Whitefield, Renee 91
 Whitehead, JoAnn E. 283, 410
 Whitlock, Brent Kevin 280, 410
 Whitlock, Brett R. 410
 Whitney, Christina L. 232, 410
 Whitt, Richard J. 410

Wiahel, Kristine Kay 410
 Wick, Steve 206
 Wickstrom, Cheryl 224
 Wicus, Kim Marie 410
 Wicus, Tom 286
 Widder, Carey D. 410
 Widholdm, Jenni 218
 Widholm, Paula Ann 222, 410
 Widloff, Cecille A. 338, 410
 Wiedel, Beth 258
 Wiedel, Sean Stephen 258, 410
 Wiederkehr, Denise 226
 Wiederman, Ron 328
 Wiedhoph, A.J. 300
 Wiegand, Rebecca Mae 410
 Wiegman, Megan 292
 Wiesel, Garth 242
 Wicland, Teresa Marie 410
 Wienke, Amy 334
 Wierzbicki, John 336
 Wiese, Dave 290
 Wiessing, Ted 246
 Wiggins, Michael Paul 336, 410
 Wijas, Michael 336
 Wilcoski, Matthew 410
 Wilhelm, Jennifer Ann 410
 Wilk, Tom 256
 Wilken, Cari 222
 Wilken, Heather 218
 Wilken, John 220
 Wilkes, Catherine M. 222, 410
 Wilkins, Greg 329
 Wilkinson, David W. 410
 Wilkinson, James 333
 Wilkinson, Jeffrey P. 410
 Wilkinson, Tamara L. 410
 Wilkinson III, D.E. 410
 Willard Airport 374
 Willets, Kent 274, 285
 Willette, Albert 283
 Wildy, Deanna 218, 282, 320, 410
 Willey, Kristen 218
 Wildams, Amy 296
 Williams, Brian 246
 Williams, Dave 305
 Williams, David 309
 Williams, David 319
 Wildams, David 337
 Williams, David M. 410
 Williams, E. 285
 Williams, Eric 268
 Williams, Gregory R. 410
 Williams, Joseph 276
 Williams, Kristin 216
 Williams, Kurt 220

February 18

Violent revolt broke out in Bucharest, Romania. Protesters yelled, "Down with Communism" as they charged into the interim government headquarters with rocks and iron rods. This is the most violent protest since the pro-democracy revolution in December.

February 22

Former President Ronald Reagan testified in a videotape deposition for John Poindexter's trial that he never knew that his aides were secretly arming the Nicaraguan contras during a Congressional ban on military aid.

February 25

The University's Abbott Power Plant spilled over 6,000 gallons of diesel fuel into Boneyard Creek.

Williams, Laurie 296
 Williams, Levi 261
 Williams, Mark 288
 Williams, Mark 335
 Williams, Marybeth 172
 Williams, Melissa J. 224, 410
 Williams, Michele 216
 Williams, Michelle 234
 Williams, Michelle R. 410
 Williams, Mitch 244
 Williams, Pat Scott 410
 Williams, Ralph 288, 335
 Williams, Sarah Anne 410
 Williams, Stephanie 224
 Williams, Stephanie A. 410
 Williamson, Laura 307
 Willis, Alysa Rhae 410
 Willis, Beth 224, 262
 Willis, Russell A. 334, 410
 Willmore, Schy 327
 Wills, Brian 293
 Wills, Melissa Ann 410
 Willson, Heather 234
 Wilmes, J. 285
 Wilner, Marla B. 410
 Wiley, Gary 319
 Wilson, Beth 222
 Wilson, Eric John 297, 320, 321, 410
 Wilson, Greg 284
 Wilson, Jeff 328
 Wilson, Jeffrey David 410
 Wilson, Joan 230, 442
 Wilson, Katherine V. 250, 410
 Wilson, Kimberly Ann 410
 Wilson, Laura 330
 Wilson, Melvin 288
 Wilson, Meredith 248
 Wilson, Renee 372
 Wilson, Scott 274
 Wilson, Tiffany 222
 Winang, Sherie 307
 Windish, Tom 278
 Windmiller, Howard 259
 Wingels, Sue 218
 Winings, Mark 305
 Winkelman, Sue 212, 311
 Winker, Linda 232
 Winkler, Bob 261
 Winkler, John 281
 Winkler, Robert Paul 410
 Winkler, Scott 305
 Winkler, Tim 305
 Winkless, Terry Lynn 410
 Winks, Ross 300, 321
 Winner, Greg 259

Winnett, David 276, 287
 Winograd, Jeff 277
 Winship, Joy 307
 Winter, Bill 335
 Winter, Dawn K. 262, 410
 Winter, Kurt 246
 Winterland, Mike 307
 Winters, Kelly 230
 Winther, Sonja 208, 296
 Wiora, Regina Marie 410
 Wirkus, Andrea 262
 Wirsing, Steve 293
 Wirth, Christopher S. 410
 Wise, Dave 246
 Wise, Dennison Jr. 410
 Wise, Lauren 295
 Wise, Rick 337
 Wisnosky, Elaine 222
 Wisthuff, Kuri D. 410
 Witry, Lisa Ann 222, 310, 410
 Witte, Christopher S. 410
 Wittenberg, Steve 337
 Witter, Joanne 262
 Witthoft, B. 291
 Wittleder, Chuck 312
 Wittlich, Jeff 300
 Wobbekind, Susan L. 410
 Woldard, Lori 230
 Wodka, Terilyn 410
 Woerner, Jason P. 410
 Woerner, Shawn 92
 Wohlschlaeger, J.D. 410
 Wohltman, Diane 240
 Wojcik, Kristin 234, 292
 Wojcik, Tina 250
 Wokas, Denis 226
 Wokowitz, Richard J. 410
 Wolf, Christina Anna 410
 Wolf, Dan 286
 Wolf, Judith Lynn 331, 410
 Wolf, Karen 329
 Wolf, Kristan 230
 Wolf, Michael T. 410
 Wolf, Randy 220
 Wolf, Sharon 226, 296
 Wolf, William Peter 410
 Wolfe, Dave 305
 Wolfe, Kim 218
 Wolfer, Gretchen Lou 410
 Wolff, Kerry 307, 410
 Wolff, Kurt 307
 Wolfman, Ron 277
 Wollenweher, Scott D. 410
 Wollney, Scott 263
 Wolodko, Margaret 295
 Wolschlag, Chris John 410

Wolski, Gregg L. 410
 Wolyniec, Marla 295
 Womeldorf, John P. 268, 410
 Women in Communications 310
 Women's Golf Team 311
 Wonderlin, Laura E. 218, 410
 Wong, Frank 326
 Wong, Jeffrey M.C. 410
 Wong, Kenaz S. 410
 Wong, Linda 238, 305, 322
 Wong, Man San 410
 Woo, Julie 250
 Woo, Mary Jungmin 317, 410
 Woock, Erica 248
 Wood, Daniel 261
 Wood, Ed 242
 Wood, Shellie 214, 311, 410
 Wood, Staci 214
 Woodard, Lori 230, 410
 Woodard, Lori 410
 Woodland, Brian 303
 Woods, Kerstin 214
 Woods, Wendy Lynette 410
 Woods, Xavier 261
 Woodson, Sam 303
 Woodward, Monica 410
 Woodward, Robert Todd 410
 Woodworth, Debbie 339
 Workman, Gail 304
 World Heritage Museum 364
 Woosner, Shawn 92
 WPGU 76, 254
 Wrestling 186
 Woytek, Brian 265, 303
 Wright, Angela 240, 322
 Wright, Darin 335
 Wright, Fred 246
 Wright, Kevin 220
 Wright, Kim 316
 Wright, Lisa Ann 410
 Wright, Melinda 248
 Wright, Melinda Ann 410
 Wright, Michael G. 410
 Wright, Richard P. 410
 Wright, Troy 296
 Wroblewski, Julie 269
 Wrona, John 263
 Wu, Peide 410
 Wu, Phil 264
 Wuensch, Lawrence R. 206, 410
 Wulsch, Danny 316
 Wurtz, J. 285
 Wyatt, Todd 281, 333
 Wynt, Steve 264
 Wyman, Kathy 232
 Wymer, Sue 262, 332

Wynveen, Stacey 234
 Wyzkiewicz, John 304

Y

Yackee, Carrie 218
 Yaffe, Lynn 295
 Yamanaka, Brian Tooru 410
 Yamase, Bryan F. 410
 Yang, Aileen 224
 Yangas, Christa 412
 Yankosky, Julie 224
 Ye, Gordon Hai-Xiang 280, 412
 Yee, Dennis 332
 Yee, Marilyn 412
 Yee, Mon Lun 412
 Yeh, Stella 232
 Yelmini, Lisa 218
 Yenani, Brent 304
 Yentis, Adam Lewis 412
 Yergler, Andy 327
 Yi, Annette Yongsil 412
 Yi, Son Hwa 412
 Yelmini, Lisa 218
 Yerkler, Andy 327
 Yochum, Amy 222
 Yokum, Mark 284
 Yonan, Cynthia Ann 412
 Yonan, Tracie 269, 310
 Yoon, Cecile 238
 Yoshimura, Yuka 412
 Youman, Chris 327
 Yound, Cindy 226
 Young, Amy 216
 Young, Beth 269
 Young, Colleen E. 46, 320, 412
 Young, Dave 327
 Young, Don 244
 Young, Eric 326
 Young, Jacqueline A. 412
 Young, Jessica 222
 Young, Kimberly Lynne 412
 Young, Kristin 195, 210, 412
 Young, Lloyd Ross 412
 Young, Nancy 318
 Young, Val 210
 Younger, Carolyn 218
 Younger, Scott 263
 Youngman, Keith A. 412
 Younus, Farhan 316
 Ysursa, Christina 218
 Yu, Ginger 311
 Yue, Amy Miranda 289, 412
 Yunevich, Ken 261
 Yuras, Kelly Delaine 412

Z

Zaban, Sheri 295
 Zaccagni, Patrice 238
 Zacek, Dawn Marie 412
 Zachary, Jeanine 224
 Zahaitis, Kristin 238
 Zahora, Melissa 294
 Zahren, Jeff 265, 303
 Zajec, Ann Katherine 302, 412
 Zak, Mike 281, 333
 Zalewski, Nancy Ann 234, 412
 Zamberletti, Lori 222
 Zamin, Andrey 298
 Zamiska, Laurie 298
 Zander, Matt 327
 Zapata, John J. 412
 Zapinski, Tricia 210
 Zappa, Frank 412
 Zarate, Romy 238
 Zarate, Shanin 238
 Zasi, Michelle 254
 Zator, Mark Joseph 412
 Zaun, Stacy Carlene 412
 Zavodny, Douglas E. 268, 412
 Zawadzski, Karen 250
 Zayed, Husni Mohammad 412
 Zehrauskas, Sheri 222
 Zeed, Mary Kay 412
 Zeeplat, Jerry 254
 Zehner, Matthew L. 329, 412
 Zehr, Patrick 261
 Zeitler, Jeffrey A. 412
 Zeitz, Keith 317, 412
 Zeller, Terry 212
 Zellers, Maggie 269
 Zells, Scott 277
 Zemaitis, Alice M. 412
 Zeman, Jennifer Marie 412
 Zeno, Julie 298
 Zentmyer, E. 285
 Zentz, Katherine Lynn 412
 Zerhe, Jennifer 236, 282
 Zerbionia, Tawnya 339
 Zerlentes, Becky 335
 Zerndt, Julie 296
 Zernich, Amy Elaine 412
 Zernich, Sari 298
 Zeta Beta Tau 337
 Zeta Psi 326
 Zeta Tau Alpha 230
 Zifaney, Ellen 92, 295
 Zgola, Lori Jean 222, 412
 Zhang, Hong 306
 Ziaja, Todd 327

Zibble, Peter 270
 Zich, David K. 321, 412
 Zich, Joel 296
 Ziegler, Eric 333
 Ziegler, Kevin P. 412
 Ziegler, Richard 330
 Zielinski, Juliette 316
 Zielske, Catherine M. 412
 Zilic, Debbie 236
 Zimmer, Joseph R. 412
 Zimmerman, Kimberly 210, 412
 Zimmerman, Rachel D. 412
 Zimmermann, Jeff 297
 Zimmer, David Rolland 333, 412
 Zinkas, Jim 278
 Zinn, William C. 412
 Zintak, John 244
 Zipter, Rudi 333
 Zissimopoulos, Dina V. 269, 412
 Zivkovic, Mary 248
 Zhdar, Maria 218
 Zuckerman, Michael L. 412
 Zucker, Rachel S. 412
 Zucker, Robin V. 212, 412
 Zuckerman, Scott 286
 Zukerman, Michael B. 412
 Zukosi, Dr. Charles F. 334
 Zummallen, Michael P. 206, 334, 412
 Zurek, Dan 297
 Zuschlag, Jennifer 224
 Zuschlag, Raymond D. 412
 Zvinakis, Kris 218
 Zwick, David 286
 Zwick, Mary 218
 Zwierchowski, Annette 269
 Zymali, Kim 210

Index layout by Mike Krupicka and Laura McDougald

photo by Joe Trojanowski

February 26

Nicaragua President Daniel Ortega and the Sandinistas conceded defeat to Violeta de Chamorro, publisher of the opposition newspaper La Prensa.

May 13

GRADUATION!!!

Illio staff continues to build a legend

photo by Lloyd Young

Front Row: Janette Schroeder (business staff), Katie Baxter (business staff), Carrie Goerne (copy editor), Adriana Brad (writer), Tanja Powers (student life editor), Annie Pergande (photographer), Nora Hipolito (photo manager), Laura McDougald (editor-in-chief), Scott Jacobson (photographer); Second Row: Dan Creinin (photographer), Greg Carney (managing editor); Third Row: Sharon Doheny (business staff), Ann Donahue (business manager), Bev Flaherty (business staff), Tim Golen (business staff), Lisa Shapiro (photographer), Kim Kossof (production director), Julie Fanella (production staff), Mike Krupicka (production staff), Joan Wilson (production staff), Jeff Miller (photographer); Back Row: Joe Durica (production staff), Rob Siders (sports editor), Reggie Natividad (photo manager); Not Pictured: Debbie Seigel (production), Melissa Campbell (Greeks), Pamma Peak (Sports), Jenny Grant (Index), Paula Widholm (academics editor) Janet Scott (writer), Lisa Bower (writer), Deidre Ponzer (copy editor), Stephanie Sprague (writer), Julie Gosnell (writer)

photo by Lloyd Young

In order to ensure cooperation between the two branches of the Illio staff, business and production, business manager Ann Donahue and editor-in-chief Laura McDougald had to coordinate their plans carefully.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Capturing a year at the University of Illinois on paper is no easy task. But that is what the Illio has been doing for the past 97 years.

From the new bus plan, to the chief controversy, to the football team's victory at the Florida Citrus Bowl we have recorded the events and scenes that have made this year memorable.

Illio is divided into two staffs; editorial and business. The editorial staff is responsible for producing the book. This includes writing all copy, taking pictures, editing and page layout. The business staff insures the book's financial success by selling organization spreads, senior pictures and the book itself.

This edition of the Illio is the first to be produced on computers. The copy was written in Microsoft Word™ and the layout was done using PageMaker™. This has enabled the Illio staff to be more productive and create a higher quality yearbook so the Illio can continue to "Build a Legend."

photo by Nora Hipolito

Debbie Seigel, member of the production staff, creates a page layout on the computer. Because all of the layouts were done on computer programs, the four computers in the Illio office were very popular items, especially during deadlines.

Illio sports editor Rob Siders, editor-in-chief Laura McDougald and Daily Illini editor-in-chief John Pletz socialize at one of the many parties held at the "Bates Motel" (aka Rob's house).

photo by Lloyd Young

Photo manager Nora Hipolita poses for the camera in front of the Illini Media Company building, located at 57 East Green Street, Champaign. Besides the Illio office, the two year old IMC building houses offices of The Daily Illini and Technograph..

Photographer Annie Pergande is hard at work during the Ohio State football game on October 7, 1989.

photo by Ron Foley

photo by Nora Hipolito

Sports editor Rob Siders checks over the sports layouts after the production staff has finished. The section editors review the production work and add headlines, captions and other finishing touches before the layouts are sent to the printer.

Laura McDougald has many responsibilities as editor-in-chief; including hiring the staff, compiling the budget, reporting monthly to the Illini Media Board and giving final approval on stories, layouts and pictures.

photo by Nora Hipolito

photo by Reggie Natividad

The business staff and editorial staff work side by side in the somewhat cramped Illio office. The engineering magazine Technograph shares the office with the Illio, which adds to the claustrophobic atmosphere.

Photo manager Reggie Natividad is shocked to be on the other side of the camera for once.

photo by Nora Hipolito

Once the weather warms, some T.A.'s will hold class on the quad to escape the heat of some of the older buildings or just for a change of scenery.

photo by Scott Jacobson

nois

The Undergraduate Library courtyard attracts students whether they wish to study or socialize. The library was built underground so as not to throw shade on the Morrow Plots.

photo by Reggie Natividad

The Marching Illini perform the traditional Three-in-one at halftime. The Marching Illini is considered one premier marching bands in the nation.

Illini

photo by Kristy Pharris

photo by Annie Pergande

This sleeping couple keeps each other warm as they take a nap outside of Krannert.

At one time or another, all students are excited to leave the buildings of the University of Illinois. However, fond memories of playing and relaxing on the quad, enjoying the social life of the university and spending time with friends return. Between hard the classes, the many hours of studying and the friendships formed, the University of Illinois will always and continue to be a Legend.

nois

Laura McDougald, Editor-in-Chief

Ann Donohue, Business Manager

Greg Carney, Managing Editor

Kim Kossof, Production Director

Reggie Natividad, Photo Manager

EDITORIAL STAFF

Carrie Goerne, copy editor

Deidre Ponzer, copy editor

STUDENT LIFE

Tanja Powers, Editor

Adriana Brad, writer

Julie Gosnell, writer

ACADEMICS

Paula Widholm, Editor

Lisa Bower, writer

Janet Scott, writer

SPORTS

Rob Siders, Editor

Matt Cantlin, writer

Stephanie Sprague, writer

PHOTOGRAPHY

Nora Hipolito, Editor

Dan Creinin

Ron Foley

Jeff Miller

Annie Pergande

Kristy Pharis

Lisa Shapiro

Scott Jacobson

Some photos were supplied by The Daily Illini photographers.

BUSINESS STAFF

Katie Baxter, Greeks

Melissa Campbell, Greeks

Sharon Doheny, Computers

Bev Flaherty, Seniors

Jennifer Grant, Index

Tim Golen, Advertising

Pamma Peak, Sales / Sports

Janette Schroeder, Groups

PRODUCTION

Joe Durica

Julie Fanella

Mike Krupicka

Debbie Seigel

Julie Triggs

Joan Wilson

VOLUNTEERS

Meg Humay, photographer

Lori Acheson, writer

Lisa Brogdon, writer

Chris Canavan, writer

Anna Choi, writer

Claudine Cole, writer

Karen Damascus, writer

Angie Morgan, writer

Lynne Peck, writer

Stewart Schrof, writer

SPECIAL THANKS

To the entire staff for their dedication; to Kim—for working as often as I did and making me go home; to Greg—for Seniors and other hard work; to Mike—for Pagemaker help; to Reggie & Nora—for taking over and saving all; to Ann—for typing, selling, etc. Also, Paul Iurio—folio contribution.

Colophon

Cover:

The Craftline Embossed cover was produced in the State College Plant of Jostens, Mike Hackleman, representative. The material is Basin Street fabricoid #517 with Mission Grain #1212 embossed on three-fourths of the entire cover. Silver foil #381 metalay was applied to the front and backbone. The chief emblem on the front lid is a trademark owned by the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics, who granted permission for its use.

Endsheets:

Front and back endsheet stock is Soft Blue #314 and is printed in Pantone Blue #314.

Printing:

All pages were printed on 100 # 191 Gloss stock. The base ink is black. The binding is sewn with blue headbands.

Color:

Of the 448 pages, 86 pages were printed in the Four Color Process, in which blue, yellow, red and black are mixed to achieve various colors. Various spot colors were printed on another 16 pages.

Typography:

The Academics section was printed in Palatino, the Student Life section was printed in Garamond, the Sports section was printed in Helvetica Condensed, the Organizations section was printed in Times Roman and the Graduates section and all other copy were printed in Bodoni. All body copy was printed in 10 point, captions were printed in 8 point and headlines were printed in 30 point. The sidebar headlines in Student Life were printed in 24 point.

Design:

Each section was designed by the production staff in consultation with the editor-in-chief, the production director and the respective section editors. The chief folios were drawn by Joe Durica. The cover was designed by Joe Durica in consultation with the editor-in-chief and staff. Endsheets, Opening, Dividers and Closing were designed by the production director with the editor-in-chief.

Photography:

Graduate portraits were taken by Yearbook Associates. Organization group photos were taken by Harry Zanoti of Creative Images, 1101 Race, Urbana, or supplied by the organization. Candid photos in Organizations were supplied by the organizations. In Academics, all photo opinion photos were taken by Dan Creinin with the exception of those on pages 15, 28 and 46, which were submitted.

Illio is a division of the Illini Media Company, Michael K. Smeltzer, publisher. All revenue was raised by the Business Staff through senior portrait sittings and sales of books and Organization space.

III

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS-URBANA
C. ILGUPH C008
THE ILLIO URBANA, ILL.
97 1990

3 0112 024840560